

Unrepairable Love / I married a man

Unrepairable Love Chapter 601

Elizabeth shot a quick glance at Natalia and gave a small smile. “So, you finally wrapped up filming? Grandma’s been under the weather lately. Do you think you could spend some more time with her?” She plopped down next to Natalia.

Natalia never really liked Elizabeth, mostly because she thought Elizabeth was prettier. And now, with Elizabeth sitting right next to her, she was instantly annoyed.

“Dad, can we switch seats?” she asked Charles, who was sitting beside her.

Charles frowned. “You haven’t seen Elizabeth in ages. Just chat with her! Don’t lose your temper with your family.” He knew Natalia’s temper all too well and always tried to get her to change. But bad habits died hard, and good ones were tough to pick up.

Natalia couldn’t switch seats, and Elizabeth chuckled. “Why do you seem so scared of me? The moment I show up, you want to bolt. Worried sitting next to me will make you look less pretty?” She raised an eyebrow and took a sip of water.

Elizabeth had nailed Natalia’s insecurities.

Natalia snapped. “I’m not! Stop being so full of yourself. Everyone online says I’m the top beauty!”

“Okay,” Elizabeth nodded, dropping the subject.

Natalia felt a pang of guilt. After all, Elizabeth knew Lila, the real top beauty! Elizabeth’s simple “Okay” really got under Natalia’s skin—it felt so dismissive!

Elizabeth was really over it, thinking how Natalia always ran to Charles whenever she got upset. Charles’s life used to be pretty chill, but Natalia brought a lot of drama into it.

Elizabeth shook her head and then looked over at Celine. Grant was feeding Celine, and Celine seemed so calm that Elizabeth wondered if she was just faking it.

“Is the research institute still keeping you busy?” Charles changed the topic.

Elizabeth nodded. “Yeah, but I’m getting the hang of it.” Though Blair, who Sheldon brought in, was a bit of a pain.

“Why’d you leave your good job as a doctor to run the research institute? You must be swamped,” Natalia mocked from the side.

Elizabeth was irritated. “I’m very capable. After this research, I’ve got other plans. My life’s gonna be way more exciting than yours. Why don’t you quit acting and join me?”

“No thanks, my life’s just fine! As long as she kept her cool, she’d eventually become a superstar! But she couldn’t help herself. Her online rep just wouldn’t improve. Maybe she just needed a break.

“But I heard while I was filming that you got divorced?” Natalia asked, clearly trying to provoke her.

“What’s wrong? Am I wrong?” Natalia immediately asked Rose.

Rose stayed silent.

Natalia then laughed. “Even if my words sting, it’s the truth. Elizabeth is now a divorced woman.”

Elizabeth's grip tightened on her utensils, then she looked at Natalia. "So what if I'm divorced? Is that supposed to be shameful?"

Unrepairable Love Chapter 602

Natalia couldn't stand Elizabeth because Elizabeth didn't take crap from anyone. "What did I do? Seriously, tell me. Was it something embarrassing? And what's the big deal about being divorced? Are divorced women supposed to be invisible or something? Do they not deserve respect?" She slammed her hand on the table, eyes blazing.

Who wanted to be divorced if the marriage was all sunshine and rainbows? Elizabeth thinks women who ditch crappy marriages are total badasses and deserve a standing ovation. Being stuck in a miserable marriage is like having your soul and youth in chains. Should you really throw away your whole future for that?

Elizabeth never felt like divorce made her any less. In fact, she felt more awesome after it! She went from just being Alexander's wife to being Celine's granddaughter and Rose and Declan's daughter. Isn't that enough? Does she really need to be someone's wife or mom to be considered valuable?

"I didn't say anything. Why are you so worked up?" Natalia smirked. "Besides, I think dumping Alexander was the best move. That guy's trash!" She loved pushing Elizabeth's buttons, especially when Alexander came up. She still remembered warning Elizabeth not to marry Alexander, saying she'd regret it. But Elizabeth didn't listen. And now, look, Elizabeth ended up divorced, didn't she?

"Am I worked up? I just think your views are super narrow and mean. How could someone as awesome as Charles raise a daughter like you?" Elizabeth laughed. "Oh, wait, you're not even his biological daughter."

The room went dead silent. Natalia clenched her fist and finally snapped, "Elizabeth! Don't push it. You always use that to put me down!"

"If you keep being rude, I promise I won't just stop at that," Elizabeth shot back, annoyed.

Charles was only thirty-seven, so how could he have a daughter in her twenties? Charles met Natalia on a snowy day while filming at twenty, and she was this adorable five-year-old who called him "Daddy" nonstop. Charles decided to bring her into the Percy family. Even though she was adopted,

Charles treated Natalia like gold. The Percy family knew Natalia's attitude problem. So whenever Elizabeth called her out, the Percy family stayed quiet, especially Charles. Charles actually wanted Elizabeth to put Natalia in her place more often. Because Natalia was spoiled, and her attitude got her into trouble.

Chapter 602

But Natalia didn't care, relying on her powerful dad. "Dad, she said it again. Are you gonna do something about it?" Natalia fumed, face red, chest heaving.

"Isn't Elizabeth right? And why are you always picking fights with her?" Charles didn't hold back, calling Natalia out. Natalia frowned, feeling super annoyed. If Charles didn't back her up, no one else in the family would. Natalia thought, 'Of course, Elizabeth, being a blood relative of the Percy family, was the real treasure.'

Unrepairable Love

Natalia kept her head down, munching quietly without saying a word. Rose chimed in, "Hey everyone, dig in! Don't let their squabbling bother you. Even though Natalia was brought back by Charles, she's one of us now." Declan grinned and added some food to Natalia's plate. "Natalia, don't mind what Elizabeth said. I'll have a word with her later."

Natalia's mood lifted, and she smiled. "Declan, you're the best." Declan just smiled back. Honestly, Natalia wasn't a bad kid, just a bit pampered.

Grant and Celine exchanged warm smiles with the group. Elizabeth hesitated before picking up her glass. Declan shot her a look, silently telling her to let it go. Elizabeth raised an eyebrow but relented. "Fine." She clinked glasses with Natalia.

"So, are you planning to head out again after this visit?" Celine asked Natalia.

“Good, you need the rest,” Celine nodded seriously. “If you don’t want to stay at home, you can stay with me. I’ll be around for a while.”

“Awesome, I can take care of you, Grandma,” Natalia beamed. She treasured every moment with Celine. After all, being adopted made her extra grateful for Celine’s kindness.

“Alright,” Celine nodded. The room fell silent.

Just then, the waiter brought the last dish, and laughter drifted in from outside. “Who cares about Alexander? Sure, he’s impressive, but didn’t he still end up kneeling to Elizabeth? I can’t stand him!”

Chapter 603

No one really knew why, but Kyle and Alexander were always at each other’s throats.

“Is he talking about Mr. Tudor kneeling to Elizabeth?” Natalia suddenly asked. Everyone turned to look at her.

Natalia went on, “Elizabeth liked him for so many years, and he never really committed. Now that they’re divorced, it’s only right he kneels.” Elizabeth smiled.

She thought, While Natalia may not be the most likable person most of the time, her values regarding relationships are still on point.

Chapter 604

“Damn!” A sudden, angry shout came from outside the door. Just as the waiter was about to close the door, Elizabeth heard someone yell, “Alexander! Don’t hit him!”

Elizabeth frowned. By the time she looked outside again, the door was already shut. Natalia looked surprised. “Did I just hear Kieran’s voice?” Elizabeth glanced at her. That voice did sound like Kieran’s.

“I’ll go check it out,” Natalia said, getting up to see what was happening. The door opened, and as soon as Natalia stepped out, she quickly retreated and exclaimed, “Kyle, have I been too lenient with you?”

“Alexander, stop!”

“What if I kill you?”

Each voice was more vicious than the last, echoing in everyone’s ears. Elizabeth tightened her grip on her utensils, trying to stay calm and not get distracted by the noise outside. But Charles couldn’t resist and ran out to see. Declan and Rose exchanged a glance and then looked at Elizabeth. Elizabeth stayed put.

Celine sighed. “Even having a meal, we run into Alexander.”

“Yeah,” Grant nodded, serving Celine some food. Elizabeth kept eating, still calm.

Natalia called out, “Elizabeth, aren’t you coming out to see? Alexander is fighting with someone!” Elizabeth’s previously calm heart was momentarily disturbed by Natalia’s words, but she quickly suppressed it. “No, nothing worth seeing, and I’m not interested.”

Natalia raised an eyebrow. Seeing Elizabeth unmoved, she said, “Alexander is getting beaten up too, and the other guy seems pretty fierce.”

In the silence, Kyle’s cursing reached their ears: “So what if I curse you? You’re a despicable person! Alexander, I’ll never forgive what your family has done! You deserve to miss out on the Elizabeth you fancy and to be deceived. You’re destined to live in pain, and if Elizabeth forgives you, I’ll despise her! If I were her, I’d wish you were dead!”

Natalia clicked her tongue. “Could this fight be over Elizabeth?”

Elizabeth looked up, her heart no longer calm.

Chapter 604

“Aren’t you guys eating?” she asked them. Charles cleared his throat, quickly came back, and didn’t forget to pull Natalia back as well. Then the door closed, but it couldn’t block the sound of a vase falling to the ground outside, in the hallway.

Alexander grabbed Kyle by the collar and slammed him hard against the wall. Kieran reached out to pull them apart, accidentally getting scratched on the arm by Kyle. “Enough, you two. This is a public place. What if someone takes a picture and it gets out?” he shouted. But he couldn’t hold them back.

“What are you afraid of? He wasn’t afraid of the humiliation of kneeling to a woman, and now he’s afraid of fighting me?” Kyle was extremely arrogant. Alexander tried to let it go several times, but Kyle always managed to say something that made Alexander even angrier.

“Can’t you two sit down and talk it out? What does fighting solve?” Kieran, the mediator, was exhausted.

Unrepairable Love

The waiter nearby didn't dare intervene. After all, these were big shots. Who knew what was going on between them?

Alexander let go of Kyle's collar and stepped back. Kyle had been beaten up badly; his entire right side was swollen. Alexander only suffered a small cut on his arm from the broken vase, a mere scratch. Kyle was a typical, useless troublemaker. His goods had been expelled from the port by Alexander, yet he insisted on confronting him. He knew Alexander's strength, but he simply wouldn't accept it.

“Gentlemen, please stop fighting. You’re disturbing the other guests,” the restaurant manager stepped forward, earnestly trying to mediate. “Given your status, causing a scene here is inappropriate. Let’s return to the private room and discuss whatever you need to, alright? The private room ahead belongs to the Percy Family. They’re having a family dinner. You wouldn’t want to cause a bad impression, would you?” The manager specifically mentioned the Percy Family.

Alexander looked towards the private room. At this moment, Kieran asked, “The Percy family? Is Declan with them?”

“Yes, the whole Percy family is there. You wouldn’t want them to see this and laugh at you, would you?”

Kieran paused. He seemed to have seen two people at the private room door earlier, but he didn't recognize them, and he didn't expect one of them to be Elizabeth.

He thought, ‘Elizabeth must have heard the fight outside and knew it was Alexander. Yet she didn’t even come out to take a look. And Alexander was fighting Kyle because he had disrespected Elizabeth with filthy language. And Kyle really deserved a beating!’

“Elizabeth knows you’re fighting, and she didn’t even come out to see you,” Kyle mocked.

Alexander said nothing, but his face showed his displeasure. He stared intently at the closed door, recalling running into Elizabeth at the hospital that morning, seeing her get into a car without looking back, treating him like a stranger—so heartless. Alexander mocked himself inwardly. Suddenly, he started walking forward. Seeing Alexander’s unsteady steps, Kieran quickly followed.

Chapter 605

Kyle continued to mock, “You still dream of winning Elizabeth back? Even if you keep kneeling to her, you won’t succeed! Since you love kneeling so much, why not start a livestream of it? I’ll definitely tip you!” His voice was full of ridicule.

Kieran glanced at him. “Kyle, that’s enough. Do you really think Alexander can’t do anything to you?”

“Shut up,” Kyle cursed maniacally. Indeed, since his goods were returned, he had gradually gone mad.

Kieran was annoyed but didn’t stoop to Kyle’s level. He quickly followed Alexander into the elevator.

Kyle laughed heartily, feeling happier than ever for having beaten Alexander. Just as he was about to leave, Elizabeth opened the door and came out. She looked at Kyle, and Kyle looked at her. "You came out."

For some reason, Elizabeth suddenly found Kyle very annoying. Would it be too much to give Kyle a beating?

Chapter 606

"What suggestion?" Elizabeth strolled over to Kyle, a sly smile playing in her eyes. Kyle wasn't bad-looking; he kinda had his own unique charm. But right now, his face was all twisted and nasty, super unpleasant. As Elizabeth got closer, he was about to repeat himself. But something felt off about her, like she had a mission. Kyle frowned and started to back up.

Elizabeth grabbed him by the collar, still smiling. "Let's chat in the lounge." She headed towards the nearby lounge. Two waiters were in there. They saw Elizabeth and Kyle and were about to greet them, but Elizabeth waved them off.

Kyle frowned, confused. What was so important that the waiters had to leave? It made sense for the waiters to go, but why was she still holding his collar? This wasn't the Elizabeth he knew. The waiters left.

Kyle forced a smile. "What's this about? Given our status, it's inappropriate. The waiters might get the wrong idea." He glanced at the door.

Elizabeth raised an eyebrow and politely asked the waiters at the door, "Could you close the door for us? Thanks."

Kyle squinted. "No, Elizabeth, this makes it even harder to explain."

"Really?" Elizabeth grinned. "Isn't it better if it's harder to explain?"

Kyle swallowed hard. As soon as the door shut, Elizabeth shoved Kyle onto the sofa. Kyle's heart raced. He hadn't expected Elizabeth to be so bold! He swallowed again, loosening his tie, leaning back on the sofa. Elizabeth smiled at him, silently unbuttoning her jacket and tossing it onto a chair.

Kyle's mind raced. He thought, 'Not only is Elizabeth not getting back with Alexander, but now she wants to hook up with his enemy.' Kyle was laughing inside. Elizabeth raised an eyebrow, seeing Kyle's eager expression. She asked, "Ready?"

Kyle nodded. "Go ahead."

Elizabeth squinted. How shameless can Kyle be? she thought. Then she didn't hold back and slapped him hard across the face. Kyle was stunned. He looked at Elizabeth, shocked. What was she doing?

Elizabeth smiled. "How's that for strength?" Kyle was dumbfounded. Was this some weird kink of hers? He touched his mouth, which was numb from the slap. But he could handle it.

Seeing him silent, Elizabeth asked, "Not strong enough?" Before Kyle could answer, she shook her arm, pressed his neck with one hand, knelt on one knee beside him, and slapped him hard again! The slap echoed like the world went silent just to hear it. Now Kyle was really stunned and in pain. His mouth bled, and the taste was awful.

"Elizabeth, what's wrong with you?" Kyle looked at her, confused. Even if she had a kink, she wouldn't beat him to death, right?

"Was it too strong?" Elizabeth asked, looking concerned. She thought, 'Where did he get the nerve to think I'd want to sleep with him?'

Unrepairable Love Chapter 607

"It hurts," Kyle groaned. Elizabeth chuckled. "Good, it should." She clenched her fist tighter. Kyle squinted. "Wait a minute!" He grabbed Elizabeth's wrist, totally confused. "Elizabeth, what kind of kink is this?" They hadn't even hooked up yet, and she was already roughing him up? Elizabeth blinked. "I don't have any kinks." She was just in a bad mood and picked him to take it out on.

Kyle didn't get a chance to ask more. Elizabeth punched him straight in the face. Kyle was stunned. This time, Elizabeth didn't let him react. She pinned his neck and kept punching him hard! Kyle finally got it—Elizabeth was here just to beat him up! But why? He hadn't done anything to her. "Elizabeth! Enough!" he shouted, his mouth already bloody. Elizabeth didn't let him speak and punched him again. Then she stood up and lifted Kyle.

Kyle was completely shocked. At six feet tall, he couldn't believe Elizabeth lifted him so easily! Elizabeth dragged Kyle to the window and opened it. The cold wind rushed in, making Kyle shiver. Elizabeth, though, was burning up and didn't feel the cold at all. She looked outside, then back at Kyle. She pushed half of his body out the window.

Kyle was stunned, unable to speak as the wind rushed into his mouth. His throat felt locked up, super uncomfortable. "Uncomfortable?" Elizabeth asked. Kyle gritted his teeth. How could he not be? "Kyle, you know I despise you," Elizabeth said.

How could Kyle know? Just a moment ago, he thought Elizabeth wanted to hook up. "Actually, when I first met you, I thought you were pretty cool," Elizabeth frowned. "For some people, the more you get to know them, the more you think they're awesome, so awesome that you feel unworthy to be their friend. But there are also people—the more you get to know them, the more you find them annoying, and you can't stand them at all!"

Kyle's face turned sour. Couldn't Elizabeth just say she found him more and more annoying? Elizabeth pursed her lips and asked, "Do you get what I mean? Mr. Brooks, someone as smart as you must understand." She pushed Kyle further out. Kyle had to speak up, "Elizabeth! Stop it." He was scared now. Elizabeth was really strong. He felt extremely uncomfortable, as if his blood had stopped flowing throughout his body, a truly unsettling sensation.

"Elizabeth. Let me go. I know why you don't like me," he stammered. Elizabeth asked, "Why?" She didn't even know why she didn't like Kyle. And Kyle knew it? She wanted to hear why. Kyle looked at Elizabeth, gasping for breath, and said, "Isn't it because I targeted Alexander?"

Chapter 608

Elizabeth's face scrunched up, and her grip on Kyle's neck tightened. She thought, "Did Kyle get his brains knocked out?"

"Even though you keep saying you don't love Alexander anymore, Elizabeth, deep down, you're still defending him," Kyle said, swallowing blood in his mouth, his voice raspy.

Elizabeth looked at Kyle and smirked. "Keep going with your little theory." She was curious to see what else Kyle had up his sleeve. Was he seriously

Sure, she liked Alexander, but she always remembered she was a girl. Girls were supposed to be protected, not fight for guys. They wouldn't be valued if they did that. From high school until now, Elizabeth had never once fought for Alexander! She didn't do it before, and she wasn't about to start now.

"Elizabeth, I say you still love Alexander. Do you dare to deny it?" Kyle glared at her.

Elizabeth grinned. "Kyle, I say you're nuts. Do you dare to deny that?"

"I'm asking you a question!" Kyle snapped.

"I'm asking you one too. Why don't you answer me?" Elizabeth raised an eyebrow and leaned in closer to Kyle.

Kyle didn't dare push her any further because he could feel his feet starting to lift off the ground. If Elizabeth used just a bit more force, she might actually push him off! Even though the floor wasn't very high, a fall could still be fatal. He'd either end up disabled or with brain damage! And he hadn't avenged his parents yet, nor had he defeated Alexander.

"Elizabeth, calm down. I won't go after Alexander anymore, just let me go," Kyle said, trying to sound weak.

Elizabeth glanced at him and said, "I was just giving you a scare." Then she let go of Kyle.

Kyle was shocked that she was just trying to scare him.

"Kyle, the reason I beat you up is because your conversation with Alexander just now annoyed me. It's not because you insulted Alexander, but because I always felt you were disrespecting me too," Elizabeth said, shaking her wrist.

Kyle watched as Elizabeth went to get a wet wipe to clean her hand. It was like she had touched something gross, wiping each fingertip meticulously, which made Kyle feel like trash.

Chapter 608

Yeah, in Elizabeth's eyes, he really was trash!

“Kyle, apologize to me,” Elizabeth said, looking at him.

Kyle laughed. How had he disrespected Elizabeth? His intention was always to go after Alexander. Just now, Alexander beat him up, and now Elizabeth beat him up, and after all that, she still wanted him to apologize to her.

“Elizabeth, you hit me. Don’t be ridiculous,” he said angrily.

“Am I ridiculous? Or are you even more ridiculous? Doesn’t your behavior today deserve a beating? Kyle, when you’re out, you need to be a bit more low-key. You’re too arrogant like this. Next time I see you, I might beat you up again,” Elizabeth said, spreading her hands, her eyes smiling but ice-cold.

Kyle looked at her face and shivered. Elizabeth’s smile was so beautiful and gentle, but when she hit, each punch was heavier than the last! Kyle had always thought Elizabeth was a gentle and obedient woman. But the way she had just beaten him really shattered his perception of her. How could Elizabeth be like this?

Unrepairable Love

“Alright, catch you later. And whether I rough you up next time isn’t just about how low-key you are; it also depends on my mood,” Elizabeth flashed a sly smile and waved at Kyle. She pushed open the door and bumped into Natalia, who was looking for her.

“Where did you go? Everyone was waiting for you to leave together!” Natalia asked, clearly annoyed.

Natalia peeked into the lounge but didn’t spot Kyle. Kyle, on the other hand, was fuming. He rushed to the mirror, and when he saw his reflection, he almost cried. His face was swollen, and his body ached all over. Especially when Elizabeth had shoved him toward the window, his head felt like it was buzzing. Now his head throbbed like he’d been hit by a cold wind. He quickly reached for his phone to make a call. But when he reached into his pocket, he was stunned to find his phone missing.

Meanwhile, Elizabeth was heading downstairs, and Kyle's phone in her hand started ringing. The caller ID said 'Assistant,' and Elizabeth promptly hit the hang-up button. The phone was locked, and she couldn't get in. She raised an eyebrow, thought for a moment, and told Rose, "Mom, you guys head home first. I have something to take care of."

"What do you need to do at this hour?" Rose asked, concerned.

"I'll be back soon," Elizabeth patted Rose's arm reassuringly. "Charles, text me when you get home," she said to Charles before quickly leaving.

Natalia squinted, watching Elizabeth's back, and snorted. She thought, 'Did Elizabeth meet a new guy?'

At Base M.

When Elizabeth arrived, Oliver and Felix were in the lounge, munching on snacks. Seeing Elizabeth, they quickly wiped their mouths and called out, "Bess!" Wondering why she was there so late.

"Oliver, help me unlock this phone," Elizabeth handed the phone to Oliver. Oliver took it and got to work.

"Whose phone is it?" Felix asked.

"Kyle's," Elizabeth replied.

Felix looked puzzled. "How'd you end up with Kyle's phone?"

"I've never stolen anything before, so I thought I'd give it a try," Elizabeth said with a grin.

"Did Kyle piss you off?" Felix felt a bit sorry for Kyle.

He thought, Kyle definitely doesn't want to mess with Elizabeth, and he sure doesn't want her to have his phone. She'd mess with him big time.

"Not really, I just find him annoying," Elizabeth said. "How do you know him?" she suddenly asked Felix, curious.

Felix laughed. "I guess you haven't been keeping up with the news!"

Elizabeth blinked, confused. "What news?"

She quickly pulled out her phone to check if there was any news about Kyle.

C 610

Elizabeth opened Instagram, and the first thing she saw was a post about Kyle and Alexander. Apparently, Kyle and Alexander had gotten into a brawl at a restaurant! Someone had recorded the whole thing, and even though the post claimed they were fighting each other, the video showed Alexander doing most of the hitting. Kyle didn't even get a chance to fight back; Alexander was all over him.

The rumor mill was churning: The Tudor Group's CEO, Alexander, and an unknown man got into a fight! Rumor had it that it was because of Elizabeth.

Elizabeth rolled her eyes at the news. She thought, "How could it be because of me? People just love to make stuff up!"

"Oliver, is it done?" Elizabeth asked.

"Almost, give me a second," Oliver replied.

"Why do you need Kyle's phone?" Felix asked, looking at Elizabeth.

Elizabeth and Felix exchanged a glance and laughed. Once she had Kyle's phone, the first thing Elizabeth did was open Instagram. Sure enough, Kyle's Instagram was his personal account. He was quite a prominent figure, after all. Elizabeth quickly posted an update using Kyle's account:

I saw the news online, and I want to clarify. I did get into a fight with Mr. Tudor, and it was mainly my fault. Mr. Tudor was right to hit me. However, it wasn't because of Elizabeth. Elizabeth is fine, and I hope people won't mention her frequently in the future. I take full responsibility for misusing public resources. I sincerely apologize and hope everyone has a good day.

After posting on Instagram, Elizabeth clapped her hands and set the phone onto the coffee table. Felix and Oliver saw the post and gave Elizabeth a thumbs-up.

Meanwhile, Alexander saw the post and was totally confused, leaving his PR team stunned and unsure how to respond. Was Kyle doing this on purpose, or was he really apologizing? It seemed like he was serious.

At the Brooks Family home, Kyle saw the post and was furious about Elizabeth's behavior. He hated her! He thought, Does she have a grudge against me? She even dared to use my phone to post such an update? By using my Instagram account to post this, Elizabeth is trying to ruin me!

Kyle immediately messaged Alexander: "The Instagram post wasn't on me, Alexander. I would never apologize to you!"

Alexander replied: "(Kyle, you really love to act.)"

Meanwhile, Elizabeth didn't care about the developments on Instagram.

"Everyone is talking about Kyle's statement," Felix said. He had warned before: don't mess with Elizabeth for no reason.

Elizabeth suddenly remembered something and picked up Kyle's phone. She realized she could also access Kyle's Facebook. But she was a person of principles and wouldn't invade Kyle's privacy by going into his Facebook, even though she really wanted to post the same update there. Kyle seemed to live a very clean life, with only a few racing games and no other social media platforms.

Elizabeth propped her face on her hand, getting even angrier as she thought about how Kyle used to send her anonymous messages. This time, she was wrong, but she had to teach him a lesson.

Then her phone rang. An anonymous number originating from Azurea. Elizabeth didn't need to think to know it was Kyle. She pressed the answer button and put it on speaker.
