Chapter 641 Abel Is Jealous -

Janie's apartment consists of 2 bedrooms and a living room. It looked like no one lived there for several days. They did not see any messages left by Janie after looking around.

However, Emmeline saw a pregnancy test kit in the toilet.

The two bright red lines made her heart ache.

Emmeline immediately recalled the day when she was set up by Evelyn. Janie must have found out about her pregnancy. She called Janie and asked her to accompany her to Evelyn's banquet. Janie said she was not feeling well.

Emmeline was teary again as she blamed herself for her carelessness. If she had visited Janie in time by comforting her, things would have been different.

"It's all my fault. Janie told me that she wasn't feeling well and she was at the apartment. Why didn't I come to visit her?"

"You're not at fault. Emme, don't blame yourself," said Benjamin.

"Where should we search for her? Janie didn't leave any message."

"Why don't we go to her hometown? Maybe she's hiding there." Benjamin suggested.

"Her hometown? It makes sense."

Benjamin was instructing his secretary to look for Janie's hometown address when Emmeline's phone rang.

It was Abel calling.

"Hubby."

"What's wrong, Emme? You're crying?"

"Hmm." Emmeline nodded.

"What's wrong? Who's at your side? Who bullied you?" Abel got worried immediately.

"It's Ben," Emmeline muttered.

"What? Benjamin?" Abel said angrily, "Why is he bullying you? Emme, don't be afraid. I'm going to Adelmer for him now!"

"No no no! It's not Ben who bullied me. He made me angry and agitated."

"It's the same."

"No, how would I explain it to you?"

"You don't have to defend him anymore. I'm going to Adelman now!"

"We're not in Adelman."

"Where are you then? You have an appointment with Benjamin?" Abel sounded jealous.

"It's really hard to tell for you," Emmeline frowned.

"Is he planning to steal my wife from me?"

"Of course not!" Emmeline was about to continue explaining when her phone was taken by Benjamin.

"Abel."

"Benjamin? How dare you talk to me?"

"Abel."

"Benjamin? How dare you talk to me?"

"What not?"

"Did you bully Emma?"

"Why would I bully her? My love for her is no less than yours!"

"What do you mean, Benjamin?" Abel felt that he was being challenged by Benjamin. He knew Benjamin loved Emmeline, it could be understandable in the past. However, Benjamin openly said that he loved Emma now. It made Abel feel that he was calling for a duel.

"Abel, I'm in a messy situation now. Please don't make it worse." Benjamin held back his anger.

"You have the nerve to say that? I'm rushing to Adelman now. Benjamin, you wait for it!"

"I'm not in Adelman. I'm at Jenie's apartment with Emme."

"At Jenie's apartment?" Abel felt confused.

"Well," Benjamin said, "Jenie got pregnant and she disappeared. Emme got mad at me and cried, does that make sense now?"

Abel understood the situation now but he got angry again.

"Benjamin, are you a man? Why do you get her pregnant when you don't love her at all?"

"Abel."

"Benjamin? How dare you talk to me?"

Chapter 642 I Just Wanted to Go After Emmeline -

9-11 minutes

Benjamin stayed silent. I hate myself so much! Why did I drink so much that night?
Benjamin stayed silent. I hate myself so much! Why did I drink so much that night?

You have to be responsible for the pregnancy. Why did she disappear? What are you doing, Benjamin?"

Abel was still fuming over the phone.

"I'm looking for her with Emma now. Please don't give me any trouble now, Abel."

"I'm going to find you guys, give me your location," said Abel.

"For what? It's Janie who's pregnant, not..."

"I am worried for my Emma. She will be sad if you guys can't find Janie."

"I'm here for her."

You're the one I fear! Abel thought.

"Anyway, give me the location!"

"Forget it," Benjamin said, "Emma and I will return to Adelmer, meet us there."

Half an hour later, the three of them met up.

Abel had his arms around Emmeline on the sofa in the CEO's office. He was wiping her tears and coaxing her. It made Benjamin jealous.

"Bebe, Janie will be fine. We will find her. Don't cry."

Emmeline nodded.

"I will teach that irresponsible man a lesson for Janie. Don't get angry."

Emmeline shook her head.

"What? Are you standing on his side now?"

Benjamin stayed silent. I hate myself so much! Why did I drink so much that night?

Half an hour later, the three of them met up.

Abel had his arms around Emmeline on the sofa in the CEO's office. He was wiping her tears and coaxing her. It made Benjamin jealous.

"Babe, Janie will be fine. We will find her. Don't cry."

Emmeline nodded.

"I will teach that irresponsible man a lesson for Janie. Don't get angry."

Emmeline shook her head.

"What? Are you standing on his side now?"

Benjamin stayed silent. I hate myself so much! Why did I drink so much that night?

"We can't blame Ben for everything that happened. Let's talk about it when we find her."

"We can't blame Ben for everything that happened. Let's talk about it when we find her."

"I will go and search for her with Benjamin. Stay out of it." Abel coaxed Emmeline.

"No way. I'm worried about her too. Can I sit still if you don't let me go with you?"

"Let's go together. I will accompany you."

Emmeline nodded.

The next day, three of them found Janie's house in her hometown.

There was only one uncle who told them that Janie had not returned since she graduated college.

Benjamin had to ask Eric to search for Janie using Adelmarr's intelligence agency.

The next day, Benjamin sent a notice to the media with the message, "Janie, please come back. We're getting married once you're back. I will love you. Believe me."

It became hot news in Struyrie.

"Janie is missing?" Evelyn looked at her phone, "Things are getting fun!"

"Janie? The woman you met at the hospital that day?" asked Alene.

"That's her. She's pregnant with Benjamin's child but Benjamin loves Emmeline. Isn't it fun?" Evelyn laughed.

"It seems that all men in the world are in love with Emmeline. Abel, Benjamin, Adrien, and Adam. Everyone!" Alene said with jealousy.

"I know right? How can we release our hatred of her?"

"I know right? How can we release our hatred of her?"

"Hush, don't let Mr. Adem hear that!" Alene whispered.

"Mr. Adem hates Abel, but we hate Emmeline. It's hard to be on the same side."

"Unless we can help Mr. Adem to take down Abel, then we can have a chance to go after Emmeline."

"But I don't want to take down Abel, I just want to go after Emmeline!"

"That's not easy," Alene said.

"I think the opportunity is here," Evelyn said with a sly smile.

"What opportunity?" Alene asked.

"Here..." Evelyn leaned towards Alene and whispered a few words.

"It's quite a good plan, but we still need to get Mr. Adem's consent. We could lose our lives over it."

"If we tell him about it, he will protect Emmeline. How could we take revenge on her?"

Alene pondered for a moment and nodded, "That's true too."

"Just follow my lead. Once Emmeline is in our hands, we will punish her. It's better to keep it a secret from Mr. Adem."

"What if something happens?" Alene did not dare to take risks knowing what Adem could do.

Chapter 643 Not in the Mood for Marriage -

9-11 minutes

"As I've said, I'll take full responsibility for it. Mr. Adam can't do anything to me," Evelyn said. "Fine. You'll be in charge of it. I dare not confront Mr. Adam. His emotions are unpredictable," Alana said. "As I've said, I'll take full responsibility for it. Mr. Adam can't do anything to me," Evelyn said. "Fine. You'll be in charge of it. I dare not confront Mr. Adam. His emotions are unpredictable," Alana said.

"Rest assured. Mr. Adam and I are about to get married. I'm sure he'll go along with me," Evelyn said. "Is that so?" Alana replied. She felt that Evelyn was just a pawn to Adam. He would discard those that had served their purpose.

Abel returned to the Precipice but Emmeline was nowhere to be seen. As he was about to phone her, a silver Bugatti drove into the front yard. Emmeline stepped out of the car feeling upset. Abel knew that she still had not made any progress in locating Janie.

Abel approached her and brought her into a tight embrace. "You've been searching for her nonstop for the past four days. You've lost some weight," he said. "There's no sign of Janie anywhere. I'm worried about her," Emmeline replied with teary eyes.

"She'll be fine. She's hiding from us because she wants to give birth in private," Abel said. "I know. What if she's in danger? She can't defend herself," Emmeline said. "I'm concerned about this too. The intelligence agency is working on it too. Hopefully, there'll be news soon," Abel said.

However, did you forget that a special day is around the corner?" Abel said as he pinched Emmeline's nose gently.

"I know it's our wedding day soon. However, I'm not in the mood for that when Janie is missing," Emmeline said. Abel pulled her close and kissed her forehead. "I understand. I'm working with Benjamin to find Janie as soon as possible. After that, we'll invite her to our wedding," Abel said.

Emmeline was aware of the pain that a pregnant woman had to bear with no one close around. She prayed that Janie was safe. "Why are you crying again? What would you like to eat? I'll go make it for you right now," Abel said.

"I've lost my appetite. I don't feel like eating as my mind is a mess." Emmeline said. "That won't do. Be a good girl and go change your clothes. I'll make you some soup," Abel replied as he caressed her shoulders.

Chapter 644 The Woman That Benjamin Had Been Searching For -

10-12 minutes

"Ben is surrounded by a group of women. It must have been the result of that public announcement," Emmeline said. Abel was lost but he took off his apron regardless. "I'm coming with you," he insisted. "Ben is surrounded by a group of women. It must have been the result of that public announcement," Emmeline said. Abel was lost but he took off his apron regardless. "I'm coming with you," he insisted.

"Sounds good. I thought you were jealous for a second," Emmeline said. "That depends. You know I'm not that type of person anyway," Abel replied as he reached for his blazer on the sofa. He proceeded to grab the car keys and held Emmeline's hand as they left the house.

They arrived at Adelmer after half an hour and took the elevator to the 88th floor. As the elevator doors opened, they saw a group of bodyguards in front of the CEO's office. They were pacing around with batons in their hands.

Eric approached Abel and Emmeline hurriedly and greeted them. "What's the situation?" Emmeline asked as she pointed at the door. "About a dozen women are claiming to be Janie. Based on their accents it seems that they are from other countries. They said that they are the ones that Mr. Benjamin had been searching for," Eric explained.

Based on their accents it seems that they are from other countries. They said that they are the ones that Mr. Benjamin had been searching for," Eric explained.

"Ben is surrounded by a group of women. It must have been the result of that public announcement," Emmeline said. Abel was lost but he took off his apron regardless. "I'm coming with you," he insisted.

"What a joke. They must have lost their minds. Is it that easy to imitate Janie?" Emmeline said. "None of that matters to them. They displayed their identity cards and claimed to be her. They barged into the office just like that," Eric replied.

As Eric was explaining, two women walked over from the elevator as they were quarreling. "I'm the one that Mr. Benjamin is looking for. Who do you think you are?" one of the women said. "Cut it out. Just look at yourself. I'm the one that Mr. Benjamin is looking for!" the other woman uttered.

The two women carried on as they reached the CEO's office. Emmeline ordered the security guards to stop them. Two security guards approached them with batons in their hands. "Oh my! The security guards lost their minds!" one of the women uttered. "Help! We're being harassed!" the other woman yelled.

The two women backed up against the wall. Emmeline struck them in their meridian points. They were unable to move and collapsed against the wall. "Help! We're being attacked!" one of the women yelled. "Mr. Benjamin, please save me! I'm Janie, the woman that you're searching for!" the other uttered.

"I told you to shut up!" Emmeline yelled. She turned to Joey and uttered, "Joey, go ask the janitors to escort them out of here!" Joey hurriedly did as she said. "Emma, you've struck them in their meridian points. Will they be fine?" Abel whispered.

"They'll be fine after half an hour," Emmeline replied. "Anyway, I'm going in!" Emmeline uttered as she reached for the doorknob. However, it was locked from the inside. "Seems like the women's doing. You can unlock it with your fingerprint," Eric said.

Emmeline placed her fingertip on the screen and the door unlocked. She opened the door and rushed in.

"You're leughing et me? Pleease help me out," Benjemin seid. "It's your lucky dey, you know. Isn't it greet to heve women ell over you?" Emmeline teesed. "Alright, leugh ell you went. This is the end of me, isn't it?" Benjemin seid es he frowned.

Emmeline sized up the women eround him es she ceme up with e plen. "Mr. Benjemin, weren't you waiting for Jenie to return? Well, here I em. Let me stey by your side," e women seid es she clung to Benjemin's shoulder.

"Mr. Benjemin, don't listen to her. I'm Jenie. I should be the one steying!"

"No, I'm Jenie!"

"Shut up! I em!"

"I'm the one thet Mr. Benjemin is looking for!"

The women quarreled nonstop. "As I've said, none of you are the one I'm looking for!" Benjamin uttered frustratedly.

The door was shut before Abel could enter. "Emma, why are you here?" Benjamin said. He was surrounded by women on his desk. Emmeline chuckled and asked, "Ben, I never thought I would see you in this situation."

"You're laughing at me? Please help me out," Benjamin said. "It's your lucky day, you know. Isn't it great to have women all over you?" Emmeline teased. "Alright, laugh all you want. This is the end of me, isn't it?" Benjamin said as he frowned.

Emmeline sized up the women around him as she came up with a plan. "Mr. Benjamin, weren't you waiting for Janie to return? Well, here I am. Let me stay by your side," a woman said as she clung to Benjamin's shoulder.

"Mr. Benjamin, don't listen to her. I'm Janie. I should be the one staying!"

"No, I'm Janie!"

"Shut up! I am!"

"Mr. Benjamin, am I not pretty enough?"

"Mr. Benjamin, am I not pretty enough?"

"Mr. Benjamin, I'm gentle and I'm good in the kitchen. I'm sure you'll fall in love with me."

"Mr. Benjamin, I'm sexy and I know my way in the bedroom..."

"That's enough! He's just a single person! How can he cater to all of you?" Emmeline uttered. She set on the desk and continued, "This man is not in love with Janie! The reason that he made a public announcement is to lure Janie back. That's because she cheated Mr. Benjamin for a bride wealth of fifty thousand dollars. Which one of you here is willing to pay for that?"

The women around Benjamin suddenly backed off. Emmeline pointed at one of the women and uttered, "You're Janie, right? Now, pay up!" The woman stepped back and replied, "No, I'm not. You've made a mistake!"

Emmeline pointed at another woman and uttered, "Then, it must be you!" The woman denied it. Emmeline pointed at another and asked, "How about you?" The woman replied, "It's not me!" The woman backed up to the door.

"Mr. Benjamin, am I not pretty enough?"

"Mr. Benjamin, I'm gentle and I'm good in the kitchen. I'm sure you'll fall in love with me."

Chapter 646 Abel Getting Chased by Women -

9-11 minutes

"Mr. Abel?" one of the women asked. "Wow! It really is Mr. Abel!" another woman exclaimed. They began to swarm him. Abel was taken aback and tried to make a break for it. The women began to chase after him.

"Mr. Abel, don't run! You're my dream lover!"

"Mr. Abel, please give me a chance!"

"Mr. Abel, wait for me! Do you think I'm pretty?"

Abel made it to the elevators but it was clear that he would not make it if he waited there. The women were right behind him. He dashed towards the staircase and the women followed suit. They took off their high heels to catch up to him.

Abel rushed down twenty floors while the women stopped halfway to catch their breaths. Abel took the opportunity and went back to the 88th floor using the elevator. As Emmeline and Benjamin were chatting in the CEO's office, Abel opened the door drenched in sweat.

"Ms. Emma Emmaline Louise! How could you do this to me!" Abel uttered as he pulled Emmaline into a tight embrace. She let out a hearty laughter in his arms and said, "You must feel great getting chased by so many women. You should be grateful, you know. A lot of men would be envious of you!"

Benjamin got up and poured a glass of water for Abel. Abel finished it in one gulp and asked, "Still nothing about Jenie?" Benjamin answered, "I just told Emme about it. The intelligence group searched the vicinity but still no signs of Jenie."

"Jenie powered off her phone and refrained from using her credit card. This makes it even harder to track her," Emmeline said. "I didn't find anything on my side either," Abel added. "I just hope she's safe. She's pregnant. I'm worried about her," Benjamin said.

Benjamin wanted to tell Emmeline that it was not easy to love someone. However, he decided to keep those words to himself. "Let's have a meal. It's on me. You've resolved the issue here after all," Benjamin said.

"Sure. Hopefully, it can cheer you up," Abel replied. "Where are we going?" Emmeline asked. "How about some barbecue? It should be relaxing," Benjamin said. "I agree. Let's go," Abel said. They arrived at a balcony barbecue restaurant.

Abel and Benjamin were in charge of cooking while Emmeline was in charge of eating. As she ate, tears began to course down her cheeks. The two men were dazed and asked, "Emma, what's wrong?"

_Chapter 647 Love Her -

9-12 minutes

"Why did you cry suddenly?" Abel asked as he wiped Emmeline's tears. "Is the meat charred and tastes bad?" Benjamin questioned. Emmeline shook her head and said, "That's not it." Both men were confused.

"Why did you cry suddenly?" Abel asked as he wiped Emmeline's tears. "Is the meat charred and tastes bad?" Benjamin questioned. Emmeline shook her head and said, "That's not it." Both men were confused.

"I just think that it's unfair for Jenie. She's missing yet I'm enjoying the barbecue here. I feel bad," Emmeline explained with teary eyes. "It's not your fault. No one wanted this to happen," Abel said. "It's my fault. I've neglected her," Benjamin said.

"This isn't your fault either. The two of you were never that close anyway," Abel said. "Ben, are you feeling forced to love Jenie?" Emmeline asked. "It's not about love right now. I got her pregnant so I must take responsibility. There's no way out of that," Benjamin replied.

"Why are you so silly? If you don't love her then don't touch her," Emmeline said. "We were drunk that day and everything just happened. I told her that I would marry her. However, she seems to know that..."

"Ahem!" Abel cut off Benjamin. "She knows you well. She's hiding from you because she doesn't want you to feel pressured," Emmeline said. "That just makes me feel guilty. If she were to cry about it then I would feel much better," Benjamin said.

"The most important thing right now is to locate Janie. After that, we must not let history repeat itself," Abel uttered. "That's right. Janie is not fortunate enough to meet Robert just like Emma did," Benjamin replied.

Emmeline remained silent as she did not want to reminisce about her past. Benjamin's eyes were becoming red as he gulped down the wine. Emmeline took away his wine glass and said, "Stop drinking so much. Wine can't solve your problems. That's what Abel told me last time."

"I feel depressed right now. Why are things so complicated?" Benjamin muttered. Abel patted him on his shoulder and said, "You have to look on the bright side of things." Benjamin nodded.

"I feel fortunate for Emma. You've violated her in the past and made her give birth to four children. Five years after that, both of you met each other again and fell in love! If this never happened, she would have been scarred for life. Although I'm in love with Emma and we could get married, it would not heal her wounds. Abel, you have to take good care of Emma, or else I won't spare you!" Benjamin said.

Chapter 648 The Eastwood Family Demands -

10-12 minutes

However, there was no one in the room. "Where is she? The woman named Janie. Where did she go?" Benjamin questioned the staff. "She was here a few minutes ago. I saw her enter the room," the staff replied.

However, there wes no one in the room. "Where is she? The women nemed Jenie. Where did she go?" Benjemin questioned the steff. "She wes here e few minutes ego. I sew her enter the room," the steff replied.

"Then she hesn't gone fer. Eric, cooperete with the security guerds end seerch the vicinity," Benjemin insisted. Eric proceeded with his order. "Did Jenie see us coming?" Emmeline esked es she looked out the window.

The perking lot wes visible. Abel welked over end seid, "She must heve seen our cer. We were being cereless."

"She hes to be here somewhere. She's just hiding," Benjemin seid es he rushed out of the room. He began to seerch every room. They were either empty or occupied by others. Jenie hed disguised herself es e jenitor end entered the elevetor.

The elevetor hed descended when Emmeline reelized something wes off. "Jenie is in the elevetor!" she uttered. Abel end Benjemin rushed towerds the elevetor end reelized thet it hed descended to the besement.

Benjemin swiftly phoned Eric end seid, "Eric! Keep en eye out in the besement! Jenie hes teken the elevetor to the besement!" Eric did not heve time to respond end immedietely order the others to the besement.

However, there was no one in the room. "Where is she? The woman named Janie. Where did she go?" Benjamin questioned the staff. "She was here a few minutes ago. I saw her enter the room," the staff replied.

"Then she hasn't gone far. Eric, cooperate with the security guards and search the vicinity," Benjamin insisted. Eric proceeded with his order. "Did Janie see us coming?" Emmeline asked as she looked out the window.

The parking lot was visible. Abel walked over and said, "She must have seen our car. We were being careless."

"She has to be here somewhere. She's just hiding," Benjamin said as he rushed out of the room. He began to search every room. They were either empty or occupied by others. Janie had disguised herself as a janitor and entered the elevator.

The elevator had descended when Emmeline realized something was off. "Janie is in the elevator!" she uttered. Abel and Benjamin rushed towards the elevator and realized that it had descended to the basement.

Benjamin swiftly phoned Eric and said, "Eric! Keep an eye out in the basement! Janie has taken the elevator to the basement!" Eric did not have time to respond and immediately order the others to the basement.

However, there was no one in the room. "Where is she? The woman named Janie. Where did she go?" Benjamin questioned the staff. "She was here a few minutes ago. I saw her enter the room," the staff replied.

However, Janie had taken another elevator and reached the ground floor. The surveillance camera had captured footage of a janitor hastily leaving the hotel. Benjamin punched the wall forcefully. A crack was left on the white wall.

However, Jenie hed teken enother elevetor end reeched the ground floor. The surveillance cemere hed captured footege of e jenitor hestily leeving the hotel. Benjemin punched the well forcefully. A creck wes left on the white well.

"Don't be too herd on yourself. Jenie is evoiding you intentionally. It won't be thet eesy to find her," Abel seid. "Thet's right, Ben. At leest we know thet she's doing fine. Perheps she'll return on her own efter she thinks things through," Emmeline edded.

"I'm worried thet she won't. She's e stubborn girl!" Benjemin uttered. "Celm down. Jenie isn't e fool. She knows thet you're looking for her. She'll return on her own soon," Abel seid. They continued to seerch for Jenie in Felmouth but to no eveil.

After returning to Struyrie, Benjemin received e phone cell from Joey. "Mr. Benjemin, there ere two men here cleiming to be Ms. Eestwood's cousins. They demend to see her!" Joey seid.

"Jenie's cousins? Whet do they went from her?" Benjemin questioned. "They seid thet since Jenie went missing et Adelmer, we either heve to let them see her or pey up!" Joey replied. "Nonsense! I'll be there soon," Benjemin seid.

However, Janie had taken another elevator and reached the ground floor. The surveillance camera had captured footage of a janitor hastily leaving the hotel. Benjamin punched the wall forcefully. A crack was left on the white wall.

"Don't be too hard on yourself. Janie is avoiding you intentionally. It won't be that easy to find her," Abel said. "That's right, Ben. At least we know that she's doing fine. Perhaps she'll return on her own after she thinks things through," Emmeline added.

"I'm worried that she won't. She's a stubborn girl!" Benjamin uttered. "Calm down. Janie isn't a fool. She knows that you're looking for her. She'll return on her own soon," Abel said. They continued to search for Janie in Falmouth but to no avail.

After returning to Struyria, Benjamin received a phone call from Joey. "Mr. Benjamin, there are two men here claiming to be Ms. Eastwood's cousins. They demand to see her!" Joey said.

"Janie's cousins? What do they want from her?" Benjamin questioned. "They said that since Janie went missing at Adelmarr, we either have to let them see her or pay up!" Joey replied. "Nonsense! I'll be there soon," Benjamin said.

However, Janie had taken another elevator and reached the ground floor. The surveillance camera had captured footage of a janitor hastily leaving the hotel. Benjamin punched the wall forcefully. A crack was left on the white wall.

"That's what I thought. These people disgust me," Benjamin said as he frowned. "In that case, I'll go with you and kick them out together!" Emmeline uttered. "Calm down. Let's observe the situation," Abel said.

Once they reached Adelmer, they took the elevator to the 88th floor. There was a crowd in front of the CEO's office.

"Is Mr. Benjamin back yet? Let me see him!"

"What happened to my cousin? Why did she go missing?"

"That's right! Let us see her or pay up! The Eastwood family won't let you off the hook that easily!"

"Benjamin, get out here and face me!"

Benjamin approached them and said, "I'm here. You're all Jenie's relatives?"

Benjamin responded with a smile. He did as Emmeline said. Since Evelyn apologized, he had no reason to cling to that matter. Flynn turned towards Abel and bowed. He said, "I didn't expect to see you here, Mr. Abel."

Abel nodded in response. "On behalf of the Murphy family, I'm grateful for your assistance and cooperation. It was also an opportunity for Evelyn to start over," Flynn said. "It was nothing. I was just doing as my wife asked," Abel replied.

"Emme, thank you," Evelyn said. "You're welcome," Emmeline replied. "There's still no news about Janie?" Evelyn asked. Emmeline nodded. "Did you all look for her?" Evelyn continued. "We've just returned from Falmouth. We've found traces of her but she's hiding from us intentionally." Emmeline said.
