Chapter 1

Chapter 1

Chapter 1 The servant pushed open the door with a creak .

Miss Anderson , this is where you'll be staying from now on The stench hit Noelle Anderson like a punch to the gut .

Damp , musty , and roiling- the air was thick with decay , rolling out in waves , practically choking her .

The room itself was a disaster an abandoned storage space shoved into the farthest , gloomiest corner of the Anderson estate .

It was dark and interly lifeless , as though even sunlight had decided it wasn't worth the effort .

Noelle stood quietly beside the servant .

She was petite , almost delicate , but her bright , clear eyes sparkled with intelligence and quiet determination .

Her features were impossibly doll like : a high nose , softly upturned lips , and a face so perfect it looked unreal .

Yet , as her gaze swept over the shabby linle room , she didn't flinch Instead , she turned to the servant with a radiant smile , warm enough to light up even this miserable space .

Got it .

Thanks she said , her voice soft and honey smooth , as if she hadn't just been shown what was essentially a glorified broom closet .

That smile it could've melted stone The servant's chest tightened .

Such a sweet , kind girl ... but what a shame .

Noelle had returned at the absolute worst time , shattering the fragile peace the Andersons had spent years desperately trying to maintain .

Noelle Anderson the true heir to the Anderson fortune hadn't exactly been given a warm welcome .

A hospital mix up years ago had robbed her of her rightful place in the family .

Instead , the Andersons had poured their love a girl , Leia Anderson , who they'd believed was their daughter all this time .

But fate had a twisted sense of humor , and Noelle's sudden reappearance had sent shockwaves through the household .

and care into another For the Andersons , her return wasn't a happy reunion , it was a disaster .

Leia , devastated by the truth , had collapsed and was now in the hospital The family was torn between two daughters one , the biological child they'd never known , and the other , an adopted daughter who had been their everything It wasn't even a contest .

They sided with Leia , clinging to her and blaming Noelle for everything .

The servant still remembered the fury in Damon Anderson's voice , the fourth heir of the family , as he practically shook the walls with his rage : Why the hell did she come back ? If she'd just stayed gone , Leia wouldn't be in this mess ! And if anything happens to Leia , I swear to God .

I'll make her pay for inf Snapping back to the present , the servant forced a small smile .

Miss , I'll leave you to settle in .

Call me if you need anything Thank you Noelle replied sweetly , her tone as cheerful as ever .

Once the servant had gone .

Noelle stepped into the room and quietly closed the door behind her .

She scanned the room , ensuring she was alone , before reaching up to press the small button on the pendant of her platinum necklace .

A faint blue glow appeared , and a calm , almost chipper male voice rang out .

Good morning , Noelle .

Congratulations on finding your biological family : From now on , you will live with them and your five older brothers Mission activated : Earn their trust and love .

Deadline : six months Understood , she murmured .

Before she could take another breath , the door burst open with a deafening bang In strode a tall man , his presence commanding and his expression full of disdain .

He was undeniably handsome , with sharp features and a smirk that oozed arrogance .

Leaning casually against the doorframe , he looked her over with the air of someone inspecting a broken toy So , Noelle , he drawled , his voice sharp and cutting , how do you like your new kennel ! County enough for you ? I It was Eli Anderson , her fifth brother .

Alright , alright Noelle said with a shrug .

She tossed the spider onto the ground and stomped on it with a decisive crunch .

Eli stared at her , completely dumbfounded .

What the hell is wrong with this girl ! Most women would've been screaming bloody murder at the sight of a spider , but her ? She just grabbed it like it was a damn toy And when he insulted her ? She didn't back down the just kept uniling Before he could process the whirlwind that was Norte , a loud growl broke the silence .
