

Vampire's Slice Of Life

- Chapter 21: Backstory |

Chapter 21: Backstory

Lith was sitting in the arms of his mother, who was now kissing his big sister passionately. To not feel jealous of them, he distracted himself by doing his favorite thing. Sucking milk out his mother's lovely breasts.

Lilith after her climax had clarity return to her and realized the situation she was in. She found herself kissing her daughter passionately and her daughter was also responding her with the same enthusiasm. She also found the familiar little vampire of her's drinking her milk out of her breasts. Even though she loved her kids to a very crazy degree, this was still a little embarrassing for her. Nevertheless, she quickly let go of such embarrassment and composed herself and started enjoying this intimate feelings of their kids for her.

After a few minutes,

"Huff...huff...huff"

Heavy breaths could be heard taken in and out of Lucy who broke the kiss to get a breather.

"Let's go out of water first dear and then continue." Lilith gave Lucy a kiss on her forehead and held her by the waist and Lith in her arms and got out of the water.

She then dried then dried them up and herself by wind magic. She picked Lith up in her arms. His butt rested on her left forearm and his hands wrapped around her neck. Lilith then put her right hand on her Lucy's butt and picked her up. Lucy was surprised and had a feeling that she'll fall so he quickly clung onto her mother for support. She now looked like a koala latched onto a tree. She wrapped her arms and legs on her mother's body from the right side. Lilith walked out of the bathroom carrying Lith and Lucy on either sides of her and placed them gently on the big bed.

Lilith placed Lucy in the middle. Lith who knew what his mother was upto started playing with his big sister's breasts. Lucy was a little nervous because she had never done such a thing before. Lilith was amused looking at her son who didn't even complain why he was put away from her. She looked at her daughter and knew that she was nervous. She hadn't given her daughter the "talk" because her daughter was always busy either studying, fighting or speeding up to get stronger. It had been almost 500 years since she was this intimate with her. Before Lith was born Lucy and her shared hugs occasionally and kisses were rare and they were only done on her cheeks or forehead because Lucy was very shy and embarrassed easily. After Lith's birth she felt that her daughter wanted to be touched by her just like how she did with Lith and so she became more proactive.

She realised today that, she hadn't given her daughter the "talk" when she heard her daughter asking her to not stop fingering her pussy. So, she made up her mind and decided that today she'll teach both of them.

Lilith being the strong and independent that she was, was also naturally a very proud being. Her pride in herself was even more than what the dragons felt about themselves. This was because she was born strong. Thus, due to her pride, she never really cared about anyone and only cared about herself. She started to get stronger. Crushed anyone who made trouble with her and started rising to the top. Her affinity was towards all the elements. During her journey, many tried to take advantage of her or court her or straight up * her but she was luckily protected by an Emperor rank of the Vampire race at that time. It was the countess of the Clan Frenir. Thus, Lilith under her protection, got stronger and stronger and eventually, she killed the supreme of the then Vampire race and took his place. She had no intention in doing so but she did it because of him wanting to bed her. She was disgusted by such things and loathed every male. She only had one person as her ally and that was the countess. She didn't care about the countess much either because she knew that the countess only took her in so that she could get more benefits. It was very clear to her because the countess really did do exactly that. She declared her as her adopted daughter and she got a lot of benefits from the king.

Later, she tried to arrange a marriage between her "daughter" and the king, which enraged Lilith. Nobody knew how strong Lilith was because she never really showed her true strength to anyone but that day, she annihilated the Clan Frenir as a whole and went over to the Vampire king and beat him to half death. She was in the midst of killing him when she heard a baby's cry and she looked towards the source and it was of a female Vampire holding a baby in her arms. It was very far away from her but Lilith had all her senses enhanced. She looked at the woman who was looking at her baby gently and lovingly and she felt a feeling she never felt before.

It was the first feeling of having a desire to love and care about someone but Lilith at that time didn't know about it. She killed the Vampire King in rage and then took the position of the new Vampire Queen. She then started going out more in the world. All this time she was trying to get stronger and stronger but now that she really was strong, she wanted to explore and know more about this weird feeling she had.

The Vampire Queen then walked in the world of mortals and roamed the world. The world suffered due to her roaming around. The felt the power of the new Vampire Queen. For a period of time, the whole world was in chaos, just because the Vampire Queen wanted to explore a feeling. It was during those years of her roaming that she got acquainted with the NEET Lucifer and Mayzin, the now Dragon Empresss and Agalea Grace, the now Elven Queen. These three weren't supremes yet but later through a series of experiences, they became one. They had the support of the Vampire Queen who terrorized the world and it was easy for them to become a Supreme rank.

At that time there was no Supreme rank for the Demon and Elven race and so it was relatively easy for Lucifer and Agalea to become one. Lucifer didn't want to be a Supreme rank and only wanted to laze around and be a NEET. She didn't want to work! She was a spoiled child. Her grandfather was the Supreme rank of the Angel race and he always kept pestering her to get stronger and be independent. She hated the "old" man for annoying her day and night. He didn't even let her slack off! She somehow got to the Emperor rank and ran away from home so she could laze around but alas! She met the Vampire Queen!

The Vampire Queen looked at her like a country bumpkin finally arriving at a city and looking around and feeling amazed by anything and everything. Lilith was amused by the fact at how such a dumb being like Lucifer could become so strong and took an interest in her. Lucifer after getting acquainted with Lilith kept nagging about how her old man kept pestering her. Lilith then told Lucifer that if she becomes a Supreme rank, which is only a step away now, she could get rid of her old man and laze around as much as she want.

The dumb and gullible Lucifer thought that it made sense and worked hard for almost a hundred thousand years! She cursed Lilith and her old man Alex Paladin day and night. It was one step! One bloody step to becoming a supreme rank! Yet it took so long! Finally, she became a Supreme rank with the help of her grandfather and "friend" Lilith. She wanted to laze around now and really didn't want to see the faces of Lilith and her old man. Alex's heart softened. He knew his granddaughter had worked really hard. So he built a place for her to stay. Now that she became a Supreme rank of the Demon race and had a whole race under her, he made the place in between the 666th floor of the abyss and the ninth floor of hell. He asked her how she wanted her place to be and Lucifer had only ever been to Lilith's castle or to her old man's Palace. She hated the heavenly palace a lot due to it's sacred and majestic aura, so she without thinking chose to have a same looking castle as that of Lilith. Alex, like a good grandfather made that Castle for her with the help of Witches and he subconsciously added some sacred and majestic aura on the gothic castle. The castle was similar to that of Lilith's but not same. Lucifer chose to seclude herself in her castle and didn't come out for a long time.

She had been forcefully dragged out later by her old man due to problems arising in the Demon race and she like a good friend she was, went to Lilith to get help ahem ahem to play with her. She missed her friend and hey you should catch up with your friends. Lilith gave her advice that she should just put all the work on her subordinates so she made the seven sins overlords. She made two more friends due to Lilith and her days went by lazing or playing with Lilith, Mayzin and Agalea.

Lilith then met Mayzin and Agalea through a series of twists and coincidences. Agalea later became the Elven Queen with the help of Lilith and Lucifer's support. Lucifer clearly didn't do anything and just lazed around. Her subordinates were the one who did all the necessary paper work. Thus, with the help of the Demon race and Vampire race, she became a Supreme rank and the Elven Queen.

Mayzin's case was a little tricky. There wasn't any empty position for the Supreme rank as it was occupied by Dagassi, the Dragon Emperor. Through a series of turns and with the support of the Demon race, the Vampire race and the Elven race, she became another Supreme rank of the Dragons. Dagassi was very reluctant to have a competitor and many higher ups also didn't want another Supreme rank due to them having to get divided and not get the chance to have a good rest due to the continent being in chaos. Dragons loved to sleep on their treasures in their territories and would not work if not needed. Thus, many objected with a second Supreme rank but all of the objection was for naught.

The Vampire Queen said that if anyone dared to hinder in Mayzin's ascension, they'll be making an enemy out of her. Although the terror and chaos she created were very fresh to them, the Dragons being the prideful creatures they were, didn't wanted to listen to an outsider and that too a blood sucking Vampire. They forgot that it was a Supreme rank existence which killed the former Supreme rank of the Vampire race and openly declared that they didn't want to Mayzin to be the Supreme rank. Even Dagassi did the same thing.

The other races kept quite and so did the Supreme ranks of the other races. So what if there is another supreme rank added? They were already very rare and on top of that if some more people join, they'll atleast have more people to talk to and alleviate their boredom. The world is so big and even if there were to be ten thousand supreme ranks, it'll not be enough to share the land of the world. The Dragons were clearly being lazy bums who didn't wanted to work and foolishly challenged a Supreme rank. There was no dumb ways to die magazine at that time or else the name of whole race had been added to it.

The Dragons after opposing Lilith, felt her wrath. Lucifer and Agalea ensured that no other party intervened in the matters of the Dragon race. Lilith killed one tenth of the whole Dragon race and beat Dagassi to half death. She didn't want to kill him because Mayzin asked her not to. Mayzin could put all the work on Dagassi and be free, when you get the chance to have such a strong subordinate, why waste? Thus, Mayzin became the Dragon Empress later, the whole continent got divided in two halves and Mayzin took the Dark, Lightning, Space, time and war attributed Dragons under her. Dagassi had Earth, Fire, water, wind and light attributed Dragons under him. Even though the continent was divided, it was Dagassi who managed everyone. Only half the things in the continent were under Dagassi but he had to manage the whole continent.

Thus, Lilith became known as the Strongest Vampire in history and also the Strongest being in the world. Not any Supreme rank could beat another to half death like this. What the world didn't know was that Lilith wasn't a Supreme rank and her little secret was only known to a handful of people. Dagassi who experienced her fist firsthand was one of them and her three friends and Alex. Lucifer couldn't shut up and went to Alex to gossip about Lilith and told him this secret. Later she got a lot of beating by her.

Supreme rank beings were demigods in the world and above them was a secret class which not many people knew. It was the ascension to godhood. The secret class was called the Legendary rank!

A rank above the Supreme rank. Supremes were called such because after ascending from the Emperor realm the body, spirit and soul undergoes a qualitative change. The world undergoes slight change whenever someone ascends to a Supreme rank. It can be considered with the example of a volcanic eruption. The world changes due to it and the eruption is shown to everyone and it is a natural phenomenon. Ascension to a demigod is also a natural phenomenon and thus the world undergoes a change.

To go from Emperor rank to Supreme rank, one doesn't need resources but one needs to understand and comprehend the nature of the world. Thus everything depended upon the comprehension ability of an individual. Lucifer thus had to work her ass off day by day for almost a hundred thousand years due to it. Her stupid self couldn't comprehend things easily and thus she took the help of Lilith and her old man. She worked hard but, day and night she worked just so she could laze around later. Mayzin and Agalea were smart people and didn't need take a lot of time like her but their time was also half of Lucifer's time.

The secret class was then the ascension from demigod to true god. It was a secret known to almost none. It is said that if the world wanted you to, then it would help you in this or else there really isn't any chance to ascend. Till history there were only three such existences. One of them being Lilith. More about this topic later.

Lilith in these adventuring and exploring days actually forgot the reason why she was out roaming. Only after her three friends became Supreme ranks did she realise that she was roaming the world for a reason and not for terrorizing it.

Chapter 22: Talk

Lilith terrorized and roamed the world for almost half a million years. This period was called as the Lilith's era due to the sheer amount of terror she caused and the chaos that ensued. One tenth of the Dragons got wiped off. It was an unprecedented feat and it wasn't achievable by anyone. Worst of all the demise of the Dragons was caused due to just a stupid reason. It was during these years that she met Lucifer, Mayzin and Agalea. After spending time with them and having them ascend into Supreme rank did Lilith realise that she had forgotten the reason why she was roaming in the first place.

Thus 10,000 years ago Lilith once again searched for this feeling but did it secretly. The world gradually recovered. The dead people, some important figures were resurrected and most of them reincarnated. Some reincarnated people had their memories intact and they spread the terror of Lilith everywhere. Gradually, the chaos died down after Lilith withdrew and the world got it's much needed peace.

Lilith in these 10,000 years realised what the feeling was and what she really wanted to do. She wanted to have someone to love to, to care and protect them. She wanted to feel the warmth of a family. Thus, she discussed about these feelings with her three friends. They met many times in these 10,000 years and one time Lucifer joked that Lilith should just adopt her and take care of her. She was then held by Agalea and Mayzin and got spanked by Lilith for a few hours for her terrible joke. These four ladies had one thing in common, they didn't like the fact of getting their eggs fertilized by a man they didn't even love. But they had to somehow help Lilith with starting a family. Thus, they contacted the Queen Mother of the Witches.

The Queen Mother of the Witches, Florencia Rain, gave them a few tools. One was a tool for semen preservation. One for restraining a man and paralyzing him in such a way that only his healthy seeds would come out and he would have no way to resist or alter his seeds during the process of semen collection. There was one last tool which was to help in getting inseminated. She also gave them pills which needed to be taken before and after birth. All these procedures would help a virgin women give birth without having to lose her virginity. Why did Florencia had such a procedure available? It was simple. Many witches also didn't like getting a man inside them. They only cared about themselves. The birth rate of the witch race was on a decline and thus Florencia came up with such a procedure to help the Witch race continue. Now the population was growing at a steady rate.

Lilith and Agalea decided that they'll start a family. Agalea after hearing the witch's explanation felt that this was a good thing for her. She was worried that she really would need to marry someone to continue her own bloodline. Mayzin on the other hand didn't think much about it. She really didn't care about starting a family. She loved her treasure and also she had friends to spend time with, so at that moment there was no such thought in her mind. Lucifer, well she was Lucifer. Nobody asked her anything about this topic because the three ladies knew that she didn't care about this family stuff and only wanted to laze around and be a certified NEET. If her behavior were to be known by the outside world, she definitely would've become the goddess of all the NEETs around the world and be worshipped and revered by them.

So around a thousand years back, Agalea and Lilith found two good candidates for fertilizing their eggs. The Witch Queen Mother said that because of using her tools, there would not be any characteristic of the man's side and the baby be it male or female would have all it's characteristics like the mother. As long as the semen is healthy and potent, any man can be used and their rank doesn't matter much, she said. Lilith and Agalea, on not wanting to take any chances kidnapped two Supreme rank beings, collected their seeds, first fertilized their eggs and after ensuring that it was successful, killed them both. Just like that two Supreme ranks were killed a thousand years ago and nobody even realised.

The stronger the person who is about to give birth, the longer the pregnancy period. Lilith wanted to have two kids no matter what gender and Agalea was okay with only one. Lilith collected a few vials of the man's semen and stored it so that she could use it again to get pregnant for the second time.

Agalea being a Supreme rank and an Elf who generally had long pregnancies, took 300 years to give birth. She gave birth to a girl and named her Alea. Lucifer when she came to congratulate Agalea joked that her naming sense was bad because she just gave her baby a name which derived from her own. This time, it was Lilith and Mayzin who held Lucifer and Agalea who spanked her ass.

Lilith's pregnancy was even more exaggerated. It took her 500 years to give birth to Lucy. She was Legendary rank after all. 500 years long time is no joke. A normal mortal family could have at least 5 generations in this meantime. When Lucy awakened her magic core, she started training crazily and thus Lilith felt that it was time for another child. Thus 500 years later, Lith was born.

All in all, she never really took a man's thing inside of her and she didn't really know how it felt but she knows about everything about it. She was more than half a million years old like Lucifer, Mayzin and Agalea. All this time, she had only ladies serve her. Her castle maids used to serve her most of the time with their mouth and fingers. The maid which drove the carriage to the merchant district, her name was Freya Woods and she had been serving her for the longest time.

Lilith also did these things with Lucifer, Mayzin and Agalea. Lucifer after feeling how amazing it felt, used to come from time to time to 'play' with Lilith. The four ladies would meet from time to time and have hearty chats and a foursome with each other. Lucifer even brought some toys after looking it on the internet. Those were only used on her and the other three ladies didn't prefer to put it in. She nevertheless enjoyed it and told the other three that they were missing out on good things. Thus, like that time continued to pass until Lucy was born and Lilith had someone to call as family. Then, Lith was born and she really felt complete with her two children.

It had been six years since they last met and talked. They came and congratulated her when Lith was born. They were present when she was giving birth to him. They left after congratulating and Lith never got to see them. The ladies were present in Lucy's and Alea's birth too. They were very close friends and stuck together. Even the lazy Lucifer left her couch to specially take care of Lilith during her child birth.

Back to the present.

Lilith was looking at the nervous Lucy and also Lith who was fondling Lucy's breasts. She gently got up and sat upright. Lucy looked at her mother confused and Lith too did the same. Why did she get up? They both thought. All three were currently naked.

"Baby, come to mother's lap." Lilith looked at Lith and said gently.

Lith didn't know why his mother suddenly called him but he went nevertheless. Lucy too got up looking at her mother was now sitting facing her with her little brother in her lap. He too was facing her.

"Dear, I actually forgot to give you the 'talk' about certain matters. Please forgive mom for that." Lilith said gently.

Lith realised why he was suddenly called upon. It seems that his mother was going to give the 'talk.'

Lucy didn't understand why her mother was apologizing all of a sudden but she nevertheless gently said "Don't be sorry mom. " not knowing what the 'talk' meant.

"Baby, I'll be teaching you about these things too and giving you the talk. You are too young for it, so it's okay if you don't understand certain things. You can ask mama later again. When you grow up and if you forget about it, you can ask mama to repeat the same thing again, okay?" Lilith said gently to Lith and kissed his cheeks.

Lith didn't know how to react. His mother was very caring but his mother actually is going to give him the talk when he was six. His little Lith couldn't even stand properly for heaven's sake! He stopped overthinking and simply nodded and kissed her back.

Lilith opened her legs and spread it in an M shape and was holding Lith in between her. She asked Lucy to come near her and get into the same position. When Lucy got into the position, she closed her legs and sat in a lotus position again with Lith sitting on her left thigh. He was sitting sideways and had the side view of his mother's beautiful breasts and face and full view of his sister's pink slit and the rest of the body. She had her back supported on the backrest of the bed and upright and had her legs in a M shape, giving a good view of her pussy. She was very embarrassed but did as her mother told her anyway.

Lilith too got into such a position. She didn't need backrest. She was very flexible and agile enough to be stay stable at such a position. She asked Lith to sit at the side in the middle of both of them. He now had the full view of his mother's and sister's body and their beautiful hairless lower lips.

"Ladies have pleasure spots in various areas and to trigger those pleasure spots, one needs to do certain things and..."

Mother continued lecturing both of us. She, with one hand showed certain areas of pleasure spots and with the other hand she simultaneously touched big sister in the same spot as she did on her own body. She then touched her pussy with her hand and spread it and also did the same with big sister and explained that the vaginal opening is where one babies come from and the way to have babies. Me being a six year old had to show appropriate reactions, so I put my two fingers in her hole and said "Really? I came from this place of mama?" in a shocked and surprised tone.

Lilith chuckled at her son's curiosity but nodded nonetheless. She then went on and on and explained everything to them.

"So we take this big thing in here?" Lucy said gasping when her mother showed her a toy.

"Then they release their seeds.."

....

"Babies come out..."

....

"...love juices come out when they feel good.."

....

This went on for a while and mother touched herself, my sister and even me and explained various things. She made me touch her and big sister and do certain things to understand better.

"Alright, we are done now. Do you want to try it out now with mama, sweetie?" Lilith said smiling to Lucy.

Lucy was now a little embarrassed but not nervous anymore. She nodded her head shyly.

Lilith then got to Lucy's side and placed Lith in between her and Lucy so that he can get a good look on what is going on.

She then placed her hand on her lower lips and she started stroking it. She did it slowly at first but then started increasing her pace. Lucy was clearly enjoying this foreign sensation. She moaned a little in between. Lith was playing with his sister's boobs and he added more pleasure to which she was feeling with her mother's strokes on her pussy. He was also looking down to get a good view of it. Lilith then, after finding that her daughter's entrance had gotten wet enough, licked her fingers and made them wet and put it in Lucy's pussy.

"Ohhh"

Lucy moaned a little more louder than before.

Lilith then started thrusting her fingers in and out at a fast pace.

Slick...slick ..

Erotic noises were heard when her finger was going to and fro in her. She started increasing the pace. Lith too started focusing more on pleasuring his sister, so he started sucking, biting and pinching her nipples. Lilith bent over a little and started having a passionate kiss with Lucy. Lucy was almost there now...

"Mhm....faster....mama go a little faster..."

"Ah...ah...ah.."

Lilith increased her pace and started getting more aggressive and

"Ohhhhhhhhhh!"

Lucy moaned and arched her back and climaxed. Love juices poured out making Lilith's hand all wet. She licked her hand and tasted her daughter's juices for the first time and purred in satisfaction.

"Want to taste your big sis's love juices baby?" Lilith looked at Lith looking at her and winked and asked.

Lith didn't say anything and just looked at her. He chose his right to remain silent.

Lilith looked at Lith not responding to her but looking at her intently, chuckled. She knew he too could feel embarrassed sometimes and thus he didn't say anything. She put her fingers in his mouth and let him have a taste of it. Lith licked the juices on his mother's fingers clean.

"There's more there if you want." She smiled and pointed at Lucy's dripping pussy. He once again didn't say anything and just went to Lilith's side and put her nipples in his mouth and started sucking her aggressively telling her indirectly to stop making him feel embarrassed.

Lilith chuckled at her son's little antics. She gave him a kiss on his lips and then bent down and licked Lucy's pussy. Lith too bent down and started licking his big sis's pussy alongside his mother. His tongue clashed with his mother sometimes and she brought her mouth closer to his and did a tongue battle with him while staying on Lucy's lower lips. After licking her clean, Lilith got up, smirked and teasingly said

"Now, this is your mama's turn. Who's coming?"

Chapter 23: Thirteen

Lilith and Lucy, two silver hair and purple eyed siblings, looked at their mother's seductive figure and blushed visibly. They both literally almost looked the same as their mother but still couldn't help but feel that their mother was just too beautiful and on top of that the pose she was in, made her look a lot sexy.

She was sitting with her back resting on the back rest of the bed and she had spread her legs wide. Wide enough that her pink lower lips parted a little. This pose, along with her seductive and charming voice totally opposite to her motherly figured caused both the inexperienced virgins to tremble in embarrassment. Even the thick skinned Lith could feel his face burning with embarrassment. Both of them didn't dare to look at their mother in her eyes.

Lilith covered her mouth with one hand and tried to hold in her laughter after looking at her children's cute faces. She was enjoying every moment of it. She looked at them intently, hoping to burn this scene into her mind and remember this forever.

Lith quickly composed himself by realizing his dream. That's right, his dream as of now was to bed both his big sister and mother. This was officially the first step. He then without waiting for his big sister, made his move. Lith went to his mother and got on his knees. He started sucking milk out of her boobs and pinched her other nipple with his one hand. His other free hand went downwards towards his mother's secret garden.

Lilith was surprised to see her son taking the lead over her daughter. She gasped after feeling his touch in nether region. She got wet instantly after his a of his strokes on her lower lips. It was too exciting for her! She held her son's face and started kissing him passionately. Lith kissed his mother, kneaded one of her breast and was now rubbing her clit with two of fingers.

"Mhfm....nhghhn..." his mother's muffled moans came into his ears.

Lucy looked at her mother and brother kissing passionately and remembered that a few moments ago, her mother was doing the same thing to her. She blushed remembering it. She had never felt so good!

Lith broke the kiss and a bridge made of saliva was formed in between his and Lilith's lips. He stopped rubbing her pussy and went over to his big sister. Lilith was a little disappointed to look at him go away like that.

Lith went to his sister and whispered something in her ear. Lucy blushed hearing her brother's words but nodded her head in a cute manner. Her face a little red.

She crawled to her mother's side and sat behind her. She then adjusted her mother into her bosoms, making her neck rest in between her cleavage and held her mother's waist. Her legs were on the sides of her mother. She then nodded at Lith ensuring that she did what he told. Lith went too crawled to his mother. Lucy looking at Lith approach Lilith, spread her legs a little wide with her hands. Lith was now in front of Lilith. He then nodded at his sister.

Lilith looking at her children doing their own things with her body, was amused. She didn't think that her children would work together to handle her. She knew full well what these two were going to do to her. Her pussy started drooling from excitement a little. She smirked and teasingly said

"Please go easy on your poor old mama, my babies."

Lith's ears went a little red but he didn't show any signs on his face due to her teasing. Lucy on the other hand blushed and her face was much more red than before. She too didn't respond and instead started nibbling on her mother's ear. Lith went down towards his mother's sweet honeypot. He gave her pussy a lick. It excited him a little. Tasting the forbidden juice which wasn't meant to was very exciting. He licked her more and more and started rubbing his fingers on her clit.

Lilith, knowing full well what was about to happen still shivered in excitement when she felt her sons's lick on her. To add to that, she even felt her daughter nibbling on her ears. Feeling Lith's licks and him rubbing her now sensitive clit, she moaned and grabbed Lith's silver hair lightly and pushed him deeper a little.

Lucy looking at her mother's expression knew that the time was right. She let go of her ears and opened her mouth a little showing her ferocious Vampire fangs. She then bit her mother's neck and started drinking blood from her.

"Ohhhhhhh"

Lilith moaned and her body jerked in pleasure shen Lucy bit her neck. Lith knew this was his sister's doing and seizing the chance he quickly put in two of fingers in his mother's pussy.

"Ahhhhh"

Lilith's body jerked one more time. Her back arched and she rested her head on her daughter's shoulders. Her eyes rolled a bit backward.

Lucy held her mother's boobs and started kneading them. She then held her nipples and pulled them outwards. Milk sprayed everywhere and

"Mhm...ahhh..."

Lilith started shivering and moaning a little loudly.

Lith's hair was a mess. There was milk on it and his mother had ruffled his hair and made it more messy. He didn't mind it and started thrusting his finger to and fro and licking and sucking on her clit.

Lucy stopped drinking her mother's blood and started licking her wound clean. She then licked her neck and went upwards. When she reached her face, Lilith held her daughter's face and started a passionate kiss with her.

Lilith was not getting her pussy licked by her son, her nipples pinched, twisted and pulled by her daughter, who was also engaged in a passionate kiss with her.

Lith, even though his fingers were small, still felt tight inside of his mother. Her insides were now moving as if massaging his fingers and he knew that she was close to climaxing. He pulled his sister's nipple with his free hand, indicating her to do something.

Lucy feeling her brother's pull, broke the kiss with her mother and bit on her neck again. She was also now groping her breasts aggressively, leaving a little red marks on it. Due to her groping, more and more milk sprayed out. Her hand was in a milky mess.

Lith could feel his mother was now close so he increased his pace. He started thrusting his fingers in and out and licked and sucked her clit more aggressively.

"Ah...ah....ah.."

"Oh baby....faster...mama is close...faster..."

Lucy and Lith both got more and more aggressive and

"Ohhhhhhhhhh"

Fuuusshhh...

Lilith climaxed and a gushing sound was heard. Lith not wasting anything starts gulping down his mother's love juices. It tasted sweet and had a slight rosey flavor to it. His sister's juices earlier had a mix of sweet and salty taste with a strong rosey flavor. Their flavors were complete opposite to their personalities. His mother's flavor was gentle who was very wild and crazy and his sister's flavor was wild who was very shy and gentle.

"Huff...huff...huff..."

Lilith breathed heavily.

"That was amazing. Goodjob, babies."

She smiled and kissed Lucy on her lips first and then Lith on his lips not minding tasting her own love juice.

Lucy after her kiss with her mother got down and licked her mother's pussy clean. She too wanted to have a taste of her mother's juice.

Lilith felt very proud of her children. This was their first time and yet they did such a good job. She then felt something hot poking her at the stomach area and looked down to find her son's small penis whose foreskin hadn't been pulled back yet, oozing a little precum from it. She chuckled and said

"Look baby, this thing of yours is erect now."

Lith knew full well what she was talking about but didn't look down and hugged her and put his face near her neck. No matter how thick skinned he was, he was still an inexperienced virgin who had little to no idea on how to respond to such words.

Lilith giggled looking at his cute reaction and said

"Mama would've taken care of Lith's thing but you are too young right now. Your foreskin couldn't be pulled back completely either now. I think the rate at which you are growing, it'll be completely pulled back when you are thirteen."

Lilith said as a matter of factly, not considering even for a bit if she should say this or not.

Lucy who heard her mother talking about his little brother's penis, was a little embarrassed from hearing such words from her mother. She was the Queen, you know? There wasn't the slightest Queenly demeanor at all. She was nonetheless curious and looked up at his brother's penis. It was leaking out a little clear liquid. It was precum as per her mother.

Lilith looked at her daughter who looking at her son's leaking precum. She smirked and touched her son's penis with her finger and got the precum on her fingertip. Lith feeling his mother's touch hugged her tightly and his penis twitched a little. Lucy eyes moved up and down a little along with her brother's twitching penis.

"You want to have a taste, baby?" Lilith smiled evilly and looked at her daughter. Lucy knew that her mother was teasing her again. She didn't say anything and went ahead and hugged her, hiding her face near her neck. She was burning with embarrassment. Their mother had done too many things today and all were very embarrassing for her. She had never felt like this, ever!

A substitute Queen was actually having such a reaction, this was very contrasting to her usual calm and cold demeanor. Lucy was a shy and embarrassed little girl only in front of her mother and brother. She was actually a very calm and cold lady. Worthy of being a substitute Queen. There's nothing to say about Lilith. She was the literal definition of Queen but in the past six years, she never really showed that side of her to anyone because she was busy pampering and playing with her son.

Lilith looked at her daughter's reaction, shrugged her shoulders and tasted her son's watery precum. It tasted a just little salty to her.

She then used water and wind magic and cleaned her kids along with herself. She snapped her fingers and the wet bedsheets got changed into cleaner ones automatically from who knows where.

She took Lith on top of her and Lucy on her side and slept with them. Lucy snuggled into her mother's bosoms and Lith rested his head in between the cleavage of his mother's milkers. Lilith kissed them on their forehead and slept with them.

Chapter 24: Preparations

Lith woke up and found his mother and big sister both awake and looking at him lovingly. They were waiting for him to wake up and thus, they didn't move from their place much so as to not disturb him.

"Goodmorning baby." Lilith smiled and kissed him on his lips.

"Goodmorning mama."

"Goodmorning dear." Lucy said and kissed him on his lips.

"Goodmorning big sis."

We were all naked. I latched on my mother's breasts and had my morning fill of milk. Lucy joined too. Lilith like usual caressed their hair and looked at her children drinking milk her milk lovingly.

After a while, they took a bath together and dressed and went to the training arena.

Lith practiced sword techniques and his flight movements. For the flight practice, he was first taught the ways to control his movements and then had to play a long game of tag with his big sis.

I had to play until my wings and back started aching and big sis only stopped when I fell down from above due to exhaustion. Of course I wasn't hurt as mother caught me instantly. After training, I watched a movie with my mother and then drunk her blood and slept. I didn't do it slowly this time because I clearly didn't need to. I knew I could bed my mother in the future so I stopped thinking about other things. My body was not well developed, so I had no choice but to wait.

Time passed.

Lith was now a thirteen years old. He had been doing following a monotonous routine for these past seven years. He woke up, trained and for passing time until bed he played with his mother or they watched a movie or went out for walks. He had his meals like a normal child in between but he didn't stop drinking milk from his mother. His sister too, due to his influence had started to become a little bold and she too sucked her mother's breast whenever she got an opportunity to.

He used to then drink a little milk before bed from her mother who slept with him naked and then her blood and used to sleep. He had no idea how sucking her blood would help him but he could feel little improvements daily due to it. His mother told him that it won't come into effect now and would only show it after I start my magic journey. I take my mother's words seriously, so I didnt bother thinking much about it.

This routine would be a daily occurrence and once a week they would have an intimate session together. Lith would finger and lick his mother's and sister's pussy every week. They too would do that to each other. His mother would stroke his penis in the bath everyday to check the progress on him and he still had not much bodily reaction to her stroking. He didn't feel any lust from it. Little by little it started coming back and his shaft also started growing in length. It was a weird fetish of his mother to watch him grow like that. Of course she didn't limit herself to watching only his shaft grow, she watched every nook and cranny of his body everyday. To me, time flowed slowly but to her it was very fast and thus she could feel me growing at a rapid pace.

I am now thirteen years old and in just a month will be my magic core awakening ceremony. I ll also be meeting the count clans and the big shot nobles of the Vampire race after that in banquet. To my mother, it was nothing but a stupid gathering of weak rankers but for me, it would be my first time socializing with people. Mother had completely withdrawn from the management of the continent and the race and my big sis now handles all of that. Even though she is just a King rank, she has the highest authority to do things. My mother is only interested in spending time with me and my big sis.

My big sis and mother have been doing a lot of preparations for my awakening ceremony. My mother would from time to time bite my neck and taste my blood a little to ensure about something. I do not know what she was checking about. My sister would exhaust me, literally my wholr body and mind while training in the last two years. I couldn't even have the energy for anything to do and used to just suck blood from mother and sleep. She would make me lift heavy weights in the gym, train me in weapons, I mastered sword and then spear and now I am currently mastering gauntlets.

Then I used to play a game of tag with her flying, she would now go in the air, run on the ground and then fly in the air, making me follow her and do the same. I had to extend and retract my wings a lot of times during the sessions and would cramp up a lot too. Thankfully, mother would massage me and ease the pain.

For the mind, I had to play a lot of battle tactics games with her or games to test my reflexes or do heavy memorization of things which would almost fry up my brain. My memory developed a lot, my reflexes, thinking ability, speed, strength, stamina, endurance, flight ability, swordsmanship, spearmanship, all of my physical and mental attributes developed to a great level. If I had a cheat system like those mentioned in the novels back on Earth, I would've probably been overpowered by now.

Anyway, I am actually proud of myself due to enduring such a long and rigorous training method. The results are great too. I know this is just the beginning but I still feel proud of myself. Hardcore training, fun with mother and sister and reading magazines such as 'Dumb ways to die' or 'Top 10 most self-obsessed beings' made me pass these seven years very easily. I didn't need to read any general knowledge book anymore because my sister would basically make me memorize and learn about history, geography, politics, literature, mathematics and science. Basically education given to kids up until they reach university level back on earth, that was all I had to learn and memorize. I could now look at a plant and identify what it is. Even a simple rock or any random place in the world.

My preparations are almost done and a month later, I'll awaken my magic core and finally begin my magic journey!

Chapter 25: The Day Before Awakening

It's here.

Tomorrow morning is the day I'll be awakening my magic core.

If it had been a few years back, he definitely would've been very excited and anxious for this day but after all the years of training with his big sister, he was now actually very calm and composed. His big sister was really ruthless when it came to training him.

She was the complete opposite of how she was with him in bed or during any time of the day except for the training part. She was kind, gentle, shy and a very caring and loving big sister who missed no opportunity to spoil him silly. During training she was like the reincarnation of a war god. She becomes very wild, tough, ruthless and gave me very harsh training.

Mother used to watch us from the sidelines and didn't really intervene much. At first she used to come and protect me every little time so I couldn't get hurt but then big sis intervened. She said to mother seriously and sternly to not come and protect unless absolutely necessary. If he wasn't in any serious danger, she was refrained from coming over. It took a lot out of Lucy to convince mother but she eventually did. It was for my own good.

My big sister had helped me a lot. All my physical and mental attributes have been increased to a very high degree. She even increased my pain tolerance. Vampires, having the most superior self healing capabilities, still felt pain when someone cut their arms and legs.

My big sis used to torture me a lot. At first it was light torture but it eventually started getting more and more serious and painful for me. At a certain point I grew numb to it. My tolerance is so high right now, even if one skinned me alive, I wouldn't budge or show the slightest reaction. This tolerance got stronger because big sis progressed slowly and steadily. She first pulled out my nails later my nails and a little skin and gradually she used to go ahead and ahead until a few years later should could completely skin my arms alive. She broke a lot of my bones and crushed my organs. And once beat me to half death.

Mother used to cry everyday during torture and I had to comfort her saying it was all okay and everything was under control. She at one point stayed stubborn saying no more torture training and it took a few months to convince her. We both had to try a lot of tricks and used a lot of schemes on her to convince her.

I could now feel both my body, mind and soul having undergone a change. Anyway, tomorrow is my awakening and I have a day left.

Actually, awakening is super simple. Just eat the core awakening root and absorb the energy from it. The root grows like grass everywhere. It is very common. The only thing is it that it only works when you are the age of thirteen. It might be certain rules of this world, I guess? The problem lied after that. Once the core is awakened, one needs to stabilize themselves. The stronger an individual was, the more chaotic his core would get and the more problems he would have. How strong one was depended upon bloodline, race, strength, soul and willpower.

A commoner of any race, who led his life in a very simple way, would get a very simple core awakened and would have little to no problems in his awakening and stabilization of magic core. The problem would lie in his potential. He couldn't go too far in his magic journey. The world was fair and geniuses weren't born like grass. They were very rare geniuses who were born naturally like that and most of them were made or taught.

An example being Lilith. She was a natural born genius. No, saying genius would be undermining her. She was born a monster, a freak! An existence which shouldn't exist according to the living beings of this world but the world said otherwise. The world didn't have any will or was alive or had sentient of some sort, it was just a natural occurrence. Like how the four forces of nature exist and interact with each other and form natural phenomenons, it's the same. Gravitational forces causing the stars to revolve around each other is a natural phenomenon. It is thus the same thing for an existence like Lilith to be born.

Lith was in his mother's lap as of now, naked. He was watching videos online on the tablet with his mother to pass time. His sister was out preparing for the event tomorrow. Lilith too was naked and had her arms wrapped around Lith and her chin rested on his shoulder near to his neck.

Her boobs pressing onto his back and she was watching the video along with him. She would give him kisses occasionally or would nibble on his ears or lick his neck or bite him a little. Lith just sat there and enjoyed his mother's touches.

After a while, Lith kept the tablet away and turned around and had a passionate kiss with his mother. He then sucked milk out of breasts and cuddled with her. Eventually, he slept on top of her. Lilith caressed his hair lovingly and kissed his forehead. Her baby's awakening was already here! Everything occurred so fast to her. To her it felt like he was just born yesterday and now all of a sudden he grew up to start his magic journey.

She felt a little melancholic. She knew she couldn't tie down her baby to herself for a long time. Every bird had to leave its nest for survival and she knew that Lith too would go away from her and experience various things. She knew the feeling of adventure and it felt really good. She didn't roam the world for half a million years for naught.

She too wanted her baby to experience everything the world had to offer him but she was still a little sad. She wasn't too upset because this feeling had occurred to her before too. It was during Lucy's time. But she still got this feeling because Lith unlike Lucy, was quite attached to her since his birth. He never really left her in these past 13 years!

Alas, if only Lilith knew that her son really wasn't planning to leave her, and also dreamt and fantasized day and night on how he would bed her and have his first time with her and also his first time taken away by her, she would definitely think of herself as an idiot and turn red from embarrassment.

The day ended like that or to be precise in the darkness, the bright silver moon started having crimson hue spread around it. There isn't any day in Vampire continent, only eternal darkness.

It was today. The magic core awakening of Lith Evure, son of the strongest existence in the world.

Chapter 26: Magic Core

Evernight city, Nightingale.

In the Royal Castle two figures were standing in the middle of a well lit room. Around them were a lot of runic magic circles.

The two figures were Lilith and Lith, her son.

"...just make sure not to lose consciousness, okay dear?" Lilith was giving a lecture to Lith on what to do what not to for stabilizing his magic core.

It had been going on for about an hour. During the past few weeks, Lilith had Lucy had both given many explanations and advices to Lith and Lilith was now repeating it for one final time to him.

Lilith knew it was very difficult for her children to stabilize their magic core because of her. She was too strong and her children were naturally born strong as well. The bloodline of a Legendary rank was no joke.

There were only three Legendary ranks in history and up until this day, their descendants are still powerful beings. Lucy and Lith being the direct descendants of the Legendary rank creature were bound to be born strong and have serious troubles after awakening. Lith may even die if he is careless.

Death wasn't a problem but revival wasn't possible if one died due to unstable magic core. The magic cores had a direct connection with the phylacteries and thus if one died during awakening, the phylacteries break at the same time. Resurrection was possible and Lilith, a Legendary creature was more than capable but it would compromise on the future potential. Reincarnation was possible and to have memories intact too but it again compromised on future potential. Lith will not be Lilith's flesh and blood, his race may be different too and thus it was a very stupid idea. All in all the stabilization was a very important process and should not be underestimated at all. Well, of course, it can be taken lightly if you are not a descendant of a Legendary.

"Don't panic, no matter what happens okay?" Lilith gave one final piece of advice and left after giving him a kiss on his forehead.

Lith was now alone in a spacious room big enough for 20 people to have a small party inside. The room was covered in runic magic circles of many different colours inside. There was a small stick like brown root on which there was a little white flower. It didn't seem extraordinary or beautiful at all. It was just like a normal flower with it's root which could be found anywhere. But this common plant was indeed the most important one of all. It was the Core Awakening root.

Lith took a deep breath and closed his eyes and started thinking for a few seconds.

Lilith and Lucy were watching Lith awaken his magic core on a screen just outside the room in which Lith was in. They couldn't help him stabilize his magic core directly and could only hope for the best. They both were very anxious and worried right now. Lucy's hand was trembling from nervousness. Lilith looking at her daughter, knew that she had to stay strong and not show her worries on the outside. She held Lucy's hand and said

"It's alright dear, don't worry, he'll be able to handle it well." Although she herself was not sure of her own words, she had to be optimistic about it.

Lucy nodded and looked at the screen.

Lith opened his eyes and ate the flower. It tasted just like any normal flower. Flowers weren't meant to be eaten though but he still had to, this one atleast.

He felt a cool sensation in his body. He could feel the cooling sensation gathering a little bit upwards of his navel. The sensation got cooler as time went on. A while later, it felt as if someone had stuffed an ice sphere inside his body. Lith knew that the magic core was now forming and he had to wait until it develops fully.

He, after feeling that the cool sensation in his body not getting any more cooler, started to absorb the energy from the root. The energy flowed out from the root and started flowing across Lith's body. It flowed along every cell and started gathering at the area where the cooling sensation was present.

Lith felt a warm current all across his body. The warm sensation started cancelling out the cool sensation. It went on for a while until the warm and the cool sensation reached an equilibrium.

This was the early development of the magic core. It was like a foundation along which many more things would be constructed. This foundation was the same for everyone and now, the main construction of the core would start to occur. It now, all depended upon how one's own foundation was.

Now was the time! It was now that the unstable changes would occur due to own's one foundation!

Lith braced himself. Suddenly, thunders started booming inside and storms and big waves started appearing in the hot and cool sphere.

BOOM!

Crack...

Cracks started appearing on the hot and cool sphere and the equilibrium started getting disturbed due to it.

Lith hurriedly used his the surrounding energy in the room to fill up the gaps. The magic circles were present just for this reason. To help him with the stabilization.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

More and more thunderous explosions occurred inside the hot and cool sphere and the equilibrium kept getting disturbed.

Lith had to absorb the energy in a much waster way and carefully provide a steady supply it to the hot and cool sphere. Too much or too little would disturb the equilibrium.

The temperature inside started becoming more and more hot due to the explosive outbursts of the thunder and the hot side on the sphere started to become more and more dominant.

Lith constantly kept providing energy taken by from the magic circles. One by one, a few magic circles broke and disappeared after getting used.

His body was feeling a very heavy pressure from the inside out. It felt as if he was under ten times the normal gravity. He would've been crushed to meat paste if it weren't for the fact that he was protected by the magic circle below his feet which opposed the toll his body had to bear from absorbing too much energy.

He started sweating a lot. His knees were trembling but he kept going.

Lilith and Lucy who were looking at Lith were very worried. Lucy's palm was wet with sweat due to her nervousness and anxiousness. She looked at her little brother and knew full well what he was going through. She couldn't help but pray in her mind that all will be well. Lith would overcome it eventually.

Lilith, a Legendary rank being who knew better, was not worried as of now. She was actually very proud of her son. He was doing a much better job than what Lucy had done previously and she could feel his magic core condensing and stabilizing. Lilith was a true god, she could feel each and every change which occurred in the world and the one in front of her was her own son, her own flesh and blood to whom she had the deepest connection with, so, feeling his changes, her worries were gone.

"Dear, don't worry, he's doing a good job. He'll be done in a few minutes."

Lilith comforted her daughter.

Lucy gradually calmed down. She trusted her mother's words more than anything.

The hot and the cool sides under the high pressure and temperature of their insides and the energy provided externally, started to condense. Due to their condensing the pressure and temperature inside also started to lower.

Lith felt a little better when such changes started to occur.

The magic circles started breaking down and disappearing and most of them had gone now. There were only a few left and one under his feet.

After a while, the effects stopped and Lith could now feel no cool or hot sensation in his body. Instead, he now felt as if his connection to the world had gotten much better.

The creation of the magic core was the same as the creation of a star.

Some parts of the liquid started solidifying and gradually, land started appearing. More and more changes occurred until finally, the formation stopped.

Lith spread his consciousness into his magic core and found out that it looked a lot like a mini world. The magic core had a grassy land and a small mountain range after it. There was also a small sea and it had some clouds. Sweeping his consciousness inside the magic core he could feel that the whole thing was no more than a 150 km² in area.

The magic core was the foundation to understand the laws of the world. Having a magic core means having a connection with the world as a whole. As one starts developing and goes higher and higher in ranks, they start to know the world better and better and eventually by understanding it's laws and nature, one goes onto become a Supreme rank, that is, a demigod.

A simple rank 1 mage has a magic core whose area is around 3-5 km². There may not be any mountains or clouds in it either. It may be as simple as having a vast barren or grassy land.

If one has a good foundation before the awakening, their magic core would have an area of 15-20km².

A genius would have an area of 30-40 km². Descendants of powerful beings come in these brackets too.

A supreme rank beings descendant has an area of 30-40km² but may increase upto 50km² if foundation is made better.

The descendants of the Legendary rank beings, no matter how shitty their foundation is, would have an area of 30km² at the very least. The ones with stronger bloodline and solid foundation would have it upto 50km², on par with the geniuses of the supreme rank bloodlines.

This is the power of a Legendary rank who isn't even present in the world!

Lith being the direct descendant of a living Legendary and on top of that having a very solid foundation, had an area around 150km². The world would be in uproar if they got to know about this. He knew that there was only one person in the world who was comparable in terms of potential to him and it was his big sister, Lucy.

Lucy had an area of around 130-140km² at her time. Lith only had a slight edge over because he had a superior consciousness than her. His consciousness was of a nineteen year old when he was born and thirteen years had passed after that, this was bound to happen. The difference isn't too much. Both Lucy and Lith have almost the same potential but they too, like their mother, were monsters!

The magic core had formed now. His magical journey would now begin!

Chapter 27: All Elemental Affinity

Lilith came in and hugged Lith tightly.

"Congratulations, baby."

She said happily and gave him a kiss on his lips.

"Congratulations, dear."

Lucy too said happily and came and hugged Lith and gave him a kiss on his lips.

Lilith, Lucy and Lith then had a bath together. It was a quick bath because Lith was too eager to try magic.

Lilith, Lith and Lucy then came to the training arena.

Lucy was now testing Lith's affinity to elements.

She brought out many colourful crystals and placed them on a table. These were elemental crystals. Each crystal represented one element.

Lucy asked Lith to place his hand over the crystal and see if he could feel the element in the crystal and if he could, then he should try to move it around.

Lith walked and placed his hand on a blue crystal. He could feel the energy inside. He tried to absorb it and it got absorbed. He then tried to move it around and found the blue crystal started glowing.

He had an affinity to water. He then went ahead and tried the others and he found out that he had an affinity to all the elements. There were two crystals left and one was a space crystal and the other was a time crystal. They too were considered elements and he went ahead and tried to feel and move them. It was, without a doubt a success.

He had an affinity to all the attributes! He was very happy about this fact. It meant he could become very overpowered in the future like he had read in the novels back on earth. He was actually a little disappointed when he found out that he reincarnated but he didn't have a system or a golden rod or any hack for himself to get stronger. But later he realised that, being born as the son of the strongest being in the world was a hack in itself. He had the strongest bloodline!

All elemental affinity was almost non existent. In the whole history which was recorded of this world, the number of people who had an elemental affinity could be counted with two hands. The most famous being the two Legendary rank before Lilith. The people who could reach Legendary rank were the ones favored by the world and thus had an all elemental affinity. Their descendants didn't have as such because of the thinning of the Legendary bloodline but even having a little blood of the Legendary, they were the people with atleast affinity to 3 elements. The stronger the bloodline the more the affinity.

Before today, there were only two people with an all elemental affinity.

They were the Legendary rank, Lilith Evure and her daughter, King rank, Lucy Evure.

Now, rank 1, Lith Evure, was proven to be third individual with an all elemental affinity.

Lilith looking at Lith's affinity, felt proud.

She looked at Lucy grabbing her attention and pointed her finger towards Lith and said laughing

"Fufufu...you see that boy with an all elemental affinity there, I made that. Aren't I the best?"

"Yes, yes, mom is the best." Lucy nodded and said smiled.

"Mom, big sis, what are your affinities?" Lith looked at his big sister and mother and asked. He was eager to know if an all elemental affinity was rare or not.

Lilith and Lucy looked at each other with a meaningful smile and nodded. It was clear to them that Lith didn't know even one bit about their power.

They didn't hide their powers. It was all out in the open. It was just that Lith didn't go out much and didn't know the terror of his mother. There was also the fact that only a few knew about Legendary rank and thus the world except for five people didn't know. Lucy was an exception. She asked her mother once what rank she was in and Lilith didn't want to lie to her only kid back then, told her. Lucy was amazed by her mother's prowess and her mother became someone she looked upto. A battle maniac like Lucy respected the strong and her respect for her mother grew by leaps and bounds knowing she was the strongest in the world.

Lith was still in the dark because he never asked Lilith. Lilith would tell him about this if he asked her but she won't do it on her own. What if her son became someone like those muscle heads who only wanted to increase their strength and thought nothing but surpassing his mother day and night? She didn't want to risk it stupidly and so didn't mention it.

Lilith and Lucy turn by turn tried all the crystals and Lith was dumbfounded.

Mother and big sister are the same as me? What is this super strong family of mine? Oh wait, if mother is an all elemental mage then it makes sense. Me and big sis have such an affinity due to her then. Makes sense.

Lith trained with Lucy and she taught him a few spells. All being rank 1 of course. He had to work much harder due to having affinity for all the elements. To rank up, he needed to have his spiritual power to increase and also his understanding of the world. As his spiritual power and understanding increased, the inside of his magic core would increase too. The mini world would grow and develop.

An area of 1000 km² is the bare minimum to reach rank 2. The elites who reach rank 2 have around 2000-3000 km² of area developed already. For Lith, it would be even higher. Nevertheless, rank 2 had the area under 10,000 km².

Rank 3 under 50,000 km².

Rank 4 under 100,000 km².

Rank 5 under 500,000 km².

Rank 6 under 1,000,000 km²(one million).

Rank 7 under 10,000,000 km²(ten million).

Rank 8 under 50,000,000 km²(fifty million).

Rank 9 under 100,000,000 km²(hundred million).

Half saint rank under 500,000,000 km²(five hundred million).

Saint rank under 1,000,000,000 km²(one billion).

Half king rank under 10,000,000,000 km²(ten billion).

King rank under 100,000,000,000 km²(hundred billion).

Half Emeror rank under 250,000,000,000 km²(two hundred and fifty billion).

Emperor rank under 1,000,000,000,000 km²(one trillion).

Supreme rank under 100,000,000,000,000 km² (hundred trillion.)

Legendary rank - unknown.

The elemental attributes available in this world are Fire, Earth, Water, Wind, Lightning, Light, Life, Darkness, Death, Destruction, Space and Time.

In this world, many people had two or three elemental affinities. The most elite had around 6-7. They consisted of no more than a 1,000,000 people which was a very small number as the world had a population of around a 100 billion people.

Lucy had explained this to Lith.

Lith then finished training and went to bath with his mother and sister.

Chapter 28: Puberty

Lilith washed Lucy and sent her to the bathtub and went on to wash Lith.

Lith was feeling a little nervous today. When he had a bath before coming to the training arena and after his core awakening, he could actually feel it, he could feel lust. His mother and big sister didn't know about this reaction of his yet because they had a quick bath before. They actually showered together and came out quickly because he wanted to test out magic.

Nobody touched anyone. Thus, my mother didn't know about this. She had been stroking it almost everyday and I didn't feel anything much from it but after the awakening, I could feel it! The growth of my body had accelerated and puberty had started hitting me super early!

Finally, it finally happend. This body of mine which didn't match my mind was finally starting to sync.

I am now nervous because I definitely know that my mother would realise the changes in my body. What I am more nervous about is the fact that she'll definitely do what is not supposed to be done by a mother and son. Not that I hate it but now that it has come to this, it feels very embarrassing.

Lilith walked over to Lith and started washing his back. Lith started feeling more nervous and embarrassed but he was still anticipating about what was about to happen. Lilith then went to his front and squatted in front of him. He could see his mother's pussy very clearly and today it looked even more beautiful than ever before to him. He was aroused just by looking at her pink slit. His dick was completely erect and it was twitching and he felt very tingly down there.

Lilith cleaned him and made him stand up. Lith was shivering from embarrassment and his face was completely red but he still stood up. He was very thick skinned but he was helpless at this moment.

Lilith looked at the erect rod in front of her and understood why he was so embarrassed. She had been watching him grow everyday and knew that such a day would come. She smiled and looked and raised her head a little bit and looked him in the eyes. Lith moved his to the side and put both his hands over his face. No matter how thick skinned he was, he was still an inexperienced virgin and now that he could feel his body much better, was even more embarrassed.

Lilith looked at her embarrassed son, smiled and said gently

"Baby, it's okay. Don't be embarrassed and tell mama how do you feel."

Lith heard his mother's gentle and soothing voice and calmed down a little. He was still embarrassed but could speak now. He, with a red face, said

"T-tingly."

Lilith with the same smile, said gently

"Do you want mama's help to alleviate this feeling or will you do it on your own like how mama explained to you a few years ago?"

Lith was now burning with embarrassment. He didn't think his mother would give him choices at such a moment. Saying one word was already very difficult for him and now he had to respond to her. He didn't say anything and just stood there. Not wanting to talk at all. His face was covered by hands and he was looking sideways.

Lilith chuckled looking at her embarrassed son and said

"Fufufu...if you don't reply now then mother will take care of it for you."

Lith still didn't reply and stood there.

Lilith chuckled, then started stroking his dick gently. Lith felt like an electric current had passed into his body and he almost came due to his mother's touch. It felt too good!

Lilith kept stroking gently and she could feel his cock throbbing a little more than before. She knew he was close now, so she took his dick in her mouth. Lith after feeling the warm insides of his mother's mouth ejaculated instantly.

"Ugh.."

He grunted his pleasure. His mind went blank for a few seconds and his legs went limp. He felt too good!

Lilith was very happy internally. This was her son's first time shooting out his seeds and she took it from him. She savored his taste for a bit and then gulped his semen down. It tasted a little salty and sweet just like her daughter's juices.

Lilith held Lith who was still in the process of recovering from his orgasm. She washed him thoroughly and took him to the bathtub where Lucy was.

Lith recovered by the time Lilith finished washing him and walked towards Lucy with his mother. They all lied down in the bathtub. Lith was in Lilith's embrace and Lucy rested her head on Lilith's shoulder and wrapped her arms around her. Lilith wrapped one of her arms around her waist and made her stick close to her.

They stayed like that for a while and then went out of the bath. Lilith dried them and went to her bedroom.

They arrived at the bedroom and Lilith dropped her clothes on the ground and removed Lith's and Lucy's clothes too. She then took them in front of the big body mirror.

Lith looked at his mother's and sister's sexy body and almost got an erection again.

Lith looked at himself in the mirror and found that his eye level of now at his mother's nipples. He couldn't suck on them standing yet. He walked in between his mother and sister and found out that his mouth could reach his sister's nipples. His sister was shorter than his mother a little.

He looked at himself again and saw that his body was toned and the baby fat was starting to go away from him. It was almost gone now. He saw his shaft and was proud of its size. He knew it would grow more in the future and as of now it was already at a very good size.

His silver hair was long and just a few inches short of touching his shoulder. He looked at his sister's figure. Her silver hair reached almost to her buttocks. She was a tall lady and her breasts were very big, just a little smaller and more firmer than his mother and she had an hourglass figure like his mother. All in all, she looked like a younger and a little smaller version of his mother. Her face was devoid any excess fat and looked perfect.

Lith looked at his mother and no matter how many times he saw her, he was still amazed. Her hourglass figure, her big breasts and her hair which reached her big and soft butt was simply perfect.

I hugged my sister and mother by their waist and looked at the mirror again. After thirteen years of being in this world, I've grown very attached to this small family of mine. It doesn't matter to me anymore if I can bed them or not because I don't love them for their bodies anymore like before. I love them as family and I would go to great lengths to do anything for them if they asked me to. The care and love they have shown and showered me with, is simply priceless. I do not know if I can pay them back for this but I'll always love and cherish them for now and forever.

Chapter 29: Thin Skinned

Three similar looking figures were standing in front of a mirror, naked. They looked very good together.

At one end there was a silver hair and purple eyed lady who appeared to be in her early 30s and next to her was a pretty young boy who looked as if he was just hitting puberty. The young boy had silver hair and purple eyes and looked like a male child version of the lady in her early 30s. Next to the child was a lady who appeared to be in her early 20s and she too had the same silver hair and purple eyes as the other two. She looked like a younger version of the lady in her early 30s.

They were Lilith, Lith and Lucy respectively.

Lilith and Lucy had no idea why Lith was holding them like that and was looking at their figures in the mirror with so much warmth and love but they let him do as he pleased. They didn't say anything and waited for him to wake up from his thoughts.

Looking at Lith who was still in his own world, Lilith sighed. Her dear son was always like this. Once he started thinking about something, he would overthink more and more and make a mountain out of a molehill for simply no reason. She flicked his forehead gently.

"Mhm?" Lith woke up from his train of thoughts and looked at Lilith with a confused look.

"What are you overthinking about again, dear?" Lilith smiled and asked.

Lith didn't say anything and extended both his hands and pulled his mother's face gently towards himself and gave her a long, warm and loving kiss on her forehead.

Lilith was surprised with her son's such a gesture suddenly.

"I love you, mom." Lith said warmly. He said his heartfelt words.

Lilith was surprised yet again listening to her son's words which were filled with love and care for her. She felt warm in her heart and smiled happily and said

"I love you too, my baby." She didn't ask him why he said that to her out of nowhere because she knew if he wanted to, he would've done it.

Lucy looked at her brother with an amused look. Why is he being so cheesy today? Not that she mind it and just had a passing thought.

Lith then looked at his big sister and pulled her face close to him and gave her the same warm and loving kiss on her forehead.

Lucy who was in her thoughts was startled. She nevertheless, felt warm in her heart when she felt her dear little brother's kiss oh her forehead.

Lith pulled back looked her in the eyes and said

"I love you, big sis."

Lucy got surprised by listening to her dear little brother's warm and loving words for her.

"I love you too, dear." She bent down and gave him a kiss on his forehead.

"Let's go, I am tired." Lith pulled their hands and dragged them to bed with him quickly, not wanting for them ask any questions to him. Would he say, he made up his mind to cherish and love them forever? Of course not. That's too cheesy and he isn't thick skinned enough to say it to his mother and sister.

The two ladies soon got distracted again and didn't ask him anything and simply complied.

They got on bed and Lith slept in between his mother and sister like always. Lith hugged his mother and slept facing her. Lucy wrapped her arms around his little brother and mother and Lilith too did the same, sandwiching Lith in between. It wasn't uncomfortable at all and he then slept soundly without a care in the world.

The next day.

Lith was half awake. He moved his hands around and felt the softness he was looking for. He brought his face closer and latched on the nipples to suck milk.

Lilith looking at the half awake son sucking milk from the wrong breasts chuckled. She pulled him away from Lucy's breasts and made him suckle milk from the right place, that is, from her. She looked at him and caressed his hair lovingly. This was her favourite thing to do. She really liked watching her children drink her milk while she caressed their hair.

Lith felt a pull but he wasn't woken up by it. It happened many times before. After a while, he woke up.

He looked at his mother who was looking at him with a smile and he too smiled and said

"Goodmorning mama." And kissed her on her lips.

"Goodmorning baby." Lilith smiled and said.

"Goodmorning big sis." Lith greeted Lucy and gave her a kiss on her lips too.

"Goodmorning dear." Lucy smiled and said.

Lilith felt a poke on her stomach and looked down and found it was Lith's morning wood. She smirked and looked at Lith, pointed downwards and teased

"Ara sweetie, looks like someone else woke up too apart from us three."

Lith looked down and found that he had morning wood. He felt embarrassed from his mother's teasing. He hid his face in her bosoms and hugged her tightly. Not wanting to show his face to her.

Lucy looked to where her mother was pointing and was surprised after she saw her little brother's morning wood. She felt like time passed too quickly. Her little brother was growing up very quickly. It felt as if it was only yesterday when they were teaching him how to walk.

Sigh, my dear little brother is growing up so quickly she thought to herself.

Lilith looked at her embarrassed son and giggled. She liked looking at her children's embarrassed faces. She could clearly see his face was as red as a tomato. She smiled and said

"How do you want mama to relieve you baby? Do you want mama to use her hands, mouth or.."

Lilith went close to Lith's ear and whispered

"....mama's pussy."

Lith was now burning with embarrassment. 'Mother have atleast a little shame! It's only a thirteen year old little Vampire you are talking to! Your son on top of that!' Lith cursed inwardly and denied any possibility of him being thin skinned and blamed his mother. His mother was definitely very crazy!

What Lith didn't know was that, Vampires in general were the craziest bunch. They really liked to spice things up whenever and wherever possible. They had a very long lifespan and on top of that if they have a high magical rank, then they were immortals. They always were eager to find entertainment wherever and whenever possible.

Lilith had lived for more than half a million years and had seen almost everything. She was familiar with incestuous relationships and these things were all a small matter to her. She was a true god. She had seen everything there is to see and experienced everything there was to experience, of course, apart from having sex with any male. She didn't like men. Her son was the only exception.

Having lived for so long, the concept of age didn't matter much to her. She loved her son and daughter and would do anything for them. Having an incestuous relationship with them was just a form of being more closer and intimate towards their children.

Would not having an incestuous relationship cause any changes in her? The answer is no. But, having an incestuous relationship would make her tremble with happiness because she would know that her children loved her so much that they wanted to do such things and be more close and intimate with her. It was like icing to the cake. She felt more complete like that.

Chapter 30: Shameless

Lith was currently burning with embarrassment. He was hugging Lilith, his mother tightly, so tight that milk started leaking out and hid his face in her bosom.

Lucy on the side, being a Vampire who had super senses and on top of that a King rank heard her mother's whisper pretty clearly. She too was embarrassed by her mother's words. 'Mother, you are the Queen of literally billions of Vampire and the strongest existence in the world. Please have a little shame.' Lucy thought to herself inwardly. She didn't even consider the fact that she too was as shameless as her mother.

Lilith kissed Lith's cheeks and smirked evilly and said

"Baby, if you press so tightly onto mama, it may accidentally go in and you may end up taking mine and losing your virginity accidentally, you know?"

Lucy couldn't take it anymore. 'Shameless! Too shameless!' She yelled internally but on the outside she was fuming with embarrassment just like Lith. She tried to get up and run away but why would Lilith let her go like that? She held her daughter in place and looked at Lith.

The afore mentioned party, Lith, was feeling so embarrassed now, he may have died by embarrassment if it was possible. He really wanted to bury himself in a hole and never come out of it again. His mother's shameless nature had far surpassed to what he is able to handle. He really couldn't take it anymore. He was trembling in embarrassment.

Lilith burst out laughing so much so that a little tear came out. She couldn't take it anymore. Her children's embarrassed faces were a little too much for her to handle. After a while, she composed herself and gently gave a kiss on Lith's cheeks. She gave a kiss to Lucy too.

She gently caressed their hair and made them snuggle closer to her. She kept caressing them for a while. Lith and Lucy both feeling their mother's caresses gradually calmed down. Their mother's jokes and vulgarity was a little too much for the inexperienced virgins like them.

Lith now calmed down a lot. He started thinking on what to do next. Lose virginity today or someday else? If today then who to? He really loved both his mother and sister and both were virgins like him. Although his mother had a lot of experience despite being that. After thinking for a while, he made up his mind. Mother it is! He forgot that he was at first thinking whether to lose virginity today or not.

He looked up and saw his mother looking at him lovingly. 'This woman...sigh.'

No matter how much she teased or joked with him, in front of such a loving and caring face, he would melt and feel warm inside again. He didn't even the thought of having to hate her for her teasing. After looking at her loving face, he knew one thing, it was that he'll never come to hate her no matter what she did. This woman, was the person who cared the most about him and that fact won't change. Lith's heart melted.

He went forward gently gave her a loving and warm kiss filled with love.

Lilith was surprised by her son's actions. She thought that he would sulk a little and she'll then convince him but that never happend. She didn't know what made him change his heart but she nevertheless reciprocated the feeling and kissed him back with love.

Lith then broke the kiss and started kissing her cheeks, forehead, eyes, chin and went all the way downwards. Lilith didn't know what was up with him doing this suddenly but she happily welcomed all his advances. She could feel his love for her and this made her very happy.

Lucy from the side looked at her mother and little brother kiss and then her little brother doing certain strange actions. She didn't mind it and went in to kiss her mother, not wanting to fall back.

Lilith happily accepted her daughter's advances and she kissed her back. They started having a passionate kiss.

Lith kissed her neck and bit on it and sucked her blood a little. Lilith started getting aroused a little due to his such actions. Lith then sucked her nipples a little and bit both of them and started going down.

Lilith could feel her son's lips on her body which was going down and down. She started getting wet due to this and was highly anticipating his advances on her down at her secret garden.

Lilith moved Lucy up a little and grabbed her soft ass with both hands and started kneading them. She was having a passionate kiss her right now and their tongues were fighting for dominance amongst each other. She then started moving one of her hand towards Lucy's pussy. She started stroking her pussy with one hand and kneaded her breast with the other while engaging in a passionate kiss.

Lith went down and reached for her mother's pussy. She took a whiff of it and it was the best aphrodisiac in the world for him. It quickly aroused him. He gave her pussy lips a small kiss.

Lilith feeling her son had reached her lower lips, bent her legs and made a M shape with them, giving Lith a good view of her pink pussy and her beautiful puckered butthole.

Lith looking at the scene in front of him wanted nothing more than to just devour his mother. He quickly went forward and started licking her pussy hungrily. He played with her clit with one hand and kneaded her breast with the other one.

Lucy broke the kiss with her mother and started breathing heavily. She then hugged her mother and started sucking milk from her breasts. She lifted her ass up and spread her legs a little to give her mother better access to her and let her play with her pussy however she wanted.

Lith thrust his two fingers in her mother's pussy and started going to in fro in her.

"Mhmm.."

Lilith moaned a little after feeling Lith's finger in her.

Lith licked and sucked her clit while thrusting his fingers in her.

Lilith moaned a little after feeling him play with her clit while thrusting his fingers in her pussy. She too thrust her fingers in her daughter's pussy and started doing a to and fro motion.

"Ahh..."

Lucy moaned a little after feeling her mother's finger inside her.

This continued on for a few mins.

Lith started thrusting his fingers in and out of her pussy much more quickly after feeling her insides starting to massage his fingers.

"Ahh...ahh..."

Lilith moaned after Lith's faster thrusting.

She too started thrusting her fingers faster in Lucy.

"Mhmm...ahh...ahh..."

Lucy moaned and feeling her mother thrust her fingers faster.

She got up from her boobs, went up and mother her mouth showing her ferocious fangs and bit her neck and started drinking her blood.

"Ohhhhh"

Lilith moaned a lot louder after feeling the blood getting sucked from her neck.

Lith felt her insides starting to quiver more and more so he further increased his speed more and more and licked and sucked her clit aggressively.

"Ahhh....ahhh....yes sweetie just like...that...ahh.."

She moaned and simultaneously increased her speed a lot as she thrust her fingers in and out of Lucy.

"Ahhh"

Lucy moaned due to the sudden increase in pace.

"Ahhh baby...mama is c-coming.."

"ohhhhhh"

Lilith moaned and arched her back. Her eyes half closed.

"Ohhhhhh"

Lucy too came at the end due to her mother's sudden increase in pace during her climax and came alongside her mother.

Gulp...gulp...

Lith gulped down his mother's sweet and rosey love juices. He gulped them all down without wasting anything and licked her clean. He got up and looked at his mother who and big sister who were now in the process of recovering and waited.

After a while, they recovered. Finally,

It was time for the main thing!

Chapter 31: Chickening Out

Lilith and Lucy recovered and Lith gave a warm kiss on Lucy's forehead and hugged her.

"M-mom..." Lith wanted to say 'Mom, I am putting it in' but let alone do that, he was too ashamed to even look at her and stuttered at the first word itself.

"Fufufu..." Lilith chuckled and wrapped her legs around Lith and pulled him close and gave him a kiss on his lips.

Lith was surprised by his mother's sudden actions and felt very embarrassed. Heck, didn't want to do anything now. 'Fuck this! This is too shameful! Mother is too crazy!' He cried inwardly.

What he didn't know was that he was just an amateur virgin in front of the experienced Lilith. Of course he'll chicken out at the most important moment.

Lilith looked at her son's burning face and chuckled. She knew her baby wanted to be more intimate with her and that he craved to touch her but she couldn't help but tease him when she found the chance.

Lilith held Lith's face and looked at him straight in the eyes and asked lovingly

"Baby, do you want to do it with mama? Do you want to have sex with your mother? There's no going back once you cross that line. Mama has told you right? Sex is done between lovers and we are not lovers but family. This is taboo. Do you still want to do it, despite it being taboo? Don't worry, whatever you choose, mama will always support you in anything and everything. Mama loves you."

Lilith had nothing but warmth and love on her face when she was half asking and half lecturing him. The crazy side of her was nowhere to be seen now and what was left was only the motherly side which had nothing but love and care for her child.

Lith heard his mother's words which were filled with love and care for him. He was at a loss on what to do. He really chickened out at the last moment. Now he was considering what step should he take now.

He snuggled into Lilith's bosom and laid comfortably on in between his mother's big breast. His second life since he was born started playing in his mind. He looked back and found that he really had the best mother in the world! She always loved and cared for him without holding back the slightest. She had no selfish interest in doing so and she only had a little hope that her children will love her the same way she loves them.

He thought a lot about and knew that, he really wanted his mother. He loved her very much and now started having the selfish desire of wanting to keep her with him. He didn't want to let go of her and wanted to do everything with her. He wanted all his firsts in life with her. Most of all, he wanted her the most. He swore again in his heart that he'll love and cherish her and fuck taboo. He'll do what he wants and being more intimate with her was a form of love he wanted to have. It'd be fine if she was not willing and he would respect her wishes and still love her the same but hey, he had a chance to do so, so why let go of such an opportunity? Only an idiot would think otherwise.

Lilith looked at her son who was deep in thoughts and didn't disturb him. She kept caressing his hair and waited for him to respond to her. No matter what choice he makes, she'll still love him the same way she loved him since he was born. He was her baby and he'll always be her baby no matter what changes happen.

Lucy on the side was bewildered about her mother's words. She knew it was taboo but they were Vampires. Taboo hardly mattered in the Vampire race. Infact, the more the taboos, the better it is for them. It adds more spice in life. The guilty feeling of doing something only excites the crazy Vampires. Lucy thought that her mother would get crazy and shamelessly take her own son's virginity but she didn't expect that her mother would give him a choice. Her mother was still sane!

Looking at her now, Lucy realised, her mother was not really crazy. She just liked making fun of them whenever possible and when things came about something serious regarding their well being, she'll switch back to her gentle and loving motherly side. She knew one thing in her heart, her mother was the best! She couldn't help but feel that she should shower her mother with more love whenever she came and do her best to be a good daughter for her. She looked at her dear brother and waited for him to answer. She'll go along with what his brother said. If he chose to be more intimate then she too will do the same and if he chose to be just a normal son, she too will do the same. It now all depended on him.

Lith made up his mind. The world can fuck itself. The taboos can fuck itself. He wanted to have his mother all to himself. He wanted his family all to himself. He wanted both his mother and sister much more close to him. He'll be selfish and he'll have what he wants.

Lith didn't know anything about Vampires. He rarely went out or checked Vampire forums online. He was really having a very exaggerated reaction right now.

Lith looked up at his mother with a fiery gaze.

Lilith looked at her son's fiery gaze and felt as if she was a sheep waiting to be devoured by a big bad wolf. She chuckled and teased

"Oh my, please go a little easy on this poor old mama of yours."

Just from looking at his reaction she knew he made up his mind. She knew he loved her so much that he was willing to go across the forbidden gates and pluck out the forbidden flower which he wasn't supposed to. She got a little excited and started getting wet just from thinking about what he'll do with her. She now understood why those Vampires were so crazy. Doing something so immoral and taboo really spiced things up! Those crazy Vampires were correct all along!

Lucy too knew just from his reaction what he was about to do and her mother's words just confirmed them. She felt a little excited and was anticipating it a little.

Huh? She was excited and anticipated? A King rank Vampire having such thoughts from looking at immoral and forbidden things? Was she crazy like her mother too? She thought to herself.

Vampires indeed felt excited from doing such forbidden things. It ran in their race's genes. They weren't called the craziest for nothing. Lilith was already crazy enough and the apple doesn't fall from the tree, It was obvious Lucy would feel such emotions too.

Lith had mustered all his courage to tell his mother 'yes mom, I want to do it with you.' But as if his mother could read his mind, she confirmed his answer herself and teased him yet again. He felt red as a tomato. 'Mother is too much! Atleast hear me out!' He cried inwardly. He bent down and bit her neck a little angry and mostly embarrassed.

"Ohhh"

Lilith moaned a little after she felt a bite on her neck. She chuckled at her son's reaction which seemed angry and embarrassed and caressed his hair while letting him do whatever he wanted to.

Lith made sure to arouse Lilith a little by sucking her blood. After drinking it for a few seconds, he licked the wound clean and looked at her in the eyes again and said in a loving and caring way

"I love you, mom."

Chapter 32: Time Spells

[A/N: The mc was a 19 year in previous life who reincarnated with his same consciousness. 13 years have passed upto this chapter and so, he isn't underage. Please do know about this fact.]

...

"I love you, mom."

Lith looked at his mother and said his heartfelt words. Forgetting the teasing.

"I love you too, baby." Lilith said to Lith.

Lith didn't waste anymore time. He went down and parted Lilith's legs to have better view of the forbidden flower. He was looking intently at the place he wasn't supposed to be in and started burning up. He felt a strong desire looking at her pussy. He must have it! Only a fool would let go of something so beautiful! His mother belonged to him and he must have all of her.

He loved Lilith a lot just like the way she crazily loved him. He may have reincarnated but currently, Lilith's blood ran in him and he was bound to have a personality like her.

He was rubbing his cock on his mother's wet pussy. Lilith shivered in excitement a little after feeling her son's cock teasing her lower lips.

Lith was about to go in when

"Wait, baby."

Lilith interrupted him and sat up. Lith didn't know what was up and made a face that said 'why stop now?'

Lilith chuckled and said "Mama wants to have her full grown baby in her."

Lith didn't understand what was she saying. What did she mean by full grown? Did he need to wait for more years until he grew up? Impossible! That wasn't possible for him. He needed atleast ten more years to reach the full potential of his body. He couldn't wait that long. He was about to interrupt her but then Lilith did something unexpected and left him dumbfounded.

He could see his yet to mature dick grow in size. It was growing and growing and then after a few seconds it stopped. It was now at such a size that it would make experienced ladies drool both from their upper and lower mouth and virgins tremble in fear. He had the shock of his life!

Lilith was an all elemental Mage, a literal God. She naturally could cast spells based on Time. She just cast a Time Acceleration spell on Lith's dick and made it grow much older than it should be. She then cast a spell which stopped the aging of his shaft and it would only start to age along with his body when his body reaches the age which his shaft had now matured to. They'll be in sync at a later date so there were no worries of there being an imbalance in his body.

The spells Lilith casted were complicated and sophisticated. Time Acceleration spell was a basic spell which could be used by rank 1 mages but they could only do it for a few seconds and the Time would only accelerate for around an hour in those few seconds. Lilith cast the spell and time accelerated for around ten years in just a few seconds. She wasn't a Legendary rank for show. The sophisticated part was that she cast it on a certain spot. Time Acceleration spell was an AOE spell.

She also cast another basic AOE spell, Time Stop. Time Stop can be cast by a rank 1 mage but it would stop time only for a few seconds. Lilith on the other hand, casted it and put it on his shaft which caused time to stop until the body catches up to this part and be in sync. She did it, as if it was a trivial matter.

Of course, Lith was ignorant about all of this and was just too shocked to ask about anything. 'Magic is such a convenient thing!' He thought to himself. Alas, if only he knew that what his mother did was something which couldn't be done by many.

Although spells were complicated like these, there were other methods to increase size but why would Lith need it when there was Lilith, the Goddess herself present here.

There were all sorts of bizarre methods, techniques, pills and things available in the markets of this world to do a bunch of weird stuff. Magic indeed makes people's imagination run wild. More about that later on.

"M-mom...t-t-this..." Lith had many questions in mind but he was too shocked to say anything and he stuttered about what he wanted to say and forgot all about it when Lilith interrupted him by lifting his chin and making him look in her eyes.

"Like I said, I want my baby to be fully grown, if we are going to put it in me. I want to experience the best of my child. It's my first time too, you know baby?"

Lilith said to him gently and gave him a kiss on his lips.

Lith was again dumbfounded.

His mother's first time? Oh, right. She said something about her being a virgin too before. I thought she was joking. So she gave us birth without losing her virginity? What! How?! Is this even real?

He was about to get lost in his thoughts when Lilith gave him a flick on his forehead and brought him back to the current world.

Lith woke up from his stupor and just as he was about to ask her something, Lilith bent down and took his cock in her mouth. Lith felt electric current running across him. He wanted to say and ask many things but now he forgot all about them.

Lilith tasted her son's cock and since last time when she for the first time had his taste, it became her all time favourite. There were two favourite things in the world she liked to taste now, one of it was her son's taste of his cock and semen and the other was her daughter's love juices. She was a little twisted motherly lady. She loved her kids a little too much.

Lilith savored the taste and started making her head go back and fourth. She swirled her tongue around his shaft in her mouth. She looked up at him while she was doing so and found that her son had a face of pure ecstasy. She wanted to continue doing it and have the taste of his seeds again but stopped. She only wanted to lubricate it so he could put it in her easily. It was a little difficult to not have his seeds in her mouth again but she let go thinking that she could finally be one with her dear baby.

She laid back down and made her legs in a M shape. She looked at the side towards her daughter, chuckled and said

"Come closer dear and watch carefully. Last time, I couldn't show it to you but you can see clearly now."

Lucy was a bit embarrassed but she came close nonetheless.

Lilith moved one of her hand spread her pussy lips to give a good view of the insides to her daughter and son.

"Come, baby, be one with mama." Lilith said to Lith lovingly while her hand was keeping her pussy lips spread open.

Lucy looked at her mother's pussy which was spread open. She looked at the small hole which was contracting and relaxing as if excited for what was to come. She then looked at her brother's cock which was twitching a lot as if it couldn't wait to go in. She then looked again at her mother's small hole and felt worried and wondered to herself 'Will it go in? Will she be able to take?' She then spread her own pussy with two fingers and put one in and thought 'Will I be able to take it in if he puts that? My size is almost the same as mother if not then just a little smaller.'

Lith didn't waste more time and put his cock in his mother's pussy which was already very wet. He put the tip in and slowly started going in.

"Ahh.."

Lilith had a small orgasm just from having his tip in.

Lith thrust his cock deeper and felt a resistance in between. He looked at his mother and she nodded to him indicating it was okay to push further. He didn't waste more time and pushed it all the way in one go.

"Ohhhhhhhh"

Lilith moaned a little loudly and orgasmed after his cock reached all the way in her and broke her hymen. It felt painful to her but she liked this pain because she finally became one with her baby!

"Ugh..."

Lith, feeling his mother's inside tightening a lot, almost came. He held it back but and let her recover. He kept his shaft inside to let her pussy get used to his size and after a while he started thrusting.

Lucy looked at her mother who was in ecstasy. She wondered if it felt painful or pleasurable to her. She could see blood dripping down her mother's pussy. She felt how would she feel with the big dick of her brother inside her.

"You can move now baby." Lilith said to him with a smile.

Lith nodded and started moving his hips. He took support of her knees and started sliding his cock out of her and pushed it slowly back inside again. His mother had told him to be gentle at first and he was following her words.

Lilith nodded in satisfaction looking at her son's work. He took her words seriously and was now gently pounding her. She then moved her attention away from him and looked at her daughter. She smiled to her and said

"Looked enough dear? Come here give mama a kiss."

Lucy was looking closely at her mother's pussy being spread by her little brother's cock. She was amazed by the fact that such a little entrance could still accommodate this big monster inside. Her graceful and elegant self of substitute Queen was now all gone and she was like a cat with a lot of curiosities. She was in her world when she heard her mother's words. She didn't bother about her teasing at all and went in for a kiss.

Lilith pouted a little in dissatisfaction. Are her children starting to get immune to her teasing?

Lucy went to her mother and started having a hot kiss with her.

Lith looked at his mother and sister have a passionate kiss he felt his libido increase. He started thrusting more and more fast.

"Mhffm....mffhm.."

Lilith made muffled moans in her daughter's mouth while feeling the increased pace of her son.

Lith moved one of his hand and started kneading Lilith's breast. Milk started spurting out of Lilith's erect nipple.

Lith was almost at his limits now. He started going faster and faster.

Clap...clap..

Clap...clap..

His lower region banging against his mother's made clapping sound as he increased his pace and made stronger thrusts.

"Ahh...ahhh...ahh..."

Lilith broke the kiss and started moaning. She felt too good. She didn't expect that getting pounded by her son would feel so good to her. She nevertheless enjoyed it to the fullest.

Lucy finding her mother breaking the kiss, went down and started sucking on her nipples. She pinched her other nipple and started playing with both of her breasts.

Lilith feeling that her son was almost there, started going in sync with his movements.

"Ahh...baby...c-come...inside mama...ahh..."

Lilith moaned. She was feeling too good. Her daughter was playing with her nipples and her son was pounding her senseless. She now had a feeling of pure ecstasy on her.

Lith after hearing his mother's words went faster. Lilith's insides started tightening up. Lith couldn't take it anymore. He gave her a one final thrust and climaxed.

"Uggh.."

"Ohhhhhhhh"

Lilith arched her back and orgasmed too after feeling the warm semen of her son in her pussy. Her eyes rolled back and she was now on cloud nine.

"Huff...huff...huff.."

Both started panting heavily.

Lith felt his mind went blank after his orgasm and he collapsed on top of his mother.

Lucy looked at them, a bit amused. Does this feel very good? She knew it did by looking at the faces of her mother and brother. They both had the face of pure bliss. They were collapsed but still smiling like a fool. She wanted to try too but was too shy to ask for it.

Lith felt too good. It was a heavenly feeling and doing it with his own mother, the taboo element mixed in, just added more to his pleasure.

Lilith recovered and looked at her son with a loving smile. She was now much more closer to her baby than ever before. She gave him a kiss on forehead and caressed his hair and waited for him to recover.

She could feel his cock still inside her pussy, although it was now limp and could come out anytime. She could also feel cum dripping, both her's and her son's from her pussy. After a while, Lith recovered.

He looked up and saw his mother looking at him with the same old loving smile of hers. He moved forward and gave her a loving kiss on her lips. He then smiled and said

"I love you, mama."

Whatever little maturity he had due to his previous life and this life, were all gone now. He was no more than just a baby of hers now. He thought he shouldn't put up a tough or mature act in front of her anymore. In front of his mother, he was nothing more than just a baby and he should be like that, he thought. It was already very difficult for him to put up a mature front in front of her.

What Lith thought was true. She thought of both Lith and Lucy as her babies and she also had tried a lot to make them not put up a mature front in front of her. She wanted them to believe that they could be free and unrestrained in front of her and let loose. Lucy had managed to do just that.

She was although a substitute Queen, in front of her mother she behaved like a baby who wanted to be spoiled by her mother. Lith avoided getting spoiled by his mother much before because in his mind he thought he was mature enough but later he started to realize that it was not the case and he, in a corner of his mind, thought of wanting to let loose and get spoiled by his mother.

Only now did all barriers broke and he, for the first time felt like a baby in front of his mother and he started acting out his true self. That is, a baby who wanted to be spoiled by his mother. He let go of all maturity in front of his mother.

There were only two people in front of whom he could do that now and they were his mother and big sister.

"I love you too, baby." Lilith smiled and kissed his lips with love. The love being of course, motherly love.

"Hey, am I the only one who is not loved?" Lucy joked and pouted cutely.

Lilith giggled at her daughter's joke.

Lith looked at his sister and smirked. He went close to her and held her by the shoulder. He pushed her down beside his mother, smiled evilly and said

"Of course not, big sis. Let me show you some love."

Chapter 33: Innocent

Lucy didn't say anything and blushed.

Lucy turned her face to the side and looked at her mother and said a little angrily

"Mom, look at what you have done to my dear little Lith. He's getting influenced by your personality and is becoming shameless."

Lilith giggled and pinched her daughter's cheeks and said

"Fufufu... is that so? Aren't you the same too dear?"

"Huh? How come? I am very innoc-"

Lilith held Lucy's face and kissed her.

Lucy struggled a little but wasn't let go by her mother. They engaged in a tongue battle. Lucy finally stopped her pointless struggle and started reciprocating the kiss.

Lith looked at them with an amused look.

After a while Lilith broke the kiss. She giggled and said

"See? My dear you've long gone past the line of being innocent."

Lucy blushed and hid her face in her mother's bosom. 'It's because you forced me mom! You wouldn't let me go until I reciprocate!' She cried inwardly. She still defended herself and clearly didn't accept the fact that she enjoyed it.

Lilith chuckled at her daughter's behaviour. Lith too chuckled along with her.

"Big sis, can we do it?" Lith asked his sister.

Lucy blushed more after hearing her brother's words. Of course he could do it. Why would he ask something so stupid and embarrassing. She didn't say anything and simply spread her legs a little while hiding in her mother's bosom.

Lilith chuckled at her daughter's reaction. She hugged her with one hand and used her other hand to spread her legs more to give better access to Lith.

Lith bent down and looked at his sister's beautiful pussy in admiration. He took a whiff of her wild scent. It instantly aroused him. He gave her pussy a little lick and made sure it got wet.

Lucy felt a shiver up her spine when she felt her little brother's tongue on her.

Lith after ensuring it was wet enough, got up and started rubbing his cock on her wet pussy.

Lucy trembled a little in nervousness. Lilith looked at her nervous daughter and gently caressed her hair and said

"It'll be alright dear, don't worry." She kissed her forehead to calm her down.

She got away from her mother's embrace and now looked at her little brother, not wanting to look away when he was about to take her virginity.

Lith thrust his tip in a little and he could feel Lucy trembling a little. He didn't know if it was because she was nervous scared or excited but looking at how she didn't stop him he continued going further. He could feel a resistance and he then looked at Lucy wanting her answer if he should proceed or not.

Lucy looked at him and nodded lightly indicating it was okay for him to push further. Lith without further ado, pushed his cock deeper.

"Ughh"

Lucy bit her lips and endured the pain. Lilith looked at her daughter and kissed her gently on her forehead and caressed her face helping her bear with the pain.

Lith went all in her and waited for her insides to adjust to his size.

He bent down kissed her on her lips. Lucy kissed him back. Lucy then felt a soft slimy thing poking onto her mouth's entrance. She immediately opened her mouth and let it in. Feeling her little brother's tongue, she started having a fierce fight with it.

Lilith on the side looked at her children having a go with each other. She didn't say do much and just looked at them lovingly.

Lith feeling that she had adjusted to his size started gently thrusting his hips back and forth.

"Ahh~"

Lucy moaned slightly after feeling his thrusts. Lilith then pinched her daughter's nipples and bit her neck and started sucking her blood.

"Ohhhhh~"

Lucy moaned a lot more than before.

Lith felt his cock getting squeezed inside his sister's pussy. He nevertheless, kept thrusting.

"Ahhh...ahh...ahh..."

Lilith kept sucking her blood from her neck ensuring she was at her peak of arousal.

After a few minutes, Lith couldn't take it anymore. He started thrusting faster and faster.

"Ahhh...ahhh...ahh..."

Lucy kept moaning more and more loudly.

"Ahhh....Lith...ahh...come i-inside...ahh..."

Lith kept going faster and after two minutes

"Ahhhhhhh~"

Lucy arched her back and her eyes rolled backward and climaxed along with Lith and Lith felt his mind go blank for the second time. He collapsed onto her.

Lucy was on cloude nine right now. She never felt so good all in her life.

She too, like her mother, felt that she had gotten much more closer to her dear brother.

Lith too shared the same feeling. He was glad that he didn't chicken out at the end moment and made the decision to do it with his mother and sister. He felt so close to them now than ever before. If he hadn't done it, he knew he wouldn't be having this feeling.

Lilith looked at her kids with a warm smile. She too felt the same way as Lith and Lucy and felt that her adorable little babies were now much more closer to her than ever before.

Lucy recovered and she looked at her collapsed little brother who was still recovering. She too, like her mother, started caressing his hair and looked at him lovingly. She then looked at the side and saw her mother looking at both of them with love and warmth in her eyes. She went ahead and kissed her forehead.

"I love you, mom." She said smiling.

"I love you too, baby." Lilith said to Lucy and kissed her forehead.

Lith recovered and looked at her big sister and said smiling

"I love you, big sis."

"I love you too, dear." Lucy smiled and kissed his forehead.

He got up and when he removed his limp shaft out of her sister's pussy, some semen with her love juices gushed out. Lith looked at the view in satisfaction.

Lucy rubbed her lower region where she felt the warm cum still inside and looked at her mother and asked

"Mom, I'll not get pregnant right?"

"Fufufu...no dear you won't. I cast a protective spell on both of us, so you won't be getting pregnant. Of course if you want to, I ll remove it."

"No, mom. I don't want to be pregent, yet. Thanks for the spell." Lucy said and kissed Lilith on her lips.

Lith understood why his two ladies were not bothered at all by having him do it inside.

Lilith casted cleaning magic, that is, wind, water and fire spells to clean and dry them and had her two babies snuggle into her embrace.

She held Lith on one side and Lucy on the other. They both latched onto her nipples and started sucking her milk. She caressed their hair and looked at them lovingly.

Gradually, Lith and Lucy slept. Lith was too tired today. First it was his awakening, then training, then one round each with his mother and sister. He was too tired. His thirteen year old body was already used at maximum potential. He slept instantly.

Lilith gave both of them one final forehead kiss and slept along with them.

Chapter 34: Queen's District

Evernight city, Nightingale.

At the edge of a cliff stood a magnificent and majestic dark gothic castle which was very tall and mighty. It had pointed towers supporting it and had triangular edges and rectangular rooftops. It was the castle of the Royal family of the Vampires. The Evure family, also known as Clan Evure.

The castle was spread around an area of 10 km². The castle had everything one could think of. In the middle of the castle was the Queen's quarters which was spread in an area of one km², occupying one tenth area in total. There were also two other quarters attached to the Queen's which were meant for the children of the Queen but they were unoccupied.

The castle had no walls surrounding it. It was to ensure the beauty of it couldn't be degraded. There were roads travelling down the cliff from the castle into the Queen's district. Before the Queen's district was a forest, separating the castle and the district. It was the dark rose forest, which was named after the vast fields of dark roses growing in it all year long.

The forest was very big. It had many magical beast residing in it too. The forest covered an area of 15,000 km².

The Queen's district was 50,000 km² in area in which there were two big arenas occupying the space of 10,000 km² each. They were equipped with the highest grade magic circles to ensure that it is unbreakable. Those two arenas could be combined and made into one big arena too via, of course, magic circles. Similarly, those could be divided into small arenas too. Usually, all year round one of the arena was divided into ten smaller ones of a thousand km² each.

Competitions were held for entertainment purposes or just to ensure who was the strongest Vampire in each ranks. The strongest Vampire competitions were held in different intervals for different rankings.

For rank 5 and below it was every year.

For Saint rank and below it was every decade.

For King and Half King rank it was every twenty five years.

For Half Emperor rank it was every fifty years.

Lastly, for Emperor ranks it was every hundred years.

Only during fights between Emperor ranks was the two arenas joined.

One arena was left unoccupied all the time for the usage of the Royal family. The Royal family, if wanted, could kick out everyone from the other arena to use both of them at once. The ones which would get kicked out would have their schedules postponed. Nobody dared to refute the Royal decree. Of course, that didn't happen much because Lilith didn't need to train and Lucy was only King rank as of now, so 10,000 km² arena was already big enough for her. As for Lith, well he's just rank 1.

The Queen's district, other than the arena, had many recreational places, mainly for the Royal family's leisure but people could visit them from time to time by paying a hefty price. The price was big to ensure that less people visit and also to ensure that the areas were left empty as much as possible. To ensure that if the royal family visits then it won't be uncomfortable for them.

The Queen's district also had many high end luxury shops, hotels and restaurants. Many visited these places for having a taste and buying various luxurious and exotic things. Half King grade and above artifacts were sold here. The lowest grade artifacts were of Saint rank.

Many nobles visited the Queen's district every month and many commoners did too, if they could pay the price to enter the district that is. They nobles visited to enjoy various delicacies or to buy things. The commoners weren't too rich and visited to have a few delicacies and also to tour around and hope to have a look at their Queen.

There were walls surrounding the Queen's district which were equipped with surveillance magic circles. They ensured that if anyone passed by them, it would alarm the guards. To pass through them, one needed to pay an amethyst coin and could stay in the Queen's district for a day.

They were then given a badge which had their names and below it was written time. The time was in days:hours:minutes:seconds format and once it would be over, the people would be teleported outside the district. It was also given to ensure who entered and acted as a surveillance ensuring that no one trespassed and caused trouble.

To stay for more days, one could recharge their badges in any shops nearby by paying money. To stay for another day, another amethyst coin was required. Discounts were given if the stay was longer. For a week's stay one only needed to pay three amethyst coins other than the one they needed to pay at the entrance. This was done so that whoever visited the district, at least paid four amethyst coin.

For a month's stay, they had to pay ten amethyst coins. It was cheaper because people who could stay for a month, cannot be out on streets for a whole month. They had to be in hotels or any other shops. Patrol guards were everywhere to check that no one without a badge was roaming and that people weren't sleeping or staying on streets. There were some cases of people doing that before just so they could have an opportunity to see their Queen. Thus, the prices were higher and patrolling was stricter.

The Royal family, never really visited the Queen's district much. One reason was that Lilith wasn't interested and another was that Lucy was out adventuring and didn't limit herself to Evernight city. Lith was given training in the castle itself so he didn't need to go out.

As of now, the Queen's district, which was supposed to be sparsely populated, was actually bustling with activities and was jam packed.

Chapter 35: Royal Servants

It was densely packed. It was because many noble clans have visited it. They nobles were sent invitation saying that there was a new member of the Royal family and he would be making his first appearance and thus they were invited to stay in the Queen's district for three days for free. They could watch the livestream in specific ballrooms in the Queen's district in these three days.

The high ranking nobles were directly invited to the Royal castle for the banquet. The banquet would only be for a day and they would then be kicked out. Lilith doesn't like too many outsiders in the house. There were also only a hundred people managing the whole castle at a given time. They didn't need to do menial stuff such as cleaning because that is done by magic circles and the Alchemical Life of the castle.

The Alchemical Life was called as Drune. It kept the castle clean, notified the people who visited and also acted as invoking the defenses of the castle. Drune was probably the most useless Alchemical Life because it didn't have much work at all. The castle didn't need to be invoke its defenses because nobody in their right mind would attack it and also there were strong people guarding it and it in itself had the strongest existence living inside. It also had no one visiting much and thus couldn't even notify the masters inside. Its only job was to keep the castle clean. It couldn't notify its masters directly either. The Queen stayed in the Queen's quarters and the Alchemical Life wasn't allowed to pry inside it. It could only notify the maids around the periphery if needed and that was too rare. All in all, it was the most useless and it passed time by sometimes talking to the maids and servants inside. Thankfully, Alchemical Life weren't living beings. They were more like an A.I of the magical world. Thus, it wouldn't be bored to death.

The maids and butlers in the castle, at present, were only a hundred and all were very strong. There was one maid and one butler who were Emperor rank, five who were Half Emperor rank and thirty five who were King rank and the rest were half King ranks at present. Lilith had personally raised them when she became a Queen and was bored and had nothing to do. The servants respected her from the bottom of their hearts and only lived to serve her for their whole life.

Of course they would take shifts to serve her and would go out on adventure or vacation for a certain period of time. Lilith had no problem from this because as long as the castle is well kept, they can do anything. Thus, the servants had a meeting among themselves and decided that every twenty five years, they would go out for vacation for five years.

There were a total of two hundred people who Lilith raised and four were Emperor rank and ten were Half Emperor rank. Seventy were King rank and the rest were Half King rank. Out of the two hundred, at present, only half were managing the castle because the other half were on a vacation.

Every twenty five years, half would go out and come back five years later and then the next batch would go out and then come back. So, for a few years, there were only a hundred people serving the castle. One of those few years happend to be now.

But, as the banquet were nearing, the other servants, without having to be told by their master, sent word and called back those who were out for vacation and those people would be back in a few days.

Invitation was sent to the Viscount noble houses who had the highest contribution to the Vampire society and to all five Count houses by the King rank maids and butlers as per Lucy's orders. Lilith only spent time with Lith and Lucy had to do all the work for the banquet. She didn't hate her mother for dumping all the work on herself, it was because she loved her mother and cared for her happiness. If her mother was happy with being with her little brother, she would gladly take up all the work to free her.

As of now, the highest in heirarchy were only Counts and there were no Dukes or Duchess because Lilith had destroyed all the Dukes and Duchess clans. When Lilith killed the Vampire King and took his position, there was opposition by some Duke and Duchess Clans and Lilith although didn't care about what these weak people thought of her, was annoyed and thus destroyed all the Duke and Duchess Clans and almost all the noble clans who supported the opposition.

Thus, half the nobility was gone just like that and it took a long time for them to recover and as of now, the highest were only upto Counts. Although the nobility had recovered now, Lilith actually forgot to upgrade their titles as she was busy adventuring and helping her friends and resting due to pregnancy and taking care of her children. Thus, this banquet would also be the one where the nobles would be upgraded with their status and a new hierarchy would be present in the Vampire society.

Lilith didn't want to be a protector of such a big race by becoming their ruler but she unknowingly became one by killing their King and taking up his position. Nobody dared to attack the Vampires when they were at their weakest and wiped them out either because they all feared the Vampire Queen. They feared to offend the crazy woman. She killed half the people of her own race and his King and also destroyed one tenth of the Dragons and she made three Supreme ranks and made them the ruler of three races, making them one of the main races. Thus, who would be stupid enough to challenge and test her strength? Thus the Vampires passed their most critical state luckily.

The others had no idea that even if they wiped out all the Vampires, Lilith would simply not care and let them be, but still, nobody dared to challenge her authority by doing so. The world had already suffered enough.

Lilith unknowingly became a pillar of support for the Vampire race and the other races feared her and didn't want to offend this madwoman at any cost.

Lucy, when she became the substitute Queen when Lilith was born, read all of her mother's past deeds and realised that her mother was the Queen only in name and didn't really do anything much for them. The Vampires out of fear for her, took up roles and tasks and stabilized themselves and didn't ask for her opinion on any matters. Thus, in a period of half a million years, the Vampires became self reliant in everything.

Lilith did realise that she was the Queen and thus she raised the two hundred servants and let them do all the work for her. The servants didn't disappoint her and they properly organized the country of Nightingale for her and made the Evernight city, one of the best city and also as the Queen's home. They didn't upgrade any status of the Vampires and let them be as it is because, they didn't have such an authority and also they would need to disturb their master and ask her to work a little so that they could be upgraded of their status. They didn't care for such matters more and worked for organizing the place for their master to live properly.

They had authority over the revenue collection and also the usage of the royal treasury, thus, they made Evernight city the best place for their master and also the Royal castle. The Royal Insignia was too done by them but they did ask for her approval and whether she liked it or not, as Lilith approved of it, it got circulated everywhere and thus became an insignia which represented the highest authority and power. Nobody dared to take it lightly.

Thus, after Lilith destroyed half the nobility before and all the Duke clans, only the heirarchy upto the Counts was left. There were only Noble Knights or Dames(female knight) at the lowest level of heirarchy and only the Counts at the highest. In between were Barons and Viscounts.

Lucy, who had the highest authority, the same as the Queen even though she was a substitute, decided to work a little and make her rectify the holes which her mother made and make her stand more tall and mighty among all. She did ask her mother if she would protect the Vampire race in case of major crisis and she just said "sure" like it was nothing. Lilith felt that her children were Vampires too and would probably have a little sense of belonging to their own race and if the race got wiped out, they would become lonely. Thus, she casually said that to Lucy, when she asked her such a question.

Therefore, now the banquet had two purposes. One was the introduction of the new member of the Evure family and the other was the reform of the noble heirarchy.

Chapter 36: To Not Get Bored

Evernight city, Nightingale.

Inside the majestic dark royal castle, Lucy was sitting on the throne in the Royal court. The Royal court had big throne at the end of the room which was crafted very finely. It was black in colour. It was placed at a raised platform. The platform was big and there were stairs at the side so that, if needed, people could come up and kneel and pay respect to the Queen in front of her. There were also many two rows of chair opposite to each other on a slightly raised platform. It wasn't too raised and around half the level of the platform the throne was on. The middle area was empty and spacious and there were engravings of many things on the walls of the court.

The Royal court never had many visitors to discuss any matter since the year it was built. It was very deserted. The throne room too was empty. Lilith never really bothered to go sit there and she only sat on the throne two times since it was built.

The first time was when she gathered her two hundred servants and told them that they did a good job in building such a good castle and that they had to manage things well.

The second time was when all the Counts requested to have an audience with her to report the functioning of the Vampire society. Lilith although didn't care about the Vampires, still accepted to meet them and listen to them. It was because she never really talked to anyone in the nobility after she destroyed half of them. So, she was also curious about what those guys were upto.

She was surprised to find that they became self reliant. It made her a little happy. She didn't need to look after these useless people and could focus on taking care of her children. She was pregnant at that time. The meeting took place just a thousand years ago. The Vampire Queen only showed herself after half a million years!

The new counts dared to request her audience was because they were new and they didn't really know too much about her terror. Although they did hear stories about her, they didn't experience it, so they were ignorant. Thus they requested and she accepted.

Lucy was going through files and papers about various things that needed to be taken into account and what she had to do during the banquet. It was at that time Lilith came and stood beside Lucy and looked at what she was doing. She smiled and said

"Dear, why are you working so hard? It was mama's job to do these things. You shouldn't be bothering about all this."

"It's alright, mom. You have worked hard all these years and raised us with so much effort. This is nothing to compared to that. I am only doing this because we are the Royal family and are responsible for the Vampire's well being.

Although you do not care about the Vampires much mom, but I think we should do our jobs as the Royal family because if we don't, we'll be bored. We have a long lifespan and having to do things really helps in passing time. Hehe."

Lucy chuckled and said.

Lilith got a little emotional at the start by listening to her daughter's care for her but later she chuckled along with her. Her daughter was right. Having nothing to do in these long years of life will only bore them to death. If Lucy liked being a substitute Queen, then so be it.

Lilith smiled and said

"Thankyou for your hardwork, dear. Mama won't stop you from doing what you like and if you don't want to, you can quit anytime. Mama will always support you."

She then bent forward and gave her daughter a warm kiss on her forehead.

"Yes, mom. I will. Thankyou very much. I love you." Lucy said and gave Lilith a kiss on her cheeks.

"I love you too, dear." Lilith smiled and replied.

Lilith then left and arrived at the Queen's quarter, in her bedroom. She looked at Lith who was sleeping like a baby. She stripped herself naked and laid beside him. Lith in his sleep, feeling warm again, subconsciously moved his hand and mouth, looking for his mother's breast. Lilith chuckled everytime looking at his actions, she then held her boob and brought it in front of his mouth. Lith started sucking milk from it in his sleep.

This was an everyday thing. Everyday for a few hours, she would get out of bed when Lith slept and checked on her daughter. Even though her daughter is all grown up now, she still had to check on her and give Lucy her time and attention too. She would feel lonely or else. This is what Lilith thought.

Her thinking was a little off the mark but this only showed that she was a very good mother. Lucy never really thought of being lonely and she purposely left her mother to her little brother's side so that she could spend more time with him. She thought that she had gotten enough of her time and attention in these past 500 years and that it was her new born brother's turn to have her for himself.

Nevertheless, she still felt warm in her heart when her mother visited her in the night everyday. She did ask her to stop visiting her everyday and focus fully on her little brother but she rejected that thought of hers. She didn't explain herself as to why and Lucy didn't want to pry further, so she left her to do as she pleased.

Only a week was left for the banquet now.

Queen's district, Evernight city.

This district with usually sparse population was now densely packed and was bustling with activities. There were many Nobles present here. Although the dates at which they could be given free access in the district was not there yet, it didn't matter to them. They spent amethyst coins and chose to stay in the city. The nobles were rich and a spending a few amethyst coins was nothing to them in such occasions.

There were many clans of various heriarchies present. The lowest being, of course, the Knights or Dames. They were all invited to watch the livestream here in the Queen's district and it wasn't streamed everywhere in the Vampire continent was because it was a confidential information.

The people before entering had to sign a contract which was made by a Witch of King rank stating that they shouldn't leak out the information about the new member of the Royal family or it will be notified to the Queen directly.

They all took it very seriously. Although they did not experience their Queen's terror like the old Vampires, they did not dare underestimate her or go against her words. They would do anything but offend their Queen. She was their leader and also the protector of their race. She was also so strong that, if she wanted to, she could destroy the whole race easily and their mere clans were nothing in front of her.

The Duke houses of before were destroyed and it was the best proof of her power because till now, there were no Dukes!

There was also the fact that, to break the contract, one would need to go to a Witch of similar rank and the price of a King rank Witch was no joke. A whole Baron family would go bankrupt if they tried to get services of a King rank Witch. Even for counts and Viscounts it was expensive. They would not spend money for something so foolish.

Buying contract was cheaper than having to break contracts.

A Viscount clan could afford to buy many contracts made from Emperor rank Witches. A Count clan could buy a contract of even the Queen Mother of the Witches!

Chapter 37: Witches Panic

A few days ago.

Greenville city, Raffelsia country.

Inside a big pointy tower which seemed to reach the skies, at the middle level, many Witches were queueing up in front of a few counters.

These counters were places where the Witches reported, accepted, completed or filed a complaint about their commissions.

If a Witch got a commission from a nearby person, she would send them to the Witch headquarters, letting them know about the details of her commission without revealing the identity of the person. Her data and details would then be registered in the database of the Witch headquarters. It was done so to have better access to the commission in the future, if need arises. The Witch would then send data about completing the commission and it would be updated again.

The headquarters of the Witches had many levels and to have access to the higher levels, one needed to have the corresponding high ranks.

The middle levels dealt with the Witches of rank Saint upto half King.

A maid sent a commission letter to the Witch headquarters via a Saint rank Witch. She had teleported to Raffelsia venturing in this Witch country, looking for the headquarters but she soon found a decent Witch and handed her money to send the commission letter to the headquarters. The Witch happily accepted it because the job was easy and the pay was good. On top of that, it was very close to where she was. She was a Saint rank and thus she sent the letter to the middle floor counters.

There were Witches behind the counters who had a desk job. They would register and update things about commission in the database from their computer screens. They would also handout commission scrolls to them from this place, if they had any.

The Saint rank Witch handed the letter stating that it was for a King rank Witch given to her by somebody on the street and left. She didn't say who or why because she was only meant to send the letter.

The lady behind the counter opened the letter and found the Evure family insignia. She panicked a little because it wasn't meant to be handled by her level. This was the Royal family of the Vampires! People who shouldn't be messed with.

She immediately got up and went outside the counter and ran across the floor, all the way to it's end. There were many golden pipes which had a big opening and were connected to who knows where. She then came in front of a pipe stating 'emergency only' and scanned her identity card and sent the letter inside.

The letter arrived at the highest level of the tower and as soon as it arrived, bells chimed and an alarm was heard by the people on the floor. They ran across because they knew it was an emergency. If it wasn't then they would punish the Witch who played such a prank.

The Witches of the highest level panicked when they opened the letter and saw a commission from the Evure family.

They immediately sent the commission to Hecate, the Witch in charge of the commissions from the Evure family via another emergency pipe.

Chiming of bells was heard and Hecate who was sitting at her desk received a letter.

Hecate then opened the letter and was a bit confused, 'why didn't her majesty give me this commission and instead sent a letter to the Witch headquarters?' She thought. Nevertheless, she didn't pry further. It wasn't her job to poke nose into the matters of such a powerhouse.

Hecate sent a letter to the other Queen Witches and the Queen Mother and they too got it via emergency means. It was about asking them to sign and stamp it. They didn't know why Hecate was asking about such a thing but looking at the Evure family insignia, they didn't ask anything and did what were told. Even the Queen Mother, Florencia Rain, was no exception.

Hecate got her letter back almost instantly stamped and signed. She then sent it to the reception of King ranks.

Ding!

A lady was sitting behind a counter and she suddenly heard a notification bell rang in her computer. She opened the mail and yelled

"HOLY SHIT! BRENDA LOOK LOOK!!!!"

"What is it? Stop yelling." The Witch named Brenda said, a bit annoyed.

She took a look at what her friend was pointing at on the screen and was deeply horrified.

"W-w-what? Is this for real?!"

"IKR!!! This is a very big piece of news! We have to spread it to all our sisters, lest they bring a calamity upon themselves and us."

"You are right. Let's inform everyone."

The Witch along with the Witch named Brenda immediately started typing on their computer screens something.

Click!

The sound of pressing key was heard.

"Done! Phew, this was so tiring."

"Yes, I know. I've never seen anything like this before."

"Me too"

The two Witches talked among themselves.

....

Ding!

A notification was heard on a computer screen. The lady behind the computer opened the mail and

"W-w-what??! For real?!"

....

Ding!

A notification was heard on another computer in another place.

"Fuck! For reals?? Sis look at this!"

....

Similar things were happening everywhere. The Witches were in an uproar.

Ding!

"Oh damn, we will be in trouble!"

A Witch exclaimed.

"What is it lindsay?"

"I just got an email which stated that we shouldn't accept a commission."

"Yeah so? Why the big reaction?"

"It's signed and stamped by all the Queen Witches and the Her Excellency Queen Mother herself!"

"What?!!!"

"IKR!"

"Let me see! Let me see!"

"Have a look, here."

The Witch showed the computer screen and said.

The computer screen showed a letter that read

"Dear Sisters,

Please do not accept or recommend any commission regarding breaking a contract of King rank and above from any noble Vampire until further notice. Breaking of this will verdict would be punishable by death without reincarnation.

Yours sincerely,

Witch Queen,

Hecate. "

Below the letter were stamps and signs of other Queen Witches and the Queen Mother, Florencia Rain.

"HOLY MOLY! PUNISHABLE BY DEATH WITHOUT REINCARNATION? FOR REAL?!"

The Witch yelled as if there were no tomorrow.

Not only her, this was happening everywhere and every place where a Witch was present. They all had gotten a notification on their communication devices from the headquarters.

The Witches were deeply shocked and horrified. They had never gotten such a big shock in their life, ever before. A crime punishable to such a death? Any crime could have their sentence lowered if they paid a certain price but this didn't even give them a chance to redeem themselves. On top of that, they wouldn't even reincarnate and it was stamped and signed by every Witch Queen and even the Queen Mother of the Witches!

They understood how serious the situation was. They swore to themselves, they wouldn't ever do something so stupid even if they were beaten to death.

"You heard it right, Bella. Any crime we Witches do could have our sentences lowered if we pay certain price but this isn't even negotiable. It's for the first time that I have witnessed such a scene in my life."

"Me too. Sigh, I only hope that nobody is greedy or foolish enough to do this."

"I hope the same."

The reason for all this panick was Lucy.

Lucy forgot that their family had a Queen Witch, Hecate, serving them and asked one of the King rank maid to send a commission letter about buying King rank contracts to the Witches on behalf of the Evure family.

She got the contracts from Hecate later but she didn't know that she indirectly caused a little chaos among the Witches.

Chapter 38: Royal Banquet

The people in the Queen's district were all eagerly waiting like little kids who were about to go on a field trip. They couldn't wait for the banquet to start.

The reason they were so excited was because they could finally see their Queen. The hadn't seen the face of the Queen and they only knew of her terror. It was the first time that they could see her. They were dying to see her face. They also wanted to know of the new member but most of all, they wanted to see her face.

The whole of the Queen's district was occupied. The hotels were all rented out. Some people who couldn't get in due to all hotels being occupied. The rule of people couldn't stay on the streets still applied.

Thus, some nobles had to wait in the noble district of Evernight city or check into hotels in the City Center of the Evernight city.

Their heart felt as if someone was scratching on it continuously. The itch to see their Queen was too much for them to bear. They still somehow controlled themselves.

Soon their prayers were heard.

The day of the banquet arrived.

As soon as the silver moon started having bright crimson hue spread on it, the people started moving. The ones in the noble district and city center instantly left their hotels and rushed to the Queen's district.

The ones who were invited in the Royal castle also started moving. They were the Count clans and some Viscount clans who made great contribution to the Vampire society and also the Viscount clans with Half Emperor ranks.

Inside the Dracula clan carriage.

"Father, how does the Queen look?" A young boy, same as the age of Lith, wearing a nice tuxedo, who had black hair and black eyes asked.

"You'll know soon." A burly man with the same black hair and black eyes said. He too was wearing a nice tuxedo.

"Tsk. Being all mysterious." The boy clicked his tongue in annoyance.

"Dear, behave yourself. This isn't our territory anymore where you can behave as you like. We are in the Queen's territory and even a single mistake could cost us our family to be wiped out." A mature looking lady, who appeared to be in her late 30s said. She was wearing a beautiful black strapless gown exposing her collar. Her gown had a little slit and showed her beautiful long leg.

"I know, I know, mother. You've told me this a hundred times already." The boy said. Still a bit annoyed.

The three people didn't speak anymore. They kept quiet until their carriage reached the majestic dark castle of the Royal family.

"Wow. It looks really nice. Our castle cannot even be compared to it." The boy said when he saw the Royal castle.

"The inside are even better." The lady said.

The carriage stopped in front of a tall black metal gate. The three people stepped outside.

"Welcome, dear guests. This way please." A butler bowed to them lightly with his one hand on his chest and started walking inside the castle.

The boy looked around and was amazed. The inside indeed did look much better. They were only walking through a common corridor but it had a very velvety red carpet spread. The walls were dark and the ceiling was in a dome shape and it had many engravings on it. There were many paintings attached to the walls along the long corridor. He was about to walk around and look at the painting when the butler said

"Dear guests, please refrain from moving around until we reach the ballroom. It is for your own safety."

The lady held the boy's hand instantly when she heard the butler speak. The boy too didn't move or complain and walked with them quietly. Although he very much wanted to look around, he too knew that acting in a free manner in the castle of a being deemed the strongest wasn't a good idea and stopped.

The lady was surprised looking at her boy. She didn't know what he was thinking but if he is restrained, then it's a good thing.

They soon arrived in the ballroom.

The ballroom was very big. It had many crystal chandeliers hanging on the ceiling. There was food present in the form of buffet at a side. There were many tables and chairs surrounding the center of the hall. The center of the hall was empty.

The three people were soon led to a table which had three seats and there was a metal nameplate on it. It read 'Clan Dracula.' There were similar nameplates on every table and some tables had three chairs while some had four. There weren't more than four chairs. This meant that only four people per Clan were invited or allowed to enter the Royal Castle.

"Dear guests, please be seated. The refreshments will be provided to you shortly. You can move around the ballroom, the courtyard outside and the rooftop of the ballroom. If you feel to freshen up, please go towards that corridor and you'll arrive at the bathrooms available for both ladies and men."

The butler said in a neutral tone and bowed slightly and left. It didn't seem like he carried any respect or disrespect and felt totally like he was only doing his job as a guide. The boy too felt like it had to be done just to be more formal and didn't carry any respect.

The Dracula's didn't feel anything about it. The butler was a half Emperor rank. He really had no reason to show such respect to them as he had a very high rank and on top of that he was the Queen's direct servant and not theirs. They had a cold sweat on them. The Queen had such high rank people as her servants. If they caused any sort of trouble to her, she very well had the ability to replace them almost instantly.

"Dennis, do not cause trouble by any means. That butler himself was a half Emperor rank. The Queen might have more such high rank servants. If we do anything wrong here, she can instantly replace us if she wants."

The boy named Dennis broke out in cold sweat. He thought of his behaviour just a little while ago and shivered in fear. Thankfully, he didn't do anything excess and got off with a light warning. The boy knew how difficult it was to raise their magical ranks. Half Emperor was no joke. He thought in his mind that he definitely should be restrained.

"I w-won't." He said nervously.

"Good that you understand." The lady didn't say anything anymore.

The three people didn't talk about anything and patiently waited for the ball to begin. They were all really on edge right now. It felt to them that any mistake of theirs could cost them dearly and so they didn't even dare to move much even though they were allowed to.

Soon, the other Clans arrived.

All the Count clans were present along with some Viscount clans.

Clan Crimson, Clan Violet, Clan Veranz, Clan Adelstein and Clan Dracula were seated very close to each other and also could see each other. They simply nodded looking at each other and didn't even greet much. They all were very nervous. The Viscount clans were even more so. Even the Counts didn't dare to move much so why would they?

Soon, the lights in the ballroom dimmed a little.

Soon they heard a shout

"Her Majesty, the Queen has arrived!"

All the people in the room stood up and looked at the entrance of the Ballroom. They held their breath and their bodies were very stiff. Although some had once seen the Queen, they had experienced her domineering aura and self firsthand. They knew that she was definitely a person to not be trifled with.

A lady wearing a red strapless silk dress which was very layered at the bottom and thin at the top, wearing a red crown and holding a sophisticated and delicate looking black scepter arrived.

The Royal Banquet had officially begun.

Chapter 39: Royal Banquet (2)

The people in the ballroom looked at the figure walking elegantly and gracefully towards the Ballroom from the corridor.

The figure had an hourglass figure which couldn't be hidden even though she was wearing a layered dress at the bottom. Her thin top cloth gave it all away. Her curvaceous figure couldn't really be hidden. Every man in the room would've been drooling just by looking at the figure or would have felt slightly aroused looking at such a beauty but right now, everyone was very stiff and tense and didn't even dare to breathe loudly.

The figure who had pale skin, red rosy lips, purple eyes like the finest piece of amethyst, long silky and smooth silver hair which was tied up in a bun, making the beautiful neck visible was more terrifying than anything else in the world.

The people felt as if they had tons of weight on put on them and would be crushed into meat paste into anytime. They, felt fear from the bottom of their heart just by looking at the person. Many didn't even look at her and lowered their eyes in fear.

Dennis too felt deep fear. He was now regretting a little for coming to this hell hole. It felt like a sheep willingly jumping into a Wolf's den. He now understood everything his parents had told him. Thankfully, thankfully he had a little sense and restrained himself at the start.

The Vampires would naturally feel such fear. It was because the Queen had intentionally released her Legendary rank aura. It was to give them a little warning to know their place and not to behave stupidly.

She didn't do this last time when she met the Vampire nobles after becoming a Queen and some of those fools looked at her lustfully and some even behaved high and mighty and directly opposed her rule. They obviously got their lesson learnt.

This time, she just gave the Vampire nobles a little warning and let them off. Anything stupid they did again, she definitely wouldn't let the whole race off.

Lilith walked elegantly to a raised platform which was present in front of all the tables and chair. In front of the platform was the empty circular space. Around it were tables and chair in a circular manner. The buffet was at two corners in the end of the hall.

Lilith walked and elegantly sat on a big throne in the middle of the platform. There were two smaller throne on the sides of her throne. She sat upright and held a scepter in hand and looked below at the Vampires as if she were looking at ants.

The nobles watched her move and sit on the throne. After a while of silence, the Counts were the first who composed themselves and said one by one "Greetings, Your Majesty!" Count Dracula put his hand on his chest, bowed and said in respect but mostly fear and nervousness. He was an experienced man and so his fear and nervousness weren't shown and only his respect was visible.

Lilith although noticed all his emotions. It couldn't be hidden from her.

The other people too started greeting and had more or less the same emotions. Nobody had the slightest impure thoughts because of the terrifying pressure the felt upon them.

"Greetings." Lilith said in a neutral tone and domineering tone. Her gentle and motherly side nowhere to be seen.

The people after hearing her didn't say anything anymore. They were waiting for her to speak but she didn't. They also wanted to sit very badly. Their knees almost gave it away due to the Queen's pressure. But, they didn't dare to sit. Why? Because the Queen hadn't told them to.

Soon, Lilith moved her gaze from the people down below and looked at the corridor at the end of the hall. She had a gentle smile on her face when she noticed two figure walking from far away into the corridor. The two figures were walking closer to the hall.

The people down below were shell-shocked. They couldn't believe their eyes. This terrifying figure was actually having a gentle smile on her face. What happened? Where did the haught and domineering self go? They really would've believed it that the person in front of them was a kind, innocent and gentle lady, had it not been for the pressure they were feeling.

"Her Highness, the Princess has arrived with His Highness, the Prince!"

A familiar shout was heard.

Soon, a lady in her early 20s could be seen, she had locked her arms with a young boy who looked like he was just starting to hit puberty walking along the corridor. The lady was very tall and the boy's height only reached around a few inches above the lady's elbow.

The boy was wearing a very good looking black tuxedo with a red bow tie. The lady was wearing a same dress as the Queen, just black in colour. The two figures had silver hair and purple eyes. The lady looked like a little smaller and younger figure of the Queen and the boy looked like a male child version of the Queen.

Nobody even had to hear the shout of introduction to guess who these two are. Just by looking at them they understood that they definitely were the Queen's children.

The two figures went to the raised platform. The Queen stood up and looked at them with a smile.

Lucy walked in front of Lilith and said smiling

"Greetings, mother." and hugged her slightly. Both kissed each other's cheeks.

Lucy then went to the left side of Lilith and stood there.

Lith walked up to his mother and Lilith extended her hand. He took her hand and said "Greetings, mother." And kissed the back of it.

He then stood on her right.

Lilith walked back and sat on her throne in an upright position while holding her scepter. Lucy and Lith followed.

"You may sit." Lilith said looking at the people down below who were still standing.

The people sat down and secretly breathed a sigh of relief. They could finally sit! This felt so comfortable and heavenly to them. They wanted to never get up and give rest to their legs. They felt too good right now. The Queen's pressure was no joke.

"My subjects, today, I officially introduce to you and the world, a new member of the Royal family of the Vampires, the new member of Clan Evure, I, the Vampire Queen, Lilith Evure's son, Lith Evure."

Chapter 40: Royal Banquet (3)

"My subjects, today, I officially introduce to you and the world, a new member of the Royal family of the Vampires, the new member of Clan Evure, I, the Queen, Lilith Evure's son, Lith Evure."

Lilith said in a domineering and overbearing tone for everyone to hear in a voice which was not too loud nor too low.

She didn't really want to play the Queen but her daughter insisted on having her act like a Queen atleast once. She was told that she can quit it after that. Unless of course, she had another child, Lucy joked before to which got her dress pulled up, her panties pulled down and her ass spanked for that joke.

The nobles watching the livestream in the Queen's district were all mesmerized by Lilith's looks. They were also having a little fear by looking at her overbearing self through the screen. They could tell that she was very terrifying just from looking at her.

They obviously didn't see her gentle smile because the scene was cut to Lucy and Lith's arrival. They also had a look at the Queen's children and were shocked to find that they just looked like her. In fact, they looked a little too similar. It was like different versions of the Queen.

After hearing the Queen's little speech, they finally knew the identity of the new member. The Vampire prince, Lith Evure's identity. They had long known of the princess' indentity through their various sources. They had seen her arrive at the arenas sometimes. Thus they knew.

They were staring intently at the screens and they didn't even dare to breathe loudly.

"From today onwards, the Vampire princess, Lucy Evure, would manage the Vampire society's well being. She will have my support."

Lilith said again in the same tone as before.

Lucy nodded at her mother and stood up and said in a overbearing tone like Lilith

"The old generation Vampire Clans challenged my mother's and also their Queen's authority and they paid their price by having all Duke Clans and half the noble clans getting wiped out."

The nobles who listened to Lucy's speech shivered in fear. The one's watching the livestream did too. Had some clan foolishly challenged the Queen's authority again? Where they going to get wiped out? Various thoughts ran through their minds but they didn't speak it out and just listened to what Lucy was saying quietly.

"The Vampire society from then had learned their lesson and thus the matter is over. The Vampire society has now recovered and it is time to upgrade the existing heriarchy of the Vampires."

As soon as Lucy said that, all the Vampires were in an uproar in the Queen's district. The ones in the ballroom didn't say anything but clenched their first in excitement. Finally! Their years of hardwork was now being finally recognised and they were getting the fruits of their labour. They were very excited.

"From today onwards, all the existing Count clans have been promoted to Duke status."

"Long live your highness, the princes! Long live her majesty, the Queen!"

Someone couldn't hold down their excitement in the ballroom and said. The others followed suit. The same occurred in the Queen's district.

"The Viscount clans present in this ballroom and clans with half Emperor ranks would be promoted to Count status."

Cheers followed again.

"The baron clans who have served the society well and clans with King ranks would be promoted to Viscounts."

"The Knights and Dames who have served the society well and the ones who have reached the Half King ranks would be promoted to Barons."

"The commoners who have reached Saint rank within 500 years would be made Knights and Dames and I hope you serve the society well."

"From today onwards, whichever Vampire reaches Saint rank within 500 years would be promoted to Knight or Dame."

"The ones who had or will reach half King rank within 2000 years would be promoted to Barons. King ranks within 5000 years would be promoted to Viscounts. Half Emperor ranks within 20,000 years would be promoted to Counts. Emperor ranks within 50,000 years would be promoted to Dukes."

Everyone in the Queen's district was in an uproar. People were screaming and yelling at the tops of their lungs. They were all too happy right now. This had never happened before. Only nobles could become nobles before but now commoners had a chance too.

Obviously, these excited cheers came from the commoners working in the shops and watching the Livestream and not the nobles themselves. The nobles were excited and happy because they had been promoted.

The ballroom was noisy too.

Lucy didn't say anything anymore and went back to her seat. After a while, everyone calmed down and sat back down in their seats.

Lilith stood up and Lith and Lucy followed everyone stood up too. She looked at Lith and Lucy and then at the people and said

"You may enjoy the banquet now."

She then went to the side of the platform and sat on a chair in front of a round table and looked at her children go down. She sipped on some red wine and watched them.

Lucy locked her arms in Lith's arms and went down for the first dance.

After this, Lith's first time socialising with other people would begin!
