

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 381

"Ren, it really is you! I finally see you again."

The man was none other than Renee's despicable uncle, Elon

Barnes. "You again?"

Renee snorted. "Leave me alone, you lowlife. Every time I come to visit my parents, you're always here."

"Sigh, you're right, Ren, I am a lowlife. But thank god, I come here to wait for you every year and now I finally get to see you again..."

Elon wiped away his tears and said, "You have no idea what I've been through all these years. I missed you so much!" Renee sneered, "Missed me? More like you missed my money."

"Ugh..."

Elon rubbed his chin, feeling a bit awkward.

"What's the matter? You've already finished the 7 million dollars Stefan gave you four years ago?" "Oh, those? They're long gone!"

Elon waved his hand and said regretfully, "I thought I'd use that money to invest in the stock market and make even more money, but luck wasn't on my side... I lost it all in the last two years. I've lost everything."

"Is that so? Well, it's none of my business."

A mocking smile crept onto Renee's face. "You wouldn't be so naive to think that I would actually help you out, right?" She was not a saint.

She still vividly remembered what Elon did to the Everheart family. She was already showing him mercy not settling the scores with him afterwards.

"No, that's not it. I'm a new man now. I've turned over a new leaf and I'm now making an honest living. The reason I come here to wait for you every year is because I care about our relationship as a family. I hope we can let bygones be bygones and become a loving family again."

Elon's words were quite sincere.

Four years could indeed change a lot of things.

At least the Elon now was no longer the despicable lowlife that he once was. His changes impressed Renee.

"Oh, how are you making an honest living now?" "It's all thanks to your husband's help!"

Elon spoke of Stefan with unbridled admiration. "Four years ago, I lost all my money, and I didn't know where you were. I didn't know what to do, so I shamelessly went to Mr. Hunt for help. Not only did he give me more money, he also gave me a job. I'm now working as a workshop manager at a small processing factory under the H Group, earning tens of thousands of dollars a year!"

"Stefan would do something like that?" Renee was surprised.

"Not only is he kind, he's also caring!"

Elon continued, "For the past few years, he's the first to come here to visit your parents' grave on their death anniversary. Look at this row of flower bouquets. Aren't they grand? They're from him. He would come here personally every year, rain or shine!"

"So... it really is him!"

Renee looked at the row of flowers with mixed feelings.

Although she no longer had any feelings for that man, she felt touched knowing that he actually had such a "human" side to him. That means he was also the one who dropped the amber pendant.

"Ren, I'm so happy to see you again. Allow me to treat you and Mr. Hunt to a meal to celebrate our reunion and to show my gratitude!"

Without waiting for Renee's reply, Elon took out his phone and called Stefan.

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 382

"You have Stefan Hunt's number? That's surprising." Renee was indeed surprised.

The Stefan she remembered was distant, indifferent, and unfriendly. He would not give others his phone number easily, nor would he arrange work for his friends and relatives.

She did not expect him to take special care of his ex-wife's uncle!

While waiting for the call to be picked up, Elon said with some pride, "Well, we're family, and I'm his elder after all. He would at the very least show me this much respect."

Unfortunately, reality soon hit Elon in the face.

The phone rang for a long time without being picked up. He called again, but this time, it was instantly disconnected. Renee crossed her arms and couldn't help but snort. "Yeah, I can definitely see how much respect he's showing you." "Ahem!"

Elon awkwardly cleared his throat and explained, "My nephew-in-law is a CEO, so he's a busy man. I'll call him again in the afternoon. He usually answers. Even if he doesn't show me respect, he'll show you respect."

"Elon, I'll remind you that Stefan and I have been divorced for many years. Stop calling him your nephew-in-law. I don't want anyone to get the wrong idea. If you want to leech off him, I can't stop you, but don't drag me into this!"

Renee's tone was very serious.

"I understand. I should have been more careful with my wording. It's my bad..."

Elon slapped his lips a few times and said humbly, "But you must let me treat you and Mr. Hunt to a meal today. I've been feeling guilty about how I treated you and your mother for years. I've now turned over a new leaf.

From now on, I'll be a good father, a good husband, and a good uncle. If I don't treat you to this meal, I won't be able to make peace with myself. Please allow me this for your mother's sake." it n

Renee looked Elon up and down without a word.

She could see that her worthless, lowlife uncle had changed considerably.

At least he was no longer wearing branded clothes even though he was poor. He was dressed in simple clothes now. Looking at his dusty appearance, he was probably working hard to support his family.

Elon was her mother's only sibling. She had always treated him like a son and had hoped that he would one day come to his senses and carry the Barnes family flag well.

When tragedy befell the Everheart family, Elon had cut all ties with the Everheart family because he was afraid he would get dragged into their problems, but if he really had turned over a new leaf, Renee could still find it in her to forgive him.

Seeing Renee remain silent for a long time, Elon cautiously asked, "Ren, are you unwilling to have a meal with Mr. Hunt because you haven't gotten over him yet?"

Renee smiled coldly. 'Do I look like I haven't gotten over him yet?" 'You do, actually!"

Elon analyzed her situation as an experienced man, "The matter between men and women is actually not a big deal. If you've gotten over it, you wouldn't care. You'd only act awkwardly if you haven't gotten over it..."

"You don't dare to see him. That means you haven't gotten over him... In that case, why don't I help you out a bit? I feel like Mr. Hunt hasn't gotten over you either."

Elon's words made a lot of sense, and Renee could not immediately find the argument to refute them.

She suddenly felt like she was being too childish, so she shrugged casually and said, "Fine, it's just a meal. I don't really care."

It was only a matter of time before they met anyway. Why not do it openly? She could also use this chance to return the amber pendant to him.

"Great! Your aunt and your cousin Mandy will definitely be ecstatic to see you again... Especially Mandy. You're her idol! She talks about you every day. She nags at me to find you so much that my ears are getting calluses."

"Mandy should be 18 years old this year, right?"

'That's right. She turned 18 a few days ago. Her birthday wish was to see you again soon. Who knew it would come true so quickly!"

Renee nodded. "Then, let's go. I really want to see Auntie and Mandy again."

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 383

Mandy Barnes was Elon's only daughter. When she was a little girl, she followed Renee everywhere. She was very fond of Renee.

Unfortunately, when Elon turned on the Everheart family, he forbade Mandy to keep in touch with Renee, or the two of them would have been even closer.

Elon's house was located in an ordinary community in the Eastern Third Ring District, It was a house of about 80 square meters that had three bedrooms and a living room. It was an ordinary house, but it was very cozy.

When Renee entered the house, her aunt, Hannah Johnson, was cleaning some vegetables in the kitchen, while her cousin, Mandy, was singing in her room.

"Guys, look who's here!"

Elon shouted with a booming voice and a smile on his face.

The mother and daughter came to the living room. When they saw Renee, their eyes almost popped out in surprise. "Ren! It really is you! I've wanted to see you for so long! This is awesome!"

Mandy gave Renee a big hug and said excitedly, 'Ren, we haven't seen each other for about seven years. Where have you been? Dad goes to the cemetery every year, hoping to see you there. He said, no matter where you were, you would return to visit your parents' graves one day. And he's right!"

Renee smiled. "You're all grown up now, Mandy. The last time I saw you, you were still a little girl!"

Mandy was eighteen years old this year. She was filled with youthful vitality.

"Auntie Hannah, long time no see."

Renee greeted Hannah politely.

"Indeed!"

Hannah was a homely housewife. She wiped her hands on her apron, somewhat embarrassed, and said, "I'm happy you're back."

"Make yourself at home, Renee. Hannah, today is a special day. Please prepare some good wine and good food. Renee's not our only guest today. Mr. Hunt will also be coming later!"

Elon urged Hannah back to the kitchen to cook.

"What? Mr. Hunt is coming too? But... but..."

Hannah was so nervous that she stuttered.

To them, Stefan Hunt was like a god living in the clouds, too high for them to reach. She would never have expected this god to descend to the mortal realm to visit their humble abode.

"But what? No matter what, Mr. Hunt is Ren's ex-husband who has taken care of us for many years. Isn't it normal for him to come for a meal? Hurry up and go prepare the food. Make sure the meal's not too shabby or it would be embarrassing."

"Okay, I'll go right now."

Hannah marched into the kitchen like she was about to face a formidable enemy.

Mandy asked, 'Dad, are you sure Mr. Hunt would come? He's a CEO while you're just a nobody to him. Why would he come to your house?"

"What do you know?"

Elon glared at Mandy and said, "Even if Mr. Hunt wouldn't come here for me, he would come for your beloved cousin. Renee has suddenly returned after disappearing for four years. Of course he would come see her."

Mandy nodded and said, "That's right. Although Mr. Hunt is cold, he does take special care of our family. If it weren't for him, I wouldn't have made it into the BC Arts Academy. I'm sure he hasn't gotten over Ren yet!"

The two father and daughter began to seriously discuss how much Stefan couldn't get over Renee. Their conversation made Renee speechless. She did not chime in.

Time was the best medicine. It had already been four years. The bridge that connected them had long burned away. There was nothing one could not forget in four years.

Elon took out his phone and said, 'Til call Mr. Hunt again. We'll find out soon enough." This time, the phone rang only a few times before it was picked up.

A man's deep, cold voice came from the other end, "What's the matter?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 384

The voice that Renee had not heard for four years was still as cold and distant as she remembered it to be. Renee listened quietly, with a calm expression and no inner turmoil.

"Umm, M-Mr. Hunt, sorry to bother you..."

Elon did not expect Stefan to pick up this fast, so he got nervous and stammered incoherently, "It's like this... My niece, Renee, just got back to Beach City today. It's a real surprise to see her again after she disappeared for so many years. You've taken good care of me in the last few years, so I want to invite you to my house for a meal together with Renee. You..."

'There's no need."

Stefan, on the other end of the phone, refused without any hesitation or emotion.

After that, without saying anything else, he hung up the phone.

"But Mr. Hunt... Mr. Hunt?"

Elon called out to him a few more times but the only response he got was the sound of a disconnected call. He tried calling again, but it seemed like Stefan had blocked him.

"Ren, don't mind it... Mr. Hunt must be busy. He's a CEO after all. I'll try again with Mandy's phone later."

Elon glanced at Renee with a guilty and awkward expression, afraid that Renee might feel hurt.

He did not expect Stefan, who had always taken good care of the Barnes family, to suddenly become so unfriendly. It was obvious that he was avoiding Renee. Renee must feel really bad about it!

"It doesn't matter!"

Renee shrugged and smiled. "If he comes, we'll prepare a seat for him. If he doesn't, I'll eat more. It's no big deal."

Renee was not playing it cool. Stefan was just a stranger she used to know now. He could not stir any emotion in her.

Mandy's brows furrowed as a disappointed expression crept onto her face. She shook her head repeatedly. "TskTsk Tsk, I was wrong about him. He should man up. He doesn't even have the guts to have a simple meal with Ren, when Ren is okay with it."

Elon said, "You brat, what do you know? I stand by my opinion. If you've gotten over it, you wouldn't care. You'd only act awkwardly if you haven't gotten over it. Mr. Hunt has always been a straightforward guy. For him to suddenly act like this, it must be because he hasn't gotten over Ren, so he's not ready to meet her yet. I'll ask him again sometime!"

Renee chuckled and said, "You're overthinking it. Isn't it normal for a high- and-mighty CEO like him to refuse to eat with us ordinary folks? Besides... our relationship is so awkward. It's understandable that he would want to avoid me to avoid any misunderstanding with his current partner."

'That's true!"

Mandy rubbed her chin and nodded, "In recent years, he has been in a stable relationship with that Desrosiers woman. Reporters often catch them out on a date or on a vacation. I think he must have forgotten about you by now."

"No, no, I don't think it's like that..."

Elon held a different opinion. "I'm a man so I know men. If a man has really gotten over a woman, he wouldn't take care of the woman's family. Mr. Hunt has taken good care of us all these years and he visits your parents' graves every year. He doesn't look like he's gotten over you."

'Then why refuse to even share a meal with Ren? Why find a new girlfriend? Doesn't that make him a scumbag?"

Mandy suddenly became enthusiastic. She grabbed Elon's hand and said, "Dad, wanna bet? I bet Mr. Hunt already got over Ren..."

"No, no, I already quit gambling!"

"It's fine. If you win, I'll do the dishes for a whole year!"

"Oh, that's fine. In that case, I bet Mr. Hunt has NOT gotten over Ren. If you don't believe me, just wait and see..."

The father and daughter argued heatedly and even made a bet.

Renee did not know whether to laugh or cry. She quietly withdrew from the battlefield and walked around the house.

Elon's house was not luxurious. It was a simple house but very cozy. Being in the house somehow made her feel warm and relaxed.

On the piano rack in the study, there was a family portrait. Elon's family of three, Renee's family of three, and her dead grandparents were all in it.

Renee stopped in front of the portrait and stared at it for a long time. Her eyes gradually turned red.

She was in her teens in the photo. Her parents were young and beautiful. That was the happiest time in her life.

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 385

Now, she had been through storms and hell, and was riddled with wounds and scars. There was no way to go back to those innocent, carefree days now...

"Ren, look at you and auntie back then. You're both so beautiful that you glowed. You look completely different from us, as if your genes have mutated."

Mandy had come in at some point. She sighed looking at the family portrait.

"Nonsense. You're beautiful too. As expected of a girl from our Barnes family."

Renee turned around and held Mandy's face, that still had some baby fat, in her hands while praising Mandy from the bottom of her heart.

Mandy's facial features were not stunning, but they were very soft and lovely, and they drew people in.

It was a face that would do very well in the entertainment industry because it would be popular with the general public. She was blessed!

"Hehe, I agree with that. I'm beautiful too. Let me tell you a secret, Ren. I'm actually an influencer that has over two million fans online. My ID on TikTok is Cutie Pie. Let me show you!"

While saying that, Mandy opened the TikTok app and proudly showed it to

Renee. The young woman was not bragging. She really did have over 2.2 million fans!

'That's amazing!"

She gave Mandy a thumbs up, then told her seriously, ' But you should still prioritize your studies. The BC Arts Academy is a good school. You must study hard after you enroll, alright?"

"I know. The BC Arts Academy only accepted me because of Mr. Hunt. I'll work hard so that I don't embarrass you and Mr. Hunt!" Mandy patted her chest and promised earnestly.

Then, she asked cautiously, 'Ren, are you feeling sad or disappointed right now?" Renee looked puzzled. 'Why would I be?"

'You used to love Mr. Hunt so much, but now that you're finally back after being gone for four years, he wouldn't even have a meal with you. That's so heartless. Anyone would feel sad about that."

'You said it yourself, I used to. Now, I've nearly even forgotten what he looks like. I honestly don't care." "I'm glad to hear that..."

Mandy suddenly had a bold idea. She whispered in Renee's ear. Renee's expression was awkward. "Is that... really okay?"

"Of course it is!"

Mandy clasped her hands together and begged Renee, "Please, Ren, help me out this one time. If we succeed, I'll be grateful to you forever!"

"Alright."

Renee could only reluctantly agree. The headquarters of H Group.

Employees all across the company went crazy watching Renee's viral video on their phones. "Aaaah, isn't that the CEO's wife who vanished without a trace? She's back!"

"Oh my god, Mrs. Hunt is so cool!"

"Is there still hope? Could the ancient ship that I stan be coming back to life?"

Elijah was also one of the many people who were gossiping about it. He rushed into the CEO's office holding his phone, looking extremely excited.

"Mr. Hunt, this is huge! Have you seen the trending topic on Twitter?! Hurry up and take a look!"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter

386 "I've seen it."

Stefan was working at his desk. He replied calmly without lifting his eyes.

Four years had left no trace on his perfectly handsome face, except it was maybe even colder

now. "You... you've seen it?"

Elijah found it hard to believe. He boldly said, "No way. If you've seen it, there's no way this is how you react."

The trending topic was about Renee Everheart, the woman who had disappeared for four years and the woman Mr. Hunt could not stop thinking about for four years. This was his reaction?!

Stefan finally raised his head. He slowly put the lid back on his pen and twirled it with his long fingers. "How should I have reacted?"

"If you had seen the trending topic, you would have gone to meet up with Miss Everheart already. At the very least, you should be so excited that you would be freaking out... There's no way you would remain this calm!"

Elijah was emotional and puzzled.

"What does she have to do with me? Why must I meet up with her just because she's returned to Beach City?"

Stefan's questions struck Elijah dumb.

"Well..."

Stefan snorted. "Do I look like I haven't gotten over her?" "Uhh... you do!"

At the risk of being thrown out, Elijah murmured, "Although you try to act like you're fine, and you're doing a good job of that, you secretly stare at her picture every night. You also get crazy whenever you're drunk and would bawl your eyes out while grabbing onto me. Don't you remember that just last month, you..."

"Shut up!"

Stefan's expression darkened. He coldly interrupted Elijah. "She's not that important to me. She's just a passerby in my life. It doesn't concern me where she is, and I have no intention of meeting with her. Don't mention her in front of me ever again!"

"But..."

"If you have so much free time, I don't mind giving you more work. If that's all, then get out!"

Stefan suddenly got mad and Elijah could feel an even bigger storm coming, so he did not dare say anything else. He quickly withdrew from the CEO's office.

Outside, a group of executives were pacing back and forth, waiting to feed on the latest gossip. "So? Did Mr. Hunt get emotional? Did he cry?"

"When will they meet? Will their love rekindle?"

Elijah did not say anything. He merely shrugged and looked helpless.

It could not be helped. Their CEO was very hard to read. No one could tell what he was thinking!

After Stefan shoed Elijah away, just as he was about to go back to his work, his phone rang. The first person to call was Xavier. His shouting almost shattered Stefan's eardrum.

"Stefan, look at today's trending topic! It's your little darling wife! After disappearing for four years, she's transformed into a bombshell! Her face, her figure, her aura... No man can withstand her charm! When will you..."

Stefan hung up with a snap before Xavier could finish talking.

Immediately afterwards, Christopher called.

"Stef, Miss Everheard is back. Are you okay?" Stefan said coldly, "I'm fine."

"Are you sure? Do you want to go grab a drink?" "I'm fine."

"I don't think you are. After all, the last few years, you've..." "I need to take care of something. Talk to you later." Stefan quickly ended the conversation.

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 387

He was scared to continue the conversation. With how understanding Christopher was being, he felt like he would get depressed and burst into tears any moment!

Calls came one after another, but Stefan did not pick up his phone again. Instead, he turned it off to get some quiet.

Stefan took off his rimless glasses and leaned against his expensive office chair, looking up at the white ceiling. He suddenly felt a little tired.

He rubbed the space between his eyebrows with his long fingers. The tall bridge of his nose made his face appear even more handsome, more defined, and more profound.

Over the last four years, he had disguised himself as an ice-cold machine, going through his daily routine like clockwork. His life was filled with work and more work - no joys, no sorrows, no... life.

Outsiders may think he was unhappy, but he actually enjoyed the feeling - the feeling of being in control of everything.

'But... damn you, Renee Everheart. Why have you suddenly come back after disappearing without a word for four years?'

Besides, what did it have to do with him? Why would everybody think that just because she came back, he would go look for her like a loyal dog?

No, he would not do that, thank you very much!

Stefan took a deep breath and tried to not let a certain "unimportant" person affect his mood. He turned on the computer expressionlessly and went back to his work.

Recently, the H Group was about to release a new generation of smartphone called the ME2350.

For the first time ever, this phone would adopt the G6 high-speed chip independently developed by the KCL Group. It was a futuristic innovation in the entire electronic technology industry.

Presently, this phone was still in the testing stage, and once testing was successful, it would be put into mass production.

Stefan and many of H Group's shareholders believe that, as long as the ME2350 entered the market successfully, the H Group would dominate the smartphone industry for the next ten years at least!

The H Group had been preparing for this project for almost four years. They had invested a large amount of manpower and material resources. They could not tolerate any mistakes.

Knock, knock

Stefan was immersed in the business document when he heard a knock at the door. "Come in!"

He said coldly without looking up. It was Elijah again.

"Hahaha, Mr. Hunt, it's me again..."

At the risk of being demoted, Elijah cautiously said, "There's a tiny piece of information that I think I should share with you, but I don't know if you need me to."

Stefan's face was cold and stern. "Get to the point!"

"Well, if you're free, I suggest you open the TikTok app and search for an influencer called "Cutie Pie". There's a surprise waiting for you."

Elijah told him passionately, trying to pique his curiosity.

"Cutie Pie?"

Stefan wanted to ignore Elijah at first, but what Elijah said made him interested.

"Oh, I'll give it to you straight. Miss Everheart is live streaming on this account right now. She's unbelievably popular. And she's really different now. She's even more beautiful and sexier than she was four years ago. Who knows how many men are drooling over her right now!"

Live stream?!

Renee Everheart?!

Stefan had so many questions but he still looked calm and indifferent on the outside. "What does that have to do with me? I'm not interested."

"I'm just informing you. It's fine if you're not interested. Anyway, the number of viewers is over ten million, so one fewer wouldn't make any difference..."

Alright, that's all. I'm gonna go support my goddess now." Elijah quickly slipped away.

Stefan could no longer calm down and focus on his work. He hesitated, but in the end, he still couldn't resist. He unlocked his phone and quickly downloaded the TikTok app...

"Let's see what the hell that woman is up to!"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 388

It did not take long for Stefan to find Mandy's account on TikTok.

Renee's beautiful and delicate face popped up on the small phone screen.

The screen may be small, but the power of its destruction was immeasurable, like an atomic bomb.

Stefan froze. His deep, wolf-like eyes locked onto the screen and his grip on the phone involuntarily tightened.

"Good evening, my babies! Welcome to Cutie Pie's live stream! As you all know, the popular dating show "Heart Signal" is currently looking for noncelebrity guests. I secretly signed up for it. The organizer's condition is, whoever receives the most donation tonight will be eligible to participate in the program. Therefore, I hope you guys can support me, Cutie Pie, and help me debut in the entertainment industry!"

Wearing a pink dress and a cat ears headband, Mandy made all kinds of cute moves towards the camera and worked hard to get donations.

The dating show "Heart Signal" was very popular lately. Anyone who could show their face on it would be able to make the step up from an influencer to a celebrity.

Mandy had always wanted to enter the entertainment industry, so she naturally cherished this opportunity. She even dragged Renee onto her channel to help her gain popularity.

"Let me introduce tonight's special guest. She's the sexy goddess who dominated the trending topic today, known as the "Male Killer". She's none other than my cousin, Renee!"

Mandy playfully shook her hands and passionately introduced Renee to the audience.

"Hi guys! I'm your new friend, Ren. Please support my cousin, Cutie Pie! Love you guys!"

Renee endured the embarrassment and posed like a proper girl streamer the way Mandy had discussed with her beforehand. Her eyes curled as she smiled. She made a "heart" gesture with her hands.

That almost made her throw up. It was definitely the most pretentious thing she had ever done in her life! But the effect was surprisingly good. Chat and donation messages filled up the screen.

"Aaah, my goddess, I love you!"

"As expected of a goddess, she can be cool, she can be sweet, and she can be cute too. I'm dead." "Step on me, goddess!"

"Goddess, please have my baby!"

Mandy's eyes widened. Her face lit up with the various bright colors that scrolled past the phone screen. The donation messages never stopped. One could imagine how much donation she was getting.

'Thank you for the 1500 Bits donation!" 'Thank you for the 5000

Bits donation!"

'Thank you for the 10000 Bits donation!"

More and more viewers tuned in to the live stream. The number of viewers gradually increased from 10 million to 30 million.

It was a spectacle Mandy had never seen before. It made her voice tremble with nerves. After all, even when she streamed during peak hours, her viewership number never exceeded 100,000 before!

Seeing that she had succeeded in attracting viewers to the channel, Renee stepped aside and handed over the limelight to Mandy.

But as soon as she did, the viewership number dropped, and the frequency of donation dropped too.

That made Mandy anxious. She quickly said to the screen, "Oh, my babies, don't leave. Everybody stay calm. Renee just left to get a glass of water. She'll be back with a surprise later!" novelxo.com fast update

Her words did retain some of the viewers, but a lot of them still left.

"Let me ask you guys a question. What do you guys think of my cousin? She has a different side to what you saw in the viral video, right? Do you prefer the cool and sexy Renee or the sweet and gentle Renee?"

The question sparked a discussion among the viewers. Lots of people left messages in the chat.

"I like both. I love everything about the goddess. Even if I see her pick her nose, I would love the way she picks her nose!"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 389

"The goddess is pretty no matter what she does. Bring her back!"

"Goddesses should only exist in paradise, yet one has appeared in our mortal realm. I love her so much." Amidst the enthusiastic praises, a disharmonious message suddenly appeared.

"Pretentious woman."

Like a stone thrown into a calm lake, the message immediately sparked a thousand ripples. People in the chat lashed out at the sender.

"Why don't you stream, then? Let's see how unpretentious you are." "Are you blind? You call that pretentious? She's all natural!"

"The message was sent anonymously. The sender must be a lewd man who covets the goddess. Get out of the stream!" "Kick the lewd man off the stream! Kick the lewd man off the stream!"

When Mandy saw the chat arguing, she quickly tried to calm everyone down.

"Stop arguing, everyone. Also, can the viewer called Anon12538 please stop it with the baseless accusation? My cousin Renee is a very sincere person. How is she pretentious?"

Unfortunately, the viewer with the anonymous ID of Anon12538 was a brave soul. Despite the public backlash, he kept typing: "She's clearly pretentious!"

Renee, who was watching from the side, immediately noticed this Anon12538 who bravely went against the flow.

Mandy was a bit anxious because the contest was heading down the home stretch now. It was now the final half an hour.

Although she had rocketed up the ranking thanks to Renee's appearance earlier, she was only in 3rd place right now, just a hair off 1st place, because her fan base was not as big as the really famous influencers who had tens of millions of fans.

So, with a determined heart, she dragged Renee back onto the stream.

"My babies, since you all like my cousin so much, I'll give you guys a special present. The person who pushes me to the top of the ranking will get the chance to have dinner with Renee. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity! Don't miss it!"

As soon as she said that, the chat went crazy. The donations started coming in in a frenzy again. Renee did not expect Mandy to do that, but she could understand why Mandy did it.

Young people were all competitive.

If a meal could help Mandy participate in the dating show, Renee did not mind.

"Do you want to have dinner with me? If you do, work hard!"

Renee raised her fists and said cutely. Since she was already helping Mandy anyway, she decided to go all the way. It was like adding fuel to fire. The chat went crazy!

However, amidst the boiling-hot atmosphere, Anon12358 struck again: "Shameless."

"Anon12358, if you don't like it, just leave the stream, or I'll ban you. Renee has lots of supporters, so one fewer wouldn't make a difference."

Mandy was also Renee's diehard fan, so she could not tolerate any negative comment about her. She was about to lay down the banhammer but suddenly, she froze.

Anon12358, who everyone in the chat called a lewd man, had just made a donation worth 150,000 dollars, sending Mandy straight to the top of the ranking.

"Th-Thank you Anon12358 for the donation. Thank you, daddy!" Mandy gulped hard. She felt her knees go weak.

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 390

Other people in the chat were shocked by Anon12358 too. Messages popped up one after another.

"Oh my god, this guy is a real whale. I didn't expect that."

"He's spending so much money just to chase after some girl..."

"Could this guy be the CEO who's trying to coax his wife?"

Renee stared at the top donor's profile picture. She became even more curious about the identity behind the anonymous ID.

They thought the matter had come to an end.

Mandy, filled with excitement, said loudly to the camera, "The contest will end in five minutes. Thank you to the top donor for helping me get on the dating show. I'll keep my promise. I'll prepare a romantic candlelight dinner for you and Renee..."

But suddenly, another mysterious person started donating like crazy too. With 160,000 dollars worth of donation, he successfully wrestled the top donor spot away from Anon12358.

Everyone became really excited. The number of viewers kept climbing until it reached 50 million.

"W-Wow... thank you "Shadow" for the donation. The top donor has changed, which means that the person who will be having candlelight dinner with Renee has changed as well."

Mandy stuttered. Her knees, which had just recovered, started to go weak again.

Were there really that many rich people these days? They spent so much money without batting an eye. It was a behavior beyond her understanding.

Of course Anon12358 would not give up so easily. He immediately added 10,000 dollars to his donation, competing for the top donor spot with Shadow.

And thus, the top donor spot changed hands multiple times during the last five minutes, going back and forth between those two people.

The competition was so intense that everyone who was watching found it hard to breathe. They counted down in the chat: "5,4,3,2,1".

In the end, Anon12358 snatched back the position of top donor with a total donation of nearly 4 million dollars!

"Thank you, Anon1 2358. Thank you so much. I can see that you really like my cousin. I hope to see you tomorrow evening!"

Mandy put her hands together and thanked the audience incessantly, almost going down to her knees.

Renee was also touched. She looked into the camera and said, "Whoever you are, I'll be waiting for you tomorrow evening...
muah

She gave the camera a charming smile and even blew a kiss. She was as seductive as a succubus.

On the other end, Stefan, a.k.a. Anon12358 who just spent 4 million dollars to become the top donor, was very calm. His cold face was devoid of expression as always.

He had a vague feeling that he had been tricked by that woman again, and the M.O. even felt a bit familiar.

"Damn it!"

Stefan wanted to slap himself.

He did not know why he would lose control of his heart and his hand like that.

Of course, he did not slap himself. Instead, he did something a bit childish - he hit the image of Renee on the phone screen.

Well, he was going to, but at that very moment, Renee blew a kiss, so Stefan's long fingers froze in mid air, and the gloom in his eyes turned into gentleness.

He caressed Renee's fair, delicate face on the screen like he was caressing a kitten while whispering, "Renee... you've finally come back!"

Suddenly, the door of his office was pushed open.

"Stop, Mr. Stuart! You can't go in without Mr. Hunt's permission!"

Stefan's secretary spread her arms and pretended to block Xavier's way.

In truth, everyone in the company, including her, wanted Xavier to go in and so that they could see what their proud CEO was doing.novelxo.com fast update

After all, all of them watched the exciting live stream just now.

A lot of them guessed that the top donor who donated 4 million dollars must be Stefan!

Stefan did not expect someone to barge in. He guiltily turned off his phone.

If anyone found out that he was the idiot who spent 4 million dollars just to make a woman happy, it would be extremely embarrassing.
