

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3959

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3959-Harlan gazed at the elders who spoke up for Orson coldly. His expression indifferent, when he said, "Mr. Moreau's punishment has been decided. There will be no changes to this. Furthermore, today is the inner court disciple assessment. Disciples who pass must spend a month training intensively at Repentance Hill. This is also one of the sect's rules, so pass on the command to your disciples." Harlan's tone didn't allow for any argument. As the sect leader, even though he had been newly elected, he didn't want the elders to oppose him. The elders exchanged glances, none of them uttering a word.

They all knew the one-month intensive training at Repentance Hill was a mere ruse. The true intention was to brainwash the disciples who had passed the assessments.

Even though they were all aware, there was nothing they could do. After all, Harlan was the sect leader.

Seeing no one spoke, Harlan smiled with satisfaction:

After glancing outside, he then asked, "It's already this late. Hasn't the assessment ended yet?" At that moment, a disciple hurried in from outside and reported, "The assessment has already concluded, Mr. Garrido, but it had led to the explosion of a fire source and damage to the array due to a cheating incident. Mr.

Cunningham is fixing the array, so it'll take a few days to complete the repair." "What? Someone cheated and caused a fire source explosion? How audacious!

Who is it?" Harlan asked with a scowl.

Dario's heart clenched immediately at the report.

If Jared is behind this, I'll be doomed. Once an investigation begins, I'll surely be exposed for accepting bribery to allow outsiders to enter the sect indiscriminately.

Anxiety filled Dario, when the disciple explained, "It was Adan, an outer court disciple. He tried to enhance the fire source's power by using the one in the bronze breastplate, but he lost control, leading to an explosion." Dario breathed a sigh of relief upon hearing it was Adan.

Harlan frowned. Adan is from my faction. Even though he's merely an outer court disciple, he's already a Sixth Level Tribulator. His strength has surpassed even some of the inner court disciples. As for using the bronze breastplate to cheat, I'm sure it was Thiago's idea. After all, that bronze breastplate belongs to Thiago.

"Mr. Garrido, cheating during the challenge has led to the destruction of the array. This is a serious offense, punishment must be meted out!" Dario said.

At that moment, his sole intention was to make things difficult for Harlan. Since Orson had been punished to thirty years of imprisonment, it was time to see how he'd punish disciples of his own faction when they erred.

"Yes, they must be punished!" Harlan nodded but was already scheming of ways to absolve Adan.

"Mr. Barclay, Mr. Garrido, Mr. Cunningham has already punished Adan," the disciple revealed.

Harlan immediately breathed a sigh of relief. "Since Mr. Cunningham has already penalized Adan, let's follow his decision. After all, Mr. Cunningham is known for his impartiality. Since some mishaps happened in this round of challenges, did anyone even pass the test?" "Only one disciple managed to pass the challenge through a spar," answered the disciple.

"Pass through a spar? Who's the challenger, and who was challenged?" "A disciple named Axel Chadwick challenged Thiago," the disciple replied.

"What?" Harlan shot to his feet, disbelief written across his face. Thiago is my prided disciple. How can an outer court disciple possibly defeat him?

Dario was taken aback upon hearing Axel Chadwick, not expecting it to be Axel Chadwick, not expecting it to be someone he had brought in. He was even more surprised to discover that Jared possessed such abilities.

After calming down, Harlan slowly sat back down and ordered, "inform Mr. Nielsen to bring me the documentation device of the spar!"

“Right away!” The disciple turned and left in search of Arnold.

The other elders were engaged in hushed discussions.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3960-“Whose disciple is he? To actually defeat Thiago!” “He’s modest about his abilities, isn’t he? But, the name Axel Chadwick feels completely unfamiliar.” “Isn’t Adan the most capable among the outer court disciples of the Violet Flame Sect? Why is Axel only known now?” Several elders discussed fervently, yet Dario remained silent throughout.

Jared is famous now. I hope he doesn’t reveal anything about me taking bribes.

“Mr. Barclay, do you know this Axel Chadwick? Whose disciple is he?” an elder inquired.

Dario hesitated for a moment before answering with a hint of embarrassment, “He’s a disciple I just took under my wing!” “What? A disciple you just took in?” All the elders erupted in chaos at the news.

A newly taken-in disciple has already defeated Thiago. That disciple is impressive!

At that time, Arnold hurriedly brought the documentation device.

After the elder infused a trace of spiritual energy into the documentation device, a wisp of white mist gradually materialized in the void.

Soon after, Jared’s and Thiago’s spar appeared on the white mist. Even their voices were crystal clear.

The spar was recorded in the interest of fairness. The other elders could review the recording for judgment if the juridical elder was unjust.

As everyone watched Jared spar with Thiago, astonishment crossed their faces, especially when the fire source burned Jared. The fire source’s power was so immense that even they, the elders, might not be able to withstand it.

However, the scenes where Thiago used the violaceous flame and unleashed the demonic black lotus were all exposed.

Harlan’s features twisted into an ugly mask at the sight.

After all, the violaceous flame was something even the elders weren't qualified to learn. Yet, Thiago, a mere deacon disciple, knew how to use it. It went without saying that Harlan must have taught him in secret.

Even though Thiago didn't learn demonic techniques, the demonic black lotus was indeed an object for Demonic Cultivators. It was a disgrace to the human race for a human race cultivator to secretly nurture an object of the demon spirit.

As they watched the unfolding scene, everyone's expressions grew increasingly conflicted until the very end, when Thiago was sent flying by a punch and began to plead for mercy, calling Jared, Boss. Harlan could no longer sit still by that point.

He destroyed the documentation device with a casual wave, causing the image to vanish instantly.

"Good-for-nothing! Just utterly useless!" Harlan was furious.

To his disbelief, his prided disciple was beaten to the point of pleading for mercy, even going so far as calling his opponent, Boss, repeatedly.

After the initial shock, the other elders couldn't help but stifle their laughter.

Dario hid his astonishment, then turned to Harlan and said, "Mr. Garrido, your prided disciple is truly impressive. He even learned the violaceous flame. I remember our sect's rule dictates that disciples beneath the level of elder aren't allowed to practice the violaceous flame. Your disciple is merely a deacon as of now, so how did he manage to refine the violaceous flame?"

Dario made a preemptive strike, aiming to wear Harlan down so that trouble if an investigation was launched.

"Thiago probably learned it while I was training. I'll make sure to look waving dismissively, Harlan swiftly stood up and hurriedly took his leave.

Cold sweat beaded on Harlan's forehead. Even though he was the sect leader, he wasn't above the sect's rules.

Seeing Harlan depart, Dario breathed a sigh of relief. It appeared that Harlan wouldn't pursue matters regarding Jared for the time being.

“Dario, where did you find this impressive disciple of yours?” “He’s amazing to have Thiago beaten to the point of calling him, Boss.” “If we had more disciples like him, Harlan wouldn’t have ousted Mr. Ortiz!” Several elders gathered around Dario, bombarding him with questions.