A Man Like None Other Chapter 4261

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4261-A Futile Effort The flames roared uncontrollably, densely packed like a torrential downpour.

“This guy can actually manipulate internal flame to this extent?” Ventus was taken aback. He hadn’t expected that Kai could control internal flame with such ease.

The moment the latter made his move, the sky was engulfed in flames.

Murmuring incantations under his breath, Ventus swiftly traced an intricate array rune in the air with both hands. Moments later, an array shield materialized in front of him.

As the leader of Sky Slasher Sect, Ventus’ mastery over arcane arrays was unparalleled. He handled them with exceptional skill and ease.

The surging flames were consequently blocked by the shield in front of him.

However, the immense force forced Ventus to backpedal in retreat.

“Dissipate!” Ventus let out a loud yell, and the array shield in front of him exploded in an instant. Along with the flames, they scattered across the sky, disappearing without a trace.

“Kid, for someone who’s just a Sixth Level Tribulator, you’ve shown strength comparable to on in Ultimate Realm. You really are a rare prodigy. If it were in the past, I might have respectfully let you leave. But now, no matter how capable you are, that’s not going to happen!” After Ventus finished speaking, a surge of red light flickered in his eyes.

As the glint in Ventus’ eyes flickered, the entire sea surrounding the small island surprisingly began to rage tumultuously.

The waves churned wildly, as countless demon beasts leaped out from the sea, each scrambling to escape.

Glimmering array runes could be seen, slowly rising from the depths of the ocean.

Countless array runes filled the sea for miles around, completely enveloping the small island within them.

In response, Kai's brows furrowed.

Such an extensive arcane array must have taken years to be set up in advance.

This must be Sky Slasher Sect's trump card. They must have set this arcane array up deep in the ocean long ago!

Seeing the sudden rise of the arcane array, Wyatt and Carlo were completely taken aback.

The disciples of Sky Slasher Sect, on the other hand, couldn't help but smirk.

They instantly withdrew from the battle, leaping into mid-air in a blink of an eye.

These individuals were seen offering up their own blood essence, which was instantaneously absorbed by the arcane array.

Swiftly, an arcane array spanning several miles was established, ensnaring everyone within its range, including those from Sky Slasher Sect. They all found themselves trapped within this arcane array.

However, members of Sky Slasher Sect didn't seem scared at all. On the contrary, they appeared to be extraordinarily excited.

"Initially, I planned to capture those alchemists alive, but it seems like you're all determined to resist till the end. Well then, prepare to meet your doom!" Upon seeing the grand formation was complete, Ventus grew smug.

As Ventus waved his hand, an array rune emerged and the formation began to activate.

Suddenly, streaks of spiritual light were shooting across the sky, over the sea, and even over the small island, akin to a dense flurry of arrows being released.

Swoosh! Swoosh! Swoosh!

Countless beams of spiritual light surged toward Wyatt and his group, each carrying an aura of terror.

At this point, Wyatt and his group thoroughly panicked. With such an intense barrage of spiritual light, how on earth are we supposed to dodge them?

Upon seeing the situation, Kai quickly ordered Carlo, "Hurry up and set up the defensive shield..."

Wyatt and his fellow alchemist simply couldn't withstand these spiritual lights. Therefore, they had no choice but to let Carlo, along with the members of the Duad Formation Sect, set up a defensive shield for protection.

In a rush, Carlo and his men quickly set up a shield around the group, warding off the spiritual light.

Bursts of spiritual light hit the shield, and Carlo, along with his fellow m disciples from the Duad'Formation Sect, displayed expressions of extreme agony.

It seemed like they simply couldn't hold on for much longer.

Kai wanted to go help, but countless spiritual lights were also raining down on him.

'Ha-ha-ha, don't waste your energy.

This formation is something the successive leaders of Sky Slasher Sect had spent a thousand years setting up. Your resistance is simply futile. Even if you were at Top Level Ultimate Realm, you might not be able to withstand the onslaught of this arcane array," Ventus declared with a hearty laugh.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4262

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4262-Take It Easy Splat, splat, splat... Carlo and the others were starting to buckle. Some of the spiritual light pierced through the shield, instantly striking the alchemists!

Very quickly, some of them began to suffer injuries or even meet gruesome deaths. Those who tried to flee were instantly pierced by countless rays of spiritual light the moment they left the shield.

Kai was frantic at this moment. Although the spiritual light from this formation couldn't hurt him, if this continued, the Duad Formation Sect and the alchemists would likely face annihilation!

At that moment, the Vermilion Demon Lord spoke up. "Kid, want me to lend a hand? With an arcane array like this, I doubt your current abilities can break through it!" "Mr. Vermilion, do you also understand array craft?" Kai asked curiously.

He hadn't heard the Vermilion Demon Lord mention anything about knowing arcane arrays before.

"I don't, but do I need to? Breaking an arcane array like this doesn't require any special knowledge of formations." "One slap, and I'll shatter it. But whether your body can withstand it is another story," the Vermilion Demon Lord remarked.

Kai pondered for a moment, then nodded. "Go ahead, I can take it. But Mr.

Vermilion, take it easy. Don't rush in recklessly. Hold back some of your strength!" Despite having no choice but to take the gamble, Kai still warned the Vermilion Demon Lord.

If the Vermilion Demon Lord went berserk and unleashed the full power of a Demon Lord from the Heavenly Realm, Kai's body definitely wouldn't survive.

"Don't worry. I still need you to help me collect bones. I won't let your soul be scattered." As soon as the Vermilion Demon Lord finished speaking, he instantly took control of Kai's physical body!

In the blink of an eye, Kai's eyes turned pitch black, and the Golem Body that usually surrounded him slowly dissipated, replaced by a faint layer of black mist.

Shrouded in the black mist, Kai now resembled a bloodthirsty demon lord.

With a slight raise of his hand, a boundless demonic aura began to surge forth, spreading out before crashing forward!

Everyone was dumbfounded upon seeing Kai like this.

Especially Ventus, whose eyes widened as he exclaimed, “This guy is also a Demonic Cultivator? Then he definitely can’t be a prince of Allardland.” Countless rays of spiritual light struck Kai’s body, yet he remained completely unresponsive.

The demonic aura that had surged out transformed into a massive fist that shot toward the sky!

Boom!

The enormous demonic fist slammed into the arcane array.

The arcane array shook violently, and the spiritual light scattered in every direction, attacking aimlessly.

Even the members of the Sky Slasher Sect found themselves under attack by the spiritual light.

They had no choice but to use an array shield for protection.

Boom!

Another deafening crash sounded as the arcane array shattered, countless array runes falling into the sea below.

“What? The arcane array was broken so easily?”

Ventus was losing his mind. This was the grand arcane array laid down by the past leaders of the Sky Slasher Sect over a millennium, meant to reverse the tides in times of crisis.

Before the tide even had a chance to turn, the arcane array had been shattered by a single punch!

Just moments ago, he had boasted that not even someone at the Top Level of the Ultimate Realm could break the formation. Yet Kai, merely a Sixth Level Tribulator, had done it!

Wyatt and the others were equally shocked as they stared at Kai.

Suddenly, they noticed something strange”Kai’s aura had completely changed. He now felt utterly unfamiliar.

Especially Viola, who was intimately familiar with Kai, often sleeping beside him.

The current Kai made her feel both terrified and estranged.

She was certain that this wasn’t the same Kai as before!

Kai looked at Ventus and the others, shouting coldly, “You ignorant fools! Dying at my hands is a blessing you’ve earned over ten lifetimes!” Ventus stared back at Kai. He could tell that Kai had either been possessed by someone else or that his soul had been replaced by a demonic one!

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4263

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4263-The Captive Even as powerful as Kai was, it was impossible for him to exude such an overwhelming aura!

This aura filled Ventus with a sense of despair—something he had never felt before!

“Run...” Ventus suddenly shouted, and then he was the first to flee!

With the arcane array broken, they had no chance of winning and no further advantage to rely on. If they didn’t escape now, what were they waiting for?

“Hahaha, no one has ever escaped from the palm of my hand. You ants think you can flee?” Kai laughed maniacally as he gently pressed his hand downward.

The black mist spread across the sky, resembling a massive hand, instantly covering a radius of a few hundred kilometers.

No matter how fast Ventus and the others were, it was impossible for them to escape that distance in a split second!

Ventus was stunned. The sky seemed to darken in an instant, and he felt as if he were being toyed with in the palm of Kai’s hand, unable to escape.

“Mr. Vermilion, that’s enough! My body can’t withstand this kind of divine power!” Kai quickly urged the Vermilion Demon Lord.

Covering hundreds of miles with a single palm—such a divine ability was unheard of even in the entire Ethereal Realm. And Kai was only a Sixth Level Tribulator. No matter how strong his body was, it couldn’t endure this!

“My bad, I almost forgot...” The Vermilion Demon Lord chuckled, quickly pulling back his hand.

As he retracted it, Kai’s body moved in an instant. Those disciples of the Sky Slasher Sect who had already fled far away began screaming in agony.

Their cries reached Ventus’ ears, making him tremble as he ran for his life.

However, it wasn’t long before Ventus realized that no matter how much he ran, it felt like he wasn’t moving at all. He glanced around and discovered a circle of black mist surrounding him!

Ventus’ movements were being restricted by this circle of mist. He couldn’t escape no matter how hard he tried.

No matter what attack or formation Ventus used, nothing worked!

Finally, gasping for breath, Ventus gave up and allowed himself to be captured.

“Who are you, really? There’s no way a Sixth Level Tribulator could pull off something like this! Which immortal being has taken over this guy’s body?” Ventus demanded, knowing that Kai’s body had definitely been taken over.

There was no other way Kai could have suddenly become this powerful!

This was outright slaughter. The disciples of the Sky Slasher Sect were less than ants before Kai.

“Hmph, you think you deserve to know who I am? Who I am doesn’t matter.

What matters is, you’re finished now...” Kai reverted to his original self, looking at Ventus with a cold smile.

Just as the Vermilion Demon Lord was about to boast again, Kai hurriedly took back control of his body.

Now that the arcane array was broken and the disciples of the Sky Slasher Sect were dead, leaving only Ventus, Kai no longer needed the Vermilion Demon Lord's help.

Ventus was taken aback. He could clearly sense the change in Kai's aura.

Even though the demonic soul within Kai had disappeared, Ventus had no hope of winning.

With so many alchemists, and Kai being an anomaly, he had no way out.

Moreover, they were in the vast ocean, far from land—there was no escape.

At this point, Ventus had no choice but to resign himself to his fate.

At that moment, Wyatt and the others surrounded him. When Ernesto and the other alchemists saw Ventus as a prisoner, they were all filled with righteous anger, ready to beat him to death!

Ventus had imprisoned them in a dungeon. If Kai and the others hadn't come, the alchemists would have ended up as slaves, without hope of freedom.

"Kill him! Beat this beast to death!"

"He dared to look down on us alchemists. Today we'll use the deadliest poison to make sure he dies in agony!"

"Yes, poison him! Use the heart-eating pill to make him suffer until death!" The alchemists shouted furiously.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4264

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4264-Dividing The Items "Don't kill me, don't kill me! As long as you spare my life, I can give you all of Sky Slasher Sect's resources!" Ventus pleaded in panic as the enraged alchemists threatened to poison him.

“Who are you trying to fool? We’ve searched this island inside and out multiple times and found nothing.” “Even your main hall is completely empty. Where are these resources you’re talking about?” Wyatt coldly responded.

“There are, I swear! They’re just hidden with a formation. You couldn’t find them!” Ventus hurriedly explained. “Our Sky Slasher Sect has been here for a thousand years. How could we not have resources?” Hearing this, the group started to believe Ventus. After all, the Sky Slasher Sect had been on the island for a long time.

Moreover, Wyatt and the alchemists led the search, while Kai and Carlo were busy setting up formations. If the resources were concealed with a cloaking formation, it was likely that Wyatt and the others wouldn’t have discovered them.

“Take us there. But if you try any tricks, you’ll suffer a horrible death.” Kai instructed Ventus to lead them to Sky Slasher Sect’s hidden resources.

“I wouldn’t dare!” Ventus hastily replied.

With the group escorting him, Ventus led them to Sky Slasher Sect’s main hall.

The main hall wasn’t particularly luxurious, given the island’s isolation from the mainland. They relied on self-sufficiency for all the materials. Even so, the hall was quite impressive under the circumstances.

Upon entering, Kai immediately sensed the fluctuation of a formation—there really was one here.

Ventus began muttering incantations, and with a wave of his hand, a previously solid wall revealed a hidden door!

Surrounding the door were several layers of restrictions.

One by one, Ventus disabled the restrictions, and with the final restriction undone, the door slowly creaked open.

As the door opened, many of the alchemists rushed forward, eager to claim some of the hidden resources.

After all, those who rushed in first had the chance to grab more resources!

“Stop right there! No one moves until Mr. Chance goes in first! We owe our lives to Mr. Chance and the Duad Formation Sect. Even if there are resources, it’s only right they claim them first!” Wyatt shouted, causing the eager alchemists to halt in their tracks, embarrassment flashing across their faces as they retreated.

Kai entered the room, with Carlo and the others following closely behind.

Inside, they discovered an enormous stockpile of beast cores, as well as many mystical herbs and spiritual stones.

The massive room was packed to the brim, a clear indication that Sky Slasher Sect had been amassing resources on this barren island for many years.

However, in the center of the room stood a three-meter-tall statue, completely out of place among the piles of resources.

Kai couldn’t understand why this statue was hidden here instead of being displayed in the main hall.

“What’s the deal with this statue?” Kai asked Ventus.

It’s said to be our first sect leader, but I’m not too sure. The statue was already here when look over Sky Slasher Sect,” Ventus answered truthfully.

President Chance, take some men and move these resources out, Distribute them among everyone and make sure to heal the injured,” Kai instructed.

Mr. Chance, you’ve done the most These resources should be yours first,” Wyattreplied, feeling embarrassed.

“No need for formalities, President Chance. Just do as I say,” Kai insisted.

Wyatt nodded in agreement. He then organized the group to clear out the resources and begin distributing them.

Meanwhile, Kai remained in the room, still studying the three-meter-tall statue with Ventus beside him.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4265

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4265-Immortal And Indestructible A red glow began to flicker on Kai's forehead, quickly forming into an eye—he had activated the Nethersky Eye, determined to uncover the mystery behind this statue.

There was no way Sky Slasher Sect would place an ordinary statue in such a secretive spot.

The moment the Nethersky Eye opened, Ventus trembled slightly, a flicker of panic flashing through his eyes.

Suddenly, a wisp of black mist emerged from his palm and shot directly toward the statue.

As soon as it touched the statue, the figure emitted a radiant golden light, with array runes glowing all over its body.

In the blink of an eye, Ventus was absorbed into the statue!

Ventus' crazed laughter echoed.

"You've all fallen for it! This statue contains powerful formation patterns.

Now that I've fused with it, I am an indestructible immortal!" Ventus' voice roared with triumph.

Having merged with the statue, he casually waved his hand, sending a massive surge of energy toward Kai.

The force struck him violently, hurling Kai through the air.

With Ventus ascending into the sky, the entire main hall collapsed beneath him, crumbling into ruins.

The deafening crash left Wyatt and the others stunned as they looked in the direction of the sound.

To their shock, they saw the enormous statue had come to life, rising into the sky and reducing the hall to rubble.

“Kai!” Viola was the first to spot Kai, who had been blasted away.

She immediately rushed to his side, and the others, abandoning the distribution of resources, quickly followed.

They had no idea what had just occurred.

“Kai, are you okay?” Viola helped Kai to his feet.

Blood trickled from the corner of Kai’s mouth, but he shook his head. “I’m fine. I didn’t expect this guy to have a final trick up his sleeve.” “Kai, what happened to Ventus?” Wyatt asked anxiously.

Kai pointed to the statue. “Ventus has fused with the statue. Right now, that statue is Ventus.” “What?” The group of alchemists grew tense, their nerves on edge.

“You destroyed my sect and killed my disciples. Today, I’ll make sure you all die here—every last one of you!” Ventus’ voice boomed arrogantly from above as he gazed down at Kai and the others from the sky.

“Do you think a mere statue can kill us?” Kai stepped forward, leaping into the air to confront Ventus.

“You know nothing! This statue was crafted with ancient array runes, and it contains tens of thousands of arcane arrays within. As long as I remain inside the statue, no one can harm me!” Ventus sneered.

“I don’t believe you!” Kai said coldly, as flames surged from his palm. With a powerful swing, a sea of fire engulfed Ventus, lighting up the sky in a blazing inferno.

Ventus only laughed. “I already told you, as long as I’m inside this statue, no one can hurt me. Now, I am an indestructible immortal. Stop wasting your efforts!” Seeing that his flames had no effect on Ventus, Kai frowned.

Ventus, in turn, clapped his hands together, summoning an array rune that materialized in midair, forming a cage that descended rapidly toward Kai.

This sudden arcane array cage gave Kai an eerie sense of familiarity, but he couldn’t immediately recall where he had encountered it before.

Without hesitation, Kai retreated swiftly and launched the Sacred Light Fist, shattering the cage.

“If fire won’t work, let’s see how you handle the Demon Flogger!” Kai declared as he pulled out the Demon Flogger, knowing it was a weapon Demonic Cultivators feared most.

Unlike physical attacks, the Demon Flogger’s strikes were magical.
