

Chapter 5.3

Rooka wanted to run to Serena the moment she leaned against the doorframe. If not for Wayne holding on to his arm, he would have rushed to her side.

"You cannot enter the house Alpha," they all looked at Lily. She was sitting on Nuru's shoulder. "No one can enter."

"Why?" He asked, even though he cannot see her, he was able to pinpoint where she was.

"Her mother. You were able to set foot yesterday because it was her will. Now it's her turn to understand why this happened. If not the whole thing, at least part of it."

"This has been bothering me..." Nuru said, "you guys are so small, how can you have a loud voice."

"Magic."

Rooka shook his head and looked back at the house. Their connection was faint, but he can feel her pain. If he could only take some of it. "Kaz, Nuru, Layla, return to the main city and rent a chopper. A chopper that can accommodate all of us."

"It is good that both Megan and Rena have no luggage, we will just buy what we need in the places that we will be going." Wayne continued. "We need to be back in Manila by nightfall and driving is not a good option."

"As you command, Alpha, Beta," the three said. They all went to the car they used and drove away.

"Are you sure you want to stay?" Wayne asked Megan.

"Yes." She quietly replied.

The three of them looked at the house again, wondering if Rena was still okay.
