

An Understated Dominance Chapter 2382

Chapter 2382

He underestimated Conor's cruelty.

He thought he could convince the other party to turn back, but he didn't expect that in the end he would be desperate.

"Brother Fenley, it's not your business.

"No one expected the senior brother to be such a person." Noemi comforted Fenley.

"Forget it; let's not talk about Conor." At this point, Fenley suddenly changed the subject: "Speaking of which, thanks to Dr. Rhys's rescue, you are safe and sound. It seems that you owe Dr. Rhys another favor."

"Dr. Rhys?"

Noemi looked at Dustin, a little surprised. "Did Dr. Rhys take action just now?"

She only saw Fenley saving the situation and did not notice Dustin's actions.

"Of course!" Fenley nodded and smiled. "Dr. Rhys used a flying needle to pierce the opponent's acupuncture points just as Conor was about to kill you, preventing your death."

Others didn't know, but Fenley saw it clearly.

Conor dodged the dart he shot, but Dustin's flying needle silently struck the opponent's wrist.

This needle precisely halted Conor's action, allowing Noemi to flee and give him time to seriously injure Conor.

To put it bluntly, Dustin was the person who really saved Noemi, not him.

“It’s just a little effort; it’s nothing. Furthermore, even without my intervention, Mr. Hudson’s strength can easily resolve the issue.” Dustin said. He did not take credit.

He was just a guest of the Celestial Alliance, after all.

Seeing Noemi, the daughter of the master, in danger, he naturally couldn’t stand idly by.

“I didn’t expect that it was you, Dr. Rhys, who saved me again. I really don’t know how to thank you.” After understanding the whole story, Noemi’s gratitude to Dustin became even greater.

“Noemi, your Celestial Alliance has so many rare treasures; why don’t you give a few to Dr. Rhys to show your appreciation?” At this time, Grace suddenly came over.

She saw everything that happened just now.

Fortunately, Dustin was there; otherwise, it would really be impossible to end it.

“Of course I have to give it as a gift, but ordinary treasures are not worthy of Dr. Rhys’s identity. Our Celestial Alliance has a treasured Nine Flowers Jade Dew Pill, which should be just right for giving to Dr. Rhys.” Noemi spoke and smiled.

Grace raised her eyebrows. “Nine Flowers Jade Dew Pill? Could it be the legendary top-grade elixir made from nine kinds of exotic flowers?”

“Yes.” Noemi nodded. “After taking the Nine Flowers Jade Dew Pill, you can greatly improve cultivation and strengthen muscles and bones, and the greater the user’s potential, the stronger the medicine’s effect.” Our Celestial Alliance has searched all over the world but only found this one.”

These nine flowers Jade Dew Pill was originally a treasure given to her by her father, Alloy Marshall, to break through the Grandmaster realm.

However, her talent for martial arts was not outstanding, and she was still too far away from the Grandmaster realm.

She couldn’t use it for a while.

Giving it to Dustin as a thank-you gift was the best use of it.

After all, she owed him too many favors, and she would feel bad if she didn't thank him properly.
