

UNIVERSAL JOB CHANGE: I CHOSE JOBLESS INDIVIDUAL

Chapter 5

"Handsome!!".

"That's too handsome, isn't it?".

"This hand harvests the remnants of blood, it is extremely beautiful, and it takes away more than a dozen seriously injured goblins in an instant, beautiful!"

Death is like the wind!

Always with me!

At this moment, this unemployed scattered man carried the wind and flocs, came and went without a trace, and when the knife fell, more than a dozen good heads flew out.

Handsome! Handsome to the extreme!

This hand alone is enough to be uploaded to major video websites and apps by editors and UP masters, and millions of views are definitely indispensable.

"I got it, I got it, and the perfect screen recording was successful. "

There were already some first- and second-year high school students in the audience who raised their mobile phones to take pictures.

After all, it is very rare for unemployed scattered people to appear in the college entrance examination, and they were originally to shoot some funny material for scattered people, but they didn't expect to record this precious Tianxiu scene.

"Something is wrong.,This Wind Slash is a pre-primary skill for magic swordsmen and swordsmen.,It doesn't have the effect of killing monsters to refresh the cooldown.。 "

"And".

"The power of this wind slash is too strong. "

The high school students present had already made a career plan, and there were not a few swordsmen and magic swordsmen, and they immediately realized that Yunchen's skill damage was a bit strong.

"Not only that, his swordsmanship is very accurate, he seals his throat when he sees blood, and his sword is deadly, and he doesn't drag mud and water at all. "

The major class teachers and teachers all saw the student's swordsmanship.

Just like his incomparably accurate fireball landing point, this student's fighting style seems to be quite perfect and superb.

"What is his skill set. "

At this time, Principal Fang had already sat up straight, changed his previous annoyance, and asked the head teacher of the third class with great curiosity.

Jin Sheng naturally didn't dare to slack off, and hurriedly ran over and said, "Yunchen's student's talent is 'all-round', and all skills and qualifications can raise two levels. "

"But"

".

"You can only max up to 'C+' quality. "

Between the ages of 12 and 15, some people will show their talents.

Some people who show mastery of magic and magic regeneration talent must choose a magic-related profession.

Some people have shown a talent for increasing combat critical hits and speeding up physical attack speed, and naturally choose warriors, swordsmen and other professions.

Of course, there are also people who have specific talents in their life careers.

In other words, the talent for self-awakening influences one's subsequent career choices to a certain extent.

"It's a pity. "

After hearing this, Principal Fang, who was very interested, shook his head silently.

"This talent can't go far in the future, there is no future, no. "

He made a judgment with ease.

Jin Sheng on the side smiled bitterly and didn't dare to refute.

In fact, Yunchen's talent is indeed a bit embarrassing, and he can raise his skill qualification by two levels, but unfortunately it can only be as high as 'C+'.

The ceiling was sealed all at once.

The outlook is not clear.

After all, after the second career change, the vocational skills that can be learned start with 'C-' qualifications.

The entire awakening talent is completely useless after the second turn, and it can't bring positive feedback at all.

"No wonder he would choose to without a job."

Someone sighed secretly.

After all, the low-level skills of all professions are all E-level qualities without exception, and the more you learn, the more you do match his all-round talent.

Only, what about the future?

A full-time casual person can't go far, just like his talent.

It's just that he's really too showy.

The screen is still playing the picture of the copy under Yunchen in real time.

There were five waves of guards in the long corridor, all of them were goblin guards.

Illuminated by the pillars of fire hanging on both sides of the corridor, these goblins, armed with shields in one hand and stone axes in the other, continued to meet the incoming figures.

The human figure rushing away did not stop at all.

As always, raise your hand to open the way with the fireball, and then use the Wind Slash to continuously move at high speed, carrying the Wind Floc, to harvest these Goblin Guards who are either dead or disabled.

[Wind Slash (C+)]: Rush towards the target enemy, and the next sword attack damage will be increased by 30% and attack speed by 30%.

(If you can successfully execute the enemy and refresh the cooldown, the wind will continue to advance to the next target.))

On Nightmare difficulty, there are five waves before and after, with a total of 100 Goblin Guards.

In less than a minute, they fell in pieces like harvesting rice.

"Uh.....

".

The last goblin guard let out a wail, its weapon already dropped, its hands clasped tightly around its neck.

It was just that the blood was dripping from between its fingers, and the sword just now not only cut off its throat, but also cut off half of its neck.

How can this stop the blood?

With

a pop, the goblin guard couldn't hold it anymore and fell to the ground with a bang.

The human figure that had already left it behind had stopped galloping.

After walking through the long road, he saw a tightening gate in front of him.

Obviously, after pushing open the underground door, another wave of fierce battles awaited this unemployed man.

At this time, this slender and tall handsome figure stopped, he slowly returned his sword into the staff, and then gave himself a 'Blue Returning Technique'.

This scene is naturally broadcast live in front of everyone.

"Ah.....h It's so handsome. "

In the audience, someone finally broke the silence.

When Yunchen was carrying the wind and killing four waves of monsters in succession in an extremely ethereal and chic manner, it once made people breathless and calm, clenching his fists with both hands, excited about it.

It's the same as the first wave before, once the sword is out, you will definitely die.

On the same monster, a second sword will never fall.

If the first wave was just a coincidence of harvesting remnant blood, then the next few waves perfectly illustrated this person's fighting instinct and talent.

"A genius in swordsmanship, and his magic is also very accurate, and it can even be said that it is outrageous, this guy has a natural fighting instinct, and he can be called born for battle. "

"Jin Sheng, you actually concealed his talent"

The

two head teachers of the first and second classes of the rocket class were a little annoyed and blamed Jin Sheng for hiding a good seedling.

Generally speaking, the elite seedlings of the key class have to be sent to the rocket class.

But today, I saw that such a genius was missing.

"The list and information of the good seedlings of my third class have been given to you, and Yunchen is also in it, but after you saw his awakening talent, you didn't pick it up, and now you blame me. "

Jin Sheng, a good old man, naturally had anger, and immediately retorted.

In and out of his words, there was some ridicule of Principal Fang.

I only saw the information on paper, but I couldn't feel the terrifying expression of this genius on whom he had high hopes in actual combat.

At this moment, Jin Sheng was also somewhat able to understand Yunchen.....

Yes!

For such a combat all-rounder who is quick to master weapons, choosing a class alone is a waste of his talent.

He is an all-rounder who can do anything, he can do anything!

How can you be bound by class options to your combat talent.

It seems that it is the awakening talent on paper that sways Yunchen, but behind the scenes, this talent of combat intuition has not pushed him to this step.

Only by being unemployed can he truly show his talent to the fullest.
