

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1965

“What...what is this?!”

Looking at the tall golden tree vines in the sky, everyone was shocked beyond measure.

The gray tree vines and silver tree vines are shocking enough.

However, compared with the thick and long golden tree vines, it was more than a bit inferior.

If the gray tree vine is a soldier and the silver tree vine is a general, then the golden tree vine is the king who rules everything.

No movement is required, just standing there is intimidating.

“I have an ominous feeling. This golden vine is more powerful than all the silver vines combined!”

“What should we do? What should we do now?”

“Are we all going to die here today?”

” For a moment, no matter whether they were the disciples of the Golden Blade Sect, the members of the Black Scorpion Team, or Margaret’s escort team, everyone felt as if they were facing a formidable enemy and were terrified.

There were too many trees and vines for them to handle.

“Don’t panic, everyone. We still have Senior Billy Ruso here, and we can definitely solve these things!” Someone suddenly shouted.

As soon as these words came out, everyone’s eyes turned to Billy Ruso.

Everyone seemed to have seen a life-saving straw, their faces full of hope.

“Yes! We have Senior Billy Ruso here, so what are some mere vines?” ”

Yes, that’s right! Senior Billy Ruso is a desert dragon and a powerful martial arts master. No matter how powerful these vines are, Senior Billy Ruso can easily cut it off!”

“Great! Now we are saved!”

Billy Ruso’s presence made everyone feel reassured.

I almost forgot that there is also a martial arts master with extraordinary strength in their team.

No matter what the background of these tree vines is, they are not enough to be seen in front of a martial arts master.

“Senior Billy, the situation is critical. Now we can only rely on you to take action.”

Kevin Snow stepped forward and hugged Billy Ruso.

With his strength, it was already his limit to deal with more than a dozen silver tree vines.

In this situation, only Billy Ruso can turn the tide.

“There are thousands of vines here, and I can’t deal with them alone,” Billy Ruso said calmly.

If he had to deal with all the vines, wouldn’t he be exhausted?

Besides, that golden tree vine was obviously not a mortal thing. What was so special about it, he wasn’t sure yet.

“Senior Billy, it is obviously impossible to cut off all the vines. Even if it can be done, we will probably suffer heavy losses. Therefore, our best choice is to break out.” At this time, Margaret spoke seriously: “In order to reduce casualties, we need seniors to deal with the golden tree vine and contain some silver tree vines to buy as much time as possible for the team. As long as we break through the encirclement, seniors can retreat at any time without risking a fight to the death.” “That’s right. That’s right!”

Hearing this, Kevin Snow nodded repeatedly: "Senior Billy only needs to delay a stick of incense for us... Oh no, just delay a cup of tea!" "I can promise you, but the problem is, what benefits do I have?" Billy Ruso suddenly asked.

With his cultivation level, he could leave everyone behind and leave alone.

Why have to deal with these weird vines so thanklessly?

"Benefits?" Kevin Snow was stunned and didn't respond: "Senior Billy, aren't we allies? Allies should share blessings and share hardships."

"Allies?" Billy Ruso asked.
