

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 269

Chloe Regens

"Happy birthday." I hugged Hailey.

"Thankyou so much!! I miss you!" She squealed.

"Miss you too red head." I joked and she chuckled.

"Hey Luke." I hugged him.

"Hey Chlochlo."

"I hope I'm not that late." I felt sorry because I was so stupid to sleep 1 hour before the party.

"Hey it's fine as long as you come." She smiled.

"Where's Jack?"

"He will come soon, he has something to do first." I answered Luke.

I walked into their house and my eyes landed on the person that I really miss for the pass 2 months. He's still handsome as ever but the eyebags under his eyes says everything about his condition right now.

Hailey and Luke walked to the garden first but I walked to Ken who sat alone in the living room. I plopped on the sofa across him and he looked up to me.

"Hey."

"Hey Chloe." He looked at me straight into my eyes.

"How are you?" I asked.

"Good, I guess."

"Is everything okay?" I want to hold his hand, I want to kiss him, I want to hug him so bad.

"Yeah." He nodded and I think he doesn't want to have a conversation with me and besides I decided to give him time. I stood up and force myself to walk away.

"Chloe." I stopped walking as he suddenly called.

"Yeah?"

"After Hailey's party ends, can we talk?"

"Of course." I smiled, after that I walked to the garden. Rose found me and she walked to me.

"I miss you so much!!" She squealed and I hugged her tightly.

"Miss you too!" I squealed.

"Oh my gosh!" I was hugged by the girls and I can't help but feel so happy right now. Hailey's party already started and I had a great time with them. Talking and catching up, I'm still working with Angel even I'm in LA. I send the file to her via email and it doesn't matter even I love being in New York.

I didn't talk to Ken if you all wondering, I didn't talk to him when the party goes on. Our eyes only meet a couple of times but that's it. He wants to talk to me after this and I'm just beyond happy.

"Happy birthday once again Hailey." I hugged her again and she chuckled.

"Thankyou Chloe, I'm really happy that you came." She smiled.

"Let's meet up sometimes, okay? When you're not busy."

"Okay girly, I'll call you." She said and I nodded. I bid my goodbyes to Luke too and walked out from their house. Ken is already waiting at the car. I got into his car and none of us say anything.

"Where are we going?" I asked.

"My house." He said and I nodded. He turned on the radio and guess what? The song is On Bended Knee by Boyz II Men, I remembered how he loves Boyz II Men.

The song is not helping the mood, it's sad and it hit me too. I sighed silently and sometimes I took a glance to Ken. As we arrived at his house, we both got out from his car and I followed him inside.

"Is there something wrong?" I asked as I looked at his back.

"Kenneth?" He turned to me and he looked into my eyes without saying anything. I raised my eyebrows and he walked slowly to me.

Suddenly he pulled me into a hug, he hugged me really tightly and I automatically hug him back. He stroked my hair without saying anything.

"Is everything okay?" I asked.

"Stay with me for tonight please." He said.

"Okay." He looked at me and caressed my cheek.

"I can't hold it." He whispered.

"Then don't." I smiled and caressed his cheek.

"I'm starting my revenge Chloe." He said seriously.

"I don't what will happen in the future and I-"

"I'll wait." I cut him before he continues, I don't want to hear anything again. That statement is enough for me. I pulled his shirt towards me and I crashed my lips to his.

The kiss was slow and it's starting to get intense. I circled my arms around his neck and he picked me up. Quickly circling my legs around his waist. He carried me to his room and I felt a soft surface touch my back. He stopped and he stared into my eyes.

"What did you do to me?" He asked.

"Breaking you." I answered, he sat beside me and I got up. He held my hand and caressing it.

"I'm sorry." He said and I raised my eyebrows not understanding why he said that.

"For what? You didn't do anything."

"Everything, I'm sorry." I smiled and kissed his cheek.

"I already forgave you Ken, there's no need to be sorry again."

"I will come out as a Lemiere tomorrow Chloe, I take out the case today." He said.

"It's okay, I will be by your side."

"That's so point Chloe.. you can't." He looked at me.

"Why?"

"I'm standing alone, I don't even let the boys help me. It's my family and I need to stand alone. I'm not going to kill them but I'm taking the case and sue them for killing my family." He said holding my hand so tightly.

"What do you want me to do?" I asked slowly.

"I'm not forcing you to wait for me Chloe, just live your usual life. I don't know how long I will take to take care all of this."

"I will wait." I smiled.

"Chloe.. I-"

"I love you Kenneth. All of you, in and out. I'll wait for you." I cut him and I kissed the back of his hand.

"I will comeback."

"I'll be waiting" After I finished saying that, he kissed me like there's no tomorrow.
