

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3766-At that moment, Jared was still on the arduous journey with the holy maidens, completely unaware that so many people were heading toward the same destination.

Their journey had been quite relaxed so far, and they were getting closer and closer to the polar region.

“Stop!” Suddenly, Jared, who was leading the way, furrowed his brow.

“Mr. Chance, what’s wrong?” Bianca stepped forward, voicing her confusion.

Others had already taken this path ahead of time, so there shouldn’t be any danger. She didn’t understand why Jared had decided to stop.

“Do any of you smell the scent of blood?” Jared asked.

Bianca shook her head. “No.” The other holy maidens also shook their heads as none of them had detected the scent of blood. Jared gently closed his eyes, spreading out his spiritual sense.

In an instant, his spiritual sense enveloped a few kilometers around him.

However, there wasn’t any danger, nor were there any creatures.

“Strange. I keep smelling the scent of blood in the air, yet there’s nothing. How can this be?” Jared furrowed his brows, surveying his surroundings.

“Mr. Chance, there shouldn’t be any issues, right? After all, someone already scouted ahead yesterday,” Bianca said.

“Perhaps I’m just overly sensitive. Either way, everyone create some distance between yourselves and stay alert!” After Jared finished speaking, he walked forward once again.

The holy maidens complied with Jared’s order, spreading out and heightening their vigilance.

After they had traveled a few kilometers forward, one of the holy maidens suddenly let out a loud cry.

“Woah!” A holy maiden had slipped in the snow. Annoyed, she then demanded, “Who tripped me?” Everyone turned to the holy maiden, only to see a rigid hand sticking out from the snowy ground beneath her feet!

Upon seeing that, everyone instantly tensed. Jared, in particular, leaped swiftly to the side of the holy maiden.

Immediately after, Jared struck out with his palm, unleashing a wave of heat that instantly melted the snow.

Shockingly, the body of a woman was revealed!

Upon seeing the woman’s corpse, a holy maiden couldn’t help but exclaim, “This is an outer circle disciple from Lunarius Palace!” Jared was staring at the woman’s now stiffened corpse, examining the marks on the body. It was clear that she had died from an attack.

“Mr. Chance, w-what’s going on here?” Bianca asked, her eyebrows furrowed in concern.

Jared remained silent, instead observing his surroundings. Then, without warning, an intense aura erupted from him, setting off gusts of wind that swept through the area.

The surrounding snow was whipped into a blizzard by the fierce winds. Swiftly, the accumulated snow was swept away, revealing the rigid bodies that had been hidden beneath.

Bodies were strewn haphazardly all over the place.

They were outer circle disciples from Lunarius Palace, as well as those cultivators who had passed the assessment.

Gazing at the scene before them, all the holy maidens were left dumbfounded.

The individuals who were initially sent out from Lunarius Palace to scout ahead had shockingly all met their tragic end here!

“Who was it? Who on earth was responsible for this?” Anger flared in Bianca’s eyes.

With so many people murdered, Bianca was certain that a particular sect was responsible.

“Powerful demon beasts?” Bianca furrowed her brows slightly, falling into deep thought.

Suddenly, one of the holy maidens said, “Bianca, aren’t snow-cloud beasts supposed to be in this area?” “Snow-cloud beasts haven’t been seen in ages. Weren’t they said to be extinct already?” Bianca answered in confusion.

“What exactly is a snow-cloud beast?” Jared asked, unfamiliar with the demon beasts of this region.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3767-After hearing this, Jared fell into a brief silence. Then, with a wave of his hand, he commanded, “Let’s move quickly through here, and no one is allowed to touch the bodies!” Jared’s words caused the holy maidens to feel nervous and tense. However, they all heeded him.

Just as Jared and his companions had taken a few steps forward, suddenly, the ground shook violently.

Then, not far from the snow-capped mountains ahead, plumes of snow mist rose high into the sky. Five demon beasts were charging toward them at an incredible speed!

These demon beasts moved at an impressive speed, stirring up trails of snow mist beneath their feet, truly reminiscent of clouds.

“Snow-cloud beasts! They really are snow-cloud beasts. We’re in trouble now.” Upon seeing the situation, Bianca’s expression changed drastically.

The other holy maidens too, turned pale, instantly conjuring their frost swords in their hands.

“We hadn’t even reached the polar region yet, and we’ve already encountered such a formidable demon beast. What rotten luck!” In the blink of an eye, the five demon beasts had reached Jared and his companions. These beasts were massive in size, each resembling a small hill.

Their bodies were blanketed with thick layers of snow, allowing them to evade the probing of spiritual senses.

No wonder Jared hadn’t detected any signs of life earlier, nor had he discovered the corpses.

The bodies had been deeply buried by the heavy snowfall, making them utterly impossible to detect.

The five snow-cloud beasts emanated an icy chill, their nostrils exhaling a mist that quickly solidified.

Moreover, these demon beasts were covered in thick fur, which was frosted over, forming a sort of armor.

One of them, the leader, swept its piercing gaze over everyone. It let out a series of roars from its mouth, as if it was throwing down a challenge!

“Mr. Chance, what should we do?” Bianca was somewhat at a loss.

Although they were numerous, the snow-cloud beasts were simply too powerful.

The leader was an Eighth Level Tribulator, demon beast, while the other four were Seventh Level Tribulator demon beasts. This lineup was just too outrageous!

“Leave the leader of the snow-cloud beasts to me,” Jared declared. “As for the remaining four, you guys can decide among yourselves how to divide them.

There are over a dozen of you, so handling four Seventh Level Tribulator demon beasts shouldn't be a problem, right?” “Okay, we'll do our best...” Bianca said with a nod, though she didn't sound very confident.

After all, they had heard that dealing with these snow-cloud beasts was quite challenging, and they had never even faced one before!

Suddenly, Jared took flight, swiftly hurling himself toward the leader of the snow cloud beasts.

As the snow-cloud beast bellowed, the ground beneath shivered, cracks appearing in succession. The deafening roar was so powerful that it seemed to warp the very air around them.

“Roar all you want!” With a powerful punch, Jared struck the snow- cloud beast. The immense body of the creature was instantly sent flying.

Jared's sole concern was whether these dozen or so holy maidens could handle the remaining four snow-cloud beasts.

Upon seeing Jared take action, Bianca raised her frost sword, calling out loudly, "Form the formation. We must unite and slay these four beasts. We can't let Mr.

Chance look down on us!"

In a flash, the holy maidens clashed with the four snow-cloud beasts.

The women worked in perfect harmony, their frost swords continuously swinging around. The condensed sword energy too, was constantly changing.

The four demon beasts were swiftly struck by several of the swords. However, due to their robust defenses, they didn't sustain any fatal injuries.

A holy maiden gritted her teeth and spoke. "Bianca, if we keep going like this, I'm afraid we're going to wear ourselves out eventually!"

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3768-Bianca gritted her teeth. Despite their numerical advantage, the four beasts they faced were not to be underestimated. Their skin was tough, their bodies seemingly impenetrable, and they appeared to possess an inexhaustible strength.

If things continued this way, even if they weren't killed by the beasts, they'd surely die from sheer exhaustion!

"Everyone, stay strong! Our only chance of victory lies in unity. If we fall into chaos now, no one will be able to escape when the time comes. We'll all be doomed!" Bianca shouted at the others.

In truth, these holy maidens were aware that if they fell into chaos now and retreated, they would surely be slaughtered by these snow- cloud beasts.

"Let's give it our all!" "Yeah!" One by one, the holy maidens cried out, their eyes gleaming red as they pushed their bodies to their utmost potential.

Their frost swords radiated waves of sword energy, which then converged together.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The group of holy maidens unleashed their full potential, each blast of their sword energy fiercely striking the bodies of the snow-cloud beasts.

The snow-cloud beasts roared, continuously releasing gusts of icy breath from their mouth. Following that, the bodies of the holy maidens slowly became covered in frost.

Thankfully, these holy maidens practiced ice- based techniques, so they naturally resisted the frost attacks of the snow-cloud beasts.

Had they been practicing any other technique, they would have probably turned into an ice sculpture by now.

However, each of their sword strikes was imbued with frost energy, so they couldn't inflict significant damage despite landing blows on the snow-cloud beasts.

In conclusion, both parties naturally possessed a resistance to frost energy.

Just as Bianca and her companions were in a tense standoff with the four demon beasts, a sudden wave of intense heat swept over them.

"Ice is weak against fire! Use this demonic fire to attack them!" Jared yelled at Bianca and her group.

The heat wave turned out to be a ball of demonic fire summoned by Jared. Even while engaged in battle with an Eighth Level Tribulator demon beast, he had kept a vigilant eye on Bianca and her companions.

Bianca nodded, then shouted, "Ladies, we have fire on our side now! Let's do this!" Each of the dozen or so holy maidens unleashed their maximum potential.

Subsequently, streams of white spiritual energy gathered above their heads by flowing along the dozen frost swords.

Then, the ball of demonic fire was enveloped within this white spiritual energy.

Immediately after, this ball of spiritual energy rapidly headed toward the four snow-cloud beasts.

Boom!

It exploded dramatically in front of the four demon beasts. Following this, a wave of intense heat swept out, a sea of flames instantly engulfing the snow-cloud beasts.

The demon beasts roared in pain, and the scent of something burning continuously wafted toward the women.

Upon seeing the situation, Bianca quickly raised her voice to order, "This is our chance! Get them!" The holy maidens simultaneously wielded their frost swords. Countless streams of sword energy came together, forming an enormous longsword.

The longsword flew forward, the ground shaking with the power it contained.

The sword flashed through the sea of fire in an instant, and the agonized screams of the snow- cloud beasts ceased in the next moment.

As the flames slowly faded, the bodies of the four snow-cloud beasts were revealed to have already been torn apart.

Immediately following, a streak of white light flashed before it was gone in the blink of an eye.

To everyone's surprise, the Eighth Level Tribulator snow-cloud beast had been slashed into countless pieces.

A pearl, exuding a white mist, hung suspended in mid-air.

"Is that a beast core?"

Upon grabbing the beast core, a chilling sensation that was bone-deep spread throughout his entire body.

"The beast core of a snow-cloud beast is truly a valuable item." Jared immediately stashed the beast core into his Storage Ring.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3770-"It's her. She's actually still alive..." Jared reeled back his spiritual sense, his face etched with profound shock. He hadn't expected that Yuliya would actually succeed in escaping from the snow cloud beasts.

"Mr. Chance, who is it?" Bianca hurriedly asked.

"The person in charge of your Lunarius Palace's registration office in Southedge City, Yuliya," Jared said.

“Yuliya! She’s actually still alive?” Upon hearing this, Bianca seemed somewhat agitated.

“Let’s hurry. We have to stop her before she enters the polar region. Given her current condition, she’ll definitely die if she ventures there.” After Jared finished speaking, his figure suddenly vanished.

He had used Blazing Stride to travel several kilometers away in the blink of an eye.

Upon seeing that, Bianca and the others hurriedly chased after him.

Yuliya felt someone hot on her heels, leaving her no choice but to grit her teeth and run as fast as she could.

However, the presence behind her was drawing closer and closer. Left with no choice, Yuliya abruptly turned around and swung a palm out desperately.

Thud!

Snowflakes whirled up to the sky, showing how much power she had put in the strike.

However, Jared easily defused her attack.

“Ms. Liemann, it’s me,” Jared quickly said.

Upon recognizing Jared, Yuliya immediately breathed a sigh of relief. However, she was unaware that Jared had come with the holy maidens of Lunarius Palace.

“What brought you here?” Yuliya was taken aback. After all, with Jared’s capabilities, venturing into the polar region was akin to a death wish.

Moreover, how did Jared manage to cross the territory of the snow-cloud beasts?

“Yuliya!” At that moment, Bianca and her companions also arrived.

Upon seeing Bianca and the others, Yuliya finally let her guard down completely. However, with this relaxation, all she felt was a wave of dizziness washing over her before she fainted.

She was merely running on fumes just moments ago, but now that Bianca and the others had arrived, Yuliya finally allowed herself to relax!

Jared stepped forward to examine Yuliya, then said with his expression serious, “Her injuries are severe. She must receive medical attention immediately.” Glancing around, Bianca uttered, “Mr. Chance, we’re about to enter the polar region and are surrounded by nothing but snow. We don’t have the conditions to provide medical treatment.” “Everyone, gather around and shield her from the cold wind. I’ll tend to her wounds immediately. If we delay any longer, she might not make it. Her internal organs have already been permeated by frost energy.” Jared instructed Bianca and the other holy maidens to form a circle. Then, using his own aura, he held off the chilly winds that were blowing from all directions.

Immediately, the holy maidens gathered around before releasing their auras.

This collective aura formed a protective shield, safeguarding Yuliya within it.

Just as Jared was about to start the treatment, he suddenly halted, then cautiously started sensing his surroundings.

“Damn it, someone’s following us from behind. We have to go!” Jared could sense that several people were closing in on them. He guessed that it must be the Mueller family, so he picked up Yuliya.

If he continued administering treatment here, he feared none of them would be able to leave once the Mueller family arrived.

After seemingly crossing a barrier, Jared and his companions found themselves in the midst of the polar region.

However, the scenery within was just like anywhere else.

“Quick, let’s find a secluded spot to treat Ms. Liemann first,” Jared urged.

Jared, cradling Yuliya, headed toward a small hill. Blanketed by heavy snow, it resembled a massive tombstone.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3769-Bianca and the others also gathered up the beast cores of the other four snow cloud beasts.

The beast core of such an extremely rare demon beast was indeed highly valuable!

“All right, let’s get moving quickly. We shouldn’t stay here too long. However, we need to stay alert for the journey ahead!” Jared spoke to the multitude of holy maidens.

After all, there was no one scouting ahead anymore, so it was uncertain what dangers still lay ahead.

Bianca and the others nodded in agreement, then proceeded forward with Jared.

Not long after Jared and his group had left, Leighton, along with the Mueller family members, arrived on the scene.

Upon seeing the bodies scattered all around, everyone in the Mueller family felt a chill run down their spines.

A member of the Mueller family addressed Leighton, saying, “Uncle Leighton, these are all bodies of Lunarius Palace disciples, along with those wandering cultivators who were deceived into coming here. I’m afraid not a single one of them survived.” Leighton’s brow slightly furrowed, his expression turning serious.

So many perished even before they reached the polar region. They must have encountered something terrifying, or perhaps, a demon beast.

What could have possibly happened that resulted in so many deaths?

“Keep moving. Everyone, stay alert,” he instructed.

Leighton, leading the group, pressed on. It didn’t take long before they stumbled upon the dead snow-cloud beasts.

“These are snow-cloud beasts!” Upon seeing the snow-cloud beasts, everyone in the Mueller family cried out in shock.

After all, this kind of demon beast hadn’t been seen for many years. Some even claimed it was already extinct.

“So many snow-cloud beasts were slain, and their beast cores taken. Could it be the work of the holy maidens from Lunarius Palace?” Leighton looked at the lifeless bodies of the snow-cloud beasts, feeling an unexpected surge of nervousness within him.

If these snow-cloud beasts were truly slain by the holy maidens of Lunarius Palace and Jared, then the power of these individuals was not to be underestimated!

“Uncle Leighton, it must have been the work of the holy maidens from Lunarius Palace. After all, they were the only ones ahead of us. It appears that Ms. Selma was correct in her guess. Nieva of Lunarius Palace has been quietly grooming the holy maidens, most likely intending to challenge our Mueller family. Despite relying on us to start up, they’ve been secretly growing stronger behind our backs!” a member of the Mueller family said.

“No matter how much Lunarius Palace progresses, it could never rival our Mueller family. Our lineage has been thriving for a millennium, while Lunarius Palace is merely in its infancy. After this trip to the polar region, I’ll report directly to the head of the family and have Lunarius Palace obliterated!” After Leighton finished speaking, he gestured with his hand, signaling everyone to move forward.

Jared and his companions were completely unaware that members of the Mueller family were trailing behind them as they drew ever closer to the polar region.

Just as they were about to reach the polar region, surprisingly, they spotted a trail of footprints on the pristine white snow.

The footprints were remarkably clear, evidently fresh. Had they been made much earlier, they would have likely been covered by the heavy snowfall.

Bianca looked at the footprints, anxiously asking with a tense expression, “Mr.

Chance, has someone beaten us to the punch?”

Up ahead, as Yuliya struggled forward, she was suddenly enveloped by a spiritual sense, causing her to become incredibly tense.

She was wounded, having barely escaped from the jaws of the snow-cloud beasts, only to find herself the target of someone else’s attention now.

Yuliya wasn't sure who had set their sights on her, but she knew one thing for certain if she were to be caught, the consequences would be unthinkable.

As a female cultivator, if she were to be injured and captured, endless humiliation was all that awaited her!

Oftentimes, humans proved to be far more terrifying than demon beasts!
