

Vampire 561

Chapter 561 Let's Make Babies

Ruben's punishment was done, and now it was time to decide the fate of these hundred people in the court.

The hundred people were slithering on the ground as if they were having a seizure, but they weren't having a stroke.

They were merely tied up, and their ability to speak was sealed. So, they were trying their best to struggle and break free, hence their wriggling movements.

Lilith looked at them, and her amethyst eyes flashed a shade of red. Just after a split second, the reddish flash was gone.

As soon as it did, the people in the court heard a sizzling noise and could smell something burning.

It took them only a short time to figure out where it was coming from. Their eyes focused on one person among the desperately slithering hundred people on the ground.

This particular man wriggled as if salt had been put on a worm.

Everyone could see the head of the person start to melt away; despite that, he wasn't dead.

The melting continued until even his hair, nails, and bones turned into a gooey puddle. In the end, only his core remained.

Lilith flicked her finger in the direction of the core. Instantly, the person who had died from melting was alive and well once again.

She then made the person stand up and removed the restrictions on him.

This person appeared to be in their late 40s and wore good-quality robes, indicating he was from a well-off background.

Lilith read the minds of the hundred people present. She was able to confirm that this was the person who had called her daughter incompetent.

Giving him a quick death meant letting him off easy. There was no way Lilith would allow such a thing.

While keeping him up, Lilith turned to face Ruben again and said, "These are the people who were cursing. You know what to do about them, right?"

Ruben nodded his head.

Lilith continued, "send me a video of them when you're done."

Ruben bowed and agreed with it.

Lilith was talking about torturing the people; the best person to do such a thing was a demon. There was only one person fit for such a job, and it was none other than Ruben.

After she decided the fate of those people, she turned her attention back to the person floating in mid-air before her.

Lilith leaned forwards and looked at the man with a calm expression. However, her calmness only scared the man more.

He had no idea what was happening; or why he was singled out.

He was relaxing in his home when he was pulled by something. Next thing he knew, he was in a dark place, his hands and legs tied, and he could see nothing nor hear anything.

Just a short while later, he felt a burning sensation, and the searing pain intensified with each passing second.

He wanted to scream, but he couldn't. He wanted to die, but he couldn't.

He felt his consciousness fade away, and finally, the pain ended. He was now back to normal.

Once his senses returned, he felt himself get up. He felt his restrictions were removed, and he looked around...

His hair from all over his body stood on their ends as he felt a chill down his spine.

He didn't know where he was or who the people around were, but just looking at them and feeling their auras, he felt horrified.

But he felt the most scared when he looked up at the mighty throne.

A lady in a regal red dress was sitting atop a mighty throne. Behind her was a silver-crimson moon emitting its radiance. Despite the room having an overall dark theme, he could clearly see the lady's face.

The man found the lady extremely beautiful but also terrifying at the same time. He couldn't look at her face for more than a second as he felt a massive pressure on his soul.

This caused him to panic further and made him wonder what in the heavens he had done to invite her ire.

Looking at the guy who called Lucy incompetent, Lilith thought for a second about the best method to torture the guy.

After a few seconds of thinking, she decided to cage him in the Royal Prison and torture him for eternity.

Lilith swiped her finger to the right, in the direction of the prison. The man zoomed in that direction and disappeared from the court instantly.

Lilith then swiped her palm to the left, and the remaining people vanished. They had been teleported to a cage which Ruben would check later.

Finally cleaning up the mess, Lilith started talking about the things related to the new hierarchy again and discussed the venue and everything with the servants.

Sitting on the sidelines, Lith was starting to feel bored with all the discussion. But he didn't show it on his face and continued to listen.

Finally, after a whole day's worth of discussion, Lilith dismissed the servants and laid back on her throne to take a break and drink some tea.

Lith walked towards her and made her sit on the edge of her throne. He went behind her and started massaging her shoulders to make her feel relaxed.

While massaging his mother's shoulder, Lith asked, "So, now that the banquet is being held outside, does that mean the castle won't have any visitors?"

Lilith, having her eyes closed and sipping on some tea, said, "There won't be anyone visiting other than friends and family."

"I see. But the outer area is empty and can have visitors. You know, without any here, it'll seem pretty lonely." Lith put out his thoughts.

Lilith chuckled. She turned back to look him in the eyes and said with a smile, "You don't have to worry. Once you grow up and make babies, the castle will be filled with their giggles and cries. It won't seem lonely anymore."

Hearing that, Lith joked, "Why wait for long? Let's go make babies now."

Lilith chuckled and pinched Lith's nose. "I have lots of work. And you shouldn't think about babies until you feel satisfied with your cultivation. Many neglect their children in pursuit of a greater dao and martial peak. Do you want to be someone like that?"

His mother's words, although she appeared to be joking, were actually a great piece of advice in itself and contained profound meanings of life.

Replying to his mother, he shook his head and said, "I don't want to. But instead of making babies, why don't we enjoy the process and the art of babymaking?"

Lilith chuckled again. "Mama is busy for two more days. No time for doing anything naughty until then."

"It's a pity." Lith sighed and said.

Lilith kissed Lith's lips lightly and replied, "It indeed is."

"Anyway, go prepare yourself for the banquet that'll happen tomorrow. If you present yourself properly, you may even end up having all the noble vampire ladies in your bedroom for the night." She giggled after saying so.

Lith rolled his eyes. Did he look like someone who wanted to sleep with strangers? He wasn't living a life of debauchery or was a dual cultivator to do such things.

Lith kissed Lilith and said his goodbyes, eventually leaving the throne room.

As he moved out, he noticed there was someone following him. He looked back, only to see Luna, his personal maid, behind him.

He was about to strike up a conversation with her when he heard footsteps coming from the front.

Turning towards the front, Lith saw a lady donning purple robes, and a black pointy hat, walk towards him. She had red and blue eyes, and black hair cascaded down her shoulders. She was a fine-looking lady appearing in her early 30s.

Behind the lady was Qingyue, his mother's personal maid, wearing a maid uniform that perfectly fit her curves.

Qingyue's figure was slim and sleek. Her boobs may be petite, but her butt was ample and of the perfect shape, challenging even Luna, whose curves were the best of the best.

Despite the fantastic proportions of her curves, everything was hidden under the uniform. Even Lith had yet to get a good look under Qingyue's uniform.

As for the lady wearing a pointy hat and baggy clothing, her curves and hourglass-like figure was still visible to Lith.

However, despite being surrounded by beauties, Lith didn't eye them lustfully and just stood there without throwing them a second glance.

The lady with the pointy hat and Qingyue both bowed and greeted Lith as they reached near him.

"Greetings, Miss Hecate. What brings you here?" Lith recognized her face hidden by her hat once she was closer. However, he didn't know that Hecate was called by his mother.

Hecate, firstly being called 'Miss' so politely and also by someone like Lith, who was the Prince and someone far above in status than her, felt happy internally.

Even after years of being out of touch, Lith was still so polite with her.

Not only that, he had become so handsome!

Even if he was so handsome, there didn't seem to be any trace of arrogance in Lith.

Instead of replying to Lith, the Witch Queen couldn't help but wonder:

'Why is the Prince so nice?'

Chapter 562 Hecate Ls Special

Hecate was lost in her thoughts for a bit but soon came to her senses and answered Lith in a neutral tone,

"I have been called by Her Majesty, Your Highness."

"I see." Lith nodded his head. He smiled and said, "If you want to meet mom, she's free now."

Hecate nodded her head. She bowed and said, "If there's anything His Highness needs, feel free to contact me. I'll be taking my leave then."

Lith nodded and left after saying farewell to Hecate.

This was probably the shortest interaction between them. Even so, Lith could tell that Hecate hadn't changed even after so many years.

He vividly remembered the day when he first saw her. That day, Lith realized that his mother was the Vampire Queen.

It was fun to remember how shocked he was and how his mother had responded to his silly questions.

Hecate was a bit special to Lith. She was the first person Lith had seen other than his mother or sister since he arrived in this world.

He remembered that he hadn't seen Luna or any other Royal Servant until he had his first feeding session.

Hecate had always been good to Lith. Even though she appeared subservient, her attitude didn't seem like she was forced to provide her services. She did not show a trace of hate or dislike towards her job or her employers, namely his mother and him.

Hecate had always been supportive in all his past dealings with her. He realized that he really underappreciated her and didn't give her enough credit.

Lith made a mental note to treat her better the next time he saw her. Then he went on his way to look for clothes he could wear tomorrow.

Luna tagged along with him, and the two soon reached Lith's bedroom.

Lith's bedroom was larger when compared to his mother's. The reason was quite obvious.

Lilith knew Lith's harem would only increase in the future. With that in mind, she had ordered the room to be made in such a manner that it could accommodate all his ladies and even be enlarged further.

There was a big bed in his room, a tall ceiling, a lot of space to put in a sofa, a tv, and other entertainment systems. It also had a large fireplace in the room.

Lith walked towards the sofa and sat down on it. He lay back on it and relaxed.

As he did so, Luna walked close to him and said, "Your Highness, when are you going to decide on your outfit for tomorrow?"

Lith, relaxing on the sofa with his eyes closed, "It's a pain to go out and do shopping. Maybe later in the evening?"

"You don't need to go out," Luna answered.

Lith opened one of his eyes and looked at Luna. "Do we have clothes available for selection in the castle itself?"

Luna shook her head. "We don't, but there are ways for you to select robes. One second, let me show you."

Luna walked in front of the space between the sofa and the tv and drew a magic circle.

Soon, it lit up, and a green-colored light radiated from it.

"It's done. Please stand in the middle, and you'll know the rest." Luna said.

Not knowing what it was, Lith decided to give it a try.

He got up and walked to the center of the magic circle.

As he stood in the center, Luna walked towards him and started taking off his robes.

This made Lith ask, "Why are you taking my clothes off?"

Without looking at Lith's face, Luna answered, "It's important, Your Highness. I can explain why, but why don't you see it for yourself?"

Lith nodded and agreed with what she said. It wasn't the first time Luna had taken off his clothes, and he wasn't shy. He was just curious about what was happening here.

After Luna was done taking off his clothes and leaving him on just his underwear, she went to the sofa and sat on it. She then took out a tablet screen and started working to have Lith choose clothes.

Soon, In front of Lith, a big screen appeared. This screen showcased many options for him to choose from.

"Just think of the option you want to select, and you'll be able to browse through the screen," Luna said.

Lith nodded. He had a system now and was familiar with how to use mind commands.

Lith did that, and under the clothes menu, he chose shirts and browsed through a list of shirts.

He found a good shirt and picked it. In the next instant, the shirt materialized around his torso. Lith was amazed by this technology.

He touched the shirt to see if it was real or not and was shocked when he found it was real.

Lith looked at Luna and said, "It sure is a nice trick."

Luna smiled. "I told you, it's better to experience it yourself than hear about it from me."

Lith nodded, agreeing with her statement.

For the next few moments, he carefully checked himself in the mirror. Then he smiled at Luna and said, "This is great, but it doesn't feel as nice as when you help me put clothes on."

Luna smiled upon hearing that. "I can help you do it even now, but doesn't His Highness think he'll be bored to have his clothes changed a hundred or maybe a thousand times?"

Hearing that number made Lith drop his smile. 'Damn, she's right.' He thought to himself.

It felt sexy to have your maid help you change clothes, only if it is one set of clothes. Repeatedly doing the same thing would definitely become annoying.

Lith nodded his head and once again agreed with Luna.

He then tried on a few more shirts and got busy selecting clothes.

While he was busy...

Barony of Bernard, Human Continent.

The afternoon had passed, and the sky was starting to darken.

As the last rays of daylight extinguished, many carriages started moving towards the castle of Baron Bernard.

Today was a special occasion in the Barony of Bernard as it so happened to be the birthday of the Baron's daughter. A grand event was being hosted to celebrate her birthday.

Not only was it the celebration of her birthday, but also to commemorate the fact that she had reached Rank 8!

Becoming a Rank 8 within a hundred years was an astonishing feat!

The world's average population would not even hope to cross the Rank 6 mark, let alone become Rank 8s, that too before turning hundred.

For the ones who did become Rank 8s, their average age was around five hundred to a thousand years old.

Baron Bernard's daughter was definitely talented and had caught the attention of many higher nobles.

In this world, if you didn't have money or authority, the only way to form connections with the higher-ups was through your cultivation.

But, of course, the path of cultivation was just as tricky.

Not only one faced numerous obstacles like inner demons and bottlenecks, but the powerful people would also try to kill the talented seeds not affiliated with them.

After all, why allow talents to mature and become a threat to them?

The higher-ups of the Main races usually didn't kill the talents of their own race, as it meant weakening their own race.

However, they always kept an eye on the other seven races. They tried to kill the geniuses that stood out by rising through the ranks faster than usual.

Everything was done sneakily and with underhanded methods. It was evil of the other races, but it was just how it was.

Under such pressure, someone like a small Baron's daughter still managed to rise to the Rank. It was an astonishing feat in itself! Yet, she had done it without exceptional support or background!

The higher-ups of the human race would only notice the talents if they were Rank 9 or above or from some prestigious academy like the Abalax World Academy.

Baron Bernard knew this fact.

To ensure his daughter would receive the attention of the higher-ups of the human race, he hosted a grand event using her birthday and rise in cultivation as an excuse.

Almost all the other Barons, Knights, and even Viscounts were making an appearance at this Grand party.

Bernard had spared no effort to coax them into coming. He used the help of a Count he knew. He let out a word that the Count would be coming, which resulted in everyone readily accepting the invitation.

The nobles were all greedy people. Everyone wanted to form connections with the Count, as in the aristocracy, only relationships mattered.

Even the nobles who didn't like Baron Bernard had accepted the invitation and were coming.

In just an hour, as the day ended, all the invited nobles were now in Baron Bernard's castle, chatting together over drinks and waiting for Bernard to appear.

However, amidst the invited nobles, there was one exception, who was currently standing in a corner of the ballroom, gazing at everyone and analysing them.

This exception held a wine glass in his hand and lightly stirring it, said softly to himself, "So many people. Interesting."

"I guess instead of just finishing my mission, I'll be having a feast and making Master proud."

Chapter 563 Neo's Second Teacher

At the corner of the ballroom, the one having a wine glass in his hand and calmly commenting on the people was a handsome black-haired, magenta-eyed teenager.

The teen wore an exquisite tuxedo that fit his body shape properly, showing how well-built he was.

This handsome teen was none other than Neo, Lith's avatar.

Neo infiltrated this event easily by taking out a carriage driver of a Baron who was visiting the castle.

He ensured that the person he chose didn't have a high level of security and also had the invitation from Bernard.

This made killing the carriage driver an easy task when the carriage had stopped for a break.

After Neo was inside the castle gates and the Baron inside the carriage was dropped off, he parked the carriage in its respective place and sneaked his way toward the castle's main entrance.

On his way, Neo changed his clothes and removed his disguise. He looked really handsome in his elegant tuxedo.

To enter the castle, he blended in with another noble family that was visiting. The best part was no one even suspected his identity because of his looks.

The noble family did not suspect Neo as he kept some distance from them. At the same time, the guards also didn't have any doubts because they considered Neo a part of that noble family's entourage.

Believe it or not, Neo looked far better than the personages of the noble families entering the castle. With the way he presented himself and his calm demeanor, people thought he might be someone with a very influential background.

In any case, infiltrating the castle was easy, and it didn't require much effort.

Neo didn't have to make a big scene for such a small thing. He didn't have to kill anyone. All in all, he entered the castle without much drama and made his way to the ballroom.

The ballroom had a high ceiling, and many chandeliers dangled from it, making the ambiance bright and warm.

The nobles had become busy already, and the whole event was started unofficially.

Neo, standing in a corner, holding a wine glass, was analyzing people to see who was fit to form a connection and who wasn't.

From what his teacher had said to him, he shouldn't try to make a connection with the nobles who roam from one place to another and constantly try to talk with everyone.

Instead, he should go for the ones staying in one place and not mingling with the other nobles.

Neo soon found one such group of people he could talk with. But before he could go to them, two ladies and a man with them made their way toward him.

As the three reached Neo, the man, standing in between the two ladies, said to Neo:

"Ho, Ho, what a fine-looking young man you are. Young man, which family do you belong to?"

The man appeared to be middle-aged but had black hair and a beard with streaks of white visible in them.

Neo nodded lightly and replied, "Greetings."

He was calm, and with the way he made a reply, he was expressing to the other party that he wanted to be left alone and didn't want to be bothered.

Neo had learned the art of conversations from his second teacher.

Ruben wasn't the best when it came to conversations. He was more of a rogue who could teach Neo how to get the ladies, beat the husbands of the ladies, eat people, and so on and so forth.

Neo was like a newborn when he first met Ruben. Anything Ruben taught, he absorbed the teachings like a sponge. There was a high chance Neo had an attitude and personality like Ruben, but it didn't happen in the end.

It was for one reason, and that was...

Noman.

Noman used to visit Ruben from time to time, and when he saw Neo, he was curious to see who he was that Ruben was training. Finding out it was his Prince's avatar, Noman felt it wouldn't be good if Neo adopted the personality of Ruben.

Thus, Noman started teaching him normal, everyday things like conversing, making friends, talking to someone you want a favor from, and so on.

Noman, Ruben, and Neo were in a different dimension when training where time was faster than in the normal world.

Lith wanted Neo to be trained within a year, but it wasn't possible. Hence, Ruben took Neo to another dimension.

Getting the teachings from Ruben and Noman both, Neo learned a lot. Eventually, he deviated and didn't develop an attitude like his official teacher, Ruben. Thus, his conversing skills were pretty good.

The middle-aged man gave an awkward smile after he saw how reserved and uninterested Neo was in making his acquaintance. He couldn't help but wonder, 'Is this youngster from some top family? So what I thought was correct?'

The man thought Neo might be from some top family before, so he was trying to strike up a conversation with him.

People that looked as young as Neo would definitely not be standing idly in one place. They would try and talk to the young ladies of other families and do their best to form connections.

The man laughed lightly at Neo's response and said, "Young man, you shouldn't stand idly like that. You should talk to the young ladies. Look, over there is the young lady from the House of Jia. I am sure you know how influential her house is."

Before Neo could respond to the man's words, one of the two ladies, standing beside the man, chimed in and said shaking her head,

"I don't think the Jia family's girl would suit this young man here."

The other lady beside the man nodded her head. "In my opinion, this sire should go for the young lady from the House of Ye. She's right over there."

The lady from the House of Jia was a petite girl with brown hair and brown eyes wearing yellow attire that accentuated her beauty.

And the lady from the House of Ye was a black-haired, blue-eyed girl with good curves wearing a white and blue colored hanfu.

Both seemed to be of the same age as Neo and were stunning beauties.

"Yes, the Ye family's girl seems good for this fine man here." The lady beside the man said.

"Indeed. Mister, don't listen to the opinion of our husband. He's old and doesn't know what teenagers of your age like." The other lady said.

Standing between the two, the man laughed and said to Neo, "My wives are right. But remember, if you get the young lady from the House of Jia, you'll have some good stuff later."

He then winked at Neo, as if Neo could understand the underlying meaning behind the man's words.

The two ladies knitted their brows and hit the man with their elbows. They then made an annoyed smile and said to Neo simultaneously,

"Absolutely not!"

Neo blinked in confusion. He honestly had no idea what was happening.

He lightly coughed, trying to attract the attention of the three people, and asked, "Thank you for your recommendations. I'll look into them. Before we part ways, can I know the names of the good sir and madams here?"

"Ho! Ho! Ho! Amidst our talks, we forgot to introduce ourselves! How rude of us, Ho! Ho! Ho!" The man laughed.

Two ladies beside him covered their faces and lightly giggled as well.

The man extended his hand forwards and said, "I am Tang Jiao."

Neo shook hands with him and answered, "Neo."

The man backed off after introducing himself, and the lady beside him came forward. She extended her hand slowly, unlike the man, and after Neo held it, said softly,

"Tang Mei Li."

She had a slightly seductive tone which went unnoticed by Jiao but caught the attention of Neo.

She was hinting something to Neo with her voice, and as if that wasn't enough, she made a small wink at him as he shook hands with her.

Neo, retaining the calmness within him, knew what she was trying to do.

To respond to her, he lightly pressed her thumb with his own so the man beside wouldn't notice it.

The lady raised an eyebrow in surprise and, taking her hand away, covered her face and giggled.

Her giggles didn't catch the man's attention once again, as this was a habit of the noble ladies when they were talking to the young and playing around with them.

The other lady then put her hand forwards and, as Neo took it, said calmly, "Tang Niwa."

Neo shook it and introduced himself.

The introduction was done, but the lady didn't take her hand away. She continued to talk to Neo and said,

"Neo, if it doesn't work out with the Ye family's girl, I'll come for you and give you some more recommendations. Go talk to her before the ball ends."

Neo nodded. He looked Niwa in her eyes and replied, "Thank you for your help and kind words."

Niwa let go of Neo's hand and backed away after he was done.

She and Mei Li waved goodbye to Neo and walked away with Jiao.

As Neo looked at them, he couldn't help but think,

'Teacher was so right about the older human ladies....'

Chapter 564 Mei Li And Niwa*

From the teachings of Ruben, Neo knew that the older noble ladies always tried to hit subtly on the younger boys.

Although their intention may not be to sleep with them, they sure liked to flirt.

But in the case of Mei Li and Niwa, they were openly giving Neo a ticket to their secret garden.

How so, one might ask?

From Mei Li's slightly seductive tone and the suggestive wink, even a blockhead could deduce her intentions, let alone Neo. As for Niwa, she was even more obvious with her handshake.

No sane woman would say 'I'll come for you' in a conversation with a stranger. Although she didn't show any hints of trying to hit on Neo, this one just gave it away.

Neo was pretty sure that Niwa only hit on him because Mei Li gave her a signal by giggling. If he played his cards right, he could end up in bed with these two sexy cougars before the event was over.

Neo's main target was Bernard's wife, but now that Tang Jiao's wives came looking for him, he wasn't going to reject them.

As he had thought before, it was going to be a feast for him today. He came to this event aiming to bed one lady, but he could sleep with many more before returning home.

Neo was also amazed by the fact that things worked out so well as soon as he arrived here. From the information he had received from his Main body, Lith, Tang Jiao was a Viscount who ranked in the top three.

This guy definitely was a big shot, and even Neo had no idea how he managed to attract his attention. But in any case, it was beneficial for him. If he slept with Mei Li and Niwa, his curse would be lifted, and he would be free.

The curse stated Neo had to sleep with someone two realms above him. Usually, the Human race only bestowed the title of Viscount on people above the Saint Rank. Judging from the fact that the Tang family ranked in the top three, he must be a Half-King.

His wives, although appearing humble when talking to Neo, were actually in the same realm as Tang Jiao!

This meant that he would literally be having a fun night with big shots and his curse would be lifted as well.

He knew his Master had given him a task to sleep with Bernard's wife because it had moderate difficulty. Neo was aware that his Master considered that Neo may be unable to complete his first task and thus chose something relatively easy.

Neo was happy with the fact that his Master showed such care. But he also felt gleeful in his heart, knowing he would make his Master even more proud.

Neo considered sleeping with Mei Li and Niwa tonight a done deal, but his main target was still Bernard's wife. He wouldn't let her slip out of his grasp just because he managed to bag some other beautiful ladies. It was because the task his Master assigned him would only be completed after he slept with her.

A few minutes passed as Neo stood in his place, enjoying the party.

The people at the ball were notified by attendants that the main party would begin in an hour.

Hearing that made the nobles internally happy as they had more time to talk with each other and form connections.

Neo too was glad that there was still an hour remaining. He gulped down the wine in his hand and walked towards the Tang family to make his move.

Tang Jiao was standing in a corner with his two wives and they were talking to a few other nobles.

Neo approached a noble group close to them. He didn't directly go to Tang's wives as that wouldn't come appropriate. He stood just close enough such that he could signal Mei Li and Niwa without being discovered by Tang Jiao.

Neo stood close to the noblemen talking about politics and pretended to be interested in their chat. After standing there for a few minutes, he caught Niwa's eye.

Neo threw her a charming smile and subtly moved his neck toward the ladies' room in a secluded corner. He emptied the wine in his glass in one gulp and started walking towards the corner.

Niwa was not a young girl. She understood what Neo wanted, and her heart started racing at the thought of their soon-to-happen clandestine meeting.

"Ahem." Niwa cleared her throat in a bid to grab her husband's attention.

When Jiao turned to face her, Niwa whispered in his ears.

"Honey, I need to use the restroom. I'll be back in a while."

Jiao nodded and went back to chatting with the other nobles. He did not think anything of it.

The Noble ladies used the restroom quite frequently during parties. Not because they wanted to freshen up, but to fix their appearance, do light makeup, and other stuff.

Niwa then walked towards Mei Li and asked her to accompany her to the restroom.

Mei Li nodded, and she, too, notified Jiao about it.

Jiao again didn't think anything of it, as his two wives would mostly go together to the restroom.

Mei Li and Niwa smiled and excused themselves from other Nobles numerous times as they headed towards the ladies' room across the Ballroom. Then they waited for Neo to arrive here.

In a few minutes, Neo appeared, and as soon as he did, Niwa held his hand and quickly dragged him inside the restroom.

She then took him inside one of the many washrooms and shut the door.

Mei Li stood outside on guard and was on the lookout for people.

As soon as Neo was inside, he knew he had to make his move, or everything would be messed up.

The older ladies liked the young boys, but the majority loved it even more when the youngsters were dominant.

Keeping that in mind, Neo pulled Niwa close to him and slammed her back on the washroom's door.

Of course, it wasn't a hard slam, just a light one that wouldn't cause any pain to her.

Niwa was surprised by the sudden roughness, but before she could say or do anything, Neo pinned both her hands above her head and sealed her lips with his own.

Niwa widened her eyes in surprise. 'This youngster... isn't he too bold for a teenager!?'

Niwa had heard from her peers that the younger boys would usually need to be guided. She had no idea whether this was true or not, as she had never slept with a young lad, but it seemed that this boy here knew his stuff.

She was not at all disappointed with what was happening and let Neo take charge willingly.

She was having an affair behind her husband's back for the first time, and it excited her. The same was the case with Mei Li.

The reason she couldn't sleep with others was not just because her status was high, but her cultivation was too. She wouldn't want to sleep with any random person like that.

However, she found Neo to be the ideal partner she was looking for. Not only was he charming, but he also had a high cultivation base despite his youth.

She had a hunch just by looking at him, but when she shook his hand, her suspicions were confirmed. She had felt his bone age and also cultivation level during that short contact.

It was Niwa's first time having an affair behind her husband's back, so she was naturally a bit scared. But this only ended up causing her blood to pump faster and gave her more thrills.

Neo could feel that Niwa was getting nervous. With how much she was shaking, it was evident that it was definitely her first time doing it with someone other than her husband.

He was taught how to read the body language and the behavior of women by Ruben, and it wasn't difficult to notice.

While Niwa was trembling, half in fear and half in excitement, Neo didn't let her recover from it or give her time to reconsider her actions.

He slid his hand down in her robes and grazed his fingers on her soft labia.

As soon as Niwa felt such an attack, she trembled even further and tried to resist Neo.

Of course, she wasn't resisting him completely, but just enough to make it appear like she wasn't overly happy about the situation.

It made her feel less guilty this way.

As soon as Neo's hands were on her honeypot, he slid his two fingers inside her and rubbed her clit with his thumb. He started moving his hand, making Niwa tremble even more. She started to let out muffled moans in Neo's mouth.

Mei Li, standing outside, could hear the noises from the inside and also the bathroom door shaking. She blushed and couldn't help but walk towards the stall and say to the two:

"Keep it down you two. We'll be in trouble if someone hear— Whaa!"

Chapter 565 Mei Li And Niwa (2)*

Mei Li was shocked when she was suddenly pulled inside.

Before she could even respond to the shock, she felt a soft sensation on her lips, and a musky and wild scent assaulted her nose and mouth.

Mei Li widened her eyes in surprise like Niwa. When she looked at her kisser, she saw Neo's handsome face.

Mei Li got the shock of her life as she didn't even get a chance to rethink whether she was okay with having an affair with someone else. She was still thinking about her choice and wanted to see how Niwa would react before deciding to go through with it.

Unexpectedly, she was pulled in, and now it was too late for her to go back.

Since it was too late anyway, she decided to let go of her worries and enjoy herself.

Feeling shy, Mei Li closed her eyes to avoid looking at Neo. She tried to blend herself into the situation and didn't want to think of anything that might make her feel guilty.

Mei Li and Niwa only considered having an affair because of the gossip they heard from other Noble ladies. They had listened to them constantly blabber about how the young lads had a lot of vigor and stamina and could satisfy their itch.

The youth was youth and couldn't compare to their old husbands.

Other than that, Mei Li and Niwa did not get enough attention from their husband. While he seemed incredibly close to the two at the party, he did not bother to talk to them when they were at home.

He wouldn't even give them proper attention or meet them!

Mei Li and Niwa were fed up with it and were also sexually frustrated since it had been a long time since they were boned by their husband.

Though yes, they had plans to do stuff after this party when they went home, the two ladies couldn't resist Neo's charms.

Even from afar, Neo seemed like an odd one out.

Although Neo barely had above-average height, his demeanor, attitude, and overall way of presenting himself made the two ladies instantly fall head over heels for him.

It was to be noted that they were already influenced greatly by their peers, and Neo's charisma was the final thing that pushed them to have an affair.

Mei Li couldn't speak anything as she was left speechless. She had kissed someone other than her husband for the first time. She had acted like a mature, haughty lady when talking to Neo at the party. Yet, now her cover was washed away, and the real her was exposed in front of him.

The same was the case with Niwa.

Nobody except her husband had touched her secret garden before. Still, Neo didn't even ask her permission or hesitate before doing so.

Although Niwa and Mei Li both had the power to resist Neo, his slight touch made them feel a tingle all over their body.

His fingers, currently inside Niwa's warm cave, were making her tremble from pleasure. The pleasure was so intense that she couldn't even look at Mei Li, who was being kissed or complain to Neo for breaking the kiss with her.

Neo, the mastermind behind pulling the two ladies down towards the abyss, didn't take a break when he had Mei Li in his grasp. He kissed her while his right hand explored Niwa's soft and warm insides.

He moved his free hand from Mei Li's face to down near her dripping honeypot.

As Neo's hand reached the place where it was forbidden for any man to enter other than Jiao, Neo closed his eyes and thought in his mind:

'Seventh Movement: Dragon's Blaze'

Just as Neo thought of the words, his fingers moved deep inside Mei Li. The spell was activated with his fingers lodged deep inside her dripping pussy.

Like a dragon's roar at the heavens, an extremely thin red streak of pure fire elemental energy came out of his finger. It traversed all over Mei Li's body, making her eyes wide open with shock.

"MHHNMFFF!"

Mei Li's body shook intensely as she felt pleasure she had never felt before. It wasn't just her; even Niwa, who was beside her, was in the same condition.

Neo had not only cast a spell on Mei Li, but he had also cast it on Niwa.

The ladies were trembling from the pleasure they were feeling. They had gotten the shock of their lives when they found that some random handsome youngster they found at a party had skills that their husband couldn't even compare to!

Despite their immense shock, the party had only just started for Neo.

Neo, whose hands and mouth were busy, was feeling pleasure from the kiss and the warm sensation of his fingers from being inside the pussies of Mei Li and Niwa. His mind was constantly working on what more he could do to make his Master happier.

Neo was given many things to test by Lith, and these were all cultivation manuals and techniques from the Grand Lust Sovereign.

Things were too risky, and Lith didn't want to have any problems with his own ladies if he used it with them.

Grand Lust Sovereign was someone he had met randomly in an inheritance, and it was in the Astral World. Even he wasn't sure when things would come to bite him in the ass.

Thus, it was better to test things out first and be cautious than regret them later.

Neo was thus racking his brain on what spells and techniques he could use so that he could tell his Master that it was safe and okay to be used.

Finally, he got a few in his mind and decided to test them out.

Neo broke the kiss with Mei Li and looked her in the eyes.

Her eyes appeared hazy, and although she looked back at Neo, she wasn't in the right state of mind.

Neo turned to look at Niwa and saw that she was in a better condition than Mei Li.

'Strong woman.' Neo thought to himself.

Both Mei Li and Niwa were Half King Ranks, but Niwa was the stronger of the two.

Looking her in the eyes, Neo kept fingering the two and sent tiny stimulation of Destruction elemental energy into their bodies to increase their arousal.

Finally, Neo saw that Niwa's eyes were starting to roll back. The pussies of the two showed signs of intensely contracting, and Neo assumed they were about to orgasm.

'Second Movement: Fire Dragon's Fury.'

Immediately after thinking so, small shiny red dots came out of Neo's fingers. They covered the insides of Mei Li and Niwa, eventually making them extra sensitive to everything and feeling a bolt of electricity run through their entire body.

Neo fingered the two faster as they became highly sensitive to his fingers. The constant onslaught from Neo made the two's toes curl up, and their eyes roll back.

They shook intensely and moaned at the top of their lungs as if their lives depended on it.

Just a few seconds later, like a tide, the two squirted all over Neo's hands and made their lower region completely wet while having a shaking orgasm.

Neo supported the two by gripping them from down there. At the same time, they had an orgasm, and finally, when it subdued, he slowly took his fingers out, and the two slid down on the washroom's ground.

Neo cleaned his hands off with a handkerchief and calmly looked at the two ladies struggling to breathe and still out of their minds.

A minute later, Niwa recovered slightly and moved her eyes up to look at Neo, finding him looking back at her calmly.

"...just... what did you... do?"

Niwa mustered up some energy to ask this question.

Looking at her instead of answering, Neo said, "It seems you have recovered. Good, it's my turn now."

He then unzipped his pants, and as he lowered them down, Niwa's eyes widened once again, and she couldn't help but say,

"...no... w-wait..."

But was Neo going to wait? Of course not. He couldn't let this opportunity slide at any cost!

Neo held Niwa's hair and made her latch onto his big shaft.

Niwa's eyes widened once again as she realized that even after her mouth was full, only half of Neo's thing was inside her.

Neo, feeling half the thing has gone inside, thought in his mind:

'Eleventh Movement: Sloth's Serenity.'

The spell was cast, and Niwa, who was already very shocked, only had her shock intensify when she saw Neo push his thing further inside.

But what shocked her the most was that she could take everything in and wasn't gagging or feeling weird.

With eyes wide open, Niwa felt the entire length of Neo's thing in her mouth and throat.

She looked at him with a questioning look, feeling shocked, angry, and extremely surprised while yelling in her mind:

'WHAT THE FUCK!?!?'

Chapter 566 Curse Lifted*

Neo ignored Niwa's emotions and started rocking his hips back and forth, making his shaft slide in and out of her mouth.

There was nothing to worry about since Niwa could take it all in without any problem.

The technique Neo used was among the first few beginner-level manuals from the Grand Lust Sovereign's inheritance.

The first five movements focused on a woman's orgasm, the following five movements focused on the orgasm build-up, and the latter five on making a woman get comfortable with the cultivator.

There were many more, but in the first volume of the manual, only fifteen movements, along with an additional five that spoke about pure dual cultivation, were present.

Neo couldn't find anything other than that in his mind, as his Master hadn't shared it with him.

Lith didn't do so because he didn't have access to it. The inheritance he received was not complete. He would get the rest only if the curse was broken.

Thus, once Neo broke the curse, Lith would inherit it fully.

To break the curse, all Neo had to do was penetrate either Niwa or Mei Li below him. He could do it easily right now, but profiting for the short term in this situation would mean he would take a loss in the long term.

The more he made the two ladies depraved and hungry for him, the better they would be under his control. The better his relationship was with them, the better his footing in the Human noble hierarchy.

Thus, Neo didn't rush and took things slow.

At this point, Niwa had been blowing him for a good five minutes, but he didn't orgasm yet.

Neo's goal was to give Niwa a scent and taste of his thing and get her addicted to it. He could see that he was succeeding in his objective. Even after taking it out of her mouth, she was still licking it with her tongue.

Mei Li had recovered from her orgasm a few minutes back, and she was shocked again to see what was happening. But as she continued looking, she saw Niwa enjoying it. She could only wonder if she would feel the same if it was in her mouth.

Previously, she had experienced the same thing as Niwa and knew how good and blissful it felt. Thus, she was now anticipating her own time with Neo.

Neo didn't disappoint her and put his shaft in her mouth, eventually having her blow him.

Just like he had done to Niwa, Neo didn't cum in Mei Li's mouth and took his shaft out after giving her a taste.

The two ladies were frustrated as five minutes was too short of a time. They were only starting to enjoy it when Neo took it away.

Neo made the two get up, and Mei Li couldn't help but protest, "Why take it away?"

Neo, retaining his calmness, said, "Because there are a few things I need to discuss with you two."

Niwa knitted her brows and said, "All things can be discussed later. The party will begin soon, we need to finish up and leave. Better save yourself from the talk now and enjoy the things happening."

Neo nodded his head. "That's right, the party will begin soon, so hear me out first and get it done with."

Mei Li and Niwa knitted their brows again. Neo wouldn't proceed without discussing things with them.

Neo continued, "I want you two to help me get the girls from the House of Jia and House of Ye. It's fine if they don't want to hook up with me right now. Just set a date and have them be around me during the party. Can you two do it?"

Mei Li and Niwa may seem like horny and desperate cougars, but they were actually big shots. Things such as setting him up with those two girls were easy for them since Jia house and Ye house were both beneath them in the hierarchy.

"Pfft. Just this? Consider it done. Now can we begin?" Mei Li said, and Niwa nodded her head in agreement.

Now that the deal was done, Neo also agreed and began with the next step.

It was time to finally unlock the full inheritance of Grand Lust Sovereign!

Neo held Mei Li by her waist and turned her around. He pulled her robes up and looked at her big smooth butt and the folds between her thick thighs.

That whole area down there was wet, a proof of what had transpired a few minutes back.

Mei Li was surprised by how easily she was turned around, but she didn't resist Neo anymore. She knew whatever he did, it would only please her more.

Niwa, as she looked at Mei Li's private areas, couldn't help but wonder if hers was in the same condition or if it was even worse than this.

Suddenly, Neo put his hand inside Niwa's robes again. This time he groped her butt and once again lodged his fingers inside her. But it was from behind this time and gripped Niwa properly.

Niwa was surprised and couldn't help but look at Neo's face, wondering what he was up to now.

Neo brought Niwa close to him and whispered in her ears to watch him closely.

Niwa nodded, and Neo made her hold his shaft. He then had her help him aim his shaft properly in Mei Li's forbidden entrance, and finally, as his tip touched Mei Li's folds, Mei Li's body shook.

Mei Li was trembling due to the sheer pleasure she felt combined with the guilt.

The guilt of cheating on her husband as well as the pleasure coming from having such a young cock in her.

She was anticipating things so much that she couldn't help but start drooling from her flower down there.

Neo ignored it all, and as soon as it was aimed properly, he thrust his hips with force and...

*

[Ding!]

[Grand Lust Sovereign's inheritance is fully unlocked!]

"Hmm?" Lith, who was in the midst of checking clothes, suddenly got a notification in his mind.

Hearing him say something, Luna, sitting on the sofa in front of him, couldn't help but ask,

"Is something the matter, Your Highness?"

Lith shook his head and closed his eyes to see what was up.

A few minutes later, he opened his eyes and...

"HAHAHAHA!"

Lith started laughing like a maniac.

"THAT MADMAN!"

"HAHAHAHA!"

Lith held his belly and continued to laugh like a maniac, making Luna, who was on the sofa, stand up and look at him with concern.

Luna, although concerned with Lith laughing like that out of nowhere, didn't stop him as she could see he was laughing his heart out. It seemed very natural, and her Prince didn't seem to be in any trouble of any sort. Thus, she didn't do anything and stood there, waiting for him to say something to her.

Lith continued to laugh for a solid five minutes as the situation felt too funny.

Neo had utterly exceeded all of his expectations. Not only did he unlock the inheritance, but he also ended up scoring beauties from a top Viscount powerhouse. He formed connections inside the Human race without even needing to ask him to do that.

Neo had played his cards correctly. Who would've thought that Lith, who had sent Neo out on a mission to NTR, a small Baron, ended up cuckolding a top Viscount of a Main race!

Neo not only did that, he even had the balls to stop those two kittens in heat from coitus and make them agree to his arrangements.

Everything felt so funny to Lith that he couldn't help but laugh. He didn't know that his avatar would go to such great lengths for him.

When Lith had stopped laughing, he still had a silly smile on his face.

He closed his eyes again and continued to look deeply at Neo's actions since everything was too interesting for him.

After a few minutes, when he was done looking at everything, Lith couldn't help but whistle and say, "Hot damn! My dude is an overachiever!"

Indeed, Neo, just to make his Master happy, went to such great lengths and achieved so much. Lith could read Neo's thoughts and see everything he was doing.

He had a system to help manage his avatars, but it only acted as a secondary support.

The primary connection of Lith with Neo was still in Lith's Mind Sea.

Through his Mind Sea, he knew everything Neo was thinking.

Lith was pleased his avatar turned out to be so caring and obedient. He made a mental note to reward that guy when he saw him next time.

'He did all that to test things so I won't suffer. What a mad lad. Well, now that he did test it for me, and since it's safe, I should honor him by using those things.'

After thinking so, Lith made a command in his mind.

'System, send a message to Neo. The message is:

Good job, Neo. I am really proud of you.'

[Sending...]

[Sent!]

Lith opened his eyes after it was done and smiled.

He then walked toward Luna, still dressed only in his underwear. He grabbed her by the waist and looked deeply into her eyes.

With the smile still on, Lith asked Luna, "I want to do a few things, Luna. Can I?"

Chapter 567 Lith Loves Luna*

As Luna heard Lith, she couldn't help but say with a sigh, "Your Highness, why don't you understand...."

"Hmm?" Lith didn't get what Luna was trying to say.

Luna looked him in the eyes and continued, "I love you, Qingyue loves you, Freya loves, all the maids love you. Even the butlers love you, of course not in a romantic way, but yes, everyone loves you. Why must you be so polite to us like this?"

"You know, you'll cause some maids and butlers to be depressed for a good while if you ask them for their permission. They'll think what wrong did they do to have the Prince be so formal and polite to them. They will constantly wonder why the Prince doesn't just order them around and act overbearing."

Luna lectured Lith because she was frustrated with him being so polite to her and everyone else. He was the Prince! Did he not know?

Lith could always do whatever he wanted with the servants. He didn't even need to ask for Luna's permission to do anything he wanted to her. For all she knew, her Prince could simply bend her over, take her panties off, and do whatever in the world he wanted.

Luna was aware that the Prince loved the servants just as much as they loved him and was polite with them for this reason. But it was high time he learned stuff and started acting like the royalty he was.

Although the servants loved it when Lith was so nice to them, they all internally wanted to be commanded by Lith. They would love him even more if he became a bit less polite and ordered them around.

Luna explained for a good few minutes to Lith why he mustn't be so polite while being held in his embrace.

Lith didn't interrupt and listened to her complaints by having her in his arms.

After she was done, he smiled and pinched her nose. "It seems even being a nice person is a problem."

Luna nodded. It indeed was.

Lith chuckled. He left Luna's nose and said, "I'll see what needs to be done. Anyway, that aside...."

Lith pulled Luna closer in his embrace. He moved his hands behind her. He moved them under her skirt, and groped her big peaches tightly.

"...it's about time I test things and learn." Lith said softly to Luna.

He then moved his face close to hers and was about to kiss her. But instead of kissing, Lith put Luna's lower lip in between his own and sucked on them.

Luna looked at Lith with surprise. If Lith didn't know, this was Luna's first kiss with him. But other than that, she started feeling happy as Lith was doing as he pleased with her.

It was better this way. He had no need to ask for her permission and could do as he pleased. Luna just hoped Lith continued this same thing with other maids as well.

Groping Luna's big butt, Lith moved one of his hands toward her secret garden from behind. When he reached her nethers, his fingers touched the soft fleshy folds, which surprised him.

Lith let go of Luna's lip and looked her in the eyes. He couldn't help but ask, "You aren't wearing panties?"

Luna smiled upon hearing that. "Of course, Your Highness. A good maid must always be prepared to serve her master anytime he wants."

Lith smiled and shook his head. His personal maid was too good at her job.

"When did you take them off?" He asked, looking back at her.

"After we left the throne room." Luna answered without even thinking.

Lith raised an eyebrow. "You've been commando ever since?"

Luna nodded. "Of course, what if His Highness feels like doing it in a hallway or maybe near the pond or some other place while on the way? I have to be prepared for it."

Lith facepalmed. "Oh my... what if there was a breeze while we were talking with Miss Hecate or Qingyue?"

Luna chuckled. "It wouldn't be a problem since the skirt won't be lifted anyway. Everything is under control, Your Highness. You needn't worry."

'My maid sure is wild.' Lith thought to himself and smiled. He then shoved aside this topic and returned to doing what he was doing.

He kissed Luna back, and his hand kneaded her big perky peaches. His other hand went towards her fleshy folds to finger her.

Lith rubbed his two fingers all over Luna's folds to feel their softness, but as he did that and went beyond, his fingers grazed on her pubic hair, and he felt a slightly rough texture.

It wasn't bad. In fact, it felt rather good.

His ladies didn't have pubic hair down there. He would be lying if he said he only liked it without hair, as hairy pussies also turned him on just as much. He just couldn't decide which one he wanted the most yet.

It had been a long time since Lith saw Luna nude, but as far as he remembered, she had a well-trimmed brush down there, which looked really sexy on her.

He could confirm his memories by distancing himself from Luna a bit and looking at her. Still, he didn't do so, as he would have her naked in a few minutes anyway.

Luna felt overjoyed after being caressed and kissed by her Prince. She finally had some use for her Prince, and being intimate with him made her feel that she was also close to him.

Being a good maid, Luna took off the final piece of clothing from Lith's body and started stroking his semi-erect shaft.

Lith didn't mind it and let her continue it. Her cold hands brought a pleasant sensation down there. He stopped caressing her pussy as she stroked his shaft and shoved his two fingers inside her to pleasure her.

Luna was well lubricated from the inside, and his fingers easily moved in.

Lith then started moving his fingers in and out of her, and while doing so, he stopped groping her butt with his other hand and pushed it upwards to untie the knots of her uniform.

Luna's uniform was off the next second as Lith untied all knots. Her big breasts popped out in the open, making it evident that she hadn't been wearing any bra before.

Luna's breasts were even bigger than Lilith's and were definitely the biggest pair Lith had come across to date.

Luna was now naked like Lith and was still in his embrace, getting fingered by him.

After sliding his fingers in and out for a while, Lith felt it was about time he started using the techniques.

Lith broke the kiss with Luna and, looking her in the eyes, he intensely shook his hands down there and thought in his mind:

'Seventh Movement: Dragon's Blaze.'

Immediately, a thin purple streak of pure Lightning elemental energy appeared out of Lith's finger and traversed through Luna's body from down there.

Luna shook from the surprise Lith just gave her and couldn't help but look at him.

Lith smiled as he saw her reaction. "Felt good?"

"It did, it did. What did you do, Your Highness?" As Luna said, it brought a wave of pleasure for a split second in her and caused her to feel real good. She wanted to experience that feeling again and she asked about it immediately after.

"Secret. Haha!" Lith laughed while continuing to finger Luna.

Luna pouted in response but didn't pester Lith to say it.

Lith chuckled at her cute reaction, and for the next half an hour, he used many other techniques regarding pleasing women from the manual he had with him.

Luna's cultivation far surpassed Lith yet, yet his constant attacks made her helpless in face of the incoming waves of pleasure. Her legs gave in as she orgasmed multiple times from his techniques.

Lith had to hug her in his embrace tightly as her legs gave in, and just like Niwa and Mei Li, Luna had also succumbed to pleasure.

The tests were successful and Lith didn't even need to know that these techniques from the inheritance were good.

As Neo had tested them before, they were also safe.

However, despite being safe, Lith wouldn't use the technique Neo hadn't tested directly on his near and dear ones. He didn't want even a tiny problem to occur.

Thus, he would first use the techniques on his maids and see if there were any more problems.

He was following this procedure to keep his wives safe from any harm. He didn't want to take even a slight risk if it meant it would put them in harm's way.

Although it was a bit sad knowing the maids were his second line of defense for his wives, it was what it was. But one good thing about this was Lith didn't make it unfair for the maids.

Even though he might put the maids at risk of being harmed, he, too, was involved in this experimental procedure.

So it went both ways and was fair.

But of course, putting the maids in this, Lith had in mind what he could do to reward them later to thank them for all of this.

Currently, he had sex with only one maid of the hundred and fifty in total. More was to come in the future, but that was the future, and Lith was still deciding whether to continue only with Luna or take everyone in this.

He already had five ladies in his harem, and he knew it would only expand further.

But to expand or to keep it in check, it was in Lith's control, and thus he had to think twice before falling into the path of debauchery.

In any case, it was a matter that could be dealt with some other day.

Coming back to the current situation, Lith went towards the sofa with Luna in his embrace.

He made her rest on it and sat beside her to wait for her to recover.

While she rested, he checked for his clothes again, as he hadn't selected them yet and became a bit busy with it.

Chapter 568 A Prince Must Never Falter From His Duties!**

A few minutes passed, and Lith saw Luna had almost recovered and was ready for another round.

At first, he was surprised to know that he could end up putting her in such a state, but then he realized that she may have suppressed her cultivation and thus ended up like this.

Fully naked, Lith moved on top of Luna and hovered above her body, resting on the sofa. His face and body were just a mere inch above Luna's, and he waited for her to get up in this position.

As Luna woke up, she saw Lith's handsome face in a close-up. She was surprised by it, but before she could react, Lith asked with a smile,

"Recovered?"

Luna nodded her head lightly in response.

After hearing it, Lith didn't waste time and lightly pecked her juicy lips. He then moved down and kissed her neck, squeezed her big tits, and sucked on both her nipples simultaneously for a few seconds.

Lith then backed off and put himself in a missionary position in front of Luna. He lightly slapped her pussy, causing her body to jerk in response.

Lith then put her legs above his shoulder and rubbed his shaft along Luna's folds to lubricate it. Once done, Lith positioned it right in front of her entrance.

Lith looked Luna in the eyes, and she looked back, her eyes showing how much she anticipated being filled to the brim by Lith.

As for Lith, he thought in his mind: 'Sixteenth Movement: War Gong.'

Right in the next instant, he penetrated her tight insides with one powerful thrust and hit Luna's deepest spot.

"OHHH!"

Luna's body jerked, and she moaned loudly, never having experienced such a thing.

Keeping the momentum going, Lith rocked his hips back and forth rapidly and fell forwards, lying above Luna in a planche while continuing to thrust in and out of her.

Luna felt pleasure she had never experienced before. It was shown by how her insides tightened as she became more and more turned on.

Lith felt something extraordinarily soft and slippery squeeze and crush his dick between it. This feeling was heavenly; if he didn't have better control of himself, he would've already climaxed.

Lith peered into Luna's eyes as his face was above hers. While doing so, his big shaft repeatedly hit her womb's entrance again and again.

Luna couldn't look back at Lith as she was far too busy moaning. The pleasure she felt now was different than what she felt during the marriage ceremonies.

Something had changed in her Prince, and although she didn't know what it was, she was delighted to see him improve by leaps and bounds.

Her mind clouded with nothing but pleasure, Luna moaned and wished for her Prince to prosper even further.

Her moans reverberated in Lith's ears as a beautiful melody and caused him to fuck her with more vigor.

A few minutes later, he moved down to stimulate Luna even further.

Watching her big breasts jiggle intensely along the rhythm of her shaking body, Lith was tempted to slap them. He did just that and provoked a few louder moans from Luna.

He knew she liked things rough. So, he did not stay his hand.

The best part about doing it in missionary was that Lith had access to the entire front. He could play with her soft and big jiggly boobs as much as he wanted.

Lith kneaded one of Luna's breasts and sucked the nipple of the other. He bit onto the nipple and pulled it while groping her other tit hard.

"Ahhhh!"

Luna moaned loudly once again. Her voice clearly made Lith hear how much she loved whatever he was doing to her.

Luna's face had become bright red from orgasmic euphoria. She had to remove the suppression from her body, or she might've fallen unconscious due to the tremendous pleasure.

Lith could feel the changes in Luna as she took away the suppression, which made him smile in response.

Since she took away the suppression, Lith had even more free reign on what he could do to her.

Lith pulled back, and while his cock was still inside Luna's pussy, he made her get on all fours.

Being in a doggy style now, the first thing that Lith did, apart from thrusting in her, was...

PAH!

"OH!"

PAH! PAH! PAH!

"Ahhh!~"

Due to moaning so much, Luna's tongue was out now, and she was making what people called an ahegao face.

'I love His Highness so much!' Luna's clouded mind was having nothing but Lith's thoughts all over.

"Ahhh!~ More! Give me more, Your Highness!" Luna moaned loudly.

Lith chuckled. Of course. If he didn't give what his maid asked, then he wouldn't be a good Prince, would he?

A Prince must never falter from his duties!

PAH! PAH! PAH!

Lith handed out another round of spanking to Luna, making her beautifully pale ass cheek turn into a shade of cherry red, with his handprints lying all over them.

Luna moaned loudly once again, and Lith, looking at Luna's red behind, couldn't help but think:

'Damn, it's for the first time that I am this rough. However...'

'It looks so beautiful!'

Lith couldn't help but comment as her pink puckered butthole and red ass cheeks with his handprints on them came into his view.

This ended up causing him to be more aroused and he thrust in and out of her wet slippery folds harder, making his shaft hit her even deeper.

He used to feel that the doggy style wasn't the best position because he couldn't kiss or play with his lady's titties, but then... This view... It was totally worth doing it just for this view.

Lith found the view so beautiful that his mind couldn't help but have some naughty thoughts about it.

He smiled widely as something struck him, and Lith immediately took out his phone from his space ring.

While continuing to fuck Luna from behind, he positioned the phone to take a picture of him doing her from behind and ensured that her beautiful red ass cheeks were fully displayed.

Snap!

Lith took a photo of it and then positioned his phone to take a selfie of himself while doing a thumbs-up sign.

Snap!

After taking those two pictures, Lith laughed and sent those two pictures to a certain someone along with a text.

He then got back to spanking Luna and doing her doggy style.

Royal Court.

Inside the court of the world's most powerful being, a Witch Queen was standing in the presence of the strongest being herself.

The two were discussing a few things related to world politics, and it was a serious conversation going on when...

Ding!

"Hmm?" Lilith's attention was shifted from the conversation to the disturbance that happened.

Her phone had just chimed, and she knew it must be from one of her babies. Which baby it was, she didn't know and had to check.

Lilith gestured to Hecate to pause what she was saying and took out her phone to see who had texted her.

Her babies were her top priority, no matter her situation. Everyone else's messages would be ignored if she was in the middle of something important but not her children's.

Hecate stopped talking and wondered why she was prevented from discussing an important issue that could affect the lives of many in the world.

Lilith, taking out her phone and opening it, immediately saw a message from her son.

Wondering what it was, she opened it. And in the next second...

"BWAHAHAHAHA!"

Lilith laughed like there was no tomorrow, making not only Hecate, but Qingyue, her personal maid standing behind her feeling concerned for her sudden change in mood.

Lilith, for the first time in her life, was genuinely laughing so much that a drop of tear leaked from her eyes.

Her laughter echoed all throughout the mighty court and after a good five minutes of laughing her heart out, Lilith looked behind her and said:

"Hahaha! Qingyue... Haha... come here, let me show you something."

Qingyue blinked twice, wondering what made her Madam say that.

But she didn't question her and did as she was told to.

Qingyue walked towards Lilith and when she was there, Lilith showed her phone, what Lith had texted Lilith to be precise.

There were two pictures in his text.

One picture was him doing someone from behind and his handprints being clearly marked on the lady he was doing.

Beneath that Lith wrote: 'The Art.'

Below that was again a picture, but this time it was him in a selfie, showing a thumbs-up.

Beneath that he wrote: 'The Artist.'

"Pfft!" Qingyue burst out like Lilith as well when she saw that. Just like her, she too started laughing.

Lilith joined Qingyue and the Maid and the Master both laughed for another five minutes.

As they did so, being in the dark from all things, the poor Witch Queen was left wondering what was happening.

Witches, beings who were termed to be the most greedy in the world, always valued profits.

The Witch Queen Hecate was also pushing for her profit during the current conversation while also ensuring that the world politics were discussed properly.

But she was currently stopped and even though it was a sad thing, the greedy witch thought to herself,

'Although Her Majesty is making me wait like this, looking at her laugh so heartily, it also warms my heart. Hmm... my profits can wait for a while, I guess. I should also enjoy this nice warm company I am having with Her Majesty and her maid.'

Chapter 569 Qingyue Rivals Luna**

A while later, their laughter finally subsided. Lilith looked at Hecate and said, "Take a stroll for a few minutes and ponder over the things we have just discussed. I'll get back to you."

Hecate nodded her head and left after bowing. There wasn't anything she could say to retort the Queen, could she?

After she was gone, Lilith turned to face Qingyue and said with a smirk, "Qingyue, stand in front of me."

Qingyue did as she was asked without any hesitation.

Lilith looked at her from head to toe and then swirled her finger. "Turn around now."

Qingyue did as commanded, a bit confused.

Lilith then gazed at Qingyue's butt and said, "Hmm... this looks good too."

'What is Madam thinking...' Qingyue couldn't help but wonder. She had no idea what was happening.

Just a few seconds ago, she and her Madam were laughing heartily. But now, she couldn't understand her Madam's actions.

"I need a better look. Alright, Qingyue, lift your skirt, panties off, and bend over." Lilith commanded.

Qingyue nodded and did as she was asked to. She felt shy about getting naked like this, and her face turned red. She didn't hate it, but this didn't mean she couldn't feel shy to do something like this.

Qingyue was still an inexperienced maid who had a lot to learn and achieve the shameless levels that her Madam's previous maid had.

Trying to suppress her embarrassment, as Qingyue took her panties off and lifted her skirt, her big perky peaches came into Lilith's view. At the same time, her pink slits seemed as if they were being crushed by her thick thighs and were forced to hide behind her curves.

Lilith smiled as she saw that. She opened the picture of Luna that Lith sent and put it in front of her to compare it with Qingyue.

"Looks good. You know, Qingyue, you should join those two sometimes." Lilith chuckled after saying so.

Qingyue's face flushed as she heard that. She could tell what her Madam was saying. But she didn't dwell much on it and tried to calmly stay in front of her Madam, trying not to let her shyness get the better of her and make her tremble.

Lilith texted Lith with laughing emojis and put her phone back in her ring.

She then lightly hit Qingyue's butt and watched them jiggle. "I am sure my baby will be even happier to play with these two."

She hit her peaches again and watched both of them jiggle.

Qingyue's face flushed in embarrassment, but she once again didn't say anything. For a second, she thought, 'Will His Highness really be happier?'

Qingyue always had a bit of insecurity, knowing her breasts were smaller than average as compared to the other maids. But she also knew her butt was definitely among the best out there.

It rivaled even Luna's, who had thick and almost perfect curves among all the other maids.

Being told that her Prince would love it eventually boosted Qingyue's confidence further. She couldn't help but smile and be proud, completely forgetting her position.

Lilith chuckled as she knew what face Qingyue was making right now. Her goal was achieved.

She wanted to make Qingyue less insecure about herself. It didn't really suit the Queen's maid to doubt herself like this.

Lilith having texted her 'that' gave Lilith a good opportunity to hook Qingyue with her son and boost her confidence and make her a better maid.

Qingyue needed a bit of time to become as perfect as Luna, and Lilith knew she had to train her properly for that.

In any case, it'll require time, and Lilith had just started with it.

Lilith hit Qingyue's butt lightly once again and said, "You can go and invite Hecate back in now."

Qingyue got up and nodded. She bowed and was about to leave to call Hecate back in when,

"I think you should wear these before leaving the room." Lilith said calmly.

Qingyue turned back, only to see Lilith holding her panties.

Qingyue's face flushed again. "I-I am sorry, I'll be more careful next time."

She took the panties from Lilith and said with a bow.

She quickly put it on and left.

Lilith chuckled and rested her chin on her hand, waiting for Hecate to return. She liked these minor shenanigans of her son, but now it was time to get back to work.

"Ahh... harder... Your Highness... Ahhh!~"

Luna was having the time of her life. She was in sex heaven, with Lith holding her hands behind her and ramming his hips onto her with as much intensity as he could.

He applied various spells from the inheritance while doing her in doggy style. It worked wonders as she was now roaming atop cloud nine with no signs of coming down anytime soon.

Lith pounded her for three hours straight, making her climax many times in the meantime and himself doing the same.

He enjoyed his time together with Luna while testing out the various spells. Thankfully, there were no side effects from anything in the inheritance, and everything was chill and fun.

Lith shot his load one final time in Luna and then lay on the sofa. His shaft was still lodged inside her and he made her rest on top of him in this manner.

A few hours from now, Lith knew that the Royal Banquet would start, and he would need to leave. Thus, now that he had some time with him, he rested and prepared himself for the upcoming event.

Meanwhile, as Lith rested peacefully in his bedroom, the same wasn't the case with the entire Vampire Continent.

The vampires were in an uproar after being notified of a major event happening in just a few hours. Moreover, all the nobles were invited to Evernight City, the capital, to attend the event.

Many commoners and lesser nobles had already started making their way toward Evernight City, and things had become heated in the Vampire Continent.

News of this spread worldwide, as it wasn't every day that an entire Main race was involved in something hot like this.

While most of the world was discussing the important news regarding the Vampires, in other parts, a few people were facing their own problems...

"Your Majesty, please understand... Having my grandson work under me would only result in more productivity." A middle-aged man with long pointy ears, sitting across a long rectangular table, said to the person sitting at the other end.

"Those people are always against whatever decisions I am trying to make. Do they think they know better than me and can make better decisions? Me, an Emperor Rank High Elf?"

"No offense, Your Majesty, but this new system of conduct is really not working. We should scrap it and return to the previous one where nobility ruled. Those lesser elves debate any and every decision a hundred times, and nothing gets done quickly."

The middle-aged man, calling himself an Emperor Rank High Elf, sat quietly and waited to hear the response of the person sitting across the table.

Across the table, a ray of light shone through the window directly onto the majestic being sitting there.

The golden rays of light blended with the blonde hair of the mature lady with pointy ears. She wore a green flower tiara on her head and was in exquisite and finely designed white robes.

Her looks, clothing, and demeanor still paled compared to the aura she was letting out.

Her fingers were interlocked together, and she rested her chin on them. Her emerald-like green eyes were looking down. She didn't even lift her head and make eye contact with the man sitting across the table.

She appeared calm, but the aura she radiated made the man sweat in fear. The reason for that was one, she was very strong, and two, she was the Elven Royalty — the Elven Queen herself!

Without looking at the man, the Elven Queen, Agalea Grace, asked calmly,

"Are you done, Elaith?"

Elaith, the Emperor Rank High Elf, felt cold sweat drench his back after hearing the regal voice of the Queen. Although she appeared really calm, he felt as if he was sitting on the edge of a blade that could slice his whole being at any given moment.

"Yes, Your Majesty." Elaith, feeling afraid, still tried his best to remain calm and said.

Agalea then said, "Good. You can leave now."

"But, Your Maj—"

"Elaith." Agalea looked straight into Elaith's eyes and peered right into his soul, making him feel a chill again.

"I told you and everyone else to drop this decision a while back, didn't I? This same topic has been dealt with ten times already. This is the eleventh time now. I allow you and everyone else to question me doesn't mean the fact that you can bring it up every damn time."

"I'll say this once, consider it your and everyone's last and final warning...."

Agalea leaned forwards and, having a cold glint in her green eyes, said, "Don't take my kindness for granted. If you do, then be prepared for the consequences that'll follow."

Elaith's body trembled. He couldn't sit still in his seat anymore and immediately got up. Bowing to a full ninety degrees, Elaith apologized and said it'll never happen again.

He then excused himself and left the room as fast as he could.

Finally, when he was gone, a blue-haired elf, standing behind Agalea, walked towards her and said softly, "Your Majesty...."

Agalea leaned back on her chair and feeling exhausted, closed her eyes and said, "What now, Jasmine? I am in no mood to attend more meetings. Ask them all to come back later."

Jasmine, Agalea's chief aide, shook her head and said, "No, that's not what I am talking about, Your Majesty. What I want to say is..."

"...Her Highness ran away."

Hearing that, Agalea immediately had Jasmine's attention. She quickly sat erect and, knitting her brows, tilted her head and asked,

"Again?"

"Again."

Chapter 570 Agalea, Alea, And Jasmine

"Hmm mhm hmMh~ mmh~"

A beautiful blonde-haired, emerald green-eyed young girl with pointy ears, wearing white robes with golden edges, hummed a song while moving through a forest.

Her eyes were looking up at the sky as she slowly hopped her way through the forest while humming her favourite song.

While the girl was lost in her own world, two people were slowly following her from behind and spying on her.

The two people were currently hiding behind a tree and peeping at her. They ensured that they stayed hidden, but if someone were to look at them, they would appear as if they were upto no good.

Looking like creepy stalkers, one of the two softly spoke to the other, saying:

"Jasmine... What do you think she's doing?"

The other person, wearing glasses, nudged it up slightly and said, as if they were a know-it-all:

"I have no idea, Your Majesty."

The two people conversing and stalking the beautiful young girl were none other than the Elven Queen Agalea Grace and her chief aide Jasmine.

Agalea and Jasmine had left the castle as soon as they found out that the Princess ran away. It didn't take them long to find her as: one, the Princess hadn't gone too far away, and two, Agalea was a Supreme Rank.

Being a Supreme Rank, Agalea could easily look at the entire continent by just staying in one place and could locate anyone anywhere easily.

After her daughter, aka Alea Grace, was located, she immediately rushed to her side. Alea wasn't far from the castle when she was found and to see what made her leave the castle, Agalea and Jasmine were now following her.

Agalea, looking at Jasmine, sighed and said, "Even you can't tell?"

Jasmine turned to look at Agalea and, nudging her glasses once again, said, "Your Majesty, with all due respect... Shouldn't you know more about the Princess than me?"

Agalea, looking at Alea, replied calmly without looking at Jasmine, "We both have raised my little Alea together. I do know about her, but you being her nanny should know how her behaviour is, right?"

Jasmine shifted her attention from Agalea to Alea as she heard that.

Now looking at Alea, who apparently got a flower basket in her hands from who knows where, was throwing flowers as she walked through the forest and was smiling and saying 'Yay!' with each throw.

Jasmine couldn't help but reply to Agalea by looking at that, "honestly, Your Majesty, even after seven hundred years I have no idea how the Princess's mind works. She does things too randomly and there's no clear pattern to her behaviour."

Agalea nodded. "True."

Jasmine nodded too and continued, "You can see it from the current situation itself. When we found the Princess out of the castle, she somehow managed to go past all the guards and was looking down on the ground as she walked."

Jasmine turned to face Agalea again and said in a neutral tone, "She was following an ant."

Agalea couldn't help but cover her face and giggle. "Isn't my Alea cute?"

Jasmine turned to look at Alea again and finding that she had distanced herself a bit, moved to another tree in front. Agalea did the same.

Jasmine then continued, looking at Alea, "Her Highness then saw a bird in the sky and started following it while humming the song from the anime she last saw. But now..."

Jasmine nudged her glasses.

"...Now from who knows where, she has a flower basket in her hand and is throwing flowers."

Agalea smiled and replied, "At least she seems happy."

"That's true. But then again, Her Highness is hardly ever sad."

The Queen and her aide continued to talk about the Princess while walking through the forest.

The chief aide and the Queen had a close relationship. When they were in private, Jasmine would usually speak whatever was on her mind without filtering or sugar coating things.

Jasmine's relationship with Agalea went long back, even before she became the Queen and governed over the entire Elven race and continent.

Being through thick and thin together, it was obvious that they shared a good bond and their bond only deepened further after Alea's birth.

Even though they were a master-servant pair, it hardly was like that as apart from being subservient to Agalea, Jasmine did things like what every little sister would ever do with her older sister.

Agalea never really thought about things so deeply and usually let Jasmine do stuff however she saw fit. She was a busy lady whose day was spent either looking after her daughter or after the well being of her people and empire.

Agalea and Jasmine, while continuing to follow Alea, finally stopped when they saw Alea stop.

Alea was standing at the edge of a lake and gazing at it with a smile, what was going in her mind was unknown.

"Any guesses what she'll do, Your Majesty?" Jasmine asked, looking at Agalea.

Agalea narrowed her eyes, ensuring to properly look at Alea, and said, "She'll probably go into the waters."

Jasmine was about to ask how she was so sure about it when she turned to look at Alea and saw her stripping down.

"Oh my..." Jasmine couldn't help but say. "Is Her Highness really going to enter those waters?"

"Seems like it." Agalea said flatly.

"That lake is infested with poisonous beasts and deadly creatures. All being of Tier 9 and above. Does Her Highness not know?" Jasmine questioned.

Agalea looked at Jasmine and asked with a curious expression, "Since when was this lake so dangerous?"

"The World Tree was getting saturated so the authorities decided to take some out and put them in the lakes. These beasts, being in a favourable environment, bred rapidly and the whole lake is too dangerous for anyone below Rank 9 to enter."

"Oh, I see. But I guess my dear will be fine since she's a Half King Rank." Although Agalea said that, she wasn't really sure of her own words.

Jasmine couldn't help but look at her and say, "Your Majesty, are you perhaps forgetting what happened to Her Highness in the past?"

Agalea couldn't help but smile awkwardly. "She was killed, right?"

Jasmine nodded. "Thrice."

"Phew, just three—"

"In the last month."

"..."

Agalea facepalmed. She was speechless when she heard that. She took her eyes off her daughter for just a while and this happened!?

"How did that even— well, nevermind. Brief me about it later." Agalea quickly rushed towards Alea after saying so.

Alea, who was now in just her bra and panties, was about to dive into the lake when she felt someone wrap their arms around her waist and pull her up in the air.

Alea let out a surprised yelp and was about to go in all defensive mode when she felt the warmth of a familiar embrace and put her whole guard down after hearing a familiar voice, saying,

"What are you trying to do, my dear?"

"Mama?"
