

Vampire's Slice Of Life

Chapter 41: Dennis and Cecilia

Lucy and Lith came down the platform and walked all the way over to the middle of the room.

The lights dimmed and focused only on the middle empty space.

Light, relaxing and elegant music started playing in the room from who knows where and it sounded in the whole room.

Everyone were starting to get relaxed while feeling the music. They watched the Princess and the Prince as they walked in the middle and were anticipating their dance.

Lucy and Lith didn't let them wait much. They started dancing along the light music in a very sophisticated and elegant way.

Lith had practiced with Lucy beforehand many times and was very well versed with dancing now. It would have been him with his mother who would be dancing here right now but on second thought, he decided that he should do a dance with his big sister and let their mother have a good show for herself.

Lith didn't know how to dance. Not in this life and not in the previous one either. It was a little difficult at first when Lucy was teaching him but he soon learnt it very easily. It was easy because the hellish training that Lucy gave him, both physically and mentally for ten years straight, it made him comprehend things much more easily. Movements on what to do next and what after that were easy to memorize and to dance itself was very easy as he had all his physical attributes enhanced, all thanks to her training.

Lilith was enjoying looking at her children dance. She was sipping on a very expensive wine. A wine made for Vampires and could make people upto King rank drunk. She was Legendary so getting drunk wasn't on the list but she liked the taste of the wine a little. She was casually sipping and looking at her children. She had a gentle smile on her face all along as she was watching them. She was also secretly recording this dance video, just so she can enjoy it again secretly.

After a while, the dance came to an end. Lucy and Lith held hands and bowed down a little to the audience.

Clap...clap...

Everyone started clapping. The audience truly enjoyed their dance. The Princess and the Prince really danced really well. Watching them dance like that, they too were itching to have a go.

Lucy took Lith's hand and went near the buffet. She toasted to the nobles in the room and to Lith and sipped on some wine. Lith wasn't given any wine as he was underage and his body was still developing. It may harm his physical attributes a little. He was banned from drinking any form of intoxicating substances until he reached rank 6, after his physical attributes would grow along with his magical ranks. He wouldn't need to train separately after that and also didn't need to worry about any food or water. Magical energy in the world could be absorbed and it would help nourish him.

After Lucy's toast, everyone started enjoying the buffet. Some started dancing, some enjoyed the buffet while some started talking to each other. The atmosphere had become relaxed now. It was because Lucy toasted and also because the Queen left the room.

Lilith had seen everything and there was nothing much to enjoy after her children's dance. Therefore, she left the room and let her children socialize.

Lith was currently sitting on an empty table. There were 4 chairs around it but they were all empty. Lucy was talking to some old fellows about some developments of the Vampire society.

A boy came walking to Lith's side. He was the same age as that of Lith and had black hair and black eyes. He came forward Lith and did a bow and said

"Greetings, your highness."

"Greetings." Lith said with a small smile.

"Your highness, I am Dennis Dracula, son of Duke Reynolds Dracula. Your highness, I wonder if we can exchange pointers about our awakening ceremony."

Looking at this fellow named Dennis, Lith was amused. He was really trying his best to be respectful to him and Lith could tell that this was not his original personality. He could also tell that he was forced to come here and talk to him. 'Maybe his parents saw me sitting alone and pushed this fellow on me.' Lith thought.

He was right. Dennis had been pushed to him because the Duke couldn't talk to Lith himself. There was no topic to talk about in the first place. He couldn't behave like an uncle or something to the Prince or like an elder giving advice either because he was the son of the Queen. She was even older than him. Thus, he smartly pushed his son who was the same age as him.

"We can. Have a seat."

Dennis politely sat on a seat near Lith and they started to talk. Dennis was very on guard at first but when he started talking to the Prince, he realised he was like a child learning from an elder. The Prince had great knowledge and understanding about the awakening ceremony than him. He really took note of everything the Prince was saying, mentally. He even asked some questions to the Prince and had them all cleared. Even his father didn't know so much depth!

Dennis then gradually relaxed and started talking to the Prince as if they were friends. He started cracking small jokes in the middle. As soon as he cracked his first joke, he regretted it. 'Damn it! Why cannot I not be restrained.' he cursed in his mind. Looking at the Prince chuckle a little at his joke, he relaxed very much.

Lith was amused by this fellow's personality. He could tell that this guy was a free spirit. He did whatever he liked to do in an unrestrained way. Once he found out that Lith was very easy going, he gradually began to open up. Lith considered whether to make this guy a friend or not. He seemed like a nice guy. On second thought, Lith decided to not rush to decisions. He would first make him an acquaintance and then see for it later. This guy was only thirteen years old like him, even if he was smart, he shouldn't be too scheming. Lith then decided to test him out later.

While these two were conversing, one lady and a girl were looking at them.

The lady said "Cecilia, go talk to him, look at the Dracula's boy, if he can talk, why can you not? If possible try to make an acquaintance with the Prince. He is so young, it definitely wouldn't be a problem."

"Mother, don't put your hopes too high. The Prince is no ordinary guy. He is the son of the strongest existence, he wouldn't be so gullible, can he?" The girl glared at her mother.

"Fine, fine. At least go talk to him." The lady pushed her daughter to the Prince.

The girl walked over to where Lith was chatting with Dennis. She came forward Lith and said

"Greetings, your highness."

Lith looked at the girl who had come in front of him. She wore a black gown. A little on the conservative side. She had all her curves in the right places and her assets weren't too big nor too small. She seemed like a fit woman. She had red hair and red eyes. Her lips were red and her skin pale. She wore a black hat and her hair was tied in a bun. He didn't know why she wanted to talk to him but nevertheless greeted her back.

"Greetings." Lith stopped the conversation with Dennis and looked at the girl and said.

"Your highness, I am Cecilia Crimson, daughter of Duke Axis Crimson. Your highness, I wonder if I can join in on your conversation with Dennis."

Lith looked at the girl and tried to analyze her. Listening to her speak so fluently, he could tell that she was experienced in being so formal. Although, he didn't understand why she wanted to join, he still let her.

"Sure." He said with a small smile.

Cecilia sat opposite to Dennis and close to Lith.

"So Dennis, what were you talking to your highness about?" Cecilia asked with a smile.

"None of your business Cecilia." Dennis snorted.

'Interesting' Lith thought.

Dennis after realising his blunder said

"Ah, I am so sorry your highness for my rude behaviour." He forgot that he was sitting in front of the Vampire Prince and shouldn't behave like his usual self. He got a little too relaxed.

"I don't mind." Lith said. He wanted to see where this conversation would go of Dennis with Cecilia.

Cecilia looked at Dennis and thought in a concerned way 'This idiot, he doesn't really think before speaking.' She heaved a sigh of relief thinking the Prince was not bothered. She then glared at Dennis and said

"Dennis, restrain yourself a little."

"Sorry." Dennis lowered his gaze and said.

Hmm? What is this relationship between them? Lith thought.

"It's alright. I was exchanging pointers with Dennis about our awakening ceremony."

"Yes, right. Your highness really has a very profound and in depth knowledge about the awakening." Dennis said, a little excited.

Cecilia looked at Dennis, a bit amused. 'This fellow, he doesn't really praise someone like that.' she thought.

"Is that so? Then, can your highness please repeat some important pointers to me too?"

Cecilia wanted to know what made Dennis praise the Prince. She knew he was the son of the strongest being but, Dennis was Dennis. He would only praise when he felt like it and looking at how Dennis seem free in front of the Prince, Cecilia thought that the Prince was easy going.

"Sure."

Lith then had a light conversation with both of them. They were talking about many things related to magic and Dennis would from time to time ask questions and Lith and Cecilia both answered Dennis.

Lith was a little more surprised to see that Cecilia was really interested in talking to Dennis and she didn't even initiate a conversation with him. She only either added to his suggestions or talked to him about how stupid Dennis is in thinking of certain things. He could roughly make out that Cecilia was concerned about Dennis but didn't understand why Dennis was sort of afraid and restrained in front of her. He was like a mouse in front of a cat. He thought these two would make good friends. So he decided, he'll be acquainted with them first.

"Alright, let's stop here now. I have some work to do. Let us have this chat again sometimes. I haven't really been outside, so let's meet someday and visit places, alright?"

"Definitely, your highness. You can come to Dracula territory anytime you want to visit me." Dennis said happily.

"Your highness, you can also visit the Crimson territory anytime you want to." Cecilia said with a small smile.

"I'll see. Please, excuse me." Lith said with a small smile and left.

"Oye dumbass, why can you not be formal even in such occasions? I think you haven't gotten a good beating since a long time." Cecilia said. Unhappy with Dennis' behaviour.

"Ah, I am sorry. The Prince was so nice, I actually forgot that I was talking to a Prince. He seemed more like a friend to me."

"How come he 'seemed like a friend' to you. How did you even compare? You don't even have friends, stupid." Cecilia made fun of him and chuckled.

"S-shut up. Hmph! I don't even want to talk to you and waste my time." Dennis snorted and left.

The banquet was continuing. The guests were enjoying themselves. The Evure family had left the ballroom long ago. The people didn't mind it. They actually were somewhat relieved. They didn't need to be too tense now. These people have attended a lot of banquet and had many gatherings with each other. They were familiar to one another and thus were relaxed now.

Lith came to the Queen's quarters, into his mother's bedroom and he saw his mother and big sister sitting on a table with three chairs, chatting happily.

He walked to them, smiled and said

"Mom, big sis, you two look very beautiful today." And gave a kiss on their lips.

"You also look handsome, my baby." Lilith said smiling.

"Yes, dear. You look very handsome." Lucy nodded and added to her mother's words.

Lith then sat beside them and started having a light chat with them.

Chapter 42: End of Banquet

The Banquet came to an end. The people were then sent outside one by one and they left the Royal castle. They left happily and very content. They had gotten promoted! They had also seen the Queen! They had also seen the new member!

Just too many things happened to them in one day. The long living Vampires got very riled up after leaving. They wouldn't forget these days in their long lives. They were relaxed and happy. But, all weren't.

The Queen's district was in an uproar. People were yelling, shouting, cheering, drinking and partying everywhere. They never thought that today they wouldn't only be able to look at the Queen, but also be promoted!

The noble and elegant Queen's district now seemed like an adventurers pub. Everyone was just too happy! They somewhat forgot about the new member of Clan Evure.

Although they had all signed a contract, some information leaking was inevitable. The contract only stated to not talk anything about the new member. Thus, news of the new hierarchy of the Vampires had been known throughout the world.

Some information about the new member still leaked out. The only thing that leaked was that the Vampires had a new Prince. That's it. How he looked, what was his name, nothing was out.

Many people in the world didn't know about Lilith Evure or even Clan Evure. They only knew that the Vampires had a strong being protecting them and she was the Vampire Queen. That's it. Many people didn't even know of the Royal family's or the Vampire Queen's name.

The Witches didn't even dare to pry into the information of about Clan Evure. They knew that the only thing they could get from this was death. Death without reincarnation. They were scared senseless. They didn't want to risk it for some money. Life was better than money. Thus, only a little leaked out.

The news spread everywhere in the world almost the next day after the end of the royal banquet. People were going crazy listening to the news. The news about the new heirarchy of the Vampires was a little too much for everyone. Everyone subconsciously forgot about the new Vampire Prince and focused on the new heirarchy. Except, of course, three people.

In a dark majestic palace that looked a little scared and holy, unlike it's dark nature, inside a dark room where the only light came from the source of a big television screen.

An elegant lady was looking at the tv screen while in a sleeping position on the couch in a not so elegant manner. She was sleeping on her side with one of her hand supporting her head and the other hand taking some chips out of a packet. She was resting, eating and watching tv.

She looked in her early 30s, had glossy long black hair and black eyes like the deepest darkness, and was wearing nothing but laced black panties and an oversized black tshirt which still couldn't hide her big breasts which were dangling due to her sleeping on her sides.

She had two red horns protruding from the sides of her head and it didn't make her look ugly at all. She looked as if without the horns, she wouldn't be complete at all. They looked very beautiful on her. The horns had certain black engravings on them and it looked to be very ancient, scared and majestic. They depicted the passage of time and also the majesty of the lady and her youthfulness.

Her face was devoid of any fat even though she appeared to be eating snacks so much. It was very perfect and if she weren't to be in such a not so elegant manner, and behaved dignified, she definitely would look like a goddess.

It was Lucifer, the Supreme rank of the Demon race. She was watching news right now while eating chips. The chips were made out of tier 8 beasts and given to her by the seven overlords of the Demon race. They took care of her daily needs and she just lazed around, continuing to be a neet.

She was watching news about the release of a new anime when the broadcasting stopped in the middle and another news was started playing. She was annoyed. If she weren't a neet and liked to do nothing but be lazy, she would've gone to raze their studio to the grounds for this stupidity.

Nevertheless, she continued watching and found out that it was about Vampires. Her interest piqued. She perked her ears and listened intently to the news. The news said about the new hierarchy and that there was a new Vampire Prince.

"Oh? Interesting. That bitch finally made an official entry of her son into this world and didn't keep him in her castle all day long with her. Hmph! How dare she! She didn't even let me visit her even once in these thirteen years. I hate that bitch!"

Lucifer said in an annoyed tone. She was like a little girl complaining about not getting her favourite candy. She then picked up her phone and dialed a few numbers.

Chapter 43: Alex Paladin

Inside a majestic, holy and scared white and gold palace.

In the Heavenly court.

A dignified and domineering man was sitting on a big throne on a raised platform holding a silver sword which was sheathed. The man had no beard or moustache and his face brimmed with vitality. His deep blue eyes depicted the vicissitudes of life and one look at them and a person could understand that he had been through many experiences.

He had blonde hair which almost looked golden and his hairstyle was that of a fade cut. Correct. A fade cut. The dignified man was keeping up with the new age.

He was wearing a majestic blue and white robe befitting of his Emperor status.

There were many people in the Heavenly court. All looked dignified and sacred. Some had many pairs of white wings that looked holy on their backs. They were discussing certain things in the Emperor's court.

They were the Angel kings! And the man up above was the Heavenly Emperor, Alex Paladin!

The domineering man was looking down at the people in a very overbearing and indifferent way. Suddenly, he heard something vibrate in his pant's pocket. He removed the vibrating thing and it appeared to be a smartphone. The man checked who was calling him and when he saw the name 'Little girl' on the phone, he flashed a gentle smile. His indifferent and overbearing self gone. He looked around and said in a domineering way

"Silence."

Everyone instantly shut up. They didn't even dare to breathe loudly when the man asked them to keep quiet. They then looked at him and thought 'Why did his majesty stop us?'

Alex picked up the phone and put it near his ear and no sooner he heard a gentle and melodious voice

"Old man, did you see the news?"

Lucifer said from the other side in a gossipy tone.

She always called her grandfather to gossip about if everyone else was busy. Mayzin was sleeping and didn't pick up the phone. Agalea was busy doing something with her daughter and couldn't talk and well, she couldn't bitch about Lilith to Lilith herself, can she? She knew if she did something stupid like that, she'd have her butt swollen for a few days.

Therefore, she called her old man that is, her grandfather, Alex Paladin to gossip and bitch about others.

Alex felt lonely when his little girl, that is, his granddaughter didn't keep in contact with him. She would ignore him for years and would only meet him at the Supreme ranks' meeting every 25 years or he would have to go to her place.

He avoided going to her place as much as possible because if he did, she would make him run some errands. He was the Heavenly Emperor alright? Making him do errands? What sort of existence was capable of this? Even he felt bewildered thinking of how easily his granddaughter ordered him ahem I mean asked him to do certain things. In any case, he did it anyhow. He loved his granddaughter as she was his only family. Although he had descendants and his bloodline was continuing, he didn't even know which generation was going on. He was older than Lilith and Lucifer combined.

Anyway, he loved it when his granddaughter called him and would always make sure to talk to her whenever she called. Lucifer too knew that her old man would pick up. He was as jobless as her, is what Lucifer thought of him.

He didn't know that he was really at the bottom list of priorities of Lucifer. If he knew, he would really be heartbroken.

"What news? Little girl." Alex said with a gentle smile on his face. His voice was tranquil and smooth. It made people feel relaxed and comfortable in front of him. His body, face and voice didn't match his age at all. He looked some sort of God who had descended in the Mortal world.

The people down there in the Heavenly court were used to this. Their Emperor from time to time would get a call from someone to whom he called 'Little girl' and he would become a very benevolent and gentle. Although their Emperor was not a rogue or aggressive in any way to them, he was still domineering and very overbearing. Only at times like these would he become gentle which were completely in line with his looks.

He looked really benevolent and kind but was indifferent and overbearing to them which didn't match his looks and only did when someone called 'Little girl' called. They still didn't know who this person was and they didn't even try to know. They would be beheaded for sure if they poked their nose into business of such a powerhouse. Even though the Emperor acted so kindly to this person, they never dared to assume anything and still respected and feared him deeply. They knew that, the Emperor cared about this person and even his hairstyle was due to this person. Thus they shut up and waited for him to finish his call. They knew, if they interrupted, they died.

"Old man, how behind are you in times? Check the news later. Don't do it now. My favourite anime would be coming soon and I don't want to waste more time. I'll tell you briefly. The Vampires have a new hierarchy for nobles and that bitch who banned me from entering her place thirteen years ago introduced her son to the world. Although the news only stated that there was a new Vampire Prince. What do you think old man? Why did that bitch only let the news of there being a new Prince let out? I am very confused about this." Lucifer said. A little impatiently and a little confused and curious.

"I think it's because she doesn't want to jeopardize on her son's adventures and experiences. If people got to know that he was the Vampire Prince, he would be treated in a way which he wasn't meant to. Some would treat him like a god, some would try to curry favor him, some would even try to assassinate him and this isn't a good thing for anyone. If word got that he is dead, to his mother, the whole world will have Doomsday arrived upon them. Everyone will die and everything will be destroyed.

Thus, she did the right thing by letting only specific news out. It may be done only to protect him but this is good news to us and everyone. There are a lot of different types of people in the world and some would for sure be foolish enough to do something stupid like that. Thus, it is not only for his own good but also ours as well." Alex calmly and gently expressed his opinion to Lucifer on this matter. His was very tranquil and gentle and even though his words were like that, it appeared as if he wasn't bothered one bit even if the whole world died today.

"O-o-old m-man are you....serious?" Lucifer asked in a little trembly and in a low voice.

"Dear, do you not know what happened when just a little minor injury occurred to her daughter? A big piece of land vanished from the world without a trace. And what do you think would happen when her son that she loves dearly is gone? It is obvious.

Everything would be killed and everything would be annihilated. There would not be any traces of this world ever existing. She would then kill herself after making sure that no one is ever born again."

Gasp.

Lucifer gasped hard on the other side and not only her, everyone in the Heavenly court did so too. The people in the Heavenly court could roughly make out about who the Emperor was talking about. They didn't know the gravity of this matter was so serious. They didn't dare doubt the words of their Emperor. If the Emperor himself said he would die so casually, they would never doubt the fact that they too would die.

"T-that b-b-bitch! She is crazy! She is too crazy! This madwoman! Holy hell! Old man, we won't really die right?" Lucifer cursed and panicked.

"Of course, we won't. We just have to ensure that her son is alive. Everything would be fine then. " Alex said with the same tone as casually as ever.

"So? How should I do that?" Lucifer asked. A bit confused. If she was troubled, she'd ask her grandfather for help selfishly without hesitating. Alex doted on her, so helped her and spoiled her with no qualms.

"It's simple, really. Do nothing. Just let it be and let nature take it's course. If we are fated to die, we all will die."

"Old man, what bullshit! What fate! Don't give me this crap! Tell me what to do." Lucifer was a little angry on her grandfather.

"Calm down, dear. Listen to me." Alex said in the same tone as before. Not minding his granddaughter being so rude.

"You must have realised or atleast had complaints raised by many people in the world that many astrologers cannot calculate fate or check anything about destiny at all. Correct? It is because when a person of that rank is born or is currently living in the world, fate and destiny become very uncertain.

Before they were probabilistic but now they are completely incalculable or in better terms, uncertain. Fate cannot be calculated and thus destiny cannot be measured anymore. The reason is because, the presence of such a being. Any changes she does and any moves she makes, may turn the wheel of fate to reverse or topple and alter destiny.

New timelines would be created every moment she makes a move. She has the capability to do such changes. Thus, if she ever had the slightest thought one day of destroying the world, destiny of all beings would be altered. Therefore, as of now, everything is uncertain and the best thing we can do is let everything flow naturally. We Supreme ranks shouldn't use our powers and alter things. Let it go and let it flow naturally. Do you understand now, dear?" Alex said in the same gentle and benevolent tone. His voice didn't show neither concern nor panick. He was as calm as a still lake.

Lucifer didn't say anything for a while. After a few minutes.

"I am s-sorry, g-g-grandfather." Lucifer sobbed a little. She regretted yelling at her grandfather. No matter what, she was the one who was rude and misunderstood him. Thus, she apologized. Although Lucifer was a problem child, she wasn't a bad child. She apologized when needed and stayed carefree the rest of the time.

"Haha, little girl, I don't mind you yelling like that. Don't worry about such a thing." Alex chuckled a little and had some emotion in his ever tranquil voice.

"T-thankyou g-grandfather." Lucifer stuttered. She really wasn't used to calling him grandfather but now that she was at fault, she acted obediently like a good child.

"Anyway, how have you been? Are you eating well? Have you been doing some jobs or are you only lazing around? Hey? Hey? HEY? HEY DON'T CUT THE CALL!" Alex broke out of character and roared when Lucifer hung up. This always happend when he asked her such questions. His little girl would just never satisfy any of his concerns. He was always annoyed a little by this behaviour. She would hang up as soon as he brought this topic.

The people in Heavenly court, all were listening intently to Alex's conversation. They were used to him roaring like that in the end. They still did not know who was on the other side who was getting so much pampered by the Heavenly Emperor himself and who had the balls to hang up on his face mid talking.

They were very seriously listening to everything. They were at a loss on what to do. They did not know that such a serious matter would require them to do nothing. It was like telling them, if they die, they die. And when they asked why? The answer would be, because nature wants us to. We were born without our wishes, we may as well die without our wishes. Thus, they were at a loss and a little depressed.

The Heavenly Emperor looked at the Angel Kings below and said in a dignified and solemn voice, all his previous gentleness and tranquility gone,

"No word should get out about this matter. If it does, you know what will happen right?" The Heavenly Emperor said in an indifferent voice.

The people felt a chill down their spine when they heard him. They very well knew that the Emperor was threatening them but his indifference caused them more dread than anything else. They seriously nodded their head, bowed and said

"Yes, Your majesty."

Chapter 44: Becoming Shameless

While all of the news were spreading like wildfire in the world, the mentioned party of the news, the Vampire Prince, was currently relaxing.

Lith was currently sitting on Lucy's lap and Lucy was sitting on Lilith's lap. They were on bed and in such a position. They haven't changed yet. The banquet was just yesterday. They were talking at first and then they decided to watch a nice tv show they found out. They were so absorbed that they binged it together.

Lilith, wasn't too interested in the tv show. She just watched them because her kids liked it. They have been watching the show for about a few hours now.

Lith turned around and grabbed his sister's boobs out of her black dress. She looked at him and then looked back at the tv. She let him do whatever he wanted. Lith lowered her dress and her two boobs got out. He looked at it for a few seconds and admired it. He then started sucking on one of her boob and started playing with the other one.

Lilith looked at Lith and smiled. She didn't stop him, nor did she interrupt him. She then turned her attention to the tv show.

Lith played with his sister's boob for a while and let it go. He then looked at the her breasts which were hanging and also the dress which was pulled down. She looked very beautiful. He put her breasts back in place and dressed her. He then got up and looked at his mother and sister and said smiling

"Mom, big sis, come let's take a picture."

Lilith and Lucy didn't know what was with this sudden request but still complied.

Lith set up the camera and came in between Lilith and Lucy and hugged them via their waist. The two ladies went along with his antics happily.

Click!

The picture got captured and it was instantly printed out. I took it and put it in a diary. The diary was a magical book which couldn't be destroyed easily. I wrote below the picture

'I met noble Vampires of the Vampire race today in a banquet. It was hosted by my family, Clan Evure. It's host being my mother, the Vampire Queen and co-host my sister, the Vampire Princess. It was a great day. I had my first dance with my sister and also met two interesting Vampires. One was of my age and the other, I do not know. All in all, nothing of importance happend and I socialized for the first time a little.'

Mother came over and looked at what I was writing. She read it and said smiling

"Writing a diary, baby?"

"Yes, mom. I'll try to record as much of my adventures as possible in this diary so that when I grow up, I can look back at it."

"Oh, that's a great idea. I support it. Mama too will write a diary from now on." Lilith nodded and kissed Lith on his cheeks.

"I too support it." Lucy nodded and said.

Lith then closed the diary and put it in his space ring. His space ring was made by his mother and given to him after his awakening. It was a good piece of equipment. The space inside the space ring was very big. He could even make it much more bigger if he improves his understanding of Space Laws.

He then went towards the bathroom to pee. His mother followed him.

"Mom, no. I am big now. I can do it myself." Lith said in a neutral tone.

When he was small, his mother would hold his shaft and make him pee whenever he went to the toilet. She never missed any opportunity to do so later either. He rejected her many times but she still did her thing. She only stopped before a few weeks of his awakening and up until now because Lith was very busy with training and other stuff. Now he was free and why would she let go of this matter?

"Fufufu....what do you mean by big, baby? Big where?" She chuckled and teased.

Lith was embarrassed. He quickly ran into the bathroom and shut the door. He didn't see his mother coming, but he didn't lower his guard. He knew his mother was very fast and he couldn't even track her with his movements. He warily went to the toilet while looking around. He didn't drop his guard one bit. He really couldn't find his mother. He was growing nervous now. He couldn't take it anymore. The unknown always haunted everyone and thus he gave up. He knew that even if he tried, his mother would come at him in the most unexpected moment. He thus wisely gave up. He sighed and said

"Alright, mom. I give up, you win."

Lilith came out of nowhere behind him and hugged him from the back and chuckled and said

"Fufufu....helping my baby in small errands like these really are fun. You shouldn't take mama's right to do so."

"Mom, I am not a baby anymore and these 'helpful' stuff are only done to babies who can not do it themselves. Doing this to a growing child is not a good idea." Lith sighed and said.

"Oh? Why isn't it a good idea?" Lilith asked while maintaining her hug from behind.

"Sigh. You will know soon, mom." Lith sighed and gave up.

He really couldn't explain his mother everything. She wanted to be a part of his everyday life and do whatever small things she could with him and spoil him. He didn't hate it, he was just embarrassed. He knew that people's lifespan in this world was almost inexhaustible. Thus, they would try to find entertainment in whatever way possible. His mother's way of it was to do activities with him and his big sister. It could be anything from watching a movie together to having an intimate session or like the small stuff that was now going on.

Immortals were crazy!

He walked towards the toilet and stood in front of it. Not doing anything. Lilith chuckled and felt good after looking at Lith being so obedient. She removed his pants and took his shaft in her hand's and let him do his thing. Lith was embarrassed and so he couldn't do it. Lilith knew about it. It happend almost everytime. She nibbled on his ears and waited for him to relax. She was in no hurry.

Lith gradually relaxed and did his thing but at the end his mother stroked it a little to let the remaining thing out. He knew this would happend. He was even more embarrassed now. He closed his eyes and said in his mind 'fuck it. Let's just do everything immoral there is to do. She can do whatever she wants, I do not care anymore.'

Lilith was about to let go of his shaft when she felt it getting semi solid from being limp. She now understood why he was so resistant about it. She nibbled on his earlobe and gently whispered to him

"Is this the reason why you were so resistant, Baby?"

"Y-yes." Lith said in embarrassment with his eyes still closed.

"Fufufu...but doesn't this only indicate that you like mama's touch?" Lilith said and started gently stroking his shaft and making it erect almost instantly.

Lith didn't reply to her and let her do whatever she wanted. Thankfully, there was no need to flush as waste was handled by magic circles on it's own or else it would be a pretty disgusting sight.

Lilith understood that he was embarrassed. She chuckled at his reaction and turned around along with him, she closed the toilet seat and sat on it while making him sit on his lap. She then started stroking his shaft again. She whispered in his ear

"Do you hate mama's touch, baby? If you do, I'll stop it."

Lith didn't hate it. He was only embarrassed with her ways of doing things. She was a little too crazy and doting. Who would've thought that after his reincarnation, he'll have things delivered to him on a silver platter? He didn't even need to make many moves and he got the love of two beautiful ladies. On top of that, both were very strong and also his family. He wanted to be a strong and overbearing person who could look after his women and love and protect them but who would've thought that the roles would be reversed in such a way. He couldn't say no to his mother, can he? He was a little thin skinned or else he would've tried to be the dominant one. He really couldn't do it, in front of his mother atleast. He swore in his mind that after this session was over, he would let go of all embarrassment and become as crazy as his mother and dominate both, his sister and mother in bed. He would try to, atleast.

Lith didn't realise it but he was starting to become crazy like his mother subconsciously. It can be called as 'The apple doesn't fall far from the tree.' He had started to break his bottom line which he had formed due to being an inexperienced virgin. He had already been stripped off his virgin status and now he was only inexperienced in these stuff. He had tasted two forbidden fruits which he shouldn't have and thus, it was now starting to show effect. He was slowly but steadily, becoming shameless.

He closed his eyes and thought of what he would do next. The only thing that came in his mind was to punish his mother for embarrassing him so much. He thought that he would, after this session, pound her senseless.

He thought all of this very quickly and replied in a shameless way

"I don't hate it. Please keep going, mama."

Lilith was a bit amused. Was her baby okay? He wasn't embarrassed one bit while saying this. She said in a teasing tone

"Ara, what pill did my baby take today? He isn't embarrassed one bit. Sitting in his mother's lap, in the toilet and getting his dick stroked from his mama's hand."

Lith, after listening to it was trying very hard not to get embarrassed. His face and ears turned red but he didn't show any excess movement. He didn't reply to her let her stroke his dick.

Lilith chuckled looking at her baby who was trying his best to not be embarrassed. She didn't say anything anymore and continued stroking his shaft gently. She knew that a day would come when her two little babies would stop getting embarrassed and not give her cute reactions but she was okay with it. It just meant that her babies were growing up and maturing well.

She understood one fact very well, it was that, the days to come would be even more fun when her babies start maturing. How they would be better? She didn't know. It was just her instincts. Thus, she didn't feel sad and only felt happy while looking at her baby controlling his emotions.

Chapter 45: Deal

A mother and son pair were bonding together. This would've been a good thing as it would mean that they are very close, but the problem was, they were too close.

The son was sitting in his mother's lap. It would've been okay, but, they were in the toilet, his pants were down and his mother's hand was stroking his shaft. They were doing taboo things which weren't morally correct.

They were Lith and Lilith inside the toilet of Lilith's bedroom. Lith had gone in to just relieve himself but Lilith followed him together and one things lead to another and now they were in this position.

Lith had his eyes closed and was enjoying the handjob from his mother. She was doing it gently and so it felt a little relaxing along with feeling good.

Lilith stopped her hands and whispered in Lith's ear

"Are you just going to sit there and enjoy your mama giving you a handjob, baby?"

Lith was feeling good but when Lilith stopped, he felt empty a little. It was like something was taken away from him. He knew his mother was teasing him again and so to not let her tease him anymore, he said gently

"Yes, mom." Although he didn't show any embarrassment, his slightly blushed face and red ears gave it away.

Lilith didn't start stroking him again but said gently

"Baby, shouldn't you be calling me mama instead of mom?"

"I am a grown up now, mom. I won't." Lith said gently. He knew his mother loved him dearly and it didn't matter to her whether he and his big sis called her mom, mother or mama.

"Sigh, my babies are all grown up now and they won't call this poor old lady mama anymore. This is so sad." Lilith sighed and said in a pitiful expression.

Lith was amazed by his mother's acting. If he didn't know her better, he definitely would've thought that she was serious right now and not joking. He played along by saying

"Yes, very sad. Now please be a good mom, mom."

"Hmm, I wonder what my baby means by being a good mom." Lilith joked again.

"Mom, please. Can we not talk about something so embarrassing?" Lith almost broke character now. He was getting impatient a little. He was getting agitated and really wanted his thing to be touched!

"Fufufu....Baby, we are doing something very embarrassing right now, the talk is nothing. Now tell mama what do you want and she'll fulfill your wishes." Lilith chuckled and said.

"Ugh. Mom, please give me a handjob." Lith turned very red right now and said impatiently.

"Hmm, good things are only given to good children. Currently, a baby isn't willing to call his mama as mama. The baby is being a bad baby you know?" Lilith teased yet again. It didn't matter to her as to what her children called her but when they did call her mama, she would feel that her children were still small babies to whom she could spoil silly. She felt a little more closer to them too. Nothing matters more than being close to her children, to her. The Vampire Queen was indeed very crazy.

"Mama....please." Lith said in a low voice. His face burning.

"Fufufu....see? It was so easy. Now if you promise mama to call her like that all the time, then she'll give you a handjob happily. Maybe something more. What do you say? Deal?" Lilith didn't give up on wanting to be called mama if the opportunity was present in front of her.

"I promise to call you mama, mom. But only in private." Lith said impatiently without thinking twice.

"Fufufu....now this is what a good baby seems like." Lilith chuckled and started stroking Lith's dick. She didn't suffer a loss at all. This time she won big time. Who knew her trip to the toilet would be so fruitful.

"Mhm." Lith moaned a little in satisfaction after finally feeling the familiar touch of his mother.

Lilith kept stroking his dick and made him feel good. In the middle of the handjob, she stood along with him. She turned him over and squatted down and took his dick in her mouth. Lith almost came from this sudden sucking feeling he felt when his mother put it in her mouth. She continued sucking his dick and moving her hands. Lith almost couldn't take it anymore!

"Mhm. Mom....I am close..."

Lith moaned a little in pleasure and said.

Lilith instantly stopped doing what she doing.

Lith suddenly felt being brought to hell from the highest heaven. He became a little agitated and looked down with a look that said 'why? Why did you stop?'

Lilith smirked looking at him and said

"Shouldn't you be calling this old lady of yours, mama?"

Lith understood his blunder. He said impatiently

"Mama, please continue."

Lilith smiled happily and started sucking his dick and moving one of her hand along.

She could feel his dick buldging more than it's usual size and knew it was time. She started moving faster and faster. She twirled her tongue around his tip and bobbed her head forward and backward.

"Ah....I am...ugh..."

Lith couldn't even finish what he was saying when he felt a powerful suction force and climaxed. A huge amount of semen gushed out and into Lilith's mouth. She expertly swallowed all of it.

Lith felt his mind go blank. He collapsed and fell forward. Lilith caught him and rested his head on her shoulder. She stood up and cast a cleaning spell on themselves. She then dressed him up and carried him outside. She was holding him by his butt. His legs were dangling on her sides, his hands were around her chest and his head was resting on her shoulder. He was half awake.

Lilith walked outside the bathroom carrying him like a baby, like old times. She felt great carrying him like that. Lucy looked at her mom carrying her little brother as if he were a small infant. She asked curiously

"What happend mom? What took you so long?"

"Hmm, do you really want to know, dear?" Lilith smirked and asked.

"Yes, mom." Lucy didn't understand the smirk of her mother and asked boldly.

"I took him to pee but then I ended up giving him a handjob and a fellatio." Lilith smiled and said.

"Oh. I-i see." Lucy got embarrassed and said with a red face.

"By the way, a fellatio is also call-"

"Stop! Stop! I understand. Please come to sleep." Lucy interrupted her mother and said hurriedly, not wanting to hear any vulgar words from her mother.

"Fufufu...you know dear, we also made a small deal in there." Lilith chuckled and said.

"What deal?" Lucy asked, a little curious.

"I'll only touch him if he calls me mama in private. This was the deal." Lilith smiled and said.

"Oh, is that so? Good for you then." Lucy nodded in understanding.

"Hmm? Wouldn't you call this old lady of yours mama too?" Lilith asked in a sad face.

"Do I have an option to decline?" Lucy sighed and said.

"Of course, dear. It's not like anyone is forcing you, is it?" Lilith smiled and said.

Lith woke up at this time. He raised his head and looked around and found out he was in his mother's arms like how he was used to when he was a baby. He turned a little red with shame. He held his mother a little tighter to hide from it.

Lilith found Lith had woken up and chuckled after seeing his cute reaction.

Lith suddenly remembered that he would punish his mother when they got out. He suddenly struggled out of her arms and stood in front of her. He took her arms and pulled her closer to him and collapsed on the bed. He then rolled over and pinned her arms and said

"Mama, you shouldn't bully your child like that. This child will punish you now, for being a bad mama."

He subconsciously didn't break the deal from before and followed it.

"Ara, is that so? Then please go a little easy on this bad mama of yours." Lilith chuckled and said, a bit amused by her son's sudden behaviour.

"Alright. Now get ready for your punishment."

Chapter 46: Crazy Vampires

Lucy looked at her brother being so proactive. She thought to herself 'Sigh, so he is finally starting to become like mom.'

Lith looked at Lilith and he didn't wait anymore. He got down and pulled Lilith's red dress up. He turned her panties to the side and rubbed his shaft on her lower lips.

Lilith looked at her son and had a smirk on her face. She was looking forward to what he was about to do. She didn't stop him at all and she was waiting.

Lith found that it wasn't wet enough. He took out some type of liquid from his spatial ring and poured it on his shaft and also some on Lilith's lower lips. Then, without waiting anymore, he thrust it one go.

"Ughh."

Lith groaned in a little pain. He then looked at his mother and found her smirking. He said in a bit of pain

"Why is it so tight? Didn't we do it just a few days ago?"

"Fufufu....baby, did you forget who we are?" Lilith chuckled and said.

"Huh?" Lith didn't know what she was speaking about.

"Baby, did you forget that we are Vampires? We have the most superior self-healing ability. This was bound to happen." Lilith explained and giggled.

Lucy looked at them and also at her brother thinking 'shouldn't he know about this?' she was also a little red when she saw them having such a conversation while staying in such a position.

Indeed, Vampires did have the most superior healing abilities. They were a very troublesome bunch to kill. Vampires under rank 5 could get killed by being under the sun and above those ranks, they were all immune to it. Another way to kill them was to turn them into meat paste. One cannot leave any body part intact of a Vampire or else they may get healed some time later.

The healing ability depended upon the strength of a Vampire. A commoner rank 1 Vampire who has a cut on his palm would get it healed within a few mins whereas if it is a noble rank 1 Vampire with strong bloodline, the wound would heal in a few seconds.

All in all, due to this, the Vampire ladies would have their insides healed after some time depending upon their strength. They may not get back their hymen after losing their virginity but they sure would go back to being how they were, when they were virgins.

Due to this reason, many preferred Vampire ladies to have a night with and there would thus be a red light areas in every city in the Vampire continent. Their sizes would vary depending upon the city size. There wasn't a red light area in the Evernight city. It was because it was the Queen's city, a place where she lived and people didn't want to commit blasphemy in such a sacred land. Thus, Evernight city was the only exception in the Vampire continent.

The ones who needed some action would have to travel atleast for a day to Red Leaver city which was known for it's minerals and mining. It was to the west of Evernight city and it was the area which produced a lot of precious materials such as ores and magic stones. It provided a lot of revenue to Clan Evure as all of these mines were under them. The city also had the biggest red light area. The area was known as red lake district. It's name was as such because it was located near a big lake which had some parts of it red due to certain natural phenomenon.

While it was a good experience for the others, it was annoying to the ladies who had to endure a little pain everytime. Thus, the alchemy department of the Vampires came up with special oils and medicines. The ladies who didn't want to experience healing down there would buy these oils and medicines. The oils could be applied beforehand on the man's shaft and after penetration, they would only need to wait a little. After the inner walls have been adjusted, they could continue their session. The effects of the oils would last from a few days to a few years depending upon the quality of the oil. They ones which last for a few years cost a lot of money and are only purchased by ladies who are rich and do it frequently or by ladies who have a very strong self healing ability. The effect of the cheap quality oils wouldn't even last for a few hours on strong ladies and the highest quality oils only last for about a few months at best.

The medicines are cheap and they were just some painkillers. They didn't work like the oils and only helped in relieving the pain. The medicine also had quality. From cheap to premium. The ladies with a very high strength would need to buy the premium ones. These ladies were generally the noble ones in the Vampire continent.

They would frequently have sex with their husbands or they would commit adultery on a regular basis. This was very common among the noble Vampires. The reason being, it spiced things up. Many bizzare things happen among the Vampires and they weren't called as the craziest bunch for nothing. One can find every fetish and every dark or immoral things in the Vampire continent on a daily basis, the Evernight city being an exception of course.

The Vampires also had many conflicts too, on a day to day basis. The Vampire men who would get cuckold would either kill the other man and the lady or they would join into the sinful acts. There was no in between. A Vampire couple would sometimes even invite people to do immoral things together. Truly a very crazy bunch.

Thankfully, Lith was a human before he was born as a Vampire and from a place like Earth where such deeds weren't out in open. He was more or less against the darker sides of such things. He would never do things which do not lie in his interest and also, he is very inexperienced as of now. He has only taken his first step into this crazy world by punishing his mother, which, he currently is doing now.

Lith still didn't understand what his mother was telling him about. Lilith then explained to him about the healing abilities and about the special oils and medicines.

Lith listened to his mother speak and after she finished, he was in a little thought. After a while, he smirked and looked at his mother and then at his sister and said shamelessly

"The oils and medicines definitely won't work on mama and you big sis. You two are very powerful. I think, I may need to keep pounding you both everyday. It won't hurt that way."

Lucy turned embarrassed and Lilith giggled at her son's joke.

"Fufufu.... Yes, yes, do it everyday. Mama likes having such intimate session with her babies." Lilith chuckled and said as if it were a common thing.

Lucy was very red right now. Her mother was too much and now her little brother also had started to become more and more shameless like her. Just how long will she have to get embarrassed like this? The inexperienced adult Vampire thought to herself.

Chapter 47: Vacation

Lith didn't say anymore. He started thrusting in and out of Lilith's tight pussy and bent down and started sucking milk out of her big breasts. He kept fucking her like that for a while. Lucy was only watching him from the sides. Lilith turned to Lucy and said smiling

"Come here, give mama a kiss, dear."

Lucy didn't think of doing what her mother asked but she still started walking towards her. Lucy was very embarrassed and didn't take the initiative to kiss her mother. Lilith knew about this and thus cupped her face and started kissing Lucy. This went on for a while until Lucy felt a soft thing poke on her mouth's entrance. She immediately opened her mouth realising what it was. Thus, a passionate kiss started happening between a mother and daughter.

Lith kept pounding Lilith and Lilith would give muffled moans into Lucy's mouth. After a while, Lucy broke the kiss and Lith started thrusting his cock into Lilith's pussy faster. He was reaching his limit.

"Ah...ahh... Yes, baby...faster...ah.."

Lilith moaned and said. She too was reaching her limit.

Making a Legendary rank orgasm by being a mere rank 1 wasn't possible. Lilith would always suppress her magic level and become a normal lady without any magic. Thus, she enjoyed these fun things with her son and daughter.

"Ah...baby...I am cumming...ahhhhh..."Lilith moaned.

"Ughh" Lith groaned in pleasure and climaxed along with Lilith.

Lilith was having the time of her life while Lith started having clarity return to him. He soon got embarrassed thinking of all the shameful things he had said a while ago.

He didn't want to continue anymore. He looked at his mother who was breathing heavily and down at her pussy where he just gave her a creampie. Her pussy dripping with his cum really looked very beautiful to him now.

He then looked at his sister and thought 'Ah, I forgot about big sis. I am so tired right now, I cannot do it with her. I am sorry big sis.'

Indeed he was very tired. Since yesterday, he attended the banquet, talked the whole night with his mother and big sis, binged a tv show and orgasmed twice due to his mother. This was very tiring. He thought to himself on how to make up for this.

He then realised, he had never had any alone time with his big sis. Everytime, their mother would be with them. He didn't hate his mother but he only now realised, he hadn't given her his time much. He soon got an idea. He looked at her and said smiling

"Big sis, let's go on a vacation. Only the two of us."

"Hey, are you going to leave your mama alone?" Lilith asked.

"Yes, mom. I realised I haven't spent much time with big sis. So I thought about going on a vacation with her to spend some time alone." Lith said with a smile. He knew his mother would not be bothered by such a trivial thing.

"I see. So how long will the vacation be, baby?" Lilith asked in understanding. She was a very understanding mother and would let her children do whatever they wanted. Although it was a pity that she could not join their vacation, she didn't want to ruin their fun either. She could go on another vacation with both of them later, whenever and wherever she wanted. Thus, she readily agreed and let go of this matter.

"For a month. After that, I'll probably visit the Dracula territory to meet Dennis and Cecilia. I talked to you about them yesterday. Dennis told me he was going to give the entrance test of Abalax World Academy in Neutral Continent. I thought of doing the same." Lith smiled and revealed some of his future plans.

Lilith had sat upright from her sleeping position and was listening seriously to her son's plan. Any topic about her children's betterment would get the most serious attention from her. She would become a concerned mother from a crazy mother whenever such things were said. She pondered for a while and thought if there will be any problems in her baby's growth and also this plan of his.

Her mind had many thoughts and she thought of many possibilities of whether it was a good thing for him or not. Lith didn't say anything more and only waited for her to speak. He knew his mother would want the best thing for him and also that he didn't discuss with her first about giving the academy's test, thus he felt a little guilty. He promised to himself that he would first discuss with his mother for any major thing he did in his life. Her opinion was mattered the most to him.

After a while, Lilith looked at him and said smiling

"Alright, baby. If this is what you want, mama will support you."

"Thankyou, mama." Lith said and bent forward and gave a deep and loving kiss to Lilith on her lips.

"Ahem. Nobody even asked me if I agreed on going on a vacation or not. I am a substitute Queen, you know? I am very busy." Lucy said after clearing her throat to let them know she was present here too.

"Sorry about that big sis. Mama, it seems big sis is very busy. I think we two should go on a vacation in her stead." Lith looked at Lucy and then at Lilith and said smiling.

"Oh I would love to-" Lilith was about to finish her sentence when

"Hey, wait, wait, wait. I didn't disagree with it. Let us go on a vacation." Lucy said hurriedly, albeit a bit embarrassed, to not give any chance to her mother. She didn't know if they were joking or not at this point.

"Pfft...HAHAHA..." Lilith and Lith burst out laughing looking at Lucy's cute reaction.

Soon, this lively atmosphere came to an end and Lucy and Lith slept while snuggling into Lilith's embrace.

Chapter 48: Registering at a guild

Langerhan city, Nightingale.

The the day was dark. The silver moon was shining brightly with crimson hue on it. Darkness was prevalent everywhere. It might have been a scary thing to many people but for the creatures of night, that is, the Vampires, the day was very beautiful and comforting.

Langerhan city was on the outer edge of the Nightingale country. It had many towns and villages connecting to it. It lied just a few days away from the border between Nightingale and Darkwing country managed by Duke Veranz. But, it was still far away from the Belial Ocean.

The world was huge and each of it's continents and oceans were huge too. The Vampire continent, although had been explored roughly as a whole, there were still too many areas which hadn't been explored. The world also had many dimension gaps connecting to alternate smaller dimensions.

Dimensions weren't the same as a world. A dimension was a part of the world, although independent in itself. To understand better, one can assume a pair of pants with many pockets. The main use of a pant is to accommodate a person's bottom half of the body and the pockets carry the miscellaneous things. In the same way, the world was the main area to which many other dimensions were connected. The dimensions were independent but without the main world, they wouldn't exist either.

Thus, the world was very big but the dimensions connecting to it made it even bigger. Nobody knew how many dimensions were connected. The most famous dimensions are the Abyss, the nine floors Hell and the Heaven. There are many more but more about that later on.

The Vampire continent was very big. Nightingale was in the southeastern part of the Vampire continent. It was located at the center and surrounding it were the other four countries managed by four Dukes. The fifth Duke was constantly trying to expand territories and one third of it would belong to their Clan. Thus, as of now, a sixth country hasn't been formed yet.

Each country occupied a billion square kilometres in area. Lith's previous world was only half a billion square kilometres in area. The fact meant that each country could occupy two worlds like Earth! It was still far from enough though. The world was too big. The five countries only occupied one fourth of the continent or one corner. The reason being, the population was too small.

Lith and Lucy were currently in the outskirts of the Langerhan city in an adventurers village. This place was small but it was bustling with activities. There was a Tavern for adventures to get drunk, a weapon shop, inns for rent and normal villagers who were either farmers or the workers in these shops.

"Why are we here, big sis?" Lith asked looking around.

The place he was in, seemed like a village from the mediaeval era. He didn't know why his big sister had taken him to this place. After saying goodbye to their mother, they teleported to the Langerhan city and from there, Lucy carried Lith on her back and brought him to this place in ten minutes, casting space jumping spells.

She could've just held onto his shoulder and space jumped but Lith didn't know about it and she took this advantage to spoil him.

"You have been training for thirteen years with me, dear. Isn't it about time you do a little adventure? It may seem like training to you again, but for me, to be able to accompany you on your first adventure , it is very much like a vacation." Lucy smiled and explained happily.

"I know we are on an adventure, big sis, but this is just a small village." Lith said in a confused way.

"Dear, why do you think it is called adventures village? It's obvious because there are adventures and when there are adventures, they are bound to be places to adventure, right?" Lucy explained smiling.

"Right. So what adventure are we doing?" Lith asked.

"It's simple really. There's a D class dungeon a few hundred kilometres from this place. We'll be exploring the dungeon." Lucy explained the purpose of their adventure.

"Oh, I see. Then let's go to that place."

"Not yet. You cannot explore dungeons without an identity card. You have to register yourself at a guild and get one. You can also get a fake one and us being mom's children, we can even get it delivered to our doorstep by a Queen Witch but that takes all the fun out of it, right? Therefore, we will be registering you at a small guild, a few kilometres from this village. Got it, dear?" Lucy explained smiling.

She didn't say Royal family of Vampires but her mom because she knew full well that, without their mother, such a privilege wasn't possible. They could even be an ordinary family and still have such a privilege if their mother was with them. This was the benefit of being a powerhouse.

Lith nodded his head and they soon arrived at a small three storey tower. It seemed to be built out of thick grey stones. It seemed a bit run down and shabby. Nevertheless, it was still a guild which has the stamp of World Adventurers Association.

This stamp meant that the guild was a registered one in the World Adventurers Association list and it wasn't just a place that would scam you. The identity card provided would also work in every other guild and give you access to dungeons, ruins, restricted areas and many other places. The identity card also showed your power. Not your rank but it somewhere roughly explained how strong you are by telling your class.

The identity card at start would be made of F class and to upgrade it, one needed to do certain missions. The classes were

F, E, D, C, B, A, AA, S, SS, SSS, disaster and Catastrophe.

The general trend was that F class things could be done by anyone from rank 1 or 2.

E class by rank 2, 3 or 4.

D class by rank 4 or 5.

C class by rank 5 or 6.

B class by rank 7 or 8.

A class by rank 9 or Half Saint rank.

AA class by Half Saint or Saint rank.

S class by Saint rank or Half King rank.

SS class by Half King rank or King rank.

SSS class by Half Emperor rank or King rank.

Disaster class by Emperor rank.

Catastrophe class by Supreme rank.

The reason why only the Catastrophe Class and Disaster class had an absolute measurement of rank was because before one becomes an Emperor rank, he isn't really invincible in his own rank.

There are different factors taken into account of one's strength such as bloodline, race, experiences, artifacts etc. These things can make someone much more stronger than their actual rank.

A person, therefore, before Emperor rank, isn't invincible in his own rank. An experienced King rank can easily defeat an experienced Half Emperor if he has a strong bloodline or a good artifact.

The Emperor's case is different. He has mastered all his elemental affinities and only needs to comprehend and understand the nature and mysteries of the world to become a Supreme rank.

Such a person cannot be defeated by anyone below his rank. Mastering elements is a very difficult task and those who cannot do it, maybe stuck at the Half Emperor rank forever. Thus, an elements master cannot be defeated by a person who has not even understood his own affinity well.

As for Supreme rank, understanding the nature and mysteries of the world is a feat only done by freaks. Beings in this realm is invincible. They cannot even defeat one another in a one on one battle let alone thinking a lower rank can challenge them. Even dying is near impossible in battle amongst themselves. They would've become Gods if it weren't for the fact that there was another rank above them. Thus, they were known as Demigods. Beings just a step away from the realm of Gods.

As for Legendary rank, no one knows how it feels in this realm or how to properly ascend to this rank except for three beings among which two do not exist anymore.

Lilith Evure, the Vampire Queen, is the only one in the world with this knowledge and power!

Chapter 49: Occupation: Mage

There were only three Legendary ranks since time immemorial and why there were only three and why two didn't exist, nobody knew.

There are many Supreme ranks in hiding or in other dimensions and only fifteen roam around the world. Nobody really knows who is where or who is a Supreme rank and nor do they care.

Once in a while, certain beings from the other dimensions come out into the main world to cause chaos. They were either the ones who just found out about dimension gaps and thought of taking control of the other side or the ones who were previously into hiding to improve their strength.

Time to time, these beings would come out and try to create mass genocide or destruction of property. To stop them, guilds give certain mandatory missions to their members and those who complete it, get incentives or class upgrades. They might even get rewards and medallions from certain countries in which such a disaster had been stopped.

In the last thousand years, eleven SSS class, four disaster class and one Catastrophe class mission was issued by the top guilds of the world for such beings. The Catastrophe class mission wasn't solved by any Adventurer.

A Supreme rank being was out of seclusion and he thought that he was the strongest and thus, he chose to take over the races.

The Human race's Supreme rank Darren Whitter, the Angel race's Heavenly Emperor Alex Paladin and the Elven race's Elven Queen Agalea Grace joined hands to kill this Supreme rank.

That guy, after realising he was just foolish, begged for mercy and asked the Supreme ranks to spare him. The other Supreme ranks, after beating him half to death, spared him. He was later taken as a subordinate to Darren Whitter as that guy was from the Human race.

The other two Supreme ranks easily let him become a subordinate to Darren as in their mind, they knew of one existence which could easily crush them if they created problems. Thus, a Catastrophe class mission was solved.

Lith walked over to the reception of the small guild. He saw a young Vampire lady. She had the standard red eyes and black hair of the Vampire race.

Except noble Vampires who have strong bloodlines or some strong Vampires, everyone has red eyes. It is a trait of being a Vampire. The noble ones do have red eyes too but that is only during a battle or when they are in rage. Colour other than red is a trait of only nobles and strong Vampires.

Most Vampires need to drink blood frequently or they may lose control and go crazy or worst case, die. They thus live most of their time having the thirst to drink blood and this thirst causes their eyes to turn red. The nobles or stronger ones do not have such strong thirst and thus their eyes are not red. These Vampires who live constantly with this thirst, after a period of time, have their eyes take on a permanent red colour.

If one could somehow retain their urges and reach rank 6, their eyes would not be red but some different colour. During and after rank 6, they do not need to drink blood for nutrition too often as magical energy nourishes their body. Their urges drop and their eyes do not take on the red colour at normal times. Only during rage or during battle will it turn red. During these times, these beings are the closest to their truest instincts, which is to be a predator and therefore have red eyes. During normal times, they are calm and composed and do thus do not work on instincts and have those eyes.

After rank 6, even though their body is nourished by magical energy, they still need to have blood but the gap in between which they would need it is very long. There are no specific requirements on whose blood Vampires could drink. They can drink anyone's blood as long as it doesn't taste bad.

The Vampires take the topic of blood seriously and they do not go around drinking their fellow people's blood randomly. It is not a good thing. Thus, sharing blood between each other is only between family, friends or lovers. They also find the region around their neck as sacred and one's who drink blood from each other's neck are married people only. No one else can drink blood from their neck if it isn't their husband/wife.

Although adultery is common and many crazy stuff occur on a day to day basis in the Vampire society, nobody really touches each other's neck or tries to drink each other's blood. The neck is a sacred place and they respect it very much. The ladies who are married, though may cheat on their husband, they still do not allow the other party to drink their blood from their neck. It is like an unspoken rule. The lady may kill the man if he tries to do that on the spot or may kill herself if she is unable to stop him. People take their necks very seriously.

All in all, only nobles or strong Vampires have normal eyes and the neck is a sacred place and drinking each other's blood randomly is a crime and may get you killed if you do that without consent. It is almost similar to pe.

Lith looked at the lady in front and when he saw her eyes, he remembered the time when he had the concern as to why his eyes weren't red and asked his mother about it. She gave him a long lecture on why it was so and also started explaining about the time when he bit her neck. She told him it was a wrong thing to do and is only done between husband and wife. Neck is a sacred place for Vampires. Lith would've started feeling guilty about it but Lilith then said

"Although it is such a thing among everyone, mama doesn't care one bit about it. You and your big sis can bite mama wherever you want you know?" and gave him a wink. Lith understood his mother's nature very well. If her children wanted to do something, she would let them do it and not care about anything. She was a true powerhouse, she could do anything.

Lith and Lucy were in a disguise. They had their appearance changed to a normal Vampire couple. Black hair, red eyes and an ordinary face. Though Lucy had such a disguise too, it didn't hide her alluring curves at all. Any man would drool just by looking at her body even though her face was ordinary.

Lith had asked his big sister why a couple and not family and she only winked at him and didn't say anything. He thought 'so you wanna be a couple? After this dungeon adventure, I ll play along with you then.' Day by day, he is getting more shameless and bold.

"Hello sir and ma'am, how may I help you?" The Vampire lady asked in a polite tone.

"We need to register ourselves to get an identity card." Lucy said in a neutral tone without waiting for Lith to speak.

"Very well. Please fill this form and come in for a picture and you'll be done soon."

The lady said after handing out a form.

The form had general things like sex, age, name and occupation etc. Lith filled it with some fake details. He wrote his name as Frey Woods. It was taken from the name of his maid. The maid who once rode him to the merchant district along with his mother and big sis, it was her, Freya Woods.

He wrote his age as 23 and sex as male. His occupation, he wrote it honestly. It was as Mage. He wanted to be a Mage and would continue on this path in future. Thus he wrote it.

"Hmm? You want to be a Mage? Dear, isn't combat your forte? You know almost 3 weapons now. The sword, the spear and the gauntlets. Why choose Mage then? You can take on as Assassin, hunter or Knight something." Lucy asked after looking at the form.

"It is exactly because of that big sis. Close range combat is my forte and if I become a Mage, I'll be able to enjoy magic as well as combat. The people would definitely only think of me as a weak mage and try to attack me in close range. It'll be a good show from then on." Lith said in a neutral tone.

Lith told her half the truth. The full thing was that, he enjoyed magic and combat and also, he chose Mage just because people would underestimate him and he could then face slap them. It was a thing he used to find interesting in the novels he read back in his previous life.

"Well, you have weird choices, dear. Alright, whatever. You can do anything you like. Big sis will always support you." Lucy said with a smile and gave him a peck on his lips.

Lith too smiled and then submitted the form. They then took a photo and left onto their adventure after getting their identity card.

They were now heading to the border of Nightingale and Darkwing. It was to explore the D class dungeon.

Chapter 50: Exploring the D Class Dungeon

At the border of Darkwing and Nightingale.

Two figures were walking in the darkness to a nearby valley. The silver moon was emitting crimson and silver brilliance. The figures were wearing simple pants and shirts along with jackets. They had black hair and red eyes and looked very ordinary.

The figures were of Lith and Lucy in disguise who were walking towards the D class dungeon.

Soon, the two arrived at a valley where there was a half a kilometer long grey coloured tower. There were people going in and out of it and there was a small plaza near it around which were many small stalls. They walked near the grey tower's entrance and two people stopped them and asked about their identity cards.

Lith and Lucy showed their cards and were let in. Soon they came into a dark hallway. The hallway had stairs leading upstairs. They soon climbed upwards. They found nothing on the first few levels. They kept walking.

"Big sis, why is this place so empty?" Lith asked.

"Must've been because we arrived a little late. We should've come early I guess? I didn't know this place would get busy. When I found out about this dungeon, there was hardly anyone here. The land around it would have the monsters come out and roam there. It was probably around six months ago. There shouldn't be many people coming." Lucy said, a bit confused as to why it was discovered so suddenly.

"Big sis, don't you think people would have known it from the online forums?" Lith said.

"Probably I guess. Anyway, it's still a D class dungeon. It shouldn't have been cleared so early. Come let's go higher." Lucy pulled Lith's hand and said.

They went higher and higher. Soon they reached the middle floors. They found green liquid on the floor. It was almost everywhere.

"Hmm? Green poison rats? Or is it due to some other magical beast?" Lith looked around and said. His knowledge was very good about creatures in this world. Lucy had made him memorize in a very brutal way during his training.

"Why are you not sure even after noticing these things." Lucy said in a neutral tone.

"Oh it's because these liquid should have been much more thicker than it is right now. A green poison rat has green poison secretion from it's body all the time and thus it should be a little thinner because something thick like this is cannot be secreted as it would hinder the rat's movement and make it slow."

"But what if it's an old green poison rat? They release somewhat thick green poison liquid like this." Lucy questioned back.

"That is also not possible as there is too much liquid present all over the floor." Lith calmly answered.

"Alright, that's pretty much a good thinking. But you forgot one thing, dear. The liquid is although everywhere, it shouldn't be on the walls or ceiling like that. The rats cannot fly you know?" Lucy chuckled.

"Ah. I didn't observe properly I think. It's my mistake. I ll be more observant from now."

"Alright, so now, what do you think this is?"

"This is probably from a terahorn bonger." Lith said.

Terahorn bongers were creatures which looked like big spheres with a lot of openings and protrudings and were green in colour and very deformed. They were like plants. They were alive but they didn't have consciousness and their only role was to go around and secrete poison and absorb the dead remains of other creatures. They were just some very low level F class monsters.

"Correct. Now what should we do next?" Lucy smiled and asked.

"Create a wind spell and wrap ourselves with it and move to the higher level."

"Oh but we can do a space jump too. I know you cannot cast the high level one but you already know the rank 1 spell 'Distance Warp' so why not use that?" Lucy questioned again. She was asking him so many questions to test his knowledge of what he learnt and his adaptive capabilities.

Space Jump was a series of spell which people with Space affinity use commonly. It had 'Short Jump' which was a basic teleportation spell which goes all the way from rank 1 to rank 5. One could teleport to a few meters or a few kilometres when using the rank 1 spell and the distance increases with the rank. The maximum short jump can provide is a few thousand kilometres teleport.

Then there's 'Long Jump' from rank 6 to 9 which provides teleportation from thousands to hundred thousands kilometres as the rank increases.

After that there's 'Provincial Jump'. You can teleport upto millions of kilometres. It was upgraded from 'Long Warp' by a guy who wanted to visit his village in one province from the other one and thus got it's name. It is the most powerful teleportation spell under King rank.

At King rank we have 'Intercontinental Jump'. You can travel from one country to another with it. Usually, the countries have billions of kilometres distance between them and thus it was a useful spell. It is used by Half Emperors as well.

At Emperor rank we have 'Continental Jump'. Emperor ranks can teleport from continent to continent.

At Supreme rank there's 'Dimensional Jump'. The Supreme ranks, if they know about the coordinates of particular dimensions, they can directly teleport there. There are only three people with Space affinity currently known. It was Dragon Empress Mayzin, Heavenly Emperor Alex Paladin and Human Ancestor Darren Whitter.

The Legendary rank spell wasn't known by anyone. Lilith didn't need to cast any spell to teleport. She could just feel her connection to the world and whatever place she wanted to go, she could search through the connection and instantly find the coordinates and teleport there. Same applies to any dimensions she wanted to go. She didn't really feel the need to upgrade the spell 'Continental Jump' as she could teleport to anywhere she wanted instantly without needing to cast a spell.

After casting the spell, a portal would open up and one just needed to jump into it and they would teleport.

People couldn't use long distance spell to travel short distance and thus even all the low rank spells were in use too.

Lucy cast 'Short Jump' from Langerhan city to the border because of such a reason and she was now asking Lith why he wouldn't cast a 'Short Jump' to go to another level.

Lith looked at his big sister as if he was looking at an idiot. Lucy looked at him and smirked and asked "What?"

"Big sis, are you taking me for an idiot or are you just bring stupid right now? Why would I cast Space jump when there can be traps or something on the other side. It is simply dangerous." Lith explained.

Lucy knew her question was dumb and was only teasing him with asking that.

"Hehe. Is that so?" Lucy chuckled and didn't wait for him to answer. She cast a wind spell on herself and started walking towards the next floor. Lith followed her.

Nothing of particular happend. Lith defeated some low level monsters along the way and they came to the middle floors of the dungeon easily.

They were walking along the floor when they started hearing some cries.

Chapter 51: Purple Night Wolf

Lucy and Lith heard some cries. They were more of a whimper. Lith wasn't able to tell what sort of cries they were and could only stealthily go towards the source.

Lucy knew full well what those whimpers were but she didn't say anything. It was Lith's adventure and she was only testing him by asking questions and was mostly on the side watching him do his thing. She enjoyed watching him fight and be cautious of some stupid trap which wouldn't even hurt him. She would internally laugh at his silly sneaky walks to avoid traps.

Lith was very inexperienced and he could only try his best to apply whatever knowledge he knew into practice. He was slowly but surely having practical knowledge too. He knew what to do and what not to but while he was actually into doing it, he looked silly as he was inexperienced and his movements weren't very flexible.

Lith after walking towards the source found that a bunch of wolfs were attacking a small baby wolf and that baby wolf was trying it's best to defend. He didn't know how the baby wolf wasn't killed yet but he chose to look for a while and see what was happening.

Lucy stayed beside him and didn't say anything.

Lith cast the dark element rank 1 spell 'cover'. It made his body smell disappear and hid him to some extent. He was close to a wall and now looked as if he had blended into it.

Lucy didn't do anything and stayed where she was. She had hid herself from the start and was only visible to Lith. If she had released even a bit of her King rank aura the whole Dungeon would've been in chaos and the creatures would be so scared that they might run out of the floors and into the world due to fear. The Dungeon was only D class and the strongest monster was only rank 6. The creatures would be scared senseless if they found out someone so strong.

Lith looked around and found a dead wolf. The small baby wolf was away from the dead wolf. The ones who were attacking the small baby wolf had traces of blood dripping from their mouth. Lith understood the situation. The wolfs probably killed the mother and were now attacking the son of it. He still couldn't understand why the baby wolf survived till now. He was still looking at the direction of the wolf when he suddenly heard in his mind

'H-help'

'What? Am I hearing things now? ' Lith thought to himself.

He didn't respond to it and kept looking at the wolf. Lucy hadn't gotten such a transmission as she was hidden but she knew full well about what was happening around. She was going to give some advice to her little brother but she stopped herself.

Whatever he gains in this trip, would be due to his own effort and her helping him was just spoiling him stupidly and not giving him a chance to grow. Although she didn't like it, but it can't be helped.

Lith needed to learn from his mistakes and experience the ups and downs of life on his own. There was an opportunity in front of him right now, whether he grabbed it or not, it was his own choice. She, as a good big sister had already given him all possible theory needed in these thirteen years. They were all general theories about the world. The types of organisms, herbs, magical beasts, history and geography were taught in very advance to him. He also had gotten to know many secrets which normal people didn't know. It was a perk of being the son of a creature who lived for half a million years and roamed the world.

Lilith had given the education to Lucy and Lucy simply passed down the teachings of her mother to her little brother. Some parts where she wasn't confident in, Lilith taught it to Lith and also cleared the doubts and some concepts of Lucy on the go.

Therefore, Lith had a lot of knowledge about these things. His math, science and literature weren't too advanced. He needed to improve upon it. He was yet to learn advanced mathematics, science and different languages and cultures of the world.

Lith looked at the situation which was happening in front of him. He found the wolf somewhat similar to a creature his big sis taught him. He was trying to recall what it was. He kept thinking about it.

The baby wolf, after finding that his transmission didn't work, looked in the direction of Lith.

Lith was shocked. This thing had really transmitted that message to him before! He instantly realised what sort of creature it was. He, not wanting to let go of this opportunity, instantly dashed in between the wolf pack.

"Fire wall" Lith said and casted a wall of fire around him. He was rushing towards the baby wolf to rescue it. Fire wall was a basic rank 1 fire spell.

The wolves finding an intruder in their territory immediately let go of the baby wolf and went in to attack the intruder.

"Short jump" Lith simply casted short jump and teleported near the baby wolf after finding the wolves coming towards him. He stopped the fire wall spell and took hold of the baby wolf and casted short jump again and teleported to the floor below the one he was in. He cast Short jump repeatedly until he was out of the Dungeon.

Lith wasn't foolish enough to fight the wolves for no reason. His goal was to have the baby wolf and the options he had available to save it were either to fight the wolves and then rescue it or simply rescue the baby wolf and run away.

He wasn't a battle maniac like his big sister and wisely chose the second option. He came out of the Dungeon without even considering about his big sister. He knew she was too strong and could keep up with his speed. What he thought was right. Lucy was just beside him when he teleported outside.

Lith's spiritual power had been almost depleted now. He had been fighting with various creatures in the Dungeon who were above his level and later, casting short jump too many times used up a lot from his reserves.

He was a Legendary rank's son and had much more spiritual energy in him than the ones of the same rank and he could therefore fight multiple levels above his own. He being at rank 1 could defeat the dungeon creatures upto rank 4. They didn't have any artifact to protect them or even much intelligence to have a strategy to attack. They simply worked on instincts. Thus, it was easy to defeat them.

He could probably defeat a rank 3 by being a rank 1 if he tried very hard and his very best. It would be challenging but he would win. Defeating a rank 4 wasn't impossible but the possibility of winning was only around 10-20%. He wouldn't stupidly challenge someone. He wasn't a battle maniac and considered caution before taking action.

The baby wolf in his hand was a rank 1 beast, as of now. It looked like a small baby golden retriever but in dark purple colour. It almost looked black but it was purple.

After the baby wolf sent him a transmission, he didn't think too much of it and thought it was his imagination. He was inexperienced, after all. He couldn't suddenly think it was a cry for help from the baby wolf. The creatures in the dungeon were all below rank 6. A creature sending a mental transmission was nigh impossible in this place. Thus, he didn't think of that possibility at first. Only after did the baby wolf look at him did he realise that it was really the magical beast which he was thinking of.

It was a Purple Night Wolf!

A Purple Night Wolf was a species of wolf with the a very strong bloodline amongst wolves. They were second only to Werewolves. These magical beasts were even better than the average Werewolves. They had the possibility to have strength of atleast a Half Emperor rank. They also were very rare in the world.

They were taken in as pets when someone found them or if it's a Werewolf who found it, he would immediately kill it. They did not like the existence of this creature. It was jealousy and a little envy. These Werewolves who killed these purple night wolves were just the average people in their race. If it isn't anyone average and someone strong, they would take the wolf and keep as a pet or slave for themselves.

Thus, these wolves are very rare and coming across one like this could only happen by sheer luck. These wolves had the ability to communicate very well with other's. They could only do mental transmission but after they reach rank 6, they could talk normally with their mouth.

After reaching Saint rank they could transform themselves into a humanoid form. They wouldn't be like Werewolves though. Werewolves were born with a wolf form and a human form. They looked just like humans if they aren't in their wolf form. During birth they looked like a wolf but after having a little bit understanding and consciousness, they could transform into the human form they are naturally born with.

The purple night wolf had two wolf like ears on their head and they had a fluffy tail. That's it. These were the characteristics that remained after they turn into a humanoid form.

Lith had won big time, this time! He got himself a good pet. Now, he only needed to ensure whether this little wolf would accept him as his master or not.

Chapter 52: Ren

The baby wolf was shivering in Lith's arms. It was as if it was going through a nightmare.

Lith used 'Water's tranquility' spell on the baby wolf to calm it down. It was a rank 1 spell which could calm one down in a tense situation.

The baby wolf calmed down a little and it looked around. It found that it was in an unfamiliar environment and started struggling in Lith's arms due to panic.

"Hey, calm down buddy. I am not going to harm you." Lith said in a gentle voice.

The baby wolf looked at the source of sound and found the familiar face of the person he had asked for help. He gradually calmed down.

Lith looking at the now calm baby wolf, said in a gentle way

"So, what about now? You asked me for help and I helped you. What will you do now?"

The baby wolf thought about it and was wondering what was it supposed to do. He didn't know anything that's need to be done now. It was not an intelligent creature like the other ones. He was only a magical beast. The baby wolf looked at Lith and tilted it's head and his face had a look stating 'What to do now?'

Lith looked at the baby wolf and smiled. He said in the same tone as before

"If you want, I can let you be free. You can do whatever you want. You will get attacked by those wolves from back then again or maybe someone even stronger. You may get eaten by other's in the wild you know?"

His gentle tone didn't seem gentle at all to the baby wolf. It started shivering in fear. He recalled the nightmare from before. The baby wolf's pack was small in number and they were travelling to find a safe place. They were all very low rank and were travelling in hopes to find a safe place to live. They had gotten attacked mid way and many lost their lives. The baby wolf's mother took him and ran away from the pack and hid themselves in a dungeon.

It was their great misfortune that they stumbled upon another wolves territory and her mother got attacked and killed. The baby wolf was going to die too but it somehow held onto his life as the other wolves didn't take him as a threat and were toying with him.

It was then that he found a gaze on himself other than these bad wolves and found that the other party didn't mean harm. It then sent a cry for help. Now this party had said that he'll let it be free. But where was the baby wolf supposed to go? He knew full well that he'll die in the open. It's pack had long been dead.

He looked at Lith and started whimpering and shivering.

Lith understood that the wolf was going through a trauma when he said those words. He then cast water's tranquility again and said in a gentle way

"You have another option. The option is to become my pet and consider me as a master. You will be adventuring by my side and I'll help you grow and make you stronger. You will never have to go through, whatever you have been through up until now, again. I promise you. So, will you take me as your master and become my pet?"

The baby wolf didn't know what it really meant to be a pet or have a master but thinking that the other party will not harm him or he'll not have to be in danger again, he nodded it's head. If he can survive, he'll do it. Survival was the basic instinct of every creature.

Lith smiled after he saw the baby wolf nod. He then started drawing certain special diagrams on the baby wolf's neck and a magic circle started appearing on it. He then looked at his big sister and said

"Big sis, help me draw a little blood and put into the seal."

Lucy did as she was told. She pinched Lith's finger which was on the hand holding the baby wolf and drew a little blood from it. She then made the blood flow into the seal which Lith was casting. She arranged the blood in proper directions into the seal and Lith was in the midst of writing certain more symbols.

Lith was writing an Enslavement seal onto the baby wolf's neck. It was taught to him by his big sister who was taught by their mother.

The seal was made by his mother when she was adventuring and thought to enslave the Dragon Empress Mayzin when she found that it was not bad to have her as a pet. But then one thing led to another and she let go of such a thought and they became best friends. She had no use for the seal anymore but she taught it to her daughter thinking she might need it. What if her daughter finds someone like Mayzin again? She thought along those lines and taught.

Lith then completed the magic circle and the Enslavement seal was ready. His blood was almost spread out in all the correct places and only a few were left.

Soon, every place where blood was supposed to be, was filled and the magic circle started glowing in a golden colour on the baby wolf's dark purple fur. It soon died down and everything went to normal as if nothing had taken place.

The Enslavement seal would not allow the person it was inscribed onto to betray the master and it also acted as a tracking agent. The master could find the pet and the pet could find the master through this connection anywhere in the world. They could even feel each other even if the other person was in another dimension but it was not so powerful as of now.

The distance at which they could feel each other would depend upon the strength of the seal. As Lith was only rank 1, his seal was not so powerful. Once he starts growing, he can keep updating the seal with fresh blood of whatever rank he has and it would likewise grow in strength. Once he reaches Emperor level, the master and pet could feel each other even dimensions away.

They could communicate with each other miles away if they could feel their connection together. The only bad part about it was that as long as the person it was enslaved onto had thoughts of harming the master it would die instantly. If it had thoughts of betraying the master, the master would be alerted.

The baby wolf could feel the connection with the person and he felt some weird feelings inside. It didn't know what it was. Anyway, he was safe now, so everything would be okay. He snuggled into the arms of Lith as it felt safer now.

Lith looked at him and smiled and said

"You'll have the name Ren from today onwards. You'll be my magical pet for lifelong. I swear I'll never mistreat you and if I do, you are free to leave me, the seal has this clause on it, so don't worry. Let's have wonderful adventures together in the future, Ren."

The baby wolf just snuggled happily into his arms. He liked the name Ren and after hearing the words that said he wouldn't be mistreated, he felt even more comfortable with Lith.

"Alright, now that it is over, big sis, is there a way to revive Ren's pack? He would be very lonely in the world without them." Lith asked his big sister worriedly. Although he was not a person who would do good for other's for no reason, Ren was his magical pet now. He swore to take care of him and this was the first step he wanted to take towards his care.

"I do but not everyone can be revived. The wolves who have died for a much more longer time must have already entered the reincarnation cycle so we can only hope that some souls who haven't yet. Let's go. We'll first revive Ren's mother."

- Chapter 53: Reviving the Purple Night Wolves |

Chapter 53: Reviving the Purple Night Wolves

Lucy grabbed Lith's waist and directly cast Short jump and teleported to the floor where Ren's dead mother was. They arrived to find that the wolves were biting onto the flesh of the dead mother wolf.

Lith covered Ren into his jacket and Lucy killed all those wolves with a snap of her finger. She casted a spell called 'Fire break'. It was a rank 7 spell which could cause fire to burn you from inside out. Since it was a low level spell, it didn't need to be cast.

Soon, the wolves turned into ashes and were blown away from a wind spell from Lucy. She went to Ren's mother and casted 'Reverse Health' spell on her. It was an advanced spell of Life element. It could only be casted by rank 8 and above.

Soon Ren's mother's body was in perfect health but she was still dead. Lucy took out a dagger from her spatial ring and went a little away from Lith and bent down to carve a magic circle on the ground.

Lith looked at his sister's big and perky butt and had the urge to grab it and spank it but he controlled himself. It was not the correct situation and he was also curious to see how resurrection from death looks like. It was the first time he would watch something like this and he was very curious.

Lucy had noticed Lith's stare on her butt and she wondered why he hadn't grabbed it yet, considering the fact that he had started to become shameless like her mother and what she was doing was very easy to do if you have enough strength. He should be knowing this because she had taught him. He could as well lower her pants and thrust his dick inside her pussy and pound her while she was carving. 'Wait! What am I having such thoughts?' Lucy thought to herself. She too, like Lith, was starting to become shameless like her mother due to Lith's and Lilith's influence.

She subconsciously swayed her butt purposefully to provoke him and carved the inscription on the ground. She was subconsciously hoping for her little brother to pound her then and there. Although consciously she would deny such things and think of herself as nothing but an innocent lady.

Lith found his big sister way too much for him to handle but curiosity got the best of him. He really wanted to see resurrection even if he knew it in theory. He calmed down and thought what he would do to his big sister later after this was all over.

Soon, Lucy finished drawing the magic circle. It only took her five minutes to do that. She then chanted certain spells and ancient words to revive the dead and soon the magic circle started glowing in a dark blue light. She took the body of Ren's mother and put it in between the circle.

Soon, the dead body started twitching as if it had turned alive. A few minutes later the body started convulsing and soon the body got up onto it's feet and

HOOOOWWWLLLLL!

It gave a very sad cry loudly, mourning for the loss of it's pack and leaving her regretting for not being able to protect it's child. The wolf then looked around and found that it was alive and healthy. It got confused but then it noticed two people and also a familiar scent from one of the person. She didn't know what had just happend. She was attacked by other wolves and was supposed to be dead but now she was in this place and there were two people looking at her.

"Calm down. I have resurrected you from your death. You were dead once and now you are alive because my little brother wanted you to. Your child is safe with him. My little brother protected him and he has now become his pet on his own accord." Lucy explained calmly as if it were a trivial thing.

The beast was angry after hearing the words of Lucy when she realised that her child was taken as a pet but she soon calmed down. It was a beast with a bloodline on par with the Werewolves. It understood things better than those other wolves or creatures who only lived on their instincts.

The wolf thought that being a pet for such a being who could make it come back from dead was not a bad thing. She thought of Lucy and Lith as very strong people who could ensure the safety of her child. She didn't want more than her child to be safe. It was a mother's most primitive instinct to care for her child. Thus, her anger subsided and she then calmly looked at Lith and Lucy.

Lith was bewildered by the Wolf's reaction. The Wolf's anger calmed down a little more quickly than he thought. Although he knew that it was bound to happen if he explained himself well, he didn't know it was this easy. This purple night wolf was surely very intelligent.

Lith then looked at Ren and said gently

"Hey, I've brought your mother back from her death. Don't you want to see her?"

The baby wolf was puzzled at Lith's words. He didn't know how it was possible but he turned to where Lith was pointing and was shocked. Ren started crying and struggled out of Lith's hands and went to his mother.

The baby wolf and the mama wolf now had a very touching reunion. They both howled in mixed emotions. There was pain, joy, sadness, grief and most of all, relief. They were relieved to find each other alive. Soon, they both calmed down and Ren snuggled into his mother's embrace.

Lith looked at Ren and his mother and said "do you want your pack to become alive again?"

Ren's mother looked at Lith and howled indicating her gratefulness and thanking him for his kindness.

Soon, Ren's mother shared her memories with Lucy on where her pack had been dead at and they one by one revived the dead. They found some wolves to be half eaten or rotten or even their bodies were shredded into pieces. Nevertheless, 'Life Gather', an advanced Life element spell of rank Saint was very useful in this. Even if there was a single piece of flesh left, the body could be fully restored by it. For rotten flesh the spell used was 'Reverse aging' which was rank 9 and 'Life Gather' if it was scattered.

Some wolves got revived and Ren's mother explained the situation. They were intelligent creatures and could understand and make logical decision and thoughts and thus were grateful to Lucy and Lith.

Ren's pack had around 50 wolves with no beta or alpha wolf. It was a weak group of omegas who were roaming around, looking for shelter to stay safe. Out of 50 there were only 22 who were able to revive successfully which included Ren's mother.

After successfully reviving everyone they could, they were now standing at a grassland. Lith and Lucy were sitting and the purple night wolves were sleeping, sitting or roaming around them. They found Lith and Lucy as people who could keep them safe as they considered them powerful. They had no idea the dead could be resurrected, so they thought only powerful beings could do that. Thus, they chose to stay with Lith and Lucy.

"Big sis, I am planning on letting them be in the dark rose forest. They'll be safe there. Dark rose forest, although has many magical beasts, we can assign a territory for these wolves and let them stay there and make them stronger until they can roam around the forest freely. We can have this big batch of wolves to ourselves and Ren would be happy too after he gets to know that his pack is safe. What do you think?" Lith explained calmly.

"As I've said before, I'll always support you no matter what you do, dear. Raising just a bunch of these wolves is no problem at all." Lucy smiled and said.

"Thankyou, I love you big sis." Lith said and hugged her. He was half the size of Lucy and so when he hugged her his face was stuck in her big assets.

Lucy smiled and caressed his hair just like their mother. After a while she said

"Oh but I cannot teleport such a big bunch into dark rose forest you know?"

"Oh. It seems like we need to contact mother for it." Lith said in understanding.

"We can call Hecate and let her do the work." Lucy said.

"No, let it be. Mother is free and she would also like to see our faces. You know right, how much she was reluctant to part with us when we were venturing out." Lith explained. He felt that his mother would be mad at them if they asked Hecate for help and not her.

She would miss no opportunities to spoil them or see them and if this opportunity, where she could meet them again, was taken from her by Hecate, Hecate would be in deep trouble for just doing her job.

Lith didn't explain too much about this and just called his mother.

Royal castle, Evernight city.

Lilith was sitting on her bed and was watching the tv show which her children were binging with her a few days before. She sort of liked the show and now that she had nothing to do, she started binging on it. Soon, her phone rang.

She looked at her phone and after finding that it was her baby who was calling her, she immediately picked it up and said in a teasing tone

"Already missing your mama, baby?"

Lith on the other side said shamelessly

"Yes, mom. I miss you very much. Come over and give me a kiss."

Lilith didn't even think twice and teleported instantly to where Lith was. She looked at Lith hugging Lucy and his phone in his hands. She went over to them and hugged both of them. She then gave a deep kiss to Lith and then one to Lucy.

Lucy flicked Lith's forehead and said

"You shouldn't lie to mom."

Lith looked at her and smiled and said "Who said I was lying? I really missed mom. Although I said that, I didn't expect her to come over so quickly."

Lucy didn't say anything and nodded her head. Their mother didn't even question them if they wanted to see her or not and immediately came over. When someone says they missed them, they shouldn't do this action. They should just say 'I miss you too' and stay where they are.

Lith then looked upwards where his mother's face was and said teasingly

"Old lady, did you really miss your kids or you just missed kissing them? Did you rush over so quickly just so you could kiss them?"

Lilith listened to her son's shameless accusation and smirked and said

"Who said I only came here to kiss my kids? What if this old lady came over to do something more?"

Lith made a fake shocked expression and said

"Waaah, hold your horses lady. You shouldn't do something without consent of other's"

Lilith had the same smirk and said

"Since when did this lady need anyone's consent for anything? I will now do something very immoral with two little kids."

She then grabbed Lith's little brother and Lucy's boobs and started doing immoral deeds for a few seconds with them.

"M-mom, we are in public. Also, there is another reason we called you for." Lucy said in embarrassment.

Lilith stopped her immoral actions and squinted her eyes and looked at Lith and said

"Is that so, young man? Did you have ulterior motives when calling your mother."

"Yes. This young man indeed had ulterior motives but this old lady fell for the trap without even this young man needing to make his moves." Lith smirked and said.

Lilith chuckled and ruffled Lith's hair. She then asked with a smile

"So? What was the other reason for calling mama?"

"You see those wolves over there mom?" Lith pointed at the purple night wolves and said. He then explained everything about Ren and about raising the purple night wolves.

"Oh, I see. Alright then, I'll take them over with me." Lilith smiled and said.

"Thankyou, mom. I love you" Lith said and gave her a kiss.

Lith explained the situation to Ren and Ren's mother. He took Ren with him and let the wolves go to dark rose forest. Ren happily stayed with Lith. He was told that he could meet them from time to time, so he happily stayed with Lith because he felt much safer with him. He also wanted to grow strong and Lith had said that he could become strong with him, so he stayed.

Lilith kissed her children goodbye and teleported along with the purple night wolves.

Lith along with Ren in his arms and Lucy went to Langerhan city to stay at an inn and the episode with the wolves came to an end.

Chapter 54: Many stuff from Earth are available

Langerhan city, Nightingale.

Inside an inn.

Lith was making tea for himself. Vampires liked blood of different creatures as drink the most but they didn't really hate tea or other drinks. The other drinks tasted the same way as they were meant to. Like orange juice tasted like orange juice and nothing disgusting to them. The only good ingredient which they hated the most was garlic. It literally tasted like sh*t to them. Apart from garlic, everything was good.

Lith when he came into this world and got to realise that he was a Vampire, asked about many things and tasted many food to know about the things which he could taste normally and which he couldn't. Except for garlic, which literally tasted like sh*t to him, everything else was normal.

He asked his big sister and mom if he would be dead if he got out in the sun or if he couldn't trespass into other's territory or if he needed to be afraid of holy light or something, they laughed their lungs off when they heard his questions. They thought that this fellow hadn't even gotten out of the castle and was still worried about so many things.

They simply thought that he was reading too many stupid stuff from online forums and was getting stupid ideas in his mind. Lucy banned his internet time for a few days due to that and explained to him calmly that although it was true that they might die if they go out into sun and they cannot trespass into other's territory it was only true for Vampires below rank 6.

As for the holy light, it was nothing but certain spells of Light element which was much more effective on the bodies of creatures of night. It was also effective on the bodies of creatures who are attributed to dark, death and destruction element.

At and after rank 6, the bodies of creatures do not need nutrition from foods as their bodies get nourished by magical energy. The magical energy is dependent on the type of element one had an affinity to. For example, the ones who had affinity to dark and fire element would get their bodies nourished by dark and fire energies from the surroundings.

Therefore, holy light, which was certain spells from Light element, was effective on the creatures who have an affinity to dark, death, destruction elements and also on Werewolves and Vampires as they both are creatures of night and are born with a body that naturally is of darkness element.

This is also the reason why it was very rare to have someone who could have an affinity to Life and Light element in the Vampire and Werewolf race. It was not impossible but the situation was very rare. There could only be one in a million who had such an affinity.

Lucy had explained all of this to Lith when he asked her such questions. She was her mother when he asked her such stuff and then told him with a smile

"You do not really need to worry about such things, dear. Mom is very powerful and such a powerful being giving us birth has already made us exempt from these restrictions."

Lith then realised why he was so different even though he was a Vampire. It was all because of his mom! He felt really grateful to have her as his mom and that day, he cuddled extra cozily in her arms. Lilith too was happy that day when she found that her son was being grateful for her just because she had given him birth.

Nevertheless, that day was when Lith realised he wasn't a normal Vampire. Except for garlic, he could eat and drink everything as they all tasted normal. He felt a pity that garlic tasted so disgusting. But there was a good thing that, in the Vampire continent, there grew a plant that which produced an ingredient, same like garlic. It tasted like garlic which he knew of and not disgusting. It tasted like garlic to everyone else and so it was commonly used everywhere.

It only grew in dark environment and so it was very common in Vampire and Werewolf continent. The other continents didn't use it much. It was only used commonly in the Neutral Continent other than the Vampire and Werewolf continent. It was called allium. Allium grew and looked the same like garlic but grew in darker environment and was dark in colour.

Lith was currently making green tea and Lucy was wearing headphone and listening to songs from her phone. Ren was currently sleeping in a corner on a bean bag.

Lith made his tea and went to the side of bed where Lucy was sitting on and listening to music. He took her phone from her hand and checked the music she was listening to. He found out about the song which she was listening to. It was Moonlight Sonata!

He wasn't shocked by it. It was now a common occurrence to him. He, over time, realised that this world had other beings who had reincarnated from his old world, the earth. He at first found it shocking when he found those stuff which should only be on earth, but then he found that it was really common. He realized, other people must've reincarnated here like him and so it wasn't disturbing to him anymore. Although he was from Earth, he didn't have one bit of camaraderie like feeling.

He has accepted Lilith as his new mother and Lucy as his big sister and this was his new family in this new world and this new world was now his home too as Lilith and Lucy lived in it. Although he felt sorry for his old family back on earth but he couldn't help it. His death wasn't something he could control there and all was gone now.

He although had a normal family back on earth, it was all gone now. He had now come to terms with the new family and he loved and cherished them. All in all, he didn't really care about the others who reincarnated here. If he met someone like that, then he would have a normal conversation and nothing too crazy.

He respected them a little for plagiarizing all the work from Earth over here so smoothly. Moonlight Sonata sounded the same as back from Earth. The one who made this was apparently called 'Jippsy'. There were also many foods, culture, architecture present here back from Earth.

There was onsen, ramen, pork cutlets from Japan from Earth available here commonly. There was also eggs Benedict, beef Wellington, french toast, pasta, pizza, burrito, butter chicken and many more. There were tons of different foods available here which were on earth and Lith really felt like he wasn't in a new world but on Earth itself. He would've doubted his reincarnation if he weren't born as a Vampire.

As of now, he had yet to discover many such stuff from Earth to a whole but he could still experience some in Vampire continent. He could experience English and French cuisine here in the Vampire continent. He could also experience music, tv shows, movies and anime.

There was a seven overlord sins series present here based on the rulers of the Demon continents and because it had the same animation as that one anime which shared almost the same name on earth, the whole studio was wiped out by the seven overlords in anger. Even Lucifer was angry when she watched it and before she could think of wiping them, her minions had already done the deed.

There were also many places which had the same name as that on earth and many mythological stuff from Earth was present here. There was a Vatican City in Angel Continent and the holy church over there worshipped Alex as their god.

Supreme ranks were considered Gods by people here even though they knew that this realm could be reached. They thought along the line like, if it were easy to reach there, why are there so few Supreme ranks then? Thus they respected these powerful beings and considered them as Gods.

There was a dark church who worshipped Lucifer as their God. It was basically Holy church but the opposite of them. The other Supreme ranks of their respective race, although had titles like King, Ancestor, Emperor etc, were worshipped like God's anyway.

Lilith was a true God and worshipping her like a God was okay. For others, they were only demigods and not true gods and it was not okay. The world didn't know about the Legendary rank or about true gods, yet.

Chapter 55: Night with Lucy

Lith drank his tea and went over to snuggle closer to Lucy. He saw Ren in the corner of the room and wasn't comfortable with him here when he was getting intimate with his big sister. He therefore put Ren in his spatial ring.

The spatial ring was very big. It had an area of 10,000 km² and could be increased as Lith's magical rank increases. It could accommodate living beings inside with no problem. It was almost like a mini world.

Such a spatial ring was very difficult to make and needed atleast the help of a few King ranks who were proficient in space and time elements. It was made by Lilith and it was the best spatial ring in the world. Only three people had such rings. Lilith, Lith and Lucy.

Lith made accomodation in his spatial ring and put Ren in there with some toys for him to play. He put enough food for him inside and gave him toys on which he could attack and play with. His pet was a male and he didn't like it when he thought that he would watch them.

Lith after putting Ren inside, hugged Lucy and stuffed his face inside her big breasts. Lucy was listening to music and she only smiled at his actions and ruffled his hair.

Lith lay comfortably in her bosom for a while. He then took his face out from her bosoms and removed her big breasts out of her shirt and started sucking on her beautiful pink nipples.

Lucy didn't say anything and let him do whatever he wanted. Although she felt a bit shy and embarrassed, it was alright with her. It was her little brother, it thus didn't bother her too much. She kept caressing his hair while he sucked on her nipples and kneaded her other boob in whatever shape he liked.

Lith then removed his face out of her boobs and looked at his big sister. She removed her headphone and smiled and asked

"What is it dear?"

"Big sis, would you feel uncomfortable if you had milk coming out of your breasts?" Lith asked her shamelessly. He liked his mother's milk and it was really good but having his sister have milk coming out would make the experience even better. It was only a thought he had and didn't put any hopes on it but now that he had thought of becoming shameless to handle his mother, he would also act on it and do shameless things along the way. This was one of them.

Lucy blushed at her brother's shameless words. She still composed herself and said "Missing mom's milk already?"

"No, it's not like that. I felt curious as to how big sis's milk would taste like. That's it." Lith explained his thoughts.

"Do you really want to drink my milk that much?" Lucy asked with a slight red face.

"I do but if big sis is uncomfortable, I won't force you to do it. It's alright with me. So big sis, you shouldn't force yourself to do it if you don't want to." Lith said.

"It's okay with me. I haven't had milk coming out before so I don't know if it's uncomfortable or not but trying won't hurt anyway. If it's uncomfortable, I'll let you know." Lucy said with the same red face.

She then took out a pill from her ring and ate it. After a few seconds, her breasts felt a little softer and her nipples a little hard.

Lith touched her boob and milk spilled out a little. Her boob now felt exactly like his mother's and felt almost as if he was touching his mother's breasts and not his big sister's.

He then thought to himself that his big sis really wanted to breastfeed him with her milk. She even had a pill ready with her. Being shameless definitely ran in the family he thought. Although Lucy acted all shy and embarrassed, she was just like Lith and Lilith. The only difference was that Lith and Lilith did things actively and Lucy only did it subconsciously.

Lucy thought that her little brother might crave breast milk of their mother and so with this as an excuse, she brought a pill which allowed breast milk to form and come out. She didn't even think that she herself wanted her little brother to breastfeed from her. She was a good big sister who was only thinking of her little brother's need, she thought.

Lith started to suckle on her nipples. It tasted almost like his mother's milk but only a little less sweet. He sucked on one of the nipples for a while and then went onto another one.

Lucy was looking at him lovingly and was caressing his hair while he sucked on her nipples. She now understood how her mother felt when she is breastfeeding them. It felt very good. It was a nice warm feeling.

Lith then went up and kissed Lucy. He did a passionate kiss with her for a while and Lucy sort of tasted her own milk. She too was amazed by the fact that her own milk tasted almost like her mother's.

Lith then broke the kiss and he went down. He removed her belt and unbuttoned her pants and removed them. Lucy was now only on her panties and her shirt was open, showing her big boobs. She looked very sexy and seductive in Lith's eyes. He got erect just from looking at her. He walked up towards Lucy's face and stood there.

Lucy understood what her little brother wanted and started removing his pant. She was a bit embarrassed but not too much. Her little brother didn't do anything to make her feel like that and she had done all of these before with him, so she was pretty much normal.

She removed his pant and was amazed by the view in front of her. No matter how many times she looked at it, it always felt amazing to her. She licked the tip a little and then took the whole thing in her mouth. She wasn't as experienced as her mother so her blowjob was a little sloppy.

Lith tucked her hair behind her ears and started organizing her hair. He felt really good with even though she was a bit sloppy. Her inexperienced tongue had another charm to. After about ten minutes, he felt he was close so he grabbed her hair from behind and started face fucking her.

He didn't do it wildly because he didn't want to hurt his big sister and thus he didn't deepthroat her. Lucy swirled her tongue around Lith's tip and started bobbing her head to and fro faster and faster. After a few minutes Lith pushed her head deeper and thrust his dick to almost her throat and came.

Lucy was although inexperienced, she still held it all in her mouth and started swallowing slowly. Her cheeks puffed up and she closed her eyes to savour the taste of her little brother. Lith pulled his dick out of her mouth and a little cum dripped from the corner of her mouth. He didn't say anything anymore and went down and removed her panties.

He used two fingers to spread her outer labias and looked at the beautiful insides of his big sister's pussy. Her vaginal hole was contracting and relaxing, as if asking for something to be put in to satisfy it. He bent forward and licked her pussy and started playing with her clit with his fingers. With the other hand he started groping one of her boob. He pinched her nipple and pulled it.

"Mhmm..." Lucy moaned in pleasure after she had swallowed everything in her mouth and cleaned it with a cleansing spell. She ruffled the hair of Lith who was licking her pussy. Lith moved his mouth up and started sucking and licking Lucy's clit. He then thrust two of his fingers suddenly inside her now wet hole.

"Ohhh..." Lucy moaned a little louder than before, not expecting this sudden attack. She started getting wetter with each of his thrusts inside her. Lith started fingering her insides and was looking around for her g spot. He kept doing that until he finally heard Lucy say

"Ahh yess...That's the spot dear...mhmm"

Lucy moaned when Lith touched her g spot. Lith started finger fucking her faster. With his thumb he pressed around her clit and he kept fingering her with his middle finger and ring finger. He got up and made his way to her big breasts which were leaking out milk a little. He started sucking on one of it and kept fingering Lucy.

"Mhmm...mhhmm..." Lucy was enjoying the pleasure which Lith gave her. Lith kept going like this for the next fifteen minutes and he felt Lucy's inner walls tightening. He stopped sucking her breasts and gave her a peck on her lips and went down. He started thrusting his fingers in and out of her faster and licked and sucked her clit.

"Ahhh...ahhh..." Lucy's moan kept getting louder and louder with each of Lith's stimulations. She grabbed Lith's head and pushed it deeper in her.

"Ahhhh...Lith...I am cumming...ahhh..." Lucy pushed him deeper in her pussy and arched her back and came. Love juices started dripping out of her and Lith skillfully drank it all. Lucy had her eyes half closed and she was breathing heavily. She had suppressed her

King rank to rank 1 and was now just like an ordinary lady. She was enjoying Lith to the maximum potential.

Lith got up and wiped his mouth with his shirt's sleeve. He then looked at the red body of Lucy who was recovering from her orgasm. She looked very hot right now. He couldn't wait to devour her. He got in between her legs and started rubbing her his dick over her pussy. He made it wet and then looked at his big sister.

Lucy also looked at him but didn't say anything. Lith looked at her and smiled and kept rubbing his dick on her pussy. He didn't put it in. This continued for a few seconds and Lucy finally said a bit impatiently

"Why are you teasing me like that?"

"Big sis, you didn't tell me to put in yet." Lith smiled and teased.

"P-put it in." Lucy said with a little red face.

"Put what in big sis? Please tell me clearly as to put what and where in and I ll happily do it." Lith said without any shame. He had taken up on the path to become a shameless young man who would dominate his ladies and also the world in the coming future. This was only his starting.

Chapter 56: Night with Lucy (2)

After his session with his mother last time, he swore to become even stronger than her and the dominant one in the relationship. He was now starting to do things a bit more shamelessly to adjust to that goal and test out new things and his true self. He didn't know what his true personality was but doing what he liked was one way to find it. Thus here he was, asking his big sister to say vulgar words which she hadn't said in her whole life.

"N-no. I am not saying that. I am not shameless like you or mom. Hmph!" Lucy said in an embarrassment way and turned her face sideways to not look at him. Although she said that, her body did the complete opposite. Her hips started shaking and moving more towards Lith's dick as if wanting to let it inside on it's own.

"Big sis, you should be honest like your body. Now tell me what you want and your little brother would definitely fulfill it for you." Lith said shamelessly.

After a few seconds of contemplating.

"Put it in. Put your d-dick in my p-p-pussy." Lucy said in a very embarrassed tone and she stuttered saying those vulgar words which she hadn't ever in her life. She said it very impatiently as she couldn't wait anymore. She hid her face in embarrassment after she realised what she had just said.

Lith smiled at his big sister's behaviour. Although he was younger than her, she was clearly more innocent and looking at this innocent big sister of his to speak vulgar words was very pleasing to him. He did as she said. He shoved his dick deep in her in one thrust.

"Ohhhhhh" Lucy moaned very loudly at this. She hadn't had sex with him for quite a while and her pussy was thus very tight. She thought that Lith would do it slowly and gently and not be so rough.

"Ugh.." Lith forgot that his big sister was a Vampire with the most superior healing ability. He didn't think clearly beforehand and shoved it in without caring for the consequences. Thankfully her insides were very wet and he too had lubricated his shaft with her juices beforehand or else it might have been much more painful for both. He was balls deep in her and he was about to stay where he was to not let his big sister feel more pain.

"Why did you stop? Keep moving." Lucy said impatiently. This sort of pain was nothing to her. She actually enjoyed it in fact.

She was a battle maniac and she had been training for the past 500 years very well. She was trained by her mother herself and she had a very high pain tolerance level. Even if someone was to skin her alive to torture her to the worst possible degree, she wouldn't even utter a single painful cry. She would let the person torture and kill her but she wouldn't utter any painful cries for help or beg someone to stop.

She was a very strong woman and 500 years worth of battle experience, although was too little, it was still a lot as she was tortured day and night for years in one go by Lilith herself. Lilith was a very loving mother and she wouldn't do something to harm her babies.

But Lucy had asked her to give her the most hardcore training she had and torture her in the most brutal way so she had to do it. She would be in tears when she tortured her daughter and would cry loudly asking her daughter to not have this torture done to her when she herself realised how brutal things were getting at hand. Lucy simply consoled her mother while getting tortured and assured her that it was for her own good and benefit. It was important for her growth and she kept repeating that and asked Lilith to not stop.

Lilith was always in tears whenever she tortured her baby. She thought of herself as the worst mother one could ever have but she kept going. She had to do as her baby girl had asked her to do. She wouldn't stop her from growing and she knew too that this was also for her own good. She thus started training her. It was low level torture at first to let Lucy got used to it and she increased the pain more and more as soon as Lucy got used to the previous one.

The longest period Lucy was tortured day and night was for 4 years. She would have her eyes gauged out, her tongue cut, her skin peeled off and was let to bleed. She didn't cry even one bit and endured the pain. She knew her mother would be depressed so she called her mother's friends over.

Mayzin, Agalea and Lucifer had asked Lucy to stop and that there were other ways to grow strong but Lucy simply didn't listen to them as she knew that her mother's training was the best in the world. If this wasn't better, than nothing else could be.

She was right. Lilith's training was the best. Why would Lilith settle for anything less when it concerned her baby's growth? Although it was very hardcore and brutal, it was still the best. Lilith was very depressed during this period when Lucy was tortured day and night without any rest or food or anything. She was at half Saint rank at that time and she didn't need to have nutrition from food or needed to drink water or anything.

Lucy was fed with Lilith's blood after every torture session. For seven years she was tortured in one room. She would be out when the pain was too much at the start but later she kept enduring and the session got longer and longer. At last, during the last 4 years, it was Lucifer who tortured her according to Lilith's instructions as Lilith was just too depressed and couldn't do it anymore.

Lilith had tortured her for 3 years and she was at her limit. Any more and she would break down. Thus Lucy wisely called Mayzin, Agalea and Lucifer to comfort her and had Lucifer help her with the rest of the training. For two years straight she endured the pain and would cry out in pain sometimes when her eyes were gauged out, her skin peeled, her tendons cut in her legs and her guts churned into a bloody mess by Lucifer but after those first two years, she would not utter a single word and endure. After a year she got numb to anything that Lucifer did to her. Finally the last year went by without a hitch for her and she had completed her training.

Lucy had become a very strong woman after these seven long years of torture training. She had broken through to Half King rank from Half Saint rank during the torture training. She had comprehend the various mysteries of life and death and the nature and meaning of living and the world. During her torture, she had nothing to do other than to endure pain and thus she started contemplating the laws of the world.

Therefore, she once broke into Saint rank in just one and a half year and Lilith thus had to endure her tears and train Lucy back. She wanted to stop with this but Lucy's breakthrough proved it right that it was not some stupid training just to torture a person. She couldn't do it anymore after a year and a half though. That was another thing altogether. A mother's heart was very fragile. It couldn't just watch it's own child into such a state. So she gave up later.

After Lucy got numbed to pain in the last year of her training, she started comprehending the laws even more seriously and thus her training got over after a year when she broke through into Half King rank.

She then trained by battling Lilith in combat and spells. She would drain herself everyday and kept training and stop one in a few months for a break. Lucifer and Mayzin also helped her with battle and Lucy learned a lot. Agalea was training her daughter Alea at that time. She didn't take Lilith's training because it was only meant for Vampires who had a very strong self healing abilities.

This went on for twenty years and Lucy stopped when she broke into King rank. She didn't train as crazily as before after her breakthrough into King rank as she now had the best battle experience and training by battling wouldn't help anymore.

Also she was too young when she broke into King rank. Her rate to breakthrough was simply terrifying. She was even better than Lilith in terms of breaking through.

Lilith took 450 years to breakthrough to King rank and Lucy did it in only 400 years. 50 years earlier than her mother. Lilith was very proud of her. She used to hug Lucy and wouldn't let her go for weeks and this halted her from her training. She couldn't train anyway, it was because she had to consolidate her rank and properly get to know it.

She had broken through 2 ranks very quickly and thus wasn't a good thing. If it were any other person, they would have died instantly after they broke into another rank without even consolidating their previous one. She got from Half Saint rank to King rank in just twenty seven years. It was simply a monstrous speed. She was almost around 400 years old at that time. She wasn't even an adult Vampire!

Thus, Lucy's progress halted to consolidate herself and she didn't train much any more because she also had to take care of her pregnant mother. Lilith was almost about to give birth anytime. It still took a good 50 years for her to give birth and finally Lith was born. Lucy was thus absorbed into handling the political affairs and taking care of her little brother and mother.

She has therefore had not broken through in any higher rank yet. Lucy had the potential to become a Supreme rank within 5,000 years. It was a simply very terrifying speed. It was almost on par with Lilith. Wether she could become a Legendary rank like her mother or not, it was yet to be known.

After all of that, she was now a very powerful being. Her willpower was no joke. She was only lacking in her magical rank and she was at the top of the world in her own ranks. Nobody below or at the same rank would be able to defeat her. It was also not possible for any Half Emperor except for the most elite ones at the top to defeat her. She was a monster who would be at the top of the world, second only to Lilith when she reaches Supreme rank.

All this aside, Lith was now looking at his big sister worriedly and asked

"Big sis, aren't you hurt?" He thought he had hurt his big sis due to his stupidity.

Lucy chuckled and said "This type of pain is nothing to me. Remember the pain tolerance training I gave you? I've endured even worse than that. You too will have to go through with it once you grow up a little. The thing you did actually felt pleasuring. So, keep moving."

Although she was embarrassed, she still had to compose herself and tell her little brother that it was okay, so he might not worry too much and feel guilty. Thus she said it without feeling embarrassed.

Lith heaved a sigh of relief when he heard that she was alright. But soon he tensed up thinking of more training. He still remembered his days before awakening his magic core when he brutally had his organs crushed for pain tolerance. He shivered in a little fear and remembered this sadist big sister of his who didn't even think twice before hurting him during training. He then looked at her and the position they were in. This sadist lady was now under him, in a very weak position and he could do whatever he wanted.

He smiled widely at that thought but soon calmed down. He'll not experiment stupidly on his family about things without their permission as he loved both his big sister and mother very dearly just like how they loved him.

If it were his lover or someone else, he wouldn't really think as such and do anything naughty he wanted but family was different altogether. He had thought of the way he would treat people and his family took the first priority in everything. They had cared for him so much and spoiled him a lot and he would forever be grateful for it and thus, nobody else could take the first priority in his life.

He also didn't want to admit it but it was the truth that he couldn't become too dominant on his big sister and mother. He couldn't understand the reason why it was so but he'll soon be able to, he thought.

Anyway, he could still do many things to his big sister who was under him right now and Lucy was in for a ride.

Chapter 57: Night with Lucy (3)

Lith looked at Lucy and smiled. He didn't want to let his big sis suffer more so he started moving.

"Mhm" Lucy closed her eyes and moaned in satisfaction. She felt very comfortable with his gentle stroking. She thought he might get rough but he only did it gently even after her telling him to. Nevertheless, she still liked it.

Lith found his sister getting comfortable. Looking at her relaxing from his gentle thrusting, he didn't have the heart to get rough but he suddenly had an idea. He held her hands and pulled her up making her startled from his actions.

Lucy was woken up from the relaxing feeling and she looked at Lith's face with an expression that said he had wronged her. She was about to say something but Lith locked his lips on her's. Lith held her waist with both his hands and his legs were spread outwards and Lucy had her legs on Lith's sides, also spreading outwards in a comfortable position.

He kissed her while thrusting his dick in her pussy. His physical strength was very good, not at all belonging to someone from rank 1, all thanks to training from the lady who was bouncing in his lap due to his thrusting. He invaded his tongue into Lucy's mouth and she stuck out her own, not letting him dominate her. A tongue battle began and Lith grabbed her soft meaty buns and groped them roughly for a while.

Lucy cupped Lith's face and dominated the passionate tongue battle. She didn't give a chance to Lith at all. How could a mere rank 1 resist a King rank monster? Although she had suppressed herself, years of tempering her body still remained as it is and her physical strength was simply monstrous. Though she didn't do anything more than dominating the kiss.

Lith then held her big perky ass and started moving her up and down along with his thrusts. He was increasing the pace slowly and steadily. After a while, Lith's thrust had gotten very fast. He increased his pace much faster than before after finding Lucy's inner walls massaging his shaft.

"Mhhffm...mhffmmm.."

Lucy kept giving muffled moans into Lith's mouth but didn't let him go. She had been enjoying his thrusts in her while passionately kissing him. After about five minutes of kissing and pounding, Lith broke the kiss to catch a breather but he didn't stop his fast thrusts. Lucy wrapped her arms around his neck and started licking his neck. She didn't bite it yet.

Ten minutes later, Lith was starting to feel he was close. He bit Lucy's neck and started drinking blood from her little by little and he raised her hips much higher, almost to the tip of his cock and thrust it down as quickly as he lifted her

"Ahhhhh~ "

Lucy moaned loudly and lewdly. Lith was reaching the depths which he hadn't before from these deep thrusts. Lucy was enjoying every second of it. He kept sucking her blood and lifting her up via her soft big butt and putting her down while thrusting her.

Clap clap

Sounds of flesh colliding could be heard throughout the room along with Lucy's lewd moans.

"Ahhh....dear...close...ahhh..I am close..."

Lucy said in between her lewd moans. Lith left her neck and bit her nipple and pulled it outwards a little. Milk sprayed out and made his mouth a little wet but he didn't mind it. He kept thrusting his cock in her pussy faster and faster with every thrust. He too was very close now.

"Ahhh....ahh..I am cumming...I..mhmm"

"Aghh. "

Lucy orgasmed hard and was still in the midst of it when she felt Lith's hot cum pour in her womb. She was very sensitive right now and the hot semen only made her feel more pleasure. Lith grunted in pleasure and Lucy bit on Lith's neck due to so much stimulation. This only prolonged both of their orgasms.

"Huff...Huff.."

Lith and Lucy both were breathing heavily right now. Lucy was collapsed on the bed on her back and Lith was on top of her. He felt too good. He and Lucy were now recovering from their pleasurable states.

"Tired? You want to sleep now, dear?" Lucy asked in a gentle way.

"Nope. The night has only just begun and I still have a long way to go. You afraid, my dear sister?" Lith smirked at her and teased.

Lucy pinched his nose and chuckled. Lith didn't say anything more and laid on her bosoms for a while.

After a few minutes, he got up and said

"Alright, let's go have a bath and clean up, big sis. You have something more fun waiting for you." Lith winked at her and took her hand and went into the bath.

Lucy didn't say anything and followed him. She was anticipating on what was to come next. Her little brother never let her down and had always made sure to please her well even before his core awakening. She looked forward to what more he wanted to do with her.

Lith and Lucy went to the bath. Lith made Lucy sit and washed her back first. He then got in front of her and gave her a quick peck on her lips. She smiled at his actions and didn't say anything. He then washed her big breasts which were second only to his mother and then the rest of her area.

He then made her stand up and washed up her legs. He went upwards towards her pussy and she got embarrassed a little from this. It was always her mother who washed her and it was the first time it was Lith who was doing it. So she was a little embarrassed. He parted her legs anyway and washed her hairless pubic region. He then put his two fingers in her pussy and cleaned her insides. He cast a cleansing spell which didn't require chanting and cleaned the insides while fingering her a little. After a few seconds, he was done. He then got up and said

"Alright big sis, turn over and bend down."

"N-no." Lucy said with a red face as she was embarrassed and didn't want her little brother to clean that area of her.

Lith didn't listen to her and grabbed her waist by both his hands and turned her around. He then pressed his hands behind her back and bent her forward. Lucy was surprised at his sudden actions but still complied. She supported herself by putting her hand on the stool which she was sitting on.

Lucy turned her head and said with a red face "Lith, no. Don't do it. It's very embarrassing."

Although she said that, she didn't show up any physical resistance. Lith knew of his big sister's behaviour and didn't listen to her pleas at all. He separated her ass cheeks with one hand and looked at her beautiful pink slits and her pink puckered butt hole. He put one finger inside and it was met with a little resistance. He waited for a while and Lucy gradually relaxed and let his fingers invade her.

He then put another of his finger inside her ass hole and started fingering her. He cast a cleaning spell and did the same thing for a few minutes and everything got well cleaned. He then let her go and washed himself with a cleaning spell quickly. He then grabbed her hand and pulled her out of the bath.

He then pushed Lucy onto bed and climbed up on it. He then said smirking

"Get on all fours, big sis."

Lucy didn't say anything and simply did as she was told with a red face. She was too embarrassed to face him or talk to him right now. Her brother had gotten more and more shameless and bold. She thought to herself that she would punish him later to put some sense in him but subconsciously she liked whatever he was doing to her.

Lith brought out a liquid from his ring and poured it over Lucy's ass hole and pussy lips and covered his shaft with it too. He then shoved his tip inside Lucy's tight backdoor.

"Hiiii.."

Lucy hissed at the sudden surprise. She did feel something cool on her ass hole and pussy lips and thought he would do it in this position but she didn't expect for him to do it inside that place.

"L-Lith.." she looked back and had a slightly resistant look. She wanted to say it was dirty and that he shouldn't do it but he had just cleaned her a few minutes ago himself. She didn't have anything to retort to him about.

Lith bent over her back and gave her a gentle kiss on her neck and whispered in her ears

"Relax, there's no need to be embarassed about. It'll be alright."

Lucy didn't say anything anymore and tried to relax. Lith slowly started shoving his dick deeper into her. He gentle kissed her neck and fondled her boobs gently, gradually helping her calm down. Soon, he was all in and knew that the time was right. He smiled and said

"Are you ready for a new experience big sis? It's my first time doing it so I apologize for being inexperienced."

Lucy just nodded her head signalling him to continue. Internally, she was happy that her anal virginity was taken by her little brother who also hadn't done it before. She was a little sulky for a few days when her mother took her brother's virginity but she got over it. She was now more than happy to know that it was his first time as well and all her grievances from before had gone now.

Lith started moving his hips slowly and gently as he wanted Lucy to have this as a good memory. He held her by the her hips and started going faster after a while.

"Mhm~"

Lucy was enjoying the thrust in her ass and was releasing muffled moans. She didn't openly accept it that it felt good but she started moving her hips in rhythm with Lith's thrusts. Lith soo started going faster and he bent down on her back and pinched her nipples with both of his hands.

"Ahhh...ahhh...ahh.."

Clap clap

Lith's fast pounding Lucy's ass caused their flesh clapping each other to be heard. He then stood straight and held her by her hips and thrust faster.

Pahh pahh

"Ahhh~"

Lucy moaned in delight when Lith spanked her ass. She weirdly liked it when he spanked her like that. Lith feeling Lucy's walls tightening just from two spanks was surprised. He then smirked and gave her many spank on her ass and kept pounding her faster and faster.

"Ahhh...dear...yes...spank me harder...ahh~"

Lucy was too absorbed in pleasure to care about what she was speaking. She simply enjoyed herself getting pounded by her little brother's cock in her ass while he spanked her hard.

Lucy's ass cheeks were now red but she kept asking for more and Lith happily gave her what she wanted and kept fucking her faster and faster. After about 30 minutes of continuous pounding

"Ahhh...yes...faster Lith...ahh..ahh.."

Lith increased his pace and bent down and pinched and twisted her nipples. He kneaded her breasts and then pulled her nipples outwards while thrusting his cock in her ass faster.

"Ahhh...I am cumming...c-cumming.."

"Ahh..."

Lucy orgasmed and Lith too moaned a little and released his warm load in her ass. He fell to the side while holding Lucy from behind with his dick still in her ass hole. He kissed her gently on her neck and cheeks and gently fondled her boobs.

He removed his limp dick out from her butt hole and his cum came dripping out along with it. Soon Lucy recovered and turned around. She didn't say anything and just kissed Lith. They had another passionate kiss with Lucy dominating it yet again. Lith rubbed his now semi erect shaft into Lucy's lower lips and got it erect again.

He tried putting it in but missed repeatedly as he was busy kissing Lucy. Lucy moved one of her hand and guided Lith's dick in her pussy again. Lith after feeling the familiar soft and warm sensation, started moving again. This time he gently did that while kissing her.

Lith broke the kiss and hugged Lucy. Lucy placed her head on Lith's chest and wrapped one of her legs on his waist to give him easy access to fuck her pussy. Lith gently and slowly did the pounding this time, making him and Lucy both relaxed and sleepy.

After who knows when but both slept soundly with Lith still inside Lucy. They both hugged each other to sleep.

Chapter 58: Ren is what?

Lucy woke up earlier and found her dear brother sleeping soundly. It was fun to experience new things and last night was sure very interesting she thought while caressing his hair.

She could still feel his thing inside her as he hadn't taken it out yet. She didn't move much and waited for Lith to wake up. Lith woke up after a little more than an hour and he found Lucy looking at his face lovingly with a smile. Lucy kissed his forehead and hugged him. Lith snuggled in her arms and lay comfortably like that for a while.

"So, where are we going today?" Lucy asked after a while.

"To Red Leaver city. We'll go have fun near the lake and then stargaze later at night at Queen's peak which is outside Langerhan city." Lith smiled and said.

"Hmm? Red Leaver city? Are you sure it's only for the lake?" Lucy squinted her eyes and cast a doubtful look at Lith.

"Not really." Lith said smiling.

"Then what else is there?" Lucy asked with the same look.

"Isn't it obvious, big sis." Lith smiled and teased.

"Wait. You really want to go there for their brothels?" Lucy said in a little shock.

Red Leaver city was famous for only two things. Minerals and brothels. It had the biggest red light area in the whole continent as the city was the richest and most populous.

Lith laughed at her sister's thinking. He gave her a peck on her lips and then said

"It isn't for the brothels, big sis. I want to be there in the middle of the red lake and enjoy the view with you. Also we can find a place near the lake and..."

Lith was about to explain some naughty things when Lucy covered his mouth with her hands and said with a red face

"Okay, okay, I get it. No need to talk more."

Lith simply smiled and got out of bed. He and Lucy both had a bath together and didn't do anything naughty in it, though Lith still took some advantage. They dressed up and Lith was back in his disguise and was wearing a white shirt and black pant with a black jacket. He wore black shoes and tucked his shirt in and then buckled his belt.

Lucy was wearing a simple black gown and she too was in her disguise. The clothes were simple but it looked elegant on her.

Lith then got Ren out of his ring and patted on his head. Ren looked like a dark golden retriever right now but he knew he would transform into a humanoid form after he reaches Saint rank. Lucy looked at Ren and at Lith who was patting him and asked

"By the way, why did you name him Ren? Isn't Ren a male name?"

Lith looked at her in a confused way and said "That's right. I just named him because it felt convenient to say his name like that."

"No, what I meant was, Ren is a male name whereas the baby wolf you are patting right now is a female. Did you think it was a male from the start?" Lucy asked, bewildered. Had her little brother not known this? She thought.

"What?!" Lith said in surprise.

'Ren was a female? Wasn't short dark purple fur indicate that it was a male for a Purple Night Wolf? Did I mistook it? No, not really, Ren still has short purple hair. So why is big sis saying that?' Lith thought to himself.

"So it was true." Lucy chuckled at her little brother's dumb mistake. She then said "so what made you think that Ren was a male?"

"Wasn't short dark purple hair meant to be only had by males in Purple Night Wolf? See, Ren still has short hair." Lith explained.

"That is correct but, the one you have right now with you, is a baby wolf. All baby wolf have short purple hair." Lucy giggled and explained.

Lith was even more shocked now. How did he make such a stupid mistake? He thought to himself. He then looked at his big sister and asked

"I was observing Ren from afar and only noticed the short fur and thought it was a male. I didn't cross check later for it either. Big sis, how did you know it though?"

Lucy chuckled and said "Isn't it obvious? The ears are a little more pointy than normal. It's a trait of a female in Purple night wolves."

Lith looked at the pointy ears of Ren and then asked Ren

"Ren, are you really a female?"

'yes, master.' Ren said via mental transmission. Lith had told Ren that he was it's master and should be addressed like that.

Lith sighed in his mind. Was it a careless mistake or was it a dumb mistake? He thought to himself.

"Don't blame yourself, dear. It was a honest mistake. It's alright. You can still change Ren's name if you want." Lucy helped Lith alleviate his guilt a little.

"Sorry, Ren. I thought you were a male. Anyway, how does Rena sound to you? Do you like the name Rena?" Lith asked.

Ren, now Rena, nodded her head giving her approval.

"Good. Rena sounds nice too. Alright, let's go now." Lucy said.

Rena shrunk in size and became a baby golden retriever and got onto Lith's shoulder. Lucy hugged Lith and cast 'Provincial Jump' and teleported with him to the Red Lake in Red Leaver city.

Red Leaver City, Nightingale.

In the outskirts of the city was a big Lake which was red in colour due to certain phenomenon. It was very big in size and could have been considered as Sea, had it not been for the world having enormously huge Oceans and Seas. The lake was just an average size lake as compared to the world's standard but it was beautiful due to it's red glow in the ever lasting darkness of Vampire continent.

Two figures came out of nowhere into a certain spot. One tall and the other, half the size of the taller figure. There was a small dog like animal on the shorter figure's shoulder. They were none other than Lucy, Lith and Rena.

"No matter how many times we do Space Jump, it still amazes me that we can teleport to such vast distances on our own and also in an instant." Lith said to Lucy who was hugging him via his waist, in amazement.

Lucy chuckled and ruffled Lith's hair. She too knew how amazing it was but didn't comment more on it. She would've liked to brag about her mom, because of whom they got such abilities but she didn't. She would let Lith himself discover the facts about how great their mother was. He would feel much better that way and it would in turn bring him closer to his family. Those were the thoughts hidden behind her small chuckle which she didn't say out loud.

They walked towards the lake and found a very amazing sight. In the darkness of night where only the silver-crimson moon emitted its brilliance, the lake was glowing crimson. It seemed as if there was a great battle done over it and the blood of the participants had dyed the lake a forever shade of crimson. This creepy colour only increased the charms of the lake to the Vampires who were very fond of blood. The lake was a perfect spot to come and hangout for lovers, friends and family alike.

Though it seemed to be dyed by blood of people, it was in fact red because of a certain natural phenomenon in the lake's bottom. There was a spot in its Central area which emitted the crimson dye due to some unknown reason and made the whole lake red. People have indeed found out about it but because it didn't harm the water life or the people and it was safe to even consume the water directly, people didn't bother with it. This lake had been present here since a long long time and many have drunk its water and had no problems. Thus, it was deemed safe.

There were boats available for rental near the Red Leaver city to hangout on the waters but Lith and Lucy didn't need it. They had their own ways to enjoy this place.

They were currently standing at the shore of the lake where behind them was a dark forest with dark vegetation everywhere and in front was a red lake which seemed as if it didn't have water but blood. This sight along with the abnormal moon made Lith's heart beat in amazement. He was mesmerized by this scene and he had never thought something so beautiful could exist somewhere.

He had read it online that this place was an amazing spot to hangout but who would've known that the comments greatly underestimated the beauty of the lake.

Lucy looked at her little brother's amazed expression in amusement. Although it was him who made the plan to come here, the roles have been reversed now. Lucy was like a guide who was enjoying the reactions of the tourist visiting the unknown places. She had not been to this place before but the look on her little brother's face was much more better than the scenery for her.

Lith looked at the scenery and then at his big sister and was amazed yet again. This silver hair and purple eyes beauty seemed like a goddess in the mortal world. If before the scenery felt nice, it felt complete now. He kept staring at her and then he then he thought how beautiful it would be if his mother was here too and they could enjoy it together as a family. He then made a bucket list in his mind to come here again with his mother and big sister.

"Are you going to keep staring at your big sis or can we get moving, dear?" Lucy smiled and said.

"I was amazed by your beauty, big sis. It's only natural for me to keep staring." Lith smiled and said.

Lucy blushed a little but it wasn't visible on her face due to the darkness. She didn't say anything and took his hand and walked forward on water. She cast a low rank spell that didn't even need to be chanted or thought for too long. It was a blend of wind and earth element and it created temporary steps for them to walk on water. They walked holding hands for a while and then Lucy cast Short jump and they came at the middle of the lake.

She then cast a low rank spell again and a little piece of land was formed above water which laid there stably without moving. They sat there together without any care. Lucy had her King rank aura released a little and no creatures from the lake dared to approach them. They sat there and happily talked and ate food. They were on a picnic and they were enjoying it.

Meanwhile, far away from where Lith and Lucy were.

In a small town in one of the small cities of the Lupin country in the Human continent,

An old man that looked nothing ordinary and just like a normal beggar, was roaming on the streets of the small town plaza. He was holding a black flag with only one word in white written on it. He found a youngster in the town plaza and walked up to him.

"Young man, I have seen your stars and you are going to die today."

The old man, holding a flag, showed a carefree smile to the youngster and said that in the voice of a normal old man. The only word on his flag was,

'Destiny'.

Chapter 59: What Stupid Pride?

"Stop with your crap old man. I am already in a very bad mood this morning. " The youngster said.

The old man didn't say anything anymore and simply watched the youngster go away. He walked along the street and found a random spot beside the street and sat there crossed leg. He put the flag beside him to lean against the wall and he spread a mat on the ground and laid many things on it.

His small counter was ready. The mat had many colourful stones, rings, some old looking scrolls and a crystal ball in the middle. He was an astrologer.

The old man looked very ordinary and there was nothing extraordinary about him. He had long white beard which touched the middle of his chest. He wore a black turban made of a simple looking black cotton type material. It was a very common piece of clothing the poor wore. He had a black cloth of similar material wrapped around his upper body. His lower abdomen was seen a little. He had very well defined set of lower abs. From the looks of it, he seemed very fit.

The fit muscular old man was also wearing black pants of the same material and he wore ordinary looking slippers on his feet. After he set up his stall, he sat in a meditative position, waiting for any customer to come to him.

Ever since Lilith was born, destiny of all beings had become a little uncertain. After she reached Legendary rank, fate couldn't be calculated anymore and thus destiny couldn't be measured. Everything was uncertain since half a million years.

Astrologers couldn't do their own jobs properly and thus they went onto a decline as people didn't sought out their services. Now, there were only a few astrologers like the old man who roamed the streets of the world. They were all poor people and looked like beggars. They were usually scammers or people who used psychological tricks to help people for a price.

Therefore, the youngster, was informed on not to get scammed by such people. It's been a long time and information about such scammers were out in open. Even a child wouldn't go to such people for anything. So when the old man said those words, the youngster instantly thought he was there to scam him and was talking a load of crap and made him scam away rudely.

The muscular and lean old man who was sitting in a meditative position was observing something. Yes, he was observing something with his eyes closed.

With his eyes closed, he had a clear view of the youngster who he talked to.

The youngster was walking through the streets in an irritated way. He was in a bad mood since morning. He walked aimlessly around and bumped into a girl. He had bumped his head in the girl's bosoms and the girl fell down to the sudden collision. She got up and yelled

"What the fuck do you think you are doing, bastard?"

The girl attacked him after saying that. The youngster who was already irritated got even more angry. This girl didn't even wait for him to apologise and was being so unreasonable he thought. He didn't want to be beat down by a girl so he attacked her too. They were now in a fight and he beat the girl up a little. Her face had taken a hit and it was swollen. She said in a rage

"I'LL KILL YOU!"

The people passing heard it and watched the show with great interest. A man burly man came and looked at the fight because he heard a familiar voice. He found a familiar girl with a swollen face fighting. He got into rage as he saw someone attack her. He went in the fight and hit a punch to the youngster's spine causing him to die instantly.

The girl looked at the man who had made a sudden appearance and smiled. She went up to him and hugged him and said

"Darling, thankyou."

The man didn't say anything and took the girl away. He would listen to her explanations later when he treated him, he thought.

Thus, the youngster who was warned by the astrologer was now dead.

The old man opened his eyes and smiled. He muttered in a low voice

"Earthlings sure are an interesting bunch. He was in a bad mood just because he reincarnated into a body of a peasant a few days ago and from the memories of the dead guy, he realised he was in a lot of debt and now died stupidly like that."

The old man packed up his things and roamed the streets again with a flag that read 'Destiny'.

Red Leaver city, Nightingale.

Lith and Lucy had finished their food and were done talking. Lucy wrapped her hands around Lith's waist and hugged him while making him sit on her lap. Lith, although didn't like getting treated like this, didn't mind because it was his big sister.

He had many thoughts to dominate his mother and big sister and not be treated like a baby in front of them and be a real man but then he shoved those thoughts away after he realised how much they loved him. He had the mindset that letting them dominate him and not the other way around would hurt his pride but on second thought, why was it so? Why would it hurt his pride? He asked himself.

After thinking a lot, he had a change in himself. He realised that it would hurt if it were someone else other than this mother or sister who were to dominate him. His mother and sister had both taken care of him since his birth and they also loved him a lot, no other woman could take their place and do something like this even if she wanted to.

Thus, he thought again that, what's the point of thinking about stupid pride when these two are the sole reason as to why I can keep my head so up. If it weren't for his mother who gave him birth and also because of her power that he got the all elemental affinity and his sister who trained him for ten years without any selfish reason, he wouldn't be in any position to keep his head so high and stand tall among others.

So, these two, who gave their all to him, why should he have any such stupid thought of getting his pride hurt in front of them? What reason was there? You are a man, so you should man up and not let woman dominate you? What bullshit reasoning was this? He was disgusted at his own thoughts and at himself.

Lith made up his mind. In front of these two ladies, who had given their all to him and never asked for anything back, he swore that he would never have such stupid thoughts again and he would try to love them even more than they do to him.

He made up his mother and sister as the first priority. He put them even before himself and he would not care about any such thing as pride in front of them and let them do whatever they wanted with him. He would still love them unconditionally even if they tried or did some weird things on him.

They could dominate him all they want or even make him their play thing, he wouldn't care. Though the chances of that happening are a solid zero. They loved him and would never do something so stupid to him. This unconditional love of theirs to him, who they considered as a son/brother was not something he had gotten even in his previous life. He was truly touched by their feelings for him and he happily thought to himself that he had the best mother and sister.

Lucy looked at Lith who was in a daze, overthinking again. She smiled and just caressed his hair and didn't say anything. She let him do what he wanted and didn't disturb his thoughts. Her little brother only had one problem about him, it was his overthinking. He would be in a daze for no reason and overthink. Her mom and her had tried a lot to change it but it didn't change, so they gave up.

It was not too big of a problem so they gave up and let him be. Lith woke up from his train of thoughts and found himself getting caressed. He turned around and snuggled into her bosoms and lay comfortably. He was like a koala attached to a tree now.

Lucy smiled at his actions. She had a thought after looking at him snuggling like that. She pushed him away a little from her and took out an oversized black hoodie and a comfy grey track pant from her spatial ring. She got up and removed her black dress. She was only in her underwear now. She wore the hoodie and the track pant and sat back down. Lith looked all of these actions of his big sister and was surprised at how bold she had gotten.

Lucy then pulled Lith towards herself and then put him inside her hoodie. Lith was amazed by her actions and he happily complied with it. Lucy, when she saw Lith hugging her like that, remembered the idea which she saw online. She was going through various things to do with family and lovers and found one of these ideas there. Thus looking at him hugging her brought that thought in her mind to try it out.

Lith felt his big sister's bra on his face when he lay his head on her big breasts. He unhooked it from behind and removed it. He lay there again but this time it was his clothes making a hindrance. He got out and removed his shirt and got into Lucy's hoodie again and lay comfortably on her big boobs now. He had his arms wrapped around her body.

Lucy smiled and patted his head. They stayed in that position and talked for a few hours. They stopped when they saw that the crimson hue had gone from the silver moon. They stood up and Lucy cast 'Provincial Jump' and teleported to Queen's peak directly with him. They watched the stars together and slept in each other's embrace comfortably on the peak.

The day was over happily just like that.

Chapter 60: Conference Call

It had been five days since Lith and Lucy left home for their vacation. Lilith was now at home and she felt very bored. She held her phone in her hand and she was trying to suppress her urge to call her children. She missed them very much but she controlled herself from not calling them. It would only disturb their alone time together so she held back.

She then looked at her phone and went through the contact list. She suddenly had an idea to distract herself from missing her children. She dialed a few numbers and started a conference call.

Empress' Castle, Star Dragon city.

A dark dragon with purple scales was sleeping on a treasure mountain. Suddenly a buzzing sound from a phone was heard and woke up the sleeping dragon.

...

World Tree, Alfheim.

A beautiful mature woman in royal and majestic robes was sitting on a chair in her study table. The woman had blonde hair and blue eyes and she was currently explaining something to another woman who looked just like her albeit a bit younger. The mature woman appeared to be in her early 30s and the young woman appeared in her early 20s. They both had pointy ears and they looked very beautiful with it.

The woman heard a buzzing sound and it was her phone that rang. She checked the number and knowing it was from someone important to her, she picked it up.

In a dark and holy castle in Abyssal-Hell.

A black haired, black eyed elegant lady with red ancient horns with majestic engravings on it was sleeping in a not so elegant way and was watching tv while eating chips. Suddenly her phone rang and she didn't even bother to check who it was and picked it up.

"Hello Ladies." A gentle and sweet voice rang out from the other side. It was from Lilith who had called these three and put them in a conference call.

"Bitch! You now remember us?! You banned me from entering your castle and didn't even once call me after that! What the fuck is up with you?!" Lucifer sat straight after hearing the voice and yelled on the phone.

"Now, now. Calm down, Lucifer. Atleast hear out what Lilith has to say." Agalea from the other side said in her sweet and melodious voice.

"Hmm. Why did you wake me up Lilith. Is there something important?" Mayzin asked in a deep voice which indicated that she had just woken up from a long nap.

"Oi, Mayzin. Last time I called you, it was your subordinates who picked up the call and told me you were sleeping so you can't pick up the call. I can guess that you were still sleeping now but you still woke up and picked that bitch's call! Am I not important to you anymore?! Why is that bitch more of a priority than me to you?!" Lucifer yelled again but this time at Mayzin.

She was a little salty because Mayzin slept on her call and didn't respond to her like how she did to Lilith. Though Lucifer's first priority was Lilith too, just like Mayzin and Agalea, she still yelled at Mayzin.

"Lucifer, shut your mouth for a minute and let Lilith speak. There must be something important, now that she called." Mayzin said in an annoyed tone.

She just wanted to know if it was something important or not. If it was not, she would go back to sleep. Thus, she was a little annoyed by Lucifer. It was the usual for her though. Lucifer was the troublemaker in their group and they had to shut her up first so that can get things done.

Lucifer wanted to retort to Mayzin but kept her mouth shut. She too wanted to know why Lilith called. Lilith was her priority as compared to Mayzin and now that she had called her herself, she was more curious to know about this than to yell at Mayzin.

"What's the matter, Lilith?" Agalea's sweet and melodious voice rang out again.

"We haven't met in a long while. How about you guys come over for some tea? Will it be okay with you guys?" Lilith said in a gentle and smooth tone.

She didn't even mention the fact that she wanted to distract herself by hanging out with them. She was very scheming even though she was so powerful.

"What? Are you missing us, bitch?" Lucifer said teasingly.

"Okay, Lucifer is out. Mayzin, Agalea, what about you two?" Lilith said in the same tone.

"Hey, hey ,hey, I was kidding, I was kidding. I'll come don't kick me out!!" Lucifer said hurriedly.

"I am in." Mayzin said in her sleepy voice. She had a nice nap for thirteen years and it would be nice to go out for a bit, she thought and agreed.

"I'll wrap things here and come as well." Agalea said in her sweet and melodious tone.

"Alright. You guys can come over anytime you want. I'll be waiting." Lilith said in the same gentle way.

Lucifer didn't wait anymore and she instantly rushed to the teleportation circle in her castle and teleported to Lilith's castle in Nightingale.

Royal castle, Nightingale.

In a big and well lit hall which was the living room of the castle, there were two big sofas in the hall and in between them was a square tea table big enough to match the big sofas. Lilith was sitting in the middle of one of the sofa and just put down her phone after the call. She leaned back and closed her eyes and smiled. She was waiting now.

Soon, a black hair and black eyed lady with red horns wearing nothing but an oversized black tshirt and black laced panties came running in the hall towards Lilith.

It was Lucifer who came over hurriedly because her ban had been uplifted and didn't want to waste any time. She ran towards Lilith and then jumped on her and collapsed with her on the sofa.

She hugged Lilith and started tearing up. She then said with teary eyes

"Why did sniff why did you have to ban me sniff from meeting you."

Lilith didn't say anything yet and she hugged Lucifer back. She patted on her back with one hand and caressed her hair with another. She knew that Lucifer had missed her a lot.

Lucifer only cared about Lilith, Mayzin, Agalea and her grandfather. Lilith was always her top priority and not being able to meet her was torturing for her. Although she cursed her everyday but she still cared a lot about her.

Lilith was her first friend and also her bestfriend with whom she spent half a million years together. She didn't like the fact that she was banned from meeting her. Now that she was able to meet her again, she wanted to punch this bitch in her guts and ask her why she banned her.

But the things never go your way. She instantly softened up and let go of her grievances when she saw Lilith and hugged her. She teared up a little because she missed her in these thirteen years. Thus, her original plan on her being fierce on Lilith had gone down the drain and she asked her the question while sniffing.

After a few minutes of consoling Lucifer like that, Lilith said chuckling

"Because you would be a bad influence on my newborn child. I don't want him to become a lazy bum like you."

Lucifer's face instantly changed. She got up and said with an angry look

"Bitch you banned me because of this stupid reason?"

Lilith sat on the sofa and chuckled and said

"Yes."

Lucifer was a little angry now. She was about to retort to Lilith stating she wasn't lazy and that she was not a bad influence but Lilith said interrupting her thoughts

"Look at you. You aren't even wearing clothes properly and roam carefree everywhere. Being carefree is good but you are just stupid. You didn't even wear a bra or any pants and just came over in a tshirt and panties."

Lucifer looked down and was a little embarrassed. Indeed, she forgot to change and came over like that in a hurry. She had been lectured repeatedly in the past to be a little responsible but she was a demon. It was in her nature to be carefree and this piece of clothing was already a lot anyway, according to her.

Before she used to only wear a panty that barely covered her lower lips and after repeated lecturing, she started wearing a t-shirt while being at home. She thought she had become responsible but she was still the same. She was a little embarrassed about it and thus she didn't have anything to retort about hearing Lilith's words. 'Maybe I am a bad influence?' She thought. It didn't even cross her that she was a lazy bum.

Lilith chuckled at Lucifer's reaction. She knew exactly what she was thinking. Lilith said "Now, now. Come sit and let's talk. It's been a while."

Lucifer nodded and cleared all her thoughts and sat beside Lilith and started talking. She let go of all the grievances and began to tell her about certain things. She talked about her new favourite anime and bitching about things. Lilith talked about her kids and how cute Lith was and bored Lucifer to death just like how she bored her by talking about anime which Lilith wasn't even interested in.

These two had a lively conversation whereas in a certain part of the world, a dark dragon with purple scales and a blonde hair, blue eyed elf were getting ready for their departure from their homes.
