Chapter 771: President Huang, Thank You For Your Advice

At the Trade and Commerce Centre.

The person in charge said, "President Huang, I know. Thanks. I have sent someone to handle this."

"Yeah, the shops must have the relevant supporting documents. We will never allow shop owners to set up businesses without them."

"President Huang is such a wise man to have thought about this matter. It is really impressive. Right, this is a superstition. How could we let people believe in this? I got people to handle it. How can I let President Huang ask about it personally? When the results are out, I will tell President Huang about it immediately. Alright, I'll hang up now."

After hanging up.

The person in charge shook his head and sighed.

At Cloud Street.

"Hi, Master Lin. I am Xiao Zhao from the Trade and Commerce Centre. We have received a report that you reported yourself as an unemployed citizen. Therefore, I am here to investigate it and would like to find out more about it," Xiao Zhao said politely.

Master Lin was the good role model of Shanghai. He just didn't know which fella reported Master Lin and even called their director.

They definitely had to have a satisfactory reply to the authority about this.

Lin Fan was helpless. He had never expected Huang Guo Hui to do this to him.

Huang Guo Hui was incorrigible. He thought that he would send ten men to destroy his shop but he didn't expect Huang Guo Hui to do this to him.

He was rather disappointed.

The shop renovation happened a while back and he wanted to renovate it again but nobody was willing to help him.

Then, Elder Liang walked by and he was unhappy when he heard that. "Bro, does Little Boss seem like a scammer? Ask the people around and see if Little Boss is really accurate with his predictions."

Xiao Zhao replied, "Mister, I did not mean that. It was just that someone reported his job as a superstition. Furthermore, his main profession is fortune-telling. He went to our Trade and Commerce Centre to get his fake certificate."

Elder Liang was anxious, "Then why did you say that Little Boss is spreading superstitious ideas?"

Lin Fan interrupted, "Alright, Elder Liang, don't argue with this fella. He didn't say anything at all but you're so anxious. Doesn't that mean that you're guilty?"

Elder Liang glared at Xiao Zhao and stood aside, "I'll shut up then. Anyway, these people are just messing with you."

Xiao Zhao was a little awkward. They weren't really messing with him. They were doing it based on their rules. Those with official certificates would be spared from this. That would prevent the public from being scammed too. Even if they were to be scammed, they still had the information to check on the scammers. That would be much simpler for their investigation process.

Lin Fan said seriously, "I'll explain it. We read fortunes here but I am not spreading superstitious ideas. However, my predictions are absolutely spot on. If people were to say that I am spreading superstitious ideas, they can come and examine it."

Xiao Zhao felt that Master Lin was a little angry. He immediately replied, "Master Lin, I didn't want to say anything when I came here. I'm here to resolve your problems. Our manager said that Master Lin is the role model of Shanghai. Why would you spread superstitious ideas? Hence, I am here to get some information to help you create an official certificate."

Lin Fan felt a little awkward. He felt like he misunderstood him. “Sorry, I was a little too rash with my words. I am really a fortune teller. How should we proceed with the certification?”

Xiao Zhao replied, “Master Lin, perhaps you don’t really understand it. If you said that you’re a fortune-teller, you will not be able to get a certificate. However, if you say that you’re doing some cultural research work, then, there will be no problems. There are a lot of fortune-tellers now with shops that have certificates. They managed to do it by declaring that.”

“Oh, I see.” Lin Fan understood it. He didn’t know that it was being played like that. However, that was good. The earlier he could get his certificate, he would run into less trouble in the future. “What do you need from me, then?”

Xiao Zhao smiled, “I just need a photocopy of your identification. Then, fill up a form and we will contact you when it is ready.”

“Alright, sorry to trouble you then.” Lin Fan smiled. He didn’t expect it to be resolved this way. However, he guaranteed that the person that reported him was Huang Guo Hui.

He just didn’t expect the worker from the Trade and Commerce Centre to have offered help. This was totally unexpected.

However, he understood it after thinking about it.

Although Huang Guo Hui was powerful, he wasn’t a Shanghai citizen. Furthermore, Lin Fan was the role model of Shanghai. How could anyone go up against him?

So what if Huang Guo Hui was really unhappy? The worker was just doing his job based on the rules. He was just doing legal procedures and he didn’t abuse his power. Even if he were to report it secretly, Lin Fan wouldn’t be afraid at all.

Everything was settled.

Xiao Zhao took the documents, “Master Lin, I’ll be making a move first. I think it should be ready in about two days.”

“Alright, thanks,” Lin Fan smiled and said.

At the Trade and Commerce Centre!

Xiao Zhao returned, “Sir, I have spoken to Master Lin and got others to process his documents.”

His manager replied, “Alright, that’s good. When it is done, just inform Master Lin to come and collect it.”

When Xiao Zhao left, his manager called Huang Guo Hui.

“President Huang, sorry to disturb you. I am calling to report on the work. The investigation results are out.”

Huang Guo Hui immediately sneered.

He went to look for this fella to have his fortune read but this fella didn’t even give him any face. At the same time, he spoke with such a horrendous tone. If he didn’t teach him a lesson, he wouldn’t have known how powerful he was.

With his status as a wealthy man, he was able to make life difficult for him with just one call.

He wanted his shop to close down.

Then, he would report it to the media and Lin Fan would not be able to open a shop so soon.

“How’re the results?” Huang Guo Hui asked with anticipation.

The manager replied, “We have to thank President Huang for your report this time. If not for you, we wouldn’t have found out about the illegal shops. Therefore, I got my worker to speak with the shop owner to process his certificate. Now that he has one, it wouldn’t be illegal anymore.”

Huang Guo Hui was initially filled with anticipation but as he continued listening, he realized that something was wrong.

“What? That isn’t correct. He is spreading superstitious ideas. How could he continue with his operation?”

The manager smiled, “President Huang, I think you don’t really understand it. Fortune-telling is something used frequently by the public. It is something that is against the rules. However, it can be considered to be a cultural research work.”

“This time, it’s a slip-up on our part and President Huang has pointed it out. In the future, we will definitely do stricter checks. We will not let this happen again. Alright, I won’t waste any of Chief Huang’s precious time anymore.”

Huang Guo Hui wasn’t stupid. He knew that the Trade and Commerce Centre was on Master Lin’s side. Then, he sneered, “Alright, good...”

The manager replied, “Thank you, President Huang, for your compliment. In the future, if President Huang would like to set up a company in Shanghai, the Trade and Commerce Centre will warmly welcome you.”

bang

Huang Guo Hui immediately slammed his phone. He didn’t want to say anything else.

It was incorrigible, truly incorrigible.

The manager looked at his phone and laughed.

He knew what Huang Guo Hui was thinking. He clearly wanted to mess up Master Lin’s shop. How could he let that happen?

That was impossible.

It was already illegal for him to abuse his authority. What was worse was that he was trying to go against Master Lin, who was the role model of Shanghai.

He didn't want to think about whether Huang Guo Hui would take revenge again.

Shanghai wasn't like the other cities. The notable leaders in the other cities had to give in to the requests to satisfy them.

In Shanghai, people didn't care about what the wealthy people wanted. If they were willing to help, that would be good. If not, they didn't want to be involved in anything.

There were a lot of entrepreneurs that wanted to come to Shanghai to develop their businesses but they often had to go through a lot of difficulties in order to get a plot of land.

There were a lot of entrepreneurs around but only a handful was like Master Lin.

He was a talented and cultured man.

Meanwhile, Huang Guo Hui was furious. He was about to vent his anger but his office door got opened.

"Huang Guo Hui, you have to give me an answer today," a middle-aged lady stormed into the room.

...

Chapter 772: Attack, my Elder Dog!

Huang Guo Hui looked at the woman who charged in. He frowned and said in an unhappy tone, "What are you doing? We're in my company. Can you pay attention to your surroundings?"

This woman was Huang Guo Hui's wife. She had been with Huang Guo Hui since she was eighteen. Back then, Huang Guo Hui had still been very poor but in a few years, he became rich. As he became richer and richer, her days became worse and worse.

"You're asking me what I'm doing? I should be asking you what you are doing. Tell me, did you have illegitimate children outside? And did you bring those illegitimate children into your company?” The woman was dressed gorgeously but the way she bellowed at him completely changed her appearance.

Huang Guo Hui was startled. He started to panic. How did she know?

He had covered this matter up very well. There should have been no way for her to find out.

Stay calm. He had to stay calm and not expose himself. Otherwise, who knew what would happen?

A long time ago, he had had several mistresses. Moreover, these three mistresses had determined wombs. Each of them gave him a son. Hence, whenever he had the time, he would go and visit them one by one.

He had covered up this matter very tightly and no one knew about it.

Although on the surface, Huang Hao appeared to be his only son, he was very disappointed in this son. This son had no capabilities at all and not even any ambitions. He would only waste his time on the Internet every day. If Huang Guo Hui was to hand such a big company over to him, Huang Guo Hui wouldn't feel at ease at all.

However, the good thing was that his other sons were pretty good. They were all very hardworking. Under his selective promotion, they all became backbones of the company and they were all high-ranking individuals.

But at this moment, he had to calm his wife down.

“What rubbish are you spouting? Please don't let your imagination run wild,” said Huang Guo Hui with an unusual expression on his face.

Although he was trying his best to hide it, his little secret had been discovered, so of course, he was feeling guilty and his eyes showed it.

Indeed, his wife could tell that something was wrong. She had been with Huang Guo Hui for such a long time. She could see through every small action that he made. “Don't lie to me, Huang Guo Hui. I've lived with you for so long. I can see your guilty expression from a mile away. Tell me, did you bring those illegitimate children into the company?”

Huang Guo Hui's mind was in a mess. "What exactly are you thinking of doing? This is an office, not somewhere to make a scene. Go back, now."

His initially nice and kind tone had turned into stern rebuke.

If this matter was allowed to spread in the company, who knew what would happen?

knock knock

At that moment, they heard the sound of the door being knocked.

A young man walked in. "Chief Huang, I've finished writing the report."

When the young man walked in, the woman gave him a death stare and immediately went up to him. She grabbed onto the young man. "Huang Guo Hui, open up your eyes and look. Does he look like you? I can't take it anymore. The two of you, follow me to the hospital right now. I have to get you checked.

That young man was in charge of an important department in the company. When he got grabbed onto by that woman, he panicked. Of course, he knew that Huang Guo Hui was his father. However, this could not be known by anyone else, hence, he had hidden this secret very well.

Huang Guo Hui was enraged. "How long are you going to keep acting crazy? Have you been possessed? Leave him alone now!"

"Hehe, does your heart ache? Let me tell you, Huang Guo Hui, I don't care what kind of scum you have outside but you can't bully others so intolerably and bring your illegitimate children into the company." The woman's tone started to become malicious.

That young man's expression slowly changed. There was a rage in his heart but he could not let it out. He could only stand there with his head lowered.

"What nonsense are you spouting?" growled Huang Guo Hui.

“Nonsense? Look at Weibo for yourself. That Master Lin has already said it. You have three or even four mistresses and you even brought your illegitimate children into important departments in the company. You don’t even want to leave anything for Hao Hao, do you? Back when you were poor, who was the one who always followed you? Now that you’re rich, you’re only looking for beautiful people and you don’t care about me anymore. You can’t be so heartless,” the woman bellowed. This made Huang Guo Hui feel an incomparable sense of guilt.

But at this moment, he couldn’t think too much. He had just caught onto an important problem.

Master Lin?

How could he have known?

Then, without wasting a second, he unlocked his phone. When he saw the situation on Weibo, he almost couldn’t breathe.

He saw Master Lin’s Weibo post, explaining everything in detail.

Calculating using his fingertips?

F*ck your sister! Huang Guo Hui had told Lin Fan to read his fortune but he had refused. Now, Huang Guo Hui’s private matter had been exposed.

“You, with the surname Lin, I’ll f*ck your mom,” after resisting for a long while, Huang Guo Hui finally burst out cursing.

The woman looked coldly at Huang Guo Hui. “If you don’t explain yourself today, don’t even think of leaving. Even if everyone has to find out about this, I’ll make you realize that Hao Hao and I are not people you can bully.”

Huang Guo Hui looked at his wife in front of him. His tone became gentler as he said, “Don’t be rash. Let’s talk slowly.”

At this point, he could only try to calm the situation. What else could he do?

But he had never expected that this Master Lin would be so vicious, completely forcing him into a corner.

Cloud Street.

Lin Fan didn't know that Huang Guo Hui was already in the midst of a helpless situation. However, even if he knew, it didn't have a rat's a*s to do with him. After all, he wasn't going to take this blame. If Huang Guo Hui wanted to blame someone, he should blame himself for being too impudent and causing trouble for Lin Fan. Wasn't that just asking for death?

Fraud Tian said in a shocked tone, "Do you think that Chief Huang is using this method to get back at us?"

Lin Fan nodded, "That's very possible. But he never expected our Shanghai government to be so righteous. It can't be controlled by him."

Fraud Tian didn't think that was the case. "I think it's because you're so powerful that no one dares to touch you."

"Cheh. I'm powerful? I'm just a good citizen. I wouldn't frame anyone," Lin Fan rebutted. Of course, he silently agreed that what Fraud Tian said was right. It was all because he was too amazing. It couldn't be helped. He was just too amazing. What more could be said?

That Huang Guo Hui was done for at this point. Lin Fan had exposed him and that was enough to overwhelm him. Family problems have a great impact on things.

He was going to suffer.

"Hey, where's Elder Dog?" At this moment, Lin fan realized that Elder Dog was missing. Just in this short period of time, Elder Dog had disappeared from under their eyes.

Zhao Zhong Yang said, "He was just here. How did he disappear in the blink of an eye?"

Fraud Tian chuckled, “I think that Elder Dog must have been feeling lonely, so he went out to look for some fun.”

At this moment, on the road.

The righteous Elder Dog looked around with his dog eyes. “I am the righteous Elder Dog. I have to do righteous things.”

Suddenly, Elder Dog saw that an elderly lady was about to jaywalk across the road. He immediately dashed forward viciously.

There were so many cars. It was very dangerous.

He knew this well. He had had many little buddies who had gotten mercilessly crushed by vehicles because they had jaywalked.

He had to stop this elderly lady.

woof woof

Elder Dog barked in a lively manner. His four dog legs were like a motor. He was moving at an insane speed. It was simply frightening.

If Lin Fan was there, his jaw would have dropped for sure.

This dog was f*cking great at running.

Chapter 773: Righteous Elder Dog

By the road.

The old lady was observing the cars that were passing by. Suddenly, her objective appeared.

That red BMW seemed to be driven by a female and she definitely wasn't poor. More importantly, the car wasn't traveling at a very fast speed. As long as the old lady fell in the right position, it wouldn't be a problem.

The owner of the red BMW was a young lady. She was leisurely driving her car but suddenly, she realized that there was an old lady in front.

In the blink of an eye, the old lady fell to the ground.

She jammed the brakes.

The car stopped a meter away from the old lady.

As she lay on the ground, the old lady heaved a sigh of relief. She had nearly been crushed but now, she was safe. She immediately pretended to have lost consciousness.

The young driver got off the car in a panic.

Had she collided with the old lady? But she didn't feel as if the car had collided with anyone. Moreover, she had stopped the car in time. It wasn't possible.

Could it be that the old lady was a fraud, pretending to have been knocked by the car?

There were no surveillance cameras here and her car did not have a recording device installed at the moment, so the situation was a little difficult to explain.

But regardless, she still got off the car in a hurry.

"Granny, are you okay?" asked the young lady.

However, the young lady just lay motionlessly on the ground as if she was dead. The young lady was so frightened that her whole face turned white. If something really happened, she wouldn't be able to explain herself.

There weren't many people around but when this happened, people started gathering around.

"Ah, someone got hit by a car. It's a female driver again. Women clearly aren't able to drive but they still insist on driving. Now, an accident has happened."

"Looking at this car, it seems like a new one. It must be a new driver."

"This is an evil sin! It's a murder on the road."

When female driver heard these, she was momentarily at a loss. She panicked, "I didn't hit her. I don't even know how she appeared here."

"Of course you don't know. Nowadays, people are always playing with their phones while driving. With your head down, how would you be able to see the situation?"

"Yeah! Yeah! I always say that people nowadays always use their phones while driving. Even if you don't care about your own life, you can't cause harm to others!"

The female driver was speechless. There was no way for her to explain herself.

"What happened? What happened?" At this moment, two middle-aged men appeared from within the crowd. When they saw the elderly lady on the ground, their faces turned anxious.

"What happened to this elderly lady?" One of the middle-aged men immediately went forward and squatted down. Then, he looked at the young lady, "You hit her?"

The young lady said anxiously, "Big Bro, I didn't hit her. I don't even know how this happened."

"Sigh, at this point, you're still thinking about whether you hit her? This old lady is still lying here, we should hurry up and send her to the hospital. Who's gonna help me out? Let's send this old lady to the hospital"

Nobody emerged from the crowd. They all just spectated from the side. At the same time, someone said, “Yeah, some of you should hurry up and help out.”

“The safety of the old lady comes first. Hurry up and help her.”

They all urged each other to help the old lady but none of them went to help her. None of them wanted to be dragged into this matter.

“I’ll go.” The middle-aged man’s buddy appeared. “I’ll send the old lady to the hospital with you.”

“I don’t have enough money on me. How much do you have right now, young lady? Just pay for her first. Later on, when we reach the hospital, we’ll need to pay them,” said one of the middle-aged men.

The young lady was a little taken aback. Her mind was blank as she answered nervously, “I didn’t bring much money when I came out. I only brought six or seven thousand.”

When the two middle-aged men heard this, they were stunned. This motherf*cker just said that she didn’t bring much money. Were all young ladies so rich these days?

“It should be enough. Hand over the money to us first. We’ll go to the hospital immediately. After taking care of your car, you should hurry to the hospital. But don’t even think of running away. We’ve remembered your car plate number,” said one of the men.

The young lady ran back into her car anxiously and took out her Louis Vuitton bag. She took out all the money from that bag.

When the two middle-aged men saw the money, their hearts were moved. Their gazes were fixed on those red notes.

...

At that moment, when no one was noticing, Elder Dog Nicholas charged in ferociously. He had not expected himself to have arrived late.

Looking at the motionless old lady, he came to her side and took a sniffle. There was still breath coming out of her. She seemed to still be alive.

Ever since he had eaten the 'Righteous Dog Food', he felt as if he had already become a righteous Chinese countryside dog. He had to do some righteous deeds.

In his experience, he had seen many humans, during emergency treatment, doing mouth-to-mouth actions. It was like artificial respiration.

At this moment, he decided to learn as he went. With no one noticing, he aimed his dog mouth at the old lady's mouth.

The old lady, who had her eyes closed as she lay there, felt something wet touch her mouth. Instantly, she became a little angry. Which b*stard was trying to take advantage of this old lady?

Moreover, there was a unique smell which she couldn't quite describe. It didn't smell like a human.

Then, she opened her eyes just a tiny bit as she wanted to see who on earth it was.

But when her eyes opened, the old lady was astonished. A dog's head had appeared in her vision.

In an instant, she was stunned with fear.

She was most afraid of dogs. And now, there was a dog licking her.

"Ah!"

A cry rang out, startling everyone.

"Dog, scram! Scram!" The old lady immediately got up, using her hands and legs to shoo the dog away.

When Elder Dog Nicholas saw this, he jumped up in joy. He had really managed to save her!

He had done a righteous deed.

When the surrounding spectators saw this, their jaws dropped.

“F*ck. Could it be that this old lady was pretending to have been hit by the car?”

“It seems like it. Look, she’s as lively as a tiger now. She looks perfectly fine.”

“D*mn. If it wasn’t for that dog, we would probably all have been cheated.”

That young lady who had been about to hand over her money saw this and immediately held tightly to her money. At this moment, she realized what had happened. Then, she said in a stern voice, “You guys were trying to scam my money!”

The two middle-aged men had not expected this to happen. Then, they said anxiously, “What are you talking about, young lady? Why don’t you hurry up and hand us the money so we can take the old lady to the hospital?” After saying this, they looked as if they were about to snatch the money from her by force.

Under broad daylight, something like this actually happened.

When Elder Dog saw this, he couldn’t stand it. Elder Dog was here, how could something like this happen?

“Woof woof!”

Elder Dog barked in a frenzy, then charged forward. He leaped up and bit onto one of the middle-aged men’s wrist.

“Ah! This dog is biting me!” The middle-aged man who had been bitten cried out in terror. He slapped Elder Dog’s body with his other hand.

Elder Dog Nicholas spun one round in the air before landing steadily. His dog eyes gleamed as he charged towards the other middle-aged man. Then, he leaped up and attacked the middle-aged man's face with his four paws.

Most dogs, even if they attack someone, don't have much strength.

That middle-aged man had not been too bothered as he was preparing to grab the dog that was leaping towards him. But when his hands touched Elder Dog, he suddenly realized that Elder Dog was flying towards him with immense power.

He took a heavy blow to the face and he fell backward completely.

Thud!

He lay flat on the ground.

The passersby were all astonished when they saw this.

"D*mn! It's a Kung Fu Mutt!"

"This mutt is too strong!"

"F*ck, I must be living in a dream."

Woof woof!

Elder Dog spread his legs open and stooped down as he barked at the three of them. Needless to say, his imposing manner was terrifying.

"This dog is too strange. Let's run away!" When the three scammers saw this, they didn't dare to stay any longer. They ran away with their tails between their legs.

The young lady stared blankly at the scene. She had not thought that she would be saved by a mutt.

When Elder Dog saw that those three had run away, he felt very happy. He had done a good deed. But now, he felt an urge to piss, so he went to the red BMW's tire, lifted his back leg and splashed his urine over it. Then, with a quick turn of his dog head, he ran off into the distance.

From what the young lady had seen, this mutt that saved her must have been a wild dog. Hence, she had wanted to keep him. However, in an instant, Elder Dog's silhouette had disappeared from everyone's view.

The spectators exchanged looks.

"Did you guys record that?"

"I didn't"

"I recorded it. That dog was incredible."

"D*mn, if I didn't see that for myself, I wouldn't believe it."

...

Chapter 774: Hopeless

Elder Dog dashed along the road, then stopped. He sniffed the air.

Dogs have very sensitive noses and they are able to smell things that humans are not. Elder Dog realized that his nose seemed to have become even more powerful. He could now smell things that he couldn't before.

Moreover, he could smell things from very, very far away.

Suddenly, Elder Dog's gaze was fixed on his front. He had smelled a strange scent. Although it was very far away, he was sure that he smelled it.

He even smelled the smell of terror emitted by humans.

Woof woof!

Elder Dog started dashing at a high speed. The more he ran, the faster he got. He surpassed the speed of a typical dog.

If Lin Fan was here, he would definitely cry out in shock.

This was f*cking impossible.

This speed was too great. It wasn't a speed that a dog should be able to achieve. He was probably even faster than a cheetah, which was supposedly the fastest in the animal kingdom.

A cheetah's speed could reach 100km/h in just a few seconds.

And Elder Dog had probably already achieved that.

Moreover, even as he ran, Elder Dog didn't seem tired at all. He seemed to not even be using any physical strength.

The previous night's Great Animal Spell had not been useless. In fact, it had been very useful. But that 'Righteous Pet Food' had had an even greater effect. Otherwise, how could it have been so expensive for just one grain?

Lin Fan hadn't thought too much. Otherwise, he would have realized that there was no way the Encyclopedia's Department Store would sell something useless at such a high price.

In this Department Store, the 'Righteous Pet Food' could be considered one of the most expensive items.

If it was solely for filling one's stomach, then it would be trash.

...

Fire engine sirens rang out on the road.

The cars on the road all moved aside. The drivers had all already seen that thick black smoke ahead and they knew that a fire must have started somewhere. Hence, they all moved aside for the fire engine to pass.

In front of a twenty-something-story building, the sky was covered with black smoke. The fire was getting more and more intense.

Many people in the building immediately went down when they discovered the fire. Especially because it was during the working hours, not many people were inside.

Even the people inside had all ran out.

Some of them were wearing just their underwear as they stood below the building, looking at the scene. Their jaws had dropped. How did this fire start all of a sudden?

The fire engine had reached and they had started evacuating the public. They were in the midst of firefighting.

“Chief, we’ve confirmed that all the residents have been evacuated,” reported one of the firefighters.

“What’s the situation inside?” asked the Chief.

“This apartment building is newly-built. It hasn’t been fully occupied yet. We’ve just informed the gas company to turn off the gas supply to this block in order to prevent an explosion. However, some of the residents don’t have gas pipes installed and they’re still using gas cylinders. If the fire becomes too intense, it might cause an explosion.”

“Right now, the flames are mainly concentrated on the twenty-first, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth floors. According to insiders, the fire started on the twenty-fourth floor and it has already spread to the twenty-first floor.”

Bam!

Just as he said this, an explosion happened on the twenty-second floor.

It completely shattered the windows on the outside and shards of glass came crashing down from the sky.

In the building, a team of firefighters had already gone in to tackle the fire.

Over the walkie-talkie.

“Chief, the fire inside is too strong and the smoke is too thick. We can’t see the path ahead,” said a firefighter as he panted heavily. The lift could not be taken anymore. Going up there through the staircase had used up too much of their energy, especially with all the equipment they were carrying. They could no longer push on.

Bam!

From the walkie-talkie came another explosion sound.

The Chief looked up and saw that another household had exploded. He couldn’t help but become worried. “Hurry up and retreat.”

At that moment, a cry of shock emerged from the crowd.

“Look! The fire is spreading. It has reached the twentieth floor.”

The Chief took a look and became anxious. The direction of the wind was not in their favor and it was causing the fire to spread very quickly. Especially because this was a residential building, there were many flammable objects.

Also, he had just received a piece of information. This was considered a high-grade apartment building. Many residents used wooden interior decorations. Even the furniture and walls were made using real wood. These were all made of an exceptionally flammable material.

Soon after.

The firefighters emerged from the building.

Each of them seemed to be drained. They were really too exhausted. All these equipment they were carrying were very heavy. Especially with the climbing of stairs, it made them even more exhausted.

The water cannon was shooting a stream of water from the outside. Although it had temporarily suppressed the fire, it could not control it.

At this moment, a firefighter ran over in a panic. "Chief, not good, a man just said that his two-month-old child is still in the building."

"What?" When the Chief heard this, he was dumbfounded. "Hurry up and bring him here."

Then, a young couple ran over frantically. Before the Chief firefighter asked anything, they said, "We stay in room 2103 on the twenty-first floor. Our child is still in the bedroom. Hurry up and save him!"

The young couple was completely in a panic. When the man had found out about the fire, he had immediately rushed back. Meanwhile, the woman had been out to buy vegetables, leaving their child in the cradle. She had not brought their child out. When she saw the building on fire, she ran back frantically.

The Chief firefighter was dumbfounded. He had not expected that there would be an infant left inside. How had this happened?

Infants have weaker respiratory systems. If the baby was to stay inside for too long, even if the fire didn't burn it to death, the smoke would choke it to death.

At that moment, the Chief firefighter didn't think too much. He had only one thought and that was to dispatch someone to break in through the window on the twenty-first floor.

wailing sound

The young mother was so frightened that she fell to the ground, paralyzed with fear. Then, she wanted to charge into the building but she was stopped by the firefighters.

The man, on the other hand, was able to maintain his calm. However, you could tell from his frantic expression that he was very nervous too.

The crowd was very worried as well.

“There’s still an infant on the twenty-first floor. Will he be able to survive?”

“I don’t know. The fire is very big now. I feel that he’s in danger.”

“Argh, why wasn’t there an adult at home. If there was someone at home, the baby could have been carried down.”

“Who would have expected a fire?”

Woof woof!

At that moment, Elder Dog Nicholas appeared. He barked a few times before charging towards the building’s staircase.

When one of the townsfolk saw the dog, he shouted, “A dog just ran in!”

“Come out, little dog. There’s a fire!”

But very soon, the dog had disappeared.

When Elder Dog Nicholas reached the scene, he smelled that something was wrong.

He could smell an infant’s scent in the building. The scent belonged to a human. As the Righteous Elder Dog Nicholas, how could he just watch and do nothing as someone was dying?

That righteous mission spurred him on. He had to accomplish this rescue mission.

Meanwhile, everyone else wasn't concerned about the life of a dog. They were completely focused on looking at the twenty-first floor.

The firefighters started to get to work.

But an embarrassing thing happened.

"Chief, there's trouble. Our ladder can only reach up to 56 meters. It can't reach the twenty-first floor at all," said one of the firefighters nervously.

"Use the water cannon to extinguish the fire or reduce the flames. Enter from the eighteenth floor."

Bam!

Just as he finished saying this, another explosion happened. It caused the ladder to start shaking. It could not get close to the building at all.

At this moment, everyone was panicking.

Especially to the firefighters, this challenge was too great.

The child's father could not take it any longer. He fell to the ground and stared emotionlessly at the flame-engulfed building.

"It's hopeless..."

Chapter 775: Elder Dog's might

Inside the building where no one could see.

Elder Dog leaped up and climbed up the stairs quickly. He was so fast that if people saw him, they would have their tongues tied in disbelief.

To humans, climbing up to the 21st floor would be very, very tiring. But to Elder Dog, it was too simple.

However, the further up he got, the hotter it became. But right now, Elder Dog didn't think about all this. He continued to climb up fearlessly.

“Waa waa...”

Elder Dog suddenly stopped. His dog ears shook. He heard wailing sounds. Then, he raised his dog head and confirmed his target before increasing his speed even more.

When he reached the 21st floor, the flames had engulfed everything and the thick black smoke covered his vision. He could not see what was ahead.

A burst of flames came rushing out, enveloping Elder Dog.

But in an instant, a figure charged through the flames viciously. Besides his fur curling up, the fire did not affect him much.

The ceiling had been engulfed in flames and the keel of the wood broke. A large piece of the ceiling came falling down towards Elder Dog.

Bam!

Elder Dog was completely covered.

If it had been any other dog, it would've been squashed to death or burnt to death.

Woof woof!

But at this moment, Elder Dog cried out and lifted the thick and heavy piece of the ceiling. Then, he swiftly continued running upstairs. The scorching heat made him very uncomfortable but he heard the wailing sounds again.

From the wailing sounds, he could feel that the life was gradually fading away.

In front of Righteous Elder Dog Nicholas, how could there be any danger?

Without caring how hot it was, he sprinted upstairs with his dog legs carrying him.

In those steady eyes, there was not a shred of fear.

A door that had turned red from the heat blocked Elder Dog's way.

Elder Dog stood in his original spot. Then, he barked several times at the door before raising his paws and hitting the door.

Woof woof!

Elder Dog instantly retracted his paws. Two bright red paw prints remained on the metal door.

"Hot! Hot!" Elder Dog realized that his paws' soft pads were very weak. Then, he stuck out his tongue to lick them. This made him feel slightly better.

Waa!

The wailing sounds were emitted from the other side of the door. No one else could hear them but Elder Dog heard them crystal-clearly.

Woof woof~

Elder Dog took a few steps back and stared aggressively at the metal door. Then, he raised his speed and sent his whole body colliding with the metal door. The fur that came into contact with the door made sizzling sounds as if they had started burning up. But what followed closely was...

A crashing sound.

The metal door had been knocked open.

Elder Dog landed inside the house and rolled a few times before standing back on his feet. Without hesitation, he charged towards the bedroom.

The fire inside was huge but the bedroom was directly opposite the toilet. Because of the fire, water was spraying out from the toilet and it was temporarily controlling the speed of the fire's spreading.

Elder Dog leaped up grabbed the door handle with his paws. He pushed down and the door was opened.

Indeed, a child's bed appeared in Elder Dog's sight. Inside, an infant that had been wrapped up was wailing.

Also, a window at the side was open, allowing ventilation and keeping the temperature down. This, in turn, had prevented the infant from being killed by the heat.

Elder Dog jumped into the cradle and stopped. He was thinking about how he could bring the infant out safely. Leaving via the corridor was impossible. The heat and smoke would instantly take this young life.

At that moment, Elder Dog saw the open window. Then, he jumped onto the window ledge and looked down.

He returned to the cradle and licked the infant's face before picking up that wrapped-up baby with his mouth. Then, he jumped onto the window ledge once more and jumped out through the window.

Bam!

He landed on the air conditioning condenser unit.

Waa!

The infant started wailing from the shock.

Elder Dog saw that the 20th floor wasn't safe so he jumped towards the next floor, landing firmly on the 19th floor.

However, jumping down from such a height caused a great shock. This caused the infant to cry unceasingly. At the same time, the infant's initially red face had turned purple.

Although Elder Dog didn't know the reason, he could feel the infant's life force gradually getting weaker. He knew that he could not continue jumping down.

Suddenly.

The air conditioning condenser unit started to become unstable as it started shaking.

Elder Dog lost his balance and fell. His paws grabbed onto the condenser unit. Those sharp dog paws penetrated the condenser, allowing him to safely regain his balance.

That had been way too close. If he hadn't grabbed on, he would have fallen from that height. The outcome would have been too ugly to imagine.

Elder Dog looked at the 19th floor.

The 19th floor was safe at the moment. Then, he jumped into the building while biting onto the wrapped-up infant before dashing down the stairs.

If anyone had witnessed this scene, he or she would definitely be staring stupidly in shock. It seemed impossible. How could a dog be so smart and so strong?

But it was a shame. This series of perfect maneuvers by Elder Dog had not been seen by anyone, nor had it been recorded.

...

Outside.

Another fire engine arrived.

“The fire on the 24th floor is under control.”

“Aim the water cannon at that 23rd floor and focus on extinguishing the flame.”

“Yes.”

It was a busy scene outside All the firefighters were putting their all into extinguishing the flames.

However, the atmosphere didn't feel right.

The townsfolk couldn't be happy because when they saw the young couple sitting on the ground, hugging their heads and crying, they could only sigh helplessly.

Fires are merciless. A young life that had just been born was going to be lost in this fire.

The firefighters felt very guilty. “Sorry. We've already tried our best.”

At the same time, they were crying out in their hearts, “Why aren't there longer ladders? If there are, then things would be different.”

The surrounding townsfolk didn't know how to comfort the couple.

“You guys are still young. There will be more opportunities.”

“Yeah. This is something that no one wants.”

This was very painful for the young couple. Their cries were heartbreaking and everyone else felt sorrowful as they saw this.

That young mother, in particular, was blaming herself.

“It’s all because of me. If I hadn’t gone to buy vegetables, leaving our child alone at home, even if there was a fire, I would have been able to carry him to safety. Why did things turn out like this?”

“I’m not a responsible mother. This is all because of me.”

The spectating townsfolk saw this and sighed. Judging by the situation, without a miracle, it seemed that the young mother was going to crumble. This would leave an emotional scar on her for the rest of her life.

Waa!

Suddenly, a clear and crisp wailing sound came from afar.

Everyone heard it and looked into the distance, at the pitch-black staircase entrance.

Everyone was in incomparable astonishment. They didn’t dare to believe it.

At that instant, a figure appeared in everyone’s vision.

A dirty, soot-covered, little dog was slowly walking out from the staircase entrance.

And in that little dog’s mouth was a wrapped-up infant.

“This is that dog that ran in just now.”

“It can’t be. How could it be? What’s that in the dog’s mouth?”

The wailing sounds became more and more resounding.

When the young couple heard the infant’s voice, they suddenly looked up and to the front.

Elder Dog took large strides and quickly left the danger zone. He brought the infant to the middle of the crowd and placed it on the ground.

Woof woof!

Elder Dog barked towards the young couple.

The young couple ran over frantically and embraced the infant.

The young man said ecstatically, “This is my son! He’s fine! He’s fine!”

The crowd instantly started bustling.

“D*mn! What happened? The infant has come out.”

“A mutt bit onto the infant and carried it down safely from the 21st floor.”

“How is that possible? How did this dog go up? And how did it come down?”

Over at the firefighters’ side.

Everyone had received this news. That infant on the 21st floor had safely come out. And it was a mutt that had brought it out.

At this moment, everyone was in a commotion. It seemed impossible. However, the reality was right before them. They had to believe it.

The doctors on-site immediately checked on the infant. In the end, they confirmed that the infant was fine. It only had some small symptoms but there were no major issues.

The young man immediately knelt down and patted Elder Dog Nicholas' dog head. Then, he said emotionally, "Thank you, little dog, thank you. Thank you so much!"

The young man had started crying. He had never expected a mutt to save his son's life.

If he hadn't seen it for himself, he wouldn't have believed it.

Elder Dog's white fur had turned pitch-black. He lay on the ground and licked his paws. Then, he stood up and barked at the crowd a few times as he prepared to leave.

But at this moment, the young man took out his phone. "Little dog, can you take a photo with my son? His life was saved by you. When he grows up, I have to let him remember your grace."

Elder Dog understood this. He started barking.

Then, the young woman put the infant down. Elder Dog bit on the wrapped-up infant and stood there.

kacha

The photo was captured and Elder Dog put the infant down. Looking at the sky, it was getting late. Then, without waiting for the townsfolk's cheers, he left the place, striding on his little legs.

The young man wanted to shout for Elder Dog to stop. He wanted to keep and raise Elder Dog. But in an instant, that little dog had disappeared from everyone's views.

Everyone there would never forget that silhouette.

Then, they looked at each other.

If they hadn't seen that in person, they would never have believed that it was true.

Also, those reporters at the scene had recorded the whole thing.

...

Chapter 776: Are you trying to defy nature?

Cloud Street!

Lin Fan stood at the entrance and looked into the distance.

“Where has that d*mned dog gone to? I haven’t seen him the whole day. It can’t be that someone has turned him into hot pot, can it?”

Just as Lin Fan was cursing, a little silhouette appeared in his view.

Woof woof~

Elder Dog’s voice rang out but when the shop owners and townsfolk saw this dirty little dog, they were stunned. Where did this dog come from?

They couldn’t be blamed for not recognizing him. In that state, even Lin Fan couldn’t recognize Elder Dog.

He was so dirty that it was a little scary.

Elder Dog came to the shop entrance delightedly as if he hadn’t noticed everyone’s gazes.

Woof woof~

Elder Dog stood in front of Lin Fan and barked cheerfully.

Lin Fan was cursing in his heart. Then, he said, “Tell me, what did you do? How did you become like this? You didn’t go to play in the mud, did you??”

Woof woof~

He had done a good deed. Of course, he had to let it be known.

Suddenly, Lin Fan and Elder Dog’s hearts became linked. In an instant, Lin Fan’s expression changed.

He understood now and he was speechless.

This d*mned dog has done a good deed for the first time?

In the past, he would only lie in the shop and rest. It was the same Elder Dog who would not do anything at all in the past.

When Lin Fan found out that Elder Dog had run into a fire to save that infant under the eyes of the crowd, he didn’t know what to say.

However, it had been beautifully done. But Lin Fan definitely would not allow this d*mned dog to be too proud. Looking at that proud and satisfied expression on Elder Dog’s face, Lin Fan felt that it was really asking for a beating.

“Stop bragging. Are you trying to defy nature? Why didn’t you just jump straight from the 21st floor, do a 360-degree flip and land firmly on the ground? You would have been able to announce your existence to the world and people would capture you. They would also dissect you for research.”

Lin Fan said all this, but in his heart, he was shocked beyond belief.

He had not expected Elder Dog to be so valiant.

His speed had increased and so had his strength. Even his fire-resistance had increased.

It seemed that the Great Animal Spell had not been useless.

Also, what was inconceivable to Lin Fan was that the 'Righteous Pet Food' seemed to have benefitted Elder Dog plentifully.

"Ahh, what happened to this dog? How did he become like this?" Fraud Tian was startled when he saw Elder Dog. Was this still the same white dog that he knew?

Wu You Lan squatted down and checked on Elder Dog. "Brother Lin, Elder Dog's fur looks like it's been burnt. Just what on earth happened?"

"And his paws look like they've been scalded."

Hearing what Wu You Lan said and seeing Elder Dog's state, Lin Fan sighed helplessly. He stared at Elder Dog Nicholas.

"The cost of you acting awesome is pretty high. You Lan, bring some water over and wash him up. And bring scissors too. His fur has to be trimmed a little," said Lin Fan.

"Alright." Without a second thought, Wu You Lan quickly went to get water. Elder Dog was a member of their team. Now that he had become like this after going out for a while, something major must have happened.

To Wu You Lan, this must have been the work of humans. Elder Dog was so smart, how could he have brought suffering on himself?

However, she didn't know who it was that abused this little dog.

Elder Dog wasn't that big, how could he take such abuse? If she found out who it was who caused this, she would teach that person a lesson.

The shop owners.

Elder Liang said, "Little Boss, how did Elder Dog become like this? He's unrecognizable."

Lin Fan smiled, “He went and became a hero. How could he not be a little hurt?”

Elder Liang was taken aback. Without thinking much, he said, “A hero? What hero?”

“Look at the news tonight. He has really done it this time.” Lin Fan predicted that the whole nation would find out about this. Anything else wouldn’t be right in view of what Elder Dog had done.

However, he had not expected Elder Dog to spontaneously go saving someone. Could it have been because of the ‘Righteous Pet Food’ taking effect?

That was very possible.

If he had used the ‘Evil Pet Food instead, perhaps Elder Dog would have become cruel and violent and he would have gone to harm other people.

Very soon, all the preparations were complete.

Lin Fan moved the stool over and sat down. “Come here quickly. It’s time for a shower.”

Elder Dog barked, “Quick, praise me. Praise me.”

His expression was filled with anticipation.

Other people couldn’t understand what Elder Dog had said but how could Lin Fan not understand?

“F*cking awesome. Brilliant. You saved someone, Righteous Elder Dog. You’re the best. Is that enough?” Lin Fan didn’t know what else to say. Things had gotten big. Although the news wasn’t out yet, it would definitely be out by nighttime.

When it came out, Lin Fan already knew that it was going to be an earth-shattering, major incident.

Let’s see if anyone will recognize him.

However, it would be best if no one recognized him. Otherwise, things would become noisy again.

“How dirty are you?” Upon placing Elder Dog in the basin of water, the clear water instantly turned black.

Elder Dog let out a few sounds as this happened. It was too comfortable.

“Bring some more water. Looks like one basin isn’t going to be enough. Then, he turned to Elder Dog and said, “You can consider your whole life to have been worth it. Not many people have the opportunity to be given a bath personally by this Master. You’re the first dog.”

After washing him four or five times, Lin Fan had made Elder Dog sparkling clean.

However, there were some problems with his fur.

Lin Fan took the scissors and cut off the fur that had curled up due to the burns.

Lin Fan was wondering how strong Elder Dog was exactly. If it had been a fire, how could it be that the only thing that had happened to Elder Dog was his fur curling up? His body’s durability was very great.

splash

Elder Dog played around in the water. His little paws hit the water surface, causing the water to splash everywhere.

“Stop moving. I’m cutting your fur.” Lin Fan grabbed onto the Elder Dog’s head and started cutting his fur. kacha kacha The fur that had curled up was being cut off

When Elder Dog heard that Lin Fan was cutting his fur, he panicked and barked.

“Don’t. If you cut my fur, I won’t look good anymore.”

Lin Fan knocked Elder Dog's head. "If you want to look good, why did you go in in the first place? Stop moving. If you keep moving, there'll be blood."

The shop owners cried out in shock.

"Little Boss has started talking to the dog again. I really envy his ability."

"Even if you envy him, you won't gain his ability."

...

Nighttime.

He closed the shop.

Lin Fan brought Elder Dog home with him.

He had to study Elder Dog properly tonight. As of now, he still couldn't quite figure out the situation with Elder Dog. If he could figure it out, he would be delighted.

8 pm.

He turned on the television.

"Good evening, fellow friends and viewers. Up next, we will be broadcasting an impromptu piece of news. In the afternoon today, a fire broke out in a residential flat along Shanghai's Lanling Road. Fortunately, no one was hurt. However, during the rescue, a shocking thing happened. An infant had been left home alone on the 21st floor with no one supervising him. He had not escaped the fire at first but just as everyone was on the verge of hopelessness, a miraculous scene occurred. Please look at the news coming up next."

The image on the screen changed. The television showed the scene on the site.

"This fire is quite severe," Lin Fan gasped in shock.

As Elder Dog looked at the figure on the screen, he started barking ecstatically.

“Look! That’s me...”

Lin Fan said, “I know it’s you. Don’t be too proud.”

...

Chapter 777: Elder Dog becomes famous!

In front of the television.

Countless citizens were sitting at their dining tables, watching the television. When they saw this scene, they were completely dumbfounded.

“Is this news network broadcasting the wrong news?”

“A mutt charged up to the 21st floor and brought that infant down. I want to ask, how is this possible?”

“This is unimaginable.”

Those who were sitting at their dining tables almost spat out all the food in their mouths.

To them, these news networks usually broadcast legit news. How could they broadcast such a thing?

Using their brains to think, they arrived at the conclusion that it wasn’t possible.

The news had not come out on the Internet yet. However, small snippets of information were already spreading.

Wechat groups.

QQ groups.

Etc.

Various social media platforms were filled with talk about this incident.

Some believed it while some immediately said that it wasn't possible.

If there's no picture, it's not true. Although the news channels had already broadcasted it, it still made people suspicious.

Discussions swept across the Internet.

At the news agency.

"Everyone will work overtime tonight. We have to rush this piece of news."

"Got it."

"This mutt is really amazing. It actually rescued that infant."

"If we didn't have this on-site video, I really wouldn't believe it."

"But this video was really expensive. We spent a thousand dollars to obtain it."

"It's our fault for not taking a video at the scene. We only captured some photos."

...

Just as the discussions were burning up outside, Lin Fan started studying Elder Dog.

Lin Fan spread Elder Dog's four limbs and looked left and right. However, he couldn't find anything different.

"It looks like it's deeply hidden," mumbled Lin Fan to himself. Elder Dog's current state definitely did not seem right.

Elder Dog barked.

"I want to eat that thing from yesterday."

Lin Fan got momentarily pissed. "F*ck, you really have high requests. Do you know how expensive that thing was? You actually want to eat it again."

The first-grade Encyclopedic Department Store was really powerful.

That 'Righteous Pet Food' cost 100 Encyclopedic Points. When it reaches grade two, wouldn't it be nature-defying?

sob sob

Elder Dog was very upset.

"Alright, alright, I'll give you one more grain." Lin Fan wanted to see for himself what changes Elder Dog would undergo after eating the 'Righteous Pet Food' as well.

He endured the pain of exchanging his Encyclopedic Points for the 'Righteous Pet Food' again.

100 Encyclopedic Points were gone just like that.

When Elder Dog saw it, his eyes lit up. He immediately placed the pet food in front of his face and licked it.

“Stop licking it. Hurry up and swallow it.” Lin Fan didn’t want to see Elder Dog licking it. He wanted to see what kind of nature-defying effects it had.

Elder Dog seemed not to hear this as he continued licking it maniacally.

Lin Fan couldn’t stand it any longer. Then, he said sternly, “Just try licking it one more time. If you do, don’t even think about eating it anymore in future.”

To Elder Dog, if he couldn’t eat this delicious ‘Righteous Pet Food’ anymore, it would be the same as dying.

Then, under Lin Fan’s gaze, he swallowed the ‘Righteous Pet Food’ in one go.

Lin Fan stared unblinkingly at him. Where’s the miracle? There must be something unusual.

In an instant.

Elder Dog, who had been perfectly fine, suddenly fell to the ground. His four dog limbs were erect as he kept on twitching.

“Oh d*mn. Something like this could happen?” Lin Fan wasn’t worried at all. Elder Dog had already eaten one grain the previous day and he had been fine. This proved that there were no problems with the pet food.

At that moment, Lin Fan realized that the fur that he had just cut that day were starting to slowly grow out again.

Those paws that had been hurt were gradually healing.

A slight glow surrounded Elder Dog. With Lin Fan’s current abilities, he could feel a kind of mysterious power changing Elder Dog’s physique.

The effect of the Great Animal Spell was to seize Elder Dog.

Then, this ‘Righteous Pet Food’ was to raise Elder Dog’s ability.

This process continued for close to an hour before it slowly died down.

Elder Dog lay on the ground and slept. He seemed to be digesting it. Lin Fan didn’t interrupt. He now understood that this ‘Righteous Pet Food’ was not normal.

It was really worth the 100 Encyclopedic Points.

...

The next day!

The news about Elder Dog’s rescue had spread everywhere.

Weibo.

“D*mn! D*mn!”

“Is this news true? It doesn’t seem possible at all.”

“I woke up to this piece of news early in the morning. I didn’t even eat my breakfast, I just stared at my phone with my mouth gaping.”

“When did this happen? It couldn’t have happened yesterday, right?”

“It did happen yesterday. I was there when it happened. Our flat was on fire and the fire spread from the 24th floor to the 20th floor. And this infant was on the 21st floor at the time. Even the firefighting team had given up hope because the infant really could not be saved. Then, a mutt that came from nowhere ran up and came back down soon after, carrying an infant in its mouth.”

“This is mystical. It’s a miracle!”

“All this is true. There are photos, videos, everything. I saw it for myself. Otherwise, I wouldn’t have believed it.”

When they saw the news on the Internet, everyone was shocked.

They felt as if it was inconceivable.

The news was telling them that a mutt had charged up 21 floors and rescued an infant. They simply could not picture this in their minds. How had this dog gotten through the fire in the building? And how had it withstood the heat?

Most importantly, how had the dog brought out the infant from the fire and still come out alive? To them, this was simply impossible.

If it had been a human instead of a mutt in this piece of news, perhaps it would have made the top ten trending list. However, because it was a mutt, it became number one on trending.

Countless people saw the news and were astounded.

Especially after opening Baidu and doing a search, various news headlines appeared.

‘The bold and powerful godly dog charged into the fire and rescued the infant to safety.’

‘Breaking! Mutt charged into a fire. The real reason he went in is...’

‘The entire nation is searching for the courageous Chinese Countryside Dog.’

...

Dog-lovers.

“Everyone, spread the news. Look, this is the kind of dog that people are eating.”

“When I saw the news, I was so moved that I didn’t know what to say. I really love this courageous little dog. It charged into the fire courageously and saved the infant.”

“When I reached the end of the article, I was almost crying. Look, that originally clean and white little dog came out pitch-black. Even his paws were injured.”

“What happened afterward? Does anyone know where this dog is now?”

“No idea. After this dog rescued the infant, it left. No one knows where it went.”

Then, something even more insane happened.

Someone formed the Heroic Godly Dog organization. In this organization, everyone was a fan of the dog in the video.

“Requesting for information on this dog’s current location. If anyone knows, I’m willing to pay ten thousand dollars.”

“What a courageous little dog. I want to bring it home.”

“There are many people who want to bring it home now. A dog that understands human nature and can save people. I’m afraid everyone will fight over it.”

Chapter 778: Can’t hide the truth

At Cloud Street!

Lin Fan appeared with Elder Dog. but when he reached the shop, he felt that something wasn’t right.

Wu You Lan cried out in shock, “Brother Lin, isn’t that little dog who was on the news today Elder Dog?”

Fraud Tian looked at them suspiciously. He had not expected this dog to be so brave. If it hadn’t been for the news, he wouldn’t have been able to tell.

Lin Fan felt helpless. “You’ve all guessed it, haven’t you?”

After confirming it.

Wu You Lan embraced Elder Dog excitedly, looking left and right. “I was wondering yesterday what Elder Dog went through, why he was so dirty and even injured. I never thought that he was a heroic dog who charged into a fire to save an infant.”

“Woof woof!”

Elder Dog barked proudly.

To Lin Fan, if it hadn’t been for the ‘Righteous Pet Food’, Elder Dog wouldn’t have been able to escape from the fire after he went in. Even if he had managed to escape, he would have become a barbecued dog.

Zhao Zhong Yang took out his phone excitedly. “Everyone on the Internet is looking for Elder Dog right now. If I tell everyone on broadcast, it would be amazing.”

“Don’t. Don’t ever do that. This matter cannot be spread, otherwise, it would be troublesome,” said Lin Fan hastily. If other people found out that Elder Dog was the little dog who had charged into the fire, Cloud Street would become clogged up with people.

If that happened, it would be f*cked up.

He just wanted to live a quiet and peaceful life. How could he allow such a troublesome thing to happen?

At this moment.

The surrounding shop owners gradually came over one by one.

Elder Liang looked at Elder Dog with contemplation in his eyes. “When I saw Elder Dog yesterday, his body was all black as if he had been burned by a fire. Could it be that the dog on the news is Elder Dog?”

Lin Fan laughed awkwardly, “You must be mistaken, Elder Liang. Look at him, does he really seem like that dog?”

Woof woof!

Elder Dog couldn’t stand it. Although one should do good without seeking recognition, he couldn’t just allow his good deed to be overlooked just like that. The good deed had been done by him and he had to admit to it.

Elder Liang said, “Look, Little Boss. Elder Dog is starting to admit it. I think it must have been Elder Dog.”

Sister Hong came as well. “Little Boss, was it Elder Dog who did it?”

Elder Chen said, “Yeah, we saw Elder Dog all black yesterday. I must have been Elder Dog.”

Lin Fan saw that he could not hide it anymore. He was at a loss. “Shh, be quiet. Don’t be so open about this incident. It’s not good.”

At that moment, the crowd understood. It seemed that Master Lin didn’t want people to know. But after thinking about it, they agreed with Master Lin. For a dog to be so brave and fierce, it would shock everyone. If people found out, things would be unimaginable.

“What’s the situation on the Internet right now?” asked Elder Liang.

Lin Fan shook his head, “I’m not sure. I don’t know if it’ll be discovered.

Zhao Zhong Yang said, “I feel that it’s dangerous. Elder Dog has previously appeared on the news before and he even has his own fan club. Although there aren’t many people inside and quite some time has passed since then, it’s hard to say if they will discover this.”

Indeed.

After hearing Zhao Zhong Yang’s analysis, Lin Fan felt that it was very likely to happen. One should never underestimate the netizens of the Internet.

If they really want to find the truth, they’ll even dig out news from ten years ago.

On the Internet.

“After watching the video, my blood is pumping. Although it’s just a dog, this dog is a hero in my heart.”

“Let those people who look down on mutts see this. This is an authentic Chinese Countryside Dog from our great country of China. Can those other dogs, who only know how to eat, drink and destroy things, even compare to it?”

“There is no comparison. Those dogs would run away once they see the fire.”

“I don’t care about other people but if any of my friends dare to ask me out to eat dog meat in future, I’ll cut them to death.”

“Since you say it like that, you must have really liked eating dog meat in the past.”

“You shouldn’t look back at the past. Let’s not talk about this. I’m going to go buy some paper money to burn.”

“Does anyone know who this dog belongs to?”

“No idea. There are so many mutts in the country, Who would know which family it belongs to?”

“Stop looking for him. He has already been added to a pot and cooked by me. I’ll show you some photos.” A netizen satirically sent a few photos of a mutt being thrown into a pot.

At this moment, netizens who saw the photo could not stand it.

“F*ck your mom, you f*cking idiot!”

“Did you try so hard to become famous that you became crazy? Don’t let me find out who you are. Otherwise, I’ll kill you.”

“His identity is already out. This guy is a university student studying at XX University and staying in XX Hostel.

This satirical person had probably not expected himself to be taught a lesson by the other netizens so quickly.

Everyone on the Internet was searching for that mysterious mutt.

On that evening.

A certain animal expert was being a guest on a talk show.

“According to the situation shown in the video, this Chinese Countryside Dog is very clever. It must have been through training, otherwise, it wouldn’t have been able to do all this. And what makes me even more surprised is that this dog isn’t big but he was able to bring the infant down to the ground floor from the 21st floor. I just can’t understand this part.”

The host said, “You mean that this Chinese Countryside Dog is very unusual?”

“Yes, it is very unusual. Just from this incident, you can tell that this dog is very pragmatic. Its intelligence can be considered the highest among all dog breeds. Even trained and specialized dogs cannot compare.”

The host said, “But according to our knowledge, Chinese Countryside Dogs have one of the lowest intelligence levels among all dog breeds in the world. How did this dog become so clever?”

The expert smiled, “There’s actually nothing much to it. There are clever dogs and stupid dogs just like with humans. Not everyone can be clever. Hence, I have never believed in such rankings of intelligence.”

This topic was very hot on the Internet.

Chinese Countryside Dogs had become popular. Countless people who used to look down on Chinese Countryside Dogs had developed new attitudes towards them.

And just within a day...

Something even more terrifying happened.

Some dog meat shops that ran at night received unexpected guests. In the end, the conflicts were only resolved when the police arrived.

And such incidents were happening across the country. A campaign to protect Chinese Countryside Dogs had begun.

But still, no one found that little dog who appeared in the video.

The next day!

Cloud Street.

Lin Fan opened the news.

When he saw the news headlines, he was completely flabbergasted.

‘The dog who charged into a fire to save an infant has become famous.’

‘Experts say that this dog has very high IQ. It may even have surpassed IQ of a thirteen-year-old teenager.’

‘The heroic dog’s true identity.’

‘A woman who drives a BMW says that she saw that mutt before the fire happened. It helped her to expose a scam.’

On the Internet.

“Did you see the news? Before going to the scene of the fire, the heroic dog appeared on a certain road.”

“I saw it. With some speculation, we will be able to find out where this dog came from.”

“Wait, I just remembered something. I’ve watched the video tens of times and I realized that this dog looks particularly similar to a dog I’ve seen before. Wait a moment. Let me find the news article from that time.”

“^Is this true? Everyone here is searching for the dog right now. Don’t try to cheat us.”

“I’d be a b*stard if I tried to cheat you. I really just thought about it. Wait for me. I’ll find that news article. You guys can take a look if it’s true.”

What Lin Fan was most worried about had happened.

In the face of countless netizens who were searching for the truth, paper cannot be used to contain the fire.

Chapter 779: Doomed

This netizen started acting like Sherlock Holmes as he searched for the evidence.

He remembered clearly that he had seen the exact same dog before but somehow, he couldn't quite recall where he saw it.

But to prove himself, he had to find the evidence.

Nighttime.

Lin Fan was idling in the shop peacefully and quietly. After looking at the whole day's news, he saw that no one had discovered that the dog was Elder Dog, so he heaved a sigh of relief.

But thinking about it, it made sense. There were so many mutts in the country and quite a number of them were white. How would anyone be able to find out?

If they found out, Lin Fan would f*cking do a broadcast of himself eating sh*t.

He brought Elder Dog home and bought some bones as he was preparing to improve Elder Dog's meals.

As of now, Elder Dog was no longer a typical dog. The only thing he couldn't do was talk. Of course, Lin Fan had to prepare good meals for Elder Dog and strengthen his body even more.

Elder Dog was close to tears. After enduring for so long, he had finally gained acknowledgment. Thinking about the past, those days were really too pitiful. He couldn't even eat scallion pancakes in the past.

Now, his days were delightful.

Lin Fan placed the bone that he had cooked into a bowl. "Eat up and grow stronger."

The pork bone was releasing a brilliant fragrance that was difficult for Elder Dog to resist. He immediately hugged the bone and started eating it while puffing and blowing.

The next day!

Lin Fan brought Elder Dog and casually started the car, heading towards Cloud Street.

...

In a certain rental apartment.

A man had been awake through the night. He hadn't done anything else but look through his web history.

He could have sworn that he had seen a similar photo before but nobody believed him.

Looking at the comments under his post, there were thousands of them, all saying that he was just bragging and telling him to show the evidence.

As someone who had never lied before, how could he let others falsely accuse him? Even if he didn't sleep, he had to find the evidence.

Suddenly.

The man's eyes lit up. His cursor swiftly clicked open the webpage. He had found the evidence.

On the webpage.

'Mysterious mutt finds kidnapped children.'

At the same time, there was an image. On the image, a white colored mutt was standing there with its head raised, looking very proud.

The man couldn't wait to post it on the Internet.

"I've found the evidence. See for yourselves. Don't they look very similar or even exactly the same? I told you I wasn't lying and I definitely wasn't lying."

Indeed.

Upon posting this image, netizens who had been paying attention to this matter were boiling with excitement.

“D*mn! They really look the same. It’s as if they were carved out of the same mold.”

“Wait a moment. I think this news is from a few months ago, am I right? It’s that news about a large human-trafficking organization being destroyed. But before it was destroyed, a dog, leading many other dogs, had rescued the kidnapped children from an old residential building.”

“I’ve found it. This is Master Lin’s dog.”

“What? Master Lin’s dog? Right, Master Lin seems to have such a dog. I’ve seen Brother Yang’s broadcasts and this dog is known as Elder Dog.”

“Who’s in Shanghai? Go and check if it’s really Master Lin’s dog.”

“F*ck, this is nature-defying. But why didn’t Master Lin say anything on Weibo?”

“I think Master Lin probably didn’t dare to say it.”

...

When the evidence was released, it immediately spread on the Internet.

News agency.

A reporter said, “It’s been found. Netizens are saying that it’s Master Lin’s dog. This is an article from last time.”

“D*mn, they’re really right. Why didn’t we think of this? Hurry up and go down to Cloud Street to interview him. I’m afraid that quite a number of people already know about it by now.”

At Cloud Street.

Lin Fan was sitting there leisurely. Wu You Lan and the rest had gradually stopped caring about that incident. It had already passed, what was the point of thinking about it so much?

In these one or two days, Elder Dog had been going out frequently. He only did not go out today. It was the first time.

Lin Fan now understood that whenever Elder Dog went out, it was to do a good deed. That 'Righteous Pet Food' was really not simple.

Suddenly!

Elder Dog stood up and looked into the distance.

Lin Fan realized that there was some noise up ahead. He took a casual glance but just this glance made his jaw dropped. He cried out in his heart, "I'm screwed."

In the distance, a group of reporters had come. There were also many townsfolk.

"Over there. Master Lin's shop is just over there."

I can see the Heroic Doggy! He's laying at the entrance."

"D*mn, we've finally found it."

Wu You Lan and the rest exchanged looks. "Brother Lin, what do we do?"

At that moment, Lin Fan thought of killing himself. How on earth did it get exposed?

It was impossible!

Woof woof~

Elder Dog barked at those people.

This series of barks made those people even more maniacal.

Before Lin Fan could respond, those reporters had surrounded them.

A reporter said, “Master Lin, is this pet dog of yours the Heroic Dog who charged bravely into the fire a while ago?”

Another reporter asked, “Do you know that your pet dog saved an infant? Now, the whole country is searching for it.”

Elder Dog just stood there, facing the lens. He casually let those reporters capture his face.

Lin Fan rolled his eyes. They had actually managed to find him. Then, Lin Fan sighed. There was nothing he could do about it. Gold shines wherever you put it. You can never hide gold.

“My dear reporters and citizens, please quieten down. I didn’t expect you all to really find out,” Lin Fan sighed.

A reporter asked in a puzzled tone, “Master Lin, your pet dog has saved a life. Why don’t you want us to find out?”

Lin Fan laughed softly, “My dear reporter, I can tell that you’ve only just gotten to know me. Whether it’s me or my pet, we’re very humble. Doing good deeds is very normal. If a good deed was for the sake of recognition, then we wouldn’t be interested anymore.”

“At the time, I didn’t know what he had done but he came back with injuries all over and his four legs were broken. I was very heartbroken. Luckily, my medical skills are top-notch and I’ve managed to heal him in these few days. Afterward, I saw the news and I understood what had happened. However, since that young life has been saved, it’s already a perfect ending. There’s no need to let people know.”

The reporters kept taking photos. They had been moved by Lin Fan’s words.

Meanwhile, when the citizens who had come specially to see Elder Dog heard about the severity of his injuries, their hearts ached. A beautiful little girl, in particular, was hugging Elder Dog in her embrace.

“Doggy is really amazing.”

When Elder Dog felt this warm embrace, his dog eyes squinted. He was very merry.

“Master Lin, how do you usually train your dog? How did he become so clever and amazing?”

Lin Fan smiled, “I don’t train him much. I just tell him to do some things occasionally and since young, I’ve raised him to be close to humans. I never thought that he would do such a beautiful deed. I’m really gratified. Alright, since there’s nothing much, you guys can go back, my reporter comrades.”

How could the reporters leave? They hadn’t even finished asking their questions.

“Master Lin, netizens are searching for this dog right now. Moreover, there’s a first-rate superstar hoping to keep and raise this dog. Would you agree?”

Lin Fan was speechless. He had known that if this matter was found out, questions would come at him nonstop. He wouldn’t be able to get any peace that day.

“Of course I don’t agree. He’s a member of our place. Do you think we would sell him?”

“A few months ago, during the search for the kidnapped children, this doggy had followed their trail and found them. At that time, was this doggy already very clever?”

Lin Fan replied, “Yes.”

“Master Lin, can you tell us the doggy’s name?”

Lin Fan replied, “Elder Dog Nicholas.”

“What a dominant name.”

At that moment.

A voice came from afar.

“Ah! The doggy is here. Our idol is here!”

Lin Fan raised his head and looked. It was as if there were tens of thousands of horses galloping in his heart. Elder Dog’s fans were here.

They were doomed.

Chapter 780: How Shameless

“Waa! Elder Dog, we love you!”

“Doggy is really too brave. We’re here for you.”

The reporters looked into a distance and their expressions slowly changed. They were clearly in disbelief.

They had initially thought that although a dog could become very popular on the Internet, it wouldn’t get too overboard. But now, they realized that they had been completely mistaken.

Those townsfolk were clearly all charging towards Elder Dog.

Those excited expressions on their faces were terrifying.

The reporters were pushed aside.

The fans ecstatically charged in front of Elder Dog.

When Elder Dog saw this, he jumped in fright and landed on the counter.

“Woof woof!”

He barked a few times, expressing that these fans were too ridiculous. “All of you, stand there obediently and don’t do anything absurd!”

“Waa~ Elder Dog is so cool.”

“Even his barks sound different from other dogs. He’s really too amazing.”

“I really like Elder Dog. I want to bring him home so badly.”

“Elder Dog is really too adorable. I can’t resist it.”

When Lin Fan heard this, he was dumbfounded. Was this for real? Was there a need to be like that?

This Master had done so many deeds and gotten on so many headlines but he had not come across such passionate fans. Now, just after doing one good deed, Elder Dog was receiving such treatment. Lin Fan felt that it didn’t make sense.

When the reporters saw this scene, they weren’t willing to leave. They immediately started taking photos.

They had found news for the next day.

This was too much popularity for one dog. If they hadn’t seen this for themselves, they might not have believed it.

Zhao Zhong Yang said, “Brother Lin, this situation doesn’t feel quite right.”

Lin Fan said, "I can already tell that we won't get any peace today."

Fraud Tian cried out in shock, "F*ck, this doesn't make sense. How can this Elder Dog be so well-liked?"

Lin Fan took a look at Fraud Tian and sighed helplessly.

Hadn't he already said? Sometimes, one shouldn't compare one's own life with a dog's. You would lose terribly.

Time passed, until nighttime.

The reporters and townsfolk gradually left. In the end, Lin Fan carried Elder Dog and headed home.

No matter how much the remaining fans shouted for them to stay, Lin Fan could not stay any longer.

These people were all crazy. At that moment, he had completely experienced the outburst of Elder Dog's abilities.

His attractive force was simply too strong.

The next day!

On the Internet.

'The Heroic Dog's true identity is Master Lin's pet dog.'

'Master Lin teaches his pet to be righteous.'

'Cloud Street is filled with a vast crowd, hoping to get a look at Elder Dog.'

'Elder Dog Nicholas. An exceptionally dominant name.'

‘The government might present Elder Dog with a Heroism Award.’

...

When some of the celebrities saw the news, they were instantly dumbfounded.

“What is up with people nowadays? How can a dog be on the trending headlines two days in a row? I’ve done everything I can but I haven’t even been on the trending headlines once!”

To many celebrities, such an occurrence didn’t make sense. They were fighting viciously for the headlines but not, a dog that couldn’t even talk had gotten on the headlines twice all of a sudden. It caused them to lose their tempers completely.

“666... Now, I understand. Such a brave little dog could only be raised by Master Lin.”

“F*ck, this name is really dominant. Elder Dog Nicholas. Who came up with it? Is there a need to be so awesome?”

“I’m already on the way to Cloud Street and it’s all to see this Elder Dog in person.”

“It’s always other people’s dogs. Why is my dog so stupid?”

“Something big has happened over here. A mutt has entered the pet store. Those business people are actually using Elder Dog’s name to boost their businesses.”

“^You don’t say. The dogs at the pet store near my place have had their names changed to Nicholas Number 2 and Nicholas Number 3. This has f*cking blown up.”

The celebrity effect had appeared.

Now, Elder Dog was very popular. Even businessmen had seen this as an opportunity and changed the names of the dogs in their pet stores. Moreover, many people were searching for white mutts.

Initially, they hadn't thought much about this.

But what astounded them was that many customers went into their stores and asked if they had any white mutts that looked like Elder Dog.

Those owners of pet shops were all stunned and dumbfounded.

What was up with this market situation? Had something changed?

If they wanted mutts, they could search at the dog meat shops or the streets. Who would be so crazy to buy a mutt?

But after asking around, the shop owners discovered a means of becoming rich. They immediately went to the villages to buy large numbers of mutts.

One white mutt for 888 dollars. And that was already the cheapest price.

For purebred white mutts, the price reached 8888 dollars.

Initially, they had thought that no one would buy them. However, unexpectedly, there really were idiots who bought them.

This incident had caused the market for pets to completely blow up.

And the status of mutts had suddenly changed.

These dogs, that were like beggars in the past, had suddenly become the symbol of nobility.

At Cloud Street.

Lin Fan let out a sigh of relief. Finally, no one else came.

"You Lan, no one came in the morning, right?" asked Lin Fan.

Wu You Lan replied, “Not yet.”

Lin Fan said, “That’s good. Even I’m a little scared. These people are too crazy.”

Fraud Tian said enviously, “The Internet is saying that Elder Dog is going to receive a Heroism Award. Is that true?”

Lin Fan laughed, “How could that be true? There’s no such thing. That’s just the reporters blindly reporting.”

“That’s good.” Fraud Tian nodded, “If Elder Dog really gets an award, then my life would have been lesser than a dog’s.”

Lin Fan regarded this problem heavily as well.

That was the truth. Fraud Tian really might not have been able to compare to Elder Dog.

However, Lin Fan definitely couldn’t say it. Otherwise, Fraud Tian would be really hurt.

Suddenly.

Before he had relaxed for long, something unpleasant happened.

A group of girls ran over hurriedly from afar. “Elder Dog is in this shop.”

That group of girls was a bunch of office workers. They really liked puppies. Especially after seeing Elder Dog, they had become mesmerized. Hence, despite the original route to their workplace not passing here, they changed it so that they could come over.

“Master Lin, can we take a look at Elder Dog?” asked a little lady cautiously.

What else could Lin Fan say? “Go ahead.”

At that moment, the group of girls squatted down and started patting Elder Dog, who was lying on the ground.

“He’s so good-looking.”

“So cute.”

“Hello, Elder Dog...”

Elder Dog really enjoyed this situation. He squinted his eyes and let the girls touch him as they liked.

When Fraud Tian saw all these young ladies, he couldn’t help but step forward. “Little ladies, the puppy is good-looking, isn’t he?”

“Mmm, he’s good-looking.” The girls nodded.

Fraud Tian chuckled, “If you ever want to come to see him next time, feel free. Why don’t you leave a WeChat ID or something so I can send you all pictures of Elder Dog’s life in future.”

“Alright! We need to go to work and we won’t be able to come see him frequently.” The girls didn’t think much of it and just gave Fraud Tian their WeChat IDs.

Lin Fan looked at this scene and didn’t know what to say.

He couldn’t help but think about something.

Nowadays, many young people couldn’t even raise themselves, yet, they would raise cute little dogs. They would carry their dogs everywhere they went. These people probably did these so they could attract girls.

Thinking about Fraud Tian’s age, Lin Fan felt that he was f*cking shameless.
