

Chapter 501

Adie behaved this time. He knew Renee was furious, so he listened to her orders obediently.

Adie got down on his knees at once and held out his hands cooperatively. He faced Renee's anger calmly. "Mommy, go ahead. You should calm down after hitting me. Don't stay angry. Anger is bad for your health. It's okay for me to be in pain."

"You're still being slick, aren't you?"

Renee got furious and hit Adie's palm with the ruler. She questioned with a stern tone, "Do you know what you did wrong yet?"

It was a painful hit. A red mark immediately emerged on Adie's tender skin. Even so, Adie remained strong. Although his eyes were full of tears, he did not cry out. He raised his chin and said stubbornly, "I didn't do wrong."

"What's wrong with protecting Mommy?"

"Adie!" Renee was so angry that she hit Adie with the ruler again, harder than the previous time.

Renee had no other choice as the little one was getting more and more disobedient each day. She could barely control him anymore. She had to teach him a hard lesson before he got himself into more trouble.

With this in mind, Renee hit Adie several times and said harsher than ever, "You won't admit your mistake, will you? I'll punish you until you admit your mistake!"

"Boo-hoo!" Adie was just a child after all. Finally, he could not hold back anymore and finally cried out. However, he remained stubborn as he cried. "Mommy, go ahead and hit me. Even if you beat me to death, I don't think I'm wrong. I just want to protect you. I don't want Bad Daddy to hurt you!" Renee froze. "What... What do you mean by Bad Daddy?"

Adie wiped his tears and stared at Renee with a pitiful look, "Mommy, you don't have to hide anything from me. Abby and I know everything! Daddy Liam isn't our real daddy! It's the big bad Stefan!"

Renee panicked. She had never mentioned Stefan's name in front of the two little ones! "I have a recorder in the study and heard every meeting you had with Daddy Liam..."

"I know Stefan is our real daddy. I know that he mistreated you and broke your heart. He has hurt you..."

"You've been working so hard all these years, taking care of us, dealing with Azure Group, and staying up all night in the lab doing experiments. You did all that in order to defeat him early. It's so that we can return home as soon as possible and live in peace, right?"

The little one sobbed and revealed everything.

"What..." Renee could not imagine how much Adie and Abby had gone through at the tender age of four. She did not want her children to grow up in hatred, so she explained, "I worked hard not because of him. I just want to give you a better life. I want to revive our family and bring the Everheart family back to glory..."

"The Everheart family used to be very powerful and admirable. Your grandparents, especially your great-grandfather were incredible people, so you should..."

"I know, so I want to contribute too!"

Little Adie said with a proud expression, "Mommy has been working so hard. I want to help share the burden, so I went to Bad Daddy's company and got the important document that Mommy and Daddy Liam mentioned..."

"Important document?"

Renee had just begun educating Adie with love. So how did the topic change so drastically?!

Renee had previously mentioned to Liam about wanting to see H Group's design for the G6 Chip phone. After all, this phone was important to H Group. The revolutionary new phone would stir the entire technology industry. Once launched, it must only succeed and not fail.

Renee wanted to see what H Group had done with the phone design apart from using the G6 Chip provided by KCL Group as the core selling point. She wondered if there were any other revolutionary designs.

However, high-level business secrets as such were usually well-protected. Stealing it was no small feat. Had Adie really brought her the design?!

If he had, it would be a real relief for her. She must hug the little one and kiss him a few times.

Adie opened his briefcase and took out the document he had sneakily slipped in earlier. He handed it to Renee with a proud look on his face. "Mommy, I'm great, aren't I? You're welcome!"

Renee's eyes immediately lit up. She could not wait to see the document. Unfortunately, it was not the cell phone design she wanted. Instead, it was a list of companies.

Renee frowned and studied the document carefully. There were many companies on the list, almost all of which were competitors of H Group. Interestingly, almost all of them had a fatal weakness.

Some companies had problems with their products. Some had problematic owners, while some had tax issues. In short, if Stefan wanted to deal with any of them, all he had to do was to send their dirty laundry to the police.

"Tsk. This guy is ruthless. He has a lot of enemies. No wonder he got into trouble!"

Renee had a good time examining the document. At the same time, she also wondered if one of the companies on the list had chosen to retaliate after Stefan drove them to desperation. However, there were many companies on the list. Which one could it be?

Liam came back while Renee was still staring at the documents. Liam blamed himself for failing to catch Briar earlier. When he saw Adie well and alive, he was so emotional that tears came to his eyes.

"Adie... Is it really you? Am I seeing things?!"

Adie felt bored and beamed as he saw Liam, whom he had not seen in a long time. "Daddy Liam, I'm glad to see you again. Thank you for taking care of Mommy lately. Sorry for the trouble. I'll take care of her from now on."

"Oh, haha. Little one, just look at you! You've grown a lot, and you're acting like a bigger man than me!" Liam came forward and picked up Adie with love and pride in his eyes.

Liam had always played a godfather role as he watched Adie and Abby grow up together. He felt a great sense of achievement seeing the child he had raised behaving so well and responsibly.

Adie's face resembled Stefan's a lot, but Liam did not mind at all. He loved Adie with all his heart!

"Stop praising him. I just punished him by hitting his palm. He's still defiant and makes me so angry."

Renee could not help but shake her head. Then, she turned to Liam helplessly. "Adie has always listened to you. Quickly talk to him. Tell him not to run around on his own and trust a dangerous woman blindly. Also, don't just go along stealing other people's stuff."

"You have to make him understand that even if he's powerful, he's just a child. His safety is my top priority."

Renee had told Adie this many times, but Adie would not listen. Adie thought girls should be protected and disagreed with her.

Young children often need someone like a father to teach them rules and reasons. Whenever this happened, Renee had no choice but to turn to Liam.

"Oh, Adie. Your mom is right. You..."

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 502

Liam was about to give Adie a huge lecture, but the little one interrupted him. "Daddy Liam, I have a question. Is it wrong wanting to protect Mommy?"

"Of course not. We're men. It's our duty to protect her."

"Do you think I'm just a kid stupid enough to be tricked by the bad guys?"

"No, of course not. Adie is such a smart boy. You're the one who'll be fooling the bad guys."

"That's right... I want to protect Mommy and help her. I can keep myself safe. So what did I do wrong?" "Uh..." Liam rubbed his chin and instantly agreed with Adie. Adie had a good point.

Liam backtracked immediately and advised Renee instead, "I think Adie has a point. His punishment was unfair. Well, don't be angry. I think...

Maybe you should apologize to Adie."

"Liam!" Renee stomped her feet in anger. "He's just a foolish kid. How can you go along with him? Are you trying to piss me off?!"

"I'm just being honest. Adie isn't an ordinary child. You should respect him and give him the freedom to play. Don't limit him."

"Yes, yes, yes. Daddy Liam is right. Mommy, you should respect and trust me. Let me be responsible for taking care of you as soon as possible. I want to protect you."

Liam and Adie took turns convincing Renee.

"Enough. Do you know the woman you met earlier? She has long planned to hurt you. You even followed her around like a silly lapdog. She fooled you with just some toys and snacks. Isn't that embarrassing?"

Renee felt scared thinking about it again. Briar certainly had the intention to kill Adie. It would have been unthinkable consequences if not for Adie's lucky escape!

"No way!"

Adie pouted in disdain. "I knew she was no good. I've been playing dumb with her so she could send me to Mr. Q..." "Who is Mr. Q?" Renee listened in confusion.

"Mr. Q is very powerful. I specially chose him to help you deal with Bad Daddy. He made me a promise and is willing to become your follower and follow you to greatness."

Adie explained with an adult-like and proud expression.

Liam frowned incredulously. He lowered his voice to confirm, "Mr. Q? Are you talking about the owner of Carmine Pawnshop?"

"Yup. He has a lot of treasure at home. When the time comes, I'll make him pick two for you." Adie lifted his chin and said delightedly.

"How is that possible? The owner of Carmine Pawnshop is notoriously mysterious and difficult. People nicknamed him the Midnight Demon. Why would he listen to you and become Renee's follower?"

Liam was astounded and thought Adie was lying.

Adie said nonchalantly, "Why not? He must be impressed by Mommy. Daddy Liam, you're the same. You're good too, but you're working for Mommy too, isn't it?"

"Uhm..."

Adie's statement made Renee and Liam look at each other in speechlessness

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 503

Renee had led a reclusive life in the past few years and focused on her experiments at Sun Island. She was oblivious to the outside world and naturally did not know about Mr. Q's story.

She was a little frightened to hear about the mysterious Mr. Q from Liam and quickly pulled Adie aside to check on him carefully. She asked nervously, "Did that Night Demon hurt you or do anything strange to you?"

"Nope. Mr. Q was nice to me. He gave me whatever I wanted. I asked him to work for you, and he agreed... But he's a little busy lately. He said he had to go out of town. I'll arrange for you two to meet when he's free."

Adie crossed his arms, looking like a leader with everything under his control.

Renee furrowed her brows, still feeling puzzled. "It's so strange. Mr. Q is a powerful man. He even made a deal with Briar. Why didn't he hurt Adie? He even promised Adie to be my follower?!"

Liam thought it was not a big deal. He randomly guessed, "What else could it be? He must be impressed by Adie's cuteness and can't bear to hurt him! Maybe he's just joking with the kid about being your follower. Don't take it too seriously."

Renee shook her head. "No. I don't think it's that simple. He's definitely up to no good. We can't take it lightly."

"How should I put it? Carmine Pawnshop was notorious in their early years. They probably came by their enormous wealth immorally back then, but they've slowed down and are ready to stop..."

Liam paused suddenly and remembered something. He added, "However, some suspected that the men from Carmine Pawnshop were behind Tristan's murder. Carmine and the Hunt family have always been enemies. Four years ago, Stefan almost died after a big conflict between them.

Carmine has slowed down since then. They still have a bad reputation but stopped doing things immorally." Renee listened with a serious expression and fell into deep thought.

Could Mr. Q be related to Stefan's death?

Renee looked back at the laptop on her desk and let out a long sigh. If only she could hack into the Newrest police file system and retrieve the details of the shooting case which led to Tristan's death. Would the truth come to light?

"Boss, don't overthink. Adie is back safe and sound. No matter his purpose, we don't have to fear him." Liam looked at the worried Renee and consoled her again.

"Yeah. I worry too much." Renee rubbed her temple. She did not want to spend too much time on the matter. After all, Stefan's life or death was none of her business. She just wanted her children to be safe.

Renee put the ruler away and looked at Adie's swollen hand with heartache. "Promise me. From now on, don't go around without my permission, okay?"

Adie nodded. "I understand, Mommy. From now on, I'll ask for your permission before going anywhere. Don't be angry anymore, okay?"

"Okay. Give me a kiss, and I won't stay mad." Renee pointed to her cheek. "Ah. You can't be helped..."

Adie opened his hands and tiptoed, giving Renee a firm kiss. He ran his little hands along her head and coaxed her, "Ren, be good. Don't be angry anymore, or I'll be sad."

Renee went speechless at Adie's actions.

The next few days, Renee kept herself busy with the Everheart Residence's redevelopment and Azure Group's matter. It was as if Stefan's death was just a small chapter in her life. She simply ignored it without mentioning anything about it

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 504

However, the more Renee behaved this way, the more worrying it was.

Liam thought venting negative emotions was necessary. How Renee constantly repressed her emotions might make matters worse in the long run. Therefore, Liam and Leia discussed the need to find a way for Renee to vent.

After the discussion, Leia patted her chest and reassured Liam confidently, "Fine. I understand. I'm good at that. Just leave it to me!"

Leia finally broke up with William after he was rescued. She had been suffocating anyway and could not wait to vent!

At the moment, Renee was sitting in a conference room at Azure Group headquarters. It was an important meeting with the company's executives.

Renee was not nominated to hold any position in Azure Group over the past few years. Liam had made all the major decisions as the company president. Even so, the executives knew Renee was the soul of the company.

Azure Group was just a small technology company in the industry. Without Renee's effort behind the scenes, competitors in the industry would have eaten Azure Group.

Even so, many of these executives disliked Renee. The first on the list was Liam's third sister, Laura Osborne.

The Osborne family had eight children, and the eldest to the fifth were all girls. Liam was the only boy in the Osborne family and naturally took on the responsibility of carrying on the family's legacy.

Liam had five elder sisters. His third sister Laura was the strongest and most business-minded. She had been managing the Osborne family business together with Liam.

In the beginning, Liam requested his father for money to set up Azure Group, saying he wanted to break into the field of communication technology. The Osborne family business started in the gray market and revolved around it.

Liam's family laughed at him for his sudden career change. They thought he set up the company to pick up girls, and the company would collapse sooner and later.

After all, H Group had about seventy to eighty percent market share as the leader in the communication technology industry. How could Liam compete?

Liam's third sister Laura was the only one supportive of him. She even invested in the company and became the third largest shareholder of Azure Group.

As Azure grew, so did Laura's appetite. She was no longer happy to have someone outside the family with a higher authority above her.

Therefore, when Renee spoke, Laura objected immediately.

"From what Miss Everheart is saying, a huge capital injection is required in opening new R&D and manufacturing sites. It's too risky and not in line with Azure Group's current plans. I disagree."

Four years ago, Renee wanted Azure Group to build its own product development and manufacturing base. At that time, the majority of the top management, including Liam, opposed her proposal.

However, because Renee insisted, Liam finally overcame the objection and secretly diverted a large amount of money from the Osborne family to support her unconditionally. Unfortunately, the production and R&D center was not profitable and lost all the money.

Laura questioned Renee with a stern expression, "The investment for a company to build its own R&D and manufacturing base is enormous. The Osborne family has depleted much of its financial resources in supporting Azure Group over the years. We've only been able to get some relief, and now you propose this. I can't help but wonder, Miss Everheart, are you trying to lead Azure Group to glory or its end?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 505

Renee seemed unruffled by Laura's questions. She responded calmly, "The only way for a technology company to last in the long run and avoid being a middleman dealer is to establish major centers for production as well as research and development. Meanwhile, a normal enterprise generally needs three to five years from inception to profitability..."

"Azure Group has been established for four years. Soon, we'll reach the fifth year. I promise you that this year will be a good year. Everyone here will make a big fortune!"

The management unceremoniously disagreed with Renee's ambitious words.

"You're talking big again... Miss Everheart, you've been talking big for the past four years. When will we get something real?"

"The industry is declining now. Our competitors are cutting back costs with layoffs and plant closures. Keeping costs low is the most important right now, while you... How could you increase spending to build more production and R&D centers! That's such a waste of money!"

"I heard that H Group will soon launch the G6 Chip phone. Our market share will decline soon. Our survival is on the line. How could we hope for any profit?!"

The executives clearly had long held a grudge against Renee, but no one dared to voice out because of Liam. Liam was out of town for this meeting, so Laura took the lead, ready to embarrass Renee.

"Miss Everheart, you've been far away all these years. You probably don't know much about the company's difficulties. While you're here today, please allow our CFO, Mr. Schwartz to present our true accounts..."

After saying that, Laura turned to Schwartz in the corner.

Schwartz stood up and bowed to the crowd. He said with a heavy expression, "Azure Group has indeed grown over the years.

However, the operating costs have risen significantly. The construction of the two centers costs a lot of resources. At present, our account is already in a serious deficit. Don't talk about profits. If we can't obtain new investments, even survival is difficult..."

Schwartz made a detailed data graph regarding the company's financial situation. Indeed, it looked really alarming. Renee furrowed her brows hard. She had no idea that Azure Group was in a financial crisis!

Renee had been working with Liam on Azure Group for several years. Liam always complained about having no money and running out of resources but still presented only good results to her. As a result, Renee could do research and planning in peace. However, in reality...

Laura grunted at Renee's stunned expression. "Seems like my crazily-in-love brother has been reporting only the good news and not the bad. He must have made you very happy. To be frank, Azure Group won't last much longer. Neither will the Osborne family. If you're looking out for the group, you shouldn't give Liam more problems now. We no longer have extra funds to build this and that!"

"That's right! Miss Everheart, please! Have more consideration. We can't build any new centers anymore!"

Most of the management was conservative and agreed. Besides, the group had cash flow difficulties. The management wanted business as usual and could not afford much higher risk.

After a long silence, Renee said sternly, "I understand the company's situation now. I'm sorry for the suffering I caused you. I'll find a way to solve the funding issues."

After the meeting ended, Renee felt a little heavy-hearted. She was too idealistic and thought everything would be easy and smooth. She never thought that Liam had been shouldering the burden!

Renee suddenly felt exhausted. All she wanted to do was have a drink and relax a little. At the same time, her best friend Leia called.

"Hey, Ren. Are you free? Sob... My heart is breaking... Will you come and have a drink with me?" Leia wailed.

Renee had been worried about Leia and wanted a chance to comfort her. Therefore, she agreed without hesitation. "Don't cry. Where are you? I'll be right over."

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 506

"We're going to The Blue Inn. I booked the best seats and the strongest alcohol. We won't be going home sober tonight!" Leia sounded like she was already tipsy and excited.

The Blue Inn!

This bar was very popular as of late. Renee had heard about it a long time ago.

The Blue Inn was the place women frequented when they wanted to be entertained.

In the current era, women in the city were under a lot of stress. Those who worked, those who had failed relationships, those with children, and those taking exams... Like men, they all needed a way to relax.

When this bar was launched, it became very popular right away. That's why Renee hadn't been able to make a reservation there all this time. She had long wanted to go there to experience what it felt like.

Without wasting any time, Renee walked out of the office and hailed a taxi to get to The Blue Inn. Although it wasn't even nighttime yet, The Blue Inn was already crowded.

All the men who worked there, including the waiters, the bartenders, and the entertainers on stage, were handsome guys, and they were all at least six feet tall.

The moment Renee walked in, she was mesmerized by all the goodlooking men.

The best part was that all the customers here were women. There weren't any annoying men to ruin the fun by pestering her. On the contrary, the women were allowed to mess with the handsome, six-foot-tall men.

"Renee, over here!" Leia waved passionately at Renee from the second floor where the most luxurious seats were located. She had on a shiny dress and a pair of black high heels.

Renee was surprised. From their phone conversation earlier, it sounded like Leia was devastated. Why did she seem to be having so much fun now?

With guidance from a handsome waiter, Renee made her way to the second floor where Leia was seated. If nothing else, the view here was great. They could see all the performances in the bar clearly.

"Renee, you're finally here. It's so boring drinking on my own. I'm so glad you're here!" Leia picked up a bottle of alcohol and handed it to Renee.

"We are both having a hard time with our relationships. There aren't any outsiders here. It's a paradise for women. We don't have to hold back at all. We can cry, laugh, dance, and have fun with men if we want. Anyway... Set yourself free!" Leia exclaimed.

Renee looked at the empty cans and bottles nearby. She couldn't help but sigh.

It seemed that William had hurt Leia very badly. She had to drink this much to drown her sorrows away!

"Sure. I'll drink as much as you do. Let's get through this together!" Renee accepted the bottle and emptied it in one go. It might seem like she was trying to console Leia, but wasn't she also trying to console herself?

She intentionally avoided thinking about and mentioning the things that happened recently. She was like a cicada that wrapped itself tightly within its cocoon.

After drinking the strong alcohol, Renee felt herself opening up...

With the scrunchies taken off, her hair flowed freely downward. She removed her jacket and tossed it aside. She was getting even more excited than Leia

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 507

The music being played in the bar was excellent, and the lighting was also splendid. Renee and Leia, two women who weren't faring well in their love lives, each held a bottle of alcohol in their hands. They danced fervently to the upbeat music and ignored everything and everyone else.

"Renee, you're not an emotionless person. I'm sure you feel something with Stefan being gone. I'm certain you're feeling sad right now. You want to cry and let it all out, don't you?" Leia asked.

"Don't think too much. Just cry to your heart's content. All the women here cry over love, and I'm one of them. Stop pretending to be strong. It's not wrong for women to cry!" Leia shouted amidst the loud chatter around them.

"Hahaha! I'm not sad. I'm happy. Can't you see?" Renee was smiling from ear to ear. She took a few more large gulps of alcohol. "That guy is like a ticking time bomb. I couldn't even sleep in peace with him around. Now that he's detonated on his own, I'm no longer in danger. If anything, I should be celebrating. Why would I be sad? Come on, let's celebrate the fact that Stefan is gone for good! Cheers!" Seeing how Renee was nonchalant about the whole situation, Leia instantly felt she was being too petty.

"You're right, Renee. There are plenty of fish in the water... Look all around us. Every man in this bar is attractive. We shouldn't be so hung up about those two rotten apples!" Leia exclaimed before stopping the waiter who served them their drinks. "This bar has been very popular lately. I heard there's a special program for women who want to be entertained. What is it?"

"Are you two interested?" The waiter smiled warmly at Renee and Leia. "That's right. There is indeed a special performance by The Blue Inn, and that involves exotic dances by all types of good-looking men. The grand finale for tonight is a performance by one of our male escorts, Isaac!

"Countless women are here for Isaac. They'd fork out thousands just to touch Isaac, and they'd even fight each other for a drink with him. It's... exciting, to say the least!"

"A male escort?" Renee raised her brows. Her interest was piqued. "When does this performance start? I'd like to see what this male escort looks like!

■

"You're here at the perfect time. The show is about to begin. Look, the women are already rubbing their palms together. They're all fighting for the best seats!"

As soon as he finished speaking, the lights in the bar suddenly went out. After that, a single spotlight was directed at the center of the stage.

Several half-naked men with muscular figures began dancing to the music. The crowd went wild.

"Come on, Renee. Let's join in the fun!" Leia was already tipsy. She pulled the equally tipsy Renee along to the performance area on the first floor.

Since the two were more aggressive, they soon made their way to the front row. They were having the time of their lives. In fact, they even began interacting with the handsome men on the stage. The women around them were all envious of them.

After several performances ended, the bar became dark again. When the lights came on, dry ice was released all around the stage.

A tall man in a tight-fitting white shirt, black overalls, and a black mask appeared through the mist with a microphone in his hand. "Woah! He's so handsome! Isaac! Isaac! Isaac!" The women screamed at the top of their lungs.

'Is this the male escort that the waiter talked about? How are we supposed to know if he's good-looking with a mask on?' Renee asked. She couldn't get it.

"What do you know? The mask is Isaac's unique trait. Nobody can take it off easily!" "We don't care about his face. The best parts about him are his lips, his fingers, and his body. Those are qualities that make him irresistible!

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 508

The women were very protective of Isaac.

In the beginning, Renee didn't take them seriously. However, after watching this male escort dance, she realized he really was gifted for this industry.

His full hips, thin lips, and those long fingers... Who could resist? "Isaac, you're so handsome! Isaac! Isaac!"

Under the influence of alcohol, Renee was behaving completely unlike her usual self. Like the women around her, she began screaming excitedly at the men on stage.

Perhaps, this was when women could truly relax.

Leia was a little surprised by how Renee completely let herself go. It turned out this was what Renee liked... If she'd known earlier, she'd have made arrangements sooner!

After the show ended, Isaac went off the stage. Everyone was still shouting for an encore. Renee jumped and screamed so hard that she was sweating and out of breath.

After she and Leia returned to their seats, Renee immediately quenched her thirst by drinking alcohol. She soon finished drinking another bottle. By then, she could barely stand. She slouched against her seat.

"Renee, what did you think about that male escort earlier?" "He's gorgeous! I couldn't stop staring at him!"

"Great. Just wait here!" Leia exclaimed. It was rare for her to see Renee this interested in another man apart from Stefan. To help Renee move on sooner, Leia went backstage and looked for Isaac.

"Hey, kid. My friend likes you. This card has 70,000 dollars in it. Talk to her and cheer her up, but make sure you don't touch her. Do you think you're up for the job?" Leia asked before pressing a card against his chest.

At this moment, Isaac was still wearing a mask. His sexy lips made him seem charming when he smiled.

To be honest, he had already noticed Renee and Leia back when he was performing. Renee, who looked like a cool girl, was especially appealing to him. He wanted to befriend them both.

Isaac held onto the card and asked, "What if she wants to touch me?"

"That's not allowed either!" Although Leia was a little drunk, she still had a clear head. "I'm not hiring a prostitute for my friend. I'm also asking you to cheer her up. In other words, you'll only be there so that she can vent her negative emotions. You cannot cross the line. I'll check on her tomorrow. If you dare do anything to her, you'll be dead!"

Isaac nodded and shrugged in disappointment. "Don't worry. I'm getting paid, and I'll do whatever you say. I'll also not do what you tell me not to. I accept this offer!"

Leia walked away feeling assured after hearing what he said.

Renee, who was lying down on her seat, looked up at the dazzling lights. She felt dizzy, and she wasn't sure if this was a dream or reality.

A tall man slowly walked toward her. He then looked down at her from above.

"It's you, the male escort..." Renee's cheeks were flushed. She was smiling like an idiot. "Let me see what you look like."

She tried to remove Isaac's mask, but he avoided her touch before picking her up horizontally. "You should get going," he said

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 509

Renee felt gravity pulling away from her. She wrapped her arms around Isaac's neck. "Hey, you sure are a professional male escort. You picked me up like a princess right away. Such a good boy!"

Renee touched his face.

His chin was extremely attractive, and the stubble on it was also a little prickly. His male hormones went through the roof! Isaac carried Renee into a high-class, private room under all the women's gazes.

The room had dim lights that created a romantic ambience. There was a large, round water bed in the center of the room. Clearly, it was specifically designed for rich folks. It was hard not to think inappropriate thoughts when one was inside.

"Why did you bring me here? You're not offering your body for money, are you? I didn't bring any money with me today. I can't afford you. Put me down!" Renee struggled to set herself free. She was at least sober enough to protect her own reputation. "I have boundaries. Although you are my type, I don't sleep with gigolos. Besides, I never do anything inappropriate. If I do, I'm afraid you won't be able to handle it..."

While she spoke, she pinched Isaac's perfect face and smiled like an idiot. "Has your mother never told you that pretty boys like you should be wary of women?"

"Watch your tongue," he said coldly but gently. He carefully put her down on a couch and asked, "Are you thirsty? I'll get you a glass of water."

As soon as he stood up, Renee hugged his arm like a koala. "Mommy, don't leave. I'm not thirsty. Can I have some alcohol?" Mommy?!

His lips twitched visibly.

This woman... How much did she drink? How could she be so drunk? "After all that, you think I'm your mother?" He asked coldly.

"You're not obedient at all. How can you yell at me?" He was speechless.

Blurry-eyed, Renee smiled at the man. "I didn't think you were my mother. I thought you were my dead ex-husband..."

The man was clearly stunned. "How so?"

"That's because you have the same unapproachable vibe as he does. Your lips also look a lot like his. They're thin, soft, and just like jelly!" Renee reached out and poked the man's lips before nodding satisfactorily. "Hmm ... It feels the same to the touch too. Soft and bouncy. It's so tempting!"

"Your Adam's apple is also sexy like his, and so is your chest. I think you have an even better body than most models. Who could resist?" Renee complimented while she touched his body parts that she mentioned.

Once she was done, she prepared to pull away. However, the man pressed against her hand and smiled vaguely. "Your friend said you weren't in a good mood, and she wanted me to cheer you up. Since you like my body so much, I'll let you do whatever you want to me without having to pay any money..."

Renee's cheeks were already flushed from the alcohol. Now, it seemed to turn even redder.

She chuckled. "You're the ace of this bar. Countless rich women vie for your attention. If your boss found out that you're selling your body for money, he'd kill you!" "None of those rich women can compare to you. Since you already thought I was your husband, how could I not serve you with all my heart?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 510

His eyes lit up beneath the mask. Although he was intentionally making these seductive remarks, it didn't seem like he was fooling around. On the contrary, he seemed to mean every word he said.

In that instant, Renee was nearly convinced. When their gazes locked, Renee felt a jolt of electricity coursing through her body. She instantly came to her senses and sighed while she shook her head. "Tsk, tsk. Look at you. You're very professional, and you know the right things to say, but... At the end of the day, it's all fake. My ex-husband died. Even if you looked like him, you'd only look like a dead person."

The man's stiff lips curved upward. He was smiling playfully. "You seem very sad. You must have loved your ex-husband a lot. Were you devastated by his death?"

"Not quite!" Renee burped. She then lay down on the couch and looked up at the ceiling. "I just feel... That it happened too suddenly. It's like finding out the author had stopped writing just as you arrived at the most interesting part. My ex-husband was a scumbag, but he didn't deserve an ending like this!"

"Is that all?" The man didn't seem too pleased with Renee's answer. "Don't you have the slightest bit of feeling for him?"

Renee remained silent. She continued staring up at the ceiling. Suddenly, her vision turned blurry as if dust had gotten into her eyes.

The man observed her from above. He frowned a little when he saw the tears in her eyes. "Are you crying?" "No!" Renee sniffed.

"Dust got into my eyes."

"Is that so?" The man silently looked at her for a long time. He eventually let out a long sigh. "You're already pissed drunk, but you still have a sharp tongue. It's not cute at all!"

He leaned against the couch and moved closer to her without realizing it. "If you want to cry, go ahead and let it out. Besides, your friend hired me to cheer you up. If there's something that makes you upset, you can tell me about it!"

"No, I'm tired. I want to sleep." Renee closed her eyes. It felt as if she would soon start crying. She was like a child when she hugged his arm again. "Just be my pillow for a while."

This man made her feel safe. With the alcohol kicking in, she soon fell asleep...

Despite slipping in and out of consciousness, she felt the gentle touch of a butterfly on her lips. It made her crave for more.

This felt a lot like the way Stefan made her feel in the past!

She opened her mouth a little and subconsciously wrapped her arms around his neck. However, in the end, he gently patted her on the back. "Sleep, silly woman!" Meanwhile, the real Isaac was tied up in the bathroom. He seemed terrified.

"Let go of me. W-Who are you people?" Isaac asked.

A man dressed in black looked down on him. ' Keep it short. Our master is only borrowing your identity for a while. Anyway... Just do whatever we tell you to do. You'll get rewarded after the job is done!