

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 271

Chloe Regens

Seeing Kenneth get investigated and go back and forth to the police station is making me worry. He looked tired and not feeling well. I have been debating to go to New York and be there to cheer him up.

One by one the culprit got into jail and yes there are so many people who help him to sue the people who killed Lemiere.

The amount of people who help him is unbelievable. Some people know about what happen and decided to tell the truth about it. The recordings that I got helped too because there's a conversation between Conard and Brad.

It's been 2 months since I've seen Kenneth and I miss him a lot. He has been there alone and I really wanted to be with him. Cody does report me once a week about Kenneth's condition.

But still.. I miss him a lot..

"If you miss him, go to New York." I looked up to see my dad taking his watermelon juice out from the fridge.

"Huh?"

"If you miss him, go check on him."

"Really? Can I?"

"Yeah.. go." He said gesturing me to go, I quickly find a flight. I ran upstairs and packed my clothes. After packing real quick, I went down. Bid my goodbyes to my mom and dad before they'll gone to work.

I quickly asked my driver to drop me at the airport, checking in and wait for the announcement to board. I'm nervous. I decided to call Sebastian telling that I'll be goig to New York.

"Hey Chloe." He picked up.

"Sebastian.. I'm going to New York now."

"Now?" He asked disbelief.

"Yeah, is there something wrong?" I asked because his tone is weird.

"Nothing wrong but I just quite shock, want me to pick you up?" He asked.

"No need.. Where is Ken now?"

"He's at his house, he's not feeling well these days." I sighed.

"I'll go there as soon as I land." I announced.

"Okay good, he needs you.

"Okay Seb.. see you soon." I said and he ended the call after that. I board inside the airplane and go to New York. I'm nervous and quite anxious. Panic a little bit because Ken is not feeling good.

Flying for 5 hours 30 minutes is the longest flight for me because I can't stop thinking of him. As soon as I got out, claiming my baggage and ran out to find a taxi. Asked the taxi driver to drive fast to Ken's house.

"Cody!" I said as I called him.

"Oh Chloe."

"I'm outside Ken's house, can you open the door for me?" I asked.

"Okay." He said and ended the call. The door opened and I walked inside. I saw Cody walking to me and I smiled.

"Hey Chloe.. how are you?" He asked.

"Not good.. I miss that bastard. Where is he?" I asked.

"His room." Cody answered.

"Thankyou." I smiled and he took my luggage. I ran inside and ran to his room. I turned the door knob slowly and see him laying on his bed. I walked slowly and see him wrapping himself with blanket.

I walked to him and touched his forehead. He immediately opened his eyes. He looked at me.

"Hey.." I said and he blinked his eyes a few times.

"Chloe."

"I'm here.. you have a high fever. Let me get you a warm towel." I said and walked to the bathroom. Taking a small towel and put it into a warm water. Squeeze it and I walked back to him. Putting it on his forehead and he looked at me.

"You need rest." I said as I held his hand.

"Why did you come to New York?" He asked.

"Checking on you, of course." I smiled and he held my hand tightly.

"Have you eat?" I asked and he shook his head.

"Let me make something for you so you can eat medicine after that."

"Stay, I need you more than food and medicine." He said and I nodded. He suddenly moved his body and he pulled me so I laid on the bed beside him. I hugged him and buried my head to his chest. His body is so cold, I wrapped his blanket around us.

"Thankyou for the recordings Chloe.. Conard's pen." He suddenly said.

"Huh? Oh! Yeah it's fine."

"Why do you have to kiss him anyway? It bothers me everytime I see that pen." I chuckled and he stroked my hair.

"I'm sorry."

"How are you doing in LA?"

"Why asking when you know about it?" I asked.

"Yeah right.. I want to hear it from you."

"No good, I miss you a lot." I said and he put his chin on my head.

"Take a rest for 2-3 days Ken." I added.

"I can't."

"Why is that?"

"There's so many things that I need to take care Chloe, I can't just lay in bed for 2 days."

"Okay fine.. 1 day , just today." I said.

"Nice idea."

"Okay.. now let me go so I can make some food for you. Chicken soup okay?" I asked and carressed his cheek.

"Stay with here until I wake up, after that you can make it." He closed his eyes and I kissed his cheek. I carressed his cheek and let him sleep.

I found myself slowly getting sleepy. My sleeping patterns were weird these days because of work and worrying about Ken a lot but not being able to reach him. My eyes getting heavy and I slept in his arms.

This is the best sleep that I have this month.