

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 257

Kenneth Domanco

"Damn it feels so good to play this again."

"Let's buy one!" Alex said as we walked up to the main floor.

"Where should we put it if we buy one? Ken's office?" Sky asked.

"Ken's office will be nice." Aaron said.

"It's 5.55 already." Alex said as he looked at the clock.

We saw the girls were talking in the living room. I walked to the balcony to take a fresh air and just inhaling the nature breeze.

"Do you want to start BBQing now?" I heard Max asked.

"Chloe hasn't comeback yet, we should wait for her." Chloe? Where did she go?

"Where is she?" Luke asked.

"She went for a walk, she's wearing a full sport clothing." Hailey answered.

"She should be back right now, she has been out for 50 minutes." Rose said.

The sky is already dark and is she crazy? What if she's lost? What if someone- oh that's stupid Ken. Stop caring about her, she's just a friend not more.

"If you're worried, you can go find her." I turned to see Sebastian leaning to balcony sipping a warm water.

"I'm not."

"Try to call her Sophia." I heard Aaron said.

"She's not answering! I've tried that 10 minutes ago." Sophia answered.

Where is she actually? What's on her head? Why she didn't go for a walk with the girls?

"Try to call her." I said to Sebastian as I looked at the forest. Sebastian took out his phone and dialed her number.

"No answer."

"Is she stupid?" I asked and I know I was mad. I walked to the living room and looked at the clock. It's 6.15, I walked to the door and put on my shoes. I walked out from the cabin. I walked along the road and tried to look for her. Where is her brain in this state? Why are you so stupid Chloe?

I kept walking and walking and after 20 minutes walking and looking for her. I saw a small figure sitting beside the lake. I ran to make sure it's Chloe or not because it's already dark and the light for now is only the moon.

"Chloe." I called and she turned her head.

"What are you doing here?" She asked.

"Are you stupid for going a walk alone in this time?" I asked a little bit mad. She patted a spot beside her gesturing me to sit down.

"Let's go back." I ignored her but she kept patting the spot beside her. I texted Aaron to let him know that I found the little kid. I sat beside her and looked at the reflection on the lake.

Today is a fullmoon..

"Were you worried?" She asked and I turned to her.

"Everyone is worried but not me." I answered and she chuckled.

"Beautiful isn't it?" She asked as her eyes looking straight to the reflection.

"Yeah."

"Tell me about yourself." She said as she hugged her knees and turned her face to me.

"No.. let's go back." I said as want to stand up but she caught my hand.

"Stay a little bit longer please?" She looked straight to my eyes, I looked away.

"I'll go to the cabin first, come home after that." I said not wanting to be with her longer, I stood up and turned my body to walked back.

"I like you." I froze as she said that.

"Don't." I answered.

"Why? Because you're heartless? Because you're afraid to hurt me? Get me killed?" She asked in a serious tone, I sighed.

"It's because I don't like you. You're a kid, spoil brat and annoying." I said in a really cold tone.

"You're lying."

"This is stupid.. just get back to the cabin if you're done." I walked away not wanting to have a conversation with her or to be in one place with her.

"Until when do you want to keep everything by yourself Ken? You're lonely and when people trying to reach you keep pushing them away!" She bursted and I stopped. I turned my body to her and looked at her with my cold eyes.

"Do you want to get killed?" I asked looking into her blue eyes and she looked a little bit shock.

"If you let me in, yes.. I want to get killed." I didn't expect her to say that to be honest.

"You're being childish Chloe, it's not as simple as you turning your hand or blinking your eyes. There are people around me that I need to protect, don't be selfish!" I bursted back and she walked to me.

"Tell me the real you, share it with me because I can help you carry it on my back." She looked at me and I sighed.

"Don't be stupid.. I don't have anything to share and I don't have anything to reveal."

"Do you think I'm going to give up?"

"You should give up now, because I'm never letting you in." I said coldly.

"I'll try 2 times harder."

"Chloe! This is not a game! Just because I'm being nice to you. You think you can reach me, dig me and trying to find my past. Stop trying to be that girl and just live your own life!" I bursted angrily at her and walked away from her.

"I'm not going to stop even you say that!" She said and I ignored her.

"I'm going to be the one who break you Kenneth Domanco. I'm going to tear every piece of you until you can't hide anything again from me." Suddenly she said that, she just made me giving her a really big gap. I'm not going to see you again after this Chloe Regens.

We will never see each other again Chloe Regens, you won't be able to reach me.
