Chapter 50: Haunted

Layla's POV

"Layla, are you still there?he sounded worried that I may have hung up on him, or was planning to while I was just frozen right where I was with the phone still on my ear. Why was he calling me? Is he all fed it done to me and my father?

"What do you want?", I asked, sitting up from the bed.

"I need to talk to you, please?he begged and a tear went down my cheek.

"A or all you've done to me and my family? You have the nerve to want to see me and to even call me".

"I know I'm asking for much Evil, he said, and I interrupted him.

"Asking for much?, I scoff mockingly, and I could hear him heave a sigh on the other line. "You destroyed my life"

Tears streamed down my face as flashbacks began running through my mind about that fateful day my life changed forever

"That's why I need to see you. I want to apologize for everything? He put you through Layla. Please, if you just could make time to come see me, I promise I'll never, ever bother you again. I'll stay out of your life. I could even finish and credited my boxes to my chest

My heart was beating so fast from just hearing his voice, how will I see him? I'm in the same room as him, looking directly in the eyes of the man who's responsible for my baby's death?

Hearing from David for the first time in my cold moved with no heart a little because honestly, his call really had me thinking about everything that's happened, looking up to this point where I'm in our home and how I directed my anger to the wrong person because if anything, the situation between my father and David was the reason we all ended here and if I was going to find any closure above all that's happened, I had to swallow my pride and face him, once and for all.

"We'll, see, who are you here to see?", the security asked I signed the entry register lol

"Daniel", I croaked out, my voice shaking a little. "Daniel Woods"

She looked at the two ladies making a call and I waited patiently for further instructions on what I'm going to happen because I've never visited anyone in jail before.

I tried fighting it. the urge to come to this place, but I just couldn't resist it, before I even knew it, I found myself driving here, standing at the front desk with my IDs clenched and took a deep breath before stepping inside, I couldn't get the desperation in his voice out of my head.

"This way please", the security guard escorted me to the visiting room, and it was a private call, meaning that only Daniel and I will be in here. The guard turned to leave, but I grabbed her by the arm.

"Wait, you're not going to leaving me here alone with him right?"

"I need to be at the front desk sir not, but a warder will sit in here with you, but you can be sure of privacy", she said politely, and I nodded with a sigh of relief.

"Are you okay?", she seemed worried. "You look a little petrified"

I forced a smile. "I'm okay, just a little nervous that's all"

"Your brother will be delighted to see you, he has been requesting you to come see him for weeks now", she smiled, and I blinked repeatedly at her

"Brother?"

"Yes, you're in our family, isn't , she said and then walked out, I sat down on the cold hard steel bench and waited for him before assembling the the sound of a buzzer went o and the door opposite me opened and Daniel stepped in as accompanied by a really mean looking warder. He walked in with his eyes shut as he was adjusting to the light in the room before setting his eyes on mine and his lips turned into a wide smile.

"Layla...", he breathed out, and I didn't say anything because I was still studying him. He looked so ill. wrote, he has a was a bit roughed up and had bruises on his eye and cheek, his bottom lip was chipped open, and he looked like he'd not eaten properly in months. I was in shock.

The chains that were connecting the hands a to his feet were the only sound that was audible in the room as the warder forcibly sat him down, and he turned to look at me that our eyes met.

"I'm so happy you're here", he chuckled a little and my eyebrows knitted in confusion

Is he losing his mind? Why was he so happy to see me?

"When did you get pierced?", I stared at his face. "I don't recall ever hearing anything about you being arrested"

He shrugged a little. "I turned myself in and so people just think I disappeared"

"How soon? I outlawmoved to testify against you?"

"It's a private case. I asked them not to involve any of you in this because I didn't want to bring back any bad memories", he reached his lip to the side, dropping his gaze from my piercing stare.

"What happened to your face?", I asked, noticing just how bruised his face and knuckles were

"I got into a little altercation with some inmates yesterday, but it's nothing serious"

"Is it always like this?"

"Not always but I've gotten used to being attacked regularly, so I guess it's just a portion of the price I have to pay"

"I thought so I see why you wouldn't have to see me in the visiting inside. this was supposed to be like your second home or something"

"I'm not that man anymore, and I'm paying for every bad thing I've done"

I studied him for a while before heaving a sigh. "Why did you want to see me?"

"I wanted to tell you how sorry I am for everything I've put you through. I'm never you not your baby mama and putting your life in danger. I'm sorry for harming your father and ruining your life. I'm sorry for everything and I hope you find it in your heart to forgive me", he said, his voice was wavering, he was on the verge of crying, I felt quietly between us, with the only sound of his breathing around the room.

"It's fine, Daniel", I took a deep breath. "I forgive you"

His eyes widened in shock. "Really?"

Sarcastic fingers you a long time ago because it was the only way I could move on with my life. I just wanted closure, the final step was to look you in the eyes before I can move on from all of this and I did that. I can finally put this thing behind me"

"I don't know what to say really, but thank you", he breathed a sigh of relief, a little smile appearing on his lips. "You have no idea what this means to me"

"This doesn't mean that you and I can play happy family all of a sudden", I stated, and he frowned before nodding his head slowly.

"I understand, but I would like to do right by you, just to show you how serious I am. I'm a changed man now. I've been attending anger management and psychology classes, and I'm making progress", he said, and I shook my head

"It's better all our pasts never cross again, Daniel", I stood up and walked towards the door

"Thank you for coming to see me Layla, it really meant a lot", he said, and I turned to look at him, nodded with a polite smile on my face and walked out

"You know if you need anything, I'm only a call away right?", Quinton said when I walked over to his car. He was leaning lobby, and more cross his body. I took out

"I'm going into my car", I wrapped my arms around him, and he hugged me back and kissed the top of my head.

"I'm going to miss you", he said before releasing me and took me at arms length. "You're a big girl, aren't you?", he joked, and I nodded.

"I'm not to miss me too much", he smiled as I held the door for him and closed it as soon as he got inside, "And answer me when I call", he forcibly I down with me? Laughed.

"I'm not", I saluted at that statement, "Text me when you get home, okay? Drive safely"

"I'm not me", he saluted back, turning on the ignition and I seemed goodbye as he drove a , and I went back inside to give myself a glass of wine before starting on this new mystery paranoia book I purchase a few days ago. I don't know what made me pick it up and what I bought this, but I can't stick to one category all the time, I have to explore others.

I was about to change my phone so that it wouldn't be a distraction as soon as I started reading and my screen light went on, indicating that I'm getting a call from Quinton, I smiled and picked up.

"I'm at home", I said, gently pulling my hand from his grip and he didn't let me, instead he entwined our fingers together and that's when I could feel my own heart starting to accelerate in my chest. I got the feeling of having his hands covering mine always made me feel safe

"I miss you Layla", he breathed out before shaking his head a little. "I can't do this anymore"

"You can't do what anymore?"

"Living without you, it's really driving me crazy, and I feel like I can't even breath when I'm not around you"

"Damon-"

I need you Layla, Dylan also needs you and I want us to go back where we were in the beginning before all of this I was hopeless? I want us to go back to being a family again because things are just not the same without you"

There was no denying it, I wanted the same thing

I smiled as I wrapped my arms around his shoulders, and we grazed into each other's eyes

"Don't you want the same thing?", he questioned, his eyes dropping from my eyes to my lips for a few seconds before he stared into my eyes again

"I do-", I didn't even get to finish what I wanted to say, he had leaned in to claim his lips with me, igniting sparks to fly all over the place, especially when he tightened his grip around my waist to push me in closer and deepened his kiss eventually. I couldn't help but to surrender myself completely to him. This right here is the moment I've been waiting for

"You're honestly the best thing that's ever happened to me", he whispered as he, his lips spreading into a loving smile when we both pulled away a little, but still tangled into each other's arm and I laughed a little, angling my face closer to his and planted my lips against his again

I need help

First, I dreamt about an upcoming our anniversary together and how this one

What's going with me?

"Are you okay?", his hands moved to hold both my hands into his and my eyes followed his movements as he took my phone from my hands

"Yeah", I said, I wasn't even sure what the heck is going on. Was I having another hallucination, right this very second?

"I'm calling Dylan Woods Sky Tv number, I know I'm not emotionally, I'm about to see me as the little stunt you pulled on the other day, but we need to see to... I'm paused, seeming to think about the perfect word to use for my stupidity. as he was even stopping his fingers.

"About", he finished my sentence and I sort of was like, I was definitely not hallucinating this time, this was Damon for real

Crying out, it's a lot in my mind and you, pitching here unrelated, it just as," I stopped as he fingers to find the perfect word for it

Dumb

"Uncalled for", I forced a polite smile on my face before inviting him in, pinching myself on the arm to be certain this wasn't another hallucination. My imagination was running wild with me when it came to him, and it was honestly driving me crazy. …literally

I'm sorry for showing up unannounced, but I thought we should discuss Dylan's birthday in person", he took his suit jacket a set and on the couch

"Oh yeah, of course", I sat on the couch opposite to him, and he rose a brow a little at me

"Why do you sound surprised?"

"I thought you were here because of other reasons", I shrugged a little, knowing very well that he wasn't impressed with me drunk calling him the other night and was surely going to bring it up sometime in this conversation

"You're a grown woman, you can do what you want, whenwhatever want, with whomwhoever want", he took his phone out of his jacket, stared at it for a second before sliding to the right on the screen and put it back in his pocket again. He just rejected a call. he never rejects calls, like ever.

"Shouldn't you take that?", I asked when he took his phone out again and rejected the call yet again

"It's not important". he pressed on the power button, switching his phone completely o and tossed it on the couch beside him. "They'll leave message"

"Okay so, what did you have in mind for Dylan's party?", I said in hopes to avoid continuing where we're at, and he shrugged his shoulders a little

"I'm not a big fan of big parties, so I was thinking something small and brief. We could invite a couple of his friends over along with our parents and take it from there"

"That's actually not a bad idea, I like it, but it's not going to be a party without a theme"

Surprising me, it's been a recorded item of something

"Superheroes, the Avy Hero these fantasies of heroes saving the world", he chuckled, I didn't even, "Do you know his no longer likes Batman now? He's into Batman now, and the the coolest person in everyone is to him

I laughed. "Yes, I'm aware he's recently a Batman fan"

"The other day, he begged me to take him to the Zoo so that he could see an actual bat so that in Can bite him so that he becomes Batman"

"Did you?"

"I told him bats are extinct"

"Damon"

"Sure me", he a cracked a side smile and I laughed

A or sharing ideas and planning the party to the last detail, I jotted everything down on my notebook, and I was already getting a few things in motion tomorrow morning. The party was only in the next couple of weeks, and I'm sure I'll be able to get everything done before then and make sure that everything is set along smoothly. I'll even be able Hey to help with some things.

"Um, we're done?", he asked as he tapped on the glass of water.

"I think so", I closed my notebook and smiled at him, and he nodded

"Layla, there's something I need to ask from you", he asked and my eyebrows arched up. A need to in relation to the party.

"Sure, what is it?"

"I know it's going to sound a little random but I", he cleared his throat a little. " I need you to come home with me"
