

UNIVERSAL JOB CHANGE: I CHOSE JOBLESS INDIVIDUAL

Chapter 15

"Ahh

"Some students died in the copy. "

The sudden cut out of the half of the screen immediately caused a lot of panic.

I saw a young junior high school student at the second level, and he was chopped into blood foam by an axe from the oncoming goblin centurion.

This is the first student to be fatal.

And this ..... This may not be the first.

"Oh my God.....

Before he could choose to return to the city scroll, he was directly interrupted from the moment of chanting and was killed by the boss. "

"Sure enough, this is the real high school entrance examination room. "

Once you die in a dungeon, unfortunately this does not give you the option to resurrect.

To die is to return to the Promised Land.

In addition to the pain, everyone did not have too much fear.

Since 70 years of world changes and demonic disasters have raged, the entire earth has long been pulled into an era of turbulence and chaos.

The previous cross-era game of the Divine Domain was just an advance rehearsal given to all mankind by the will of the earth.

After that, the game data began to overlap with reality, the surface area of the earth expanded tens of thousands of times, the real space was no longer stable, many cracks were created, and the door to the secret realm and the small world appeared.

The gates of this different space are interconnected, and if they are not dealt with in time, the monsters inside will emerge.

Twenty years ago, the spatial rift in the ghost city was not dealt with in a timely manner, so that the orc army poured in from it, and the entire city fell into a great catastrophe.

And the famous author Lao Ge was the survivor of the 'Ghost City Tragedy' that year.

So when he retired from the Iron Army and joined the Education Bureau, his style of writing questions was quite difficult.

Only by facing the real calamity can we know that life is not easy.

Lao Ge's educational philosophy is undoubtedly to put an end to being a weak and incompetent sheep, but to strive to be a wild wolf with sharp claws all the time.

"Brother Yun was so powerful that we forgot that the questions in this exam were very difficult. "

"Yes, Senior Yun is about to reach the fourth level of the dungeon, and this person is still not long after entering the second level, and something happened soon. "

The extreme movement of dancing on the blade like Yunchen did before, without a single injury, and quickly snatching the time to clear the level, is simply a special case.

For the general public, most of the next copies of normalcy are steady, one step at a time.

Those with poor psychological quality may be trembling, fearful, and unable to take a step for half a day.

"At this time, they may not be long in the second level.....".

Copies of the Nightmare difficulty are naturally different from the easy difficulty.

The pressure to survive is greatly reduced.

Even the Guardian Boss Goblin Centurion has been reduced to level 10, and the wide range skill of 'War Trample' will not be.

It's just that for some people, it's still a bit difficult.

From the first casualty appeared, the casualty toll at Shinonome High School began to expand.

The screen of the bronze gate gives a lot of close-ups of death.

Some people may think that this is very excessive.

But now, under the teacher's reminder, the first and second year of high school students have begun to seriously remember what is the reason why these college entrance examination candidates can't support it.

It was a valuable experience.

It is also a precious material that others have exchanged for death and blood.

"It's the centurion again, and after the charge was launched, he directly knocked the senior who couldn't hide into a bloody ....."

"Damn the boss, it's really hard. "

At this moment, everyone remembered how Yunchen had dealt with the Goblin Centurion.

The moment the boss charged, it was interrupted by the mechanic's primary skill 'Entrap'.

But .....

"It's so hard to interrupt skills. "

"The moment you can only charge and start, after the skill is completely released, the boss will activate the overlord state, and it is basically difficult to be stumped by the primary skill. "

Therefore, the gap between the two may be less than half a second, or even shorter, before the charge is activated and the hegemonic effect is produced.

The grasp of timing is really too testing.

If you are not careful, you will stand in place and become a pile to be collided with.

"Brother Yun's problem-solving ideas are not suitable for our ..... at all."

That's genius.

That's something that only a man with a unique fighting instinct would dare to do.

"Dodge, if your agility is not enough, use the small displacement skill, after the centurion charge is launched, immediately avoid its edge, don't choose to fight hard. "

At this time, the teacher taught them at the right time and provided them with the 'only solution'.

If it is also handed over to these people according to Yunchen's method of dealing with the boss, I am afraid that the entire class will not know how many people will survive in the future.

"Someone came out .....".

At this moment, in front of the bronze gate in the middle of the examination room, a figure was teleported.

Someone used the return scroll to successfully break away from the dungeon.

"Sorry .....".

"I failed. "

Poof!

The man fell to his knees and buried his head and wept.

If

you fail to clear the customs, it means that you will come again in the next session, or you can choose a relevant sub-occupation to apply for the cultural college by virtue of your liberal arts results.

Of course, if you are lucky, there may be colleges that are not satisfied with the enrollment quota to recruit students on the basis of merit.

There have been a lot of such lucky cases in previous sessions.

"Hey.....

The head teacher of the first class of rocket class sighed.

Although this student is in the lower reaches of the class, if this person is in the key class, he is also a stable top three existence.

Soon .....

The

death toll has jumped to double digits on the screen, officially breaking 10.

And more and more injured people can't clear the dungeon, and they directly hit the wall in the second level, can't face the boss, and directly choose to leave the dungeon.

Less than five minutes.

The number of people who left the dungeon alone has climbed to more than 100 people.

On the other side of the examination room, a medical aid station had been designed, and I saw that several teachers who were teaching the priest's course came forward and healed the wounded.

Among them, there was even the director of treatment from Shinonome Hospital.

With a light lift of his hand, the surging healing magic even brought a severed arm of a student back to life.

This scene surprised the candidates.

"It did seem like it was a bit difficult, we all fell in the second level. "

"Don't comfort me, I've done my best to .....".

"Me too, in fact, I'm also very satisfied, if it weren't for the ten years of free compulsory education in Xuanlong Country, I might only be able to do some chores in the countryside, and now I can still choose to engage in clerical related work, after all, is a sub-career also a broad road?".

Many high school juniors who quit the stage were not so sad as they imagined.

After all, if it weren't for the state's free education support, giving every student the opportunity to upgrade to level 10 and giving everyone the opportunity to change jobs, they would not have been able to go this far.

"Talent is really limited, hey, I'm ashamed to educate the country ....."

"Now you can consider a sub-career, don't be sad, many key universities also have sub-vocational colleges, and you can also get ahead. "
