Novel Chapter 281

Chapter 281: 281

The Earth spirit was called Gnome... Leon imagined that, but it looked like the spirits had the same names of the spirits of games and books . At that point in time, it was a waste of time to dwell on that . In any case, the Gnome of that world was just like Efreet, and a fragment of the original Gnome, and it also was a semi-transparent sphere, but its color was yellow .

Maybe it was because they lived similar lives and origins, but Gnome of that planet was just a chill spirit like Efreet . He had no intention of becoming Leon's pet, and he had no intention of leaving that planet either . That being said, Gnome also agreed to give part of his powers to Leon and Darya .

‘Gnome of this world is stronger than Efreet... he granted us one more skill,’ Leon said . ‘I thought there wasn’t much difference between Earth and Fire Manipulation and between Pyromancy and Geomancy... but I was wrong .’

‘Yes, it is much easier to control earth and fire now,’ Darya nodded . ‘The elements obey us much faster .’

Leon and Darya will have an easier time learning simple spells from now on... the problem was, they didn’t have time to invest in learning those simple spells since it wouldn’t help them all that much . Besides, spells like Summon Lesser Fire Spirit were like Haste, they consumed a lot of mana every second . On the good side, they couldn’t be attacked and could shoot fireballs like a machine-gun . Not only that, but they were also like drones that attacked everything that was considered an enemy .

For the first time, Leon noticed that he was also very greedy for power . He was considering looking for spirits in other worlds, he was pretty sure those would help in the long run . However, finding a world that had spirits was like finding a gold mine... close to impossible . That was even truer considering Leon’s misfortune .

‘I guess our business is over,’ Darya declared . ‘What are we going to do now ?’

‘We still need weapons to increase our Fire and Earth-based spells,’ Leon answered . ‘We will look for the monsters that grant us that . After that...’

‘Return to the island and level up our new skills,’ Darya added .

‘What is a cookie? And don’t treat me like a kid . ‘ Darya hit Leon’s hand when he tried to pat her head .

Leon’s plans were progressing well, maybe in a few months, he would have enough power to surprise the harvesters . However, he was aware that he was neglecting one possible scenario... the scene where the soldiers of that world would try to stop him from capturing the harvesters .

‘Considering what I know, most likely, my elemental spells will be countered . If I keep leveling up Telekinesis and Spearmanship, I’m sure I will be able to defeat them with brute strength... the problem is, will I succeed in overpower a group of fifty soldiers or more ?’

Leon needed a countermeasure for battles against a large number of enemies . Something that could be used constantly and doesn’t consume much mana would be preferable . It couldn’t be an elemental spell either... The problem was, the only skills that didn’t fit that criteria were Summon Zombie, summon skeletons, and his physical skills .

‘I need a new skill, one that can’t be countered or even noticed... Ah... Mana Bullet!’

Leon wondered why he didn’t try to learn that before... it was probably because he didn’t have enough mana to keep training for longer periods of time . It was also because he could only shot five bullets per second, but with Multi-Conjuration, that problem was solved .

‘Great, now that I have a clear plan of action, I just have to train for a while... again . ‘

While Leon and Darya were flying back to the purple crystal, he tried to create mana bullets . He still couldn't see them, but inside his Mana Dominion, he could feel the shape of everything that had mana, so seeing what he was creating wasn't a problem . Usually, Darya would practice with Leon, but she was so tired that she left Leon under control of the earth platform, and she was sleeping using his back as a support .

‘I guess it is better than the solid earth . . . ‘

Leon left his zombie devourer near the purple crystal, and the creature did a good job killing the others nearby . It was already close to death, but thanks to it . Leon didn't have to wake up Darya to approach the purple crystal .

Soon Leon and Darya returned to Miebos, so he started to wonder if it wasn't a bad idea to return to their base and look for the monsters to create magic items later . They would have to train their new skills anyway, and it didn't matter if Leon and Darya obtain the magic items now or a month later .

However, those thoughts disappeared from Leon's mind when he approached the entrance of the dungeon . Thanks to Mana Dominion, he felt the presence of hundreds of soldiers in that world . Leon had the means to defeat them, but among that group, he felt the presence of someone extremely powerful . . . it was finally time to meet Donan .

Novel Chapter 282

Chapter 282: 282

‘Darya, wake up,’ Leon said . ‘We have some visitors . ‘

Darya frowned when she heard that, slowly she opened her eyes, but then suddenly she started to tremble and sweat cold . Darya recognized the presence of her grandfather nearby .

‘Oh boy . . . it looks like you don’t want to see him after such a long time . . . ‘
‘ Leon frowned .

‘W-what are we going to do ?‘ Darya asked while she was trembling like a leaf .

Leon sighed, it looked like Darya’s personality returned to the point where she was one year ago . . . Regardless, Leon messed up . He knew that the shadowy figure or another undead Trent would tell what happened to Donan, but he didn't expect that they have some means of communication . Perhaps, Donan just happened to visit the shadowy figure in the last few days, and that was why a trap was waiting for Leon and Darya outside the dungeon . . .

'... First, let's see what he wants to do . After that, we will decide,' Leon rubbed his chin . 'If something happens, just escape as fast as possible without looking behind . We will reunite on the island . It would also be a good idea to escape using an underground path, we are far away from our base, but thanks to Geomancy, we should be able to move quite fast through underground routes . '

'A-are you sure?' Darya asked .

'Geez... why do you have to act like this just because your grandfather is nearby?' Leon sighed . 'Just remember, if something happens, run away as fast as you can . Create some diversion and then escape through an underground route . '

Darya nodded, even though that kind of incident wasn't within their expectations, she just had to keep doing her best to avoid the worst possible outcome . Things could have been different if they had created a checkpoint inside the dungeon, but they didn't because that wasn't possible . For some reason, before Leon or Darya could cast the spell, their mana would dissipate inside the dungeon, and that only happened when they tried to use Checkpoint .

Leon and Darya started to walk toward the entrance of the dungeon, and soon they saw hundreds of soldiers around pointing their hands toward them . As expected, if they wanted to kill Leon and Darya without asking anything, Donan wouldn't be there .

After using Appraisal on a few soldiers, Leon confirmed a few things . Donan wasn't a fool, and he brought a lot of soldiers who had Fire and Earth Resistance at a high level . It was difficult to know if he knew that Leon's most powerful skill was a combination of both elements, or it was just a precaution since Leon and Darya went to the other world to receive the blessings of Efreet and Gnome .

If that was the case to regular soldiers, the same rule didn't apply to Donan . It looked like he also had the same skill that could counter Appraisal... it had been granted by the shadowy figure, obviously . Leon tried to level up Appraisal a lot to avoid that scenario, but it looked like it wasn't enough .

Regardless, Donan and Darya had many similarities . The same color of hair and eyes, but his hair was very short . His physique was also very different from the soldiers or most of the inhabitants of Miebos . He was a little taller than Leon, and his muscles were big like Hector's... Although he also had a mana crystal on his forehead, it was clear that he decided to become a magic warrior or something like that .

'Hello, Darya . Hello, invader . ' Donan showed a small smile .

'Hello... grandfa-' Darya said .

'Hello, another invader's dog . ' Leon interrupted Darya while he smiled .

Donan trained his men well, despite hearing the enemy insulting their boss, none of the soldiers reacted . Leon looked at them in their eyes, but he still could see the reason in them, they hadn't been brainwashed, they were just that obedient .

'Hahaha, what are you talking about... Invader?' Donan glared at Leon while he was smiling .

‘Playing dumb, huh .’ Leon shrugged . ‘I guess that suits you... What do you want, dog ?’

‘... I want my granddaughter that you kidnapped .’ Donan’s eyebrows twitched .

‘I’m the one who has been kidnapped, you can call me Prince Peach,’ Leon smirked . ‘Darya decided to work with me . I didn’t force her to anything . Unlike you... dog .’

Even from afar, Leon could feel Donan’s mana boiling, he was about to explode... although he wasn’t a fool, he had a lot of pride . Donan couldn’t withstand being called a dog so many times... even though he truly was the dog of that shadowy figure .

‘Spare me of your lies, invader,’ Donan said, while he was having a hard time controlling his urge to smash Leon . ‘Release her, and I will grant you a quick death .’

‘Wow, so generous...’ Leon smirked . ‘Still, do you see some chains attached to her limbs ? If she wanted to, she would have already gone to your side... dog .’

The next moment, Donan’s body became a blur . Leon’s taunts finally worked, but even so... he wasn’t sure if he would succeed in what he wanted to do...

Novel Chapter 283

Chapter 283: 283

The very moment Leon saw Donan tensing his muscles, he used Gravity on himself and on Darya to decrease their weights . After that, he used Telekinesis to move his body backward while he also made Darya move to her right side, where a few hundred meters ahead, she would find a checkpoint .

Still, Leon focused too much on sending Darya to the exact location where the checkpoint was, and due to that, he didn't move all that much in that fraction of a second . The next moment, Donan punched his face, but Mana Armor stopped it . Despite that, Leon was thrown backward much faster than he could fly . His body hit numerous piles of rubble without losing speed, even though those piles of debris were mostly made of distorted steel .

Leon didn't even understand what had happened or for how long he flew . When he recovered his consciousness, he was feeling like crap . It had been a while, but he felt the same way when he woke up on the island... that single punch had been stronger than the railgun . Somehow, Leon didn't lose all his mana blocking partially that attack . Maybe because it was because of the improved mithril ring of the liches, but it didn't matter . His mana was recovering with every second . However, before Leon could get up or heal himself, something grabbed his neck, it was Donan .

‘Mana Reinforcement and Rage...’ Leon murmured while looking at Donan in the eye .

‘So, you noticed... I imagine you used that combination at least once,’ Donan smiled . ‘However, there are a few more secrets behind my strength . ‘

‘ I know,’ Leon grabbed Donan’s arms and started to use Mana-Eater while smiling . ‘You received some presents from that shadow... dog . ‘

The very moment Leon said that several veins popped out in Donan’s forehead, he was truly furious, and he couldn’t recall if Rage could change his appearance that much . Aside from the veins, even his body turned red and also emitted a reddish aura... That was bad . Mana Armor wasn’t enough, so Leon used Regeneration and Stone Skin, one of the new skills that he barely had time to level up .

Using Earth Manipulation added with the power of Geomancy, Leon created several underground paths . He didn't have much mana . He just needed to buy a few seconds . Besides, he didn't use any of those paths . Leon just hid in a hole and destroyed any signs of his movements . Unfortunately, he had to cancel Regeneration in order to use Mana Concealment . He was having a hard time breathing and even holding back his moans of pain .

'Shit... to think that this bastard would be a magic warrior... did he fought against a harvester using punches and kicks alone?'

For several seconds, the area around Leon trembled . But fortunately, there was no sign of Donan getting close . He probably was destroying every underground path Leon created, hoping to bury him alive... Still, that had been a risky plan . If Donan had at least one tracking skill at a decent level, he would have found Leon, since he didn't have time to practice that skill a lot . In any case, before Leon could run out of air or mana, the tremors stopped . However, Leon waited for a few seconds before he could use his mana to create an underground path that could take him out of that area . Still, Leon moved slowly and used small quantities of mana at a time . Only after he was deeper underground, he felt safe to use Full-Recover and eat blue angel leaves .

Leon was completely lost . However, he still could feel the mana of his checkpoints . Using that alone, Leon managed to find his way back to his base... Although he had to travel for one week and using an underground path . However, much to his surprise, Darya wasn't there, and there were no signs of her arrival .

‘This is bad... this is truly bad...‘

Despite that, Leon managed to calm down . Perhaps, Darya chose another route, or maybe she was hidden because some soldiers managed to follow her . She could fly at one hundred and fifty meters per second if she combines Fly and Gravity, so there was no reason to worry . Besides, her checkpoints could let her travel instantly between points thirty kilometers away from each other... Leon just had to wait . Leon waited and waited... but after one month, he finally understood that Donan captured her .

The very moment Leon saw Donan tensing his muscles, he used Gravity on himself and on Darya to decrease their weights . After that, he used Telekinesis to move his body backward while he also made Darya move to her right side, where a few hundred meters ahead, she would find a checkpoint .

For several seconds, the area around Leon trembled . But fortunately, there was no sign of Donan getting close . He probably was destroying every underground path Leon created, hoping to bury him alive... Still, that had been a risky plan . If Donan had at least one tracking skill at a decent level, he would have found Leon, since he didnt have time to practice that skill a lot . In any case, before Leon could run out of air or mana, the tremors stopped . However, Leon waited for a few seconds before he could use his mana to create an underground path that could take him out of that area . Still, Leon moved slowly and used small quantities of mana at a time . Only after he was deeper underground, he felt safe to use Full-Recover and eat blue angel leaves .

... I hope Darya managed to escape . The soldiers didnt have Telekinesis... but perhaps they had, and Appraisal didnt reveal since its level is still low .

Leon was completely lost . However, he still could feel the mana of his checkpoints . Using that alone, Leon managed to find his way back to his base... Although he had to travel for one week and using an underground path . However, much to his surprise, Darya wasnt there, and there were no signs of her arrival .

This is bad... this is truly bad...

Despite that, Leon managed to calm down . Perhaps, Darya chose another route, or maybe she was hidden because some soldiers managed to follow her . She could fly at one hundred and fifty meters per second if she combines Fly and Gravity, so there was no reason to worry . Besides, her checkpoints could let her travel instantly between points thirty kilometers away from each other... Leon just had to wait . Leon waited and waited... but after one month, he finally understood that Donan captured her .

Over the course of the last month, Leon learned and practiced Mana Bullet . Since the skill didn't consume much mana, he managed to level it up until the level seventy with the help of Multi-Conjuration . That skill only consumed a single point of mana, but now it had the power to explode the small fry monsters that always appeared when Leon killed krakens and the ancient whales .

Things changed a lot in the last month, thanks to the wounds he received from Donan, and now due to the fact that he had no one to talk to, Leon felt like he had indeed returned to that island . Now he had thousands of blue angel leaves every day that he could use to train his skills just to himself . Still, if he could, Leon would instead share those with someone . Leon and Darya mostly talked about magic and what they could do to better their spells... However, now and then, they talked about their homes and lives... She was a friend to him, just like Hector, Gisela, and the others were .

It has been a long time since Leon leveled up Rage . It wasn't a coincidence, but it leveled up whenever one of his friends was under the control of the enemy . Rage didn't level up when Leon was trying to rescue Yuki, mostly because Leon was more disappointed with himself since he failed in protecting Makoto . As expected, Leon wasn't a hot-blooded person or someone or someone who would take most things seriously . But when family and friends were part of the equation, he couldn't keep his head cool .

In the last month, Leon didn't say a single word . He was pissed with himself more than anything, but he couldn't complain, nor could he waste time blaming himself for his bad choices . The only thing he could do was to keep training in order to obtain the power to defeat the harvesters and kick Donan's ass .

Leon still wanted to go back home as soon as possible and help his friends .
However, Darya was also his friend, and she was much closer than the Leon knew that fighting up close didn't suit him . Mostly because of his status points, which were focused on intelligence, mana, and recovery . Still, he decided to train Rage, Mana Reinforcement, and Martial Arts . Why ? Because he wouldn't be able to calm his rage unless he defeats the bastard in his own game .

Leon had no interest in a bastard that treats his relatives like tools; that was why he decided he wouldn't involve himself with him . However, instead of apathy, Leon felt pure hatred toward Donan... Still, even though Leon wanted to crush him with his bare hands, he couldn't . Leon wasn't strong enough . Besides, Donan has more or less sixty years of training and experience fighting with his fists alone . Leon was confident in a year or two . He could find a way to kill the bastard using magic . But he didn't want that... he wanted to break Donan's bones and destroy his flesh while feeling it with his own hands... Leon truly couldn't think straight when family and friends were part of the equation .

'... Here I go again trying to act like a one-man army again...' Leon sighed .

In fact, Leon knew that he already could invade the continent . It was very simple how he could do that . He just had to create thousands of zombies . Things would become even easier if he defeats the harvesters and turns them into his slaves too . Sometimes, Leon was really considering that . But in the end, he always cooled his head because he knew that Summon Zombie was a spell that would cause his downfall and because nothing would change after defeating Donan .

‘I already failed, and nothing will change that... but when I succeed, I want to attain victory without relying on external help . ‘

Leon already knew that the island changed him . Despite that, he was a bit too serious about succeeding alone instead of relying on someone or something else help . Although he considered himself as not a prideful guy, that kind of stubbornness was the sign of someone very prideful...

‘What a weird skill...’ Leon frowned .

The more Leon practiced his spells alone or the more he fought alone, the faster Lion's Pride could level up . Not only that, but the skill was also a double-edged sword... it increases his status by a percentage according to the level . However, it increased when he was alone, but it would decrease if he is in a group... It was a very depressing skill, despite its usefulness .

Regardless, Lion's Pride would multiply his status and grow stronger as long as Leon keeps practicing, and just like most skills, it would become even faster with the help of Haste .

‘Based on health, mana, and stamina alone, Donan is at least three times stronger than me . Considering the years he had to level up Mana

Reinforcement and Rage, he should be at least ten times stronger if he uses those... and I still have to consider the skills and possibly items the god of death granted him...‘

Leon could counter-attack and decrease the difference of power using those same skills, but it wouldn't be enough . If he tries to learn new buffs, his mana would be consumed much faster . Leon was also lacking in health, stamina, and even on the mana department...

‘Maybe things will work better if I defeat a harvester and use its spirit to create a melee weapon after questioning him to obtain the information I want...‘

Although mithril was a malleable material, Leon couldn't make a glove using it . If he wanted to destroy Donan's with his fists alone, he would need bracers . Those would increase his endurance and strength... as long as he seals the spirit of a harvester in it . It was a bit risky, but the rewards would be phenomenal . So, Leon started to wonder about what was the correct order to solve his problems .

‘Hah... so many things happened that I even forgot to test the mithril spear I created using the devourers . ‘

As it turns out, Leon could absorb mana from monsters . Each strike would suck mana from his targets and restore his own mana . The problem was, he had to hold the spear to receive the mana, and small monsters usually had even less mana than the spear could absorb . So, it was inefficient... even though he could immobilize them with a single scratch .

‘I could use it on that bastard... but no . He will taste my fists . ‘

Thanks to Mana Bullet, Leon leveled up Multi-Conjuration until level fifty-five, and now he could create six Magma Spears . So, he could level up that skill six times faster . The problem was mana . Even with his recovery, Zen, and the blue angel leaves, Leon could only keep casting Magma Spears for one hour . It wasn't nearly enough to speed up his growth .

‘Even if I use a half-dead Kraken or ancient whale, it won't solve the problem . Besides, it would be too much work to move them to the island...‘

In the end, Leon could only use Mana-Eater on the undead Trent branches to recover his mana . He could only hope that by doing so, he would obtain the power to keep the harvesters at bay after defeating them .

‘Yeah, that will do . Once I cut off their limbs, I will hold them off using the mithril spear of the devourers . Since they are melee fighters, they probably don't have many skills that recover their mana at a fearsome speed . ‘

Leon could decrease his enemies mana, but he wondered if he would ever be capable of finding a solution to his own mana problems . Eighteen months ago, he could only shot six Magma Spears, and then he would have to wait for ten minutes to be able to shot another two . Now, he could shot one every minute without even relying on recovery or mana potions, but then again... it wasn't nearly enough .

Thousands of undead Trent branches were used in three days . Thanks to that, Leon managed to level up Magma Spear, Earth Creation, Fire Creation, Spearmanship, Fire Blessing, Pyromancy, Lion's Pride, and Multi-Conjuration several times . He felt even like going to the liches' dungeon again... but now, the soldiers were probably waiting for him, while they also wait for the harvesters... it wasn't a good idea .

After thinking for a long time, Leon found three possible solutions for his mana problems . He could learn how to absorb spells by looking for a spirit; the chances of him finding one in that world were close to none . He also could learn how to absorb the ambient mana, which he had no idea how to do it, and the last one... he could try to emulate the barrier around the continent that sucked the mana of the people inside of it, to maintain itself...

'... None of those are possible for me, for the time being, at least . ' Leon sighed .

Leon couldn't do any tests . His Magma Spears were powerful enough to knock down a Kraken as of late if he uses Multi-Conjuration even underwater... but it was hard to be sure if those would work against the harvesters . If he tries and fails, Leon would have to face a very annoyed harvester while the soldiers watch the battle .

Novel Chapter 286

Chapter 286: 286

Three months passed since the last time Leon saw Darya, at least he didn't receive any visitors in the meantime . He already had an idea what Donan intended to do with Darya, but Leon still imagined he would torture her to obtain information . The fact that no one bothered was a proof that probably didn't happen... or if it did happen, she didn't open her mouth to talk about it . But Leon didn't want to imagine his friend enduring torture .

For a few days, Leon thought of trying to discover a way to upgrade the blue angel plants, but soon he gave up on the idea . Although there were many differences in the world in different stages of assimilation, it looked like blue angel plants didn't change or could be changed . Mana was the lifeline of the people of that world, so they probably tried to find a way to improve their plants... if they didn't succeed in seven decades, the chances of Leon succeeding in months were low . Besides, he wasn't a botanist .

‘I guess it is time... I can't keep doing this even for a minute more . ‘

When Leon was on the island, he was always about his family . He still hoped for the best... hoping for the best; he chose the safest method for himself to return home . But now, he couldn't afford to do that . His friend was in the hands of the possible candidate of the worst relative ever, so Leon couldn't keep training without trying to do anything . He already knew what would happen if he succeeds; it wouldn't change anything . But Leon couldn't let that bastard keep acting as he wants for much longer .

‘I still don't have the power to defeat him with my fists alone, but... whatever . ‘

That wasn't one of the problems of isolation, one time Leon wanted to do one thing, and then half an hour later, he wanted to do something else . His head was telling him that facing Donan now wasn't a good idea... so, Leon was hoping that by succeeding in completing the first part of his plan, he would suppress a little bit of that frustration . And the first part of the plan was to capture one of the harvesters .

‘I managed to pretend that I’m sane until now... but considering that the holy sword is sealed and now I’m going to try to capture a creature that has been fighting and strengthening themselves for centuries with the help of assimilation... it is clear that I’m insane . ‘

After putting three hundred thousand blue angel leaves inside the magic box, which was the leaves he could harvest in three days, Leon started to fly using the mithril helicopter . It would be a pain, if Leon needs, he would have to eat them . He couldn’t store anything larger than his arm inside the magic box, after all . So, he couldn’t put the containers he used to store the mana liquid .

The Driver's skill was leveling up pretty fast while Leon was flying around in search of battles . Although those notifications were interesting, Leon was more interested in the coast of the continent . Although the continent was immense, Leon found one fortress made of steel every ten kilometers . Not only that, but there were also some warehouses nearby those fortresses and even sharp-looking immense weapons .

Although they were more durable and sharp, Leon's mithril spears were far lighter . His steel spears were five meters long but weighted around thirty kilograms . Meanwhile, he couldn't even imagine the weight of the spears lying around the fortress since they were fifty meters long...

The helicopter could fly at almost one hundred meters per second, but it took a few days before Leon could find the first harvester . Ten kilometers away from it, Leon felt the temperature decreasing... it was a harvester that could control water and ice apparently . Leon wanted to attack one of the two harvesters that didn't have that kind of elemental power, but he still approached to see what those things could do .

Leon arrived just on time to see the end of the battle, thanks to that . He only saw the harvester slashing her sword toward the thousands of soldiers who were trying to hold back her attacks that created dozens of Ice Spears and failing . Leon saw some spears stopping mid-air and frowned, but then he understood that was the effects of the barrier around the continent... it blocked most of the projectiles, but not all of them... the barrier wasn't indestructible, and Leon grinned thanks to that .

Not only that, but there were also some warehouses nearby those fortresses and even sharp-looking immense weapons .

I guess several soldiers have to use Telekinesis to control those at a decent speed...

Although they were more durable and sharp, Leons mithril spears were far lighter . His steel spears were five meters long but weighted around thirty kilograms . Meanwhile, he couldnt even imagine the weight of the spears lying around the fortress since they were fifty meters long...

The helicopter could fly at almost one hundred meters per second, but it took a few days before Leon could find the first harvester . Ten kilometers away from it, Leon felt the temperature decreasing... it was a harvester that could control water and ice apparently . Leon wanted to attack one of the two harvesters that didnt have that kind of elemental power, but he still approached to see what those things could do .

Leon arrived just on time to see the end of the battle, thanks to that . He only saw the harvester slashing her sword toward the thousands of soldiers who were trying to hold back her attacks that created dozens of Ice Spears and failing . Leon saw some spears stopping mid-air and frowned, but then he understood that was the effects of the barrier around the continent... it blocked most of the projectiles, but not all of them... the barrier wasnt indestructible, and Leon grinned thanks to that .

Novel Chapter 287

Although Leon wanted to observe more of the powers of the ice titan, he couldn't mostly because the titan was a woman who was using a very revealing outfit . It wasn't bikini armor, but it was weird seeing a woman wearing that when everything around her was covered in ice . Not only that, but she also had terrific curves... strangely, her short hair and eyes were light blue . She was a sight for Leon's sore eyes...

'The hell am I looking at?' Leon shook his head . 'She is a friend of one of the guys I intend to interrogate and use as material to create a magic weapon... I'm really insane... for a moment, I even forgot about my goal... I couldn't even imagine what would happen if the holy sword weren't sealed...'

Before the ice titan could leave, Leon remembered that he had to use Appraisal . He had to approach a little, but it looked like she didn't notice...

'... Her statuses are way lower than I predicted . How can she fight against thousands of soldiers with only that much power?'

The ice titan was way stronger than Leon, but it wasn't like he was staring at a mountain he couldn't see the peak . Her primary skills were at a decent level, but those didn't look god-like . Regardless, it was a good chance for Leon to follow her . He recalled that the fire titan decreased its size after a long battle... based on Genelosa's health, mana, and stamina, that was the perfect moment to attack her .

‘No... I should stick to the plan . The titans that don’t have the blessings of the spirits are easier targets... wait a minute, did she obtain the blessing of the spirits ? Why didn’t I see that skill ?’

It was weird if Genelosa had time to level up Frozen Aura and Forest of Ice . If she obtained those from an ice spirit or water spirit, she probably would have received a blessing from the same spirit, and its level would be even higher than those skills . Appraisal always showed the level of the highest skills of a target, not seeing that was way too suspicious .

‘Speaking of which... I wonder when I will be able to see the strength and intelligence of my opponents...’

Since Leon arrived in the middle of the battle, he noticed a few things . First, that harvester could recover around three thousand points of health, mana, and stamina every ten minutes . That was crazy, but that explained why they could fight for days . However, Leon noticed that several lightning bolts fell on his opponents... he should have used much more mana than he could recover to use that spell so many times . Much more than his entire mana pool...

‘I guess even those guys have a few tricks up their sleeve... they aren’t just stupidly powerful and big... Again... no elemental blessings...’

Although the harvesters had more mana than Leon, their magic attacks weren’t that powerful . They focused more on the scope of the attack than on the power itself... still, that couldn’t explain why they were using more mana than they actually have .

‘... Maybe it is related to those Frozen and Electric Aura... perhaps that skill changes the weather around them...’

That certainly looked like one of the skills someone would obtain from a Spirit... Although Leon probably solved one question, another one just got more confusing . Regardless, Leon watched the battle for a while, but nothing really happened . Since the soldiers of Miebos had low health, they couldn't focus on offense, they used most of their powers to protect themselves or to at least slow down the harvester . After all, it was close to impossible to block a lightning bolt .

Two days later, Leon found another titan, and this time he saw a harvester that had no elemental attributes like the others, and fortunately, it looked like that battle was close to an end .

Novel Chapter 288

Chapter 288: 288

Alurette didn't drop her guard even ten minutes after the end of the battle . A long time has passed since the last time the soldiers of Miebos followed her to the ocean to ambush her on her weakened and tired state . But for a warrior that fought for hundreds of years, one or two more hours of caution after a battle were nothing .

'Ahhh... So tired...' Alurette massaged her shoulders . 'I'm tired of eating krakens and whales... maybe I should revisit the crab's dungeon . '

Although Alurette didn't drop her guard, she trusted on her eyes and her experience a little bit too much . The fact that never a soldier of Miebos managed to inflict a big wound on her aside from Donan played an essential part in her fall . The fact that she was flying in a straight line also would make her regret for the rest of her life... and he started to feel like that when she felt a sharp pain coming from her knees .

‘Wha-...’ Alurelle muttered in shock when she the part of her legs under her knees, falling to the ocean .

Once Alurelle recognized the origin of the pain, things only got worse . The pain became almost unbearable, and thanks to it, her transformation was undone, and then she returned to the size of an ordinary inhabitant of her world, which was between 1,80 and 2,20 meters of height . Although she was on the short side of her race, she was still taller than Leon .

Regardless, the pain warmed her warrior’s instincts . Instead of thinking of running away, she looked for the bastard who attacked her by behind . Alurelle found a single man, inside of a vehicle that resembled a little bit the aircraft that she saw hundreds of years ago on her world . She also saw nine red-ish spears flying toward her, but it was too late . Those also cut off her arms . Fortunately or perhaps unfortunately, Alurelle wasn’t bleeding, and she noticed why... she got attacked by one heck of spears that were made of a combination of earth and fire . The attack was so powerful that it immediately cauterized her wounds . Despite having such high-level resistances, she still got easily cut .

‘What the...’ Alurelle murmured in shock .

Along time has passed since Alurette felt something like that... utterly hopelessness . No..., only twenty years have passed . She felt like that when she left her planet and arrived on Miebos... not even Donan made her feel like that twenty years ago . Alurette instincts told her to escape instead of fight... and so she did . However, Alurette felt an incredible force pulling her toward that figure was .

‘Gravity... Telekinesis, too?’ Alurette said, surprised while she was watching the figure approaching .

‘Sorry...’ Leon said and then made he made several mithril staves attack her .

Leon’s mithril staves were two times bigger than Alurette; despite that, she took dozens of hits before she finally passed out . Regardless, that had been much easier than Leon expected... he couldn’t face an army of hundreds of soldiers of Miebos, so it was clear that the harvesters were hiding some tricks .

‘Mmm... I guess I succeeded thanks to Multi-Conjuration, Pyromancy, and Lion’s pride... those basically increased the power of my Magma Spears at least twenty times... although I can only use their full power two times without running out of mana . ‘

Regardless, Leon could think of those things later . First, he had to return to his base and start to extract information from Alurette . He succeeded in the first part of his plans, but things would only get unpleasant from that moment onward .

When Alurette woke up, she was tied up on a steel chair . Since she could fly, Leon made sure to tie the chair to the ground . To make things difficult for her, Leon sharpened the parts of the chair that were in touch with her body . If she tries to move too much, she would only hurt herself . Not only that, but Leon also impaled his mithril spear of the devourers on her left side, and he was currently using her own mana to keep a fireball above themselves... since they were in a basement Leon created under his base . The place was deep, but not large . If Alurette tries to escape by becoming big, she would only get stuck on the hole .

‘Sorry about this, but I needed some countermeasures,’ Leon said .

‘Ugh... kill me,’ Alurette murmured barely being able to open her eyes .

From Alurette perspective, everything was spinning . She was too dizzy since Leon’s spear was draining her mana and making her bleed... she wouldn’t last half an hour in that state .

‘I will probably end up doing that, but first, I need to know how you guys manage to travel between worlds,’ Leon said .

‘Go to hell...’ Alurette said .

‘Do you guys also have that kind of insult, or is this the will of the worlds translating the insult in a manner I can understand?’ Leon frowned . ‘ . . . Do you know how I’m able to drain your mana ? It is thanks to this spear . It is a magic weapon that I created using the spirit of a devourer... a monster of another world that eats anything that has mana... This will be the first time I will use the spirit of someone I can talk to as a catalyst to create a magic weapon . I don’t know if you will stay ‘alive’ inside my weapon, but I don’t think it will be fun nonetheless . If you okay with that, then it is fine . But you must know that I will use the magic weapon I will create using your spirit to interrogate your friends... unless you give me the answers, I want . ‘

Chapter 289: 289

Despite saying that kind of thing while smiling, Leon felt a terrible taste in his mouth . Physical and psychological torture... he never imagined he would fall so low . He fought against numerous monsters and humans, he didn't take pleasure on that, but even though he killed a lot, he never retorted to torture... causing pain to an already defeated foe was... unsettling .

Leon begun to feel even worse when Alurette started to tremble and bite her lips, it looked like Darya was right, the harvesters came from the same world... or from at least the same solar system .

‘It is your choice, this may end with you, or I will continue with your friends...’ Leon said . ‘In fact, I’m looking forward to creating magic weapons using their spirits too . ‘

‘... Why do you want to learn that?’ Alurette asked .

‘Why do you care?’ Leon frowned . ‘... Well, keeping that as a secret or telling won’t change anything... I want to return to my world, that is why . A lizard bastard brought me to this place, hoping that I would die here...‘

‘You are not from this world...’ Alurette said, surprised . ‘ Even if I told you, you wouldn’t be able to return to your world . ‘

‘Why?’ Leon asked .

‘A lot of mana is necessary to use that method, far more than you or I have,’ Alurelle explained . ‘Besides, you would have to know the precise location of the planet you want to go to . You don’t know that, right?’

‘Shit...’ Leon bit his lips and clenched his fists .

‘We had to collect mana from millions of monsters to have enough mana to travel to the nearest planet that also had been assimilated,’ Alurelle said . ‘We searched for other planets to divide ourselves, but there wasn’t a single planet that had been assimilated by the system in this part of the universe... Your planet is probably on the other side of the universe . Even if you sacrifice mana of a few planets, you wouldn’t be able to return . ‘

Besides, you are from a race of warriors, so it doesn’t surprise me that you managed to learn such a low-level of teleportation... Still, maybe by learning that, I can find a way to learn the real teleportation . Tell me about the spell you guys used . ‘

‘I don’t know the details... What I do know is that to travel between my world and this world, we had to create a bridge made of mana,’ Alurelle explained . ‘You connect two places with enough mana, and you will be able to Transfer to the second point . ‘

‘Transfer, is that the name of the skill?’ Leon asked . ‘It looks like it is an improved version of Checkpoint . ‘

‘I gave you the information you asked for,’ Alurelle glared at Leon with her unfocused eyes . ‘Now promise me that you won’t touch them . ‘

‘... We lost our planets because we weren’t strong enough when the third stage of assimilation started . ‘ Alurelle bit her lips . ‘We lost them before we could even react... without any other choice, we created a plan to flee to another assimilated world, where we still could grow stronger... until one day, we obtain the power to reclaim our worlds . ‘

‘You guys have a decent goal... but you guys are killing the people of this world and, at the same time leading them to their doom,’ Leon said . ‘So, I guess you are not much different from the creatures that took over your planets . ‘

‘You are wrong! We are here only to challenge the dungeons and strengthen ourselves!’ Alurelle shouted . ‘Assholes like Ivolaer and Inglar kill the soldiers of this world, but that is not the goal of our group . ‘

‘Inglar? Who is that? The fire titan?’ Leon frowned . ‘Either way, it looks like despite having a common goal, your group isn’t that cooperative .
Regardless, it doesn’t mean anything to me if you kill the people of this world or not... In any case, if your friends don't bother me, I promise I won't do anything to them . ' .

After that, Alurette lowered her head and prepared herself . The fate of those who drop their guards on the battlefield was obvious . She was in another world, where she was the enemy of the dominant of that world . Still... she was attacked by surprise, so Alurette accepted her death .

Noticing her resolution, Leon could only sigh . For the first time of his life, Leon was afraid of himself, while his hand approached Alurette to use Seal, he noticed that he was trembling like a leaf . Those harvesters weren't his enemies, but he was willing to use their lives just to achieve his goals faster... he obtained the information he wanted, despite that, Leon was still willing to treat those who weren't his enemies like tools... in a sense, he wasn't much better than Donan .

'Tch...' Leon clicked his tongue in annoyance .

Leon grabbed a mithril staff and hit on Alurette's head . He would probably regret that later, but at the moment, Leon was unable to shut up his conscience...

Alurette woke up in the middle of a random island, and at that very moment, she recalled every single part of the conversation she had with that strange individual . In the end, he spared her, but for what ? Alurette didn't even have her... her limbs were back, and all the wounds of her body disappeared .

Transfer, is that the name of the skill ? Leon asked . It looks like it is an improved version of Checkpoint .

I gave you the information you asked for, Alurette glared at Leon with her unfocused eyes . Now promise me that you wont touch them .

... We lost our planets because we werent strong enough when the third stage of assimilation started . Alurette bit her lips . We lost them before we could even react... without any other choice, we created a plan to flee to another assimilated world, where we still could grow stronger... until one day, we obtain the power to reclaim our worlds .

You guys have a decent goal... but you guys are killing the people of this world and, at the same time leading them to their doom, Leon said . So, I guess you are not much different from the creatures that took over your planets .

You are wrong! We are here only to challenge the dungeons and strengthen ourselves! Alurette shouted . Assholes like Ivolaer and Inglar kill the soldiers of this world, but that is not the goal of our group .

Inglar? Who is that? The fire titan? Leon frowned . Either way, it looks like despite having a common goal, your group isnt that cooperative . Regardless, it doesnt mean anything to me if you kill the people of this world or not... In any case, if your friends dont bother me, I promise I wont do anything to them .

After that, Alurette lowered her head and prepared herself . The fate of those who drop their guards on the battlefield was obvious . She was in another world, where she was the enemy of the dominant of that world . Still... she was attacked by surprise, so Alurette accepted her death .

Noticing her resolution, Leon could only sigh . For the first time of his life, Leon was afraid of himself, while his hand approached Alurette to use Seal, he noticed that he was trembling like a leaf . Those harvesters werent his enemies, but he was willing to use their lives just to achieve his goals faster... he obtained the information he wanted, despite that, Leon was still willing to treat those who werent his enemies like tools... in a sense, he wasnt much better than Donan .

Tch... Leon clicked his tongue in annoyance .

Leon grabbed a mithril staff and hit on Alurelles head . He would probably regret that later, but at the moment, Leon was unable to shut up his conscience...

Alurette woke up in the middle of a random island, and at that very moment, she recalled every single part of the conversation she had with that strange individual . In the end, he spared her, but for what ? Alurette didnt even have her... her limbs were back, and all the wounds of her body disappeared .

What the... Alurette murmured in shock .

Novel Chapter 290

Chapter 290: 290

‘I’m an idiot . . . but an idiot with a clear conscience...’ Leon murmured .

In the end, Leon had to move his base to another island . He didn’t know if Alurette would be able to track that place or not, but it was better to be safe than sorry . Although Leon could have obtained one hell of a magic item, he was satisfied with the knowledge that he obtained . It took two weeks of practice, but Leon finally learned one hell of a useful skill .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Transfer .

You obtained 01 status points .

Although it was a skill that was the upgraded version of Checkpoint, it was relatively simple to learn it . Considering that Transfer and Checkpoint were similar, Leon just had to apply the similarities of one to learn the other . After drawing the runes of Checkpoint using his mana alone and in a place a few meters away of himself, Leon obtained the power to cross distances almost instantly . However, the cost was absurd, and Leon could only transfer himself to places he could see .

‘With this skill, I won’t be able to return to Earth... but I will be able to give a very unpleasant surprise to Donan...‘

Although Transfer was handy, Leon wondered if the next stage of that skill would be the real Teleportation . In his mind, Teleportation was something much more straightforward than creating a circle full of runic symbols... it was the power to cross massive distances with a single thought... but now that Leon was thinking about it, that was a god-like ability .

In any case, Leon decided to level up Transfer for a while in order to make the cost of mana more efficient . Although Leon defeated a harvester, he didn’t let that feeling fool him . He defeated a weakened one, and he attacked Alurelle by surprise . The chances of her being able to dodge his full power attacks weren’t null; in fact, it was pretty high .

‘I have no doubts that a direct hit will kill Donan... but he is probably even faster than the harvesters . ‘

Leon could have asked how the harvesters could become so big and how they didn’t sink on the earth . He was also very interested in how they used many more spells than they had mana . However, the chances of Alurelles answering that were low because that would give Leon some insights into how he could defeat them in a confrontation, and she looked the type who would never do that .

‘Hah... . . ‘ Leon let out a long sigh . ‘I should have at least ‘borrowed’ her swords...‘

What was done was done . Besides, it was Leon’s conscience that let him sleep soundly at night... so it couldn’t be helped that certain actions were required of him .

‘Alurette said that they also use the dungeons of this planet... why?’ Leon rubbed his chin . ‘Considering their powers, they probably cause dungeon breaks to make things more efficient... she said that they sacrificed millions of monsters to connect two worlds... they have a way to use the monsters’ energy?’(function() { googletag.display(‘div-gpt-ad-InStory-1’); });

After practicing for one week, Leon leveled up Transfer to the point where he could move to the extreme limits where his eyesight could show him . He could increase the scope of his vision by flying, but that wasn't necessary . Transfer didn't have a cooldown time, so he could immediately use it after its use... as long as he has mana .

'Now, I just have to test if this skill works inside dungeons . '

Using the same underground path Leon created before, he headed toward the goblins' dungeon . When Leon left the hole he used to escape, he saw the destruction Dolan caused . His rampage left the entire area around the dungeon clean... at least from the rubbles of the previous city . The poison mist was already there, but the goblins' villages weren't .

'It looks like he got rid of them...'

Although the territory was free of goblins, Leon could see some guards flying around, searching for the warriors who lived below their city... or perhaps they were waiting for Leon . But that was unlikely . Four months have passed since Leon was there, and those guys guards were seriously patrolling the surroundings... even if they were diligent, after so much time, anyone was bound to relax on their jobs . Those guards were definitely waiting for something .

'I should wait and see for a while... their numbers aren't that impressive, but even if I defeat them, Donan may prepare another trap for me while I'm on the other world... I can't fall for the same trick twice . '

Fortunately, Leon didn't have to wait inside a hole for a long time . Soon, the area started to tremble a little . When Leon left the hole, he saw some warriors attacking the guards . Among them, Leon recognized Gurr, Eadmund, and Anton .

‘Why are they attacking the guards? Do they want to go to another world?’

That probably wasn't the case, Leon noticed that when the guards reunited in an area to fight, opening the path toward the dungeon . Despite that, Gurr, Eadmund, and Anton didn't even look at the dungeon . They were fighting vigorously... they weren't saving energy to go to the dungeon .

‘I guess they are just fighting like always... I can use that...’

Leon didn't feel indebted to either of those three and besides, they had the advantage since they had the magic weapons Leon sold to them . Without a care in the world, Leon used Transfer and appeared inside the dungeon without letting anyone notice...
