Novel Chapter 171

Chapter 171: 171

Leon started to think about what Amanda said; in the end, she only wanted to see him happy like she was . However, for several reasons that Leon couldn't tell his little sister, that was the last thing in his mind .

‘Sorry, little sister . ‘ Leon smiled . ‘But even though you are saying that for my own good, you don't have to worry about that . Back in the day, I fooled around plenty . So, now I have to do my best in order not to regret later . ‘

‘Hah... all right . ‘ Amanda sighed . ‘Just try not to overwork yourself to death . You can't try to carry the world over your shoulders, brother . ‘

Leon smiled as he watched his sister leaving . In the end, Leon couldn't bring himself to enter a relationship with one of those four . They were just friends, nothing more . Perhaps if the holy sword weren't sealed, his thoughts would be different, but as of the moment, he wanted to work hard to avoid other failures .

‘Despite surviving those four years on that island, I'm still weak-minded . If something were to happen with my friends, I would go mad and do something stupid like I did in Moscow . Challenging thousands of survivors directly and even going to the point of showing myself to the enemy when I could have destroyed him without even stepping on that city...‘

Now that Leon could count on the survivors of Europe, Japan, and eventually the Caribbean Fighters, there was no need for him to do something so crazy like before . But considering the last years, Leon knew that the future was uncertain, and it was better to be safe than sorry . He only thing he could do to avoid worrying about the future endlessly was to train his magic like a madman .

After two weeks of harsh training, Leon finally completed the second stage of his plan to regenerate his limbs and Gisela's eyes . As he had expected, just healing several wounds wasn't enough; he had to heal wounds all over his body to learn that skill .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Regeneration .

Cost: 1 mana per second

Restores: 1 health per second

You obtained 01 status points .

Much to Leon's surprise, the skill he learned was an active skill and consumed his mana while the skill of the gloves was a passive one and didn't consume his mana . The logic behind was hard to understand, but now Leon didn't need the gloves all that much, and he gave them to Amanda in order to increase her chances of survival in case something happens . There was no point in taking the shield of dawn from Hector, so Leon didn't ask for it . Although he only left on his back, Hector said that protected him many times from stray shots .

‘Well, I guess now I need to train Regeneration a little bit... Unfortunately, I didn’t obtain any clue as to how to regenerate my limbs while I practiced it...’

In the end, Leon had to learn things the hard way . . . by trial and error . Just when Leon was thinking about ways to regenerate his limbs, he received a call from Sarah .

‘Leon, sorry to bother you . Can you talk now?’

‘Yes, what is it?’ Leon asked .

‘First, I would like to report that the weapons you created to help the Caribbean Fighters helped them to decrease the casualties . They became our allies, and now we are trading resources from each other . ‘

‘We have a problem . Tom and I were negotiating with the leaders of the Atlantic Free Nation to become our allies, as well . Things were going well since they didn’t have any interest in competing with other nations and only wanted to increase the chances of survival of their people . However, it looks like someone cause Dungeon Breaks in most dungeons of South America . Now, dozen of millions of monsters are marching toward the Brazilian coast, where most of their survivors are located . ‘

‘No, until now, no one caused dungeons breaks in South America . So, they were caught off-guard since they only watch the dungeons near the coast . Anyway, they are asking for help since they don’t have nearly enough soldiers to fight against such horde of monsters . The European Council is already busy trying to protect the Russian border . Japan is short-handed since they lost a lot of soldiers because they worked for Seiji . As for the Caribbean Fighters, they are still busy fighting the megalodons . ‘

‘I’m sorry if you could lend that scythe that can summon skeletons; it would help a lot, but considering that the power of the skeletons is related to your intelligence, you are the best option . ‘

‘Yeah... there is no other choice then . ‘ Leon sighed . ‘Tell the survivors to buy as many mana potions as they can, even if my undead army can help them; there is a limit of how many I can create on my own . ‘

‘Got it! I will send the message right now!’

The call ended, and Leon sighed . By the look of things, Sarah imagined that Leon would refuse the job . He was helping and making all the nations become allies in order to decrease the burden on himself, so Sarah imagined that . Anyway, even though it was annoying since Leon just finished the second step of his plan, there was no other choice .

‘I guess after learning how to regenerate my limbs; I will try to learn how to create shadow clones... it is the only way for me to find peace in this world . ‘

Chapter 172: 172

After informing about his next mission to everyone, Leon started to apologize .

‘Sorry, Gisela .’ Leon lowered his head . ‘It looks like we will have to stay like this for a while longer .’

Sorry, Amanda .’ Leon lowered his head again . ‘You will have to take my place and teach the survivors .’

‘Don’t worry about it,’ Amanda said . ‘There is nothing left to teach; we just have to observe them and give a few pointers . The problem is, I am still struggling with how to heal wounds .’

‘That’s no problem; I already told everyone what they need to do,’ Leon said . ‘Now, you guys just have to practice .’

‘Do you need a hand?’ Lennart asked . ‘I believe I can be of some use against a horde of monsters .’

‘I don’t plan to fight them up close; the skeletons will do the job,’ Leon explained . ‘Against millions of them, even I don’t want to get too close . Besides, I believe you should stay with your sister and help the city if something happens .’

‘Unless you want to die painfully, I recommend you make good use of that shield and protect my sister and niece .’ Leon frowned . ‘Besides, it’s not like the leader can leave the city for weeks, right?’

‘Yeah... but what about Betty and Sasha?’ Hector said . ‘They are strong, but we already have the numbers to protect this place . However, if something happens, I bet they can carry you on their shoulders and run like hell .’

‘I don’t think I will need much help since the targets this time are just monsters...’ Leon thought for a few seconds . ‘But if they want to go, I won’t refuse their help .’

‘I’m coming too!’ Betty declared excitedly . ‘Hehe, a trip to Brazil... I always wanted to go there .’

‘I will try not to be a burden,’ Sasha said .

After Sasha and Betty left to pack their things, Amanda and Hector greeted each other with a high five . Leon sighed when he saw that, it looked like his sister didn’t give up on the idea of finding a girlfriend for Leon, and now Hector joined the fray .

Leon wouldn’t be able to keep an eye on his surroundings while he meditates to recover his mana, so it was better to bring some trustworthy people with him . That was why he didn’t refuse Hector’s offer .

Fortunately, Leon already had thousands of mana potions inside his magic box, and his clothes and other useful things he would use on the trip were also inside . So, he just had to wait for Sasha and Betty and then put their things inside the magic box .

Several choppers that had been used to bring the soldiers all over the world were in Las Vegas, but since most of them needed to be recharged and couldn’t be used during the recharge time, Leon decided to travel using his earth platform . After finishing the preparations, those moved to the garden to say their farewells .

‘Please, brother...’ Amanda said, showing an unease face . ‘This time, return without losing your other limbs . ‘

‘So, you can even joke about that, huh?’ Leon frowned .

‘I’m not joking...’ Amanda said

In the end, Leon could only nod while forcing a smile . It was a dangerous job, and someone or something caused the dungeon breaks, so it was hard to imagine what may happen . His friends’ lives wouldn’t be in danger since they were there only to escort him, but if something happens, Leon wasn’t sure if he would be able to remain calm . The only thing he was sure was that he wouldn’t make the same mistakes he did in Moscow .

‘This time isn’t some secret mission,’ Hector said . ‘So, at least call Amanda now and then to inform that you are right . ‘

‘I wish you luck,’ Lennart said .

After that, Leon, Sasha, and Betty left Las Vegas . Brazil was a vast country, but the survivors only manage to secure a few of them since they lost their means of transportation due to the dragon’s attack four years ago . Their first destination was a city called Fortaleza, the number of survivors and citizens there was quite the same they had in Las Vegas .

‘How long will it take for us to reach that city?’ Betty asked .

‘If we fly in a straight line, we will reach in a little more than two days,’ Leon said .

‘Even though I don’t want to let anyone see us, we will fly over the continent . It’s too dangerous to fly over the ocean since there are no places to hide, and there are no landmarks . A storm could hit us and make us lose our sense of direction . So, we will probably reach that city in three days... If I don't sleep . ‘

‘No, if we don't hurry, casualties may happen, and since we are the only ones who had been sent, the survivors won't trust the alliance if we don't show results as soon as possible,’ Leon explained . ‘ We will need to protect five cities, but we can't do that all at once . So, I will create an undead army in all of them . Hopefully, the survivors in those cities managed to secure the potions like I asked Sarah...‘

‘Right now... you two have to keep an eye on my surroundings,’ Leon answered . ‘I intend to fly over the east coast until we reach Fortaleza . However, I will use my free time to find a way to regenerate my limbs . So, my concentration will be halved . Report to me if you see something weird under us or approaching . ‘

After informing about his next mission to everyone, Leon started to apologize .

Sorry, Gisela . Leon lowered his head . It looks like we will have to stay like this for a while longer .

Its okay, master . Gisela smiled . Im just a bit sad because I cant help you .

Novel Chapter 173

Although it wasn't very comfortable, they flew without stopping . Leon was already used to staying awake for a few days straight . However, Betty and Sasha had to take turns while keeping an eye on things since Leon was concentrated in moving the earth platform and trying to think of a way to regenerate his limbs .

In the end, Leon had a hard time thinking about it . He could heal wounds, but the wound on his shoulder was already healed, there was nothing to heal left . Leon tried to make his arm using mana and tried to stimulate the mana, but nothing happened . That would be very hard . . . if he couldn't heal, the only way to regrow his arm was to multiply his cells . Heal repaired dead cells . . . so he had to learn the method to heal a cell so much that one would become two cells .

‘That sounds somewhat unpleasant . . . I feel like if I make a mistake, I will end up creating a monster copy of myself . . . ‘

Anyway, Leon had no other choice but to try . After focusing his mana as much as possible on his shoulder, Leon stimulated his mana inside the cells, but there was no change in his body .

‘Well, until I have a better idea, I will keep trying . ‘

As it turned out, Leon didn't think of anything . So, he kept trying for two days straight, and then when they reached the Brazilian territory, it happened . Leon's theory was right; he could multiply cells by stimulating them as much as possible . However, Leon felt terrible pain . His body trembled, and he lost the air his lungs, and then the earth platform started to fall .

‘Wha... Hey, Leon, what is going on ?‘ Betty shouted, noticing that they were falling .

Sasha, who was sleeping, woke up and grabbed her weapons only to notice that no enemy was nearby . Both of them saw Leon trembling, his face was pale like a ghost, and he couldn't hear them . Although that was a problem, the fall itself wasn't dangerous . Betty grabbed Leon's body, and then they jumped from the earth platform and landed on a beach . A few monsters approached, but Sarah easily killed them while Betty was looking after Leon . They finally noticed after several seconds why Leon so much pain . His arm had been regenerated... at least a small part of it . They didn't know how, but Leon recovered three centimeters of his lost arm . However, Leon only stopped trembling and recovered from the shock after half an hour . He felt like he tasted hell and just wanted to rest, but after noticing how much his arm had been healed and after looking at his surroundings, he got up .

Sasha had already noticed, but Betty only saw a massive destroyed forest around them after Leon mentioned that . In the distance, they couldn't see anything but burn down trees and smoke . The monsters horde passed by that place a few hours ago...

'Are you really fine ?' Betty asked .

'Yes, I'm sorry for scaring you two,' Leon said . 'It looks like we can regenerate lost body parts by forcing the cells . However, multiplication of the cells using mana alone is like trying to stretch our bodies beyond the possible... I felt like my very soul was being pulled out of my body . '

'That sounds... unpleasant . ' Betty frowned .

'Anyway, let's go,' Leon said .

Leon created another earth platform, and they began to fly again . He hadn't told them, but that power had many demerits . The pain caused couldn't be alleviated by endurance and mentality . Other skills that also worked to decrease pain had no effects since that was a counter-effect of healing a lost body part .

Leon began to wonder if there was another way to regenerate his body like that . The pain he felt was hellish... it was almost unbearable that it wouldn't be strange if some people decide to live their lives without a limb rather than feel such a pain . Anyway, Leon was worried about Gisela, the pain he felt mostly was in his body, but he didn't feel pain in the head . However, if he tries to heal her eyes, the pain would be much worse, to the point where medicine to dull the pain would be almost useless .

Leon was worried about those effects, but soon he was forced to forget them when they finally catch up with monsters' horde . The monsters were treants, snakes, harpies, and many types of oversized insects . However, what caught Leon's attention were thousands of T-rex that he could see . Those things were huge, and just their appearances were enough to Make Leon feel shivers . He saw pterodactyls and velociraptors now and then, but he totally forgot that someday he would be able to see those humongous creatures .

Leon started to wonder if his skeletons would be enough to kill so many of those creatures, and then his doubts disappeared when they had to fly for several kilometers to surpass the horde of monsters . His skeleton army would have no chance; those creatures would arrive and attack Fortaleza in two days . Unless the survivors managed to store hundreds of thousands of potions, Leon wouldn't be able to build the army to stop them... and that horde was just a fraction of those monsters since many others were going to the other four cities .

Novel Chapter 174

Chapter 174: 174

Leon spent more mana to reach Fortaleza faster, and thanks to it, he now had thirty-six hours to prepare for the battle . The monsters would come from the West, so all survivors in the city, being soldiers or citizens, were helping on the preparations for the battle, mostly erecting barriers and traps to stop the monsters' advance . Just like Las Vegas, a big part of the city was still destroyed, but the number of houses and other buildings that had been built over the last four years wasn't small either .

Most of the survivors frowned when they saw a piece of earth approach, but thankfully a few soldiers had heard that the Allied Forces of North-America had sent reinforcements, but even those frowned when they saw only three people and one of them didn't have an arm and a leg .

'Betty, keep an eye on things around me,' Leon said and then started to summon skeletons . 'Sasha, go find the leader of this city and ask him to bring as many mana potions as he can and equipment that raises recovery . '

'Got it,' Betty said .

Every second mattered, so Leon didn't waste time giving answers or asking questions to the people nearby . Fortunately, everyone who wanted to make a fuss or ask anything shut up as soon as the skeleton wizards and archers appeared . The number of trees around was surprisingly high, so Leon used that to his advantage . He cut their tops and placed steel platforms over them and summoned ten skeletons in each of those platforms . Things would be better for him if he had the chance to concentrate his forces in a single place, but he couldn't . The number of enemies was too big to march and attack a single point of the boundaries of Fortaleza .

With Betty's help, Leon used potions like there was no tomorrow . Still, in no time, he used the five thousand potions he had prepared over the last weeks, but at least things were going well in terms of preparations . Survivors didn't try to stop him, and Sasha was finally back with several survivors who were carrying carts filled with potions .

‘Leon, this is Pedro da Silva,’ Sasha said . ‘He is the leader of the survivors here . ‘

‘Hi, Pedro, I would greet you if I weren't busy, but I am,’ Leon said .

‘No problem,’ Pedro smiled . ‘Is there something we can do to help you ?‘

‘Yes, use those potions on me, fast,’ Leon said .

With several hands to drop the mana potions on him, Leon managed to speed up the process of creating skeletons and those platforms quite a bit . In five hours, he managed to create ten thousand skeletons but still wasn't enough .

'We need more potions,' Leon said . 'I think at least three million monsters will attack this place, my skeletons can kill, but they won't be able to do much if the monsters outnumber them in 300 to 1 . '

'There are more carts coming,' Pedro said . 'However, we don't have many survivors with so many coins . In a few minutes . the survivors who have equipment who can increase your recovery will arrive . '

Leon could only accept that, in the end, he was an anomaly who barely had any need to use his coins . Regardless, now he could use those coins he never used . It was better to use them to save lives than keep saving them for a moment that may or may not come . Leon took Sasha's hands and passed two million coins to her . She opened her eyes widely when she saw that massive amount of coins appearing in her status screen .

'Pedro, you and Sasha will go to the nearest dungeon and buy potions,' Leon said . 'You will need many hands if you want to bring those as fast as possible . Stock the potions here, Sasha . '

After passing to Sasha the magic box, Leon started to meditate . Soon after Sasha and Pedro left, a few survivors came and lent their items to Leon . Most of them were rings that could raise his recovery by fifty . Unfortunately, he could only equip ten of those . But Leon also obtained an amulet and a circlet that increased his recovery by one hundred each . Thanks to those, with his recovery alone, Leon could create four skeletons per minute . However, it wasn't enough .

After covering the whole West side of the city with skeletons on platforms, Leon created several others behind the barricades the survivors created . After working for the next thirty hours non-stop, Leon managed to create almost one hundred thousand skeletons . Still, the odds weren't looking good . From 300 to 1, it became 30 to 1 .

'How are the situations in other cities?' Leon asked .

'Survivors and citizens are working together to increase their defenses,' Pedro answered . 'They will have a little more time to prepare since the monsters will have to cross several natural obstacles before they can reach Salvador, Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo, and Porto Alegre . However, all of them will be attacked in the next few days .'

'Do you have any idea what city will be the first attacked by the monsters?' Leon asked .

'The monsters will reach us first, and for some reason, Salvador, Rio, São Paulo, and Porto Alegre will be attacked on this order,' Pedro explained . 'However, the time between the attacks are more or less of a day... as if...'

'As if someone or something planned, the dungeons break very carefully,' Leon added .

'...Yes . ' Pedro nodded .

Sasha and Betty looked at each other, trying to understand what was going on . However, it was impossible to reach any conclusion . In the end, they could only work hard now to save the city and think about it later .

Leon spent more mana to reach Fortaleza faster, and thanks to it, he now had thirty-six hours to prepare for the battle . The monsters would come from the West, so all survivors in the city, being soldiers or citizens, were helping on the preparations for the battle, mostly erecting barriers and traps to stop the monsters advance . Just like Las Vegas, a big part of the city was still destroyed, but the number of houses and other buildings that had been built over the last four years wasnt small either .

Most of the survivors frowned when they saw a piece of earth approach, but thankfully a few soldiers had heard that the Allied Forces of North-America had sent reinforcements, but even those frowned when they saw only three people and one of them didnt have an arm and a leg .

Betty, keep an eye on things around me, Leon said and then started to summon skeletons . Sasha, go find the leader of this city and ask him to bring as many mana potions as he can and equipment that raises recovery .

Got it, Betty said .

Yes . Sasha nodded .

Novel Chapter 175

As much as Leon wanted, he couldn't just rely on the skeletons alone . So, he asked Pedro to reunite all the people who couldn't fight but had some mana . Noticing that they had no place to run, no-one refused Leon's idea . Even kids and the elderly end becoming part of the plan . Leon took out the railgun and put some steel platform he created above the first line of defense .

'This is a railgun . Fortunately, this weapon doesn't need projectiles per se . ' Leon explained . 'But it needs fuel . Your job is to recharge this as much as possible with your mana; please be quick; once you pour your mana, go to the end of the queue and repeated that as many times as you can . It would be a good idea to let an archer with a good aim to use it and kill those Tyrannosaurus Rex . '

'I think I'm the best archer in the city . . . ' Pedro said . ' You can leave that to me . But you look like you are a powerful mage, wouldn't it be better if you use that yourself ?'

'Even I don't have enough mana to charge it,' Leon said . 'However, I won't use it because I will try to kill as many as the big guns possible before they reach the city . I don't think the skeletons can kill the bosses before the bosses kill them . '

'You are going to . . . what ?' Pedro frowned .

Even Betty and Sasha thought that was madness, but after seeing the horde of monsters up close, they knew that was something that needed to be done .

'Don't worry, I'm going alone, you don't have to risk your people,' Leon said .

‘No, you are not going alone,’ Betty said .

‘Sorry, but it is our job to keep our eyes on you,’ Sasha added .

Leon scratched the back of his head; those were resolute in going with him . Even the usually shy and meek Sasha seemed determined about it . . . It was probably their way to show to Hector and Amanda how grateful they were for their help and friendship .

‘All right then . . .’ Leon sighed . ‘I will end up using more mana, but I guess you guys can keep the flying monsters at bay and let me concentrate on the bosses .’

Without wasting time, Leon created an earth platform and flew to west alongside Betty and Sasha . After two hours, flying, they finally found the horde, if seeing then by the sides was scary, looking the beast flying toward them was bone-chilling . It looked like a tsunami of monsters... Leon couldn’t even decide where he should start .

‘Don’t hesitate right now, Leon,’ Betty said . ‘That is not like you .’

‘... You guys are wrong; I’m not hesitating...’ Leon said . ‘Just contemplating my imminent doom...’

The monsters were marching in unison, so Leon had no more doubts that attack had been instigated by someone . Regardless, it wasn't time to hesitate or think about it . It was time to kill some monsters . Without wasting time, Leon shot three Magma Spears and killed three Tyrannosaurus Rex . As expected, those aren't on the same level as the megalodons, so Leon decided to change his tactics a little bit and created some steel spears . However, while he was doing that, dozens of harpies and insects flew toward them .

Before they could say anything, Leon controlled them with Telekinesis and made them fly like bullets . Although both of them got caught by surprise by the speed, they swung their weapons and killed dozens of monsters in the blink of an eye .

‘I feel sick...‘ Betty said after she returned . ‘At least warn us the next time...‘

Ignoring her complaints, Leon focused on finishing his steel spears . It was a good time to learn the mana version of Regeneration, but the world wasn't so convenient, so Leon couldn't help but wait until his mana was recovered . Although Leon could only control six spears, now he had the recovery to use his mana to strengthen those spears' power and speed without holding back . Even from afar, his attacks pierced the Tyrannosaurus Rexes' skull with relative ease .

‘Showing that much power, you make us look like we have been playing around in the last four years...‘ Betty frowned .

‘Keep your mouth shut and your eyes open,’ Leon said . ‘I don’t have to waste with the flying monsters . If I don’t concentrate, I won’t be able to attack with all my power . ‘

Leon saw Sasha using a technique he had never seen before . She was shooting energy beams from her swords, and they were powerful enough to kill any of the flying monsters . Betty also didn’t waste time . Throwing her knives, she hit several monsters and teleported between them before slicing their throats . They were reliable and strong, Leon forgot that because he saw them struggling with magic... but without using mana, Leon would have his ass kicked against them .

After killing a few dozen of those monsters which were supposed to be fossils, several monsters recognized the threat that Leon, Betty, and Sasha were . From a safe distance, they tried to attack them, Leon dodged most projectiles, but some of them, he ended up having to use Mana Shield to protect himself and his friends . It couldn’t be helped, but Leon couldn’t spend his mana and time on small fry monsters .

Then Leon had an idea when a Fireball hit his Mana Shield... if he could absorb those spells... his power output would increase many times . Leon tried to absorb those spells when they hit Mana Shield, but he failed . He also tried to use Mana-Eater and consume the mana, but he failed again .

‘I guess I’m not a shonen protagonist who can learn skills in the middle of a battle...‘

As much as Leon wanted, he couldn’t just rely on the skeletons alone . So, he asked Pedro to reunite all the people who couldn’t fight but had some mana . ## Novel Chapter 176

Chapter 176: 176

Little by little, they were going back to Fortaleza . Despite the fact that they managed to kill thousands of monsters in two hours, they didn't slow down the horde even a single bit . As if their hard work had been for naught .

'This is not working . . . ' Leon clenched his teeth .

'Well . . . despite that, we killed a lot of monsters,' Betty said .

'It can't be helped; your main strategy is to use the skeletons,' Sasha added . 'Let's not worry too much about this, and we still will see the railgun in action . So, all the hope is not gone . '

Leon nodded; he had no doubts that such a weapon could kill a few T-Rexes in a single shot . The problem was, they don't have time to prepare such a shot . They could only shoot several times, hoping that it would kill dozen of monsters every time . Another problem with the railgun was the fact that even after receiving the necessary mana, it had to wait five seconds to be used . So, at best, the survivors would be able to shoot a single every ten seconds . Still, there was nothing more than Leon could do, so he kept killing the monsters as much as he could .

Eventually, they finally were back to Fortaleza, and Leon could see in the distance his skeletons and the barricades the population created . Much to his surprise, a blue beam of energy passed nearby them at a fearsome speed and hit the horde of monsters . The range of destruction left Leon speechless . With a single shot, the energy beam killed hundred of monsters, ten of them were T-Rexes .

‘Jesus Christ . . . how did I survive that?’ Leon frowned .

Leon soon recovered his focus and started to kill the monsters while retreating . Fortunately, Pedro kept shooting every ten seconds; everyone was working hard, so things were looking good . When they were five hundred meters away from the first line of defense, Leon decided to retreat and join the others, but first, he made his skeleton wizards shot water balls as much as possible . The monsters were still out of their range, but that was fine, things would get interesting later .

After joining the others, only Pedro kept shooting using the railgun . Still, that wasn't enough to slow down the monsters . Two minutes later, the horde finally entered the skeletons range, and Leon gave the order to his skeleton archers shot Thunder Arrows . The horde of monsters was stepping on the mud that the skeleton wizards created by using water balls so many times, and the skeleton archers electrocuted them with ease . The mud amplified the power of the thunder arrows, and Leon managed to stop the first line of the horde successfully . It was finally time for the survivors of the city to do their job, so Leon used War Cry to help them a little .

Leon wasn't aware of it, but Pedro bought hundreds of bows and gave them to even those who weren't used to the weapon . Despite that, thanks to Leon's combination of attacks, even those who weren't archers managed to hit the monsters . However, he didn't notice that, because he was too busy slaying monsters with his spears .

Meanwhile, Betty, Sarah, and all the survivors who didn't have bows were waiting for their turn . The small monsters were dying like ants, but the big ones were resisting quite a bit . Unfortunately, it didn't take long before the bosses finally managed to free themselves from the Thunder Arrows . Pedro tried to stop them, and he succeeded, but his shots stopped hitting several hundred of enemies thanks to that .

'Keep hitting as many enemies as you can,' Leon said . 'I will deal with those that escape the Thunder Arrows . '

'Got it . ' Pedro nodded .

That being said, even though Leon had the power to stop them, the horde of monsters was attacking too many places at the same time . Even with his speed, Leon wouldn't have time to finish them all . Still, there was nothing else that he could do .

Leon, Betty, and Sasha flew toward the horde to draw their attention . However, only a few monsters paid attention to them . Instead of trying to eat those three, the horde was more interested in eating those thousand of humans who were ahead of them . Leon felt thankful but also annoyed due to that, he slaughtered monsters at fearsome speed, but they didn't pay enough attention to him . They retreated a little, and Leon attacked the monsters who managed to escape the range of Thunder Arrows with his Steel Spears . Despite that, several monsters managed to reach the barricade, and they were ready to kill the survivors who were holding their weapons, but at the same time looking at the monsters like scared kids .

Using gravity, Leon stopped several of those monsters who were about to invade the city, and that gave the survivors enough time to react, but at the same time, Leon spent half of his mana to stop those humongous creatures . Even so, he didn’t manage to stop them completely .

The T-Rexes looked at Leon; they seemed very angry, and even from far away, they opened their mouths to eat him . At least, that was what Leon thought . They didn’t open their mouths to eat him, but to attack . Those massive dinosaurs spat fire toward Leon, Betty, and Sasha almost became ashes because the range of their attacks was surprisingly long and because Leon got caught off-guard .

‘Are you serious ? They can use Fire Breath ?’

Then Leon understood, as the earth dragons, the T-Rexes were considered dragons that couldn’t fly . That was the only explanation... still, Leon had an idea . After drawing their attention and making them use the Fire Breath, Leon positioned himself in front of other monsters . Thanks to that, the T-Rexes damaged each other greatly . Still... it wasn’t enough to stop them .

Novel Chapter 177

Chapter 177: 177

Leon and the others managed to keep the monsters at bay for one hour, but eventually, the monsters managed to break the first line of defense . Leon and his skeletons kept attacking the monsters while retreating trying to save as many lives as possible, but even so, several soldiers got eaten and smashed like ants .

Sasha and Betty nodded, they were strong and fast, but they only could do so much to protect hundreds of civilians while fighting dozen of monsters .

Leon’s skeletons weren’t fast like the skeletons knights, so their numbers started to decrease at a fearsome pace . However, the ones who survived managed to leave a sea of fire for the monsters to deal with . It wasn’t efficient like electric attacks, but fire also slowed the big ones down while killing the small fries .

‘Shit... there is no end to this...‘

Probably hundreds of thousands of monsters had fallen, but the end of the battle still couldn’t be seen . Leon tried to cover the soldiers and civilians as much as he could, but that meant that he had to waste a lot of time looking around instead of killing the monsters in front of himself .

Leon tried to save and Heal as many as he could, but after seeing so many people dying in front of him, he understood that he had failed again . He didn’t know if the job was impossible or not, but he had failed nonetheless again . Despite that, he kept fighting because it was the only thing he could do at the moment .

Several hours passed, and Leon lost the count of those who he had failed in protecting or covering . He already could see thousand of survivors behind him and the sea as well . There was nowhere to escape, he could escape if he wanted, but what would be the point ? Flying to escape while seeing thousands of human beings butchered by monsters ? Leon didn't want to do that; he didn't survive the island using brute strength to run in moments like these . He kept fighting until he felt that his head was about to explode due to the exhaustion .

The number of skeletons that were still working barely reached the ten thousand mark, but the damage they caused was scarcely noticeable . Even Betty and Sasha's faces were filled with despair, they didn't know the people who were dying, but they couldn't bring themselves to ignore such carnage . It was like reliving that day four years ago . They were ready to take Leon by force if it was necessary and flee... but then it happened .

'Look to your right!'

A voice echoed in Leon's mind; it was a weird yet familiar voice . Without asking why or who that voice belonged, Leon looked to his right side and saw a corpse of a T-Rex and nearby, he saw a tome .

'What the...'

Leon didn't have the time to look for spoils or drops; he was only interested and fighting to save as many as he could . However, he was in a dire situation where it was impossible to save those people . In the end, the only choice he had was to look for weapons and items near the corpses that could grant him the power to solve that situation . Leon ran toward the tome and picked it up .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Summon Zombie .

Cost: 100 mana

Leon frowned, it didn't look like a powerful skill, but once he tried to use and failed, he noticed what that skill could do .

‘A skill that turns dead monsters into zombies...‘

The cooldown time and the cost were quite high, but that skill would give him what he needed, time . Leon used the skill on the T-Rex corpse, and the creature instantly got up and attacked the nearby monsters . It wasn't strong enough to stop another T-Rex, but that wasn't a problem since it was much stronger and resilient than Leon's skeletons .

Summoning them whenever possible, Leon created several other T-Rex zombies, and they caused quite a ruckus before the other monsters finally recognized them as enemies .

‘Leon... did you do that?’ Betty frowned .

‘Yes... anyway, cover me .‘ Leon said . ‘I need to recover my mana .‘

Betty and Sasha nodded, but even Sasha frowned when she saw the T-Rexes under Leon's control using the Fire Breath that could turn most monsters into ashes in a few seconds... that skill was way too convenient . After ten minutes, Leon had almost one hundred zombie T-Rexes under his control, and since they were under Leon's control, they were way more efficient and organized in killing monsters . The survivors who managed to stay alive until now finally had some room to breathe, and Pedro and the others resumed on the job of using the railgun instead of running for their lives .

It looked like the zombie T-Rexes could more or less suffer the amount of damage as the alive ones before running out of juice . However, considering the fact that Leon could kill one and make another zombie in a matter of seconds . His army only grew the more time passed .

After one hour, Leon had three hundred and sixty of those monsters under his control, and now the survivors didn't even have to fight . They only collected the spoils and treated the wounded . Ten hours after the start of the battle, it finally ended . Those who managed to survive celebrated the victory and the fact that they protected their hometown... to some extent .

Meanwhile, Leon, Betty, and Sasha couldn't but look at each with skeptical eyes . They survived and won by chance; they got very lucky that Leon learned such a convenient skill . However, Leon knew that it wasn't a coincidence .

'That voice... no, it can't be...'

Leon and the others managed to keep the monsters at bay for one hour, but eventually, the monsters managed to break the first line of defense . Leon and his skeletons kept attacking the monsters while retreating trying to save as many lives as possible, but even so, several soldiers got eaten and smashed like ants .

Sasha, Betty! Cover Pedro and the civilians! Leon shouted .

Sasha and Betty nodded, they were strong and fast, but they only could do so much to protect hundreds of civilians while fighting dozen of monsters .

Leons skeletons werent fast like the skeletons knights, so their numbers started to decrease at a fearsome pace . However, the ones who survived managed to leave a sea of fire for the monsters to deal with . It wasnt efficient like electric attacks, but fire also slowed the big ones down while killing the small fries .

Shit... there is no end to this...

Probably hundreds of thousands of monsters had fallen, but the end of the battle still couldnt be seen . Leon tried to cover the soldiers and civilians as much as he could, but that meant that he had to waste a lot of time looking around instead of killing the monsters in front of himself .

Leon tried to save and Heal as many as he could, but after seeing so many people dying in front of him, he understood that he had failed again . He didnt know if the job was impossible or not, but he had failed nonetheless again . Despite that, he kept fighting because it was the only thing he could do at the moment .

Novel Chapter 178

Chapter 178: 178

After observing the items and tomes the survivors collected, Leon only selected half of them and put them inside his magic box . The tomes weren't that useful, so he left them to the survivors, they would need to rebuild and protect the city in case something like that happens again .

Around five hundred soldiers died, and more or less two hundred civilians perished... even though it was crazy, Leon wanted to protect all of them . Despite that massive loss, several people thanked him for his hard work . Leon didn't feel like he deserved their gratitude . Besides, he still had to fight to protect the other four cities . However, much to Leon's surprise, several choppers landed nearby, and Leon recognized several figures inside those choppers, Tom, Arthur, Jess, and the others he worked with for a while in New York .

'The cavalry is finally here... but I guess we are too late .' Tom frowned when he saw the sea of monsters around .

'I thought Sarah said that she was short-handed...' Leon said .

'Yes, but after seeing the photograph, she selected several soldiers and sent us to help,' Tom said .

'Photograph?' Leon frowned .

'Sorry, Leon .' Betty lowered her head . ' When I saw the horde, I concluded that those were too much, even for you . So, I took a photo and sent it to Sarah .' '

'Why are you apologizing?' Leon asked . 'In the end, you were right . We only won because we were lucky . Anyway... we don't have time to waste . We have a little more than ten hours to reach Salvador... by the way, which direction is that city?'

‘ If you follow the coast, you will eventually reach it,’ Pedro said . ‘ What are you going to do with the monster’s bodies ?’

‘I want half of the dragons’ hearts... as for the materials, we don’t have any means to transport all of them . ‘ Leon said . ‘You can keep them . ‘

Pedro and the others will need those materials to obtain coins and rebuild the city, so it was better to let them all of those . That was also another way for Leon and the alliance to gain favor with the people of the Atlantic Free Nation . Now, he just had to do that four more times, and the chances of them becoming allies would increase tenfold .

There was a chance that other monsters would attack the city, so Leon left one hundred zombies behind and made the rest go to Salvador . He also gave them the order to go as fast as possible while killing every single monster they meet on the way .

When Leon updated his status, he couldn't help but frown . Even though he spent two million coins before the battle, now he had eleven million .

'I guess since they are my creation, I earn the coins the zombies obtain by killing monsters . '

Leon didn't think about it before, but using skeletons and zombies were a good way to obtain coins . Even though he only used coins until now to buy mana potions...

'Anyway, let's get going,' Leon said .

Tom and the others would offer air support, even though they soon would stop to let the engine absorb mana, they probably would arrive in Salvador before the battle . For a while, Leon accompanied them while he gave those soldiers the best weapons he found after the battle . They were nowhere near as Leon's gear or Betty and Sasha weapons, but those were better than the rank A soldiers had at the current moment .

As much as Leon wanted to sleep to get rid of that terrible headache, he didn't stop and flew toward Salvador . His zombies would probably arrive several hours after the start of the battle, so Leon had to buy as much time as possible with his skeletons .

Leon arrived at Salvador eight hours before the horde of monsters, like before, he left the negotiations and the mission of buying as much as mana potions as possible to Sasha . However, Leon changed his strategy a little bit . Instead of waiting for the skeletons to absorb mana and use them only during the battle, he made the skeletons use Water Balls whenever they had absorbed enough mana to use it . Thanks to that, a few hours before the battle, his skeletons managed to create a small lake on the west side of the city .

‘To think they would be able to create something this... I really want to learn the skill to absorb mana from the ambient...‘

If Leon had enough mana, he would change the scenery to slow down the monsters as much as possible, but he hadn't . So, he had no choice but to utilize his skeletons' power before the battle . Leon wanted to see how much water he could create by himself, but instead of satisfying his curiosity, he created skeletons non-stop .

Novel Chapter 179

Chapter 179: 179

This time, Leon, Betty, and Sasha didn't try to decrease the number of monsters before the battle . Although it would be a good idea to create some T-Rex zombies before the battle, those would probably die before doing anything since the number of monsters coming behind them wasn't small . Besides, Summon Zombie had a weakness too; to activate the skill, Leon had to touch the corpse, and it would be beyond stupid approach the horde to create a single zombie .

Just like before, the survivors of Salvador were quite cooperative once they saw Leon creating thousands of skeletons . Just like before as well, Leon lent the railgun for the best archer of the city, and hundreds of citizens would recharge the weapon with their mana .

‘It looks like we arrived on time this time,’ Tom said .

Unlike Tom, many survivors of New York didn’t like Leon . He entered their ranks and hid his power from those he worked with, after all . Jess was one of them . However, all those people forgot their petty reasons when they saw the sea of monsters approaching . It was like a scene of a horror movie, and they couldn’t help but remember the feelings they felt four years ago when they lost several friends, family, and even their hometowns .

‘I wonder if this isn’t a nightmare or something...’ Tom frowned .

‘You guys just make sure to keep the citizens who are recharging the railgun alive, okay?’ Leon said . ‘ I will keep the big ones at bay, so kill the flying monsters before they get too close . ‘

‘Roger that . ‘ Tom nodded .

When the monsters were one kilometer away from the first line of defense, the railgun began to be used . Leaving a trail of destruction and burning the ground, that weapon was terrifying, Leon was yet to know why such weapon had been sold in one of those dungeon shops, but it didn't matter now .

A few thousand monsters died before they finally entered the skeletons range of attack, but once again, the railgun alone didn't stop the creatures . When the creatures stepped on the water, the skeletons shot Thunder Arrows . This time the attack had been even more effective thanks to the amount of water; even the T-Rexes couldn't do anything but tremble while being electrocuted . Small monsters burned quite nicely, and the smell of burned flesh permeated all that part of the city .

Things were looking good, but the soldiers who used bows nor Leon lowered their guards and just kept attacking the monsters . Leon was itching to create some zombies, but he also would be electrocuted if he approaches . It was better to wait for the big ones to pass the trap and make them use the Fire Breath once they become his minions, and so Leon did . The small lake and the electric attacks worked for quite a while; the monsters only managed to cross it after two hours and thanks to the fact that the corpses became a bridge to them . Leon, who until now was attacking while trying to conserve his mana, suddenly killed several T-Rexes like a tornado and then turned several of them into Zombies .

‘Go and attack any monster that crosses the lake .‘

The zombies divided themselves into two groups and moved to different sides . Although before they couldn't win a one versus one match against the other T-Rexes, now they could show themselves to be quite the opponents...

‘It looks like the level of the skill also influences their power...‘

Leon tried to check the power of their Fire Breath several times and confirmed that even that attack got stronger . However, just like the skeletons, they absorbed mana from the surroundings to use magic, and when Leon used that too much, his own mana ended up being consumed . Fire Breath was strong enough to kill the hundred of small fries, but its use would limit the number of zombies Leon could create .

‘In the end, it is better to use them as another line of defense . ‘

Eventually, Leon created enough zombies to cover all the places that were being attacked . Thanks to that, aside from himself, the archers, and the citizens who were recharging the railgun, the other soldiers didn’t have the chance to fight . However, they were thankful for that . Even the most powerful parties of that city couldn’t kill a single T-Rex without suffering severe damage .

Another hour passed, and finally, the zombies Leon created in Fortaleza joined the fray . They had several hours to absorb mana, so Leon made them use Fire Breath until they couldn’t, wiping out the battlefield like a storm . This time, Leon wouldn’t fail . No one died, and he was happy for it, but he couldn’t help but wonder about that voice he heard and such a convenient skill falling on his lap .

‘Someone is trying to use me for something...‘

The skill had limitations, but even so, it was too powerful . If one could obtain the power to control the zombie version of a boss, that person would become a fearsome threat . However, such a convenient skill could also turn someone who has the potential to become someone powerful into a lazy and arrogant individual...

‘The tome that suddenly appeared and changed the tide of the battle... and that voice in my head... that person probably used Telepathy... another very useful skill . ‘

It looked like Leon became part of something bigger than himself, he didn't know why, but it was probably because he stopped William, Sanchez, and Alisson . Even though they didn't want it, they ended up working for a Dragonewt . Leon was pretty sure that the owner of that voice wasn't a monster, but it was hard to say for sure . If one could use Telepathy, one could also learn several other neat tricks .

‘For some reason, I don't feel like using that skill anymore... but I don't have any other choice if I want to save as many as I can . ‘

Novel Chapter 180

Chapter 180: 180

Just as Leon had expected, the battle ended without a single casualty on the human's side . It was hard to tell, but more or less four million monsters died in four hours . Once again, everyone celebrated such an astonishing victory, but once again, Leon didn't feel like celebrating .

‘You are frowning too much . . . ‘ Betty said . ‘What will people think if the hero of this battle acts like this after such a victory?’

‘Still . . . I can understand why Leon is worried . ‘ Sasha said . ‘He learned a very convenient skill in a crucial moment; it is very suspicious that his luck is that good . ‘

Leon didn't tell them about the voice, but Sasha was smart enough to figure it out that something was off . In any case, there was no time to stop and relax; they still had to fight to protect three other cities .

Regardless, this time Leon and his zombies ended up winning the battle almost alone . So, Leon decided to take the dragons' hearts for himself . He wondered what would happen to those monsters' hearts once they become zombies, so Leon opened a T-Rex that had died again after becoming a zombie . As expected, the skill wasn't that convenient; the monster's heart melted . Not only that, but the zombies' corpses also rot in a matter of seconds after using all its juice .

'It is powerful, but it is also a very unpleasant skill,' Betty said .

Leon could only nod, forcing dead creatures to fight was something beyond unpleasant . Still, Leon could easily use that skill to almost seal the dungeons if he defeats a few bosses and turn them into zombies, they could easily kill other bosses and monsters that the crystal will spawn . That would be very convenient for Leon, but would that help the world? In some sense, yes . However, stopping all the monsters by himself wouldn't make the human race strong . Billions died four years ago because humans were weak and relied too much on tools . Even if Leon seal all those dungeons, no one can say that other dungeons won't appear and liberate thousand of dragons on Earth again .

'I can't rely on this skill too much... this won't make me the only lazy, but the whole world will become like that if I'm not careful . '

Leon and the others had some time before the monsters could reach Rio de Janeiro, so he decided to sleep in the chopper Tom brought, while they transported him to the next city . Once again, Leon left one hundred zombies behind and made one thousand of them move to Rio de Janeiro .

Just like Leon saw in the movies, Rio de Janeiro was a beautiful but at the same time, a city destroyed by bad governments and militiamen . The natural beauty of the city was a sight for his sore eyes, but he didn't have time to appreciate it . Anyway, this time, his zombies arrived in the city before the start of the battle, so he didn't have to summon his skeletons . Once again, the battle ended without a single casualty . While Leon observed the zombies and the railgun doing all the work, he started to think .

‘I didn't learn this skill by coincidence... even though I also have the scythe, which grants me some useful skills, it is nowhere as near as powerful as the skill to summon zombies . Considering what that skill could do at this level and its potential... there was a chance that a boss shouldn't drop a tome of such level, the T-Rexes aren't as strong as the three-headed earth dragon after all . So, the owner of that voice dropped the tome ? If yes, why he didn't do it sooner ? What is that person's goal ? I certainly didn't imagine that voice...‘

With so many doubts, Leon didn't want to use that skill . Humanity needed to struggle more to fight and get stronger in case something like what happened four years ago repeats itself again . Still, he needed that skill to make Atlantic Free Nation his allies . If he holds back and lets someone dies, Leon would end up putting doubts in their minds, and a partner full of suspicions wouldn't be so cooperative .

The next two days, Leon and the others succeeded again . Atlantic Free Nation survivors became allies, and the day had been saved... however, Leon didn't feel like his job was done . While the survivors were dealing the monsters' corpses most with the Dragons' hearts that Leon wanted, he searched for some very specific equipment, which was, oxygen tanks, a mask to let him breathe in high altitudes and winter clothes .

‘Why do you want that?’ Betty frowned .

‘I want to see this continent from above...’ Leon said . ‘I need to confirm something .’

Even Sasha frowned since she had no idea what Leon wanted to confirm . Leon also bought a map that showed them the locations of all dungeons in South America . After equipping those items, Leon created an earth platform, and they flew upward .

Leon thought he would be able to see the whole continent if he tried to fly a little high, Leon indeed managed to see a good portion of the continent surface . Still, when they reached thirty kilometers of altitude, the temperature got so low that they had no choice but to retreat . Besides, even though they were using a platform that was being controlled by Leon . It was still scary flying so high .

It looked like Leon would have to borrow some astronaut clothes if he wanted to confirm those things in his mind . Regardless, Leon managed to confirm at least one thing . From that height, he saw the trail of destruction the monsters left when the dungeons break happened . For some reason, after leaving the dungeon, the monsters choose the shortest path, not toward the cities, but to join the other monsters .

‘Whatever caused the dungeon breaks, it also made the monsters reunite in order to make them attack all cities at the same time but in different periods... There’s no way this happened by chance . Someone caused this... but why?’

Just as Leon had expected, the battle ended without a single casualty on the humans side . It was hard to tell, but more or less four million monsters died in four hours . Once again, everyone celebrated such an astonishing victory, but once again, Leon didnt feel like celebrating .

You are frowning too much . . . Betty said . What will people think if the hero of this battle acts like this after such a victory ?

Still . . . I can understand why Leon is worried . Sasha said . He learned a very convenient skill in a crucial moment; it is very suspicious that his luck is that good .

Leon didnt tell them about the voice, but Sasha was smart enough to figure it out that something was off . In any case, there was no time to stop and relax; they still had to fight to protect three other cities .
