

UNIVERSAL JOB CHANGE: I CHOSE JOBLESS INDIVIDUAL

Chapter 8

"Wow!!".

At this moment, there were bursts of carnival shouts from outside the audience again.

Due to Yunchen's exquisite operation, at this moment, all the teachers and students in the audience seat, and even the invigilator, did not plan to 'change the channel'.

"Assassin's pre-skill!".

"Stealth, backstabbing, doppelganger, this guy is so subtle that I can't even find a single flaw or fault. "

"It's textbook-like. "

Even the strict Assassin instructor praised it from the bottom of his heart.

"It's worthy of being a combat all-rounder, but I didn't expect this wrist to hide a hidden blade. "

"He can use any weapon!"

Stepping on the wind, a chic and deadly sword.

Subtle magic.

A treacherous psychedelic way of assassination.

Lots of weapons, all of them proficient.

This is not a game, even if it is the same level of skill, put it on everyone, due to the problem of personal proficiency, it may play a different effect.

For example, Yunchen's wind slash can see blood and seal his throat, and he will not spare a sword to harvest monsters.

And on another person, I am afraid that I will not be able to accurately cut my throat.

As long as the blade is deflected and cannot land on the monster's vital point, it will not be able to make the monster die, and the skill cooldown will not be refreshed.

Normally, it would be too difficult to replicate Yunchen's operations.

"And the way Senior Yun flies a kite is really beautiful. "

"It's really handsome, this centurion boss didn't hit an effective attack in a berserk state, and was completely walked up as a dog. "

"In the process of walking the dog, I also solved a number of mages, shamans, and grenadier units by the way. "

"Handsome!".

"I just want to watch a blockbuster movie, or a TOP10 short film, and my blood is boiling when I watch it. "

This is not a low evaluation.

In fact, the teachers at Shinonome High School feel the same way.

As a key high school teacher in the city, the teachers have good strength, and they naturally feel that there are many mistakes and mistakes when they look at the students' battles and operations.

But..... In Yunchen's body, he felt that it was very cool to watch his battle.

No attack is superfluous.

Every step is just right.

If you compare it to a great movie, you can't even cut a part of it and throw it away.

Chic and free, leisurely strolling, worthy of the all-round combat talent.

"Here, it's a summoner's primary skill!".

Soon

Under this overwhelming battle, everyone can see that Yunchen on the screen has released multiple summoning arrays.

"Three water elemental spirits, wonderful, elemental units restrain physical units, at least exempt a lot of physical damage, goblin cavalry and warriors are considered useless. "

"There is also the appearance of the Thunder Warhawk, the level is actually level 13, and most of the throwers are gone, and the goblins can't reach the warhawk in mid-air."

"Rely on

"And the classic Goblin Summon, there are seven of them, this is to make them kill each other, inexplicably happy. "

Historically, the Summoner unit has been jokingly referred to as the least operational and technical class.

It is also known as the tyrant profession.

It all depends on the strength of the contract creatures, and if you have money, you can even contract a lot of powerful creatures.

Of course, limited by his own level and strength, he naturally can't contract with creatures from another world that exceed his own level too much.

Not

The jobless scattered people on the screen are based on the contract creatures they have on hand.

Create favorable environmental conditions for your own summoning in advance.

For this alone, many summoners don't even have a concept of this.

"Who said that the summoner profession has no gold content, look at how people play. "

A teacher who teaches the summoner profession used this to teach sophomores.

"Here it is.... The most exciting boss battles. " centurion's fury is over, and now, the unemployed man has stopped and is ready to take out the boss.

The

There was no chance to rest at all, and the centurion boss, who had already been angry above his head, launched a charge under the roar!

The huge physique, which was like a small mountain bag, directly set off a great momentum at the moment of activation.

Only this time..... At the moment when it was activated, Yunchen had already taken something from his backpack space and threw it away.

[Entrap (C-): Lay a trap that can bind enemy heroes for 2 seconds.]

This is a prerequisite initial skill for the 'mechanic' profession.

At the moment when the centurion charged, the trap device that suddenly landed on the front foot was stepped on by him.

BANG!!

The clip-shaped trap immediately clamped the centurion's right foot, and the surging force of its internal machinery tightly restrained the opponent and prevented it from moving.

The blow that should have been launched to charge towards Yunchen was easily defused by him.

And that's just the beginning

Whoosh!!

Almost instantly, the scepter held high in Yun Chen's hand had unleashed a blazing fireball technique.

The blow was a direct blow to the opponent's head.

"Post-.....".

The Goblin Centurion roared, instinctively holding his hands high in front of his skull, blocking his view, barely holding out the fireball with its feet bound.

It's just that the damage of this blow has completely torn the armor of its hands, and a pair of arms are dripping with blood.

After the force under his feet completely dissipated and the trap was ineffective, the centurion took a step forward in anger.

But this step to fall

Boom!!

Huge explosives blasted from under its feet, and the centurion's huge giant body was blasted out.

[Your 'Dangerous Device' has successfully triggered the knockout effect.]]

Under the pop-up prompt, it turned out that Yunchen was actually under the fireball technique, and at the same time, another skill of the 'mechanic', 'dangerous device'.

[Dangerous Device: Place a device on the ground that triggers an explosive device, and after another 3 seconds, it will detonate the area, and the enemy unit in the center of the area will trigger the knockout effect after the explosion.]]

I have to say that Yunchen's tactical arrangement is to the extreme.

Even if he completely directed the plot of this scene.

The centurion shielded his face with both hands in order to block the oncoming fireball, and as a result, he also blocked his view.

In a fit of rage, he didn't expect that the next step would fall into another trap.

The poor boss was accurately calculated by Yunchen.
