

UNIVERSAL JOB CHANGE: I CHOSE JOBLESS INDIVIDUAL

Chapter 3

You've come to the Goblin Dungeon. 】

[You have selected the difficulty 'Nightmare'.] 】

[You have obtained the 'Return Scroll', please note that the Return Scroll will be invalid when you are attacked.] 】

When the slight dizziness passed, Yunchen's figure had already come to a dungeon.

The surrounding decorations are very rough, stone pillars, and murals, all of which are filled with a backward and barbaric atmosphere.

Among them, there are many human skeletons in front of you as pendants, decorated on the walls on both sides.

A puddle of coals and barbecue utensils not far away is enough to conjure up a lot of bad pictures.

Single!

The hardest level!

If you are not careful, you will die without a place to be buried, and as for the scroll back to the city, if the chanting is interrupted, it will be invalid, and I am afraid that you will die at that time.

Even if you are lucky enough to escape, but if the copy can't be completed, then you will naturally fail the college entrance examination.

The harvest is big, but the risk is big.

This Shan Yunchen is very clear and confident.

"Ready to start .....

He clenched his fist.

Then .....

Just walked slowly and methodically towards the dungeon corridor in front of him.

At this time, Yunchen's body was already full of equipment, and he held a scepter nearly two meters long in his left hand.

On his back was a bronze spear and shield, the gun was inside, the shield was outside, and the body of the gun was wrapped in gray oiled paper, but the head of the gun still released a slight cold luster.

The bulge of the belt was also stuffed full, and I saw a bright gun on each side of my body.

Scepters, spears, shields, guns, .....

I have to say that just this shape looks a bit nondescript.

Is this a mage or a warrior, or a sharpshooter.

The power gloves on both hands made people think inexplicably whether this person should be a martial artist.

The

characteristics of unemployed people are vividly reflected at this moment.

Any weapon and equipment can be played!

It's just .....

If there is such a big benefit, how can other people change jobs?

If it hadn't been activated half a month ago, without the activation of the 'strongest professional support system', he wouldn't have chosen to scatter if he was killed.

But now, the unemployed scattered people are destined to shine on him!

"It's coming!".

His keen perception had caught the sound of a gradual approach from outside the corridor.

Yunchen didn't slow down.

Instead..... His feet accelerated, and his whole body began to run.

What is surprising is that with so much equipment on his back, he did not slow down his speed at all, but the running figure actually pulled out a faint afterimage.

'Hurry!'

The

ghost swordsman's pre-primary skill has already been used, and with a 30% movement speed bonus, Yunchen's speed is getting faster and faster.

At the end of the passage, I saw a goblin monster with a green body and a hideous face had appeared.

As soon as the eyes on both sides met, these backward and savage goblin guards were like hyenas that smelled blood, and they actually held a shield in one hand and a stone axe in the other, and suddenly rushed towards Yunchen.

There are quite a few of them, and a rough count of them is more than fifteen.

The distance between each other is getting closer and closer.

Staying less than ten meters, holding a scepter in his hand, Yunchen, who had the style of a battle mage, took the lead in attacking.

'Fireball!'

A blazing red ball of flame formed instantly, but the scale of the formation was quite large, and it was the size of a basketball for a short time.

The temperature around me has risen a lot.

It took less than a second to brew .....

Boom!!

The

fireball wrapped in great power suddenly fell on the goblin guards in front of them.

I have to say that the landing point of this fireball is enough to make people praise!

Impartial, just in the very center of the guard.

The dense charging formation suffered from it.

BANG!!

The

blazing flames exploded in an instant, and the surging flame power and the unbridled impact fluctuations that bloomed uncontrollably swept away many goblins at once, completely breaking up the entire formation.

Several of them even showed that the level 10 Goblin Guards were killed instantly.

Among them, the surviving goblins were all injured and bleeding, and they were directly seriously injured.

Fireball, as a prerequisite skill for the mage profession, is a must-have for every mage before changing jobs.

It's just that Yunchen's almost instantaneous fireball technique is really amazing, and it is even more powerful than the 'explosive fireball' that can only be learned by a mage.

Not ..... though

The big show belonging to Yunchen has officially begun.

Before, he was holding a scepter in one hand.

Now his right hand was in the scepter.

Click!

Just a twist, as if pressing a switch, only to hear the sound of a 'bang', a slender and sharp sword pulled out of the scepter.

'A sword in a staff!'

[Sword in Scepter (Bronze ★★): Can be a scepter or a sword, when you choose as a scepter, wisdom +5, when you choose a blade, strength +5. ]

The next moment.

Holding the slender blade in his hand, Yunchen seemed to teleport, and the wind was under his feet, and he suddenly rushed to the side of a badly injured and bleeding goblin soldier.

'Treading the Wind Slash!'

Magic Swordsman, the pre-primary skill of the swordsman class.

The goblin who was about to fall to the ground hissed and raised his hand to resist.

Poof!!

But the sharp blade had already touched its neck faster.

Woo-la!

A big head rises to the sky.

Blood splattered out, leaving a beautiful blood-colored arc on the walls of the passage.

And that's not all.....

The wind under Yunchen's feet rose again, and the figure that was in a state of rapid speed accelerated again, and suddenly rushed to the edge of a nearby goblin.

The old technique is re-applied in general, and it is easy to solve it again.

But that's not the limit.

Each time he successfully executed an enemy, the wind that gradually dissipated under Yunchen's feet would continue to gather again, allowing him to break through to the next target.

Back and forth, he was like lightning, drawing a number of beautiful movement tracks.

In less than five seconds, ten badly wounded and bloodied goblin soldiers were executed by him with a sudden face.

They all fell to their own swords.

What Yunchen didn't know was that he had been broadcast live.

The scene of his show this day, and even his previous performances, have aroused the admiration and shock of many teachers and students in the audience outside.
