

Valiant Life 1011

Chapter 1011: Searching for a target

In the shop.

It was very quiet. The workers all looked ashamed.

Zhang Zhi Jun came in front of the boss and bowed in apology. He was very serious and very stern. At that moment, he wasn't a leader but a father whose son had committed a mistake.

The boss seemed at a loss. He didn't know what to do. After all, he knew that this man was a leader. How could he let a leader bow to him?

However, Zhang Zhi Jun was sincerely apologizing to the boss. He looked over to his son sternly. "Come here. Apologize to this uncle."

"No..." The child hid in his mother's embrace, clearly afraid.

"You..." Zhang Zhi Jun's expression turned cold. The more he interacted with his son, the more he realized how spoiled and out of control his son was.

Meanwhile, the child's mother had been frightened by her husband's expression. She reprimanded her son and told him to apologize to the boss. Then, she apologized to the boss as well.

Although she still felt unyielding, she had no choice. If she didn't apologize, she knew that she would be in trouble when they went home.

Zhang Zhi Jun recalled Master Lin's words and finally made a decision. He was going to apply for a suspension from his duties or a change in appointment in order to free up his time and personally look after his son's education.

When he said these, even though his wife begged him not to, it was useless.

To the middle-aged woman, if her husband were to change appointments or be suspended from his duties, that would have a great impact on them.

But hearing her husband's tone, she knew that he had probably already decided. He wouldn't change his decision.

Lin Fan, who had left the shop, felt great. Because of that brat, he was no longer keen to go outside to look around anymore.

Looking at the time, it was already half past five. It wasn't early anymore. He went straight home. The next day, he would look around Shanghai.

The next day!

Cloud Street!

No matter what, the first task of each day was to go to the shop and make the scallion pancakes. After all, the townsfolk would always be waiting for him.

Moreover, he was a kindhearted person. He would never be lazy. As the saying goes, whatever you do, you have to love it. That's what life is about.

He unlocked his phone and discovered a piece of news. It was the incident that he had encountered the previous day. However, this incident had not been exposed by others.

It had been Zhang Zhi Jun who exposed it himself. He had undergone a deep reflection and publicly announced the situation.

To Lin Fan, this Zhang Zhi Jun was pretty good. However, sometimes, one has to choose between work and family. And this Zhang Zhi Jun had chosen his family.

Perhaps to him, his family was much more important than his work.

Ding ding

At that moment, his phone rang.

Lin Fan looked at the display on the phone and was a little hesitant about whether to answer. It was a call from his student and he felt that it was probably not something good.

But after some consideration, he decided to answer.

“Ming Qing...” Lin Fan didn’t dare to say much. He had a feeling that something bad was awaiting him.

Zhao Ming Qing said, “Teacher, I want to talk to you about something.”

Lin Fan grumbled in his heart. He felt that something wasn’t right. What he was most afraid of hearing was ‘Teacher, let’s carry on developing prescriptions.’

This was what he least wanted to hear. He felt that it was terrifying.

Stay calm. I have to stay calm.

“Alright, tell me. What is it?” asked Lin Fan.

Zhao Ming Qing replied, “Teacher, we’ve already rested for a period of time. Isn’t it time to start researching other prescriptions?”

When these words were said, Lin Fan didn’t know what to reply. It was indeed what he had been afraid of.

“Ming Qing, what you’re saying is true but I’ve been busy lately. I may not have the time. Why don’t you start researching first? If you come across difficulties, you can ask me,” said Lin Fan helplessly. This student of his was too hard working. His student was basically engrossed in medical studies every day.

“Teacher, I’m already researching but I haven’t found any good leads at all. I think that if I research with Teacher, we’ll definitely be able to open up new doorways,” said Zhao Ming Qing.

Lin Fan rolled his eyes. He hadn't expected his student to have been so prepared.

"Wait a while more. Let me finish my work during this period of time first."

Right now, that was all he could say.

Hearing his teacher give in, Zhao Ming Qing was delighted. "Okay, okay. Please finish your work first then, Teacher."

Then, they hung up.

There wasn't much to do in the shop at the moment.

"You guys stay in the shop. I'm going out for a walk." Lin Fan stood up to leave. Waiting all day in the shop for something to happen wasn't going to work. He had to rely on himself to get the task done.

Heng Jiang Public Square.

There were many people here. After parking the car, Lin Fan went to the place with the most people, searching for suitable people.

He would look at every person that passed by but he didn't pay attention to those who lived comfortable lives.

At that moment, a certain figure drew Lin Fan's attention.

In front, a man who had lost both legs was sitting on a wooden cart. One of his hands was grabbing onto a shared-bike while the other was supporting himself on the ground. He rolled around, dragging the bicycle from afar to place it along the wall.

As Lin Fan sat there and watched, he had no idea what this man was doing.

At that moment, a cleaner passed by and Lin Fan asked, "May I know what he's doing?"

The cleaner said, “Oh, he’s bringing damaged shared-bikes over here for the employees from bike-sharing company to bring them back for repair.”

Lin Fan asked, “Then does the bike-sharing company pay him?”

The cleaner was taken aback. Then, he smiled and said, “How could they pay him? They didn’t even hire him. But it’s really strange. I’ve been here for a couple of months and I see him every day, bringing bicycles from god-knows-where over here to pile them up. Even when it rains, he still does it.”

“Oh right. He’s deaf-mute. He’s usually always around here. Sometimes, when passersby pity him, they’d give him some money and some people even give him some food.”

Lin Fan nodded. He thanked the worker before walking in front.

He wanted to get closer to take a clearer look.

When Lin Fan went closer, he managed to see the tramp’s face clearly. Although the tramp’s clothes were old and tattered, he had maintained his cleanliness.

At that moment, the tramp had relied on his two hands to place the bicycle properly. Then, he picked up the bicycles that had fallen to the ground as well.

“Hello.” Lin Fan went in front of him and extended his hand. He put on a smile.

The tramp was startled as he looked at Lin Fan in surprise. Although he couldn’t hear what this person was saying, to him, this normal action of extending one’s hand was the friendliest gesture.

...

Chapter 1012: It will bring you good luck

The tramp was about to extend his hand but he suddenly remembered that his hand was dirty. Then, he pointed to his left palm with his right hand before dusting off his hands, meaning to say that his hand was dirty.

Clatter!

Without hesitation, under the astonished gaze of the tramp, Lin Fan went and shook his hand. “Hello.”

The tramp saw that this man was smiling at him, so he smiled happily as well. Although he couldn’t hear anything, he could see that this person had probably said ‘Hello’.

Then, he tried to say something but he could only make a strange sound. Still, his meaning was clear.

He was saying ‘Hello’.

Lin Fan took out the wooden carving and held it in front of the tramp. “For you. It will bring you good luck.”

The tramp looked at the beautiful and exquisite wooden carving and was stunned for a moment. He couldn’t understand what this person meant. It seemed that this man was giving this thing to him but he couldn’t accept it.

He waved his hands and shook his head.

Lin Fan felt that communicating was really inconvenient for this person who couldn’t speak. Then, he squatted down and pointed at his throat and ear. “I can cure you of your deafness and muteness. Do you believe me?”

The tramp looked at Lin Fan with no idea what he had just said. However, he saw that this person had pointed to his throat and ears and his expression was slightly sorrowful too. But then, this sorrowful expression disappeared with a blink and was replaced by a face full of smiles.

To Lin Fan, it was really hard to communicate. Then, an idea appeared in his mind. He took out his phone and immediately started typing. After typing, he held the phone in front of the tramp.

The tramp saw the words on the phone and was stunned.

‘I can help you cure your deafness and muteness. If you are willing to trust me, I can have a try.’

These words had brought a huge shock to the tramp. He couldn’t believe it.

Lin Fan looked at him and nodded as if waiting for his reply.

The tramp hesitated for a moment before finally nodding his head as if he didn’t want to disappoint Lin Fan and he didn’t want to reject Lin Fan’s goodwill.

He knew that this was impossible because he had been born with this condition. Although he hadn’t been to a hospital to get it checked, this was something that he had found out about.

After receiving his approval, Lin Fan pinched the tramp’s throat with his fingers. Although it was a very normal technique, he was actually checking the cause of the tramp’s condition.

Then, he chuckled. The Encyclopedia’s mystical boost went through his hands and deep into the tramp’s body. At the same time, his inner power formed sharp lines which pierced into the tramp’s acupuncture points.

The tramp suddenly felt that his skin was very itchy. It was as if something had pierced his skin.

This kind of feeling was very strange. It was as if there was something flowing through his body.

After some time, Lin Fan stopped his actions. Then, he smiled at the tramp. “See if you can speak.”

The tramp looked at Lin Fan. Although he felt that what just happened had been strange, he still felt that there was no way he could speak.

Suddenly!

He was astonished at the thought of his ability to hear.

How could that be? How could he actually hear things?

“I...” There was a look of disbelief on the tramp’s face as he opened his mouth. But because he had never spoken before, he didn’t know how he should do it. All these years, he had been reading those beautiful words in his heart but when he wanted to speak, it was as if he had been stifled.

Lin Fan could only do this much. As for those legs that had been cut off, he couldn’t do anything about that. Then, he passed the wooden carving over.

“This is for you. It will bring you luck.”

“As long as you stay true to yourself, it will give you an exceptional life.”

The tramp wanted to say more but then, he realized that this man had stood up and was walking into the distance. Meanwhile, the man’s voice kept ringing in his ears.”

“Take care of it. It will really bring you luck.”

In the end, he could only stare blankly as the man slowly disappeared from his sight.

Then, he lowered his head and looked at the wooden carving. He looked around as if he was wondering if this was a dream. All of this was unbelievable.

“I can speak now.”

“I can hear sounds.”

At that moment, in the public square, this tramp’s excited expression was as if he had never expected this day to come.

Then, he held tightly onto the wooden carving in his hand and gazed into the distance as if he wanted to remember that silhouette for the rest of his life.

Lin Fan's heart was filled with delight as well. He had such absolute powers and he was able to help so many people.

Especially when he saw the looks of disbelief or shock of people's faces, he felt great.

The next day!

Lin Fan appeared at Cloud Street as usual.

On the Internet, a piece of news had appeared.

A certain reporter had published a set of photos. They were photos of that tramp in the public square, pushing damaged or abandoned sharing bikes to the bike-sharing area one after another.

At the same time, this reporter generously praised the man for this incident.

It had actually drawn the attention of the boss of the bike-sharing company, who posted a statement on their official Weibo. He said that he was willing to hire this man and he would give him all the welfare benefits that any normal employee would receive. Also, they would even provide him with any support he needed for his first period of work.

To the netizens, this was a righteous way to use his capabilities and they sent a series of positive comments.

When Lin Fan saw this Weibo post, he even specially reposted it and left seven words as a comment.

“Good people will live a life of peace.”

When the bike-sharing company's boss saw that Master Lin had reposted his Weibo post, he was exhilarated.

Although Master Lin wasn't very well-known in his line of business, anyone who followed Master Lin knew that Master Lin's circle of friends was very broad. Also, Master Lin had never reposted other people's Weibo posts in history. Now, his own Weibo post had been reposted.

This kind of recognition really made him feel amazing.

At the public square.

That tramp was doing his usual activities as usual. Especially because he had met someone who had cured his deafness and muteness, the smile on his face was even brighter than usual.

When the bike-sharing company's boss came over, he was dumbfounded. He didn't dare to believe it.

The boss actually wanted to hire him as an employee to manage the bikes in this area. He would earn several thousand a month and the company would even pay for his insurance and accommodation.

To the tramp, this was completely unimaginable.

At that moment, he placed his hand into his clothes pocket. In there was the wooden carving that had been given to him the previous day.

In his mind, that man's words resounded.

...

Chapter 1013: Quick-witted maneuver

Wu You Lan said curiously, "Brother Lin, what are you laughing about? Is there something good that happened?"

Lin Fan smiled as he said, "No, I just saw a piece of news and it's really heartwarming. This is really good."

To a normal person, this might be a very normal thing. However, Lin Fan's meeting with that tramp the previous day had changed that person's life.

He was also secretly proud of it. This thing that he produced was quite amazing. It produced results so quickly.

Zhao Zhong Yang, who was using his phone, started talking to himself, "D*mn, there's a new influenza."

Lin Fan asked, "What influenza?"

Zhao Zhong Yang shook his head. "I don't know. I think it's the newest one. Many people from a small town are infected. This article doesn't describe much. It just advises people to watch their hygiene."

Fraud Tian said, "This kind of thing typically gets wiped out very quickly. Our country's medical treatments are quite advanced."

Lin Fan stayed there for a while more before he prepared to leave and find a target.

He had already realized that, if you pay more attention sometimes, you would be able to discover some things that have been neglected in the past.

"I'm going out."

Lin Fan gave everyone a holler before leaving the shop.

Fraud Tian watched Lin Fan's back view as he left. He said curiously, "What has this kid been doing recently? He keeps going out. Could it be that he has found a girl outside?"

Cough cough cough

When Zhao Zhong Yang heard that, he immediately started coughing. "Fraud, are you trying you find trouble for yourself?"

Fraud Tian said, “What do you mean by that?” But just as he said that, he sensed a strong killing intent directed at him. He looked over and laughed before slapping his own mouth. “This mouth of mine really likes to talk rubbish.”

“I was just bullsh*tting. Pretend I didn’t say anything.”

Wu You Lan glared at Fraud Tian and snorted three times coldly as if to say ‘You better watch yourself.’

Outside!

Lin Fan was driving his car and thinking where he should look. Shanghai was so big. This kind of situation was not uncommon.

Screech

A sports car appeared next to him. It was also waiting for the traffic light.

The light turned green.

They accelerated.

In front, a man was driving a battery-powered vehicle. A child was sitting at the front of the vehicle. The traffic light was now red and the vehicle was supposed to turn, so it waited there.

But the child in the vehicle was not obedient. She thought they had reached, so she jumped off the electric vehicle and ran to the left side.

When that man realized that the child was running on the road, he panicked and quickly got off the vehicle to chase the child. Especially when he saw a few cars speeding towards them, his spirit left his body.

Lin Fan had been in a carefree mood at first but suddenly, he saw the situation in front and was given a violent shock. A child was running in front of him and, judging by his momentum, Lin Fan wouldn’t collide with him but that car next to his would very likely run over the child.

Especially because the horsepower of this sports car was rather high.

Without thinking, he jerked the steering wheel to the side and banged his car onto that sports car. He jammed the brakes to position his car perpendicular to the road to block off the cars behind.

He looked at the situation. It was f*cking dangerous.

The traffic police had seen the situation from the start and he had wanted to run over to help but it had been too late. He hadn't expected a car to push aside the car next to it and block the road.

In his heart, he was praising this driver's quick-wittedness.

In the sports car.

A young man was sprawled on the steering wheel. His head was hurting a little. When he realized his car had been knocked into, he flew into a rage as he flung open the door.

When he saw the state of his car, he started cursing out loud.

"F*ck your mom! Are you f*cking blind? You'll have to sell your house to repay me now." Huang Zhen was furious. He felt that this was really f*cked up. Someone actually dared to purposely collide with his car.

Usually, when other drivers saw his car, they would stay far away from it in fear of even touching it.

If they just scratched it a little, they would vomit blood.

Now, someone actually dared to bang into his car purposely.

Lin Fan got off his car and walked a few steps to that adult and the child in front. "Is the child alright?"

The adult was in a pretty severe state of shock. He shook his head. "He's fine, he's fine. Thank you so much."

The situation had been way too dangerous. He also knew that if it hadn't been for this person in front of him who banged into the sports car, the outcome would have been horrifying.

After all, the cars behind couldn't see the situation in front. Even if they had managed to dodge the sports car, they wouldn't be able to dodge the subsequent cars.

The traffic police ran over in a hurry and patted Lin Fan on the shoulder. "You're way too awesome. In such a critical moment, you actually thought of such a solution."

Huang Zhen was fuming as he walked over. He shoved Lin Fan furiously. "Do you have a f*cking problem? Pay for my car!"

But Lin Fan didn't move at all from Huang Zhen's shove. Instead, Huang Zhen felt as if he had pushed a concrete wall. Even his wrist was hurting a little.

The traffic police had wanted to see how this quick-witted hero looked. But when he saw the owner of that sports car in a rage, he hurriedly said, "Youngster, don't be rash. This was a special case. If he hadn't knocked your car aside, you would have run over this child."

"What kind of joke is that? So what if I run over him? This brat was asking for death himself. You couldn't have blamed me for running him over," Huang Zhen answered without thinking.

"How can you say such things?" The traffic police frowned as he felt that this young man's words were too brutal.

Lin Fan turned away from the traffic police and the sports car driver. He patted the child's head. "Little girl, don't run around as you like from now on."

"Thank you, thank you," the adult kept on thanking him. However, there was still fear in his heart. This situation had been caused by his daughter and the car which had been banged into was a luxurious car. How could he possibly pay for the damages?

"Alright, there's nothing else for you here. Go on." Lin Fan said with a smile.

Huang Zhen had been quarreling with the traffic police the whole time when he suddenly heard Lin Fan say that.

He actually told that battery-powered vehicle driver to go. Then, Huang Zhen barked, “Who agreed to let them go? Don’t move! Before we settle this matter, nobody will leave.”

Lin Fan turned around and looked at that young man. “Why do you speak without thinking?”

At that moment, the traffic policeman took a closer look at the hero’s face and was startled. He gasped in disbelief, “Master Lin...”

Lin Fan nodded at him.

Meanwhile, when Huang Zhen found out that this was Master Lin, he was startled as well. However, thinking about how his beloved car had been damaged to such a state, he was still furious.

“Good, you’re a famous person. That’s good. Let them go then. You will handle this matter for me.”

Chapter 1014: Your dad is coming to whip you

This traffic policeman really worshipped Master Lin. He had always followed Master Lin’s Weibo. Especially when he saw Master Lin do good deeds, he would feel very happy.

Now that Master Lin was met with trouble, he had to do all he could to help.

“Master Lin, I saw everything that happened. This place is under surveillance too. The insurance company will help us,” said the traffic policeman.

Lin Fan chuckled. He wasn’t bothered by the collision.

However, he looked over to Huang Zhen and said in a displeased tone, “Why are your words so unpleasant? You said previously that she would have deserved it if you ran over her. How can you think of something like that?”

Huang Zhen retorted, “How I think has nothing to do with you. Now that you’ve damaged my car, you have to fix it. Although you’re Master Lin, you can’t just act as if nothing happened.”

Lin Fan waved his hand. “Don’t worry, I don’t ever run from my responsibilities. I will definitely get your car repaired. But I want to ask you this. If you really ran over her, what would you do?”

Looking at Master Lin’s gaze, Huang Zhen wanted to avoid it. “I didn’t even run over her, how would I know?” Then, a rush of confidence filled his heart. “Stop talking about all this nonsense. Now that you’ve damaged my car, you have to pay for it.”

At that moment, the adult came over with his daughter. “This was caused by my daughter. I will pay for it.”

He had been standing at the side, struggling in his mind. Master Lin had driven into that person’s car in order to save his daughter. Now that his daughter was fine, he couldn’t just leave like that.

Although he really didn’t have much money to repay the man, he would have to bear the responsibility bravely even if he would have to sell his house.

“Hehe,” Huang Zhen burst out laughing when he heard this. “You’ll pay me? What will you repay me with? Now that he is helping you to pay, this has nothing to do with you anymore. Don’t get involved.”

The traffic policeman was very displeased. “Youngster, your words are way too reckless. What’s wrong with him bravely taking responsibility?”

Huang Zhen looked at the traffic policeman and laughed in his heart as well. He waved his hand and said, “I won’t waste my time talking to you guys. My only request now is for my car to be fixed.”

At that moment, Lin Fan said something in an icy cold tone, “Who’s your father?”

This guy's car was not cheap. And it was a local car plate too. It seemed that he was a Shanghai local.

"What do you want?" Huang Zhen looked at Lin Fan with an alert look, wondering what this person wanted.

"I don't want anything. I just want to see if I know him. If I know him, it would be good to break off connections with your father. After all, like father, like son. Your way of speech is so vile, your dad is probably the same," said Lin Fan.

"You..." Huang Zhen was furious upon hearing that. He felt that this Master Lin was really despicable, to insult him so plainly. Then, he laughed coldly and said, "Alright. My father is Huang Yang Shan."

"This name is quite familiar. I think I know him." Lin Fan thought about it for a moment. It was quite familiar. Then, he took out his phone and looked through his chat history.

"Found it."

Lin Fan said that very calmly. Then, he made a call to that number. Once the number was dialed, the call was answered. It was as if that person had been waiting by his phone.

Before Lin Fan spoke, Huang Yang Shan's voice came through.

"Master Lin..."

It was as if he hadn't expected Master Lin to spontaneously call him and it had made him very excited.

"Chief Huang, my car collided with your son's car. I will definitely pay what I am supposed to pay. However, I want to ask you how you raised your child. Why does he feel that running over and killing someone is a very normal thing...?" Lin Fan explained the situation very calmly as he held the phone in his hand.

The place was suddenly filled with silence.

Huang Zhen looked at Lin Fan as his heart started racing. He felt that things weren't looking good.

Meanwhile, the traffic policeman and the child's father didn't know what was going on.

Around them, more traffic police officers came and started to direct the traffic.

Soon, Lin Fan hung up the call and placed the phone back into his pocket.

Huang Zhen had strange feelings in his heart. Then, his heart shifted. "Forget about it. You're good. I admit defeat. I'll repair my own car."

Lin Fan raised his hand. "Don't go. Your dad will be here soon. I will definitely pay for your car. I damaged it so I'll definitely repay you."

Huang Zhen said, "What do you mean? If you want to pay, then just pay. Why did you call my dad?"

Lin Fan replied, "I know your dad. Seeing you like this, I had to tell your dad about it. Just now, your dad said over the phone to tell you not to move. He's coming right now to whip you. If you go, he'll break your legs."

When he said that.

The traffic policeman was dumbfounded. It was as if he couldn't understand what was going on.

Master Lin had damaged this youngster's car and promised to fix it. But now, he had called the youngster's father over to take care of the youngster.

It was a little messy. This relationship was a little messy.

When Huang Zhen heard that, he started to become fearful. His throat started to twitch. It was as if he hadn't expected things to develop to such a state. Also, he was in disbelief as he couldn't believe how well connected Lin Fan was.

How could he know my own dad?

And judging by what he said, my own dad is standing on his side.

Very quickly, twenty minutes passed.

A car came over and Huang Yang Shan got off the car. When he saw Lin Fan, he gave a warm smile and hurried forward to shake Lin Fan's hand. "Hello, Master Lin, hello.

Lin Fan nodded. "Mmm."

Huang Yang Shan realized that Master Lin was not warm towards him. He remembered that the first time they met, Master Lin had been very warm towards him.

Then, his heart sank. This d*mned brat.

"Dad, I..." Huang Zhen went forward and started speaking in a weak voice. But before he could finish, he was slapped in the face.

"You d*mned brat. What did you say? You said that if you run over someone, that person deserves it? Is that what I taught you?" Huang Yang Shan pointed at his unbridled son and scolded.

Then. He took out the belt from his pants and said ferociously, "Let's see if I'll whip you to death."

When Huang Zhen saw this, his spirit left his body as he quickly cowered backward. "Dad, don't hit me. This is in public. Give me some face."

"Ahh! It hurts!"

Then, Huang Zhen kept running around the car while Huang Yang Shan kept chasing him.

Lin Fan folded his arms as he stood there, enjoying this chase.

Some of the car drivers who passed by saw this and were dumbfounded. They wondered what was going on.

Lin Fan said to the little girl who was in her father's embrace, "See that? If you don't listen to your father in the future, you'll be taught a lesson like that."

That little girl looked at the situation and was a little frightened. Then, she nodded and said childishly, "I am very obedient."

Soon after.

Huang Yang Shan came over panting and said apologetically, "Master Lin, I've let you see a joke. It was because I didn't teach him well."

Lin Fan smiled. "When I saw your son, I thought that you were also such a person, Chief Huang. But it seems now that it was just a lack of education."

Huang Yang Shan was very embarrassed. He could only smile accommodatingly. Then, he looked at that son who had been beaten into submission and scolded, "Hurry up and drive your d*mned car away. Are you leaving it here for people to see? Let's see how I'll deal with you later. You've really become lawless."

Huang Zhen didn't want to say anything else. He had been completely humiliated and he was afraid of getting beaten even more. Then, he hurriedly went into his damaged car and drove away quickly.

"Don't go yet. I haven't even paid the repair fees," Lin Fan said.

When Huang Yang Shan heard that, he said hurriedly, "Master Lin, what are you talking about? This kid of mine is foolish. You saved a life and you did the right thing. Let me repair your car."

Lin Fan said, "It's fine. The matter has been settled. I will take care of my own car. Sorry for making you come all the way here, Chief Huang."

"It's nothing, it's nothing," said Huang Yang Shan hurriedly.

The traffic policeman saw this scene and was in admiration. Master Lin was really amazing.

He had to respect him.

Chapter 1015: The meddlesome heart begins to stir

This matter was just a small one to Lin Fan. Initially, he would have casually used his kick to handle such an irascible guy.

But he hadn't expected that Shanghai was so small and his circle of friends was so big. He wasn't required to do anything himself and he let the guy's father handle it instead.

Although he wasn't too bothered by it, Huang Yang Shan naturally knew the severity of the matter. Since they knew each other, they had to keep it between themselves. Huang Yang Shan knew about Lin Fan's temper and what Lin Fan despised as well.

Huang Yang Shan's own brat had done such a thing and that had worsened Master Lin's impression of him. How could he stand that?

To Lin Fan, it seemed that that guy was in for another session of whipping when they went home.

As for how bad it would be, it was heard to say. Even if that guy didn't die from the whipping, he would at least lose a layer of skin.

In the car, Lin Fan felt that the car didn't feel right. It wasn't running smoothly. Although he hadn't shown any signs of heartache before, now that no one was around, his heart ached very much because his car had been damaged.

He immediately made a call to his brother.

"Ming Yang, something big has happened," Lin Fan sighed helplessly as the call was answered.

On the other end of the call, Wang Ming Yang really thought that there was a huge problem. He asked anxiously, “What is it? What happened exactly?”

Lin Fan said, “I had a car accident and my car has been damaged.”

When Wang Ming Yang heard that, he immediately had some thoughts. “Brother, you’re a car wrecker. Tell me, how many cars have you destroyed now. It seems that I should invest in a car company when I have the time.”

“Enough talk. I’ll get my driver to send a car to your shop. I’ll get someone to drive this damaged car back tomorrow. I’ll repair it and drive it myself.”

Thinking about it, Wang Ming Yang couldn’t bear to give up the car. Although it had been damaged, it could still be repaired and he could drive it himself. For his brother, he was very willing to do all this.

Lin Fan said, “That’s brilliant. Alright, there’s nothing else. I’m hanging up.”

“You’re just going to...”

Beep beep!

Lin Fan didn’t wait for Wang Ming Yang to nag at him and immediately hung up. With their relationship, they didn’t need all those fake formalities. He could just say what he needed to say bluntly.

After parking the car, Lin Fan stood in the public square where people came and went. His eyes swept his surroundings.

Although it wasn’t so easy to meet someone who met the requirements, there were many of them. It was just that he would miss them sometimes.

At that moment, a figure drew his attention.

It wasn't because that person met the requirements of the task, but he felt it was a little strange. A small girl was standing at the entrance of KFC, holding a metal bowl in her hand and asking the passersby for money.

But not many people gave her money. The passersby seemed very annoyed and they all avoided her.

Lin Fan stood there for a while. His meddlesome heart started beating quickly again. Then, he walked towards the young lady.

"Little sister, what are you doing? Where are the adults in your family?" he came to the little girl and bent down as he asked.

The little girl looked at Lin Fan. A timid look appeared on her not-so-clean face. Then, she lowered her head and wanted to leave.

However, Lin Fan pulled her back.

"Little sister, I'm a good person. Can you tell me where are your parents? Why are you here alone asking for money?" Lin Fan asked with a gentle smile. This kind of situation wasn't uncommon in Shanghai. However, one wouldn't see it if he or she wasn't paying attention.

The little girl didn't say a single word. She just lowered her head and held on to the metal bowl in her hands.

Lin Fan looked at the little girl and didn't ask more. He could already tell. "Alright, big brother will bring you to the police station, okay?"

"Hey, brother, what are you doing? Don't stick your nose where it doesn't belong."

At that moment, a hand was placed on Lin Fan's shoulder. That person's tone wasn't friendly. In fact, it was threatening.

"Is there something wrong with you? Do you know this kid?" A young man grabbed onto the little girl's collar, then glared at Lin Fan. "Don't be nosy."

After saying that, he looked around before wanting to bring the little girl away from here.

Lin Fan took a step forward and grabbed the man's wrist. It was so painful that the man immediately released his grip. "Ouch! What are you doing? Let go of me!"

At that moment, two other men came over. One of them was trying to pull Lin Fan back. "What are you doing? This is a public place. Why are you fighting?"

Meanwhile, the other man wanted to take the little girl and run away from this place. However, to Lin Fan, if anyone on this planet could take away someone who he didn't want to be taken away, it would simply be like seeing a ghost. It was not possible.

He immediately pushed the two men away and grabbed that man who was holding on to the little girl. With a ferocious blow, he struck the man to the ground. "What are you doing? Did I let you bring the girl away?"

The other two men panicked when they saw this. They looked at each other before nodding. It was as if they hadn't expected there to be someone so meddlesome.

When people saw this situation, who wouldn't know what was going on with the child? But why did no one care? Could it be that they really didn't understand the situation?

"You're just asking for death." The two men charged up and wanted to beat Lin Fan to the ground.

But to Lin Fan, he only needed one finger to crush these people.

Bam!

In the blink of an eye, Lin Fan used his martial arts to take down both of these men. They laid on the ground, hugging their legs and groaning in pain.

The passers-by had all gathered around, wondering what had happened.

"What's going on? Why did they start fighting?"

“I don’t know but it looks like it was for that little girl.”

“I know that little girl. She’s always here begging. I feel like this girl has been manipulated by someone.”

“This person is way too daring. He even dares to meddle with such things. Those people have accomplices. Isn’t he afraid of others taking revenge on him?”

At that moment, Lin Fan took out his phone and dialed 110.

“Hello, police. I want to make a report. There’s someone manipulating a child beggar. I suspect that this child was kidnapped and sold.”

The police replied, “We can’t handle this.”

Lin Fan was startled. “Why can’t you handle it?”

The police answered, “I’ll give you a phone number. This kind of matter has to be handled by them.”

Clatter!

Lin Fan immediately hung up and gave Liu Xiao Tian a call. He explained what had happened.

“Hey, are you Master Lin?” At that moment, the surrounding people recognized him.

Lin Fan nodded at the crowd. Then, he patted the little girl’s head. “It’s fine. Since you’ve met me, nothing will be a problem anymore.”

Chapter 1016: Can you remove your Weibo post?

He hadn’t expected to come across this kind of thing even though he lived in Shanghai.

It seemed that he should go out more often for walks if he had nothing to do. Although he might seem to be meddlesome to others, he had to admit that he was indeed a meddlesome person.

If anyone can't stand it, they can come and beat me to death.

If they can't beat me to death, then forget about extinguishing my meddlesome heart.

Very soon, a police car arrived.

Liu Xiao Tian had already been promoted and he was now a Deputy Bureau Chief. Initially, this kind of thing should have been delegated to one of his subordinates to handle, but since Master Lin had called personally, he felt that he couldn't let Master Lin feel as if he didn't care about these things anymore after being promoted.

To him, as long as it was a police report, regardless of what the situation was, he couldn't treat it as a small matter. He had to handle it as if it was something major.

"Master Lin, where are they?" Liu Xiao Tian rushed over. Thereafter, several other policemen came and stood by his sides too. They occasionally stole glances at Master Lin. In their unit, the things they would hear most were stories involving Master Lin and their boss.

To them, those stories were simply very encouraging.

Their boss, Liu Xiao Tian, had only been an enforcement officer in the past, but after meeting Master Lin, he started to crack cases at an alarming rate and gradually rose to his current appointment.

They also knew that their boss faced great pressure. He would treat every case seriously as he didn't want others to gossip about him.

This case actually wasn't in their area of management, but their boss wouldn't care about such things. To him, the whole police force was a family. Whenever something happened, if they came across it, they had to handle it.

Lin Fan pointed at the three men on the ground. “These are the three. They even wanted to hit me and escape with the child. If they read the news more often, they probably wouldn’t have come up to confront me.”

Liu Xiao Tian shook his head and laughed. Master Lin was right indeed. If anyone knew Master Lin, they would know that it was best not to go against him. Who would’ve thought that those three youngsters would confront Master Lin like that? They had simply asked for their own deaths.

Liu Xiao Tian gestured with his hand. “Bring them back for questioning.”

The policemen nodded and immediately apprehended the three men.

Lin Fan said, “Bring this girl back first and try to ask her questions. See if you can find her parents. If you really can’t find them, she can stay at my welfare institute.”

Liu Xiao Tian nodded. “Alright, no problem. If this girl was really being trafficked, we will definitely deal with these people severely. But we don’t know if they have other accomplices yet. We have to interrogate them.”

“I didn’t think that, just after that raid on such a big human trafficking group last year, there would still be people who dare to repeat that crime this year. They are simply behaving lawlessly.”

Liu Xiao Tian was furious. It seemed that, under the allure of money, many people were willing to take risks.

Those people felt that they didn’t even have to do anything. All they had to do was watch over the children every day and they would earn money. In fact, the money they earned was quite substantial. They were utterly heartless.

After Liu Xiao Tian and his men left, Lin Fan said goodbye to the surrounding townsfolk before leaving to another place to see if he could meet any suitable people.

Then, he came to the side of a flower pool and took out his phone. He went on Weibo. He was very displeased about what had happened when he had called the police earlier.

“I just came across a little girl being manipulated, begging in the middle of a crowded public square. I went up to ask her about it. Eventually, I apprehended a few men and called the police. Initially, I thought that the police would immediately be dispatched. However, the police gave me an unexpected answer. They said that they couldn’t handle this matter and even gave me a random phone number and told me to call that number instead. I feel that this is very mysterious.”

“I only know to look for the police when I am in trouble. How would commoners like us know so many numbers? I felt a little disappointed but perhaps it was just an exceptional case. In the end, I called someone I know. He’s now a Deputy Bureau Chief and he still came personally to handle the case. I’m truly grateful.”

Right now, Lin Fan’s influence on Weibo was very big. Every move and every word from him drew the attention of countless people.

Now that he had posted this Weibo, there were many topics of discussion within that post. It naturally stirred up many netizens to start discussing.

“D*mn, Master Lin is too ferocious. Why is it that I never come across such cases?”

“You do come across them. You just don’t notice them. Why don’t you go out for a walk? If you see women with children begging on the streets, 9 out of 10 times, there’s a problem.”

“That’s right. I support Master Lin. When we see such cases, we just have to call one number and we might be able to save a child. Perhaps the outcome might be personal but it doesn’t affect us. If everyone can do this, there will be fewer children being trafficked in this world.”

“^That makes sense. Actually, discovering human traffickers is even easier than discovering drug traffickers, because drug traffickers hide in shady places while human traffickers are often under broad daylight.”

“But what’s up with that number? Why don’t they want to handle these cases?”

“I feel that the person who said those words on the phone should be found and dealt with. If it wasn’t Master Lin, but an ordinary person, that person might follow the police officer’s instruction and call that number he was given. Or he might even forget about it and stop reporting the case.”

Lin Fan stopped caring about this situation after posting that on Weibo. Instead, he continued to observe every person who was passing by on the street.

Ding ding

At that moment, his phone rang.

Lin Fan immediately answered.

“Bureau Chief Qin, what do you have for me?” He hadn’t expected to receive this call right after sending his Weibo post. This was quite a quick response.

Chief Qin said, “Sigh, Master Lin, I’m really so sorry. It was a mistake in our work. Regarding what just happened, we will definitely deal with it severely and educate our people strictly.”

Lin Fan said, “You do have to deal with it severely. When I made that call, I was really dumbfounded.”

“Yes, yes. We will deal with it severely. This is completely tainting our reputation. We work tirelessly to serve the people and we’ve done so many things but sometimes, a single person’s words can ruin all of it. I really feel helpless,” said Chief Qin with a sigh.

Lin Fan nodded. “Mmm. As long as you have a clear conscience, it’s fine.”

Chief Qin continued, “Master Lin, can you remove your Weibo post then? After all, it has quite a bad impact on us.”

After saying so much, Chief Qin just wanted Master Lin to give him face and delete the Weibo post. After all, Master Lin was not a normal person. His influence was not normal either. Once he said something like that, it made things difficult for Chief Qin and the police.

Lin Fan smiled. “Chief Qin, I know that it has a bad impact. However, when a problem happens, one has to bravely admit to it. Don’t you think so? If we just suppress the matter and hide it, it might produce the opposite effect. What you’ve just said to me, I definitely won’t post that on Weibo.”

On the other end of the call, Chief Qin smiled embarrassedly. “Alright, Master Lin. What you’ve said is very reasonable. I will do a proper investigation and give the public a proper explanation.”

Lin Fan said, “That’s good. I’m hanging up then.”

Chapter 1017: Who the f*ck did this?

After roaming around for a day, he hadn’t found anyone suitable. It was a shame but he wasn’t disappointed at all. It wasn’t that there were too few suitable people but he was just unlucky, so he hadn’t come across them yet.

When he returned to the shop, Chief Qin’s side had already replied very swiftly with an apology for the incident. Also, they had dealt with that police officer who had received the call from Lin Fan earlier.

This kind of swift action made Lin Fan rather pleased.

Then, a call from Liu Xiao Tian came very soon. That child had been kidnapped by those people. The three men had pleaded guilty.

Thereafter, they had matched the child with the lost children database and found her parents.

Her parents were in a rural area several kilometers from Shanghai and it was quite far. Back then, her parents had traveled to Shanghai to make the police report with the help of kind-hearted people. That was why they were in the database.

Lin Fan sometimes felt that his individual power was quite minute. However, when he came across such things, he couldn’t just ignore them. As for those incidents that he didn’t come across, he hoped that other people would be as meddlesome as him and do as he would. Giving a heads up to the police would be a pretty good choice.

The next day!

Lin Fan was still in his sleep when he was suddenly awoken by a phone call. When he saw the phone display, he was dumbfounded. What the heck does Fraud Tian want? It's only six in the morning. Can't he let me sleep?

"Hello. Fraud, if you don't give me a proper explanation, you'll..." Before he could finish, he was flabbergasted by what Fraud Tian said.

"Explain my a*s. Someone has splashed dung all over our shop." On the other end of the call, Fraud Tian was dumbfounded as well. He had come to the shop early in the morning and was greeted with this scene. He had been completely stupefied.

Someone had actually come to mess up their shop. They were simply asking for death.

Meanwhile, the half-awake Lin Fan heard that and was flabbergasted.

"F*ck! Wait for me. I'll come immediately." He hung up and got off the bed to look for his biggest knife. He was going to fight with them to the death.

He washed up and dressed up before driving off towards Cloud Street.

Cloud Street!

The surrounding shop owners were all covering their noses as they brought various tools over to clean up the place.

"Which b*stard did this? If I find out, I'll beat him to death." Elder Liang was trembling with rage. Someone actually dared to mess up their Master Lin's shop. That was simply asking for death.

Sister Hong was incomparably mad as well. "Surveillance cameras. Someone, go and check it. See what exactly happened."

"We're already checking but we haven't found it yet."

"Check the earlier tapes. I think this definitely happened around 3 or 4. There was no one around at that time. They definitely did it then."

Fraud Tian stood there looking at the shop as his whole body trembled. “If I, Fraud, find out who did this, I’ll use my Ba Gua Zhang and beat them until they lose all their teeth.”

“Do you think it could have been done by the accomplices of those people caught by Master Lin yesterday?”

“Yeah, that’s possible. That’s really possible.”

The surrounding townsfolk were drawn over by the scene as well. When they saw it, they were dumbfounded and didn’t know what to say. It was way too crazy. It was a ferocious revenge.

Then, some people used their phones to take photos of the scene and post it on Weibo.

“Someone took revenge by messing up Master Lin’s shop last night. They splashed manure on it.”

Then, they added the photos as well. It was a cruel sight.

In an instant, some people who were looking through Weibo early in the morning saw the situation and they erupted.

“That’s too brutal. They even dare to mess up Master Lin’s shop. I think they must be sick of life.”

“Haha, I’m dying of laughter. Look, this is what happens when you’re too meddlesome.”

“^You’re f*cking stupid. How can you call Master Lin meddlesome? Did your mom not teach you how to speak?”

“Looks like those guys from yesterday have accomplices. These accomplices are taking their revenge. I’m afraid Master Lin will not live in peace from now on. This kind of thing can’t be defended against.”

“Sigh. It’s really despicable. These people should just f*cking die.”

“Seeing meddlesome people get their retribution, I feel amazing. Even if he’s awesome, even if he’s the world’s savior, let’s see who will save his shop now.”

“F*ck, the Internet is too dangerous. Sometimes, when I see these comments, I feel like I’ll go crazy.”

At the scene!

When Lin Fan reached the scene, he could already smell a nose-piercing stench from the distance. Then, he walked over with a black face.

Fraud Tian saw Lin Fan and said, “Look. What the f*ck is this?”

Sister Hong said, “Little Boss, don’t be angry. We have to find out who did it.”

Elder Liang said, “Yeah. These guys are too lawless.”

Elder Chen said, “The police is here.”

When Liu Xiao Tian found out that someone had splashed manure on Master Lin’s shop, he had rushed over with his men immediately. He was furious about this matter as well.

“Master Lin, we will definitely get to the bottom of this for you,” said Liu Xiao Tian.

“It’s fine. It’s the first time I’ve encountered such a situation. Looks like someone is taking revenge for yesterday’s incident.” Lin Fan smiled as if he hadn’t expected this.

But he was a little happy. He wouldn’t have to open his shop temporarily. He wouldn’t have to make scallion pancakes either. It seemed that he would have more time to do what he wanted to do.

“We’ve found it on the video. It was at 3:40 last night when a group of people with masks did it,” the people who were checking the surveillance cameras shouted.

Lin Fan went over to that side. There were many surveillance cameras along Cloud Street. When he looked at the computer screen, he saw four completely covered people coming to the shop entrance. They even started by kicking the door a few times before opening the bag of manure they had prepared and splashing it on the door.

After doing that, one of them faced the surveillance camera and raised his middle finger as if to say: 'Lin, f*ck your mom!'

Everyone who was watching it was filled with rage. They felt that they had been challenged.

Liu Xiao Tian said, "I'll pass down the order right now to check every surveillance camera. We have to see where these people went."

Lin Fan waved his hand. "There's no need for too much trouble."

Liu Xiao Tian was taken aback. He thought that Master Lin wanted to forget about it.

But how could Master Lin just forget about it?

"Doggy, where are you?" Lin Fan hollered.

"Woof woof!"

When Elder Dog heard Lin Fan's call, he dashed over from afar. He had stayed overnight at his wife's home the previous night, so he hadn't been in the shop.

He had stayed far from here mainly because the smell was too f*cking pungent. His sense of smell was really perverse.

It was several hundred times or even several thousand times more sensitive than that of professional search dogs. As for how sensitive it was exactly, it was hard to say.

Chapter 1018: Doggy is more ferocious than you

Liu Xiao Tian looked at Lin Fan in disbelief. “Master Lin, you mean that Elder Dog can find them?”

To him, that was impossible. It was something that had happened at three-something in the morning. The scent would have dispersed a long time ago. How could any dog on this Earth have such abilities?

Lin Fan trusted this doggy’s abilities. After all, he wasn’t a normal dog. He was a demon dog. How could this even be a problem for him?

“Doggy, find the scent of the people who were at our shop at 3:40 last night,” Lin Fan said to the doggy.

To outsiders, this was simply like playing the piano to a cow. But the people of Cloud Streets knew that Master Lin could communicate with animals.

Elder Dog looked at Lin Fan, then at the manure-covered shop. At that moment, a look of helplessness appeared on his dog face.

I really don’t want to sniff it. It’s too smelly!

I’m just a dog who likes to do righteous things, not a dog who likes to smell sh*t.

But he had no choice. With people depending on him, he had to do it. Moreover, his puppies and his dog wife were with these people as well. He had to work.

Then, Elder Dog came to the shop’s entrance. He didn’t dare to go too close and he started sniffing.

But with one sniff, that pungent smell rushed in. It almost made him tear.

Lin Fan nodded confidently. “Don’t worry. I trust that my doggy will definitely be able to smell them.”

Sister Hong was curious. “If he can smell them, Elder Dog would really be amazing.”

The poodle, Flowers, was at her owner, Sister Hong's side. When she saw her dog husband sniffing a pile of sh*t, she let out a look of distaste.

Meanwhile, those puppies could already run now. They were standing there and sniffing as well. However, they couldn't sniff anything out. Then, they rolled around on the ground and played.

"Woof woof," Elder Dog barked at Lin Fan.

Lin Fan naturally knew what Elder Dog was saying. He let out a smile. "You've found it. Let's go."

Then, he said to Fraud Tian, "Fraud, you'll stay here and clean up the shop."

Fraud Tian was still in an angry state. "I can't stay. I have to teach those guys a lesson. Let me use my Ba Gua Zhang to teach them a proper lesson." Then, he turned to Zhao Zhong Yang. "You'll stay and clean up."

Zhao Zhong Yang had a stupefied look on his face. Just as he wanted to say something, he realized that Fraud had already entered the car. He didn't even have a chance to refute.

Then, he looked at the state of the shop's door. At that moment, he was lost for words.

In the car.

Elder Dog was sitting in front as he kept sniffing the air. Then, he would turn to Lin Fan and bark. Lin Fan would then drive in the direction of Elder Dog's instruction.

...

In a certain shabby house in a shantytown.

A group of people was looking at their phones and roaring with laughter without the slightest scruple.

“Haha, I’m dying of laughter. This Lin is really too meddlesome. Today, we splashed sh*t on his shop. In a few days, we’ll splash paint,” a bald man said as he laughed madly.

“Brother Guang, what’s so good about paint? We’ll still splash sh*t on his shop in a few days,” said another little brother.

“F*ck, Lil’ Three and the rest have been captured. I heard they’ve been sentenced to a number of years. How can we rescue them?”

“How could we possibly rescue them? It’s not so easy.”

“I’m really pis*ed off. We have always minded our own business. He runs a shop but he came to meddle with us. If it wasn’t for the fact that I can’t take him on, I would beat him to death.”

“You don’t say. There are even people on the Internet speaking in support of us. They’re saying that this Lin is way too meddlesome. They’re saying that this revenge was good.”

“Those are the people who know their stuff. Look at all those meddlesome people. How many of them end up well?”

“That’s true.”

At that moment, the room door was opened. Two young men dragged a small boy in. Then, they hit the back of the boy’s head and the boy fell to the ground.

“Brother Gaung, this little b*stard was talking to a stranger, saying that he couldn’t find his parents,” said the two young men furiously as they glared at the boy as if they wanted to swallow him whole.

That boy trembled in fear as he squatted by the wall, hugging his head with both hands. He didn’t dare to speak, nor did he dare to cry, because he knew that if he were to cry, he would be beaten cruelly.

When Brother Guang heard that, he immediately walked over and grabbed the boy’s hair. He lifted the boy’s head and threw a slap across his face.

“Talk. Why don’t you talk to strangers more?”

That slap had been very heavy. Soon, the boy’s face was completely red and there was even internal bleeding.

“If you still dare to talk next time, I’ll make you mute. Then we’ll see if you’ll still talk,” Brother Guang growled.

Those few people at the side kept on laughing. “Brother Guang, I think that we should just make him mute now. If he really causes a problem next time, we might get ruined by this kid.”

Brother Guang pondered for a moment before nodding. “That makes sense. We can’t let him go. Let’s make him mute.”

When the boy heard that, he instantly started crying in fear. “Don’t make me mute. I won’t dare to do that next time.”

Smack!

Brother Guang immediately slapped him. “Next time? There is no next time. Little b*stard, you were asking for death. Did you think people nowadays would help you?”

Then, he looked at the two young men. “How was the situation resolved in the end?”

“That person was given a scare by me and he scurried away. We were worried so we walked around a few rounds before coming back. People these days think that they are so righteous but they’re actually gutless. Once they are given a scare, they wouldn’t dare to meddle with other people’s business anymore,” said one of the men.

Brother Guang said, “How much money do we have?”

That man took out the money. “Thirty-something.”

When Brother Guang heard that, he slapped the boy once more. “You piece of trash. Thirty-something?! How did you beg? You didn’t put in any effort, did you? I’ve wasted my time raising you. You won’t get any food today. If you don’t get any money in the afternoon, you won’t get any food ever again.”

Bam!

Suddenly.

The room door was kicked open.

The first person to enter was not Lin Fan, but Fraud Tian. when he entered, he bellowed in anger. “You guys dared to dirty the door. I’ll beat you to death.”

Fraud Tian was not to be underestimated. This old man really knew real kungfu. With one blow, he sent the young man flying.

Meanwhile, that Brother Guang saw this scene and was shocked. He wanted to escape but Elder Dog charged forward and ferociously bit onto Brother Guang’s trousers.

A blood-curdling scream rang out.

Lin Fan entered the room and saw the situation. His heart was fiery but a voice started speaking in his head. Stay calm, stay calm. Don’t be violent. Let the doggy be violent. The doggy is more ferocious than you.

Liu Xiao Tian rushed in with his men and hurriedly took over those people who had already been taken down.

That Brother Guang had been bitten on his leg by Elder Dog. That area was already stained with blood. It even felt as if his flesh had been bitten off. He kept on screaming miserably.

The other people in the house had also suffered from Elder Dog’s bites.

Lin Fan stood there and blinked. He looked at the situation in front of him with no reaction at all.

They were really beautifully bitten.

Chapter 1019: Beginning a huge investigation

It was a ghastly and devastating sight.

Liu Xiao Tian looked at Elder Dog's work in anguish. Elder Dog was really too ferocious.

"Master Lin, aren't Elder Dog's bites quite severe?" Liu Xiao Tian looked at the bloody scene and he didn't even dare to keep looking. He couldn't allow any lives to be lost. If lives were lost, it would be hard to explain.

Lin Fan nodded. "Doggy, that's enough. Stop biting. How many times have I told you not to bite people as you like? If you bite someone with contaminated blood, what would you do?"

In Elder Dog's frenzy, it was as if he had been venting his anger. He was a majestic and dominant dog. For him to have smelled sh*t, it was a huge disgrace.

Now that he had come across these people who had splashed the sh*t, of course he had to bite them.

Liu Xiao Tian looked at Elder Dog's ferocious appearance and mumbled in his heart. Perhaps even those trained dogs from the military are nothing before Elder Dog.

"Ah! Come quickly. This kid isn't looking too good." Fraud Tian's voice rang from inside the house. Fraud Tian used to be unmatched with his Ba Gua Zhang skills. He had grown old but his technique was still there. With his palm strike, he had struck these people until some of their teeth were missing. But when he saw a boy on the ground who was breathing weakly, he shouted in a panic.

Lin Fan rushed in. When he saw the boy lying on the ground, he immediately started checking the boy without hesitation. He ripped open the boy's shirt but then, he realized that this boy had bruises all over. He had nearly been beaten to death.

Lin Fan then looked over at those guys who had been beaten to the ground by Fraud Tian and was filled with rage.

Liu Xiao Tian rushed in as well. When he saw the boy's condition, he gasped. The boy had green and purple bruises all over and what was worse was that he even had scars from being burned by cigarette buds. With one look, he was astounded. The people who had done this were simply inhumane.

"Bring them all back and notify the people at the station that everyone will have an overtime meeting tonight." Liu Xiao Tian was fuming. He hadn't thought that, amidst the peace and security that they safeguarded, such things were still happening. Regardless of what other people thought, he felt that it was a slap to his face.

Moreover, Master Lin was right there with him. It made him feel completely ashamed.

"Master Lin, is the boy fine?" asked Liu Xiao Tian.

Lin Fan performed some emergency treatment. "He's fine. They were too brutal to him. Liu Xiao Tian, I feel that this will really depend on your investigations. This shanty town has bad people mixed in with the good. There are so many people who pass through this place, you guys probably don't know what kind of people stay here."

Liu Xiao Tian's face turned red as Lin Fan said that. He was very ashamed.

But what Master Lin said was right. This was a shanty town and many people who came from other places to work stayed here. There were also some outlaws who would stay here, mainly because the law was not stable here.

The landlords would just take a quick look at the tenants' IDs before letting them stay. As for how many people stayed in their properties in the end, no one cared.

Some landlords purposely cared less just so they could quickly rent their properties out.

Hence, Liu Xiao Tian was going to treat this matter seriously. He had already reached his current appointment. Even if he was under even more pressure, he had to resolve this.

Cloud Street!

When Lin Fan returned, the shop owners all surrounded him.

“Little Boss, were the culprits caught?”

“Did you find them?”

Fraud Tian flicked his hand. “They were found. Those little b*stards are too unbridled. When I went in, I beat all those b*stards down with a series of palm strikes to let them know that they can’t be too ruthless.”

“D*mn, Fraud is amazing. I couldn’t tell,” said Elder Liang with a gasp. He knew that Fraud was quite capable and possessed real kungfu.

However, what shocked them was that Elder Dog was so powerful. He had been able to sniff out even that. It was simply scary.

Lin Fan looked at the shop. Someone had called a water truck to clean up the shop. Moreover, there were even a lot of cleaners dressed in uniforms who were performing a big clean up with all sorts of equipment.

“Who called these people over?” Lin Fan asked curiously. After all, they were very professional.

Zhao Zhong Yang replied, “One of your fans. He runs a cleaning company in Shanghai. This water truck and the workers were all sent over by him.”

Lin Fan gasped in his heart. Having fans was really great. His fans held all kinds of professions. Lin Fan’s mood brightened up significantly.

“Where is he then? I have to thank him properly.”

Zhao Zhong Yang shook his head. “He didn’t come. He only sent his people here.”

Then, they didn't say much else. It seemed that this fan was very low-key. However, Lin Fan couldn't let these people go through this trouble for nothing. Most people wouldn't have been able to do what those workers were doing.

Lin Fan told Zhao Zhong Yang to prepare some red packets for the workers.

However, the cleaners all didn't accept the red packets. After cleaning the shop until it was sparkling clean and odorless, they left the place.

After the cleaning, the shop was even cleaner than before.

Nighttime!

Liu Xiao Tian's side had begun strict interrogations on those men. Also, they had investigated the boy's identity. Luckily, they managed to find this boy's family. They had contacted the family. When they found out that the family stayed rather far away, Liu Xiao Tian sent someone to send the boy back by the high-speed rail.

The conference hall.

Liu Xiao Tian sat on the platform as the other police officers sat below. All of them knew what had happened that day. As for what their Deputy Bureau Chief was going to say, they had a rough idea.

With a gentle cough, he adjusted the position of the microphone. "Today, I've gathered everyone here not to talk about some ambitious ideal or some distant goal. I will keep it short and not waste time. CCTVs have been installed up until now and they densely cover all of Shanghai's streets, business districts, shopping malls, etc. According to logic, not many crimes should escape our CCTVs."

"But after this incident, I realized that everyone has been too relaxed. When people call the police from crowded places like malls and train stations to report such incidents, how often are police officers dispatched?"

"I've looked through the records regarding this. There have been quite a number of police reports. However, the frequency of police officers being dispatched is disappointing."

Little voices started to discuss amongst themselves. They all felt that they had been wronged. They were helpless in these situations. There were some cases where real mothers and children would go and beg for money. There was no way they could capture these beggars.

How were they supposed to differentiate the real ones from the fakes?

Bam!

The platform shook as Liu Xiao Tian slammed the table with his palm. The people below were startled and even a little fearful.

“I don’t care how other places handle things. Those who are working on the networks and those on standby, stay at the station. The rest of you, go to every public area and patrol them. Check the IDs of any suspicious individuals. If I find anyone in the office drinking tea and reading the newspapers, I’ll say it now, you will be fired.”

“And I will be patrolling the streets too. If I find anyone lazing around in shops, the consequence will be the same.”

“Dismissed!”

Liu Xiao Tian left.

The people below exchanged looks with each other. They hadn’t expected Deputy Chief Liu to explode into such a rage.

Chapter 1020: A problem has occurred

The next day!

When the previous day’s incident was reported, the netizens instantly rejoiced. Those culprits hadn’t even had much time to be arrogant before they all got caught in one go.

To the netizens, those people who dared to splash sh*t on Master Lin's shop had really been asking for death. Now, things had gone exactly as they had imagined. Those culprits were all done for and not one of them remained uncaught.

At that moment, on Weibo.

“D*mn. It's like I'm seeing ghosts today. The police officers have all come out to patrol. They're checking IDs on the streets. Could it be that something has happened? Or perhaps some important leader will be coming?”

There were also photos along with these comments that expressed the netizens' astonishment. After all, this kind of situation really made them astonished.

Although there had been such situations in the past, they were mostly before some big event or before some important leader came for an inspection.

Normally, the most that the public would see were traffic police officers directing the traffic on the road.

However, an insider exposed the truth.

“Last night, the leader raged during our conference. He was completely furious. He even gave strict orders for us to come out and patrol.”

When this comment was sent, many people replied to it.

“That's a good thing.”

“Yeah! That's the only way we can leave those criminals with nowhere to hide.”

Some people supported it while some people criticized it.

“Hehe, that's what it means to have authority. If it wasn't for that Lin, do you think they would do this?”

“That’s right. This situation has implicated him, that’s why they’re taking it seriously. If it happened to some commoners like us, would they possibly do this? If anyone says it’s possible, that would really be strange.”

“I live in a small county. There has actually been an incident that happened here before. It was during the new year period. An old man brought his granddaughter out to buy things and when he wasn’t noticing, she disappeared. That old man was so anxious that he almost cried. Guess what happened in the end? This girl’s father is one of our local leaders. He made a call and it made everyone scared. In the end, that child was dropped off at a tollbooth. Do you think they really don’t know about these crimes? Do you think it’s really possible?”

“^You’re tainting the police’s reputation. Don’t talk blindly.”

“Hehe, you don’t have to believe it. But everyone here in my hometown knows about it.”

Lin Fan had nothing much to do and was scrolling through his Weibo as well. When he saw this severe issue being discussed, he was helpless. Thinking about it, he decided to post a comment.

“Yes, I admit to this problem. I’m very powerful. I’m Shanghai’s Master Lin. I love meddling with things. Whenever I come across something that isn’t good, I’ll meddle with it. Therefore, I’m surrounded by danger as well. My police brothers taking care of me is a very normal thing.”

When the netizens saw Master Lin’s comment, they burst into laughter.

“Haha, Master Lin is scolding himself again.”

“Sigh. Stop meddling, Master Lin. It’s too dangerous. You’re still young. You have to take care of your own life.”

“There is nothing wrong at all with what Master Lin said. He is surrounded by danger. Of course, someone has to protect him.”

Meanwhile, after Liu Xiao Tian had given that order, the other units felt that they couldn’t sit idly by as well. They also passed down similar orders.

Over at the shanty town, a large number of police officers had entered to conduct checks one by one. The public's IDs were recorded one by one. Those without IDs were immediately brought back to the station for investigations. The police officers even managed to find a number of wanted criminals as a result. It was a big clean up. At the same time, the landlords of those rental houses were strictly dealt with. It was a way of letting those landlords know what would happen if they rented their houses to people without IDs again.

Meanwhile, at public squares and train stations, anyone who was begging was checked by police officers. Even those who weren't begging, but were with children and women, were checked one by one. They were simply giving those criminals nowhere to hide.

On the Internet, many netizens were working. After work, they saw all these incidents and they clapped as they watched the videos and saw the photos. Then, they started to post messages of praise on the Internet.

Lin Fan saw all this and started laughing. He felt as if having his shop splashed with sh*t by other people had been worth it.

If someone still wanted to take revenge on him next time, he would welcome them. They could splash whatever they wanted on his shop. After that, they would be done for.

Huang Yun Town.

It was a small town that belonged to a poor county. But this small town didn't have a small population. Its population was close to ten thousand. These ten thousand people really stayed in the small town. Those who had moved out to work weren't counted.

At that moment, a middle-aged man's brows were tightly furrowed. His clothes were a little crumpled as if they hadn't been changed for days. He walked on the only cement road in the town, looking at all the shut doors around. He didn't know what he should do.

He had come all the way to the clinic. Inside, many people were on IV drip and they were coughing nonstop. Those originally healthy townsfolk were now dispirited and lifeless.

"Mayor, what do you think is going on? Why have so many people in our town caught a cold?" one of the townsfolk asked as he coughed. He seemed to have been infected as well.

“It’s fine. With the doctor here, it’ll be okay,” assured the Mayor, Niu Da Ming. However, he had a bad feeling. This wasn’t a normal cold. After being a mayor for so long, even though he was just a very poor mayor, he had a pretty good vision.

Suddenly, a series of sounds came from outside.

“There are people sealing off our town. Everyone, come out and look. They’re sealing off our town!”

When Niu Da Ming heard that, he was startled. He hurriedly ran out. When he saw that person outside, he berated him, “Child, what are you saying?”

A teenager of around sixteen or seventeen was bare-bodied as he pointed in front. “There are people sealing off our town to prevent us from leaving.”

“They say that we’ve been infected with a disease that they don’t even know and they want us to stay in our town and wait for the medical personnel to arrive.”

Once this child said that, the people who heard it all let out frightful expressions.

“Don’t talk nonsense.” Niu Da Ming glared at him before looking over to the end of the road. There were indeed people sealing off the town. There was even someone spraying medicine all over. He hurriedly ran over while yelling at the townsfolk, “I’m going to take a look. Don’t come over!”

The townsfolk watched as the mayor ran over and they felt reassured. This mayor was very good to them and he was reliable too. They trusted him very much.

Niu Da Ming rushed over but before he could get close to the end of the road, those people stopped him.

“I’m Huang Yun Town’s Mayor. Are you all from the county?” Niu Da Ming shouted.

At that moment, a person wearing protective clothing walked to him. “Mayor Niu, we just received a notice from the city’s Health Department to safely quarantine your Huang Yun Town. Don’t worry, it will be fine. Very soon, the quarantine will be lifted.”

When Niu Da Ming heard that news, he started grumbling in his heart. He wasn't an idiot. "I'm the Mayor of this town. I have the right to know what happened. Don't worry, I'm not the kind of person that would cause a ruckus for no reason. But at least let me understand what has happened exactly."

The man seemed to ponder for a moment before replying, "This is the situation. The city's hospital just discovered that a patient has been infected with a rare influenza. Then, they checked his identity. He had just come from your town. Hence, before you all are completely treated, we can't let any more people come out of your town. The professional team has already started looking for a solution to this."

"You are the Mayor. You should know what to do."

Niu Da Ming's mouth gaped as if he hadn't expected such a thing at all. But in the end, he nodded. "I know. Don't worry. I will reassure the townsfolk. I believe the government will resolve this as soon as possible."
