

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3916-The Betrayal As Jared was engaged in conversation with Catina, a figure suddenly darted past outside Catina's room.

"There's someone outside!" In an instant, Jared rose to his feet and pursued the figure.

Catina was right on his heels. She was astonished to find that someone had the audacity to spy on her from outside her room, right here in her palace. It was as if they had a death wish!

The moment Jared and Catina started running in pursuit, the shadowy figure unexpectedly collapsed.

When Jared and Catina caught up, they were surprised to discover that it was actually a woman!

The woman was covered in wounds, clearly indicating she had suffered severe injuries.

Upon seeing the woman, Catina instantly gasped in surprise. "Zuri?" "Do you know her?" Jared asked.

Catina slightly furrowed her brows, saying, "She's my personal attendant." Jared immediately picked up Zuri and returned to Catina's room.

After a thorough examination, Jared shook his head. "The injuries are too severe, and her divine soul is damaged. I don't think I can save her." "How could this happen? Who would dare to harm my personal attendant?" Fury was etched deeply on Catina's face. "Jared, can you wake her up? I need to ask who exactly did this to her." "I'll try!" Jared nodded, then directed a surge of spiritual energy into Zuri's body.

Then, he retrieved a rejuvenating pill from his storage ring, gently placing it into the woman's mouth.

A moment later, Zuri slowly opened her eyes.

Upon seeing that, Catina hastily voiced her question, "Zuri, who did this to you?" "Fox Queen... I-It was Knox. You need to run. He has teamed up with the Foster family... and was just waiting for you to return so he could make his move against you. I risked my life to tell you this. You need... to leave quickly! Winona didn't go to gather herbs; she's being locked up in the water prison! P-Please, run..." After Zuri finished speaking, her head lolled to the side as she drew her last breath.

Catina listened to Zuri's words, her entire being filled with shock and confusion.

She couldn't believe it – Knox had actually betrayed her!

Jared stared at Catina, at a loss for words.

As a queen, she had to possess undeniable strength.

After all, this was the Ethereal Realm, a place where power was revered, and there were no rules to speak of!

This wasn't the mundane world, where one could ascend to the position of mayor and manage an entire city, not necessarily through true capabilities, but rather through flattery and sycophancy.

Even if the subordinates were highly skilled, it was useless. No one dared to rebel.

This was because the mundane world had its set of well-established rules, and these rules were designed to keep the common people in line.

But in the Ethereal Realm, there were no such rules, and strength spoke louder than words.

"Knox... I must kill him. I absolutely must!" Catina roared.

"Fox Queen, if you want to kill me, you better have the skills to do it!" Following a cold scoff, the door to Catina's room was kicked open.

Knox had brought along a multitude of guards to surround Catina's room.

Upon seeing Knox, Catina's eyes were filled with fury "Knox how dare you betray me?"

Knox's expression was twisted into a vicious and smug smile.

"Why wouldn't I dare? The Foster family and I have already reached an agreement. Once Imperial Fox City joins the Demon Seal Alliance, they will provide us with various resources when the time comes. Did you really think you could continue to rule the entire Imperial Fox City with just the strength of a Seventh Level Tribulator? The only reason I was willing to listen to you was because I wanted to practice dual cultivation.

with you. In the end, it wouldn't matter who ended up ruling Imperial Fox City. But after all these years, you wouldn't even let me hold your hand, and I finally came to understand that you never intend to be with me. If that's the case, I might as well rebel."

Pausing briefly, he went on, "Now that I'm a Ninth Level Tribulator, the entire city is mine to command. If you behave obediently, I can ensure you still live a life of luxury. If you refuse to listen, then don't blame me for not being polite anymore..."

Catina looked at Knox, her fury growing.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3917-Nothing But A Brute At that moment, Cloud and Feenix rushed over from next door, but Knox was not afraid.

After all, none of these individuals had a higher cultivation level than him.

After hearing Knox's words, Jared laughed and turned to Catina, saying, "And you said you were amazing? Relying solely on your looks to charm men may work for a while, but over time, they'll see through it. If you really want to have influence over someone, you need to show your strength." Catina shot Jared a glare, then huffed out in annoyance, "You're still making fun of me? Someone is going to take advantage of your woman. Aren't you angry?"

"What's there to be upset about? This just shows that my woman is attractive.

Many have coveted the women by my side; it's just a pity that they're all dead now!" After Jared finished speaking, he turned his gaze to Knox and said, "You're but a mere Ninth Level Tribulator, yet you dare to lay a hand on my woman?" Knox's brows furrowed, his gaze fixated on Jared as he repeated, "Your woman?" "Yep. Your queen is now my woman. Technically speaking, I should be considered the royal consort. Aren't you going to kneel in my presence?" Jared said with a playful expression on his face.

"Pah, you're nothing more than a Fourth Level Tribulator. How could Fox Queen possibly be interested in you? If you dare to spout nonsense again, I'll skin you alive!" Knox simply didn't believe what Jared had said.

Seeing Knox's disbelief, Jared directly embraced Catina and kissed her, his hands roaming freely.

Yet, Catina did not resist or avoid him at all.

In an instant, Knox was absolutely livid!

"Skin me alive? Do you even have what it takes?" After Jared spoke, his figure vanished in a blink of an eye.

Before Knox could even react, he was struck squarely in the face, sending him flying out of the room!

Jared and the others also stepped out.

Knox looked at Jared with an incredulous expression. He couldn't fathom how a mere Fourth Level Tribulator could have possibly sent him flying with a single slap.

The numerous guards surrounding them were also taken aback, their gazes filled with shock.

"Punk, you're asking for trouble!" Knox roared in anger, and behind him, the shadowy figure of a grizzly bear seemed to materialize.

The bear, with its gaping bloody maw and bared teeth, exuded the overwhelming aura of a Ninth Level Tribulator.

Jared let out a cold snort. "You're nothing but a brute, yet you think you can lay a hand on my woman?" After Jared finished speaking, the draconic essence on his chest continuously flickered as he unleashed the Power of Dragons.

Following that, a Golden Dragon materialized behind Jared.

The Golden Dragon roared, its presence majestic and domineering, causing the surrounding guards to fall to their knees in awe.

Upon seeing that, Knox's brows furrowed tightly, a clear glint of fear evident in his eyes.

He hadn't expected that Jared was actually a Draconian.

"So what if you're a Draconian? That doesn't change the fact that you're just a Fourth Level Tribulator. There's no way you can kill me!" Knox roared in fury, the shadow of the bear behind him growing larger and larger.

"Would it be possible to kill you after adding me to the equation, then?" With a swift turn, Feenix transformed back into her original form.

A colossal phoenix, ablaze with roaring flames, was soaring in the sky!

The appearance of the phoenix had everyone in Imperial Fox City kneeling down in reverence.

Knox was utterly dumbfounded as he gazed upon the fiery creature before him.

Before Knox could even react, the Golden Dragon and the phoenix spewed flames from their mouths, instantly incinerating him on the spot!

Just like that, a Ninth Level Tribulator was burnt to death without even a chance to fight back!

It was only at this moment that the multitude of guards realized just how terrifying Jared, who seemed to be nothing more than a Fourth Level Tribulator, truly was!

Knox had just become a Ninth Level Tribulator, yet his power was not something that Jared had to worry about.

Even until his last breath, Knox couldn't comprehend how he had met his end nor how Catina had managed to make such outrageously powerful friends.

After all, Jared could hold his own in a battle against an Ultimate Realm Level One. Knox was easy prey in comparison.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3918-I Had Already Decided Knox had died, and the remaining guards were pleading for mercy from Catina.

Catina did not punish the guards. Instead, she went straight to the water prison and rescued Winona.

The crisis in Imperial Fox City was resolved just like that, simply and easily.

Knox's long-planned rebellion was also instantly thwarted.

This was a demonstration of true strength.

The very next morning, Catina had sent someone to the Violet Flame Sect, inviting Dario from the Violet Flame Sect to come over.

After all, no one knew whether the Violet Flame Sect truly possessed the technique to merge demonic fires.

If there was nothing at Violet Flame Sect, then there was no need for Jared to make another trip to Violet Flame Sect. Given Jared's current status, it wasn't appropriate for him to be running around everywhere.

"Fox Queen, why did you send someone to invite Mr. Barclay from the Violet Flame Sect? Apparently, there's been a recent regime change at the Violet Flame Sect. Rumor has it that Mr. Ortiz was forced to step down, and a new leader has taken control. During that period, the internal strife within the Violet Flame Sect was at its peak. It would be best for us in Imperial Fox City not to get involved in the affairs of the Violet Flame Sect," he advised.

Winona had assumed that Catina's invitation to Dario was to discuss the internal strife within the Violet Flame Sect.

“Has the Violet Flame Sect gotten a new leader?” Catina was somewhat taken aback. “In such a short span of time, even Violet Flame Sect has undergone a change in leadership. It’s truly unbelievable. But don’t worry, Winona. I’m not intending to interfere with the affairs of the Violet Flame Sect. It’s just that my friend here is interested in mastering the demonic fire. So, we’re inquiring if there’s any technique within the Violet Flame Sect’s teachings that can aid in mastering this flame.” Upon hearing this, Winona gave a nod of approval. She said, “Violet Flame Sect should have such techniques. After all, they are known as the most powerful sect in Ethereal Realm for mastering fire-related practices.” Catina didn’t involve herself in the internal disputes of the Violet Flame Sect. However, whether the Violet Flame Sect would share this particular technique, is uncertain. After all, each sect and faction typically keep their techniques exclusive.” Upon hearing Winona’s words, Catina’s face revealed her discomfort. She then turned to Jared and asked, “What if this Violet Flame Sect has a method to merge demonic fires, but it’s not shared outside?” “That’s not a problem,” he said. “I could just join the Violet Flame Sect and become one of their disciples,” Jared gave a faint smile and said.

It seemed that Jared had his strategies planned out well in advance. He was aware that the techniques of various sects were typically not taught to outsiders.

To learn them, one had to become an inner court disciple.

“You thought joining the Violet Flame Sect was going to be easy? There are tests to pass,” Catina exclaimed.

“What? Do you think I can’t even pass an inner court disciple assessment?” Jared asked with a playful tone.

“That’s not the case at all!” Catina shook her head. Although Jared was currently only at Fourth Level Tribulator, his true strength was such that even those at the Ninth Level Tribulator were no match for him. Hence, passing the Violet Flame Sect assessment would be a breeze for him.

“Master, if you wish to join the Violet Flame Sect, you must change your appearance and even your name. We wouldn’t want the members of the Violet Flame Sect to turn on you for their own gain once they recognize you,” Feenix suggested.

After all, many people knew by now that the Demon Seal Alliance had spent a century worshipping and eventually slaying Jared.

If the people of the Violet Flame Sect were to discover Jared’s true identity, Jared would likely become a prisoner before he even mastered the technique!

After all, the century-long offerings to Demon Seal Alliance were incredibly enticing.

“That’s easy to resolve...” Jared gave a laugh. Following that, he spun around twice, and in an instant, his entire appearance had changed.

Catina wasn’t too keen on Jared taking risks by becoming a disciple at taking risks by becoming a disciple in the Violet Flame Sect.

As for not being able to completely alter his aura, Jared wasn’t worried. After all, no one from the Violet Flame Sect knew what Jared’s aura was like.

If it were possible to obtain the cultivation technique from Darja then even if it meant spending a significant amount of resources, it would be absolutely worth it.

“Let’s wait until Mr. Barclay arrives, then we can ask him,” he suggested. “If he knows about this technique, considering our relationship, he might just tell us the truth.”

As noon approached, Dario arrived.

At that moment, Dario had traces of exhaustion.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3919-Assess Your Own Abilities “Fox Queen, why did you send for me? If it wasn’t for our deep-rooted friendship, I wouldn’t have come. Recently, our Violet Flame Sect has been in a state of chaos, with many matters needing attention!” Dario spoke to Catina.

“Mr. Barclay, my recent journey to Demonica Mountain proved to be quite fruitful.

You were the first one I thought of upon my return.” Catina spoke up, presenting some resources she had obtained from Demonica Mountain.

Upon seeing this, Dario wore a smile on his face. Without any hesitation, he accepted all the resources presented to him. Afterward, he said, “You’re too polite. Feel free to speak your mind. I know you didn’t seek me out just to give me these resources.” “Mr. Barclay, you are truly wise. I have a friend who practices fire-based techniques, and has even mastered a few demonic fires. Therefore, I wanted to ask, does your Violet Flame Sect’s technique include a method to integrate these demonic fires?” Catina asked.

“Cultivation technique to merge demonic fires?” Dario’s brow furrowed slightly before he shook his head. “It seems like we don’t have such techniques in our Violet Flame Sect yet.” Upon hearing this, Catina instantly felt disheartened. She had given away so much, and for what? It was all in vain. The Violet Flame Sect simply didn’t possess such a technique.

Jared was at a loss for words. Even the Violet Flame Sect, renowned for practicing the most powerful fire techniques in both the mortal and Ethereal Realms, didn't possess such a method. It seemed that it could only exist in the celestial realm.

But with Jared's current capabilities, it seemed it would take him quite a while before he could ascend to the celestial realm.

Moreover, a month later, he was scheduled to duel with Aiden. If Jared's power didn't increase, he likely wouldn't stand a chance against Aiden.

Just as Catina was disheartened and Jared was left speechless, Dario shifted the conversation, saying, "Although our Violet Flame Sect doesn't possess a method to merge the demonic fires, I've heard of demonic fire tribulation. After enduring this tribulation, one should be able to merge the demonic fires." "Demonic fire tribulation?" Jared and Catina exclaimed in unison, their faces full of astonishment.

They were oblivious to what demonic fire tribulation was.

"This kind of demonic fire tribulation involved using the thunderbolt to strike the demonic fires within one's body. Regardless of the amount of demonic fires, once it had undergone demonic fire tribulation, it would merge together, no longer causing any differentiation." "However, this demonic fire tribulation, it's only something I've heard of, never seen myself. Mr. Ortiz, it seems like, successfully endured it." Dario's words undoubtedly boosted Jared's confidence once again.

Although Jared didn't understand what demonic fire tribulation meant, he nevertheless had a promising start.

"Mr. Barclay, I wonder if it would be possible for my friend and I to meet Mr.

Ortiz?" Catina asked.

Dario gave an awkward smile and said, "I'm really sorry, but Mr. Ortiz is in seclusion and can't meet with people casually. Besides, your friend isn't even a disciple from our sect. Even if he did meet Mr. Ortiz, it's unlikely he would teach him anything." "I'd like to join your Violet Flame Sect," Jared exclaimed urgently.

Dario cast a glance at Jared, then let out a cold laugh. "Do you really think it's that easy to join our Violet Flame Sect? You're merely at Fourth Level Tribulator. It would be quite challenging for you to pass the inner court disciple assessment." "I can give it a try," Jared said.

"We..." "Mr. Barclay, I have something else for you." Before Dario could say anything, Catina once again presented a substantial amount of resources.

Upon witnessing the situation, Dario chuckled and accepted the items, saying, "I can indeed esgortyou to the assessment. Whether you pass or fail, it all depends on your own abilities. Even as an elder, my words don't hold the final say."

"No problem." Jared nodded in agreement.

"All right, then come with me," he said. "If you truly pass the coM assessment, I wiltake dare of you, olit of respect for the Fox Queen,"

Dario said to Jared.

"Mr. Barclay, thank you so much." Catina quickly expressed her gratitude.

Even though she had already cursed him in her heart, this was clearly not out of respect for Catina, but rather all about the resources Dario himself was after.
