

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE /

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4751

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4751 – Upon hearing Antonio’s call, the villagers of Rock Village quickly gathered their stools and rushed out. They then found an open space and sat down.

Every one of them was holding snacks, presenting a scene of eager anticipation for some entertainment!

“You’re finally here! I’ve been waiting for quite a while. I thought you weren’t going to show up!”

“Exactly! This time, your Demon Seal Alliance needs to last a bit longer. Otherwise, we won’t even get to enjoy the show before there’s nothing left to see!”

“Remember to speak up! If you have something to say, say it now, or else you won’t even get a chance to talk!”

The villagers were addressing Talcott and his companions.

Talcott was staring at the scene unfolding before him, utterly bewildered, not understanding a word the villagers were saying.

He was even more puzzled as to why these villagers weren’t afraid of him.

He was, after all, the leader of the Demon Seal Alliance!

“W-What are you doing? I am, after all, the leader of the Demon Seal Alliance! Do you guys understand what that means? It means I’m the top fighter of the Demon Seal Alliance, the most impressive one!” Talcott shouted at the multitude of villagers.

The elderly Antonio patted Talcott’s shoulder and said, “No need to shout, we get it, we all get it. We know you’re the most formidable in the Demon Seal Alliance. Later on, you better put up a good fight and withstand at least two blows. Don’t embarrass the Demon Seal Alliance. Give us a show to enjoy!”

“What are you talking about? What do you mean by ‘withstand at least two blows’? Does your village harbor a Demonic Cultivator? Tell him to show himself and meet his end!”

Talcott abruptly pushed the elderly village chief away, a look of fury on his face as he spoke!

“Yes, yes, we indeed have a Demonic Cultivator in our village!” Antonio nodded in confirmation.

“Let me go call Grandma. She’s a Demonic Cultivator!”

Emily quickly got up and rushed off to call for Ira.

Talcott was utterly baffled at what was happening. Had the people of Rock Village all lost their minds?

“Mr. Lefterov, why does it feel like the villagers here are... a little off?”

Standing beside Talcott, the elder also expressed his confusion with a puzzled look on his face.

“Forget about it. As soon as that Demonic Cultivator shows up, we strike immediately. We need to fight quickly and decisively. I’ve got a strange feeling about this place!”

At this moment, Talcott felt somewhat restless, as if something was about to happen.

Soon, Emily returned with Ira.

Upon seeing the individuals from the Demon Seal Alliance, the elderly woman’s face lit up with excitement. “Ah, you’ve finally arrived! I am a Demonic Cultivator; are you here to capture me?”

Talcott took a careful look at the old woman. As expected, he sensed the aura of a Demonic Cultivator from her. Thus, he asked with heightened caution, “Since you’re a Demonic Cultivator and know that we’re here to capture you, why didn’t you run?”

“Why would I run?” Ira was taken aback for a moment, then said with a smile, “Just make sure you all don’t run off later!”

“What are you implying?” Talcott asked.

“Mr. Lefterov, why bother wasting words on her? Just grab her and we’ll figure things out later. She isn’t that tough!”

As the elder spoke, he readied himself to take action against Ira.

Talcott, however, abruptly halted the elder.

“Calm down. Something doesn’t feel right. The more they behave this way, the more suspicious I am.”

“Mr. Lefterov, what could possibly go wrong? These people are so weak I could wipe them out with a single strike. There’s absolutely no need for any concern!” the elder replied arrogantly.

“Let’s have someone test the waters first!” At that moment, Talcott was being extremely cautious.

Upon hearing this, the elder turned around and pointed to the first cultivator who had entered Rock Village earlier. “Go, bring that Demonic Cultivator here!”

The cultivator paused, his face full of reluctance, yet he was left with no other choice.

“F*ck you!”

This time, the cultivator’s voice was louder, enough for the elder to hear.

The elder’s face flushed with anger, but he didn’t make a fuss about it. He would deal with the man after they had captured Ira.

The aura of the cultivator enveloped him as he steadily approached Ira.

Given the strength of this cultivator, even ten elderly women wouldn’t stand a chance against him!

But now, the cultivator was extremely frightened as he inched closer to the old woman.

“Are all of you from the Demon Seal Alliance this cowardly?” Ira began to mock the cultivator.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4752 – In a fit of rage, the cultivator leapt toward Ira, intending to grab her.

The elderly woman remained motionless, her face adorned with a gentle smile as she watched on.

Just as the cultivator was about to seize Ira, a sudden burst of white light shot through the air.

Bang!

A beam of white light pierced through the cultivator's body, causing him to explode into nothingness!

Flesh and blood rained down, splattering onto Talcott and the others as well.

"Wow!"

"Truly spectacular!"

At the cultivator's demise, the people of Rock Village all applauded and cheered in approval.

Talcott and his group were all left dumbfounded. They had no clue where that blast of white light had originated from!

"Who's there playing tricks and hiding in the shadows? If you've got the guts, come out!"

Talcott cast a wary glance all around him.

"Mr. Talcott, it's been quite a while!" At that moment, Jared leisurely made his entrance.

The moment Talcott laid eyes on Jared, his brows furrowed instantly.

He couldn't comprehend how it was possible he would run into Jared in such a remote and impoverished mountain village!

The last person Talcott wanted to encounter at that moment was Jared!

"I never thought it would be you..."

Talcott looked at Jared, his gaze filled with disdain.

"You don't think about a lot of things," Jared said with a cold smirk.

"Jared, we're here to apprehend the Demonic Cultivator. Don't meddle in affairs that don't concern you. Moreover, these people aren't worth your trouble. It's best if you keep your distance. If you do, our Demon Seal Alliance won't bother you anymore in the future."

Talcott was hoping that Jared would not meddle in affairs that were not his business.

“The Demon Seal Alliance might not want to bother me, but I’m certainly looking for trouble with you.”

Jared wore an expression of amusement.

This had Talcott seething with anger. His face was cold as he said, “Jared, don’t think you’re invincible just because you have backing. Our Demon Seal Alliance has support too, and our influence spans the entire Ethereal Realm. If you want to fight with me, you’re simply courting death!”

Jared burst out laughing. “Hahaha, does your Demon Seal Alliance have influence across the entire Ethereal Realm? Somehow, I get the feeling that your alliance is on the brink of collapse!”

Just as Talcott was about to speak, he saw a member of the Demon Seal Alliance, drenched in blood, rushing toward them!

“Mr. Lfterov, we’re in trouble! The Demon Seal Alliance’s forces across all regions have been attacked. Our people are either dead or have surrendered. They’re all trying to distance themselves from the Demon Seal Alliance!”

After that cultivator finished speaking, he immediately perished.

“It can’t be! How could this be? It just can’t be…”

Talcott’s face was filled with shock as he turned to the elder beside him. “Get in touch with all of the Demon Seal Alliance’s branches right away! I refuse to believe this is true!”

Upon hearing this, the elder hastily tried to reach out to the various branches of the Demon Seal Alliance, only to find that he couldn’t make contact at all!

By this point, Talcott had no choice but to accept the harsh reality – his Demon Seal Alliance was truly finished!

Talcott looked at Jared, his face full of rage as he roared, “Could it be you? Were you responsible for all of this?”

“You guessed right, it was indeed me. To obliterate your Demon Seal Alliance, all I needed was a single sentence!” Jared said with a faint smile.

“Hmph, cut the boasting! Your protector is not here now. We are more than capable of taking you down,” scoffed Talcott.

“You want to kill me? You people aren’t even qualified. I won’t bother lifting a finger against you. My subordinates alone can wipe you out!” Jared said with a laugh.

“You sure talk big! Are you relying solely on these weak villagers?”

Talcott cast a glance at the villagers of Rock Village as he said that.

“Mr. Lefterov, don’t waste your breath on him. I can easily take this punk down myself. He’s merely at the Ultimate Realm Level Two, yet he dares to be so brazen!”

The elder had no idea about Jared’s prowess, and so, he showed no fear toward Jared at all!

Talcott glanced at the elder, his expression clearly suggesting he thought the elder was acting foolishly.

Despite being only at the Ultimate Realm Level Two, Jared dared to behave so recklessly in front of them. Had the elder ever stopped to consider why?

“Who dares be disrespectful to Mr. Chance?”

At that moment, a deep, resonant roar rang out, followed swiftly by an overwhelming aura that enveloped the surroundings.

“A Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivator?”

Talcott was stunned.

Following that, Orion’s figure appeared, standing in front of Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4753 – Upon seeing Orion in front of them, Talcott and the others instinctively took a few steps back!

Even if they all joined forces, they still stood no chance against him!

After all, he was at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine!

The elder, who had just been boasting about killing Jared alone, was now hanging his head low as he hid behind Talcott.

“Sir, I am Talcott Lefterov, the leader of the Demon Seal Alliance. May I have the pleasure of knowing your name?”

Talcott was contemplating striking up a conversation with the other party using his affiliation with the Demon Seal Alliance, curious to see if Orion would show any apprehension toward the Alliance!

“What’s the big deal about this Demon Seal Alliance...” Orion scoffed coldly.

Embarrassment painted itself across Talcott’s face, yet he dared not utter a word in protest.

“Perhaps our Demon Seal Alliance doesn’t meet your standards, but behind us stands the Tenth Hall, a name I’m sure you’re familiar with. The Tenth Hall is one of the halls in Celestial Palace, and they-”

Before Talcott could finish his sentence, Orion let out another cold huff. “What’s the big deal about the Tenth Hall...”

Talcott was taken aback. He hadn’t expected that Orion would show no regard for the Tenth Hall either!

“Sir, although you’re at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine, you’re still a bit short of contending with the Tenth Hall. Cultivating oneself is no easy task, and your efforts in reaching this level are commendable. That’s why you shouldn’t let Jared be the reason to throw away your cultivation!”

Talcott sternly spoke with a cold expression on his face.

The Tenth Hall was not an entity that one only at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine could go up against.

“He alone can’t handle them... But what if I were to join him?”

At that moment, another figure appeared – it was Cassian!

Talcott looked at Cassian, who was also a Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivator, and swallowed before saying, “You two are also-”

“Count us in too!” Jaxon and Yelena had also returned.

What the f*ck?

Talcott was utterly dumbfounded. Why were there so many Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators?

“Even with the four of you-”

Before Talcott could finish speaking, three black-robed cultivators also returned. Although they remained silent, their Ultimate Realm Level Nine auras had already enveloped Talcott.

“This... this...”

Talcott stared at the numerous Ultimate Realm Level Nine cultivators gathered in front of him. His face twisted into a grimace, and he was on the brink of tears!

Jared turned to Talcott with a smile and asked him, “These are my underlings, though just a fraction of them. I wonder if they could stand up against the Tenth Hall?”

These were just a fraction of Jared's underlings. Currently, Jared's most prominent follower was none other than Corrado!

Rendered speechless, Talcott strived to muster a hint of a smile as he pleaded with Jared for mercy.

However, his smile was even more painful to witness than his tears!

"Jared, these Demon Seal Alliance guys are utterly despicable! You mustn't let them off lightly!" Emily said to Jared.

"Don't worry, Emily." Jared gently patted Emily's head.

At that moment, Talcott finally understood why the villagers of Rock Village were not the least bit afraid of him!

With so many cultivators at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine backing them, what did they have to fear from the Demon Seal Alliance?

"Overthrow the Demon Seal Alliance!"

Suddenly, the elder standing behind Talcott raised his arm and, with a swift motion, struck at Talcott's back!

Caught off guard, Talcott was knocked to the ground on all fours, where he began coughing up fresh blood!

"Mr. Chance, I was forced to join the Demon Seal Alliance! I swear I've never committed any heinous acts. Please, for the sake of my family, spare me!"

The elder knelt before Jared, pleading for mercy with utmost sincerity.

Upon witnessing the situation, the other cultivators from the Demon Seal Alliance, too, fell to their knees, pleading for mercy.

Still coughing up blood, Talcott didn't even have the energy to curse at them!

Jared glanced at the kneeling members of the Demon Seal Alliance and nodded. "Since you're willing to leave the Alliance, I'll spare you. However, you must leave behind all your item pouches."

"No problem, no problem..."

Upon hearing this, the elder quickly took out the item pouch he had on him.

Seeing that, the other members of the Demon Seal Alliance also hurriedly took out their item pouches and tossed them at Jared's feet.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4754 – Upon seeing the situation, Talcott mustered his strength to get up. He quietly pulled out his item pouch and tossed it at Jared’s feet as well.

It seemed like he was perhaps hoping that Jared would spare him too!

Gazing at the scattered item pouches on the ground, Jared waved his hand dismissively. “Get lost...”

“Thank you for sparing my life, Mr. Chance!”

The elder and the Demon Seal Alliance cultivators repeatedly expressed their gratitude, then promptly turned and ran.

Without uttering a word, Talcott turned around, ready to depart as well.

“Did I give you permission to leave?” Jared said coldly.

Talcott managed to squeeze out a small smile. “Mr. Chance, Sir Chance, please spare me. I’m done being the leader of the Demon Seal Alliance, and I refuse to be a lackey for the Tenth Hall any longer. In the future, I’ll find a place to focus on my cultivation and refrain from committing any more harmful deeds. I beg for your mercy.”

At that moment, Talcott, the leader of the Demon Seal Alliance, was desperately pleading with Jared for mercy.

The villagers of Rock Village had long grown accustomed to such a spectacle and no longer felt the initial shock they once did.

“Calm down, I didn’t say I was going to kill you. However, I do need you to take me to the Tenth Hall,” Jared stated.

“No, no, the Demon Seal Alliance is gone now. I wouldn’t even have time to run, let alone go to the Tenth Hall. That would just be offering myself up to be killed!”

Talcott was repeatedly waving his hands in refusal.

“If you don’t take me with you, I’ll kill you where you stand!” Jared threatened with a sneer.

Talcott shuddered all over. Nonetheless, he could only nod and say, “All right, I’ll take you there...”

Jared left all the item pouches from the Demon Seal Alliance for the Rock Village villagers. Then, he gently patted Emily and Percy on their heads, saying, “You two should focus on your cultivation. These resources should be enough for Rock Village for quite some time. Given the chance, I’ll visit again to see you all.”

“Mr. Chance, you can rest easy. When the time comes, just wait for us in the celestial realm.

We will surely ascend to it!” Percy declared with great confidence.

“All right, I’ll be waiting for you there!” Jared said with a subtle smile.

After all, Percy was still young and had no real understanding of the hardships associated with cultivation. Ascending to the celestial realm was incredibly challenging!

Certain prestigious clans and sects, despite exhausting all their resources, might still fail to nurture a cultivator capable of ascending to the celestial realm!

With just these resources alone, aspiring to ascend to the celestial realm was nothing short of a pipe dream for the villagers!

However, Jared did not intend to shatter their confidence. Once people gained confidence, they could accomplish tasks much faster!

After bidding farewell to the people of Rock Village, Jared, along with Orion and the others, followed Talcott to the headquarters of the Demon Seal Alliance.

In order to gain entry into the Tenth Hall, they had to access it through a hidden chamber in the headquarters of the Demon Seal Alliance.

At the Tenth Hall, Tennyson was seated in the main hall, his eyes slightly closed as if he was deep in thought about something.

Behind him stood a cultivator with a dark complexion and a long beard. His eyes were deep, and with his hands rested on his hips, he almost seemed like some sort of celestial being.

On either side of the main hall, ten figures clad in black robes and helmets stood. These ten individuals concealed their presence so well, it was as if they didn’t exist at all!

“Father, I heard that the Demon Seal Alliance has been destroyed. That was a force we, the Tenth Hall, painstakingly nurtured, intended for our domination over the entire Ethereal Realm. Who exactly is so audacious to dare challenge us, the Tenth Hall?”

Decanus injuries had significantly improved, and he hurriedly approached the main hall to inquire about the matter.

Tennyson waved his hand and spoke. “Don’t concern yourself with this anymore. Go back and focus on your recovery. From now on, you don’t need to meddle in the affairs of the Tenth Hall!”

“Father, the Tenth Hall is in danger! How could I possibly stand by and do nothing?”

Decanus refused to leave!

Hum!

Just as the words had barely left his lips, a sudden humming echoed throughout the entire hall. The next moment, the heavy doors of the main hall were instantly split open right down the middle!

Boom!

The doors collapsed, and Jared, accompanied by Orion and the others, slowly made their way inside.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 4755 – Upon seeing Jared, Decanus' eyes narrowed instantly, a chilling glint reflecting in his gaze.

Tennyson rose to his feet and sized up Jared. "So you're Jared Chance?"

"That's me. Are you the one who's offering a hundred thousand celestial crystals for my life?" Jared asked Tennyson.

Tennyson shook his head. "That wasn't me. You're not worth a hundred thousand celestial crystals!"

"Am I not worth it?"

Jared's brow furrowed slightly, then he suddenly swung his sword toward Tennyson.

The Dragonslayer Sword erupted in a brilliant burst of light, illuminating the entire hall as if it were broad daylight!

The reason why Jared took the initiative was simply to gauge Tennyson's true strength.

"How dare you show such disrespect to my father!"

Off to the side, the diminutive figure of Decanus, who was akin to a child in stature, suddenly let out a furious roar. He charged forward, launching a punch directly at Jared's sword light.

"You brat, how dare you be disrespectful to Mr. Chance!"

With a thunderous shout, Orion charged straight toward Decanus.

Thud, thud!

Two explosive sounds suddenly rang out, causing Orion and Decanus to simultaneously retreat.

The two individuals were evenly matched in strength.

As the tension between the two escalated, Jared swiftly retreated.

Tennyson was still standing on the stone steps, a faint smile gracing his face. It seemed as though he didn't regard Jared and his group with any importance at all!

Orion stood next to Jared, his gaze locked fiercely on Decanus. Decanus, too, was staring back at Orion, both of their eyes filled with intense malice.

Tennyson lightly clapped his hands together, smiling as he said, "You've got quite the nerve, storming into my domain with just this small group. Are you here to offer up your lives willingly?"

Jared gave a cold chuckle. "Offering my life up? I'm actually here to send you to the afterlife..."

"Is this all the people you've got? Call everyone in from outside; I want to see if you're worth me personally taking action!" Tennyson sneered.

"Just the few of us is enough to bring down your Tenth Hall!" Orion exclaimed loudly.

"What a bold claim!"

Tennyson's expression stilled, his body instantly transforming into a streak of light before vanishing!

Orion was taken aback, his eyes narrowing in surprise. He swiftly swung his hands forward, conjuring a shield before them.

Bang!

Accompanied by a deafening boom, the shield in front of Orion shattered instantly, sending him flying.

He was at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine, yet he was forced to retreat with just a single blow!

Orion's face was pale as traces of blood trickled from the corner of his mouth.

"Are you all right?" Jared asked, looking toward Orion.

Orion nodded. "I'm fine. It's not going to kill me..."

"It seems you aren't all that powerful after all..." Jared said to Tennyson. He had discerned Tennyson's power through that punch.

Since he couldn't kill someone at the Top Level Ultimate Realm Level Nine with one blow, it meant Tennyson's cultivation level wasn't very high either!

At most, he would be at the Immortal Realm Level Three, perhaps even lower.

If that was the case, Jared had absolutely nothing to fear.

“Hmph, I’m more than capable of taking you down with my abilities...”

Tennyson sneered, his fist sweeping toward Jared in a powerful arc. The very air seemed to warp and distort under the force of the blow!

Jared’s eyes narrowed, his Dragonslayer Sword poised for action. Yet, before he could strike, he noticed the eruption of aura from Jaxon beside him. His eyes were filled with ruthless determination as he launched his attack toward Tennyson.

Boom!

Following a loud explosion, a terrifying shockwave rippled outward, sending Jaxon’s body hurtling through the air.

Jared was continuously forced back, but soon he was steadied by a certain force.

Even Jaxon, who had been sent flying, found his body floating in mid-air briefly before he slowly descended.

As it turned out, Yelena had deployed an arcane array, successfully stabilizing Jared and Jaxon.

“You’re no match for Tennyson...”

Jared gazed at Jaxon’s already torn right arm, expressing his deep gratitude.

Jaxon, however, laughed it off nonchalantly and said, “There are some things even this body of mine can’t handle from Tennyson. I wonder, Mr. Chance, could you give me a bit more as a reward?”
