

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 69

Sophia Celastio

Headache.

My work gave me a real big headache. Tired. Hungry. I looked at my computer for a really long time and typed the keyboard for hours. I need a break. I need a big break.

I miss Aaron too but he's flying to London to work tonight and I need his hug right now but too bad I can't. I looked at my watch and it's 5 p.m.

My work was still piling up crazily and I just can't leave it here. I want to go home so so bad, I need a hot bath, watching Netflix or read a book and eat pizza. How I miss pizza!

"I'm tired." I mumbled and looked at the clock. It's 7 and I'm done. I worked for good 9 hours nonstop today, I barely eat breakfast and lunch. I just took a sip of coffee and a little bite of banana bread.

I took my bag and walked out from the office. I walked to the lift and went down. Thank God, I didn't bring my car today or else I might have an accident because of my tiredness.

I got inside the car and told my driver to go straight home. I closed my eyes and leaned back.

"Ms. Celastio." Suddenly my driver called me and I opened my eyes. I got off from the car and looked around. This is not my house.. it's Santa Monica Pier.

"Why are you taking me here?" I turned to my driver while he was taking something from the back of the car. He walked to me giving me a new phone. He left me alone.

“What-“ Suddenly the phone beeped and showed a new message.

Unknown :

Go to the Pier

I walked to the Pier slowly and inhaled the refreshing sea breeze. It's empty and no one was here. I felt more relax than before, I walked slowly to the bridge when suddenly a loud music was starting to play.

It's been a long and winding journey, but I'm finally here tonight.

Picking up the pieces, and walking back into the light.

Into the sunset of your glory, where my heart and future lies.

There's nothing like that feeling, when I look into your eyes.

I know this song so well, I can't help but smile. I walked inside the Pier and watched the lights that shines beautifully.

My dreams came true, when I found you.

I found you, my miracle.

I stopped my track to see a paper on the ground with a red string on it, I took it from the floor.

Unknown :

Follow the red string

I followed the string slowly and it lead me to the ferris wheel. I walked inside and suddenly the employee closed the door and smiled politely. It started to go up.

My eyes caught a letter attached across me, I pulled it.

If you could see, what I see, that you're the answer to my prayers.

And if you could feel, the tenderness I feel.

You would know, it would be clear, that angels brought me here.

Our first meeting isn't the best meeting, you kept rejecting me when I tried to flirt with you. That's the first time Aaron Samuel got rejected.

Thanks to you.

You kept rejecting me and pushing me away, you tried to annoy me but in the end of the day I was never annoyed by you. You always gave me something new and interesting everytime.

I don't believe love at first, it's not that I have experience losing someone or something like that but it was because I never drown in one.

Until I met you.. Everything was new to me.

The burn when I touch you, the excitement that I felt everytime I kiss you. The torture that I felt everytime I miss you.

I love you, Sophia Celastio and It gets deeper everyday.

I got jealous when some random guy looked at you, glanced at you or hit on you. I will kill them because you're mine and everything about you are for my eyes.

I think saying I love you is not enough, I want more than that Sophia.

I want to get up with you everymorning, trying new things with you, have a cute ordinary date with you, laughing about idiot things that I do and just everything that involve you.

You're a miracle to me.. You change me.

Even my employee said that I change, I'd become more polite, better at controlling my temper and always tried to treat others equally and said thanks.

Geez

I love you, Sophia. I can't stop saying that.

You're my life, Sophia. I can't function without you anymore. So..

Follow the red strings again will you..

The employee gave me a new string and helped me get off the ferris wheel. I followed the string again and found the sweet guy was standing in the middle of the bridge looking at the sea.

“Hey, georgous.” I called and he turned to me.

“You tired?” He asked.

“How do you know?” I asked and way the go ruining the mood, Sophia.

“I know everything about you, Sophia.”

“Of course.” I said and he smirked.

“Marry me, Sophia.” That made my eyes widen.

“Marry me, beautiful. Aren’t you my red string?”

“What if I say no.” I teased him and he stayed calm.

“I’ll drag you to the aisle.”

“You know the answer, Aaron.” I said as I circle my arms around him.

“I don’t.” He pretended to be an idiot.

“Of course, I’ll marry you.” I whispered and he smiled widely. His hand reached inside his suit and took out a small dark blue box.

He opened it and revealed a really beautiful diamond ring. It’s.. just.. perfect.

“From now on, you’re my fiancé and we’re going to have a wedding in a month.” He said and I turned to him.

“How about your dad?”

“Let’s see about him tomorrow, beautiful.” He said and he pulled me to a deep kiss. The kiss was so passionate and I love it.

“My place tonight, love.” He said and I blushed. I smacked his chest lightly. He put the ring on my ring finger and kissed my cheek.

“I love you, Sophia Tiana Celastio.. or should I say Future Mrs. Samuel?” Aaron said and winked.

The End.

Epilogue

Aaron Samuel

20 years later..

I looked at my watch frequently and can't wait to get home from work. I miss my wife so much and my 17 years old son.

Gathering up all my files into one small pile and turned off the table light. I took my suit and wore it again. I walked out from my office and suddenly remembered that Sophia wanted a banana cake from her favorite bakery shop. I need to buy those.

Suddenly I got a phone call, I took my phone out from my pocket and looked at the caller ID.

Sophia

"Yes, honey." I picked up as walked inside the lift.

"Honey, where are you? It's 8 o'clock, you don't want to miss dinner right?" She asked in her almost angry tone, I can't help but chuckled.

"I just got out from the office, sweetheart."

"Good, now get your beautiful ass here." She said.

"Gross mom, I'm eating." I heard my son protested and I chuckled more.

"Be right there in 10 minutes, love." I said and at the same time the door lift opened. I got in and went to the lobby. My car had been prepared in front of the lobby and I got in.

I drove out from my office and speed up to the baker shop. I went there and bought Sophia here favorite cake and went straight home.

“Baby.” She squealed and hugged me. She crashed her lips to mine and I circled my arms around her slim waist.

“Hey, love. I bought you this.” I raised the plastic bag and her eyes twinkled. She squealed in happiness and crashed her lips to mine again.

I can’t get enough of her, my love for her never fades.

“Thankyou, handsome.” She said and held my hand pulling me inside.

“Hey, man.” I greeted my 17 years old son.

“Hey, dad.” I saw him glaring at me and I can’t help but raising my eyebrows.

“Andrew.” Sophia hissed and he continued to eat his steak.

“Now.. talk.” I don’t like him when he’s being disrespectful to his parents. I want to teach him a lesson that he can’t be childish anymore.

“Boys, eat first okay?” Sophia tried to calm down the mood and she patted my arm slowly. I took a knife and the fork, cutting my meat into small pieces.

“I’m outta here.” Andrew put his knife and fork down in a harsh way. He stood up and ready to leave.

“Sit down.” I said in an angry tone. He looked at me glaring.

This boys has his mom attitude.

"Aaron." Sophia warned and I gestured him to sit down.

"Andrew Samuel, sit down. Are you deaf?" I gave him a warning eyes and he sat down again in front of me.

"Spill." I ordered and he sighed.

"I want a car." He stated. He might mentioned it a couple of times that he wants a car because his friends has it. He might be the Samuel but I don't let him spend too much money for something because I know he wants to showoff.

"Earn it!" I said simple and he gave me an annoyed face.

"You're a billionare and I'm your one and only heir. Why can't I get a car when everyone else in our school has it? I'm no use to be a Samuel then." He bursted angrily and his eyebrows scrunched just like Sophia when she's mad.

Sophia patted my hand lightly gesturing me no to be so hard on him.

"Just because you're a Samuel, it doesn't mean you can buy things you like in a flick, Andrew." I said with a calm tone and he looked away.

"Andrew." Sophia warned.

"Are you trying to impress a girl?" I blurted but I never thought it would came out from my mouth, he suddenly looked at me with his eyes widen.

I caught you boy.

“Really?” Sophia asked in a cheery tone.

“What? NO! I’m 17 dad, I need a car. I’m tired taking a bus everyday, it’s not like we’re a beggar or something. I’m a-“

“Earn it, Andrew. Show me that you can work hard to get it.” I stated and I know he’s starting to get annoyed.

“Like what? Rank 1 in sh-“

“Get your ass in Math and Biology this term, give me an A. I’ll give you a car.” I smirked and his face lighted up but not for long. He realized what I just said and he turned to Sophia.

“Mom.” He called.

“Sorry, boy. Your mama can’t help you!” Sophia said and shook her head. I smiled in victory.

“Damn it!” He hissed.

Math and Biology are his weakness, he’s not good at that but he’s good in Economy and Business things. Good thing, I have a heir.

“Goodluck.” I said simply and he glared at me. He left the dining room and now it’s time for me to spend time with the love of my life.

“Aren’t you so hard on him, Aaron?” She asked and looked at me worry. I smiled and shook my head.

“He spends too much money to party, Sophia. He may be a teenager but he’s quite rebel actually. I wanna find out that girl that he’s trying to impress.” I smirked and Sophia smacked my arm.

“He’s going to be mad at you.” She glared and I laughed looking at her expression.

“Now.. Can I get a really deep kiss?” I asked and she blushed. I love seeing her like this.

“Promise me that you will get easy on Drew.” Sophia leaned to me and I shook my head. She pulled back and glared.

“I promise, sweet-“ She crashed her lips to mine and gave me her sweet taste. I pulled her to sit on my lap and she started to run her hands through my hair. Oh damn!

“I love you, Aaron Samuel.” She whispered in my ear, giving me the best sensation that I love from her.

“I love you too, sexy.” I smirked and she kissed me again.
