

Vampire 471

Chapter 471 Titles Aren't Useless

The hooded man, despite having many swords at his neck, didn't panic and was calm.

He didn't say anything nor react to the sudden betrayal.

The woman, noticing the man not reacting, frowned.

"Guards, kill him."

The woman didn't want anything to go wrong and immediately made her decision to kill the man.

But as soon as the guards moved their swords to kill the man, an air piercing sound was heard and in the next instant, the bodies of the four guards fell down with a loud thud.

"What!?" The woman was shocked.

The man with a hood, said with a light chuckle, "did you think I wouldn't be prepared for such a situation? Lady from the Gilzerios?"

As soon as he finished saying that, another person wearing a hooded robe appeared beside the man.

"I knew your family would be backstabbing us but I didn't know at what stage. Thankfully, I've had a trump card prepared just in case." The man said while walking close to the Gilzerios family's lady.

The woman's brows were knitted and the only thing in her mind right now was to escape. The guards that were killed were of a high level and someone being able to kill all of them in such a short time was definitely someone strong.

The woman didn't want to take a risk.

"Run!" The woman ran towards the forest and shouted to her partner who had the goods with him.

But before she could move farther, her vision darkened and she fell unconscious on the ground.

Standing beside her was the person who just killed the guards, responsible for Knocking her out.

"Good job, Mr. William. I knew I could trust you." The man from the Scalanis family said and walked towards the lady.

Mr. William, the man standing beside the lady, didn't reply to the person's words and went towards the third person who had the goods.

He eventually knocked him out as well and took the goods with him.

The person from the Scalanis family, after finding everything was under control, sighed in relief.

"Thankfully everything is okay. If I had messed this situation up, I don't know what my family would do with me."

The man then turned to look towards William and said, "thankfully you were here, Mr. William. You're a life sav—"

Thud!

The man's vision darkened as well before he could finish his sentence and he fell down on the ground.

The hooded man, the only one remaining, placed his foot on the man's head and then removed his hood.

A chiseled face was visible along with his black hair and eyes. His eyes were calm and his hair fluttered with the breeze.

He looked down at the two people and said in a neutral tone, "who would've thought that both would end up having losses and I would be the sole winner among the two."

The man then took the box and said softly, "in the inventory."

[Ding!]

[10ml Tears of the NightHound and 16 grams of sweat of the Yellowtail added into the inventory.]

A mechanical voice said inside the man's head and a notification screen appeared in front of his eyes.

"Good. I now have the ingredients needed to feed the baby and harvest his affinities. I must get working, I also need to be back in the Elven Continent to reap as many benefits as I can from the coupe these nobles are planning."

"But before going, I must make it appear that these two people killed each other and there was no third party present and I also haven't seen my status in quite a long time."

"System, show status."

A new screen appeared in front of the person's eyes and in his mind, a mechanical voice read:

[Status]

Name: Lucas Aleron

Race: Human

Title: Shadow Walker (Buff: none)

Rank: 9

Cultivation:

– Affinity: Fire, Dark, Lightning, Earth, and Wind.

– Magic Core area: 77,296,432 km²

– Magic Core speciality: None

– Body Stats:

– HP: [A class] 100/100

– SP: [A class] 78/100

– STR: [B class] 97/100 (upgradeable)

– STA: [B class] 71/100 (upgradeable)

– AGL: [A class] 12/100 (upgradeable)

– INT: [A class] 100/100 (ready to upgrade)

Looking at the screen in front of him, Lucas, the only system user in the world, thought to himself,

'I am lacking in strength and stamina. I increased agility and intelligence a bit too much. Though it would be nice to have a higher class something, it's not worth it to upgrade intelligence for now. I'll put it on hold and work on other things.'

Lucas then thought, 'titles can provide buff now? Interesting. I thought it was there just for show.'

A while of checking his stats later, his gaze fell on the elemental affinity and he couldn't help but knit his brows and say while looking in a certain direction,

"Just a few more months and I'll have an all elemental affinity."

"Just a few more..."

*

A day passed.

After enjoying watching the cherry blossoms and spending some quality time together with his mother and sister, Lith was now in another part of the Celadon City.

Celadon City was the perfect place for tourists if they wanted to see a glimpse of the beastkin culture. There was a little bit of everything present here.

This was a strategy by the beastkins to increase tourism to different places in their kingdom and eventually get a lot of money.

Say one saw different shrines in the Celadon City and found them interesting, they could always use the teleportation circles present near those shrines and eventually end up visiting the various monasteries and shrines spread across the entire beastkin kingdom.

Lith chose Celadon City for this very reason to go on a date with his mother.

If he liked some place, he could always go there and spend some time.

Thus, in the Celadon City, Lith and Lilith were roaming around, looking at the various different things currently.

Lucy had left last night after Lilith felt satisfied and her mood got better.

Lith was now back to being on a date and being in kimonos, both he and his mother were walking the streets of the Celadon City, holding hands.

Celadon City was big but it was not an issue to walk and tour it.

One could easily travel a distance of a hundred kilometres within a few minutes depending on the way they walked or ran.

This world was way bigger than Lith's previous one and everything was abnormal in size.

If one walked normally, it would take at least one day to cover a hundred kilometres.

But this issue never arised in this world since all roads and footpaths in the places where people lived had magic circles inscribed on them when in the making.

These magic circles had a speed boost on them and depending on how one walked, they could easily travel thousands of kilometres in less than an hour.

Taking one step would make anyone cover a minimum of half a kilometre and a maximum of two kilometres. Average being one kilometre. That was how fast everything was here.

For comparison, on Earth, one step was equivalent to 0.001 kilometres which is one metre.

That is to say, a step here covered a thousand times more distance than back on Earth.

Lith was amazed when he found out about such a fact. But when he got deeper into the situation regarding travelling here, his brain seemed to get fried and he gave up dwelling too deep into it.

It was a bunch of complex maths and useless magic information to know why one could travel so much in so little time and knowing it wouldn't help Lith in any way.

He wasn't going to construct roads now, was he?

In any case, the cities in this world were hence made of two types.

The first type was a city having an outward growth and the second type was a city having an inward growth.

In the first type, a city would spread far to many places and various things would be spread out. The people in this place would need to cover a lot of distance for their travels. An example of this was Celadon City.

The second type was a city that spread towards the centre of it. Everything, from trade to residences, etc would be present in the centre and here one could find many tall buildings.

The outside areas in these cities wouldn't be as developed as the main centre and there wouldn't be many people living there as well.

An example of this was Evernight City in Nightingale, Lith's home.

People tried to stay as close as they could to the Queen's district and everything was nearby there. The roads over there didn't have speed boost to the degree with which Celadon City had it.

Thus, although Celadon City had a lot to offer and was vast, Lith and Lilith toured the entirety of it in just a single day.

There were many fun places to see and the one that attracted Lith's attention the most were the hot spring resorts in the mountainous region of the Shiroi Neko Country.

Yukonava mountains was a famous place in all of the beastkin kingdom, known for having evergreen trees all year round with low temperature and snow occurring periodically.

This calm and cold atmosphere coupled with the warm water of the hot springs was a delight for all.

Lith decided that this was a perfect place for cuddling and knowing how his mother's mood wasn't good these past few days, he came to a conclusion that she was in much need of some serious cuddles.

Without hesitation, Lith dragged Lilith in the teleportation circles present near the hot springs in Celadon City and both teleported away from the city.

Their next destination — Yukonava.

Chapter 472 Finding Out What's Underneath The Kimono

Two people stood at the top of a mountain peak, gazing at the vast evergreen mountains in front of them. Though the mountains appeared to be lush, the surrounding atmosphere was cold and chilly.

A thin layer of mist covered the mountain chain and the cold brought with itself some snow as well. The evergreen trees were covered with slight snow and it appeared as if someone had draped a thin blanket over the entire green mountains.

Lith found this cool atmosphere to his liking. He looked towards his mother who was standing beside him and said with a smile,

"Let's go to the resort."

Lilith nodded and the two made their way down towards the hot spring resorts.

Arriving at the entrance of the resort, there was an arched red gate behind which were stairs leading to the resort.

The view was pleasing to the eyes and the two walked up the stairs and finally arrived at the main entrance where there were two ladies standing in wait.

"Irasshaimase!" The two ladies bowed and welcomed Lith and Lilith.

"This way please." They escorted the two inside the resort.

When one uses a teleportation circle, it would notify the nearest resort about it and there would be people waiting for you to arrive.

Tourists could select what type of resort they were looking for and could enter their budget prior to teleporting. This would ensure that they teleported to the right place and without wasting time, are led to their resorts.

Lith, being the prince he was, chose the most expensive place he could find. The more expensive a place was, the better the quality and the less people were present.

There was a Nine Roses Hotel branch in Yukonava as well but Lith decided to go to some more authentic and local place.

Lith and Lilith were being led to their suite by the two beastkin ladies.

They wore a traditional kimono and one of them had antlers on their head and the other had goat horns. By no means did they look ugly with such features and seemed to be top beauties.

Lith walked through the reception that had a high ceiling and the entire resort seemed to have a dark and brown themed color scheme to it.

Lith admired the resort and soon, the two were brought to their suite.

Lith's suite had a high ceiling as well but it appeared to be made of some high quality bamboo. The floor was laid with tatami mats the room had a big glass balcony that gave the view of the vast mountain chain of the Yukonava.

The suite contained large soft futon laid down at one side on the floor, at the other side there was a sofa and tv set and there was also a bar counter at one corner of the room.

The two beastkin ladies left after showing their room to Lith and Lilith and now, the mother-son pair was alone in their room.

Lilith looked around and the view indeed felt amazing. She walked close to the balcony to see more of this view and meanwhile, Lith walked towards the futon to see how soft it was.

Lith fell freely on the futon and to his surprise, it was really soft and fluffy and made him bounce slightly.

"Good bed." Lith nodded in satisfaction as he lay on top of it.

Lilith looked through the glass windows of the balcony and saw there to be a pond present at the front. It was open and there were some plants and decorations around it.

Beside the pond was a cliff and the view in front of it was of the vast Yukonava mountains.

At the other side, there were stairs that led towards another area and that was the bathhouse.

It was a closed area and was warm.

Lilith could tell that if one wanted to enjoy the view of the mountains while being in the hot springs, they could simply be in that pond in front and if they simply wanted to enjoy the hot springs and didn't want to deal with cold temperature, they could go to their bathhouse.

Lilith nodded. It was a good setting. There weren't too many things in the suite and it was simple yet elegant.

Lilith liked this place.

Lilith knew what she wanted to do as she gazed at the open pond.

She turned back to look at Lith and said with a smile,

"Mama is going to have a bath."

Lith, enjoying himself on the soft bed, looked up towards his mother and said with a thumbs up, "Enjoy your time— oh wait, can I join too?"

Lilith chuckled. "Do you even need to ask me that?"

Lith got up and chuckled as well. He walked towards his mother and as he reached her, he took his outer coat off and said,

"Can't go inside with our clothes, can we?"

Lilith smiled and said, "yes."

She walked close to Lith and helped him remove his clothes.

In no time, Lith was fully nude and after Lilith was done removing his clothes, she slowly removed hers as well.

Looking at her loosen her belt, Lith couldn't help but whistle in amazement as he watched her take off her kimono.

"Fuiyoooh!"

Lith learnt this word from Arya and said it out loud as he watched his mother's big milkers come out in the open, free from the clutches of the tight kimono.

Lilith couldn't help but chuckle again as she got such a reaction from Lith. It was always good to see her baby so amused.

Lilith took out her belt and her kimono was open from the front, revealing her nude front side.

Lith was amazed again and he couldn't help but ask, "no innerwear?"

Lilith smirked and said, "do you not know that ladies don't wear anything underneath the kimono?"

"They don't?" Lith was surprised as he got this information.

Lilith nodded and said with a smile, "there's no bra or panties one wears when wearing a kimono."

"Hot damn..." Lith said in amazement. 'I should probably come on a trip here again with all my ladies next time. It would be fun... hehe.'

Lith started having some naughty thoughts and in the meanwhile, Lilith fully took her kimono off.

She extended her hand forwards and asked, "shall we?"

Lith was out of his thoughts and he grabbed his mother's hand and nodded.

But instead of walking, he pulled his mother close in his embrace and hugged her.

Lilith was surprised by this sudden gesture and Lith, who was holding onto her, looked her in the eyes and whispered some sweet loving words that made Lilith's heart melt.

Lilith's face was on Lith's chest and he was looking down in her eyes as he said those loving words.

Although Lilith was surprised to hear such things so suddenly, she didn't hate it one bit and in fact loved them!

She just craved for more such words and finally, after a while, Lith finished letting his mother know how much he loved her and finally said,

"I love you, mom."

"I love you too, baby." Lilith kissed Lith's lips and said sweetly.

Lith had decided that he'll shower all his love and care on his mother, sister, and his wives. Letting them know much he loved them and how much they mean to him was just one of the many steps of showering his love.

After Lith was done with this, he held his mother's hand and both walked into the pond.

The surrounding atmosphere was cold but being in the hot waters of the pond brought an amazing experience to Lith and Lilith.

Lith and Lilith moved to the edge of the pond and Lith hugged her from behind, keeping her in his embrace. They both stayed together like that for a while, at the edge of the pond.

They were not just at the edge of the pond of their suite, they were at the edge of a tall cliff!

It would've been really thrilling to be in such a position but both weren't mortals anymore and weren't afraid of such heights.

But still, it was an amazing view to have your lover be in your embrace, naked, as you be at the edge of a cliff and enjoy the view.

A while later...

Lith felt satisfied with having his mother in his embrace. He looked at his mother and noticed she had her eyes closed and was still enjoying herself.

Lith smiled as he saw her be lying so peacefully and thought to himself, 'let's not wake her up for a few more minutes because...' Lith's smiled turned into a smirk and he his thoughts continued,

'Once she is up, she won't get to rest like this for a good while...'

Chapter 473 Showerina Some Love

An hour later.

Lith felt it was time to make his mother feel more love than she had ever felt before.

It was time to wake her up now.

Lith parted her hair to the side, her beautiful nape inviting Lith in for a taste, which he wholly complied by biting onto her neck and sucking some blood out of her.

Lilith opened her eyes as she felt her son's fangs on her and instead of moving, she let him do as he pleased and enjoyed her time.

Feeling his mother was awake, Lith moved his hands towards her big motherly milkers and gave them a gentle squeeze.

One of his hands then moved down towards her secret place and his fingers touched her soft lower lips. Despite being in water, it felt just as amazing as all the other times.

Lilith couldn't help but let out a small moan as she felt her son's hand touch her private place after a long time. Her sensitivity to his touch increased and she closed her eyes to enjoy whatever he was doing to her.

Lith played with Lilith's breasts and her pussy for a good while before finally turning her and bringing his lips close to hers for a kiss.

Lith held Lilith's plump ass and kneaded them while he kissed her.

He wasn't hasty in his kiss and took his sweet time.

Lith's priority was to make his mother feel loved and not to use her for his own pleasure. He was thus gentle with his approach and was ensuring that he did his best to make her feel in such a way.

A while of kissing later, Lith guided his shaft inside Lilith's dripping pussy and slowly made his way towards her deepest recess, eventually bringing out a moan from her as his tip hit the end fleshy wall.

Lith had never had sex in water before but now that he did, he realized that although it was indeed different and everything slid inside smoothly as water acted as a lubricant, it was also slightly annoying as the faster he moved his hips, the more was the water pressure slowing him down.

Thankfully, Lith was an immortal now and such water pressure wasn't enough.

Lilith was in a bliss as Lith's dick rammed in her continuously and she felt even more pleased as Lith showered her with his gentleness and showed her so much care.

Although she knew Lith loved her just as much as she loved him, it still felt really amazing to hear it coming from his mouth and also through his gestures.

The mother-son pair got lost in the bliss of lust and gave in to their desires. They intensely kissed and Lilith's hips also worked to move up and down on Lith's shaft.

As both used their hips, Lilith felt more pleasure as Lith's shaft hit her sweet spots with more force and intensity and Lith felt pleased as well because of Lilith's insides tightening up in ecstasy.

As the two got lost in their own world...

Far away from them, in the Star Dragon City in the Dragon Continent, two devilish beauties were looking at a tablet screen with confused faces.

"Why did the connection get cut off?" Lucifer couldn't help but ask.

The two were watching Lith and Lilith but then, suddenly their connection got cut off when Lilith and Lith entered the resort.

"Does the resort have some barrier?" Lucifer asked again. "But that shouldn't be the case. We are Supreme Ranks and we should be able to see through any barrier."

Mayzin shook her head as she heard Lucifer's analysis. "It could be Lilith's doing. Maybe she decided to put up a barrier so that nobody could look."

Lucifer then thought things and said, "but why would she do that? Who in their right minds would want to spy on her anyway?"

"..."

Mayzin stared at Lucifer as she heard that.

Lucifer looked back at Mayzin and asked, "what? Why would anyone spy on her?"

Mayzin continued to stare at Lucifer and thought, 'is this creature really a Supreme Rank?'

Lucifer suddenly felt annoyed as she looked at Mayzin.

"You're thinking of something rude about me, aren't you?"

Mayzin clicked her tongue and said, "weren't we just spying on her? Maybe she realized that."

"Ah..." Lucifer got enlightenment. "Oh shit— does that mean Lilith caught us spying?"

Mayzin shook her head. "Probably not. She might not even be knowing it was us looking at her. To me, when the connection got cut off, it seemed as if Lilith just made a barrier around her and not straight up destroyed the things that were looking at her."

"Oh I see. Phew... we are safe. But Mayzin-chan, you shouldn't spy on someone like this." Lucifer reminded her. "It's a bad thing."

A vein popped on Mayzin's head. "And you shouldn't enter someone's home unannounced, it's also a bad thing."

"Oh well..." Lucifer walked close to Mayzin's throne. She then sat on it and continued, "I was invited before to come here, I just arrived at a later date. That isn't wrong, is it?"

"It is wrong. And that's my throne, get off." Mayzin held Lucifer's hand and yanked her up from it.

"Ouch. Hey, be gentle!" Lucifer said while rubbing her wrists.

Mayzin rolled her eyes as Lucifer did her drama and changing the topic, she said,

"When are you leaving for the Elven Continent?"

Lucifer thought about it and said, "I guess when Lilith goes away?"

Mayzin nodded. "Seems like it would be for the best if you go after Lilith is gone as she might not like it if you disturb her time with her son."

"Tru tru." Lucifer said nodding her head like a pecking chicken.

Mayzin facepalmed as she realized Lucifer had the power to talk in a weird manner not just on texts but in real life as well.

But she ignored it and continued, "Are you going to notify Agalea about it?"

"Nope. That bitch doesn't have time to have sex with me. I do not like her." Lucifer said with a pout and folding her hands.

"But didn't you say you really like her when she gave you that limited edition thing from the beastkin kingdom? I have no idea why you're so interested in toys but she did give you that, didn't she?" Mayzin reminded.

"Ah... wait, that's not a toy. That's called a plushie. And it was not a limited edition thing, it is a rare plushie, of which only ten such plushies are available in the entire world with each plushie having a unique thing about it."

"I had all nine plushies and since the tenth one wasn't out yet, I didn't have it. But when it did come out, I was busy with something and had to call Agalea for it." Lucifer said with enthusiasm.

Mayzin was amused to see how Lucifer was so enthusiastic about her toys and anime. She then continued, "...so... Agalea did a good thing for you, didn't she? Don't you like her?"

Lucifer clicked her tongue. "She was a good bitch at that time but now she's a bad bitch. I don't like her."

Mayzin covered her mouth and giggled lightly as Lucifer constantly called Agalea a bitch. It was Lucifer's habit to speak in terms of 'bitches'.

Lucifer, noticing Mayzin giggle, knitted her brows and continued,

"And why are you laughing? You made me dry up so much the instant I arrived and also went back on your words."

"You're a bad bitch too."

"Wha—"

Chapter 474 Sushi Preference

At the edge of a tall cliff, two people were having the time of their life together. These two were Lith and Lilith and they were still in the pond containing the hot spring water, having sex.

Lith's hands were on Lilith's ass cheeks, kneading them as he pleased while his shaft rammed her deep inside continuously.

Lilith's eyes were hazy as she was kissing Lith while getting pounded by him. They weren't doing it with much intensity as they would normally and it was all gentle and slow.

Still, it was enough for Lilith who couldn't help but climax in just a short while.

Lilith has had orgasmed twice in this same position and Lith was still yet to come. He had mastered the art of not shooting it in until he made his wives feel better at least once or twice.

As he progressed in cultivation, his ability was getting better and he was becoming much more efficient in bringing pleasure to his wives.

As Lilith orgasmed for the third time, Lith took his shaft out and got behind her. He made her bend down at the edge of the pond and had her ass stick out to him.

After admiring his mother's dripping honeypot, Lith rubbed his shaft on her lower lips and soon put it inside in one go, causing Lilith to let out a small moan.

He then started ramming it in and out of her fleshy warmth causing lewd slaps to echo around.

The view in front of Lith was of the snow-capped evergreen Yukonava mountains covered in a thin misty layer. It felt as if Lith was in some immortal paradise and watching that, along with pounding his mother right below him was a sight to behold.

Lith held the thick motherly hips of Lilith and continued to ram his dick in her while enjoying this view. He had brought her to orgasm twice and now it was his turn to feel good.

Lilith, who was being pounded by her son from behind and had herself supported by her hands at the edge of the pond, felt the same emotions as Lith.

The view in front was amazing and coupled with her son being with her, it was indeed a really good feeling for her as well.

Lilith's breasts swayed to and fro as Lith relentlessly gave out deep and forceful thrusts. Her moans hadn't stopped at any moment as Lith was too good at hitting her sweet spots and bringing her pleasure.

Doing it for so many times, Lith was bound to know each and every weak spot of his mother and it was no wonder he could so easily pleasure her.

A while passed and Lith groaned as he shot his load deep inside Lilith.

Lilith's body shook as she felt the warm hot stuff of her son and moaned loudly in pleasure.

This was the thing she had been waiting to have since the moment she felt Lith's hot rod inside her! This was it.

Her orgasm was bigger than her previous ones and to make Lith was aware of it from the tightness he felt around his shaft. To make it even better, he bit her neck and sucked her blood out of it.

"Ohhhhh!" Lilith moaned as a new wave of pleasure hit her.

Few minutes later, as both recovered from their orgasm, Lith made Lilith turn around and had her back supported by the pond's edge.

Lilith had a good look at her son in this position. His chiseled face, his sharp abs, well toned body, and finally, his silver hair and purple eyes that he inherited from her. Everything made Lilith really happy.

Lith's silver hair and purple eyes, whenever Lilith saw them, it made her feel much closer to him than ever before. She could see a part of her in him and she liked this feeling a lot.

Looking at Lith, she couldn't help but go in for a kiss and Lith reciprocated as well. Their tongues intertwined together and in the meanwhile, he rubbed his shaft once again on her lower lips.

Breaking the kiss off, Lith looked his mother in the eyes again with a fierce gaze and Lilith did the same as well. Locking their gazes, Lith soon shoved his hot rod inside Lilith's warm fleshy folds and began ramming his hips again.

Lilith's moans were back and she broke her eye contact with Lith and closed her eyes to enjoy this feeling.

Lith kissed her on her lips and went down slowly, finally reaching her erect pink nipples and showed them care by gently biting onto them and suckling on it.

As usual, milk spurted out of them and Lith didn't waste anything and gulped it down. Wasting milk was blasphemy and Lith wasn't going to commit such a sin.

His other hand showed care to the other breast and his hips rocked back and forth, creating squelching noises of their bodies slapping onto each other and the noise of water splashing around.

"Mhm... Mhm..." Lilith placed her hand on Lith's back and his head as he sucked on her milkers while ramming his cock into her pussy.

She loved this feeling and lovingly caressed his hair as he did that.

As Lilith felt she was close to orgasming, Lith stopped sucking onto her milkers and looked her fervently in the eyes while ramming his shaft in her sweet dripping honeypot.

Lith's gaze then fell back onto the view and it was indeed amazing to have sex with such a view.

Lilith's walls soon started tightening up and feeling such pressure, Lith was close to climaxing as well.

In just a few minutes, both held onto each other and orgasmed together.

Lilith's body shook and she tightly hugged Lith while climaxing and Lith was also feeling the shivers from ejaculating and the pleasure and held onto his mother tightly.

Lilith bit onto Lith's neck and sucked in blood and out of instinct, Lith did the same and both had their orgasm prolonged.

Minutes later, the Vampire Queen-Prince duo got back to doing forbidden acts in the hot springs of the Yukonava mountains and the moans of the Vampire Queen echoed in her suite along with their flesh slapping together.

The two went on for hours without stopping and as Lith was an immortal now, his sense of time changed and a few hours felt like just a few tens of minutes.

After doing it in many positions and finally feeling satisfied, the two rested at the edge of the pond and enjoyed their view of the Yukonava mountains together by being in each other's embrace.

Lith had Lilith hugged from the side and Lilith was resting her head on his shoulder and gazing at the distant mountains.

Lith then ordered some food for them and soon, a big platter full of food in a bamboo box arrived in front of them through a magic circle on the pond.

The platter contained various different types of sushi and sashimi. There was just a side of pickled ginger, wasabi, and soy sauce other than that present.

Lith fed his mother some sashimi with his chopsticks and Lilith did the same as well.

As Lilith bit onto the sashimi, a wave of aromatic blood flavour assaulted her tongue and it was so juicy that some blood from the sashimi dripped from the corner of her mouth.

Lith smiled noticing this and went ahead and licked it to clean her face.

The two had registered themselves as people from the vampire race and the sushi was made according to the tastes of the vampires.

Vampires, Werewolves, Dragons, and Demons loved having blood and raw meat. Sushi having raw fish and various other types of edible raw meat tasted the best to them and also was something that was sold in great quantities on a daily basis in these continents.

On the other hand, the Elves disliked raw flavour of fish and other meats and tempura rolls were better suited to their tastes.

Angels liked little to no fish or meat in their sushi and they preferred having rice rolls with veggies such as avocado, cucumber, tomato, etc, in the middle.

As for the Witches and Humans, their race had a mixed preference and weren't like the other races who preferred one thing over another.

Some humans liked raw fish sushi, some liked tempura sushi, and some liked veggie sushi. It was all up to a matter of taste that one had.

The two vampires, Lith and Lilith, didn't stand out for their tastes and had the same preference as the other vampires. They liked raw fish sushi and sashimi more and enjoyed it until they felt satisfied.

After finishing up, the two went out of the pond and drying each other up, they went inside their futons and got cozy in each other's embrace.

Lith placed his head in between his mother's big milkers and had them squished as he hugged her and slept with her.

He also ensured to protect his shaft from the cold by placing it in the warm insides of Lilith and the two snuggled in each other's embrace and slept.

The day passed with no more forbidden acts happening while the green colored moon shone with its full glory in the Elven Continent.

Chapter 475 Can't Cultivate

A month passed.

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

"What!? He can't cultivate!?"

The ladies were sitting around a round table in the courtyard, having their afternoon tea together with Lith and Lucy was the one to speak in shock as Lilith gave some devastating news.

"That's right, dear. He cannot." Lilith nodded and said while sipping her tea calmly.

Lucy was about to question further when Emilia, sitting beside her, placed her hand on Lucy's shoulder and said gently, "calm down, Lucy. It isn't permanent."

Lilith nodded and added, "that's right. He cannot think about cultivation until he's at least a hundred years old."

Lith, Lilith, and the other wives were having a discussion on Lith's cultivation.

Lith had enjoyed his time with his mother for a whole month in the beastkin kingdom and was now back in Nightingale.

It was time to get into work mode but before delving inside that, Lith decided to spend some time with his wives and was now here.

"But mom—"

"My dear... try to understand, it's a necessity. His cultivation was too fast and if he tries to cultivate further, his head or soul might explode due to the excess information." Lilith said calmly.

Lith had skipped many steps and was now an immortal at just the age of twenty-one. It was both a good and a bad thing.

Good thing as he was a genius not found elsewhere and bad because he would need to wait until he was a hundred years old.

The most elite children like Ralph and Dennis would usually become Saints anywhere from a hundred to a hundred and fifty years of age and it was all done step by step by solidifying their foundation.

Lith, although son of god, still had to solidify his foundation before ascending to higher realms. He hadn't experienced anything that might occur in Rank 9 and Half Saint Rank and he also needs to fully explore the Saint Rank.

Before understanding these realms deeply, he cannot ascend to a higher realm.

Lith's mental capacity physically cannot handle the information of a higher realm at such a young age.

The mental capacity was directly related to the age of a person. The older the age, the higher is the mental capacity.

If Lith tried to store excess information, his head was bound to explode and if there was more pressure, chances are, his soul would take a toll and explode.

Lilith didn't want Lith to risk his health in pursuit of cultivation. His life mattered more than this prowess to Lilith.

Lith was calmly listening to the debate without interjecting. He could understand the reasons of his mother and also the concerns of his wives.

Although Lith needed to get stronger quickly, he wasn't a brainless person to not understand his mother's advice and go against her.

Lilith was the person who would always want the best for him and he knew about it. If she said not to cultivate, then it meant he mustn't cultivate.

Lith fully trusted his mother without any hints of doubt in his mind or heart.

But, though it meant he won't be able to cultivate, that doesn't mean he would not find a way to get around this situation.

Lith would always be on the lookout for a solution to this problem and once he finds it, he would once again get back to cultivating.

Cultivation was something that took years of time. One couldn't just become an immortal in a day and it took years of hard work and boring meditation to ascend to a higher realm.

Now that Lith was an immortal, a hundred years didn't feel too long and he was fine with not cultivating for a while.

He was anyway going to focus on fulfilling his past life's regret in the coming nineteen years and becoming rich. Now that he was told he couldn't cultivate, he would focus more on that and not cultivating also meant that Lith would have more time to spend with his wives.

Meanwhile, the ladies were shocked by Lilith's words but the experienced ones soon became calm as they realized that having heads explode, getting crippled, or simply having souls destroyed was a common occurrence in the world.

Many were in pursuit of the cultivation peak and this was a tough path to walk on. People were bound to die in its pursuit and those that were fine with having a never ending lifespan simply stopped their pursuit of a higher realm when they reached the Saint Rank.

Being a Saint Rank was guaranteed immortality and one wouldn't die of old age or lifespan exhaustion. Many in the world thus choose to stop cultivating once they reach this realm and enjoy their time in this world and live freely like normal beings.

Lith however wasn't stopping because he was tired, he was stopping with cultivation because he had no choice, such were the thoughts of the ladies and they became calm.

The inexperienced ones, mainly Lucy and Alexandra were worry struck and frowning.

Arya, looking at the faces of the two, said while looking at them, "Stop with the worries, you two. It's just temporary. Or do you rather want him crippled or dead?"

"No! No! No!" Alexandra and Lucy immediately panicked and shook their heads furiously as they heard this question from Arya.

"I am just worried that he'll be left behind by others and won't be able to become the youngest person to achieve a breakthrough in higher realms anymore." Lucy put out her thoughts.

"Me too." Alexandra added while nodding her head.

"Well... you do know that the higher the realm, the vast is the difference in age, right? He has plenty of time and can still be the youngest even if he doesn't cultivate for the coming 80 years." Emilia answered this time.

Lilith was quiet and so was Lith. They both let the four discuss things and just listened.

Lucy thought about but before her, Alexandra answered, "I don't understand much of what's going on but I'll say this:"

She then looked at Lith and continued, "darling must do the things that would keep him healthy and happy."

Lith smiled as he heard that and the other ladies did as well.

Lucy, listening to this, let go of her concerns and nodded in agreement.

Alexandra was right, his health mattered more than such stupid titles of being the youngest to reach higher realms.

Lith who was smiling, had the corner of his mouth curve up into a smirk and looking at Alexandra, he said,

"Can I do you then? I'll be very happy."

Lilith and Arya chuckled as they heard this and Emilia and Lucy's brain was still trying to process what was happening and was stuck.

Meanwhile, Alexandra's brain worked really well in matters concerning Lith and she said with a big smile, "darling can do me whenever. No need to ask."

"Oh." Lucy finally understood and became slightly embarrassed as her brother said such shameless things in front of everyone.

While Emilia was still trying to understand what the two were talking about doing.

Arya, sitting beside Emilia, could tell that Emilia didn't understand these naughty lines. This Angel was too innocent to be among the vampires, but being her best friend and now her sister as well, of course Arya wasn't going to simply let her be confused.

Arya was a good sister and it was her duty to not keep Emilia in the dark, wasn't it?

Arya leaned close to Emilia's ears and whispered a few things.

Emilia, finally understanding the things, had her cheeks flush red and said in realisation,

"Oh..."

'How can they talk like this when everyone's around!?' Emilia couldn't help but think.

'Sh-Shameless...'

Clearly, the Seraphim was too innocent to be around the vampires.

Lith, looking at the Alexandra, said with a smile, "I would've loved to take up on this offer, wifey, but I must hurry up and leave for Shiroy Neko, Ralph and Dennis are waiting for me there."

Alexandra's lips curved into a sad smile and she sat quietly on her chair having the same expression as a child that was refused to be given her favourite snack.

Looking at her, Lith thought he mustn't be like this.

"Alright, alright, no need to be sad like this. Maybe a quickie won't hurt, would it?"

Alexandra's expression lit up and she said with a smile, "mhm, mhm, it definitely won't!"

She got up from her chair and walked towards Lith. Holding his hand, she said, "let's go get it done, darling!"

"Such hurry..." Lith chuckled.

"Hey! I want a quickie too!" Arya interjected.

"No, big sis. Not before me! Darling is mine for now!" Alexandra wasn't going to share Lith right now by any means, even if it was Arya, her sister and also her caretaker.

"I-I want it too!" Lucy was embarrassed to say this but being around her mother, brother, and Arya for so long, she could at least say this much.

As for Emilia, she was simply sitting there with a flushed face and didn't say anything.

She wished she had the guts to say this as well but being how she was, it was definitely not going to happen anytime soon.

Looking at everyone, Lith thought to himself, 'I need to satisfy all the ladies before I leave it seems. Welp, can't help it. These cuties are too lovable to simply ignore and leave.'

Lith got up as he thought that and pulled Alexandra in his embrace.

Alexandra was running to hurry up and take Lith away but was suddenly taken in his embrace.

Being touched by him and now having his whole body touch hers, Alexandra's arousal piqued and she got turned on.

"Darling..." Alexandra looked Lith in the eyes and said with a hot breath.

Lith simply smiled and gave Alexandra a kiss on her forehead. "One second, I'll be back to you."

Alexandra's face flushed as Lith did this gesture and if it was an anime, it would appear as if there was steam coming out of her head.

Alexandra didn't say anything and hugged Lith tightly as he told her to wait.

Lith looked at his other ladies and said with a smile, "I might be away for a while, it won't hurt to spend a few minutes with everyone. Be in your rooms, wifeys, I'll be there in a bit."

Chapter 476 Arbour's Days

"...be in your rooms, wifeys, I'll be there in a bit."

After saying so, Lith vanished from his spot as he cast Short Jump and teleported to Alexandra's room in the Royal Castle.

Each of Lith's wife has their own rooms assigned to them.

But everyone mostly slept in Lith's bedroom that had a bed big enough for everyone.

The Royal Castle was now Alexandra, Arya, and Emilia's home. They would come by whenever they were free and would sleep or spend time with the others.

Their maids also got time to reunite with the others in this meantime and all in all, it was their new home.

When alone, the ladies would mostly be in their rooms sleeping or if awake, do other stuff.

The butlers of the castle were all given duties in the outer areas of the Royal Castle and there were barriers erected in the inner areas which ensured that nobody could peek from the outside in the inside.

This provided the ladies their much needed privacy but the main reason that it was setup in such a way was so that Lith could do whatever he wanted whenever and wherever.

Luna was the one who thought of this when the marriage was going on. Now that there were more madams in the house, she had to think of their interests as well and now that her prince was opening up and not being shy of using the services of the maid, she realized the importance of this.

Luna made all the butlers be in the outer areas and work. Most of the external affairs and things needed to get done outside of the Royal Castle were also done by the butlers themselves while the maids worked in the castle.

Except for the Witch Continent, all the matters of the other continents were handled by the butlers.

There were just fifty butlers while there were a hundred and fifty maids.

Having so many sent out, just a few remained in the Royal Castle with the important ones being Noman, Ruben, and Arbour.

Arbour couldn't be sent out as he was a Supreme Rank and he was basically just chilling the Royal Castle and doing his things.

He was free to go wherever he wanted as he had a seal placed on him that made him a slave to the Royal Clan. There was a whopping zero percent chance that he would ever betray the Royal Clan and thus, he was free to do whatever he wanted.

Arbour, despite being the top ranked being among all other Royal Servants, wasn't at the top.

At the top there was Luna and everyone listened to whatever she commanded.

When there were no orders for him, he would chill in the Royal Castle's outer areas with Noman and Ruben who were Emperor Ranks and in the same position as Luna.

Although they weren't the head, they held approximately the same power as her and answered directly to the Prince, Princess, or the Queen.

But of course, since they weren't the heads, there were some things they needed to consult with Luna and Luna had the power to send them to work if needed.

These three Emperor Ranks were in the highest hierarchy of the Royal Servants but there was also one more Emperor Rank present among them.

This was a mysterious fourth Emperor Rank in the Royal Servants who was out for some work and hadn't returned yet and Arbour also didn't know much about the person.

Arbour's days were simply passing while hanging out with Noman and Ruben.

As he hung out with them, he realized that life wasn't so bad in the Royal Castle. Although he was now a slave to the Royal Clan, was it really too bad?

That day in the forest where Arya was ascending, he had the choice to run away with the Human Ancestor but he didn't and instead chose to clear up things with the Vampire Queen.

He was a Supreme Rank like the Vampire Queen as well but he chose to lower his head and clear things up in case there was a misunderstanding and didn't want to have any enmity with her.

Arbour didn't know why that was the case but his instincts told him to not make a stupid decision that he did when he came out the dimension he was secluded in for so long.

Arbour's only regret in life was to think he was too strong and rashly attacked people. The end result was getting defeated by three Supreme Ranks and becoming a subordinate of the Human Ancestor.

He didn't want to make another mistake and so he thought of clearing things up with the Vampire Queen.

But who knew that she would make him his slave instead of letting him go like how she did with the Human Ancestor.

He regretted his decision to clear things for a good while until he finally lived life with Noman and Ruben.

He came to a realization that it wasn't too bad to be a Royal Servant afterall.

Noman and Ruben were good people in his opinion and being around them, he had learnt that the Vampire Queen was a genuinely good person and not someone cold and harsh like he previously expected.

That along with the fact that he wasn't mistreated even by a bit since the time he came here was evident that she was a good person.

The Vampire Queen apparently didn't even bother to give orders to the Royal Servants and Arbour noticed that the maids and butlers did things on their own to upkeep the pride and integrity of the Royal Clan.

Arbour also realized a seemingly shocking thing and it was that the Queen, Princess, and the Prince hardly ever worked!

The Queen basically wasn't the Queen anymore and it was instead the Princess who was now a Regent Queen and as for the Prince, he was apparently just born and was still a child so he anyway couldn't do much.

Arbour also realized that if the Royal Servants didn't work, the entire integrity of the Royal Clan would collapse and nobody would respect the Vampire Queen or the vampires anymore.

He got anxious thinking that the sovereignty could collapse at any moment if he didn't work hard and if that happened, Arbour was sure he would get beheaded by the Queen.

But his anxiousness was soon gone as he saw Noman and Ruben playing chess together relaxedly in the courtyard of the outer areas of the Royal Castle.

When asked how they were so relaxed, the response was simple and it was to do nothing unless mentioned otherwise.

When work came up, the Royal Servants would be notified about it through some or the other way and they simply had to do things then. Until then, it was their motto to relax.

Arbour gradually relaxed as well as he got to know this information and joined Noman and Ruben and spent time with them.

Gradually, he came to realize that among the two, one was too corrupted and filthy while the other was too pure and holy.

One was a demon among demons and the other was an angel among angels.

Looking at such a contrast made Arbour feel out of place but then he was given some consolation by the two saying that it was fate for him to be with them.

Arbour was neither pure nor holy, neither corrupted nor innocent, and neither too rash or too calm. Arbour was a normal person and he was the balance between these two extremists.

Knowing this obviously made Arbour happy and he happily did things with the two.

The Human, Demon, And Angel spent their daily lives in the outer areas of the Royal Castle, usually doing nothing but playing some games and from time to time, they would do their usual things.

For Ruben, the demon, his usual thing was to eat some innocent people and he would go out of the Vampire Continent to hunt some.

As for Noman, it was to help those innocent people from being eaten and also to stop Ruben from harming them.

As for Arbour, he was left out when this happened and was yet to figure out what to do when both went out.

Alexandra's room, Royal Castle.

As Lith teleported out in Alexandra's room, the scene he saw inside made him shocked and he couldn't help but say,

"This..."

Chapter 477 Quickie With Wives (1/4)

"This..."

Lith was greatly surprised to see Alexandra's room.

The whole room was filled with his pictures doing random things and not just that, there was even a body pillow with him on it!

Lith couldn't help but turn to look at Alexandra's face as he saw her room.

Looking at her, he saw that she was too busy hugging him and wasn't even looking at him.

'My wife sure has some peculiar tastes...' Lith thought to himself. Having one or two pictures of your lover was normal but it seems that having a room full was Alexandra's normal.

Leaving that aside, Lith held Alexandra's chin and made her look up at his face, straight into his eyes.

Alexandra's body trembled with Lith's touch and as she looked him in the eyes, she felt herself get sucked into that deep purple abyss of his eyes.

"Darling..." Alexandra said softly as her vision became hazy and she sunk into the carnal pleasure.

Understanding what his wife wanted, he bent down to pull her into an ardent kiss, which was reciprocated by Alexandra to show her passion for him.

Their lips touched each other and it didn't take long for the gentle sweet kiss to turn into a passionate french one.

Their tongues intertwined, they tasted each other, and intensely kissed without showing any signs of stopping.

Lith grabbed Alexandra's soft buttocks and giving them a squeeze, he lifted her up and hugged her.

Alexandra's legs wrapped around Lith's waist and her hands held his face, ensuring that her fierce kiss wasn't disturbed with her husband.

Lith didn't need to support Alexandra as she did it herself by holding onto him. His free hands moved towards her panties and ripped them apart. Next, he took his pants off and his hot dragon roared at Alexandra's entrance that was just above it.

As time was of an essence and it was just meant to be a quickie, Lith didn't waste time and immediately shoved his shaft deep inside Alexandra's pussy in one thrust.

"Mffhmm..."

Alexandra let out a muffled moan out of sheer pleasure she felt from having her husband inside her. Had she not been kissing him, it would've been even louder.

Alexandra hadn't had sex in a while and her insides were back to how they were when she was a virgin, with the exception being that her hymen wasn't there.

Lith's big shaft did cause her some discomfort at first but she liked this pain and found pleasure in it.

Lith let her insides get accustomed and once they did, he moved his hips and slowly explored her tight fleshy folds, enjoying the warmth of it to the fullest.

"Ohh... darling... yes... ohh..."

Alexandra broke the kiss as the pleasure that assaulted her was too much to not moan loudly.

Her insides soon got stretched enough to properly let Lith's shaft slide in and out and finding this opportunity, Lith began intensely pounding her and hitting all her weak spots he knew of.

Pah Pah Pah

The sounds of flesh clapping along with Alexandra's melodious moans reverberated inside the room as Lith took her on a trip to cloud nine, showing her the glimpse of lustful heaven in this quickie he was having with her.

Ten minutes later, Alexandra couldn't hold it in anymore and had an orgasm.

Lith could feel it and at this point he would usually stop, but he didn't. He had to go out for a while and won't be back to give her some care, so he was doing his best to satisfy her right about now and get her to orgasm a few more times.

An hour later.

"Ahhh... Ahhh... Yes... Darling... Darling..."

Alexandra had no idea what she was moaning as her fourth orgasm was about to happen.

This time Lith was going to cum as well and to give her the best possible orgasm, he pounded her harder than before.

A few minutes later, Lith groaned and shot his warm load deep inside Alexandra, whose eyes rolled up and her body arched as her massive orgasm finally occurred.

Lith, still orgasming, didn't forget to do one final thing.

He bit onto her neck and sucked her blood, becoming more intimate with his vampire wife.

Alexandra who was almost unconscious, instinctively bit on Lith's neck as well and sucked his blood.

Both shivered from the intense wave of orgasm that assaulted them and finally after a minute, Alexandra fell unconscious out of sheer pleasure in Lith's embrace.

Lith kissed her forehead lovingly and caressed her hair as she lay unconscious. He thought to himself while doing so, 'I think I may have gone overboard for not giving her time to recover in between her orgasms.'

But then he realized Alexandra didn't stop him and show any resistance or discomfort and actually wanted him to pound her like that. He could only shake his head with a smile and take her to bed.

Lith placed her on the bed and noticed cum dripping out of her pussy. He had given her a creampie like usual and that area down there had apparently been drenched in both the people's juices.

Lith called Luna inside the room and having her first clean his wife and put her properly to sleep, he made her clean him and dress him up.

It was now time to pay a visit to another of his wife and he couldn't just do so with improper looks, could he? He had to give equal care to everyone and be in his best state.

Lith walked out of Alexandra's room and started walking in the hallway.

It was now time to visit...

Chapter 478 Quickie With Wives (2/4)

"Can I come in?"

Lith was outside his wife's room and asked.

But instead of expecting the door to open up or someone's voice coming from inside, he felt someone wrap their hands around his neck.

The person who had wrapped their arms soon moved towards his ears and whispered seductively, "Come in my room? No."

"Come in me? Yes!"

Lith chuckled as he heard that. He turned to look at his wife and said, "I thought you were in your room."

The wife, none other than Arya, chuckled and replied,

"It would be more fun to do it on the rooftop, in the open air. So I was waiting for you outside."

Lith turned around and pulled Arya in for a hug. He then looked her in the eyes and stroking his non-existent stubble, he said,

"Is my wife into exhibitionism now?"

Arya chuckled again and said, "No. I just like the cold breeze hitting me when I am in your warm embrace."

Lith smiled and rubbed his nose on Arya's. "Alright then, let's go to the rooftop."

Arya nodded and in the next instant, both were standing at the top of the tallest rooftop of the Royal Castle.

It was dark as usual everywhere but it was daytime, evident from the silver-crimson brilliance coming from the moon.

Without wasting time, Lith went in for a kiss and his lips touched Arya's soft luscious ones.

Arya's sweet and wild scent assaulted him as his face was so close to hers and Lith closed his eyes to sink into this amazing scent of his wife.

All the ladies had their own unique scent. It wasn't perfume that they sprayed on themselves, but their own body's natural odour.

Lith had his own as well and it was a musky rosey smell that Arya, currently kissing Lith, couldn't get enough of.

As Lith kissed Arya, he firstly took her blindfold away and after doing so, looked straight into her eyes.

'Beautiful...' Lith thought to himself.

A few minutes later, Lith moved his hands towards Arya's butt and gave them a soft squeeze.

Feeling this, Arya couldn't help but break the kiss and said looking Lith in the eyes with a smile, "you can go harder if you want, you know?"

Lith raised his eyebrow as he heard that. He was just trying to take it slow and not just rush things. But it seems wifey liked it rough.

Lith squeezed her big butt hard and feeling this, Arya smiled and got back to kissing Lith.

After squeezing a bit, Lith unbuttoned Arya's pants and tried to take it off.

Arya was wearing formal black pants, white shirt, and a black tie like usual and was in her work outfit.

Her pants were tight and it was a bit difficult to take it off. That was only natural as Arya had the perfect hourglass-like figure. Thin waist, wide hips, big butt, and thick thighs, she was the epitome of perfection.

After struggling to take them off, the only option in Lith's mind was to rip them off and he did just that.

Arya didn't mind it at all and was busy kissing her husband.

Lith, who just ripped apart the pants of one of the wealthiest beings in the world, if knew how much they were worth, would genuinely think twice about ripping apart any clothing from next time onwards.

But ignorance was bliss and now ripping apart her pants, Lith slithered his hand inside her laced panties and inserted his two fingers in her dripping honeypot.

Lith felt some wetness there and it was apparent that she was turned on.

Keeping her pussy company with his fingers, Lith used his free hand to take his pants off and after doing so, he took his hand out of her and raised her one leg up and placed it on his shoulder.

Arya was just as tall as Lith and was one of the tallest among the other ladies. There was no problem in putting her leg up in such a fashion.

Now having a perfect spot, Lith turned her panties to the side and shoved his shaft inside her pussy, starting to pump it in and out.

As it hit Arya's entrance, she couldn't help but let out a muffled moan in Lith's mouth.

Lith's hands were free again and he unbuttoned her shirt, eventually taking her bra away and freeing her breasts from its tight clutches.

Lith played with her perfectly shaped boobs and after a while, stopped kissing her and simply looked her in the eyes as he thrust his cock in and out of her cunt.

Feeling Lith's hot meat rod hit her so much, Arya's orgasm built up and it didn't take her too long to be on the edge.

She placed her hands on his shoulder and half closing her eyes, she moaned in pleasure.

"Mhm... Mhm... Harder... Mhm... that's it... that's the spot... ahhh..."

Lith hugged Arya's waist and increased the pace. He hit her with more intensity and caused the lewd sloppy sound of their bodies clapping to increase.

Ten minutes later, Arya hugged Lith and moaned,

"Ahh... I am cumming... cumming..."

Her body trembled as she felt her first orgasm and to make her feel even better, Lith bit onto her neck and sucked her blood.

"Ohhhh!"

Arya's moans intensified as she felt an electric current run through and her body shook further.

Lith hadn't climaxed yet and just like Alexandra, he didn't give Arya time to recover and continued to hit her insides as they tightened up from the orgasm and resisted Lith's advances.

Arya liked it rough, Lith knew, and doing this was simply causing her to be more aroused.

And it indeed was true as Arya's mind got clouded with nothing but wanting to get fucked senseless by her husband.

Lith lifted Arya in his embrace and walked towards the edge of the rooftop and placed her on the sill.

Behind Arya was a view of the Dark Rose Forest and Lith continued to fuck her in standing missionary style.

A while later, Arya had another orgasm and feeling his own build up as well, Lith moved his hips faster and thrust harder.

Pah Pah Pah

Twenty minutes later, Lith intensely kissed Arya and came inside her.

Arya had her third orgasm as he got creampie'd by Lith and continued to kiss him as well.

The two hugged each other and after feeling satisfied with the kiss, Arya broke it and said while holding Lith's face and staring into his eyes,

"You know..."

"I may have not said it before, but I was really worried when something happened to you in the Astral World."

Lith smiled back and holding Arya's face, he replied, "you don't have to. I saw the amount of work you put in to keep those guys away from me while I underwent ascension."

Arya then said in a gentle tone, her playful and cheerful nature nowhere to be seen, "please be safe and don't make me worried so much."

Lith chuckled. "Yes, yes, my love, I'll try my best to not worry you."

The two kissed again after finishing their small talk, this time gently placing their lips on each other's and showing their care to the other.

Lith said some heartfelt words to Arya and after finishing, he took his shaft that was lodged in her all this while out, letting his cum flow out of her pussy.

Lith then summoned Luna who brought a change of attire with her.

She cleaned Lith and Arya up and helped the two dress up.

After kissing Arya for one final time, he said goodbye to her and went to Lucy's room.

Arriving in her room, Lith saw her sitting calmly near the dining table and sipping tea.

Lith walked close to her and hugging her from behind, he said calmly,

"Ready?"

Putting down the teacup, she asked, "ready for what?"

'Oh, playing ignorant, are we?' Lith thought to himself. 'No worries, I have just the right thing for this situation, hehe.'

Chapter 479 Quickie With Wives (3/4)

'...I have just the right thing, hehe.'

Lith spun Lucy around along with her chair, surprising her. He held her face and peering deep into her purple eyes, he said with a smirk,

"Do what, you ask? It is of course to pound some love into you."

Lucy's face flushed slightly as she heard her brother's shameless words. But she tried to keep it in and said looking him in the eyes,

"Your words sound dirty and insincere."

Lith chuckled and got up. He then said, "alright then, I'll take my leave."

Starting to walk towards the door, he said waving his hand, "I'll see you in a few years, big sis, goodb—"

Thud!

Lith's body crashed onto something soft just as he turned to look away from Lucy and in the front.

Looking at what he crashed onto, Lith was slightly surprised to see it was his sister.

Lucy, crossing her arms, said with her brows knitted, "who said you could leave?"

Lith raised an eyebrow and asked, "I can't leave?"

Lucy nodded. "Mister, you cannot just walk in and out of the Queen's room and do as you please. There are consequences for such actions."

Lith made a fake shocked expression and putting his palm on his face, he said, "Oh my... Am I going to be punished?"

Lucy nodded. She walked close to him and holding his collar, she said, "that's right. This Queen shall personally do that. Come with me."

Lucy walked towards her bed and pushed Lith on it. She then got on top of him and unbuttoning his shirt, she said,

"No moving."

Lith smiled and let Lucy do what she wanted. It wasn't everyday she took the lead.

Lucy, her intentions were to not get embarrassed further by Lith. Although she had experienced it many times, she was still nowhere close to being immune to it.

Thus, if she took the lead and he stayed quiet, she could save herself some trouble.

Her thoughts were simple but alas...

If only she knew.

Lucy slowly unbuttoned his clothes and finally taking off his pants, she stroked his shaft and had it become erect.

It took a while and noticing this, Lith calculated that it would take a while and he would be late.

Lith had promised everyone a quickie and if he spent too much time with one wife, the other wife's time would be compromised.

But, he also couldn't let his wife not enjoy herself and rush.

Being in this dilemma would've been a headache, but thankfully, being with Lucy for so many years together, Lith knew how to keep her happy.

Lith held Lucy's hand that was stroking his shaft and looked at her.

Surprised with this sudden move, Lucy looked back at Lith and said, "why are you mov—"

"Kyaaah!"

Lith yanked her towards him, letting out a surprised shout from her.

He placed her underneath him and got on top of her.

Lith looked Lucy straight in the eyes and said after kissing her lips,

"I changed my mind, my Queen. I now plan to do a coup d'etat after looking at that beautiful face of yours."

Lucy's face turned red as she heard that and she cursed in her mind, 'damn it. He sure knows how to turn the situation up.'

Though she thought that, her wet spot on her panties said otherwise. She was really turned on by Lith's sudden change of pace.

Lith moved Lucy's hand above her head and locked them in one place by placing one of his hands on it.

He then took her tits out of her gown and pinched her nipples while playing with her big breasts.

"Mhm..."

Lucy moaned in pleasure as Lith had his way with her.

The best way to please his sister was to do one thing:

Take the lead!

Lucy was a masochist like Luna and although she won't admit it, she liked being the submissive one.

Lith bent down and sucked on her nipples. He ensured to stimulate her by lightly biting onto them and pulling them.

It was working as Lucy's body jerked with each time Lith pulled her nipples and she moaned.

Lucy's little sister couldn't help but drool with each passing second and she felt herself be on another high.

Lith then took off his clothes and as his dick was already erect and Lucy's pussy was wet with her juices overflowing, Lith shoved it inside in one single thrust, without caring for her insides to adjust.

"Ohhhh!"

Lucy moaned loudly as Lith hit her womb's entrance with his dick in one single thrust.

This caused her pain but she liked such pain and eventually became more turned on.

Pah Pah Pah

Lith's body slapped onto Lucy's as he intensely thrust in her in a missionary position.

Lucy's moan didn't stop either and with the constant hard thrusts, she couldn't help but ride on the waves of pleasure.

"Ahhh... Ahhh... yesss... yess... just like that..."

Lucy was loving this pounding but of course she won't admit it even if she was on another high.

Lith let go of her hands and bent down to kiss her.

Lucy wrapped her legs around Lith's waist and she kissed him back.

Ten minutes later, Lucy had her first major orgasm and twenty more minutes later of being fucked in this same missionary position without stop, she had her second major orgasm.

At this point Lith would've continued to spread her pussy with his dick until he reached an orgasm as well but he decided to have a change.

Lucy liked rough fucking and he was going to go on a break, it was best to give her what she wanted right now before leaving.

Lith gave a peck on Lucy's lips and getting up, he turned her around and held her waist to make her butt stick up in a doggy position.

Lucy was surprised once again but before she could say anything or have an idea of what was happening, she felt a sharp pain in her butt.

In the next instant:

"Ohhhhhh!"

Lucy squirted as she had a small orgasm just from having Lith fully push his dick inside her tight asshole.

Lith didn't stop and he rammed his shaft in her as intensely as he could.

He wasn't a kid anymore or a mortal with low cultivation. He had the power to pound his wives senseless in whatever way they wanted.

Lith's shaft was well lubricated with Lucy's juices as she orgasmed twice before. There thus wasn't much friction as Lith had anal sex with Lucy.

Convulsions happened in Lucy's behind and her anal walls tightened themselves on Lith's cock.

Feeling such pressure, Lith felt really good and felt like cumming. However, he held it in and instead,

PAH!

"Ahhhh!"

Lucy cried out in pleasure as Lith spanked her ass cheeks and left a red print on them. Her insides tightened up further and she had a small orgasm.

Lith spanked her some more and finally, as her third orgasm built up, Lith picked her up and held her in his embrace, bouncing her body up and down on his cock while supporting her by hugging her waist.

Lucy's swaying breasts along with her dripping cunt were visible from the front side and although she was in a very shameful position, she was too into the wonderlands of lust to think of such things.

Lith bit onto her neck and fucked her as rough as he could.

Finally, not being able to take it anymore, Lith orgasmed right inside Lucy's asshole.

Just as his load shot up deep in her, Lucy had another massive orgasm and her body arched while her eyes rolled up.

"Ohhhhhhh!"

She twisted her hands and held Lith's neck for support as she squirted her juices on the bed, staining the bedsheets and the pillow.

After their orgasm subdued, they both fell on the stained bedsheets and breathed in a rough manner.

Lith had Lucy on top of him and finally when both relaxed and recovered, Lith kissed Lucy's forehead lovingly and said,

"Take care of yourselves and mom while I am gone, okay?"

Lucy looked up and only nodded her head lightly in response, too tired to speak anything.

This was one of the best fucks of her life and she wouldn't deny it!

Though it was a pity that it was just a quickie and not an actual love-making session. Had the latter been the case, she wouldn't have let Lith go until he filled all three of her holes a minimum of ten times.

Lith cuddled together with her for a while and finally giving her one last kiss, Lith called in Luna and once again repeated the previous things.

Being clean and ready, Lith moved towards the room of his cute angel wife, finally being done for the day and to finish his duties.

As Lith reached her room, he saw her working on her laptop like usual.

Emilia was wearing her round gold rimmed glasses and was wearing a formal white shirt and black skirt. She was in her work outfit as well like Arya.

Lith went behind her like how he did with Lucy and hugging her, he asked with a smile,

"What is my wife doing?"

Chapter 480 Quickie With Wives (4/4)

Being hugged by Lith, Emilia felt happy. She smiled and said in a calm tone, "working."

Lith shook his head as he heard that and said, "you shouldn't overwork yourself, honey. It's not good for your health."

Lith's words made her feel much better than before. But she sighed and said, "I have to work hard so that the children don't suffer, you know?"

Being the principal was not an easy job as many lives were connected to her. She couldn't risk lazing around as that would put the others in danger.

Lith sighed as well hearing that. He let go of her and moved in front of her.

"I understand you need to work, but please don't overwork yourself." He said while looking her in the eyes.

Emilia nodded. "I'll take note of it, please don't worry."

Lith continued, "I'll be leaving and won't be back for a while. I really hope you don't overwork yourself while I am gone."

Emilia stopped doing what she was doing and looked at Lith with a gentle gaze.

She felt really warm in her heart knowing how caring her husband was and she didn't regret even slightly to have married him.

"I'll do my best. And as I said, please don't worry." Emilia said so again.

Lith nodded. He then said, "come, let's spend some time together before I leave.

Emilia nodded. "Just give me a few minutes, I need to get this done."

Lith sighed as he heard that. His wife really worked a lot.

Lith turned her chair to have her face him and squatted down to meet her eye level.

He held her face with his palms, squishing her soft cheeks, and said gently while staring in her deep blue eyes,

"No overworking."

Emilia nodded. She understood her husband's concerns.

"Promise?"

Emilia nodded again like a pecking chicken.

Lith smiled as he watched this. Emilia's expression was too cute!

While still holding her face, he said, "do you want to know an interesting fact?"

Emilia tilted her head in curiosity. Since Lith had her face squished, she couldn't properly speak and could only shake her head to reply.

Lith smirked and said, "when kissing, the nose comes in between you know? It always gets bumped."

Emilia was slightly confused as she heard this. The last time she kissed...

'Hmm... I don't remember the nose coming in between...' She thought to herself.

Lith continued, "do you want to test it out?"

Without thinking, Emilia nodded, only to realize that Lith put her in a trap and immediately shook her head a second later to deny.

But alas, she was late.

Lith chuckled evilly and pressed his lips onto hers.

"Ommfff!" Emilia tried to resist his advances as she got kissed out of nowhere and fell into her husband's trap.

But in the next instant, she thought to herself, 'I was right. The nose indeed doesn't come in between. Wait! Why am I thinking this? He tricked me into a kiss!'

'I fell for his pranks again! When will I learn to avoid them?'

Her husband's pranks were dangerous. The last time he pranked her, she ended up falling in love with him and then marry him.

Now she got tricked into a kiss and what was next? Something like...

Emilia's thoughts took a naughty turn and her face turned red from embarrassment.

Lith, feeling this position was uncomfortable to be in for too long, broke the kiss and got up.

He extended his hand towards Emilia and asked with a smile, as if he did nothing a few seconds ago, "come, take a break."

Emilia glared at him with her brows knitted but she placed her hand on his and walked with him. She loved him too much to be annoyed with him for too long.

Lith moved towards the bed and slept on with Emilia in his embrace.

Emilia knew what was coming but she still obliged with whatever Lith was doing.

Lith had asked the ladies to be in their rooms if they wanted to do a quickie and Emilia being here meant she wanted to.

Lith obviously didn't bring this thing up and neither did Emilia when they met and simply spoke through their actions.

When dealing with Emilia, Lith knew he had to take gentle and soft approaches. She was an angel and she didn't really have the same tastes as the other ladies.

The two got into a comfortable position and Emilia snuggled closer to Lith.

Lith then looked her in the eyes and said softly, "I love you, Emmy."

Emilia smiled as she heard his heartfelt words and replied, "I love you too, husband."

Lith went in for a kiss and this time Emilia didn't resist even slightly and reciprocated the kiss.

The two cuddled together and kissed for a good while when Lith slowly moved his hands under her skirt and rubbed his fingers on her slits over her panties.

Emilia moaned with Lith's touch but again, didn't resist his advances. This was what she wanted and was here on her own accord.

Lith soon took his pants off and got above Emilia while kissing her.

He lifted her skirt up and parting her panties to the side, he gently thrust his shaft inside her honeypot.

As it slid in slowly, Emilia's insides adjusted and when fully in, let waited for a while to have everything get accustomed to each other.

Lith soon started moving his hips and Emilia let out muffled moans as the waves of pleasure started taking over her.

Lith gradually increased his pace and while doing so, he also slowly took out one piece of clothing after another from her until she and he both were fully naked.

Although quickie was meant to be done in a quick way with mostly clothes on, when had the chance to, why not have some skinship together?

Lith played with Emilia's breasts and pounded her in a missionary position. He wasn't too rough or too gentle, hitting her insides in a pace she preferred.

Emilia moaned constantly as she got her lower lips spread by the hot thing of her husband. She locked her legs with his waist as the pleasure increased and finally, a while later, she had her first orgasm and had her body arched.

Feeling her orgasm, Lith didn't continue to pound her like how he did with the other three ladies. Instead, he waited for a while until her orgasm subdued.

In the meantime, he changed positions.

When Emilia recovered, Lith fucked her from the side with a slow pace and in a gentle manner and brought her to another orgasm after a while.

The two changed positions two more times and after four orgasm and the fifth one building up, it was finally when Lith felt like having the urge to climax.

Lith turned Emilia and she was now lying on the bed on her stomach.

Lith fucked her by being on top of her and the lewd sounds of Lith's dick slapping onto Emilia's wet folds reverberated in her ears and made her even turned on.

"Mhmm... Mhmm... Ahh... yess..."

Lith finally increased his pace and intensity with which he was pounding her when he felt her insides tighten up and his orgasm being close.

Finally, ten minutes later, Lith climaxed inside Emilia's warm soft fleshy folds.

Emilia orgasmed as well and finishing their love-making session, Lith hugged Emilia and had her lay on top of him.

Emilia took the initiative to kiss Lith and then said gently,

"Be back soon, okay?"

Lith smiled and said, "if you say so, I won't leave only."

Emilia rolled her eyes and pinching Lith's nose, she replied, "don't be a lazy bum. Go work."

Lith chuckled. His wife sure loved to work and make others work.

After spending some more time with her, Lith said his goodbyes to her and finally went to his mother's room to say goodbye as well.

Lith had a lot of sex in the past month with his mother and there was no need for a quickie with her.

He simply gave her many kisses and promised to be back soon.

Lith then left the Royal Castle and finally entered the Elven Continent again.

It was time to meet up with Ralph and Dennis and make some money!
