

VAMPIRE'S SLICE OF LIFE

Chapter 5 Too Young

“My baby, you want to learn magic at such a young age?” It was Lilith who asked this time, clearly concerned.

“Mhm. Lith learn magic. Lith strong. Lith protect Mama and big sis.” I said conveying my goals. These words may sound a little stupid to everyone, I felt embarrassed but clearly my mother and sister teared up a little and I could feel my sister hugging me a little tighter. Oh my sister’s boobs are not as big as my mother’s but they clearly feel as good as her. They are on a little firmer side as compared to mother’s though.

“My dear Lith, mom and I are already very strong to protect ourselves and you. You don’t need to worry so much dear.” Lucy said and mother too, nodded in understanding. But how can I give up now? I really wanna learn magic.

“Big sis, teach Lith magic.” I said without making anymore excuses. Clearly taking benefits of being a child and remaining stubborn.

“It’s not that I don’t want to teach you magic but you are too young right now. I do not know if you’ll understand me or not but I ll explain you a little as to why. First and foremost you do not have a magic core in your right now. It can only be awakened at the age of thirteen for all creatures in the world with the help of energy from a special plant. We for simplicity call it core awaking root. It is very common. You can find it anywhere. But it does not work if you aren’t at the age of thirteen. Those who do not awaken their magic core by consuming it due to reasons at the age of thirteen will have no choice but to reincarnate and try again or pay a hefty price and forcefully awaken one by drinking various potions. They have side effects by the way. So yes. If you want you can go and consume one. It's growing in our garden. How about this dear, you can learn combat till you reach the awakening age. I'll train you well. It's better than staying cooped up here all day long with mama." Lucy explained everything clearly for me to understand and no sooner did she finish, she got her ear twisted from mother.

"Oww oww mom, I was kidding."

"You are too young right now, my baby. Mother will not allow you to practice until you are three. It is harmful for you. Alright, Lucy go away and take care of work now. I need to feed him now." Mother said clearly not taking mine and Lucy's opinion into consideration. I started sucking on her nipples again and felt the familiar warm liquid in my mouth. Lucy went away. I was alone with my mother yet again. She cleaned me with some water and air magic. I didn't even feel anything when she did that but I understood she cleaned me because I felt refreshed. After a while of sucking and fondling I looked at her and she looked back and smiled.

"Mama, movie." I really wanted to know how good movies are here and how technology is here. So I requested that. My mother didn't even think from where I learnt this word but I assume she knew it because of me reading that general knowledge book. She simply said one word "Hecate" in an emotionless and neutral tone, very different from how she usually speaks to me and my sister.

It wasn't even a second before she finished saying that word, a woman arrived in our bedroom or more clearly teleported because of a white runic magic circle clearly was surrounding her. The woman seemed in her early 30s like my mother and had red and blue eyes and black hair. She was a beautiful lady but not as much as my sister or mother. Oh clearly this virgin me's standards are rising it seems.

"Yes, your majesty?" Hecate said while bowing a little and not looking at my mother's eyes or me.

"Arrange for a television set in my bedroom. Me and my son will be watching a movie." Mother said in the same way as before. I didn't know she could be this cold to someone. And did she just say your majesty to my mother? Is she a queen of some place? Hmm wait. I am a vampire. Vampires clearly have strict hierarchies and there can only be one king or queen.

WAIT.

MY MOTHER IS THE VAMPIRE QUEEN?
