

UNIVERSAL JOB CHANGE: I CHOSE JOBLESS INDIVIDUAL

Chapter 7

In

this way, a round of daylight rose in the vast and boundless hall.

Buzz!!

Even with the eyes closed, the blazing white light was enough to penetrate the eyelids of every goblin.

The previous series of offensive behaviors were completely resolved by this sudden arrival of the first-level 'light technique'.

When the blazing light dissipated, the Goblin Knight, who had fallen to the ground, opened his tearful eyes and desperately searched for the figure.

It's just that the human figure that appeared in front of the door of the hall has long since disappeared without a trace.

"Roar!!".

Angry roars rang out one after another.

The noisy beast language expresses the urgent meaning of finding out human beings.

'In the back!'

When the Goblin Warrior looked back, he suddenly realized that the hateful human figure had appeared in the back row.

What's even more hateful is ..... A short sword in the hand of this human had severed the neck of an elderly shaman.

At his feet, another goblin shaman standing next to him had already collapsed in a pool of blood.

This is a conscious slash!

Generally speaking, it will be very difficult for a shaman who can cast buff magic and milk to survive.

Of course .....

This is not only the goal of cutting the back row, but also the high-lethal mage class.

"Roar !!".

Someone killed the shaman in such a face, and the most powerful goblin centurion in the hall suddenly activated his 'berserk' skill under the roar of rage.

The whole tall physique, which was originally a small hill, was even taller all of a sudden.

The

knotted muscles and the giant-like body of more than two meters and three meters tall make it difficult to connect with the weak and obscene ordinary goblins.

In a state of rage, the centurion, bathed in a layer of blood-colored fluctuations, ran.

BOOM!!

Every step of the step caused an earthquake-like tremor to the entire hall.

It's just that the figure he pounced forward finally pounced.

The human figure in front of him only raised his right hand slightly.

'Invisibility!'

The pre-primary skills of the Assassin class were suddenly used.

Quietly invisible, silent.

Even the goblin's keen sense of smell couldn't capture Yunchen's figure.

'Danger!!'

The Red Goblin instinctively had a bad premonition in his mind.

The Red and Blue Goblins have been blessed with excellent magical talents, but they have also been much weaker than their peers.

Less than a second.

A huge force suddenly lifted its body, but Yunchen, whose true body emerged from the invisible state, grabbed its neck from behind.

With a click, it directly twisted its neck and cut off its breath.

The goblin mage on the other side suddenly looked anxious.

Of course, it had already raised its hand and cast an ice elemental shield to bless its body, and the beast bone scepter in its palm had already aimed at Yunchen.

Whoosh !!

Cold, sharp ice picks flew away.

It's just that..... The human figure that stood a few meters away disappeared silently!

' ? ? ? '

Blue Goblin's eyes widened, his head full of question marks.

And in the next second, the life instinct inexplicably urged its body, as if it wanted to face the threat head-on.

Not good .....

A figure had completely enveloped its thin and thin body.

'Backstab!'

[Backstab (C-): After active release, it will cause itself to circle behind the enemy, and the next attack will increase attack speed by 30% and armor penetration by 50%. ]

It's the primary ability of the Assassin again.

After Yunchen activated the skill, he directly circled its back in an instant.

Then .....

The dagger in his left hand, the Hidden Blade sticking out of his bracer to be precise, pierced the head of the goblin mage in front of him.

It stands to reason that the Blue Goblin has already cast an Cryo Shield.

If you don't break that shield, you can't deal damage to the main body.

It's a pity..... The backstab has armor penetration, and combined with Shang Yunchen's own good strength attributes, the extremely sharp blade penetrates the shield, and even his head is completely pierced.

"Roar !!".

When the goblin centurion saw this, he suddenly became more and more irritable.

The blood-bathed furious figure charged, slamming into it like a giant tank with great force.

Yunchen's face was grim, and he had no idea of fighting this boss at all.

Inexplicably, the figure in the original place turned into four doppelgangers and rushed everywhere.

'Doppelganger. '

Needless to say, the Assassin's primary skills are self-explanatory.

The goblin centurion, who was so angry that he could only be led by the nose.

With the limited wisdom of his head, he couldn't tell the truth from the fake, and after seven or eight seconds of hard work, he was finally struck by it with an axe..... Doppelganger.

Bang!

Watching the doppelganger spread out like smoke, the centurion only felt angry.

In the process, more and more of the surrounding subordinates fell in rows.

'Goblin Shaman', 'Red and Blue Goblin', 'Goblin Skuren'.....

This kind of crispy creature, with the existence of a positional threat, has completely become the soul of the revenant under Yunchen's Hidden Blade.

The ruthless backstabbing stunt, the invisibility technique that could not capture the trace, all caused great trouble to these goblins with limited brain capacity.

The most outrageous thing is that even the clone that inherits 35% of all attributes has caused a lot of casualties.

Twenty seconds later, the crispy skin in the back of the hall was swept away.

Among them, there are also some violentized centurions who were killed by mistake in the case of a gas bomb in vain for their compatriots.

"It's ..... time

."

The Goblin Centurion's boss rage is over.

Perhaps the movement here is too great, and more and more goblin cavalry have been pouring in from the passages around the hall to provide rapid support.

And Yunchen, who had finished flying the kite, had already stopped, and the scepter he held in his right hand was raised again.

Buzz!!

Six-star arrays continued to emerge in mid-air.

'Water Elemental Summon!'

The water element in the air suddenly condensed rapidly, and I saw that the elemental lifeforms in the form of water were like little giants taking shape.

'Thunder Warhawk Summons!'

Under the summoning circle, the war eagle body that had already been contracted descended from another space with lightning.

The most excessive thing is that Yunchen, who used the primary skill of the summoner profession, also came to a 'Goblin Summoning'.

Under the control of the summoning contract, the cannibalism of compatriots is naturally unavoidable.

"Kill them all. "

Yunchen gave the order.

Without the support of ranged units and spells and fellow nurses, Yunchen knew that his water elemental summon was enough to make these physical monsters eat a pot.

In addition, the Thunder Warhawk at a height of 13 is even more able to output unscrupulously.

And he himself..... Naturally, he single-handedly and concentrated on taking down this level 14 centurion.

.....

.....