

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE /

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4711 – “Ahh!” Dorian cried out in pain. He once again went flying like an arrow out of the bow and landed heavily on the ground, spewing blood profusely.

“How dare you!” Upon seeing that, Ravenna drew her sword and launched an attack on Jared.

Regardless of how arrogant Dorian was, he was ultimately the crown prince. As his attendant, she would undoubtedly meet a tragic end if anything were to happen to him. Moreover, her family would also be implicated.

In the face of her attack, Bernard leaped up and surrounded her with the multitude of Allardland’s cultivators.

Ravenna was merely at Ultimate Realm Level Eight, so she was simply no match for Bernard and the others’ attacks. In no time, she was subdued.

Orion was utterly dumbfounded. He could hardly believe the scene before his eyes.

Dorian was a Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine expert. Yet, he was utterly helpless before Jared. It was simply unbelievable.

Just moments ago, he wanted to kill Jared to obtain the hundred thousand celestial crystals. But having witnessed that sight then, he had long abandoned that notion.

“Why are you two still standing around? Hurry up and help me!” Dorian roared as he glared at Orion, feeling ashamed and enraged.

However, Orion wavered. Inwardly terrified by Jared’s strength, neither he nor Cassian dared to step forward recklessly.

At that moment, Jared resembled a lion, ever ready to tear apart the prey before him.

“It seems you’re nothing special after all,” Jared stated indifferently, a hint of disdain flashing across his eyes.

Dorian gritted his teeth, seething deep within yet powerless to do anything. He knew he had been cornered, and the man standing before him was far beyond his level.

He had never imagined that someone at Ultimate Realm Level Two would possess such incredible strength that he was utterly powerless in front of him.

“Kid, do you know who I am?” Dorian asked, glaring at Jared.

“I don’t care who you are. Since you came to court death, I’ll gladly oblige.”

After Jared had finished speaking, he again struck a hand out at Dorian.

In reality, he mistook the latter to be a member of the Tenth Hall since Octavion said that Quenric from the Tenth Hall was sent over to deal with him.

Moreover, he had also given his word to Octavion that he would kill Quenric. Hence, he showed no mercy.

Had he known that Dorian was Catalina’s brother, he would never have gone so far.

Upon seeing Jared attack once again, Dorian hastily retreated in terror. However, his speed was nowhere near as fast.

Bam!

As the blow landed on his back, he went sprawling onto the ground face down and spurted blood, making for a sorry sight.

At that moment, his eyes were filled with sheer terror.

“Let me send you to meet your maker.”

Gazing down at Dorian, who was in a pathetic state, Jared was a moment away from crushing his head with a single stomp.

“Stop!”

At just that moment, a blur streaked past. Immediately after, Fraser appeared before Jared and shot a palm out. Jared instinctively took two steps back.

“Dorian, are you okay?”

Fraser helped Dorian to his feet.

Seeing that Fraser had arrived, and he had backup then, Dorian promptly felt confident.

“Fraser, kill him! Kill him!”

Dorian had his teeth gritted and his eyes shooting daggers, looking as if he wanted to skin someone else alive.

Fraser turned to Jared and asked, "You're Jared Chance?"

"Yes." Jared nodded. Looking at Dorian, he asked, "Are you here to court death as well?"

Despite Jared's disrespectful tone, Fraser didn't take offense at it. Instead, he turned to Dorian and said, "Dorian, Father commands you to return immediately."

"I want-" Dorian turned a blind ear to him, hell-bent on taking Jared down.

After all, he couldn't possibly tolerate it when Jared humiliated him publicly.

At just that moment, Fraser took out the token, his expression stern as he asserted, "Father commands you to return with me. If you refuse to do so, he forbids you from ever coming back again."

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4712 – Upon seeing the token, Dorian's spirit instantly deflated. All he could do was glare fiercely at Jared. Then, he turned to Fraser and said, "I'll go back with you..."

Just as Dorian was about to leave with Fraser, Jared unexpectedly unsheathed his Dragonslayer Sword, blocking their path.

"You all think you can come and go as you please? As if it's that easy. You're free to leave, but you'll have to leave your life behind!"

With a swift swing of his Dragonslayer Sword, Jared set waves of sword energy in motion throughout the heavens and earth.

Fraser furrowed his brows while Dorian glared at him and warned, "Kid, you're playing with fire here."

"And I'll play with your mother too! F*ck you! Today, I-"

Before Jared could finish his sentence, Orion and Cassian were already rapidly approaching!

As Jared sensed their auras, there was a slight change in his expression.

When it came to dealing with Dorian and Fraser, Jared indeed still had some fight left in him.

However, add two more Top Level Ultimate

Realm Level Nine cultivators into the mix, and Jared knew he stood absolutely no chance of winning!

"You two, get out of here!"

With a dismissive wave of his hand, Jared told Dorian and Fraser to get lost.

“You b*stard!”

Dorian was seething with anger, yet he was still led away by Fraser.

Ravenna was right behind them, but Jared didn't give her a hard time. Instead, he was on guard, carefully watching Orion and Cassian.

“Mr. Chance, they were the first three to seek you out.”

Bernard approached Jared, but as soon as he finished speaking, he noticed that there were only two men in brocade robes, where there were originally three. So he asked, “Weren't there three of you? Where's the big guy with the meteor hammer?”

Orion did not respond to Bernard's words. Instead, he approached Jared with utmost respect and gave a bow. “Greetings, Mr. Chance. My name is Orion Xanthos, and this is Cassian Zambrano.”

His courteous demeanor took Jared by surprise.

“Weren't there three of you? Where's the other one?” Jared asked.

“He's dead!” Orion declared without any attempt to conceal the truth.

“Dead?”

Bernard and Jared were both taken aback.

“I killed Theron because he was consumed by greed. Blinded by his own interests, he was determined to murder you, Mr. Chance, to obtain a hundred thousand celestial crystals from the Tenth Hall. Left with no other choice, I had to kill him...” Orion said truthfully.

Upon hearing the reason why Orion had killed Theron, both Jared and Bernard were completely dumbfounded.

“So, just for this reason, you killed your own blood-sworn brother?”

Jared looked at Orion, somewhat in disbelief.

“This reason was more than enough, because I knew, once he laid a hand on you, the three of us were sure to meet a tragic end. For my own sake, and for the safety of my other blood-sworn brother, I had no choice but to kill Theron!” Orion said.

“How are you so certain that I could kill all three of you?” Jared was confused. This was Orion's first encounter with him, so how could Orion possibly know that he was capable of taking their lives?

"I'm not certain, but I know one thing for sure, and that is that your potential is boundless. Even if you failed to kill us this time around, our future demise at your hands is inevitable! We saw you effortlessly defeat Dorian earlier, which certainly confirms my suspicions!"

Orion wore an expression of sincerity, without a trace of flattery.

"Wait a minute!" Jared paused, turning to Orion. "What did you just say? What's the name of the guy I scared off?"

"Dorian Lantz, the eldest prince of Twilight Imperial City, Orion replied.

"What the f*ck!"

Jared instantly drew in a sharp breath, nearly passing out.

He had assumed that Dorian was Quenic from the Tenth Hall, so he hadn't held back earlier.

Unexpectedly, it turned out to be his brother-in-law!

He was in a real pickle this time!

Jared had injured his brother-in-law in a fight. How was he supposed to face Catalina in the future?

Moreover, he had been utterly disrespectful to Dorian just now, even cursing at him that he would play with his mother.

Wasn't Dorian's mother his mother-in-law?

Jared dared not let his thoughts wander any further. He had gone numb from shock.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4713 – Seeing the expression on Jared's face, Bernard quietly asked, "Mr. Chance, what's wrong? Are you worried about Twilight Imperial City causing you trouble?"

After regaining his composure, Jared said, "Oh, it's nothing. I'm not afraid of Twilight Imperial City. In fact, I'm even planning to visit it!"

"Mr. Chance, you must understand that Twilight Imperial City isn't a place one can just casually visit. Besides, you injured the eldest prince of Twilight Imperial City. If you return there, you're certain to face retaliation," Orion stated.

"No worries, it might all just be a misunderstanding. A couple of casual responses from me should clear things up!" Jared answered with a slight smile.

Even though he had injured Dorian, his actions were not deserving of death. There was no way they would kill him once he arrived at Twilight Imperial City!

At most, he'd get a scolding, or perhaps get yelled at by Catalina!

Seeing Jared's indifference, Orion didn't bring up the matter of Twilight Imperial City anymore. Instead, he asked, "Mr. Chance, is it true that the entire Allardland has been imbued with prosperity?"

Jared nodded. "Yes!"

"Who did it?" asked Orion.

"He's just an elder in the family. Why are you asking about this?"

Jared didn't understand why Orion was asking all these questions!

Taking in Jared's relaxed demeanor, Orion let out a bitter laugh. "No wonder you're fearless when it comes to Twilight Imperial City, Mr. Chance. With such a powerful elder backing you, there's nothing in the entire Ethereal Realm you need to fear!"

"It was merely an addition of a few thousand years of prosperity to Allardland, nothing more, nothing less," Jared said with an air of calm. "If Mr. Sanders is displeased, he could obliterate this starfield in a matter of moments!"

Upon hearing Jared's words, Orion fell silent. He simply couldn't fathom the terrifying extent of the support that Jared had backing him!

Destroy this entire starfield?

The Ethereal Realm was merely one world among many. In the vast expanse of this starfield, countless worlds existed!

Obliterating an entire starfield in just a matter of minutes?

That meant the Ethereal Realm cultivators like them were even less insignificant than ants when compared to Arthur!

Seeing that Orion was scared, Jared added, "Don't worry. I live by the rule of 'If no one offends me, I won't offend anyone. Since you haven't wronged me, I have no reason to harm you!"

In reality, Jared was just talking big. He genuinely had no clue if Arthur could obliterate a starfield in a matter of minutes.

He had no idea about the extent of Arthur's capabilities, but he had always regarded Arthur as an elder, believing that there was nothing Arthur couldn't do!

"Kid, you weren't bragging. There's no need to feel pressured. I possess the ability to annihilate entire starfields too. Destroying a starfield from a low-level cosmos is not exactly a challenging task!" Vermilion Demon Lord said to Jared.

“You’re not boasting, are you?” Jared looked incredulously at Vermilion Demon Lord.

“Why would I have to? Many worlds within the lower-level cosmos are far inferior compared to this Ethereal Realm. I could obliterate starfields of that level too. Once upon a time, I’ve even shattered a starfield with a single punch. My achievements are verifiable, so I never boast without reason...”

Vermilion Demon Lord’s eyes gleamed as he spoke of his past achievements.

“A hero does not rest on past laurels, so just shut up already...”

Jared told Vermilion Demon Lord to shut up, then turned to Orion and asked, “You didn’t come to Allardland just to see me, did you? Did you also come because of the Decree of Execution from the Tenth Hall?”

Orion nodded. “True, the allure of a hundred thousand celestial crystals is indeed tempting. However, we know our place and that obtaining those celestial crystals is beyond our reach. Even if we could really manage to kill you, there’s no way the Tenth Hall would reward us with a hundred thousand celestial crystals. Even if the Tenth Hall did keep their word, we three brothers wouldn’t have been able to protect the crystals. Those celestial crystals would have simply become a death warrant for us.”

“Then why did you guys still come?” Jared asked, puzzled.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4714 – “Mr. Chance, we are wandering cultivators and faced countless hardships to reach our current cultivation level. However, we are stuck at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine and have yet to make a breakthrough. We’re not like you, backed by a massive power. We can only rely on each other. Seeing you now, Mr. Chance, both of us are willing to follow you. We’re willing to brave any danger, no matter how extreme!”

As Orion spoke, he unexpectedly knelt down in front of Jared!

Jared was equally taken aback. He had never imagined that Orion, a Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivator, would actually kneel before him in front of everyone!

For cultivators of their caliber, their pride was everything. In fact, their pride was even more important than their lives!

But it seemed like Orion had completely stopped caring about his pride now!

Even Cassian, who was standing by the side, was staring wide-eyed at Orion.

He never expected that Orion would kneel before Jared!

“Orion, you...”

Cassian stood to the side, feeling somewhat at a loss.

“Kneel!” Orion coldly glanced at Cassian.

Cassian hesitated for a moment, but in the end, he fell to his knees as well.

“Hey, you two, what’s going on here? Get up quickly. Your strength is quite remarkable, even in the Ethereal Realm. My abilities pale in comparison to the two of you. You really shouldn’t joke about something like this!”

In a state of mild panic, Jared attempted to help the two of them up.

Regardless of their status or age, these two individuals were significantly above him. Now they were kneeling before him, wanting to follow him. Jared, however, dared not accept this.

“Mr. Chance, we’re not joking around. If you don’t take us in, we swear we won’t get up!” Orion declared with utmost sincerity.

“Right, we’re not getting up!” Cassian also chimed in.

Although Cassian didn’t quite understand why Orion was doing this, he decided at that moment to trust him.

Exasperated, Jared asked, “Prince Decanus has issued a Decree of Execution for me, yet you’re still willing to follow me? Aren’t you afraid of the Tenth Hall?”

“If you aren’t afraid of the Tenth Hall, then what would we have to fear?” Orion replied.

Jared glanced around, saying, “Who knows how many skilled experts around here want me dead. Aren’t you scared at all?”

“If anyone wants to lay a finger on you, they’ll have to step over both our bodies first!”

Orion’s face was etched with resolve.

“Thank you, Mr. Chance.”

“Since you two have chosen to follow me, consider yourselves part of the family now. You may rise. Presently, you are in a critical phase of breaking through to the Immortal Realm, which requires substantial resources. I have here twenty thousand celestial crystals. You two should take ten thousand each for your use.”

Jared casually tossed out two item pouches to Orion and Cassian.

Out of the twenty thousand celestial crystals, ten thousand belonged to Octavion, so Jared didn't bat an eyelid about giving it out.

Moreover, he owned a celestial crystal mine in Beast City, from which it was estimated that he could extract around a hundred to eighty thousand celestial crystals!

Twenty thousand celestial crystals?

Orion and Cassian rose to their feet, instantly overcome with sheer elation.

He had given them twenty thousand celestial crystals right off the bat!

How generous!

Orion ecstatically accepted the celestial crystals, expressing his gratitude respectfully, "Thank you, Mr. Chance! We are prepared to face any danger for you!"

Immediately after Cassian received the celestial crystals, he knelt down with a thud again.

"Thank you, Mr. Chance! From now on, consider me your loyal dog. I'll attack anyone you tell me to!"

This time, Cassian willingly fell to his knees!

The previous act of kneeling was due to Orion's influence, but this time, it was entirely Cassian's own volition. He was willing, even if it meant kneeling for an entire day.

It was often said that a man's worth was greater than gold, but what was offered was far more valuable than gold itself!

"No need for such exaggeration..."

Jared gave a faint smile.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4715 – Just then, the void around them quivered, and several Ultimate Realm cultivators encircled them.

Every one of them was of the Ultimate Realm Level Nine, emanating an incredibly powerful aura.

Upon witnessing this scene, Bernard's brow furrowed immediately. Without a moment's hesitation, he stepped forward with his men to shield Jared.

Orion and Cassian, too, had drawn their weapons.

Even though they certainly were no match for the Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators across from them, they had just pledged their allegiance to Jared. Hence, they had to do something for him!

Whether or not they could win was beside the point; what mattered was showing their determination first!

“My name is Orion Xanthos of Starhaven Peak. I’ve now pledged my loyalty to Mr. Chance, so if any of you dare to lay a hand on him, my brother and I will fight to the death!” Orion loudly called out to the approaching cultivators.

Unexpectedly, the few cultivators didn’t even spare a glance at Orion. Instead, they headed straight toward Jared.

Just as Orion and Cassian were about to take action, those cultivators suddenly knelt before Jared.

“Mr. Chance, please take us in!”

This astounding spectacle left Orion, Bernard, and the others utterly dumbfounded.

Jared’s face was also full of disbelief.

What’s going on today? Why are there so many Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators coming to me today to ask me to take them as underlings?

“What do you mean?” Jared asked, clearly puzzled.

One of them, a bearded man, looked up at Jared and said, “Mr. Chance, we are also wandering cultivators, so we hope we can follow you.”

The other cultivators echoed similar sentiments.

Jared was somewhat at a loss.

“Mr. Chance, we would go through hell and high water for you without hesitation. We’d even be your dogs, attacking whoever you want us to!” the bearded man said with an earnest expression.

Cassian paused. Wasn’t that his line?

How had this guy learned so quickly?

In a hushed tone, Bernard spoke to Jared. “Mr. Chance, having so many Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators wanting to follow you is truly a joyous occasion! With these people by your side, you can basically do whatever you want in the Ethereal Realm. Even if you encounter people from the Tenth Hall, you'd be able to hold your own against them!"

His intention was clear-he wanted Jared to take these people in!

After all, these individuals were all Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators.

Any one of them was certainly far stronger than him.

Jared gave a nod. After all, who would refuse what was freely offered to them?

Besides, these cultivators were definitely going to be of significant help to him.

A single Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivator might not amount to much. However, with a horde of them, Jared would have no need for fear even if he were to run into an Immortal Realm cultivator!

With a gentle wave of his hand, Jared said, "All right, I'll take all of you in. From now on, you'll be with me!"

"Thank you, Mr. Chance!"

After expressing his gratitude, the bearded man took the lead in standing up.

After the other cultivators rose to their feet, they stared intently at Jared, making him feel quite unnerved.

"Mr. Chance, it seems your charisma is quite powerful, attracting so many experts to follow you. With so many Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators, what do we have to fear from the Tenth Hall? We'll just kill every single person they send!" Orion exclaimed with a face full of excitement.

With so many people now following Jared, this was indeed a considerable force!

Jared gave a subtle smile, his heart brimming with joy.

It seems that I'm quite charismatic and charming indeed!

Suddenly, Vermilion Demon Lord blurted, "Everyone in the world is driven by their own interests, their actions dictated by the pursuit of gains..."

"Mr. Vermilion, what do you mean by that?" Jared asked in confusion.

"Don't ask; you'll find out soon enough!" Vermilion Demon Lord answered mysteriously.

Jared couldn't help but scoff when he saw Vermilion Demon Lord's ostentatious behavior.
