

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/ A Man Like None Other

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3786-Pablo looked at Jared, his eyes filled with fear. In the Celestial Battlefield, Pablo had had Jared running all over the place.

Yet, in just a little over ten days, the growth of Jared's strength had grown so much that it scared him.

"Jared, we hold no grudges against each other. Today, I won't fight you. How about we consider all our past disputes settled?" Pablo asked Jared.

Jared laughed.

"Have you no shame? When I was weaker than you, you chased me down like a dog without its master. Now that I'm stronger than you, you want to just wipe the slate clean? How can you be so shameless? Did you learn to be shameless in the Demon Devouring Cave?" Jared couldn't help but ridicule Pablo relentlessly.

"Kid, if you're going to scold him, leave me out of it. I didn't teach him anything.

He learned everything by himself in that cave." In Jared's consciousness field, Vermilion Demon Lord expressed his extreme dissatisfaction.

Pablo felt his face redden, but he still managed to suppress his anger. "Jared, considering your current status, do you really think you can escape if our fight attracts others? You are a walking treasure trove. Many are eyeing for the hundred-year offering from the Demon Seal Alliance..." Pablo wanted to use this as a threat against Jared, preventing him from making a move.

"You think I'm afraid?" Jared sneered.

Pablo knew that Jared would not let him off the hook today. So, he stopped talking, and a palpable tension started to rise from within him.

Since a battle was inevitable, he decided to fight with all his might. Perhaps there was still a chance to escape.

A smirk appeared on Jared's face, and his eyes revealed a hint of disdain when he saw that Pablo was ready to make his move.

Jared could now reclaim all the humiliations he had suffered in the Celestial Battlefield. Yuliya was incredibly tense as she sensed the aura emanating from Pablo.

Upon seeing Pablo about to take action, Yuliya said to Jared, "If we work together, we might just have a chance to escape." "Escape? Didn't you hear him just now, begging me not to hit him? Given your current state, can you really take action? Won't you be exposed the moment you do? Aren't you afraid of being seen?" Jared cast a glance at Yuliya.

It wasn't that Jared particularly disliked her, but he didn't exactly hold much affection for her either.

A few words from Yuliya had led to the demise of two holy maidens, a fact that Jared could never reconcile with.

Yuliya fell into silence.

She was barely clothed at the moment. If she were to move, she would undoubtedly be completely exposed.

While Jared was engaged in conversation with Yuliya, Pablo suddenly made his move.

This was the perfect opportunity. He could take Jared by surprise.

Pablo exuded an astonishing aura, casually releasing waves of black mists that seemed to tear through the very fabric of the air itself.

In front of Jared, Pablo's Nethersky Eye and Dark Demon Armor were of no use.

So, his only choice was to launch a surprise attack.

"Be careful..."

Jared was calm and composed. He waved his hand, and a wave of flame rolled out like a massive tidal wave.

For a moment, the sky blazed bright red.

Upon witnessing the massive wave of fire before him, Pablo was dumbstruck.

Jared's power had escalated to such an exceptional level that it was beyond his own comprehension.

If there was an intense battle, there could only be one possibility: They were fighting over a treasure.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3787-Lauden gazed at the distant red light and said, "Let's go check it out. Someone might have already found the immortal's tomb." The individuals from the Five Great Sects ceased their rest and then promptly headed toward the red light.

At that moment, Pablo was releasing streams of black mist continuously, defending against the fiery tidal wave unleashed by Jared.

Jared watched as Pablo awkwardly defended himself, a smirk playing on his lips. Immediately following that, his body sprang up, and the Demon Flogger materialized in his hand.

Pablo was busy fending off the flames, completely unguarded, when he was struck by the Demon Flogger.

The attack from the Demon Flogger, piercing through his heart and soul, caused Pablo to scream out in agony and collapse onto the ground.

He could bear physical pain without fear, but the Demon Flogger was specifically designed against Demonic Cultivators, targeting their spiritual sense.

The intensity of such neural agony far surpassed any physical discomfort.

As Pablo fell to the ground, the Demon Flogger cracked loudly in the air.

Pablo's body trembled violently. His heart appeared to be quivering with dread.

He was consumed by sheer terror.

"Jared, just kill me already. Why are you torturing me like this?" Pablo knew that in front of Jared, there was absolutely no chance of escape.

Thus, he resigned to the thought of embracing death.

At least in death, there could still be a sense of relief.

Yuliya was utterly taken aback as she watched Jared torture Pablo.

“I can kill you at any moment, but I choose not to. I want to torment you first.

Have you forgotten what you did to me in the Celestial Battlefield?” After Jared finished speaking, he swung the Demon Flogger at Pablo again.

Just then, Jared sensed someone approaching. His brow furrowed involuntarily as he instantly expanded his spiritual sense to investigate.

When he realized that the people were from the Five Great Sects, he seemed somewhat surprised.

The Five Great Sects are thousands of miles away from here. How did they get here? But the timing of their arrival is impeccable. I’ve been meaning to look for them. They intercepted me and injured Catina and the others. I have yet to settle this grudge. Their timing can’t be better. But before seeking revenge, I must first clear my name from the accusation of slaughtering disciples from the Five Great Sects. It was Pablo who did it, yet somehow, the blame was unjustly pinned on me.

Sensing that the representatives of the Five Great Sects were already before him, Jared turned to Pablo and asked, “You were the one who killed the disciples of the Five Great Sects in the Celestial Battlefield. Why did you frame me for it? If you explain yourself, I might let you off easy.” Pablo had no idea that the people from the Five Great Sects were nearby. So, he said, “It was all the Nesser family’s idea. They disguised themselves as you and then intentionally revealed the item pouch belonging to the disciples of the Five Great Sects, aiming to incite their hatred toward you. This way, they could manipulate others to do their dirty work.” Upon hearing this, Jared realized it was Skylar’s idea all along, and suddenly everything made sense. Having interacted with Skylar for such a long time, he could tell it was indeed like him to do something like this.

“Jared, now that I’ve told you, just kill me already,” Pablo said to Jared.

He certainly didn’t want to endure another lashing from the Demon Flogger.

Right at the front were the leaders of the Five Great Sects.

Seeing that, Pablo realized that he had been tricked by Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3788-No wonder he suddenly asked about the Five Great Sects. It turns out people from the Five Great Sects were nearby.

Filled with a murderous intent, Lauden cast his gaze toward Pablo and slowly made his way toward him.

Pablo grimaced.

“You dared to kill the disciples from the Five Great Sects. We will exact our vengeance.” After Lauden finished speaking, he bellowed at the hundreds of disciples from the Five Great Sects, “Each of you, strike him with your sword once. Do it for the sake of your fallen brothers...” “Understood...” Hundreds of disciples from the Five Great Sects were all filled with righteous indignation.

Pablo was utterly bewildered. He was indeed seeking death, but he never said he wanted hundreds of people to stab him to death.

He was terrified, yet he found himself utterly helpless. He knew the consequences of resistance. It would only lead to a more gruesome death.

A disciple from one of the Five Great Sects approached and struck Pablo.

One by one, they advanced until Pablo was ultimately left battered and bruised.

Pablo died, but it wasn't Jared who killed him. He was, in fact, betrayed to his death.

Lauden stepped forward and said, “My friend, I sincerely apologize for misunderstanding you in the past...” Jared didn't respond. He merely glanced at Heinrich and the others, his eyes filled with intense resentment. He could hardly resist the urge to eliminate them right then and there.

However, at that time, he was still no match for the Five Great Sects. If these people teamed up, he was not confident of victory.

Moreover, he was there to find polar stones, so revenge had to be put on the back burner. However, Jared was one who always sought revenge. If he found the right opportunity, he wouldn't hesitate to strike.

“Let’s go...” Jared turned and walked away, with Yuliya trailing behind him..

Heinrik stepped forward and whispered to Lauden, “Mr. Delacroix, this young man’s worth is no less than that of the immortal’s tomb. He’s worth a hundred□year offering from the Demon Seal Alliance.” “Do you still intend to trade his life to the Demon Seal Alliance for a hundred□year offering?” Lauden gave Heinrik a cold glance.

Heinrik promptly shut his mouth, while Lauden pursued Jared.

“Hmph, he’s simply a fool for ignoring all those resources. It seems we’ll have to make our move ahead of schedule. This could work to our advantage. We could capture Jared and exchange him for a reward,” Heinrik said to Stuart and Edward.

“Right, let’s make the first move. Didn’t Mr. Delacroix say that as long as we left the Five Great Sects’ territories, he wouldn’t interfere with our actions against Jared? Let’s test the waters later. If Mr. Delacroix really doesn’t interfere, we can spare him a bit longer. But if he tries to stop us, we’ll have to eliminate him first,” Stuart stated coldly.

“Right, let’s do it this way.” Edward also nodded in agreement.

The only one who remained silent was Keelan.

His face wore an incredibly complex expression.

At that time, Jared had already brought Yuliya back into the cave.

Upon seeing the state Yuliya was in, Bianca was filled with surprise, She thought that Jared had forced himself on Yuliya.

After finding and helping Yuliya put on her clothes, Bianca finally asked, “What’s happened?” Yuliya kept her head down, not uttering a word.

Otherwise, she wouldn’t have left the group.

“Why did they follow me?” Jared’s brow furrowed. He realized that people from the Five Great Sects had actually followed him.

He had intended to avoid them, but to his surprise, these people had been following him all along.

He stepped out of the cave and saw Lauden approaching the entrance.

“Mr. Delacroix, why did you follow me?” Jared asked, somewhat annoyed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3789-“Friend, I came here to apologize to you, and also to propose a partnership. It seems you’ve been in the polar region longer than us, so you’re more familiar with this place.” Lauden spoke to Jared in a very polite manner!

“Work with me?” Jared was taken aback, not at all expected Lauden to make such a request!

Jared glanced at the people standing behind Lauden, especially Heinrich, and chose not to respond!

Those guys had a grudge against him, so there was no way he would collaborate with them!

Upon hearing that Lauden was planning to collaborate with Jared, Heinrich and the others were slightly taken aback!

After exchanging glances, they were ready to take action against Lauden and Jared at any moment.

“Mr. Chance, what’s wrong?” At that moment, Bianca emerged, leading a group of holy maidens!

Upon seeing the sudden appearance of the holy maidens, Heinrich and the others instantly became alert. Those who had initially planned to make a move halted their actions!

Lauden cast his gaze over Bianca and the others, realizing that they all possessed the power of Sixth Level Tribulator. He was taken aback, as not a single one among them was weak!

Although the Five Great Sects possessed notable strength, the abilities of their disciples were not particularly high.

Moreover, their levels of skill were vastly uneven. Among those hundreds of disciples from the Five Great Sects, the highest level of strength achieved was only Sixth Level Tribulator, and there was merely a handful of them at that level!

To the astonishment of everyone from the Five Great Sects, more than ten women, each possessing the power equivalent to Sixth Level Tribulator cultivators, suddenly appeared behind Jared!

Observing their identical attire, it was clear they belonged to the same sect!

If the power of a particular sect was that formidable, one could only imagine just how terrifying it was within the sect itself!

That was precisely why, upon encountering Bianca and her companions, Henrik and his crew immediately abandoned their plans to engage in conflict!

“An old friend wanted to collaborate with us,” Jared said in an indifferent tone!

All the clans and families who came there did so in search of treasure, driven by their own interests. Who would even consider partnering with others?

Quickly, Lauden addressed Bianca, saying, “We are new to the polar region and unfamiliar with the territory, which is why we proposed a partnership. Rest assured, should we locate the immortal’s tomb, we are more than willing to share the discovered treasures equally!” Upon hearing that Lauden and his group were actually searching for the immortal’s tomb, Bianca was finally able to relax!

Clearly, they were tricked, too, because there was no such thing as the immortal’s tomb.

“Lauden, collaboration is indeed feasible. Once we locate the immortal’s tomb, we don’t want anything else. However, we do require a type of polar stone found there, and we insist that you do not compete with us for it. After all, that object is utterly useless to you. Only those who practice the frost cultivation techniques can truly utilize it!” Jared went straight to the point and told Lauden about the matter of the polar stone.

“No problem, if it’s of no use to us, we definitely won’t fight over it!” Lauden agreed right away!

“Here’s to a pleasant collaboration.” Jared extended his hand toward Lauden, who in turn, reciprocated with a firm handshake with Jared!

However, in the moment of the handshake, Lauden subtly tightened his grip, as if he was hinting something to Jared!

Jared wore an expression of surprise, yet he failed to grasp the meaning behind Lauden's action!

Heinrik and the others remained silent. Their dissatisfaction was evident, yet they dared not voice their concerns.

Jared, along with Bianca, took a rest inside the cave!

The individuals from the Five Great Sects had found a spot outside the cave to rest and recuperate!

Once dawn broke, they set out in search of the immortal's tomb.

In an instant, Jared's eyes flew open, his body exuding an explosive aura, ready to strike at any moment!
