

Vampire's Slice Of Life

Chapter 61: Ladies Reunite

Empress' Castle, Star Dragon city.

On a floating island in the middle of the Star Dragon city, there stood a high and mighty gold and silver castle. From the ground below, it looked as if it would pierce the sky. The castle was very big and the island itself was at a very high altitude. The floating island covered an area of a million km² in the sky and the castle occupied half of it.

This castle was the resting place of the Star Dragon or more popularly, the Dragon Empress, Mayzin.

Inside the castle was a big treasury which had many gold coins, ornaments, gemstones, amethysts, high ranking magic artifacts and many more such expensive treasures. They were not placed in an organised way in the treasury and it piled up to become many treasure mountains. The biggest mountain was more than a kilometer long and it was around 700 meters wide. There were many small mountains surrounding it.

On the biggest mountain of treasures rested a Dark Dragon with purple scales. It had many bright small stars revolving around it and those stars lit up the dark treasure room and illuminated it brightly along with the reflection from the gold and silver treasures. This Dark Dragon was not too huge, nor too small and was at a size that would be able to sleep atop the treasure mountain easily.

The Dark Dragon was Mayzin and she was still a bit sleepy. Mayzin had been asleep for thirteen years. She met Lilith when she gave birth to Lith and then she came home and slept and didn't wake up until Lilith called. Mayzin flew up and transformed into her human form.

She had fair skin, purple hair, black eyes and she was pretty tall, around 190 cm. She was the same height as that of Lucifer. There were two majestic black horns protruding from her forehead and they had certain engravings on it. There were many stars engraved around those engravings and it fit her identity as a Star Dragon well. She was a Supreme rank with an affinity of Space, Darkness and Lightning element. She got her title as Star Dragon due to her Space and Darkness elemental affinity.

Mayzin only got forwarded calls on her phone. Meaning, she would only get a call when her subordinates forward it to her phone and wake her up. She had instructed them to not forward any call and tell those who called her that she was sleeping. The only exception was Lilith. Lilith's call was a priority and would be forwarded to her if she called. Thus, last time when Lucifer called Mayzin, Mayzin's subordinate had told her that she was sleeping and couldn't pick up the call.

Thus Mayzin woke up from her sleep after she heard her phone buzzing and after the conversation she agreed to visit Lilith.

Now that she had woken up, she went to instruct her subordinates that she was awake and that she was going out and will be back in a few days. They have to ready the important matters that are present and tell her after her return. After instructing them, she went to the teleportation circle and teleported directly in the Royal castle.

....

World Tree, Alfheim.

Alfheim was the biggest country in the Elven continent. It had the largest forest range in the whole world and also the largest tree. The Elves termed the largest tree as the World Tree and they lived in it, on it and near it. The World Tree was just like Evernight city. It was the place where the Elven Queen resided and the highest class of nobles lived in.

The World Tree, although a tree, was as big as the Evernight city in terms of the base area. Its area gets narrowed and lesser as one moves upwards but after a certain height, a constant area of around a 1000km² is maintained. It was a 100,000km² long. It was very tall but only the size of an average hill in this stupidly big world.

The tree was growing everyday little by little in a healthy way even though the elves had occupied it. The tree was carved from the inside from its base, all the way up to the top. It was carved in such a way that the tree wouldn't get damaged. The noble Elves resided in this carved area inside the World Tree. The class of nobles increased as went upwards the tree level from the bottom of the base and the Queen resided at the topmost area.

The Queen occupied the uppermost 15,000km² area. Everything including the inside of the tree and its outside branches belonged to her. Her castle occupied the topmost 5000km² area and it was spread out from the inside of the tree to the outside in all areas wherever the branches were present. Of course, it was made in such a way that it didn't harm the tree. The castle was made normally with magical silver stones of the highest quality and it was attached to the World Tree. It was made very sturdy with magic. Even if a Supreme rank were to have a fight here, it wouldn't collapse.

Lilith, Agalea, Mayzin and Lucifer had contributed to make its foundation and made it very sturdy. The rest was done by the Elves themselves. The topmost 15,000km² area was just like the Queen's district in Evernight city. A whole district made solely for the Royal family of the Elves.

Inside the Queen's quarters in the Elven Royal castle.

Agalea had just finished doing her paperwork in her study. She stood up and walked and her daughter Alea too stood up looking at her. Alea was in the study along with Agalea to help her.

Agalea wore a simple silky thin golden robe on her. It was her comfortable outfit she wore when she worked. She had blonde hair and blue eyes and she appeared to be in her early 30s. She had beautiful pointy ears, a signature of Elves.

Alea, her daughter, looked the younger version of her mother. She appeared to be in her early 20s and had the same blonde hair and blue eyes like Agalea. She too had beautiful elven ears. She wore a tight fitting white dress and there was a slit in it that showed off her long legs.

Agalea said looking at her daughter with a smile

"Dear, I'll be visiting your aunt and I will return after a few days. Will you be able to take care of the work till then?"

"Mom, I am not a child for you to ask me such questions and yes I will be able to." Alea said unhappily.

Agalea chuckled and walked towards Alea and hugged her tight. Alea struggled to get out of her mom's embrace. Agalea didn't let her and said with a smile

"You are still a baby to me, dear. Mom will be worried if you are stressed due to her negligence. So I had to ask. You know I can dump all the work onto those useless subordinates and you can be free."

Alea stopped her pointless struggle and hugged Agalea back. Her case was the same as Lucy and she was too shy to have any close contact with her mother even though she liked it. She would struggle to be free but when she would realise that it was futile, she would hug her mother back. Though she would be embarrassed but she wouldn't say anything to her mom.

Agalea knew of her daughter's behaviour and she would only smile at that. She knew Alea liked her touches and so she would be proactive and do it from time to time. Her relationship with her shy daughter was very good. It was almost the same as what Lilith had with Lucy but they didn't cross any line as of now.

Agalea gave the 'talk' to Alea but she didn't touch Alea and only explained it without showing her anything as they both were ladies and Alea would understand easily. Still, both had a good mother-daughter relationship.

From what Agalea just said, Alea knew that her mother was concerned for her and she felt warm in her heart towards this loving behaviour of her mother. She said, covering her face in her mother's big bosoms

"I will be okay, mom. Also, which aunt are you visiting?"

"Good, I'll be less worried now. It's your aunt Lilith that I'll be visiting but your other aunts would be there too." Agalea said with a smile.

She considered Lilith, Mayzin and Lucifer as her sisters and they too thought of each other the same. They were each others' best friends and also good sisters.

Lilith only had attachments towards these three ladies apart from her children and she too considered them as her sisters and bestfriends.

"Oh, I see. Have fun, mom." Alea said with a smile.

"Thankyou, dear. Take care of yourself and mom will be back soon." Agalea kissed Alea's forehead and went away.

Agalea changed her clothes and then went to the teleportation circle and teleported to Nightingale.

...

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

A teleportation circle lit up and Mayzin came out of thin air into the circle. She looked around and found herself in the familiar room of the castle.

"Greetings, your excellency Dragon Empress. Her Majesty is waiting for you in the hall. Please this way." A maid bowed and lead the way. Mayzin nodded and followed the maid.

The maid was present when Lucifer arrived too but Lucifer didn't even bother and simply rushed towards Lilith making the maid feel helpless. This time the maid made sure to greet the new guest as quickly as possible to do her job properly.

The maid lead the way to the hall and stopped at the entrance and let Mayzin enter herself. Mayzin simply walked and found two familiar figure sitting and chatting.

Lucifer and Lilith noticed Mayzin arrived. Lucifer got up from her seat quickly and ran towards Mayzin and jumped on her. Mayzin looked at the always cheerful Lucifer and shook her head helplessly. She spread her arms and caught Lucifer.

"I missed you, bitch." Lucifer said wrapping her legs around Mayzin's waist and her hands around her neck while resting her head on her shoulder.

"I missed you too. Now can you get off?" Mayzin said with a smile.

"No." Lucifer replied in a neutral voice.

Mayzin sighed and walked towards Lilith while holding Lucifer.

Lilith chuckled at Lucifer's behaviour. She smiled and said to Mayzin

"She sure is a troublemaker, isn't she?"

"She sure is. Hey get off now I need to greet Lilith too." Mayzin said and Lucifer got off unhappily.

Mayzin walked to Lilith and hugged her. Lucifer looked at this and said to Mayzin

"Hey, where's my hug? You didn't hug me."

"You did it first, it's same " Mayzin replied with a smile.

"Bitch, it's not the same. You are too biased. I don't like you. Hmph!" Lucifer said and snorted.

Lilith and Mayzin looked at each other and shook their heads with a smile. They both had the same thought Lucifer was still Lucifer and hadn't changed at all. Mayzin went over to Lucifer and hugged her.

Lucifer smiled evilly when Mayzin hugged her and she grabbed Mayzin's butt and gave it a nice squeeze.

Mayzin sighed and let her do as she pleased. She had gotten tired of telling Lucifer to not grope her when they hugged each other and ruin their wholesome moment but she never listened.

Lilith looked at her two friends and smiled. This was a common occurrence everytime they met. Lucifer let go of Mayzin and sat back in her seat beside Lilith happily.

Mayzin sat in front of Lilith and Lucifer and they started chatting happily.

After a while, the teleportation circle lit up once again and Agalea came out of it.

"Greetings, your excellency Elven Queen. Her majesty is waiting for you in the hall. This way, please." The maid bowed and said.

Agalea followed the maid and arrived in the hall. The three ladies stood up and waited for Agalea to come to them. Lucifer didn't jump on her because she had other plans.

Agalea walked towards the ladies and hugged Lilith first and said with a smile

"It's been a while, Lilith."

"Indeed, Agalea." Lilith said with a smile and hugged her back.

Agalea let go of Lilith and went towards Lucifer and hugged her. Lucifer, like always, grabbed Agalea's butt and squeezed it.

"When will you stop this habit of yours Lucifer?" Agalea didn't resist or complaint and only questioned Lucifer. She was used to this.

"Hmm, Agalea, why is your butt a little firmer than before? Are you sitting and doing too much work like before?" Lucifer didn't answer her and questioned back.

"Yes, I am but it's not too much." Agalea said with a smile. Although Lucifer said that, Agalea knew it was her way of showing concern and thus she felt a little warm in her heart and answered Lucifer smiling.

" You should get a massage from me. These two buns of yours would become soft again." Lucifer spanked Agalea's butt with both hands and said.

Agalea smiled and didn't say anything. She backed off and went to Mayzin and hugged her and greeted her.

The four ladies sat down and started chatting once again. They had finally reunited after thirteen long years.

Lilith really did get distracted as she didn't think of rushing over and meeting her children. She was happy when her friends came over and she had a lively conversation with them.

Chapter 62: You Did What?!

The ladies chatted happily for a few hours. It was basically Lucifer talking about how the authors butchered her favourite character in anime or some characters were just like a bitch, Agalea talking about a little politics in her Elven Empire and Alea and Lilith talking about her kids.

Mayzin was only listening as she was asleep the whole time and didn't have anything to talk about. She listened quietly while sipping on tea and was trying to catch up with her friends' latest developments.

After a while, Lucifer got up from her seat said smiling

"We have talked enough already. Look at Mayzin, she seems bored to death. Let's have sex now!"

Mayzin, Agalea and Lilith looked at each other and sighed. Lucifer never changed. This had become a common occurrence now and they had gotten used to it.

Lilith looked at Lucifer and said smiling

"I am out. I'll not be having sex with you guys from now on."

"What?! Why?!" Lucifer was shocked.

"Yeah, what happened Lilith?" Mayzin asked from the side.

Agalea didn't say anything and only waited for Lilith to answer.

"Oh well, you know, I am saving these intimate moments for my babies." Lilith said with a smile.

It took a few seconds for the three ladies to process what Lilith had just said and it was Agalea who said in a shocked tone

"Lilith, you, you will, you will do it with your kids?"

"Obviously. I have done it before and I feel these intimate moments bring me much closer to them. So I'll be saving these up only for them." Lilith said with a smile.

"YOU DID WHAT?!!" Lucifer shouted from the side.

"I had sex with my kids before. What? Is there something wrong?" Lilith said with the same smile.

The three ladies felt a little headache after listening to Lilith. It took them a few minutes to process everything they heard about. They soon made some points in their mind after listening to Lilith.

They calmed down and it was Lucifer who spoke

"You! Did you just lose your virginity? No that's not my concern. My concern is, did you take the virginity of your son too? Isn't he very small right now?"

"Yes, I gave my virginity to him and he took mine. It was a beautiful moment. Does age really matter?" Lilith said with a smile.

"Lilith, what the fuck? Since when did you become such a shameless bitch? Doing it with such a small kid and that too with your own son?" Lucifer questioned worriedly.

"Ah Lucifer, you don't really understand. Calm down, do you think I would do anything against my own babies' wishes?" Lilith said while maintaining the same smile.

Not only Lucifer but Mayzin and Agalea too thought about it. Yes, it did make sense to them. Lilith was a good mother and she wouldn't do anything as such if it harmed the interests of her children.

Agalea looked at Lilith and said with some concern

"Are you really okay with committing to this taboo? Are you really not worried?"

"What worries are there? The world hates incest, correct? Burn the world then. My babies likes being so close and intimate with their mama and there's nothing wrong with it. It has only brought us more closer as a family. Agalea, you should try it too with Alea some day and check for yourself if what I am saying is right or wrong.

I know Alea is a shy girl like Lucy, so you can cook up some excuse like telling her you are worried about her physical health and you want to check her. You can then have a small fingering or cunnilingus session with her wink If she hates your touches, stop it then and there and tell her that you are only checking her health and then after a few minutes, back off. If she doesn't, heh, you know the rest on what to do."

Lilith smiled and gave some advices to Agalea on the way explaining things.

Lucifer quickly dashed towards Agalea and hugged her. She stuffed her head in her big bosoms and said to Lilith

"Hey, don't corrupt my innocent Agalea like that, shameless bitch."

Lilith chuckled and said to Agalea

"Agalea, if you want to be more closer to Alea, you should take my advice and follow my instructions. Your only family in this world is your daughter and she definitely only has you. You may be close to her but you aren't really too close. It's really very necessary for you to improve your relationship with her. Life gets very lonely without family, you know?"

Agalea thought about it for a while. Lilith never really gave any useless advice and it wouldn't hurt to try it, she thought to herself. She made up her mind to test it out. She was still stuffed in Lucifer's bosoms.

Lucifer looked at Agalea who was thinking about something, she wanted to stop Agalea from doing such a thing but on second thought, she didn't. She knew it was important to stay close as family and if they weren't, it only felt lonely. Thus, she didn't stop Agalea's train of thought.

Agalea got out and looked at Lilith and said with a smile

"I'll try it out. I'll let you know if it works or not."

"Goodluck." Lilith replied with a smile.

"Hey, me too. Tell me too." Lucifer said hurriedly.

"Yeah, me too." The silent Mayzin spoke too this time.

"Sure. I'll do a conference call, be sure to pick it up." Agalea said with a smile.

"Don't worry, I won't be sleeping for a long time now. I'll stay awake as I need to do some work and also to look at Lith's adventures. Lilith's kids are all extraordinary and I still remember how much regret I felt when I only got news of Lucy's adventures and was not able to watch her as I was sleeping. This time, I'll watch Lith." Mayzin said with a smile.

They all had a never ending lifespan and thus they never missed out on any entertainment they could get.

"Alright, so nobody's having sex now or something? Lilith you really are a big bitch. You do know how to spoil fun, humph!" Lucifer snorted.

Lilith giggled and so did the other ladies. Agalea got up and said

"Alright, I'll be leaving now. I have some work."

"Are you sure it's work and not to have sex with the poor Alea?" Lucifer chimed in.

Agalea chuckled and said "It's both."

The other three too chuckled. Mayzin too got up and said

"I have some work too. I need to catch up on the thirteen years that I slept. I'll be leaving too."

"Tsk. And here I thought I could at least have my way with you, Mayzin." Lucifer said with an annoyed look.

Mayzin chuckled and said

"You can come to my place anytime, you know?"

Mayzin and Agalea hugged Lilith and Lucifer and then left together for the teleportation circle.

Lucifer got up and went to Lilith and slept by her side while keeping her head on her lap. She said

"Ahh, I wanted to do it, you know Lilith? It's been so long. Doing it alone doesn't feel the same way as doing it with others."

Lilith chuckled and caressed Lucifer's hair. She said

"You can go to Mayzin or Agalea after a few months and do it with them. Oh right, if Agalea succeeds then you can't with her."

"Tsk. It's all your fault."

"Fufufu...of course it is. I like looking at you suffer." Lilith teased.

Lucifer got up and said in annoyed look

"Alright I am leaving too. I have to pleasure myself and I clearly can't do it with you. Sigh, I hope you stop your foolish thinking and come back to us and do it like we used to."

Lilith chuckled and didn't say anything. She got up and hugged Lucifer. Lucifer hugged back and said

"See you later."

"See you soon."

...

In a dark alley, Lupin country.

An old man was sitting in a lotus position. He opened his eyes and muttered

"So that youngster's unique ability was nothing but casting mere fire spells from his left hand without a chant. No wonder he died so pathetically."

The old man then started drawing certain symbols on the ground and he muttered some ancient words. A magic circle was formed and the old man started pouring his spiritual energy into it.

The magic circle lit up and it got up from the ground. It emitted a silver glow and it started rotating. Soon, it split into many more magic circles and they were of various colours. The magic circles started rotating and revolving around the silver magic circle and the old man was as calm as a still lake while this was happening as if he was used to this. He had almost drained all of his spiritual energy. Finally, after a few minutes, he said

"Connect."

The magic circles which were rotating and revolving, vanished into thin air and went to who knows where. The old man closed his eyes and started observing like before.

He "looked" around and found an elegant looking bedroom. There was a very good looking boy but his complexion looked sickly pale who was sleeping in the room. There was no one else in the room except for him.

Soon, the boy's complexion started returning to a healthy red shade and he opened his eyes and looked around. He said in a confused way "where am I?" He then grunted in pain and collapsed on the bed again. His painful look went away and soon his face was that of surprise, shock, a little horror and then finally it became a determined face. He got up and looked at himself in the mirror and said with a determined face

"Don't worry my predecessor, I'll get you justice and the world shall have humanity reign supreme from all the torture of these other races."

His figure blurred a little and became clear again. He stripped himself naked and looked at his body. His body looked fit but had accumulated a little bit of fat maybe due to not working out for a long time. He checked his body and he closed his eyes and felt something about him. He then opened his eyes and there was a silver glint in his blue eyes and he said

"Abalax World Academy, you'll be my first stepping stone."

The old man opened his eyes and his view had returned to the dark alley in which he was in.

He started casting a spell and making a magic circle with his hands. His grey eyes start turning golden and he 'sees' something. After only a few seconds he stops and smiles. He then chuckled and muttered to himself once again

"Interesting. His unique ability sure is powerful. Now, what sort of chaos will you create, 'hero'?"

....

One month passed.

In this past one month, Lith had spent all his time with Lucy. They toured the country of Nightingale together, had various delicacies, watched movies, cuddled and most of all, had sex a lot many times.

Lucy had not gotten any alone time with Lith and Lith knew about it. This was why he took this vacation with her and tried to reciprocate all the love and care which Lucy had given to him in all these years. Though it wasn't much but he tried his best to show his love and care for her. Lucy too understood Lith's feelings and she felt very happy because of Lith's such behaviour. They had a lot of fun in their short one month vacation. It was time to go back home now.

Lucy and Lith were standing in the room of their inn. Rena was in Lith's spatial ring. Lucy held Lith by his waist and she cast space jump and vanished from the spot. The room was now empty without any signs of life.

....

Royal castle, Nightingale.

Lith and Lucy teleported to the castle directly. As soon as Lith landed on ground again, he felt something squishy on his face and a new set of hands holding his waist. He smiled knowing who and what it was.

"Mama missed you so much, you know?" Lilith said to Lith and Lucy while hugging them and stuffing them in her bosoms.

Lucy was already holding Lith by his waist and now Lilith joined in and made a three way hug with them. She knew they would be coming home at any moment today and as soon as she felt a slight magical fluctuations in space, she knew at what spot they would land and also the exact time. Thus as soon as they came, she immediately hugged them.

Lith said smiling "We missed you too, mom."

Lucy nodded her head indicating that she too agreed with Lith's words.

Lilith let go and looked at Lith and Lucy again from head to toe. Lith had gotten just a little taller since a month ago. Only around a one or two centimetres tall. It was very negligible but Lilith noticed it. Lucy was still the same.

Lith's forehead could now touch Lilith's nipples easily but his mouth couldn't reach it. Lucy's forehead was at Lilith's eye level and she was pretty tall as a lady.

Lilith herself was 200cm tall and Lucy was 190cm, same as that of Lucifer and Mayzin. As for Lith, his height changed a millimetre almost everyday so it was useless to measure his height.

Lilith looked at Lith and smiled. His aura had changed a little. Although it was negligible, it was still visible to Lilith and she knew her baby had matured a little. She was right.

Lith's attitude and mindset had changed a little towards how he should be treating people and family, thus Lilith noticed such a change.

"Come, tell mama what all things you did." Lilith said.

Lilith pulled their hands and sat on the bed. She sat cross legged and Lith was on one side of her leg and Lucy on the other. She caressed their hair and Lith and Lucy started telling her about the places they visited. She smiled and listened.

This continued for a while and Lucy and Lith slept together with Lilith. Nothing felt more comfortable than snuggling into their mother's embrace to them and thus they slept soundly.

Chapter 63: What I Want To Do

Lith woke up the next morning. He found the familiar face of his mother looking at him lovingly. He smiled and said

"Goodmorning, mom."

"Goodmorning, baby." Lilith smiled and kissed Lith's forehead.

"Goodmorning, big sis." Lith kissed Lucy's forehead and said.

"Goodmorning, dear." Lucy smiled and said.

After the morning greetings, Lith, Lucy and Lilith had a bath together. They didn't do anything naughty and simply enjoyed the time in the bath together.

Lith was now having his breakfast in Lilith's bedroom. He had to eat to fulfill the nutritional needs and he also liked the food here. He was eating quietly without speaking. Lilith was watching him eat with a smile. Lucy had gone to do her job as the substitute Queen.

Lith was thinking about something and he suddenly thought 'I've been living in my mother's bedroom for all this while. Not that I hate it but what does my room look like in this big castle?'

He made up his mind to check out his room and so he quickly finished his food and looked at his mother and said

"Mom, I must be having a room for myself, correct?"

"Yes, of course. Are you planning to leave mama's side and sleep in your own room for now on?" Lilith made a sad expression and asked.

"Of course not. I just had a passing thought." Lith said honestly. He really had no plans and only wanted to check out his room.

"Come, I'll show it to you." Lilith said with a smile.

Lith placed the empty plates and cutlery at the center of the table and poured a little of his spiritual energy. The magic circle lit up and everything vanished. This was a small teleportation circle which directly sent the dishes to get cleaned and be placed in their respective places. Lith then held Lilith's hand and they walked together.

Lith's room wasn't too far from Lilith's. There was a narrow corridor outside Lilith's bedroom with the high arched ceiling. It was 300 meters long and only 50 meters wide. The floor had a luxurious red carpet on it. There were paintings along the corridor and certain drawings at the arched ceiling. The whole corridor was well lit up with white light that had a bit of yellowish hue.

Lilith was holding Lith's hand and was walking along the corridor. They walked for a while and soon reached a door at the end of the corridor. There were stairs leading downstairs and upstairs beside the door. Lilith said with a smile "Exactly after 150 meters from here is my room in the middle of the corridor and at the end of the corridor is Lucy's room. You've obviously been to that end because you had to go to the training arena by taking the stairs beside Lucy's room.

Are you surprised knowing your room was just at the opposite end and yet you didn't even bother to check it once?"

"Yeah, sort of. I never really had much curiosity to know what lied in the opposite direction of the corridor. I only had the thought to go train for that day and get done with it." Lith explained.

Lilith chuckled and didn't say anything anymore. She opened the door of the room and led Lith inside.

Lith found the room exactly same as that of Lilith's except it didn't have red and white walls. It had black and grey walls. The furniture was pretty much the same except the bed being half the size of Lilith's and there was a much bigger bookshelf at the side. The room was roughly square in shape.

At one corner there was the bed attached to the wall. In front of the bed around 10 meters away from it was a study table with a lamp placed on it. Beside the bed was a small dressing table where a lamp was placed and at the opposite side of it was a big rectangular windows that touched the ceiling and the floor. Outside the window was a big rectangular balcony to sit. It had glass fencing around it. The view from the balcony was of a slope and at the end of the slope was the dark rose forest.

There were curtains drawn and the view had been blocked. There was a small corridor that led to the bathroom and also to the snack room specifically designed because Lith was a growing kid and would need snacks probably have his cravings satisfied. This was what the maids thought when they designed it. In Lilith's and Lucy's room whose design was the same, in place of the snack room, Lilith and Lucy had their study there.

Lith found his room cozy and comfortable to be in but he won't really be sleeping here. He'll come here at times when he needed alone time and nothing else. He went ahead and sat at the study table. He said to Lilith smiling

"Mom, I'll arrange some things in the room and come to you before dinner."

"Alright, dear." Lilith smiled and said. She went ahead and kissed his forehead and went away. She knew he wanted to spend some time alone, so she left like a good understanding mother.

Lith sat there and he brought Rena out. He said to her

"Hey, we both will be leaving for Abalax World Academy after a few months. You can stay with your family till then. I'll pick you up before going. They are in the dark rose forest. Go to a maid and ask her to guide you."

'Okay, master.' Rena didn't say much and left.

Lith sat there and started contemplating about few things.

It has been more than thirteen years since his new life started. He had a loving family and he was satisfied with everything he had. He had fame, fortune and even beauties such as his mother and big sister. It wasn't achieved by his own efforts but he didn't feel bad about it. He considered it as his own luck. Not everyone had a chance to have what Lith had when they are just born.

If someone who were moral and righteous, they wouldn't accept such a thing. They would discard all of it and go through various hardship and experiences to build one of their own. The righteous and moral people would then be satisfied and feel a sense of accomplishment. This was the way of thinking of a person who was morally of a very good and kind nature.

Lith wasn't like that. He didn't consider himself as a saint. He had all the fame and fortune ever since he was born, why would he stupidly work hard and achieve the same thing he already had. What benefit was there to be a morally good person? It was nothing but a load of crap and farce for people who liked playing hero and feel themselves to be superior by accomplishing things on their own.

Lith then thought, what was he supposed to do in life? He already had everything. His mother was very overpowered and he had a feeling that, he wouldn't really die until she was present here. She would always look after him. He felt warm in his heart but he also had a concern. What if something happens to him? Wouldn't his mother and big sister be really sad? Although he wouldn't die because his mother would save him but that doesn't mean she would not be worried.

He needed to solve this problem. He only had a very cliché thought in his mind to solve his problem but he didn't want to think about it. He tried thinking of various other things to solve this problem but none came to his mind. He eventually gave up and sighed to himself. He thought to himself

'Sigh, do I really need to have thoughts like those third rate protagonists from novels and animes? Have my thoughts been influenced? Why am I only having one thought to solve that problem and couldn't think of any other?'

He didn't care anymore and thought again 'Ugh, it's so annoying to come up with an answer. Fuck it. I'll do it. I'll get stronger to not let anyone bother me and to not let my mother and big sister be worried because of it.'

That's right. The cliché thought Lith had was that he needs to get stronger. He felt that he was really stupid to thinking of this. He nevertheless had no other ideas at the moment to solve that problem. Thus, he decisively gave up and chose what he was thinking.

Next, Lith thought on what he should do in this new life of his. In his previous mortal life, he was a teenager who was studying and hoping to graduate and have a good job, a stable career and a loving family. He would go on vacation with his family or sometimes alone and tour the world and live happily with a normal job and family. He didn't expect too much from himself back then. He had limited lifespan back then and this much was enough to get satisfied.

Now the problem was different. He had a never ending lifespan. What was he supposed to do now? He had a headache thinking of this. He changed his question a little and thought, what did he like to do?

He came up with a few answers and selected the best ones. He liked to travel and most important of all, he really liked face slapping. He'll think of other things later but these two things, he really liked them very much. He came back to the question of what to do now. Currently, he only wanted to do two things. First, travel the world and experience what it had to offer and second, faceslap people.

Lith had these thoughts on what he was going to do as of now. Faceslapping would become boring if did too much so he had to do it wisely and find a perfect target for it. Travelling and exploring the world would be a good adventure and past time for him. This world also had many dimensions and exploring them would be nice. He had to do it before he reached a certain level of strength. Once he gets too strong, everything would become too easy and it won't be fun anymore.

Lith's current plans became about traveling and faceslapping along with getting strong so as to not get his mother or big sister worried. What good place would there be to faceslap other than an academy where people of many race came together? Lith thought to himself and chuckled wickedly. He was itching to have some action.

He was a Vampire and there sure would be people who would hate on him just for that.

People would consider him as a leech sucking off people's blood or maybe be disgusted because of his nature to drink blood or maybe because he was a Vampire in itself. He didn't know nor did he guess too much but he knew one fact very well. Where there are people, there are bound to be conflicts and it is inevitable. He got excited a little, thinking about doing this and that with stupid people.

He then had another thought. He got worried because he didn't really have the ability to faceslap people right now! He was nothing but a mere rank 1 Vampire. He had an all elemental affinity but he hadn't trained too much in it. It was only just a few weeks ago that he awakened his magic core. The entrance test only a few months away.

His magic core awakened in the month of February and it was March currently. The entrance test would be in January next year. He needed to get stronger to have the ability to faceslap people! He thought to himself. He didn't even consider the fact that, he was calling getting stronger as cliché a few moments ago and now without hesitation he had this thought. He was very determined now.

He got up from his chair. His plan was to meet Dennis and Cecilia but just thought 'Fuck it. Faceslapping matters more than having friends as of now and I'll meet Dennis in the academy anyway.'

Lith didn't even consider the fact that he had to pass the entrance test to get into the academy. He was becoming arrogant subconsciously. The reason he didn't think about it was simple. If he, a son of such a strong being isn't capable to pass, then no one else is. His mother was the source of his arrogance and pride.

Lith went out of his room and rushed towards Lilith's bedroom. He walked and said to his mom who was sitting on a chair hurriedly

"Mom, come train me. There's no time to waste and I need to get stronger before the entrance test."

Lilith was surprised at her son's sudden declaration. She smiled and teased

"Did you masturbate in your room and have what people on the internet call 'post-nut clarity' something?"

Lilith would surf the internet if she had nothing to do and try to catch up with the current culture and trends.

"Mom, no time to joke. I am serious, come train me. If you don't, hmm, I'll not drink your milk anymore for a few months." Lith gave a little threat to his mother.

Lilith panicked. She immediately got serious and took Lith's arms and teleported to the training arena. The threat worked like a charm on her. It would be very bad for her if her baby didn't drink her milk. She didn't want to let this happen at any cost!

Lilith became very serious to train Lith now. She first stripped him naked and started touching his body from all angles. She then made him do certain poses to check his flexibility and growth of certain hidden muscles in his body. She made a mental note of everything that Lith needed to work upon and instantly came up with a training plan for him.

Lith was surprised at his mother's serious attitude. He didn't know that his threat would work such wonders on his ever cheerful mother. He became a little smug thinking he won this time. Nevertheless, now that he had asked her to train him, he followed her every word religiously.

Lilith started making Lith do certain physical exercises and gave him equipments which were inlaid with magic. Lith had to exercise with their help. Lith did strength, endurance and a little hypertrophy training to help his lacking muscles grow a little.

He was then trained to have better reflexes, agility, flexibility, flight control and at the very last, he was trained to have a strong mind and willpower.

The training came to an end after a whole twelve hours. Lith was exhausted physically, mentally and spiritually due to his spiritual energy being almost drained up to cast spells. He had to not only cast spells, he had to even blend few elements into each other and cause brand new spells to occur. This drained him a lot but he was satisfied with the work he did. If this continued, he for sure would have the ability he wanted the most.

Lith was now being carried like a baby to Lilith's bedroom. He had his arms wrapped around Lilith's neck, his face resting on her shoulder, his legs dangling on the sides and his butt being supported by Lilith's both palms.

"Do you want to have a bath baby?" Lilith asked with a smile. She was proud of Lith because he worked really hard and endured whatever she threwed at him.

"No, mom. Please cast a spell and let's sleep. I am very tired." Lith said in a weak voice. His throat hurt because he was asked to cast ultrasonic waves from it like a bat and try to destroy certain objects with it.

Lilith smiled and put him on bed. She then asked him to drink her blood and he did that. He fell asleep after that very quickly. Lilith hugged Lith and patted his back and caressed his hair and let him have a good sleep. She smiled looking at her tired baby. She too slept along with him after a while.

Chapter 64: Magical Beasts and Plants

Lith woke up feeling refreshed. There was no tiredness from yesterday's training. He was a little surprised by it. He knew that he would recover quickly because of drinking his mother's blood, it happened all the time before but now it was a little different. Not only did he feel refreshed, he even felt that something has improved in his body. Although just a little. He didn't know what it was but there was improvement. He didn't have this feeling before.

Lilith looked at the woken up Lith and knew what he was thinking. She didn't say anything about it and simply smiled and said

"Goodmorning, baby."

"Goodmorning, mom." Lith said and kissed his mother's forehead.

"What are your plans for today?" Lilith asked.

"Same as yesterday. Eat, train and rest." Lith replied plainly.

"Why do you need to make it so boring? You should do something fun in between, you know?" Lilith smiled and said.

"Oh, how about I do you then? wink" Lith teased.

"Mama has no problems." Lilith winked back and said.

They both chuckled at their dirty jokes and Lith got up after that. He cast a cleaning spell in his mouth and sat down to have breakfast. He was having eggs, sausages, bacon, bread with butter and a cup of coffee with milk and sugar. These foods were obviously made from good quality ingredients.

They were made from the most premium grade tier 3 beasts. Lith's body could only absorb nutrients upto tier 3 beasts and not more than that. But this in itself was a monstrous thing.

Magical beasts, to represent their strength, people gave them tiers. Just like how people had magical rank from 1 all the way to Supreme, Magical beasts too were classified in the same way. The only difference was that they were called in tiers and not ranks.

There were magical beasts from tier 1 all the way upto Supreme tier. The Magical beasts, usually all of them could transform into humanoid form after King rank, some could do it earlier than that like the Purple Night Wolf but mostly all of them could transform at King rank.

The Supreme tier beasts were Ancient beasts. They did exist but they were hidden somewhere in the other dimensions or in certain part of the world.

The Ancient Beasts didn't like to leave their territories and meddle with others and thus they were hidden and don't take part in the worldly affairs of the world. Though the offsprings of these Ancient beasts could be seen from time to time in the main world.

If found by other people of the main world, they would be immediately hunted down or were made as pets. The location of these Supreme tier ancient beasts were unknown to everyone. The exception being, of course, Lilith herself. What can be hidden from the eyes of God?

There were also Magical plants which were classified just like the magical beasts. The plants too gained humanoid form but it was much later than the Magical beasts. The plants first had to gain sentience which happened at King rank and only at the Emperor would they be able to transform into a humanoid form. And like always, there were Supreme tier magical plants too, but all of them, without exception, are a part of Elven race.

The Elven continent had the most dense Magical Energy suitable for the growth of these magical plants and only here were the first Supreme tier magical plants born. They obviously weren't born out of thin air but evolved over a course of millions of years. These Supreme tier plants have great vitality in them and they have been alive since time immemorial. They were even more ancient than the ancient beasts themselves and the Elves have taken care of them since a very very long time.

It was said that these plants were present before the Elves came into existence but they didn't gain sentience until a very long time later. When they did gain sentience and finally their humanoid form, the Elven race was flourishing well. The Supreme ranks of that time took these plants in and had taken care of them since that time.

These plants in return for having being taken care like that, helped the Elven race by providing their fruits, wood, roots, bark and various other things which helped the Elven race strengthen themselves even further and thereby becoming one of the main 8 races. Having a Supreme rank wasn't the only thing to become a main race. Other factors played a role too like the Elven race's Supreme tier plants.

What other factors made the main races as the main were a secret only known to themselves and they were also the trump cards of their race. Only some secrets were known to the other races like how the Elves had Supreme tier plants. This wasn't a secret and was an open fact available to everyone.

There are only three Supreme tier plants as of now in this whole world and the questions such as what happened to others, why more Supreme tier plants aren't found from other continents yet and why there are only three or why didn't the Elves get invaded by other races before for these high level plants was a story for another day.

Food plants such as barley, wheat, millet, corn etc. were called by this name only even if their tier increased. They went from tier 1 all the way up to Saint tier. Tier 1-7 barley, wheat, millet, corn and other everyday edible plants were common in the world. They were planted and farmed and didn't take too long to grow. Tier 7 wheat only needed around 12 years to mature and ready to eat. The other plants also had similar times.

Tier 8 needed double the time of tier 7, tier 9 triple, half Saint tier four times and Saint tier five times the time of tier 7 to mature and be ready to be edible. Though time was a lot, it was of no problem at all. At a high cost, time circles could be cast on the fields and they would be available in almost two to three years for consumption.

Above Saint tier the plants were edible but they had to be consumed without any processing. Processing as in making wheat grains into flour and then into bread, noodles, tortillas, rotis etc. They couldn't be processed like that. Many weren't edible as plants themselves but they were of various uses. Their fruits, sap, bark, flowers, seeds, etc. are of great importance.

As the tier increased, the rarities of the plants too increased. Except for the commonly edible plants like wheat, barely and all, other useful magical plants were very rare to find as the tier increased. As an example, the 'renjius medicula', a tier 3 magical plant that had the purest form of lightning bolts inside its sap, could only be found in very extreme environments where lightning was very frequent.

It would strengthen one's Lightning elemental affinity and allow one to have a much closer connection with the world in itself thereby allowing to sense Lightning elements in the surroundings and helping in directly absorbing Lightning magical energy. If by any chance, a person was near a Lightning spirit and consumed the sap, the lightning spirit would automatically form a magical contract with the consumer and serve him for many years.

Thus it was of great importance for everyone. It was also very rare to grow in wild and as the plant's tier increased, its rarity only increased even more so. The highest tier renjius medicula one has ever found and preserved as of now was only tier 9! In any case, even though common edible plants up to Saint tier were available, it doesn't mean that they were easy to find.

Eating tier 3 food while being rank 1 and absorbing its nutrients for the body's growth was impossible. No one's rank 1 body was capable to achieve that. Even the most elite couldn't do it. One could consume food of higher tier but it wouldn't be absorbed by the body and would only be excreted out as waste. It was as good as throwing the food into trash, if it isn't eaten by the respective person of the respective rank.

But, Lith in himself was a monster and an exception. His body demanded for food a few tiers above his own rank. The reason for Lith's such need of high tier food for growth was naturally due to Lilith. He was the flesh and blood of a Legendary rank and such a constitution was no joke. Thus, his body needed much more nutrients than normal people.

His constitution was only getting more and more stronger by the day as he drank Lilith's blood everyday. It didn't show any effect on him much before as he didn't have his magic core but it had helped strengthen his foundation and it's effect laid dormant and would only been shown after his core awakened. Now that he had started his magical journey, it was only about time he noticed the changes and today the little thing that he felt was just the start.

Even a small vial of blood of a Legendary rank would create wonders for a Supreme rank let alone a mere rank 1 like Lith. He just didn't know about it's usage as of now and Lilith and Lucy didn't explain him because they wanted him to find it out by himself. Why you ask? It's simple really, they just wanted to surprise him and see his reaction. Immortal beings never let go of any form of entertainment.

Why Lith hadn't become overpowered yet even if he had been constantly drinking drops and drop of blood everyday since years was because he was Lilith's flesh and blood himself. He was the child of a Legendary rank creature and even if a small vial may work wonders for a Supreme rank, it wouldn't work the same on Lith whose very existence was made from a Legendary rank.

Lith finished his breakfast and was ready to go to train but then had a second thought. His mother was right. He needed to do something fun everyday to not be bored by the training. Although all these years of training had only made his willpower and himself stronger and he could thus go on and endure the harsh training for months, he had some time before the hardcore training of mother, so why not do something fun or relaxing? He thought.

He looked at his mother who was sitting opposite to him and looking at him and smiled wickedly. Lilith looked at Lith with an amused expression. She sort of had a rough understanding of what he was thinking but she didn't say anything and only smiled and waited for him to say something.

"Let's have a bath together, mom. Let's have a nice, long and relaxing one before the training. It'll be a good form of fun thing to do, you know?" Lith smiled and said.

"Ara, so my baby was really serious before. I thought you were only joking." Lilith said with a fake surprised expression.

"My Lady, a man leaves no chance to get laid." Lith puffed his chest and joked.

"But, you aren't a man. You are just my baby boy." Lilith joined in the joke.

"Is that so? Why don't you come and confirm it with me then, mom." Lith teased.

"Oh, I'd love to. Let's go then." Lilith smiled and said. She held Lith's hand and both went together to the bath.

Chapter 65: What a Fool

Lilith and Lith came into the bath and stripped themselves naked. Lith held Lilith's hand and took her to the bath area. He made her sit on a small stool and started washing her.

He didn't do anything naughty yet and Lilith was a little surprised from it. He didn't even take small advantage and simply gave her a bath. This was indeed a bit surprising to her. She nevertheless didn't say anything and waited for what he'll do next. Lith, after washing her, cast a cleaning spell on himself quickly and took her hand and went to the big square bathtub.

It was a little wrong to call it a bathtub when it literally looked like a mini onsen but in any case, it was a bathtub. Lith made Lilith sit on the edge and he himself got into the water. He then parted her legs and had a good look at his mother's beautiful pink pussy and her now clean and with the same beautiful pink look, her cute puckered butt hole.

He bent forward and cupped Lilith's face and kissed her. He felt his mother's soft lips once again. He never got tired of it. Her mild rosy scent got into his mouth and made him feel intoxicated by it. He broke the kiss and then kissed her forehead, cheeks, eyes, nose and chin. He then went downwards while still kissing her. He gave her neck a little lick and bit on it a little. He didn't drink her blood as it would make him tired and he'd need to sleep.

He then went down and sucked on her nipples a little and bit onto it too. He tasted his mother's milk again after almost a month. It was still his favourite drink. He never got tired of drinking it. He left the nipple and sucked onto the other one. After a few seconds, he left it and went downwards once again. He kissed her underboob, her belly, her navel and then finally he came down to her pubic region. He kissed her hairless crotch area and then her clit and finally her labias.

He gave a few kisses on her lower lips and then got out. He put his hands over her buttocks and pushed her back a little and made her sit in a M shape. Lilith supported herself by her hands and bent backward and lifted her hips a little, giving a good view to Lith.

Lith put his hand forward and spread his mother's pussy lips apart with his two fingers. He looked at the his mother's beautiful pink pussy and her hole which seemed very tight right now, indicating it hadn't been given attention for a long time. He looked down and saw her beautiful puckered butt hole which hadn't been untouched yet.

"You look very beautiful, mama." Lith said to Lilith after looking at her in the eyes. He changed back to call her mama from mom as this was the deal he made a few weeks ago and he didn't want to break it. Also calling his mom as mama didn't seem too bad of an idea either to him.

"Fufufu...you don't say something like that to a lady in such a position, baby. It'll feel very embarrassing to them." Lilith chuckled and gave some advice to Lith.

Lith nodded and made a mental note. He was still an amateur in terms of being a Playboy that he wanted to become. He looked down and then into Lilith's eyes again and said with a smirk

"It seems very tight right now, mama."

"Of course it is. It hasn't been given any attention in these past few weeks. Isn't it your fault that mama is like this, baby?" Lilith smirked back and said.

Lith didn't say anything anymore and got down for business. He licked her clit and the area between her clit and her tight vaginal hole. He gave it a lick for a few seconds and then put his tongue inside her pussy and started licking her yet again.

This continued for a bit and Lith put his fingers inside her and started fingering her.

"Mhmm~"

Lilith moaned a little from his fingering. She had missed this a lot. She was very happy to get intimate again with her baby like this and this only made her become wet more and more as Lith went onto finger her.

Lith groped Lilith's big breasts with his free hand and started kneading them like dough. Milk spilled out a little from this and made his fingers a little wet but it didn't matter. He pinched her nipples, twisted them and pulled them outwards and kneaded her breasts again. He repeated this cycle while sucking and twirling his tongue on her clit and fingering her insides.

This continued on for roughly 15 minutes and Lith could feel his mother's insides massaging his fingers and getting tighter more and more. He knew she was close so he increased the intensity of his finger fucking her and sucked on her clit and played with her breasts in a rough manner.

"Ah..ah..ahh.."

Lilith was very close now and she moaned a little louder than before. The relaxing moans from before had become much more lewder now. Lith kept going on with the same actions and finally after a while

Spurttt

"Ohhhh~"

Lilith moaned in satisfaction and orgasmed. She arched her back a little and shoved her hips deeper into Lith's mouth. Her eyes were half closed and she was feeling her orgasm. It felt very good to her. Lith drank all her love juices that poured out and didn't miss any single drop. He really loved doing it as he really liked his mother's flavour.

He looked at her and then around and found that doing it in the bathroom wasn't too comfortable. He decided to do it later once again after soaking in the water and relaxing together for a while. He kissed her lower lips for one last time and pulled her into the water. He gave her a peck on her lips and hugged her and rested his head on her big boobs. Lilith smiled and teased

"Is this what you meant by being a man, baby?"

"I don't wanna do it here. This place doesn't seem comfortable. Let's relax first and then I'll show you on bed what I meant by being a man, mama." Lith looked into Lilith's eyes and said with a smile.

"Oh but the man you are talking about seems to be enjoying being in his mama's embrace." Lilith teased again.

"Everyone loves being pampered like this but many hesitate because they feel it may hurt their image as a man and hurt their pride. I, for one, am not like that I shamelessly accept that I love getting pampered by you like this, mama. There's not any more comfortable place than this." Lith smiled and gave her a little explanation.

"Ara, someone seems a little serious about this. I wonder what happened during the vacation that changed you. In any case, mama likes the fact that you are being more honest with your feelings, baby." Lilith smiled and gave a kiss on Lith's forehead.

Lith didn't say anything more and just relaxed along with Lilith in the bathtub.

...

Auckland city, Villmer Country, Human Continent.

In the forests of Auckland city, two youths that looked almost similar to each other were looking at each other. One was squatting down and the other was resting his back on a tree while sitting and looking at the other figure. They both had black hair and blue eyes and looked quite handsome and by their clothes, they seemed from noble lineage. One figure looked very healthy and good and the other sickly pale.

The one who was squatting down was also holding the hair of the other figure and was looking him in the eye. He said smiling

"My dear little brother, did you really think I'll let you off when you almost poisoned me to death like that?"

"L-liam, i-i-it was-s-sn't m-me. I s-swear t-to go-god." The figure with his back to the tree said stuttering. His face was bloody and his teeth were broken. He also had trouble speaking because of that.

"Oh, you really think I'll believe you? What a joke little brother. Anyway, you'll die today and there's no changing that." The squatting figure said.

"L-liam, n-no b-big br-brother, p-please, w-we c-c-can settle t-this." The sickly pale figure said.

"Noisy." The squatting figure said and he took the sword which was to his left and chopped the pale looking figure's head off. He got up and was about to burn him down and scatter his ashes to destroy evidence when he felt something. He quickly destroyed all evidence and sat down in a lotus position and meditated.

He tried to feel the magical energy around and he was shocked out of his wits. He was shocked because he could feel even more elemental energies than before!

He was an elite kid and he already had the highest potential like the most elite one million people in this world. He had 6 elemental affinities and now he could feel three more!

This was simply very shocking. He could feel Lightning, Light and Time elemental energies in his surroundings along with his previous Fire, Water, Earth, Wind, Life and Space elemental energies. He was very shocked and he started absorbing the energies and having a better connection with the world.

...

In a small town in Lupin country in Human continent.

An old man was sitting on the street with his mat spread out. There were various old scrolls, colourful stones, rings and a magic crystal ball on the mat. He had black flag that had 'Destiny' written on it in white beside him. He was currently sitting in a lotus position with his eyes closed and he was observing. He opened his eyes and smiled and muttered to himself

"What a fool."

He got up, packed up his things and left with his destiny flag.

....

The black hair and blue eyed guy which was called Liam by the sickly pale figure opened his eyes and stood up. He said to himself excitedly

"If killing people would increase my affinity, I would've done it earlier. Anyway, it doesn't matter. The sooner the better they say so I should hurry up. I'll kill those bastards who helped this piece of shit to poison my predecessor to death and finally give him justice and his well deserved revenge."

A few hours later.

"WHAT THE FUCK?!" WHY ISN'T IT WORKING LIKE BEFORE! WHAT WENT WROOONNGGG!!!!"

The guy named Liam yelled on top of his lungs in a dark room. There were many bloodied dead bodies around his feet and his own hands and face were bloodied. After killing his twin little brother, he went to kill the servants who poisoned him.

He cooked up a story stating that his little brother poisoned him with the help of some servants and then ran away from home after finding that he wasn't poisoned out of fear. He explained all of this to his father who was the family head and his father bought his story.

He was a prodigy in his own clan and he was given a lot of love and attention. He had a very rare 6 elemental affinity to him and this was respected and taken care of by the whole clan. His little brother was bullied and shoved to the side by the clan because he was useless. He was just average with only three element affinities. His reputation was very bad and thus he poisoned his twin big brother for revenge.

The guy named Liam then asked his father that he would punish the servants himself and his father agreed easily. It didn't matter if a few servants died to them. He then killed the first servant in hopes of getting new affinity but it didn't happen. The servant had Dark elemental affinity on him but Liam didn't get it. He panicked and then killed another one who had Death elemental affinity but he still didn't get it.

He killed one people after another and he didn't get any elemental affinity after the first time and he understood what had happend. He was very frustrated and thus he yelled like that.

"FUCK! FUCK! FUCK!"

"FUCK! IF I KNEW THIS WOULD HAPPEN I WOULDN'T HAVE KILLED THAT PIECE OF SHIT LIKE THAT!"

"AHHHHH!!! FUCK MY LUCK!!!"

He kept on yelling in this empty dark room. It was sound proof so it didn't matter how much he yelled. Nobody would be able to listen to him. Finally after a while he stopped and then visibly sighed. He said to himself in a depressed tone

"Why was I so hasty? I should've waited. I really should've waited and not killed that piece of shit. When I reincarnated I was wondering if I got any hack like they used to say in those animes and novels that I read. After I didn't find out any I thought that it was just a bunch of bullshit. But fuck! Fuck my luck is really very bad!

Who knew that my hack was to get the elemental affinity of whosoever I killed first in my life. Now this has been wasted in such a shit way! Ugh, this is so fucking sad. Why was I so stupid like that. If only, if only I killed someone with 6 elemental affinity, I would've become the world's first person who had an all elemental affinity. Why did I do such a shitty thing! Fuck!"

The guy named Liam kept on cursing himself and regretting. He was really regretful and disappointed in himself for wasting his ability like that and it pained him a lot that he wasn't able to become a person with an all elemental affinity. He thought he would be the first one but even if he did become one, he was only bound to get disappointed again.

He then cleaned the bloodied mess and left the dark room and went to his bed and thought

'Fuck it. What's done is done. I am still one of a kind in this world. The maximum elemental affinity is only 7 in this world and I still have 9. I'll be unparalleled if I properly train. I'll become the Hero and make humanity reign supreme in this world. Someone needs to serve justice in this chaotic lawless world. I was a law student in the previous world and couldn't really provide justice well but here it is different now.

These vile creatures of other races sure do not let us humans live in peace. They murder so many humans everyday, it's just sad to know. I'll definitely serve the much needed justice in this world. I have gotten the blessing to have a 9 elemental affinity and I was reincarnated and chosen by the world itself to protect and flourish humanity. I'll become the Hero the world wants me to become and serve the people. I'll be the Hero, the Hero Liam Novius!

Chapter 66: Super Reflexes but...

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

In the training arena, Lith was practicing Archery right now. Alongside him was Lilith, his mother, who was lecturing him on things he needed to do and improve upon while training with the bow and arrows.

Few hours ago, Lith and Lilith were in the bathtub and relaxing. Lith had the thought to do many naughty things with Lilith after bath but being in the warm and comfortable embrace of his mother, he gave up. He didn't want to ruin the lively atmosphere and wanted to start the day with this nice feeling. Him showing his mother that he was a man was only a joke he said before and Lilith definitely wouldn't mind even if he didn't show her if he was a man or not. No matter what, Lith would always be a baby to Lilith.

Lith had already mastered three weapons. The Sword, the Spear and the gauntlets. He had practiced two short range and one long range weapons and was now practicing with his second long range one, the bow.

"Mom, is it really okay to practice a new weapon just a few months away from the entrance test? Not to mention I have other things to improve upon right now." Lith asked, a bit concerned.

It took him 4 years to master the sword. 3 years each to master the Spear and the gauntlets. On top of that, he needed to keep on practicing those three weapons everyday because Lith was growing and he needed to adjust his body according to the movement techniques of the weapons. He really had a packed training schedule and now he his mother had asked him to take up a new weapon. Was this really needed? He asked to himself.

"It is okay. You do trust mama right? So just believe in her and follow the schedule I have given you." Lilith said with a smile.

"If you say so, mom." Lith said and got back to train. He had full trust in his mother and sister and thus he would follow their things religiously. He didn't question again and simply did what he was told to.

....

Auckland city, Villmer country, Human continent.

"Huff...Huff...Huff.."

A man was panting heavily while taking support of the tree near him. He was currently being chased and had ran all the way into the deepest parts of the woods near the Auckland city.

'Why the fuck this happend?' the man thought to himself.

"Yo. Didn't expect me to be here did you?" A black hair and blue eyed youth said after coming out of a tree.

"Y-you, who are you?" The man said in shock. He couldn't believe it. He was being chased by a group of people from a village far from the city all the way upto the forest and now he somehow lost them and had a bit of relief when suddenly someone else appeared now. Was his luck really very bad? He questioned himself.

"Me? Forget about me. Do you remember the girl named Rae who you r*ped a few months ago?" The black hair blue eyed teen said in a neutral tone.

The man tried to remember but he couldn't. How would he be able to remember every girl he fucked in these few months? He thought. He still calmed himself down and said

"What do you want? Money? Power? Beauty? I have a few connections in Auckland and I could get you into the nobility if you want. I also have many beauties available and money to give you if you want."

"Do you think of me as a scum such as yourself?" The teen answered emotionlessly.

The man tried to think of something. Suddenly he had an idea in his mind. He said with a smile

"Hey man, you shouldn't be so rude with your fellow comrade from Earth, should you?"

The teen was taken aback. 'What the fuck? this bastard knows I am reincarnated? No, can't be possible. From my previous life as a law student, I for sure know that this might be a test to check something about me. He must be waiting for me to give an abnormal reaction to such a question. In any case, there's only thing needed to do now'. He thought.

The teen's eyes shone with a silver glint and there was a bright blinding light in the surroundings making the man close his eyes due to so much light. The man didn't understand what just happened but suddenly the light started dimming. It dimmed and dimmed and there was now darkness all around. His thinking stopped and his body fell lifelessly on the ground. His body had no head as it was chopped off in that momentary brilliance.

The teen cast a basic rank 1 stun spell of light element which could make the target feel blinded for a few seconds. He only needed those few seconds to go ahead and chop the man's head off. The man had his spiritual energy drained off by his chasers and the remaining energy was used up for running away deep into the woods. He was very helpless in that moment as he couldn't even cast one spell. Thus, he died by the sword attack of a mere rank 1.

The teen after killing the man once again felt something in his body. He got very happy and almost shed some tears due to happiness. He quickly destroyed all evidence and sat down cross legged and tried to observe what this feeling in his body was. After a few seconds he opened his eyes and stood up. He looked at the tree nearby and ran straight to it.

The teen got very close to the tree. It was almost now so close that he would hit the tree if he moved even a few inches forward. Suddenly, the boy took a step forward but he didn't hit the tree. He was at the back of the tree now. He stopped and muttered to himself

"Interesting. I have super reflexes it seems."

He then ran once again into the tree and then onto the next one and kept on going until BAMM!

The boy hit a tree and fell down. He got up and cast a healing spell on himself and then muttered to himself with a helpless smile

"Sigh. So it is only available for 10 seconds."

He then thought 'Wait. That guy, he said he was from Earth. Was he really saying the truth? If yes, then this world surely would have more people from Earth and they too might have such abilities. Killing him gave me this ability and it probably wasn't a one time thing that I had. Maybe, no, not maybe, I think I should test this out. But where am I supposed to find another earthling?'

The boy paced back and forth and kept wandering around the area where he killed the man. He kept thinking and suddenly said in a little excited tone

"Yes! That may work! Scums of Earth who are doing evil over here need to die. Killing them would benefit this world and having their abilities as mine is just the world rewarding me. There's nothing wrong with this. Alright then, it's time to make my move. I need to prepare as much as I can before the academy entrance."

He then took out a scroll, poured his spiritual energy into it and vanished from the spot.

...

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Lith was currently having a rapid fire questioning round with his mother while battling her flying, with a sword, wrist and ankle weights attached to him.

This was a form of training he had to do almost everyday since the last ten years. Though the intensity wasn't as high as this back then. Right now, he was training his body, swordsmanship, flight ability, reflexes, agility, intelligence, mind as well as his willpower.

He kept dodging and attacking Lilith's attacks on him while giving her answers to the questions she asked. Lilith asked while attacking Lith

"Why does the gravity not affect the beings in the world much even though the world is so huge?"

Lith kept dodging and attacking and his mind drifted a little to think about the answer and

SMACKK!

He got hit on his lower spine from behind and it broke it many pieces. Lith quickly cast Space Jump and teleported away a little and quickly defended himself from the attack that came at his face from Lilith's bare hand. Lilith asked

"What are the coordinates of the moon of the Neutral Continent?"

Lith attacked Lilith after defending himself on her sides with his sword and answered simultaneously

"The coordinates as seen from the Neutral continent itself are..."

Lith answered and attacked Lilith again. This continued on and Lilith asked many questions. Some were questions that not many knew of answers to and yet Lith was able to answer them very well. It was all thanks to Lucy's training of having him to memorize and comprehend things while he was still small. Lith had to study intensively for many hours under great pressure everyday at the end of the day after his other training and this was the result. He had a vast knowledge about things. He didn't have advanced knowledge in science, mathematics and languages but he had a very vast knowledge in them.

He could basically understand roughly about any and every topic talked about but his understanding wasn't very deep. Therefore, he could answer most of Lilith's questions and the ones which he couldn't he would simply say "Next" or "Don't know" so Lilith would change the question. If he skipped questions three times in a row he would have the weight of his wrist and ankles increased which in turn would result in him getting blasted by Lilith.

The training continued for roughly three hours and Lith felt very exhausted. This was only his second day and yet it was so tiring. He had never multi-tasked so much ever before. He had to focus on so many things at once and it felt like his brain was frying due to so much pressure. He nevertheless endured this training. He landed on ground and immediately removed the wrist and ankle weights, retracted his wings and collapsed on his back on the ground.

He was taking in long and deep breaths and was trying to relax. Lilith landed beside him and didn't ask or say anything to him and simply held him in her embrace and started walking out of the arena.

Lith was currently resting his head on his mother's shoulder, his arms wrapped around her neck, his legs dangling to the sides and his butt resting on both of her palms. He was very exhausted and sleepy right now. He took a deep breath and tried to stay awake. He opened his mouth a little, revealing his sharp fangs and he bit on Lilith's neck. He drank her blood for a few seconds and finally fell asleep.

Lilith used her forearm to support Lith and freed one of her hand. She patted on his back and took him to her bedroom to sleep. After arriving in the bedroom, she put him down on the bed and slept beside him herself. She snapped her fingers and Lith got naked and cleaned as well. There were no signs of any sweat or blood on him. Lilith too got cleaned and hugged Lith to sleep.

Chapter 67: Archery Master

Eight months passed.

In these eight months, Lith's everyday routine was pretty much the same. He would wake up, have breakfast, have fun with his mother and his sister sometimes, train, eat Lunch, train again and then finally drink his mother's blood and sleep.

He didn't take Lilith's anal virginity as he kept it as a reward for himself. It was for when he completed his training. It was still the month of October and there were still two more months left before the entrance test.

Today was a big day for him. Well, not a very big day but sort of important day. Today he finally became an Archery Master!

Lith couldn't believe it but it was really happening. He didn't need to take a lot of time to master this weapon. Last time it took him a minimum of three years to master a weapon but now it happened in just eight months! This was simply shocking and exciting to him but he calmed down and somehow understood that the reason for this could be none other than his constitution.

His mother had told him once that the effect of drinking her blood daily would not be shown before but only after he awakens his magic core. This maybe the reason he has gotten such good comprehension ability that made him master a weapon in only 8 months.

He felt very grateful to his mother. Without her, all of this wouldn't be possible. He didn't know how strong he was but he had a feeling that he was very strong. It was all thanks to his mother and sister. His sister made him have a solid foundation, his mother provided him with such a good constitution and also trained him, for all these reasons he felt very grateful to them. He came to love them more and more.

Lilith and Lucy too felt the emotional changes of Lith and were happy that he felt in such a way. Lith took a break today for atleast a week and would spend time with his family in these days. He didn't need to train more as it wouldn't benefit him unless he became a rank 2 but that would take some time.

In all these days of training, he had started to understand the elements well and was almost close to a breakthrough to rank 2. He just needed one epiphany and that was it. To advance, one needed to increase their magic core area and that was done by having a greater understanding of the world along with high spiritual power.

To advance to rank 2 Lith needed to have his magic core area under 10,000km². The most elites only had an area of 2000-3000km² but Lith was different. He already had his magic core area at 4300km² because of all the education he received from Lilith and Lucy and his spiritual power was also very high due to training everyday but despite having his magic core area at such an area, he didn't feel that he had reached rank 2.

Once one ranks up, they understand that they have done it when their magic core colour changes and they feel all their physical attributes increase. Rank 1 magic core colour was plain black from the outside. Rank 2 one was grey. Once one starts to advance into their new rank, the colour starts to change and once it fully changes, it means one has advanced.

All in all, advancement is understood by these signs and to advance one needed to increase the area of their magic core.

Lith's magic core currently was very close to becoming fully grey but it wasn't done yet. Despite him having twice the area of that of elite people. Nevertheless he needed an epiphany to rank up and it wasn't happening anytime soon.

Lith spent his rest of the day today with his mother and sister by watching movies, cuddling and snacking with them.

...

Auckland city, Villmer.

"Hmm, it says that it was supposed to be here. I have been searching for two days for the ruins that was mentioned in the secret scroll." A man in a black robe muttered to himself.

He check around and it had been a few hours but he still couldn't find any entrance to the ruins. He then came in front of a cave and he found some weird fluctuations coming from the inside. He walked in with his guard up. He suddenly felt a great pressure on him. He looked around but he still couldn't find the source of it.

BAMM!

He got hit out of nowhere and hit the wall on the side. He was bleeding with from the back of his head as that was where he had gotten it. He quickly tried to take some healing pills but to a blurry figure came in front of him and smacked his palm on his abdomen or more clearly the area where his magic core was.

The blurry figure left quickly after his strike. The man tried to activate a space scroll to get out of this place as quickly as possible because he realised that it was clearly a trap. There was no ruins here. He tried to use his spiritual power but he couldn't. He realised his magic core had been sealed along with his spiritual power and he started panicking.

"Feeling helpless, aren't you? Think about those people that you stole from and bullied to death by scamming them with such missions. You didn't think you would be scammed into such a thing, did you?" A voice like that of a teenage boy came from the entrance of the cave.

A figure walked in front of the man and it was that of a handsome teen with black hair and blue eyes. He was carrying a longsword in his arms and was walking elegantly to towards him.

"You, who the fuck are you?" The man asked in a slightly angry tone.

"Oh? Angry? The other people were calm unlike you and they even tried to negotiate their life with me. Aren't you going to do the same?" The teen asked.

"Ptui stop with this bullshit scum. I know you want me dead even if I would try to negotiate with you." The man spat at his side and said.

"Oh? Interesting. But it's wrong of you to call me a scum when you, yourself, are one." The teen said in a calm way.

"Were you the one who attacked me just now and sealed my core and spiritual power?" The man asked in an angry tone.

"Obviously not. How can I, a rank 1, hit someone of rank 6 so easily."

"So you hired someone to seal me. Tell me, which bastards relative or friend or whatever are you that you are doing it for?" The man asked in a calm way, his anger gone.

"I am merely a person who likes to bring justice by punishing evil shits like you. Even if I can't do it myself, doesn't mean judgement couldn't be brought up. I simply need to hire people to make them kill you." The teen said in a calm way.

"Why? What benefits are there?" The man asked in an annoyed tone.

"Oh there are none. I was chosen by the world to become the Hero and I am simply doing that. Anyway, you are the only one with whom I have talked in such length. Time for you to repent for the evil deeds you have done." The teen walked in front of the man and chopped off his head.

After the man died, the teen started feeling changes in his body again. He wasn't excited like before as he had experienced this many times. The teen spread rumours stating that there were ruins in Auckland city's outskirts and only accessible by the bloodline descendants of a family from a place called Earth. This was a bait that he gave the Earthlings to lure them in and after those people came over, he checked their backgrounds and when found that they had done even a single crime, he killed them.

Most of the people who came died and only a few had left from the woods alive. He could kill so many people as he simply asked a servant from his family to help him with some work and being a prodigy from a big clan, his family too agreed with his request. There were only a few months left for the Academy entrance test and they thought he might be training or preparing for something, so they let him be.

He killed many Earthlings in these eight months and gained a lot of unique abilities. Of course, half of them were sort of useless and couldn't even compare to the 10 seconds Super Reflexes unique ability. In any case, he had gained big time and he thought he for sure is unparalleled in his own rank with these abilities.

He never displayed his abilities in front of the servant nor his family and he bribed the servant with some precious magic stones and asked him to not talk about anything he did and only tell his family that he was preparing well for the entrance test and that he wanted to surprise them. His family, like always, didn't pry further as they were also anticipating what surprise their prodigy would give them.

The teen waited in the woods for his next prey after killing an Earthling.

...

Two months passed.

Lith spent his time doing nothing but training in these last two months. He hadn't had any sort of fun as he was dedicated to improve himself as much as possible for the Academy entrance test. He had worked very hard in these ten months. The training in these ten months couldn't even compare to the ones he had to in the past ten years of his life.

His training was very brutal. He had talked to his big sister about it and she only said that it was only the starting. She could be even more brutal than this. She then bragged how she herself endured so much painful training when she was just a Saint rank. Lith cut her bragging halfway as he didn't want to listen to the torture she experienced. It was too much for his soft heart to imagine his beloved big sister to get hurt. Even though it was his mother who was torturing her for her own good, he still didn't want to listen.

Lilith was sad when she was too brutal on Lith during training but she composed herself and still gave him that. She didn't feel too sad as this wasn't too much hurtful to him or too brutal like the case of Lucy. Lith only got few broken bones, limbs crushed fully or just his upper or lower body turned into meatpaste. Lilith had done much worse things to Lucy and so she didn't feel this was very brutal to Lith.

Lith had the opposite idea but he still endured it and trained hard. For completing his training, he wanted to take his reward from his mother but he felt like he should save it up. He should do it after the entrance test as that was the thing he was working hard for. After his entrance test, his result would bore fruit and he felt he would be much more satisfied when he took his reward at that time.

Now he was waiting. The opening of the entrance test of Abalax World Academy would be next week. It was always done at the second week of new year's which was also the week when the Neutral Continent experienced a surge of the Magical Energy density of all elements. The density was increased by around 50% for a period of three weeks. In these three weeks when the elemental energies were at the peak in the Neutral Continent, the Academy conducted its entrance test.

In just a week now, rank 1s from all over the world would flood into the academy for the entrance test. Only a week left for the test now.

Chapter 68: Supreme Ranks Meet

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Lith was sitting on a chair in Lilith's bedroom and was looking at her getting dressed up. There was only a week left for the entrance test but Lith was in no hurry at all. He would teleport and go there so it's no problem at all.

Lilith got fully dressed and she was about to leave. She was wearing a simple black dress which was a bit conservative. She wore silver earrings and her hair was tied up in a bun. She looked very elegant and graceful in such a simple dress. She wore black heels which were not too short nor too long. Only her nape was a little visible and half of her forearms and half of her legs. It was definitely very conservative as very less skin was exposed.

She didn't like men staring at her and she would only reveal herself when she was getting intimate with her babies. In any case, she had looked pretty elegant and noble, befitting her status as the Vampire Queen even though she had dressed so plainly.

"You look very beautiful as always, mom." Lith said with a smile.

"Thanks, baby." Lilith walked over to Lith and kissed him and said.

Lucy came inside and looked at her mother. She smiled and asked

"Are you going somewhere, mom?"

"Yes, dear. I told you before, didn't I? The Supreme ranks meeting which occurs every 25 years is today and it will be probably more than a month or two long. Though, I'll try to come back sooner if there's nothing of importance." Lilith explained once again to her kids.

She had already told them about it a few months back but Lucy being busy as a substitute Queen and taking care of Lith, forgot it. So, she once again explained.

"Oh! Right, right, I completely forgot. Anyway, have fun, mom." Lucy walked to Lilith and gave her a peck on her lips and said.

Lilith chuckled and gave a kiss to Lucy on her forehead and said

"Take care of yourself and also your little brother, dear. I'll come back before Lith's entrance test."

Lucy nodded and went over to Lith, sat behind him and put him in her lap while stuffing his face in her big bosoms. She wrapped her arms around his belly and said to Lilith

"Don't worry, mom. Everything will be fine and you don't have to rush to come here."

"Yes, mom. Have fun and don't worry about us. We'll be fine." Lith said smiling.

Lilith smiled and nodded. She had no plans on staying at the meeting for longer. She wanted to watch her baby's performance in the entrance test and nothing mattered more than that. She was only attending the meeting today because Lith had insisted her on doing so.

Lith thought that his mom might miss out on things if she was only taking care of him. She hadn't even gone out in almost fourteen years, as far as he knows. She needed to go out and have fun and so, he insisted on having her go and attend the meeting.

Lilith walked out of the bedroom and Lith looked at Lucy and said smiling

"So, big sis, what to do now?"

"What else? Come I'll teach you some advance general knowledge." Lucy said smiling.

Lith's smile froze. He looked back and saw his sister's smiling face and it looked more like a devil's smile than the gentle smile of his big sister. It was bad news if she was about to teach him something because she was too ruthless. He would get beaten up if he made mistakes. He didn't want to study!

"N-no!" Lith said in a slightly resistant voice.

Lucy smiled evilly looking at her little brother who was resistant to study. He always hated studying and she knew it. There was only a week left for the test and she wanted him to be perfect. He still had some areas that he needed to improve upon and she wouldn't let that go. She chuckled and flew away while carrying him in her arms.

...

Lilith walked out of the bedroom and onto the highest rooftop of the castle. She looked around and saw the familiar and common sight of the surroundings of the castle. The castle stood on top of a very high cliff. Below the cliff was water or more precisely, the Dark Rose forest Lake.

Surrounding the castle in all directions, a few kilometres away from the area where the castle stood on the cliff, was the Dark Rose forest. There were tall trees, bushes, grasses and more importantly, dark roses almost everywhere growing wildly in the forest. The roses had made a fence around the edge of the forest adding to the beauty of it. The darkness of Vampire continent, along with the gloomy and dark forest with dark roses, the still lake and the little silver and crimson brilliance from silver-crimson moon was very stunning.

Though Lilith had seen it almost everyday, it still seemed beautiful to her. She wasn't a emotionless, cold and detached from the world type of woman. She understood the world the most and she appreciated it more than anyone else. She was a god and she behaved like one in front of everyone except for her children and friends. She didn't purposefully behave like that. It was natural to her. Becoming a God wasn't easy and the various experiences and predicaments had made her act like one subconsciously and very naturally.

She doesn't have a switch that makes her turn motherly in front of her children or like a god in front of others. It occurred naturally. She loved her children more than anything and she didn't even care about other people, why would she be gentle or kind to them? Thus, behaving like a god was only natural.

After looking at the scenery for a while, Lilith took a deep breath. She opened her majestic and sacred wings and flapped them once. Just one flap and she vanished from the spot she was in. Lilith wanted to stretch out and fly for a bit. She hadn't made use of her wings in a very long time and thought it would be nice to look around and fly over to the destined place of the meeting.

...

Lenz Tower, Espat.

Lenz Tower was the tallest and the most dazzling and Exquisite looking skyscraper in the whole world. It was the headquarters of the Council of the Neutral Continent. It was located in Lenz city which was named after the Lenz Tower itself. So calling the city as Lenz city or saying Lenz Tower meant one and the same thing to everyone. The Lenz Tower was located in the Espat country in Neutral Continent.

There were a total of five countries and Espat was one of them and also the biggest and located at the center of the other four countries.

The Supreme ranks meeting was being held at the highest floor of the Lenz Tower. It was solely reserved for them and nobody dared to enter inside or more correctly, nobody could enter inside. To enter, one needed to inject a little bit of the Supreme rank aura into the lock of the door of the highest floor and nobody could do it except for the Supreme ranks themselves. It was made by Florencia Rain, Queen Mother of the Witches. Also, cleaning and maintenance of the highest floor was automatic and done by magic circles.

The highest floor was 10,000km above the ground. The skyscraper was only one tenth the height of the World Tree. To make it even bigger, a lot of man power would be needed even with the help of magic and many Emperor ranks and Supreme ranks themselves would need to work, which they clearly didn't want to and so, the tallest artificial building in the whole world was only 10,000km long.

There are a few ancient taller buildings than this, but they are in the other dimensions and so, Lenz Tower was the tallest in the main world.

Currently, at the highest floor, there laid a big brown round table. There was a black carpet laid on the ground. The walls were white and the ceiling had lights in a rectangular manner all over it, making the room well lit. Touching the round table were nine soft and comfortable black chairs. Away from the table in a semicircle laid many arch shape sofas. They too were soft and comfortable.

At the round table sat 8 people. There were 4 men and 4 ladies. The 4 men sat together and the 4 ladies sort of opposite to them. There was an empty seat in between two ladies.

Starting from left side of the empty seat there was Dragon Empress Mayzin, Demon Queen Lucifer, Heavenly Emperor Alex Paladin, Dragon Emperor Dagassi, Werewolf King Anderson Fenrir, Human Ancestor Darren Whitter, Queen Mother of Witches Florencia Rain and finally, Elven Queen Agalea Grace.

These eight people almost made up a circle but one seat was left empty and so the circle wasn't completed. On the empty seat's left side was Mayzin and on the right was Agalea and in between both were the above mentioned people.

Surrounding the big round table, there were many other Supreme ranks. These were the people who called the ones sitting at the round table as seniors. They attend each meeting and take tips and advices from the seniors. Previously, they were only 7 but now the number as gone to 8 due to the addition of a new Supreme rank. It is the one who was taken as a subordinate by Darren Whitter when he got beaten to half death by Alex, Agalea and Darren himself.

There were two or three people sitting at one sofa and in front of the sofa was a rectangular table. The table had a certain white coloured magic circle. One tap onto it and food and beverages would be served. Similar circle was present in front of each person on the round table.

These people were discussing about certain affairs or mainly chatting normally. There was no animosity in between them and they were talking normally.

While they were chatting, the door to the meeting room opened and everyone's attention was onto the person that came in. The atmosphere became very heavy as the person entered the room. Even though they were all Supreme ranks, they still felt such a heavy pressure. The only exceptions were Lucifer, Mayzin, Agalea and Alex.

Lilith had entered the room and her aura leaked naturally. She had always retracted her aura when she was around her children but when she went out, it would naturally flow out of her. She would control her aura around her kids and when she went out, she would let go of the control. She didn't feel uncomfortable in retracting her aura and she would let it go only because she wanted people to know of the place they belonged and not do anything stupid in front of her.

Previously, a new Supreme rank thought that Lilith was a Supreme rank like him and it would only be slightly difficult to beat her but if he could, he would then have a way with such a peerless beauty. So, lust and greed took better of him and he assaulted her and as an end result, got himself wiped off the face of the world and the reincarnation cycle itself. After that, his whole gene pool was killed and Lilith had made sure that none of them could ever reincarnate.

A single mistake costed the man very dearly and everyone in the meeting room at that time had never dared to underestimate Lilith even in their wildest dreams. Each newcomer would be educated well by everyone else present to not mess with Lilith or even dare to look at her. They warned the others because of fear that Lilith might attack them too in rage. It was better to be safe than sorry.

Lilith too had learned her lesson clearly that, even though she had become a God, she needed to act like one or certain fools would not know their place.

Her aura affected everyone present except for her friends and also Alex. Alex was exempted because he had good relations with Lilith and also because he was Lucifer's grandfather and was very kind to her. Alex and Lilith weren't friends but they weren't strangers to each other either. They could be said to be acquaintances of each other due to Lucifer being the middleman. Thus, he too was an exception like Lilith's other friends.

Except these four people who sat calmly in their place and looked at the entrance with a smile, the others had a cold sweat on their back. They had all experienced it before but they still couldn't help but feel a little fear whenever Lilith arrived. They knew that offending Lilith was not a good thing and Death could only be the best case scenario in such a case. As for the worst case scenario, they didn't even dare to think.

The newcomer, the subordinate of Darren Whitter, Arbour Linn, also had cold sweat on his back. He too felt fear like everyone else when he looked at Lilith walking towards the empty seat from the entrance. Only now did he understand why he was warned so much by Darren to not offend the Vampire Queen.

That's right, his boss, Darren Whitter, never said Lilith's name to him and only called her by her title, that is, the Vampire Queen. Only now did he understand as to why even his boss never dared to take her name lightly. He could clearly feel that this beautiful woman which now sat at the empty chair was very strong. Even stronger than the three people who attacked and beat him to half death. She alone could kill him, he felt it himself.

Arbour was very stiff and tensed. Not only him, everyone else too was the same. The other people who were present during the time a Supreme rank got killed by Lilith in this very meeting room still had some lingering fear and the ones who weren't present, only had respect and awe for Lilith as they could feel that she was very strong. They viewed her as their idol and source of their worship.

Lilith sat on the empty seat and looked around. She could clearly see everyone was tense but she didn't bother to ask them to relax. She didn't do anything to them to feel so stiff and tense and she had only released her aura.

The ones who felt very fearful of her were the ones who had some impure thoughts about her and they would always think up of the various scenarios in their mind about what would happen to them when they acted on such thoughts. The results of their own made up scenarios would only make them more fearful.

The others who had nothing but respect and awe, Lilith didn't bother with them either. If she gave them attention, they would ask her many questions and annoy her to death. Thus, Lilith sat quietly on her chair and didn't say anything to others.

One important point that Arbour noticed in the room was that Lilith's chair was the very head. She had no one facing her with their backs and from this alone, Arbour realised how much respect everyone showed to her. Or on the contrary, he thought that no one wanted to offend her even in the slightest and thus she had her seat at such a place.

Lucifer looked at Lilith, who, like always, didn't even bother to ask the other people to relax or say anything to initiate a conversation. She smiled and asked

"Hey, Bitch. Shouldn't you say Hi to me when you come over?"

Arbour felt very tense. He almost had the feeling that Doomsday could arrive any time now. He felt more stiff and tense than before. He looked at Lucifer and thought

'Lady, if you want to die, why involve the others?'

Chapter 69: Supreme Ranks Meet (2)

"Hey, Bitch. Shouldn't you say Hi to me when you come over?"

Arbour felt very tense. He almost had the feeling that Doomsday could arrive any time now. He felt more stiff and tense than before. He looked at Lucifer and thought 'Lady, if you want to die, why involve the others?'

It was not only him but few others too felt the same. The ones at the round table didn't feel anything nor did they showed any reaction.

Lucifer didn't notice his gaze and only looked at Lilith with a smile.

Lilith looked at Lucifer and smiled. She said

"Hi, Lucifer."

She then looked at Mayzin and Agalea and said with a smile

"Hi, Mayzin. Hi, Agalea."

"Hello, Lilith." Mayzin said in her melodious voice.

"Hello, sis. What took you so long?" Agalea said in her sweet voice.

Mayzin, Agalea and Lucifer, although looked upto Lilith as a big sister type of figure and even considered her as their sister, didn't call her as such and only showed their feelings via emotions and actions. Agalea was an exception. She would from time to time call Lilith sis or by her name when she felt like it or even randomly.

Arbour relaxed a little but then tensed up again. He thought 'what the fuck? How could someone be so casual in front of such a monster? Do they not feel her aura?'

The other people on the round table looked at Lilith and said with a formal smile

"Greetings, Vampire Queen."

Nobody dared to take her name directly and they didn't let the fact that three people on this very table had called her 'Bitch', 'Lilith' or 'sis' get into their head and make them stupid. They, like always, greeted her with her title formally. They also knew that the Vampire Queen only attended these meetings because her friends do it and she didn't care one bit about them.

Alex looked at Lilith and said with a smile

"Greetings, Lilith."

He was an acquaintance of Lilith and so he acted like one. This had been going on for ages.

The other people sitting in the room except for the ones on the round table, stood up and slightly bowed and said

"Greetings, Your Excellency."

Arbour too stood up looking at these people greeting the person at the head seat like that. He too greeted Lilith in fear.

This type of respect was only given to Lilith and as for the others, they were called with senior as prefix along with their first name. For example 'Senior Alex' or 'Senior Florencia' etc.

"Greetings."

Lilith looked around, nodded and said. She didn't bother to greet anyone individually. As for Alex, he greeted her at the same time when everyone else was doing and so it was his own fault that he got such a response.

Nobody felt offended at such a response from her. They were used to it. Except for Arbour. He was new and this was his first time. He was very shocked by looking at the Vampire Queen's indifference. She didn't even bother to smile let alone greet people with their names or titles. She didn't even look at his boss whom he considered atleast a little powerful. Now he was having second thoughts on whether his boss was powerful or did he just win against him on whim because of the help of Heavenly Emperor and Elven Queen.

Anyway, he had no choice but to bow down. It was his own fault for being arrogant and causing a ruckus for no reason and now getting into such a situation. Beggars cannot be choosers and he had to follow Darren now. Though it was like this, he swore in his mind that he would not offend the Vampire Queen even in his wildest dreams. He had heard of the story of a newcomer assaulting her and his fate. And the way people treated her right now and the way she herself treated everyone, confirmed everything for him.

He would beat up his own boss if he asked him to offend the Vampire Queen, he had such a determination made in his mind.

Darren Whitter was oblivious to these thoughts of his subordinate Arbour Linn. He only gave the Vampire Queen a meaningful look while greeting her, which covered many of his thoughts and then continued minding his own business.

Lilith then looked at Agalea and said with a smile

"I wasn't even planning to come. My son insisted on making me attend this meeting. Anyway, I flew all the way here. The Belial Ocean was as amazing as before. You should take a look sometimes."

"Oh, I see. So when did you leave from the Castle?" Agalea asked in an interested look.

"About 5 minutes ago." Lilith said with a smile.

"Oh, Interesting. You were able to enjoy the view in 5 minutes?" Agalea asked in her sweet voice again.

'WHAT??!!! LADY YOU ARE ASKING THE WRONG QUESTION WHAT THE FUCK!' Arbour yelled in his mind. He couldn't even believe that Lilith flew all the way here from the Vampire Continent in 5 minutes.

It took atleast half a day if a Supreme rank travelled in full speed from the one continent to the Neutral continent. There were very massive and big oceans seperating the Neutral Continent on all four sides and it was a very atrocious deed.

Arbour knew that the Neutral Continent was literally in between the other 8 continents and it was surrounded by 4 oceans. The Belial in the north, Ganzam in south, Treant in west and Miran in East were the four oceans on the four sides of the Neutral Continent that one needed to cross if they were to have plans to fly over from their continent. The Oceans were super massive. Each ocean was even bigger than a whole continent. The world had not even discovered 1% of the whole Ocean areas and only the outer edges near the continents were explored.

Even a Supreme rank needed atleast half a day and this lady here had done it in 5 mins. 5 bloody minutes to cross the whole of Belial Ocean! This was a very shocking thing that Arbour had heard and learned of today. Also, judging from the tone and the way the people were speaking, he fully believed that whatever the silver haired lady said, is for sure true. He once again became even more determined with his plans.

"Yes. It was nice. I found an ancient ruins of a Mermen clan. You can go explore if you want. The coordinates are..." Lilith said with a smile. She even shared the coordinates as if it were no big deal to her.

The ones sitting in the room were no stupid people. They understood what the Vampire Queen meant when she shared the coordinates. 'You can go explore it if you want, share me some loot and as for the rest, I do not care.' is what everyone thought that the Vampire Queen's actions meant.

They obviously would share the loot with the Vampire Queen for providing coordinates later if they found any and would not cheat her. The fear to not cheat was obvious.

Lilith on the other hand, didn't pry into the thoughts of other people. She simply shared the coordinates because it was a trivial thing to her. The people in the room clearly misunderstood Lilith but even if Lilith knew about it, she wouldn't care.

"Thankyou. I'll ask some people to explore and share the loot with you." Agalea said in a happy tone.

"Do as you please." Lilith said with a smile. She didn't bother to say no to her as she knew Agalea's nature. She wouldn't budge even if she said no, so why waste her breath onto it? Lilith thought and said so.

"Hey, you said you wouldn't come if your son didn't push you to come here. What was the reason for not attending?" Lucifer asked in her cheerful tone.

"He's attending the Abalax entrance test next week. I want to see it and be there for him. So, I obviously didn't want to come." Lilith said with a smile in a gentle tone.

Everyone present in the room made a mental note on whatever Lilith said. They had gotten fresh news that the Vampire Queen's son would be attending the Academy test and it was a pretty big news. They were also a little surprised and shocked thinking why would the Vampire Queen let out such news?

Nevertheless, they made a note that, this news should be spread and people should be on a look out for it. Nobody should offend the Vampire Queen's son and bring calamity in their whole race. They therefore, had to spread the news!

The handsome man with blonde hair done in a fade cut and blue eyes and a lean build, Alex, looked at Lilith with a confused look. He didn't understand why would Lilith say this in front of everyone. People in the room might be afraid of her but some people for sure would be stupid enough to do try weird things. He then quickly brushed those thoughts aside. It had nothing to do with him and he shouldn't poke his nose into gossips of ladies.

"Ooooh! Right, right! He's at that age now! I even forgot I had a nephew for a while. It's your fault, you bitch! You banned me! If you didn't I wouldn't have forgotten, hmph!" Lucifer had a wave of emotions when she said it.

Mayzin, Agalea and Lilith chuckled at Lucifer's words. Lucifer was clearly Lucifer, no matter the time or place. They even felt a bit of pity for Adriel, her assistant, who acted like a middleman between her and the 7 Demon Kings. She had to run so many errands everyday due to Lucifer being a lazy bum.

Lucifer then looked at her side and said to Alex

"Hey old man, make an artifact right now. Something that'll help my Nephew. Making something related to Light. He shouldn't have Light as his weakness just because he is a Vampire. C'mon, do it."

Alex shook his head helplessly and so did Agalea, Mayzin and Lilith. This was clearly Lucifer's nature. She was too lazy to create an artifact herself as it would take quite a bit of effort from her and in the end resorting to asking her grandfather to do it for her. This was a common occurrence.

Alex didn't mind his granddaughter's request and complied with it. He took out a small cross which had a small chain to it, indicating that it could be used as an earring. He started inscribing magic circles onto it and used a bit of his spiritual power. He made it as good as possible and usable for a rank 1. He couldn't make too high level artifact as the boy wouldn't be able to use it, he thought and made a nice artifact.

After a few minutes of work, he was done. A white and dazzling cross was in his palms now. He gave it to Lilith and said in his gentle and benevolent tone, with a smile

"This must be worn as an earring. It is a light artifact. Any Light elemental attacks would be useless upto rank 6. This would also help him in casting Light spells twice as fast as before and would only use half of his spiritual power. May the Light be with him and you."

"Thankyou, Alex." Lilith said with a smile.

"Hey, hey, Thank me! Not him! I am the one who asked to him to make this. I am a great aunt. You should tell my Nephew this!" Lucifer said hurriedly.

Lilith chuckled and didn't say anything.

Arbour was very shocked. A Supreme rank made such an artifact just like this? On top of that, another Supreme rank ordered a Supreme rank, more correctly, the Emperor of all Angel Kings, Alex Paladin to make an artifact for someone else and even disrespected by calling him old man. He didn't look old from any angle! What is with this group of people!

Arbour cursed in his mind. He couldn't even guess the relationship between the pretty black haired lady with red horns and the handsome fade cut blonde hair man with blue eyes. They didn't even have any similarity, not to mention the way they talked was completely opposite. One was very calm and his voice made Arbour relaxed and the other was just very playful and free. Arbour had a headache to even guess what their relationship was. He shoved those thoughts aside and didn't want to dwell on it.

Arbour just hoped to not get any more surprises or shocks.

The atmosphere in the room gradually became relax as the people in the room forced themselves to relax. They would be okay as long as they didn't bother the Vampire Queen.

Soon, some people started talking among themselves and Mayzin, Agalea, Lilith and Lucifer too talked.

Alex would time to time join in on the conversation with Lilith if Lucifer asked for his opinion or would more or less talk with Dagassi, the Time Dragon or with the other people.

Florencia had made some notes today. She would leave as soon as the day before the entrance test and warn every Witch to not take on requests regarding the Vampire Queen's son and offend her. She had seen the demise of not one, not two but four Supreme ranks in the hands of Lilith! Killing Supreme ranks was as easy as cutting grass for Lilith. She didn't want to offend Lilith at any cost or she knew that getting her whole race wiped out would be a sure shot thing.

Lilith had killed the Vampire King because he tried to forcefully marry her, killed two guys after collecting their seeds and one guy in the meeting room for trying to assault her. Florencia knew these much better than anyone. She had both, deep respect and fear for Lilith. The strong respected the strong and it was true in her case.

Though the Witches were a neutral faction, she would choose Lilith's side if need arises in the future without thinking twice. As for now, everything was okay and she didn't think too much about it. She only had one thought right now. It was to warn the other Witches as soon as possible.

Chapter 70: Emergency Meeting in Academy

Time passed. The test was only a day later.

The meeting of the Supreme ranks went on normally. Nothing too shocking or major was revealed by Lilith and the ladies talked normally together. She went home to meet Lith who had been practicing with Lucy about advance general knowledge.

The Witch Queen Mother, Florencia Rain, warned all of the Witches through their communication systems and it caused another small uproar. The Witches were warned in the same way as before and they understood one thing very clearly, it was, not to pry into informations of the Royal family of the Vampires. They all calmed down as they were only told to be careful about the Vampire Royal family and they could still do basically anything and everything.

News also spread everywhere because of the Supreme ranks that they Vampire Prince would be attending the Abalax World Academy's entrance test. This obviously reached the Academy itself and they too were in an uproar.

The Abalax World Academy was funded by the Council of Neutral Continent. The Academy at first was managed by the 8 races in turns but later as the students graduated and became powerful, they contributed to their Alma mater by working in it for part time or full time and some even permanently took their place in the management of the Academy as it was a well paid job and they could relax their whole long life with this much amount of money.

Thus, it only needed funds and those were provided by the Council of Neutral Continent and it's management was self reliant now. People would actively seek jobs and so, there was no loss of man power in the administration of the Academy.

Many high ranking people or powerhouses would come to be a part of the Academy because of it's good pay. The Council also didn't have too much of a burden to fund the academy as students and the families of the student would donate actively every year. The Academy was open to donations online as well as offline and so, funds came flooding in every year by students, Alumni and Alumnae, families of students, organizations etc.

The 8 main races too provided funds to the academy from decade to decade or in terms of emergency when the academy was short on funds, which never really happend.

All in all, funds weren't an issue and so, the students didn't need to pay a single penny from their pocket. They only needed to have potential and be hardworking and upto the standards of the Academy each year and that was basically it.

Though funds were good, pay was high and the job seemed easy, it didn't mean that there weren't headaches the management faced. Such a situation was occuring right now and as the whole management of the Academy was in an uproar.

...

Abalax World Academy, Lenz city, Espat.

Inside the Principal's office.

A beautiful blonde hair lady with blue eyes, who looked to be in her 20s was sitting behind a desk and was checking through various papers. She wore big round gold rim glasses and looked very scholarly and elegant. Though she was very beautiful and elegant, there was a slight frustrated look on her oval face.

"Why did the news of the Vampire Prince attending the Academy only had to be out a day before the entrance test?"

She muttered to herself in a frustrated but also in a rich and smooth voice.

"Sigh. I don't get paid enough to handle so many things. What is that damned Vice Principal doing in such times?" She said in a bit of anger but still in the same rich and smooth tone.

She tapped on a ringer bell present at one end of her table and after the ding sound was made, a lady came in. She said in a neutral tone

"Do you need something, madam?"

"Yes. Call for an emergency meeting. I need every staff member of the academy to be present in the auditorium." The blonde lady said in her rich and smooth tone.

"Okay." The lady said and went away.

...

There were three powerhouses in the academy. The three naturally were Emperor ranks. The place didn't need more than that as there was literally no need. The Academy's security was ensured by being managed directly by the Council of the Neutral Continent which is managed by the main 8 races and secondly it was in the neutral continent where fights above rank 9 are strictly prohibited.

To solve conflict in the Neutral Continent, one needed to send a letter to the Council and it would take a long time to get processed and get a response. There were also zones available to fight and outside of it, fighting would result in serious penalties.

The Neutral Continent, was really neutral. Anyone from any race could live here freely without conflicts. This was a safe heaven for everyone. Even criminals could live here freely as long as they didn't do any harm to anyone. The five countries which are the habitable place on the Neutral Continent, have many magic circles embedded on the ground and in the sky.

One only needed to activate a certain seal which was given to them at any nearby store of any kind for free. It could be activated by spiritual power and that would send signal for help to officials and someone in the patrol team, if free, could directly teleport near the one who sent the signal.

This basically ensured no crimes and thus there was no reason to worry for security of the Academy at all. Having two Emperor rank was more than enough. This was the only academy in the world which houses two Emperor ranks. Others did not have such privilege.

The Principal generally had more powers than anyone in the academy as he/she was directly in contact with the council. The council appoints the Principal by a series of tedious process and then selects one. To become a Principal of Abalax World Academy is very difficult even for Emperor ranks. Thus, the principal's words were absolute in the academy and so were his/her orders.

The whole staff came into the auditorium and got seated according to their heirarchy. The highest rank was the Emperor rank and the lowest was rank 6. The rank 6s were usually cleaning and maintenance staff. They were seated at the back and the important department heads were all in the front.

The auditorium was very big. It was currently well lit up. There was a brown wooden stage at the front which had a podium with a mic on it at the center. It was currently empty, the whole stage was empty infact.

People were sitting and discussing why they were called for such a sudden meeting but some had a rough idea and they shared their ideas. Soon, the Vice Principal came and he too got seated at the front row in the audience. He was a little nervous because he for sure would get yelled for not doing his job properly but he still kept himself composed and looked forward to the meeting.

Soon, a beautiful lady with blonde hair and blue eyes that looked to be in her late 20s walked towards the podium coming from the backstage. She was wearing white shirt, black skirt, black stockings, black heels and a black blazer. It was a simple and exquisite business suit that befitted her status as the Principal. She walked wirh elegant steps towards the podium and took the mic in her hand and leaned over and said in her rich and smooth tone

"This emergency meeting is regarding the Vampire Prince who will be attending the entrance test the day after tomorrow."

The audience all became quiet. They listened carefully to what the principal was saying. The lady continued

"First, let me ask you a question. Who all know about the Vampire Prince? Anything about him. His name, face or his looks, anything, even the smallest detail would be okay to share. Raise your hands but do not say anything."

Three people raised their hands out of the few hundred staff members that were present.

"Go backstage and wait for me there. Do not speak or do anything."

The three people got up and left. The three people were the department heads of Dark, Space and Lighting elements.

"Now, whoever has seen the Vampire Queen's portrait or knows information about the Royal family of the Vampires raise your hands and do not speak."

A few people raised their hands and the vice principal was one of them.

"Good. Go backstage and wait for me and do not speak even a little to anyone until further instructions."

They all stood up and got to backstage. After reaching backstage the Vice Principal looked around and said

"Hey, why do you think she has been doing this?"

Everybody looked at him and then moved a little distance away. They didn't want to disobey the Principal's words and they knew the Vice Principal hated the Principal and would do anything to disobey her even if it was unreasonable. They didn't want to be a part of it and so smartly distanced themselves from him.

The Vice Principal looked around and saw everybody moving away from him. He snorted and said

"Hmph. Don't answer if you don't want to. Once I become the Principal, we'll see how you disobey like this again."

Nobody responded to him nor entertained his words. He has made such comments before too and the people in the room were used to it.

Back in the auditorium, the Principal looked at the remaining people and said calmly

"Those who had any little information about the Royal family of Vampires have gone to backstage and I assume the ones remaining here do not know anything about them. You also haven't seen the portrait of the Vampire Queen, correct?"

Everyone nodded.

"So, for your own safety, do not be biased in this entrance test to anyone you have taken money from. Be fair as much as possible or you will regret it. Not only you, if anything wrong were to happen in the examination and the Vampire Queen's son became a victim of it directly or indirectly, the whole Academy would be razed to the ground.

You would have no life left let alone any signs of existing the academy. If you cherish your life, please take my words seriously. Getting killed by a Supreme rank is not something you can imagine. Reincarnation or resurrection possibilities are a solid zero. If you die in their hands, you die completely. This is not an order from me but a warning. A warning to not do anything foolish in this examination as well as the upcoming 5 year period when the Vampire Queen's son is in the academy.

Return the money you have taken, be open and fair to every candidate, even if the candidate is a commoner or even a beggar. Do not discriminate or even try to have prejudice against anyone. I sincerely request you all because I want this Academy to exist and stay standing in the future and produce generation after generation of prodigies."

Everyone was shocked. They had never had such a warning and request at the same time. They couldn't believe their ears. A strong powerhouse such as the Principal was afraid of a mere rank 1? No, it was not correct to call it that way. She was afraid of offending the backing behind the rank 1. This was clearly seen from her tone and request.

The people in the auditorium realised the gravity of the situation. They would cancel all their plans they had and return the money they had taken. Their life mattered more to them than some money. Money could be earned but their life, that cannot.

Though strict action was taken against people who were doing things unfairly and with bias, some form of corruption was still inevitable. Thus, the Abalax World Academy was the only place in the world where bias was present but it was of a very very low degree. Even a commoner stood a chance here but some nobles who paid hefty price had better chances than them.

The Principal then said in her same rich and smooth tone

"All students in the academy are to be given holiday and be sent home. They would be called back once the entrance test is over and the new semester ceremony has taken place. Until then, the academy must remain empty. All staff members who were out for certain tasks are to be called back and informed about this meeting as soon as possible.

All the staff members who are not in the organizing team of the entrance test are to help and take part in the entrance test this year. No one should be left idle and this year's test must be as perfect as possible. Thankyou for your time, have a nice day."

The Principal said her closing line and left abruptly. She didn't wait to clear doubts of people and quickly went backstage. This bunch of people she would be dealing with was even more troublesome!

Chapter 71: Pig Brain

The blonde lady went backstage into a small room. The room had a big window, a few chairs, a board and a desk in front of the board. Everyone from auditorium that came into the room had been seated onto the chairs and they were currently waiting for the Principal to come.

Soon, the blonde lady walked into the room and stood behind the desk placed in front of the board. She then looked at the people seated and she talked to them about the same thing that she talked to the audience outside. She then asked who knew of the appearance of the Vampire Queen and the name of the Royal family of Vampires and a few people among those seated knew of it.

She made them all sign a confidential contract of King rank which stated that they were not to leak any information of whatever they knew about the Vampire royal family and that they would treat this year's entrance test and the this year's batch fairly without any bias. After everyone was done signing the contract, the blonde lady said in a neutral tone

"If, by any chance, you still think this is a joke and are still ignorant enough to not understand the gravity of the matter, you can confirm it by asking any Witch, by any, I really mean it, even a rank 1 witch would do. You can go to a Witch and ask her if she could help you in breaking this contract. Oh right, you have to mention that it's about the Royal family of the Vampires first. If you get into trouble with the Witches for it, don't blame me later."

The people in the room did understand the seriousness of the matter and they weren't really as ignorant as the Principal made them out to be. They were all high ranking members of the Academy and also in their respective Clans, families and organizations.

They weren't stupid, well, exceptions were always present and the Vice Principal was the one who didn't really believe the Principal's words. He thought she was doing all of this merely to show her authority and he would himself go and test it out first. He thought to himself 'Just wait, bitch. Once I expose you, your seat is mine.'

Everyone left the room and the Principal sat on one of the chair placed in the room. She sighed out of exhaustion and rested the back of her head onto the edge of the chair's back. She called in her secretary who was standing outside and made her massage her for shoulders for a while.

She thought to herself while getting massaged 'Sigh. This is so tiring. Why did such an event have to occur during my term. It has only been 20 years since I got appointed as a Principal.'

She closed her eyes and tried to relax herself from all the things she had to go through.

...

Lenz city, Espat.

A black hair, brown eyed man with a lean build, wearing a black shirt tucked inside the grey pants which also had a black belt on it with a silver buckle and black shoes was walking along an alley and after crossing it, he came into an abandoned house and sat on a chair in one of the rooms.

He texted a number stating the said person to come to the meeting place as he had something urgent work.

Soon, a white magic circle appeared in front of the man and a lady wearing a veil, a big black pointy hat and a purple robe that covered every part of her body, arrived out of it. She looked at the man and said in a neutral tone

"I charge extra for calling me for such emergencies, just in case you forgot."

"I know. Anyway, help me break a contract." The man said in a husky voice.

"Tell me what it is about first." The lady said in a neutral tone again.

"Why do you wanna know? You just need money right? Just help me break it and you'll get it. It's just a King rank contract. You can easily do it."

"No." The lady didn't even bother to explain herself or ask for anything else. She, like every other Witch, had been warned to not deal with any things regarding Clan Evure and breaking bonds thus had to be done very cautiously. It may accidentally cause leakage of some information about Clan Evure and so, it was better to be cautious.

Like her, every Witch now a days has been asking roughly what the information is about the contract and only then were they breaking it. If a person didn't answer, they would simply not help them even if they paid a lot of money.

"Oi, don't you just need money? Why are you refusing the job?" The man said in an annoyed tone.

"It's none of your business. Tell me what the contract is about or we do not have a deal in anything. You can call any other Witch for it and she too would give you the same answer. In any case, without you telling me what it is, I am not breaking it." The lady said in a neutral tone once again.

"Tsk. It's about the Royal families of the Vampires."

The lady's eyes opened wide. She was a little shocked as to what she was hearing. She had a cold sweat on her back right now. 'T-thankfully, thankfully, I didn't succumb to greed and first waited for a response. Oh mother, I would surely have died today if I acted in greed.' she thought to herself.

She hurriedly said to the man

"I won't help you break it, nor will anyone else. This is a warning from me and my other sisters, do not dare to mess with this contract or try to reveal whatever information you are holding from it. Getting blacklisted by us Witches would only be the best case scenario for you."

She then left without saying anything more.

The man sat there dumbfounded. He was very shocked by the response of the Witch in front of him. 'Weren't Witches supposed to be greedy? Money didn't work? What the hell happend?' he thought to himself.

He then took out his phone and called a certain someone. The other side picked it up and said

"What's the problem Eric?"

"I had been asked to sign a King rank contract and to break it, I contacted a half Emperor rank Witch but she gave me a warning and left. She said getting blacklisted by the Witches would only be the best case scenario for me if I did something stupid like this again. What is going on? Weren't Witches able to do anything and everything with a little money?" The man hurriedly explained.

"What did the contract state?" The person from the other side asked.

"It says to not leak any information regarding the Royal family of the Vampires." The man said.

"Idiot! What the fuck is stuffed in your pig brain? Have I not told you repeatedly not to mess with anything regarding that family?" The person yelled from the other side.

"Hey, hey, but that bitch, the Principal said stuff exaggerating so much. She was clearly trying to display her authority. She called an emergency meeting and warned everyone to not mess with anything regarding that family and if we did, the academy would be razed to the ground and everyone would be killed. Isn't this too exaggerated?" The man hurriedly explained once again.

"BASTARD! YOU FUCKING IDIOT. HAS YOUR JEALOUSY FOR THE SEAT OF THE PRINCIPAL MADE YOU A PIECE OF SHIT?" The person from the other side roared.

"Hey, hey, hey, calm down man."

After a few seconds, the person from the other side said

"Eric, for the love of magic, just for once, listen to the Principal and do not be stupid enough to do such stunts again. If you get killed due to your greed for the Principal seat, it would again be occupied by someone else, so, for once, do not be stupid and don't pull such stunts.

The Witch you called only gave you a warning because you do business with her regularly. If it were someone else, you would have died already even without knowing how you died."

The man called Eric became very shocked. He gasped hard and after a few seconds, he said

"I am very sorry. This won't happen again."

"It better not or I'll have to come and personally kill you. BEEP" The person from the other side said and hung up abruptly.

"Sigh. So she was stating the truth and not displaying her authority. Thankfully, thankfully I contacted that Witch and got warned beforehand." The man sighed and shook his head.

He got up and left the building. He walked towards the teleportation circle in the Lenz city and his destination of was the Abalax sky island where the Academy was located.

...

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Lilith, Lucy and Lith were currently sitting at the dining table near the bed where Lith ate his food everyday. Lith was hugged by Lucy and was in her lap while both were sitting opposite to Lilith and listening to her talk about the things that happend in the meeting of the Supreme ranks.

Lucy then said

"Hey, mom. Why did you tell aunt Agalea the coordinates in open and not secretly and also why would you so casually mention the ruins to her when we can profit from it?"

"I don't really care if other people heard it and went there. I said it because doing discovering the ruins by ourselves is too much of a hassle. We can simply sit and enjoy the share of the pie when others work very hard for it.

Agalea brought up the topic of Belial Ocean and I simply said what I saw to her without thinking. Others heard it too and only later did I realise what I said. Anyway, people would share the loot without fail, so we are not making a loss." Lilith said in her gentle tone.

"Mom, why would they do it? Won't they cheat with you?" Lith asked in a confused tone.

"Fufufu...they don't dare to, baby." Lilith chuckled and said.

"Hmm? Why do they not dare?" Lith asked again.

"Oh, because mama is very strong and they fear her." Lilith said with a smile while showing her biceps.

"Are you serious, mom?" Lith asked, still not believing her fully.

"Yes." Lilith said with a smile.

Lith looked at his big sister and she too nodded. Lith then understood that his mother would definitely be a very strong powerhouse which other's didn't want to offend and so, this must be the reason.

He knew she was strong but he didn't know how much. Anyway, the others feared her so she must be very strong, he thought. He then looked at her and asked again

"Oh another question. Who is aunt Agalea that big sis mentioned? You have a sister, mom?"

"Fufufu....I forgot to introduce them to you. No, they are not my real sisters. They are my friends and we share a friends and non blood related sisters bond together. So, you surely do have aunts. Your aunt Agalea is the Elven Queen. Aunt Mayzin is the Dragon Empress and your aunt Lucifer is the Demon Queen." Lilith explained with a smile.

Lith was dumbfounded with his mother's words. His mother had such overpowered friends? She basically formed a four race alliance just by sitting at home and being friends with the Supreme ranks of other races. Isn't his mother too good? He had such thoughts in his mind. He once again realised how great his mother is.

He then thought about all the naughty things he does with her and how she orgasms by getting pounded by her own son's cock. Such a strong being being such a vulnerable woman in bed, he got a little excited just from thinking about this. Lith felt a little proud thinking how he lost his virginity to a powerhouse of the world. His thoughts ran wild and he was sitting in Lucy's lap, overthinking.

Lucy and Lilith looked at Lith and smiled. Lilith more or less could guess what he was thinking. Just from looking at her son's stupid smile, she roughly knew his thoughts.

Lucy flicked Lith's forehead and woke him up from his stupor. She then said to him with a smile

"The entrance test is the day after tomorrow. What will you do till then?"

Lith smiled and said

"Isn't it obvious? I'll of course spend quality time with my family."

"Ara, by quality time, do you mean pinning your mama down and pounding her pussy with your cock?" Lilith smiled and teased.

"Mom!" Lucy yelled at little at Lilith. 'why is she so shameless? Why does she always say such vulgar words so easily and randomly?' she thought to herself. Lucy was still an innocent child unlike Lilith, an experienced women and Lith, a developing pervert.

"Good suggestion, mom. Come, let's go according to your plans then." Lith got up and pulled his big sister and mother to the bed. Lucy didn't resist one bit even though she was like an innocent lady. She had done many times with him and their mother, it had become a normal thing for them now.

Lith slept on the bed on his back. His mother and sister were on all fours and were near his crotch area. He smirked and asked

"So, who is going first?"

Chapter 72: Fun with Family

"So, who is going first?"

Lilith and Lucy didn't say anything. Lilith pulled down Lith's pant and his limp shaft came into view of both of them. Lucy, even after seeing this for so many times, still had a little blush on her face. She really couldn't get used to it. She was very innocent.

Lilith looked at Lucy and said teasingly

"Dear, your little brother's cock, even though limp, still looks very nice, doesn't it?"

Lucy blushed a little more. Her mother never changed and she never let go of any moment to tease her. She didn't respond to her and went upward towards Lith. She laid on his side, cupped his face and kissed him.

Lilith chuckled at her daughter's behaviour. She bent down and held Lith's shaft and gave a gentle lick on it's underside. Lith could feel electric current coursing through him due to that action. He nevertheless kept kissing Lucy. Lucy put her tongue in Lith's mouth and started having a tongue battle with him. Lith's hand weren't free either. He was groping Lucy's big breasts with his hands. Milk spewed out from her beautiful pink nipples as he groped them.

Lilith was on all fours, sucking Lith's cock, Lucy was on his side having a passionate kiss and Lith himself was groping Lucy's boobs with his free hands. This continued on for a while and Lilith's mouth and tongue were too good for him to handle for a long time. He was very close to climaxing. He broke the kiss and looked at his mother's face which very busy looking at his cock. She looked as if she was worshiping it.

She had half of his shaft in her mouth and was stroking the other half with her hand. Her tongue was caressing his tip and her mouth was making a gentle suction force. It felt very heavenly to Lith and he would have climaxed already, had it not been for him doing it almost daily with her. Still, it was too much for him and after two minutes

'Agh. Fuck, mama is too good.' he said in his mind and pushed Lilith's silver head deeper onto his cock. Lilith knew what to do from here on and she expertly let her son's cock deepthroat her.

"Ugh."

Lith grunted in pleasure and released his warm load in Lilith's throat directly. Lilith expertly gulped all of it and nothing spilled out of her mouth. She then moved her head back and had some of Lith's seeds poured into her mouth and not throat directly. She kept it in her mouth and Lith looked at her actions and smiled. He said to her gently

"Open your mouth, mama."

Lilith smiled and opened her mouth and showed the semen on her tongue to Lith. Lith found this scene very beautiful and exciting. It had turned him on even more. His semi erect shaft had now become fully erect just from looking at such a scene. His own mother, a very beautiful mature lady in fact, was having his seeds in her mouth after giving him a blowjob and was now showing it to him. The taboo feeling added onto his excitement and his mother's pretty face only made the scene even more sexy and seductive.

Lucy looked at her mother and blushed a little. She wasn't able to do what her mother did just now for a very long time. It was because she felt too shy to do it. She also thought how shameless her mother was but she knew in her heart that this shameless nature of her was only for her children and no one else. She was happy but also embarrassed. There were only two other people apart from her in the room and her she felt very embarrassed to do such shameful things. She thus tacitly looked away from her mother, not wanting to meet her gaze.

Lilith closed her mouth after showing it to Lith and didn't swallow his load yet. She looked at her daughter and found her looking away. She knew what she maybe thinking and she smirked. She crawled towards her and got on top of her. She cupped her face and locked her lips onto hers. She opened her mouth by gently pulling her lower jaw with one hand. Lucy knew what this action meant and opened her mouth and let her mom do whatever she wanted.

Lilith poured Lith's seeds into her mouth and Lucy swallowed it. She then gave Lucy almost half of it and then pulled back. Lucy savoured the taste for a bit and then swallowed it. She really liked the flavour of her brother's semen. Like her mother, it was also her favourite thing to taste. Lilith laid at the side of her daughter after giving her the share.

Lith looked at his mother and big sister and smiled. He was half clothed and his mother and big sister were fully clothed. He turned to the side and looked at his big sister's big breasts which were out in open and then down and found her dressed fully. He turned her to the side and Lucy now faced her mother. Lith pulled up her skirt and removed her black laced panty down. Lucy put her hips upwards a little and helped Lith remove them easily.

Lith now looked at the back view of his sister. It mesmerized him no matter how many times he looked. He got up and went near her plump his. He went back a little and tried to have a good view of her. She was on her side, facing their mom and her private parts where hidden due to her keeping her legs joined together. He smiled and said

"Big sis, give me a good view."

Lucy didn't say anything and simply did what she was told. After so many days of having sex together, she had no resistance to any of his requests and she did it without hesitation. She felt shy and embarrassed only on a few occasions now a days. She grabbed one of her ass cheek and pulled it, revealing her wet pink slits and a buttplug with a red gemstone inlaid in her puckered butt hole.

Lith was very turned on from this scene. He gave her one final look and laid beside her once again. He hugged her from behind and held her by her slim waist. He tried to push his erect cock into her wet hole but it didn't go in. Lucy felt this and held his shaft and guided it to it's proper place.

Lilith looked at her kids do their thing from the side and she only smiled at their actions. This was a common occurrence for her. She used her free hand and made Lucy spread her legs upwards, giving Lith a nice comfortable position. She bent her head and sucked on Lucy's lower lip.

"Mhm~"

Lucy moaned in pleasure as Lith reached deep inside her in one go. Lucy never got tired of this feeling. She backed her head off from her mother's sucking and cupped her mother's face and kissed her hungrily. This time, it was her who took the initiative to start a hot and passionate kiss. Lith kept thrusting his hips back and forth and also kneaded Lucy's breast. Milk sprayed out onto his mother's clothes but Lilith didn't care about it.

Lith bit onto Lucy's neck and started drinking a little bit of her blood. He couldn't drink a lot of it as he would feel drowsy soon and so he only drank for a few seconds, making Lucy be turned on even more. Lucy's already wet secret garden became even more wet. It was dripping with her fluids now and Lith's thrust caused it to be scattered everywhere on the bedsheet.

After 20 minutes of fucking his sister in this position, Lith increased his pace as he felt she was close to climaxing. He stopped groping her and held her by the waist tightly and kept increasing his thrusting pace.

Lilith bit onto one of Lucy's nipple and pinched and twisted the other one. She also rubbed Lucy's clit roughly. Lucy, from getting hit on all her sensitive spots was now on the edge. She was about cum anytime soon. She hugged her mother tightly and her vaginal walls started getting tighter. Lith felt it and he increased his speed even more. He held Lucy's waist even more tightly, leaving a few red marks on it.

"Ahhh...ahhh...ahh...dear...faster...ahh..."

Clap Clap

Lith did as Lucy requested and kept going. After two minutes,

"Ahh...Dear...I am cumming...cum- ohhhh~"

Lith bit onto her neck and started sucking her blood, prolonging her orgasm even more. Lucy moaned even more loudly and her body started squirming in pleasure.

"Huff...Huff...mom...mama...stop...Huff..."

Lucy breathed roughly and asked Lilith to stop rubbing her clit. She was very sensitive now and didn't want to be rubbed like that or she may have yet another orgasm and go crazy.

Lilith stopped her actions. Why would she not when her daughter called her mama so cutely. She smiled and caressed her hair. Lith pulled his dick out and his semen flowed out of Lucy's pussy along with it. He too had orgasmed along with Lucy but his own low pleasure filled moan was hidden by Lucy's louder moans.

Lilith put her fingers near Lucy's pussy which had gotten a creampie. She got the fluids coming out of her onto her fingers and she even shoved her fingers into Lucy's tight hole and scooped a little more onto her fingers. She then brought it to her mouth and started sucking on her fingers, savouring the taste of both her daughter and her son together. This too tasted very good to Lilith.

Lith looked at laid to Lucy's side in a hugging position with her. He thought of removing her butt plug and shoving his shaft in her quickly but on second thought, he stopped himself. He knew it was now his mama's turn and his big sister had to wait. He quickly got up and laid down beside Lilith. Lilith now was in the center with Lucy and Lith on her sides.

Lilith chuckled and said looking at Lith

"You can't wait to shove your cock, balls deep into your mama's tight pussy?"

She didn't feel one bit of embarrassment or hesitation when talking dirty like that to her son. Lith looked at her and said smirking

"I am a very benevolent man. I looked at the dripping wet cunt of my old lady from afar and knew she needed attention too. A man always pleases his ladies in any scenario possible."

He too, was becoming as shameless as Lilith.

"Ara, talking big, are we? This old lady of yours wouldn't be satisfied if you only talk big and not show it to her via actions." Lilith said in a teasing tone.

Lith chuckled and said "My lady, don't blame me if you cannot walk later."

"Fufufu...we'll see." Lilith chuckled and said.

Chapter 73: Breakthrough

Lith parted Lilith's legs and looked at his mother's sweet pink slits which were now spread a little due to this parting of her legs. He could see she was wet but he still put his finger in her tight hole to check the wetness. He inserted it deep in her and then took it out after finding it was wet all the way through.

He looked at Lilith in the eyes and she too looked at him. He smiled and licked his finger which had just come out of her hole. She too smiled without feeling even a little embarrassed and on top of that, she also gave him a wink. Lith positioned his shaft on her entrance and he rubbed it a few times. He slowly pushed it inside her and reached all the way to the end.

"Mhm~"

Lilith released a satisfied and relaxed moan and closed her eyes to feel her son inside of her.

Lith waited a few seconds to let his mother feel it deep in her. He knew she liked this feeling and so he let her be. After a few seconds, he took his cock almost back out and then shoved it in once again in a powerful thrust.

"Mhm.."

Lilith moaned a little and Lith bent down and gave locked his lips onto her. He then took out his tongue and poked on her mouth's entrance. Lilith immediately let him and they started a twirling their tongue onto each other while Lith kept thrusting his dick in her pussy.

Lucy from the side looked at them and her hand subconsciously reached down to her secret parts. She started rubbing it while watching her little brother fuck their mother. Her other hand also didn't stay free for longer and she soon started kneading one of her boob and rubbing her lower lips. She kept masturbating while watching them.

Lith pulled back from the kiss and gave a peck on her lips. He started to suck on his mother's big breasts. He also gave her many hickeys on her boobs while he was at it. But the markings were gone almost instantly and she had no bite marks on her. He then started sucking milk from her erect pink nipple and he groped the other boob with his free hand. He kept moving his hips while doing so and didn't stop.

Lilith looked at her daughter on the side masturbating while watching them. She smiled and pulled her into her embrace from the side with her free hands. She cupped her face and started having a passionate kiss with her. She freed one of her hand and started rubbing Lucy's pussy with it.

"Mhm.."

Lucy released a muffled moan when she felt her mother's touch on her sensitive areas down there. She closed her eyes and focused on this feeling and also the passionate kiss with her mother.

After twenty minutes, Lith started increasing his pace and he moved faster. He got back up and placed his hands on Lilith's knees. Lilith was in a M shape right now. He moved his dick in her pussy faster and also much more deeper all the way to touching her womb.

"Ohhhh~"

Lilith moaned a little loudly when she felt Lith's cock balls deep in her. She had broken the kiss with Lucy due to this and had moaned. Lith felt his mother's hole getting tighter and he bent to the side and squeezed Lucy's right ass. Lucy looked at him and Lith nodded, giving her certain signal. Lucy too nodded and bent towards her mother's neck and bit on her. She started sucking her blood while Lith fucked her pussy.

"Ahh...ahhh..oh my babies..ahh.."

Lilith moaned again after feeling stimulations from many places. Lucy, with her free hand, played with both of Lilith's nipples while sucking her blood.

Lith looked at his sister sucking blood and this was the usual sight. He didn't feel anything too out of place. He knew he would get tired if he did that but so it was best if it was his sister who sucked their mother's blood to give her more pleasurable stimulations. He shoved those thoughts to the side and kept fucking Lilith aggressively.

After a few more minutes of intense pleasurable stimulations, Lilith hugged Lucy with one hand and opened her other arm towards Lith, signalling him to closer towards her. Lith bent down and rested his body on her while continuing to fuck her pussy. Lilith hugged both of her children tightly and said moaning

"Ohhh...baby.. yes..yes..faster...ahh..ahhh.."

Lucy took back one of her hand as Lith was resting on one of Lilith's boob and she couldn't play with that nipple anymore. She moved it downwards and started rubbing her mother's clit while continuing to play with her nipple. Lilith was very close now.

Lith increased his pace once again and Lucy too rubbed aggressively on her mother's clit and played with her nipple. After a few seconds.

"Ahh...ahh...mama's cumming...ahh.."

Spurrtt

"Ohhhhhhh~"

"Agh.."

Lilith had a big orgasm and Lucy's sucking of her blood only prolonged it. Lith too timed his climax with Lilith. He had gotten better and better to do so after so many sessions with his mother and big sister. He rested on top of Lilith while she was enjoying the post orgasm bliss. Lucy had stopped sucking her blood and was now licking her neck like a cute little kitten.

The three rested like that for a while and it was Lith who got up first. He still had one more hole waiting for him to show some love and care. He spread Lucy's ass and looked at the buttplug which had a red gemstone on it inserted inside her pink puckered ass hole. He grabbed her hips and made her stand on all fours. Lucy knew what Lith was going to do and she didn't resist him one bit.

Lilith looked at her children and knew what Lith was about to do. She said to Lith with a smile

"Hey, when are you going to show some love to your mama's other hole? It feels lonely without your cock inside of it, you know?"

"Don't worry, mama. It'll not be lonely for long. Meanwhile, let's make a bet."

"Oh? What bet?" Lilith said with an interested look.

"How fast big sis cums. Let's bet on that. How about it?" Lith smirked and said.

"Hey!" Lucy turned her head back and said to Lith with a little flushed face.

These two people are making a bet about her, in front of her, while she was naked and on all fours and that too, it was about when she would orgasm? Wasn't it too much? She had such thoughts and thus became a little red.

Lith chuckled and spanked Lucy's ass and said to Lilith while ignoring his big sister's questioning look

"I say it'll take around 15 minutes."

"10 minutes. She'll cum in 10 minutes." Lilith said with a smile.

"Oh? You seem too sure of it. Let me tell you mama, I know my big sis very well. I am inside her and not you. I can feel it very well when she is about to orgasm. You still up for the challenge, lady?" Lith said with a smirk.

"Ara, have you forgotten that it was me who gave birth to you two, baby?" Lilith said while smiling.

"I bet you-"

"Hey, hey, mama and Lith, both of you, stop it. And Lith, you, how long will you make me be in this shameful position?" Lucy broke her dear older sister character and said impatiently.

She was now nothing more than a girl wanting to feel her other hole pounded. It had the buttplug in it for so long. It had been there since almost a day to make her ready to take in her little brother's big cock in it. Her vaginal and butt hole, both would recover very quickly and become unavailable for Lith to shove his cock quickly and give her a quick fuck. So, she resorted to using a buttplug so that Lith could have a quickie with her anytime and anywhere. She wiggled her butt and looked at Lith with an impatient face.

Lith stopped with the talks with his mother and gave Lucy's ass another spank. He stood behind her and looked at the view of her ass hole having a red gemstone buttplug in it. He then looked at Lucy and said

"I am sorry, big sis. Alright, I'll not make you wait anymore."

He then looked at his mother and with the same smile, said

"Mama, come here. Come look at this good view of big sis's beautiful backside."

Lilith smiled and went towards Lith. She then looked at her daughter's ass which had a buttplug in it. Lith noticed her looking at it and smirked. He removed the buttplug slowly out of Lucy's ass hole. After removing it fully, Lilith and Lith, both could see Lucy's ass hole contracting and relaxing rapidly. It was clear that Lucy was very horny and needed a cock very quickly in her ass hole. Lith didn't make her wait for too long. He got behind her, positioned himself and shoved his cock deep in her with one push.

"Mhmm~"

Lucy moaned in satisfaction. Finally, finally her body got the thing she wanted the most. Lith could feel Lucy's walls tightening around his shaft. He knew she just had a small orgasm because of his thrust and he waited for it to subdue. Lilith hugged Lith from behind and bit on his neck. She started sucking his blood and Lith got very turned on because of it. His shaft inside Lucy started twitching a little. Lucy felt it and looked back and saw the scene and understood what was going on. She had a little red face but she still said

"Start moving, dear."

Lith didn't wait and he took his shaft all the way out. He thrust it in with a powerful force and

"Ohhhh.."

Lucy moaned a little loudly. She felt a new sort of thrust from Lith. Lith understood the reason for her moan. His mother had pushed him deeper into Lucy while he himself was thrusting it inside. This added more force than before and Lucy moaned like that. Lith nevertheless continued. He started thrusting her once again and Lilith too was helping him with it. This continued for a few minutes and Lilith got off from Lith.

She went under Lucy and started licking her pussy while Lith kept fucking her buttocks.

"Ahh..ahh.."

Lucy wasn't like her mother who could handle so many pleasurable stimulations at once. Just these two were enough for her to reach cloud nine. Her hands gave in and her upper body collapsed onto Lilith who was below her. She found her mouth to be on her mother's pink folds which still had traces of her own and her brother's cum on it. She wanted to get up and support herself up but it was a little difficult for her.

It only took her a few seconds to accept her fate. She gave up trying to get up and started licking the cum of both her mother and brother off of Lilith's pussy while getting pounded by her brother in the ass hole and her pussy licked by her mother.

Lilith felt whatever Lucy was doing to her. She let her do as she pleased and continued eating Lucy out. Lith who was thrusting in and out of Lucy felt a little bit of friction on his shaft. He knew that it had become a little dry but he didn't want to waste time with removing a lube and using it. He removed his shaft and put it in front of his mother's mouth which was just below, licking his sister's pussy.

"Lubricate it, mama."

Lith said while looking at his mother. Lilith stopped licking Lucy and deepthroated Lith's cock. She did it for a few seconds and then used a lot of her saliva and coated Lith's shaft with it. She let it go after lubricating it and continued licking Lucy's pussy. Lith shoved his dick inside Lucy once again and kept fucking her.

Lilith after a few minutes put her two fingers inside Lucy and sucked on her clit.

"Ohhh~"

Lucy moaned after feeling the penetration inside her pussy. She liked this feeling. Getting penetrated in both of her holes felt nice to her. Lilith heard Lucy's moan and knew her daughter liked this. She fingered Lucy's pussy and Lith kept fucking her ass hole.

"Ahh...ahh...yes...dear..faster..ahh.."

After a few more minutes of so much pleasure, Lucy moaned lewdly asking for Lith to go faster. Lith did what he was told and Lilith too fingered Lucy faster. A while later,

Spurttt

"Ohhhhhh~"

Lucy moaned loudly and arched her back and started shaking. She had a big orgasm just like Lilith a while ago. Lilith didn't waste time and quickly put her mouth onto Lucy's pussy. She started gulping down her juices which spewed out. Lith too had climaxed. He stayed in the position he was in and didn't move and let his big sister enjoy her orgasm as much as she could.

Soon after, Lith took out his shaft and collapsed beside Lucy on his back. Lilith found Lith's cum dripping out of Lucy's ass hole and she started licking Lucy clean. Lucy shivered a little after feeling her mother's tongue. Lilith licked Lucy clean and got up and laid in between her and Lith. She held her babies in her embrace and let them rest on her.

Lith was tired after such intense exercise. His mother and big sister had too much stamina and he didn't have it like them. This was almost his limit. Continuously moving his hips was tiring. He knew he needed to rank up to overcome this hurdle.

He then decided it was enough for today and was about to sleep. He realised he still hadn't had his mother's blood. He started sucking her blood and while he was at it, he didn't feel sluggish and tired, instead, he felt active and something changing within him. He instantly woke up from his tired state and hungrily sucked her blood as much as he could.

Lilith looked at Lith sucking her blood. He was sucking even more than before. Though it was not much, it was still more. Before he could only suck her blood for about 8-10 seconds. Now it was around 15 seconds.

Lith let go and quickly sat in a lotus position. He knew he was about to breakthrough. He didn't need the epiphany he thought he wanted but he shoved those thoughts aside and quickly started comprehending the rank 1 life laws which he was lagging behind a bit. He had a superior healing ability and didn't need to use Life laws much. Thus, he sort of neglected it. Now he was perfecting it.

Soon after, Lith's body was covered in a greyish colour and one could feel the magical energy around him fluctuate in a certain pattern.

This was his breakthrough!

He broke through to rank 2!

Lilith looked at Lith with a smile on her face. She was very proud of her child now. Though he was a bit late, it didn't matter to her. A mother would always feel proud and cheer for her child's accomplishment no matter how big or small.

Lucy too got up as she felt the magic energy fluctuations around her. She then looked at Lith with the same gaze that Lilith had. She too was very proud of him that he broke through, albeit a bit slower than rest. She knew that the elite kids would break through in no more than 3-5 months and Lith took almost a year for that. She knew the reason behind this. In any case, she felt more happy for him. She knew that Lith would now start breaking through even faster than before.

Lilith and Lucy had both checked Lith's magic core area many times before. It was a taboo to do so but Lith didn't care about it. He would happily let his mother and big sister do whatever they wanted to him. He knew they meant only goodwill and he trusted them more than he trusted himself.

Lilith and Lucy had felt his core area being very big. It was much more bigger than his peers but Lith's core colour hadn't fully changed indicating that he was still a rank 1. They felt a little worried for him but both knew the reason for the slow development and would thus relax.

Lith woke up from his meditative state. He looked at his core colour and it was fully grey now. He felt very happy. He then looked at his core area and was dumbfounded by it. His core area was around 10,000km²!

It was the peak of what was needed to be a rank 2!

He knew that he needed to be under 10,000km² area to be a rank 2 and most of the elites had only around 4000-5000km² area at Max. He didn't know that he would be such a talent to reach the peak after his breakthrough!

He soon calmed down. He then looked at his big sister and asked

"Big sis, what was your area when you reached rank 2?"

"Peak."

Lucy only muttered one word but Lith understood what she meant. He nodded his head in understanding. He knew that, just like him, there was another monster with such a talent. It was none other than his big sister. He didn't feel jealous of her nor did he feel sad that he wasn't one of a kind. Rather, he only felt happy for her and also grateful to his mother. He knew that he and his big sis had such a constitution because of their mother and so, there really was no sadness but only gratefulness, happiness and a feeling of pride. He felt proud to have his mom as his mother. He looked at Lilith with a little tear in his eyes and said with a smile

"Thankyou, mama."

Lilith got worried and frowned. She didn't know why Lith had a year in his eyes or why he was thanking her with such a face. She looked Lith deeply in his amethyst purple eyes and Lith didn't feel anything from her gaze. He too looked back straight into her purple eyes. Lilith smiled after a second and didn't say anything to Lith. She ruffled his hair and Lith closed his eyes and enjoyed his mother's touch.

Lilith had broken her own code of not wanting to read her children's mind but there would always be exceptions. She couldn't bear to watch her baby have tears like that. So many years had passed since he was born but he had never once shed tears for anything. Even when he was a baby, he would only cry with his mouth but not have tears. This was his first time and she got very worried and chose to read his mind for the reason. She sighed in relief internally after finding the reason but also felt very warm in her heart. Her baby felt so grateful to her just because she gave him birth. She felt nothing but wanting to spoil him more after feeling his emotions. She swore that she would spoil him to death.

Lucy looked at her mother and then at her brother. She then said

"Dear, aren't you going to ask why it took you double the time to break through?"

She didn't understand why he didn't ask this question. She knew he must be having his core area at peak but she couldn't understand why he didn't ask her or her mother the question about his slow breakthrough. He should have broken through in the first or the second month after his awakening just like her mother and her but it took him a year. She had told Lith about the speed at which he should be breaking through. Thus, she was confused when he didn't ask her the question.

"Ah. I totally forgot about that big sis. Right. I should have broken through in the first or the second month after the core awakening just like you and mother but it took me a year. Yes, I don't understand the reason why."

Lith said with a confused face.

"Fufufu...it was simple, baby. Your bloodline power didn't awaken quickly right after your awakening like your sister. You have had a stronger foundation than your sister since you have been training since you were three. Lucy only started to train after she was six. It was actually me who wanted her to train to have a strong foundation. So, I started her training.

But you on the other hand yourself asked to be trained only when you were one year old. This was not good for you as your body was too weak and young and I wanted to say that six was the right year to train but at that time, looking at your eyes which held so much anticipation towards learning magic, I didn't have the heart to make you wait five more years. Therefore, I said you can train when you were three year old.

You had a much stronger foundation than your big sister during your core awakening and it resulted in your bloodline power to still not show effect and it laid dormant. Only today did you fully awaken your bloodline. I felt it as I am the progenitor of the bloodline itself and Lucy too must have felt it as she too has a bloodline almost the same as me, the progenitor.

We both felt you awaken it and you too must be feeling a certain type of connection with me and Lucy. This shows our bloodline being connected. Anyway, now that you have awakened it, mama is very happy. You'll be making breakthroughs very easily and quickly now."

Lith laid in his mother's embrace comfortably and listened to her explaining things. He now realised the reason and he also felt very happy.

His thoughts ran wild like before and he thought at a point that he was now fully prepared to give the academy entrance test. His face became very determined and serious and he said in his mind

'Abalax World Academy, here I come.'

(The End of the First Volume)

Chapter 74: Abalax World Academy

The Second Volume: Abalax World Academy

Lenz city, Espat.

A big island stood high in the sky at the outskirts of the Lenz city in the Espat country of the Neutral Continent. The island in itself looked like a small city. It was the Abalax sky island and it was the place where the world's most elite Academy, the Abalax World Academy, was established.

Today was the opening of the Entrance test of the Academy and all the towns, villages and districts of the Lenz City was jam packed by people and children from all over the world. The rich and influential families stayed in the Lenz city around the Lenz Tower and the others stayed in the suburbs of the city or different districts or towns or Villages connected to it.

Some people had come here more than a few months back and some only just arrived a few hours or minutes ago. There were all sorts and types of people. The whole city seemed very diverse today as people of many different races have arrived here. You could go on the street and you may find, apart from the 8 main races, beastkins, mermens, krakens, dwarves, trolls, goblins, orcs, skeletons, slimes, ghouls, Liches, Fairies and many more different types of races.

Though the world had the 8 main races, their total population combined wasn't equal to the total population of the different types of races combined. Thus, different people of different races could be seen on any continent living alongside the people of the 8 main races. Neutral Continent was the most diverse. Thus, many people of many races were waiting for the academy's entrance test to begin.

The test was conducted in sessions over the course of 14 days or two weeks. One session lasted for four days and there was a break on the 5th and the 10th day. There were three sessions for selecting students and everyone had to go through these tedious and difficult tests. After all of this was done, more than 70-80% students would have failed and were rejected by the academy.

The rest 20-30% students would then have to take one final test to get admitted into the Academy. It was a combat examination. The students had to compete against each other over the course of few days and many would be rejected in this process.

Each year more than 10 million people from around the world came to give this examination. The ones who get to go first and give the exam were people who had registered years ago for the exam of one particular year or very influential people who had made hefty donations or people who had connections or in a much more convenient and easy way, through Witches.

The Witches would may you have access earlier or later and that would depend upon the money you pay. Only the very wealthy people resorted to their services and the other people would pay donations to the academy for an earlier slot.

The deadline to register for the examination was also very relaxed. The academy allowed registration up until 10 days before the examination is conducted. After their registration, they are given a badge. The badge had their registration number and it would directly teleport you to the exam facility once it was your turn.

The badge looked like a small square screen. It had the examinees registration number and below it was the registration number that had started taking the exam currently. This ensured that the examinees could have a rough estimation as to when they would be able to take the test and would thus be ready to be teleported.

All the teleportation circles to the sky island were closed during these few days when the examination was going on and no staff member from the sky island could leave either. The students would be teleported safely inside and outside when they are called in or done with their examination. It was very safe and reliable.

Millions of people were currently staying in the Lenz city and were waiting for the exam to begin. It would happend at any moment and the people kept looking at the registration badge. The badge currently only had their own number and nothing else, indicating no one has taken the exam yet.

.....

Abalax Sky Island, Lenz city.

A very grand and sophisticated looking silver-white castle with many colourful pointy towers was established in the middle of the sky island. It was very big and also very tall. It was the main building of the Abalax World Academy and it had many classrooms, laboratories, specimen rooms, staff office and various other things in it. It also had an Alchemical Life which would help students locate places easily and also acted as a surveillance system. It would inform the authorities if any mishap had occurred due to the students in the main building.

Inside the Principal's office in the main building.

A beautiful and elegant looking blonde hair lady wearing big round gold rim glasses was currently working. She was looking at the laptop screen in front of her and was also going through various papers. Time was tight as she had to finish her work quickly and start the entrance examination. All the staff members were awaiting her orders and she was here, doing some final touches to some work.

Half an hour later, she closed her laptop screen and muttered

"Phew. Finally I am done." She said in a relieved tone. She then tapped the ringer bell on the side of her table.

Ding!

It made the sound and a lady wearing a white shirt and blue pants along with black heels with her light brown hair tied up in a bun came in. She was holding some files in her hand as she walked in.

"Yes, madam?" She said in a neutral tone while looking at the blonde hair lady with her light brown eyes.

"Inform them to start the examination. I've sent the needed files to you. Please forward it to the respected authorities."

The lady said in her rich and smooth tone. Though she seemed to be the boss of the lady standing in front of her, she still made her requests politely and didn't order her around arrogantly. From her tone, she seemed to be a kind and gentle lady.

"Okay, madam." The lady nodded her head and left.

The blonde lady leaned back on her chair and closed her eyes to relax. No sooner did she do that, a magic circle appeared just a little away from her table.

She looked at the magical fluctuations and sat in an upright formal position. She didn't panick nor did she showed any signs of distress. She was an Emperor rank and only a being of Supreme rank had the ability to kill her if they wanted. And as for them, why would they come over here just for her? She had done nothing related to them. The one who could come in her office directly like this must only be another Emperor rank or certain Witches.

After a few seconds, a black haired lady with heterochromatic red and blue eyes wearing a black pointy hat and a purple robe walked out of it.

The blonde haired lady looked at her and said in a neutral tone

"Why have you come here at this time and also at this place, Hecate?"

"I have some urgent business with you. Her majesty has tasked me with going through the registration process of the entrance exam of her son. I am here for that and also to inform you that she will be coming to the academy to watch her son's performance." Hecate said in a neutral tone.

"Her majesty? Who?" The blonde lady asked in a confused tone.

"Her majesty the Vampire Queen." Hecate said in the same neutral tone.

"What?!" The blonde lady stood up and said in shock.

"Stop panicking and calm down. I was actually a little late because I couldn't contact you directly and had to invade in your office which took me some time. Her majesty's son hasn't been registered yet. Do it quickly."

"Hecate, you! Ugh. I do not like you. Sigh." The lady went through a series of emotions and sighed in the end. She then tapped the counter bell and the lady which she had just given a task came back in. The blonde lady looked at her and said

"Ask the examination to be halted. It will begin after an hour. The examination will start when I give you the registration of the examinee that I am about to register. This one will also be the first participant."

"Understood. Anything else, madam?" The lady asked in a neutral tone.

"Not for now. You may leave." The blonde haired lady said and sighed.

The lady bowed a little and left.

Hecate sat down on a sofa in the room. She made herself some tea with the items present on the sofa and waited patiently for the blonde lady to finish her work and give her the badge she needed.

After only about a few minutes later, the blonde lady took out a badge and started drawing a magic circle on it. After a few seconds, she tossed it to Hecate.

Hecate caught it and said to the blonde lady

"Thankyou. I owe you a favour."

She left after saying that.

"Sigh. Although a favour from an Emperor rank Witch seems nice, this has become very stressful for me. All along I've been wondering why I wasn't able to find the Vampire Prince's name and even thought that he was coming with a fake name but it turned out that he wasn't even registered in the first place.

On top of that, now I'll have to sit with the Vampire Queen in the same room and watch him give the exam. Sitting with a Supreme rank, sigh, so stressful. I just hope everything goes well. May the light be with me." The lady muttered to herself and drew a cross on her chest at the end.

She tapped the bell again and instructed the lady with the tasks she had to perform. She then left her office and went to the site of the examination and waited for the first examinee to come and also for the examinee's mother or more correctly, the Vampire Queen.

Chapter 75: Start Of The Entrance Exam

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Three figures, two ladies and one boy, were standing in front of a big body mirror. They all looked almost similar to each other except one appeared to be in her early 30s, the other in her early 20s and the last one in his early teens. They were Lilith, Lucy and Lith respectively.

Lith was holding his mother and big sister by their waist and was looking at the body mirror in front of him. He did this every month to check how much he was changing. Though his appearance didn't change too much, his height and build were constantly changing. His height was increasing and his build was getting more toned and lean.

Even though he seemed lean, from the outside with fully clothed, he looked neither too skinny nor too fat. He just appeared to have the body of an average kid of his age. His height had increased again. He was 162 cm tall as of now. He wasn't 14 yet and this height was just a little above average for a 13 year old. The average was 158cm. He wouldn't stand out too much if he was with kids of his age with respect to his height.

Though there are exceptions. Kids of different races have different growths. The children from Dragon, Giants, Ogre, Orcs and Golem races usually grow much more taller than their peers. The Vampire, Werewolf, goblin, troll, slime, fairy and dwarf race children are the opposite. Their growth is much slower and it takes a lot of time for them to fully grow.

Lith was a Vampire but he had Lilith as his mom. She was naturally very tall and due to the effects of the bloodline, Lith's growth had started to accelerate. He had gotten almost on par with the growth speed of Dragons and Giants. Though the effect had taken place a little late and so he was only a little above average.

He had asked his mother and big sister about their heights and he was shocked to find out how tall they were. It was only then that he realised, he wasn't really too short. It was just his family that was taller in general. His mother was 200cm tall and his big sister was 190cm tall. This was too much.

He cursed inwardly at his luck. If only they were a little shorter, he could've done so many naughty things with them when he was only a 5 or 6 year old child. He still remembered, how he couldn't even reach his mother's butt when he hugged her from behind and had to resort to going after Lucy's butt instead, which was still tall but almost within his reach.

Lith was in the midst of checking the changes when a magic circle appeared in the room. He let go of his mother and big sister and looked at the magic circle. If he wasn't wrong, this was a Witch who would be coming out. How did he know this? Hecate had come once or twice before and she wore a pointy hat and robes which were a standard outfit of Witches. He checked it on internet and found the latest fashion of Witches. Thus he realised that this lady was a Witch.

Hecate came out of the magic circle and bowed a little to Lilith. She said in a neutral tone

"Your Majesty, the registration has been done. His highness would be the first to take the exam."

She then took out a badge from her pocket and presented it to Lilith. Lilith took the badge and looked at the number on it. There was nothing but a zero written on it at the top and the rest of the area on the badge was empty. The badge was a square black screen with a number written on it in red.

Lilith gave it to Lith and said smiling

"Here. Keep it with you until the end of the exam. You'll teleport to the exam facility as soon as the exam starts."

Lith took it and had a look. He was surprised to see nothing but a zero in red written on it. Shouldn't the first candidate have a number 1 or something? He had a passing thought.

Shortly after he got it, the badge started creating magical fluctuations around Lith. The space started distorting and Lith vanished from the spot. Lilith, Lucy and Hecate looked at him disappear. Lilith took Lucy by her hand and she too disappeared just like Lith. Hecate was alone in the room, staring at the empty spots the three currently stood a few seconds ago. She too vanished shortly after.

.....

Abalax Sky Island, Lenz city, Espat.

In front of a huge metallic black door, there stood only two figures. One was a blonde lady that looked to be in her late 20s. She was sitting in a very noble and elegant way. The other was a lady with light brown hair and eyes and she was standing behind the lady in a subservient manner. These two were waiting for the exams first examinee to arrive. Usually, the Principal would not be present for such an occasion but this time was an exception.

Soon after, space fluctuated around a certain spot in front of the two figures and a pretty silver haired boy came out of it. He was wearing a black shirt, grey pants with black belt and black shoes. He looked formal, a little casual but all in all, very elegant and noble with such a simple outfit. The darker clothes in contrast with his pale skin made him look very pretty to anyone looking at him. He also had a chain attached to his right earlobe and connected to the chain was a white cross. This extra piece of earring only added to his overall charms. Though he only looked like a child in his early teens, he still seemed very noble and pretty when matched with this outfit.

The blonde lady looked at the amethyst eyes of the pretty boy in front of him. She said to him with a smile

"Welcome to Abalax World Academy's entrance exam. I am the Principal of the Academy, Emilia Liwet. As soon as you pass through this metallic gate, you'll start your examination process. I wish you all the best. May the light be with you."

The blonde lady, Emilia Liwet, vanished from the spot along with her secretary and Lith was now currently alone in front of the gate. He started moving and he soon reached in front of the gate. He pushed it with one hand and surprisingly, such a heavy and big gate was moved by his hand. He hid his surprise and started walking forward. As soon as he entered inside, he heard a monotonous voice

"Welcome candidate number zero to the entrance exam. Please move to your right for the first testing."

Lith found a tick noise and he looked at his badge. He saw another number below his registration number zero. It was yet another zero. He knew what it meant. It was the number of the examinee who was currently taking the exam. His examination process had begun!

.....

Inside a hotel in Lenz city.

A black haired, blue eyed boy was sitting on at the edge of the bed crossed leg. Across him sat a man with a very imposing and overbearing demeanor on a chair facing him. He had the same looks as the boy. The two didn't say anything and were only waiting for something. The boy kept looking at the badge on his chest. Suddenly,

TICK!

The badge attached to the shirt pocket on the boy's chest made a tick sound. The two people in the room looked at it and they both were dumbfounded. The boy looked at the man and said with an annoyed look

"Father, what is the meaning of this? Shouldn't I be the first person to start the examination?"

The man looked at the boy and said calmly

"The deal to be first was made with the help of the Witch and the Vice Principal. The Vice Principal has a very high position in the academy but it isn't the highest. He cannot make the most important decisions or announcements without the permission of the Principal. As for the Witch, no Witch is trustworthy. Who would have thought we would be tricked at such a moment?"

"Ugh. Aren't you an Emperor of a big Empire in the Continent? Don't you have a lot of influence and power? Why and how is it possible for you to get tricked like this?"

The boy asked in an annoyed tone. He very much wanted to yell on top of his lungs and roar at the man for being so stupid to get tricked but he stopped. He was weak and the man in front was super strong, not to mention he was also his father.

"Anything can happen in this world. Who knew that although your registration number is 1, there was still someone with the number zero." The man said calmly while looking at the badge on the boy's chest.

The badge was a dark screen and had the number '1' on it's top and a '0' on it's bottom indicating that the registration number of the examinee who was taking the exam right now.

The boy cursed in his mind to whoever was the supposed number zero. He was very angry at whoever took his position. He looked at his father and asked with a slightly annoyed and angry look "Who might it be to take up such a spot? Is there someone more of a big shot than you, an Emperor rank of the Novius family?"

The Novius family was the imperial family which ruled over the Novius Empire in the Human Continent. The Human Continent had 9 Empires, each ruled by an Emperor rank and the Novius family had supposedly the biggest one out of them and was very powerful and influential. The family head of the Novius family was Graham Novius, an Emperor rank and also the father of Liam Novius, the boy who asked the question just now. The boy couldn't hide his frustration and so he asked his father that was there anyone more influential than him? A big shot of an entire race of people.

"Yes. There are people above me and also of the same rank as me. Did you forget the rumours? The one stating that the Vampire Queen's son would be attending the academy this year? He might be her boy. We can only bow down to such a figure and can not afford to mess with them no matter what." The man said calmly once again, not minding the boy's tone.

'You son of a bitch, blood sucking Leech! How dare you steal my spot? Just because you have a big shot of a mother doesn't mean you are the same as her. I know you must have done very bad deeds in your life. Just wait for me to bring justice and eradicate you to ensure peace in the world.

I'll start with you and then slowly kill the whole of your race along with your bitch mother who everyone fears so much. Just wait! I, Liam Novius, would bring justice and peace upon the world by my own hands.'

The boy thought in his mind and got very determined to start bringing justice and peace by first eradicating the Vampires.

.....

Abalax Sky Island, Lenz city.

In the Principal's office.

Emilia sat on her chair and slumped on the table. She was relieved to have not met the Vampire Queen and it was only her son who came. She was tense and stiff throughout the whole time because she thought that the Vampire Queen would arrive at any moment. In the end, she didn't come and the Witch probably lied, Emilia thought. Whatever the case, she didn't have to deal with any more issues and she was now very relaxed.

She wondered how the boy was doing. She activated a magic circle on her desk and soon a screen formed in front of her eyes.

.....

Inside a well lit small room.

Lith was standing in front of a crystal ball and behind it stood a lady who had her face covered in a veil. She said gently to Lith

"Put your hand on the ball and try to feel the magical elements in your surroundings while you are at it."

Lith did as he was told. After only a few seconds, the ball started glowing red, blue, brown, green, black and silver.

The lady had an amused expression. But she still said in the same gentle tone

"Congratulations. You have passed. Move onto your left door for your next test."

Lith looked at the lady and he asked with a confused look

"Umm...big sister? Miss? Umm.."

Lith acted shy and embarrassed in front of the lady. He was trying to put on an innocent 13 year old boy act. He knew few people would be watching him while he was giving the exam and he even suspected his mother and big sister would do too, so, he made up his mind to act like an innocent, cute and gullible 13 year old who was very harmless to have a good impression on everyone. He knew his big sister and mother would laugh their ass off if they saw this but he didn't care. He simply made his first move which he had planned beforehand.

"Do you have some doubts, child?" The lady asked with the same gentle tone but her look had become gentle too.

Looking at the boy, the lady felt he was very innocent and was embarrassed to ask doubts which he had to her. She had seen such children before. They are only 13 year old and they were still very young and green. Some, like the boy in front, were very innocent and gullible and it was for this reason that the academy was so much important.

The children would learn that the world isn't pure and if they acted like this, they would not survive for long. This was the duty of the academy to shape the children and make them ready for their future endeavours. Everyone had been instructed to help the children as much as possible and the examiner also had a soft spot in her heart for such innocent and gullible children as they were very pure at heart and had no scheming mind. She liked such type of children and so Lith got her attention pretty well when he did that.

Lith smiled inwardly. His scheme worked. The first step? Success!

He said in the same shy and embarrassed tone

"Umm, can I ask, i-if I did well?"

The lady said gently while smiling

"Yes, child. You did very well. Not everyone has six elemental affinities like you. Even if you fail the rest of the tests, you'll still be given one final chance to prove yourself later. So don't worry or panick if you mess up somewhere ahead, okay? Take care and goodluck."

"T-thankyou, miss." Lith said with a little red face and quickly ran to the door the lady mentioned.

The lady chuckled at his cute behaviour.

.....

Inside the Principal's office.

Emilia looked at the screen and at the conversation and she was dumbfounded. She muttered in confusion

"Is he really the child of the Vampire Queen? Isn't he too innocent and gullible? Oh my.."

Emilia felt another headache coming. It would be very troublesome to have such an innocent and gullible child at the academy as he would be the source of target for others and would be taken advantage very easily. She had to ensure no such things happend or the Vampire Queen would be very angry.

Though she found Lith cute and pure because of his behaviour just now and even had a good impression of him, it didn't change the fact that he was the only Vampire Prince in the whole world. He shouldn't get harmed even the slightest. Emilia had to ensure this and so the headache grew a little. She had to work once again.

"Though that may be the case, it doesn't change the fact that he is very cute and innocent. Hmm, thinking for a bit, taking care and protecting him doesn't sound too bad of an idea. Afterall, children such as him who are very pure and innocent at heart are blessed by the Light."

Emilia muttered and felt a little relaxed. Her headache had gone when she thought like this. She was an Angel and she naturally liked and had a good impression of such children who were very pure and innocent. They were said to be blessed by the Light in the Angel Continent and were liked by everyone there.

Emilia was no exception and so she felt her headache gone with this reason. Protecting Lith only felt natural to her and added onto the good impression and liking she already had towards him due to his behaviour, she felt even more determined to do so.

She looked at the screen with an interested look and thought what wonders would this cute child give her. She wasn't interested before but now she was. She would deal with his protection and everything else later when he finishes the exam as, as for now, he was very safe here. She thought and continued watching him.

Chapter 76: Entrance Test

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

On the rooftop of the highest tower in the castle, two figures were sitting on a chair in front of a round table, sipping tea and looking at a big screen in mid air in front of them. On the big screen was the figure of a silver hair boy that looked very much like these two ladies. The two ladies were Lilith and Lucy and on the screen was Lith who was currently walking through a long corridor.

"Mom, is little brother really embarrassed or is he just putting up an act?" Lucy asked.

"Fufufu...what do you think?" Lilith chuckled and asked back.

"If I had known, I wouldn't have asked the question, mom." Lucy said pouting.

"Hmm, isn't it obvious, dear?"

"No, It isn't obvious."

"Ara, you have been with him for so many years and yet don't know. He is acting, obviously. I am surprised that you couldn't tell. Fufufu...does that mean mama loves him more and knows more than you do?" Lilith said chuckling.

Lucy wanted to say many things but in the end she sighed and gave up. She put the tea cup to the side and slumped on the table and stretched her hands out. She knew she would never win with words against her mother and her goal in life now had become to beat her in that and not get teased by her. She then said while in the slumped posture

"You know what is my goal in life, mom?"

"Hmm, let me guess. Probably getting drilled in your ass by your littl-"

"Hey! Hey! Stop! Stop! Damn it! Mom why do you need to ruin the serious moment and say so many vulgar words!" Lucy said interrupting her hurriedly.

"Fufufu...it's more fun that way." Lilith chuckled and said.

"Ugh. You are too much, mom. Shush now and let me watch my little brother's performance peacefully." Lucy gave up on wanting to talk more.

"Fufufu...fine. I won't talk about your goal of getting your ass pound-"

"MOM!"

.....

Abalax Sky Island, Espat.

Lith was currently in a room that looked similar to the one before. The only difference was that instead of a lady, there was a man in charge of the test. He was a kind looking man. He had a slim figure and was tall and he had a stubble on his chin and a moustache. He looked gentle, harmless and easy to go along type of person.

The man said in a gentle tone, the same way as the lady from before

"Put one drop of your blood in the liquid."

Lith nodded and complied. He bit his thumb and a little blood leaked out from it. He poured one drop in a small tub which was filled with certain type of bluish liquid. The pool water turned golden after he dropped his blood inside. Just one drop made so much water golden. He too was a little surprised. The man looked at Lith with a gentle smile and said with the same gentle tone

"Congratulations. You have passed this test. You may proceed through the door on your left."

Lith nodded and then looked at the man and said in a hesitant tone

"S-sir.."

The man looked at Lith once again and said with a gentle smile

"Don't be afraid, child. We are here to help you. You can ask us any question without being afraid."

Lith nodded and said in an embarrassed tone

Sir, c-can I know, how did..I do?"

The man replied with a gentle tone once again

"You did good, child. If the liquid turns black, it means a not so good bloodline. If it turns red it means average bloodline and if it turns golden, it means a very good bloodline. These also represent your potential.

Black means your potential to advance to even Saint rank would be very difficult. Red means you can advance into King rank albeit with many difficulties and golden means you can advance into Emperor rank and even Supreme rank some day. You have a good bloodline and your potential is very good, child. You should be proud of yourself and your parents due to whom you got it."

Lith smiled in a happy way. He then said cheerfully

"Yes. I am very thankful to my mama for giving me such potential. Mama, if you are watching me from somewhere, please know, I am very grateful to you and also, I love you."

Although he was acting like a pure hearted 13 year old, the last line come out from the bottom of his heart. Those were his true, heartfelt words. He really was very grateful to his mother for providing him such good things.

He knew that the Liquid in front of him not only changed into black, red and golden but it also was able to remain the same when someone dropped their blood. It only happens when someone had a very very poor bloodline or when someone had a super strong bloodline.

Lith had known this information from Lucy beforehand. He was actually trained from Lucy before that he must not reveal all his cards anywhere and he shouldn't show his full potential in the entrance exam. This wasn't a good thing. This could be used back against him in the future and so, it was better to be cautious and not reveal your ability to the fullest. Only fools do such things.

Lith too agreed with all her words. He had read many cultivation novels in his past life and he knew that revealing your abilities to the fullest was the way of arrogant young masters. He didn't want to become one like that and so he followed his sister's words religiously.

Lucy had taught him many things and many tricks and ways to cheat in the exam and how to not reveal his full potential. She had told him that his potential was the best in the world and if anyone said otherwise, they were just jealous or ignorant fools. He would thus be targeted if word got out of such a person having so much potential and so, it was better to stay low key, she advised him.

Though Lilith was a God and could always protect Lith, Lucy didn't want that. She wanted her brother to grow as much as possible and he needed to experience many things in the world. The world was cruel and he needed to know that. Even if he hides his ability as much as he could, he would still be targeted for being the Vampire Queen's son. She knew this fact very well and so to not let him become a target of assassination everyday, she wisely advised him to hide his true abilities.

Lith, even though he didn't know the reason for so much concern from Lucy, still chose to follow her advise religiously. He trusted her more than he trusted himself. He knew she would never say anything against his interests. On top of that, he really didn't want to become an arrogant young master from novels.

Lith thus, revealed only Fire, Water, Earth, Wind, Space and Time affinities during the elemental affinity test thereby making the crystal glow red, blue, brown, green, black and silver respectively for the elements.

In this test, when he was dropping blood from his thumb, he had actually, before the test, with the help of Lucy, injected some blood from some Emperor rank's descendant which Hecate had provided them in his thumb and it was that thing which he dropped. The blood was covered via various spells and so the instructor wasn't able to tell if he was cheating or not.

This was how Lith was passing the tests. Not only was he scheming by putting on an act, he was also fully prepared to cheat on each and every test.

.....

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

"...I love you."

The voice of Lith was heard from the big screen.

Lilith looked at him with adoration and love. The love being that of a mother and not lover. A mother's love was very pure and had not a single impure thought in it for her child unlike a Lover's which always was a little unstable. A lover may leave you if you do certain things that may make them hate you but a mother would never do that even if her child would become the worst scum in the world. She would still love her child deeply the same way as before.

These cases were rare and not every mother loved her child so dearly. Lilith was among those rare mothers who loved their child dearly no matter what they become and do. Her love towards Lith was very pure.

Lilith would've had a little tear in her eye after hearing Lith's heartfelt words but his acting as a gullible child made him look less serious and Lilith only chuckled after hearing him. She also knew, even without reading his mind that the last sentence were the true heartfelt words of his and the rest was nothing but him spouting random non sense to look innocent.

"Fufufu...he has started to have a glib tongue now." Lilith chuckled and said.

"I feel so jealous and sad, right now. He didn't even mention anything about his big sister who loved him, cared for him and trained him all these years. Sigh, this is so sad." Lucy said in a sarcastic tone.

She knew well that the moment called for appreciating parents and not siblings and Lith was only following that. She also knew that he loved her as much as he loved their mom and so she said so in a sarcastic way.

"There, there. Don't worry, dear. Mama will always love you even if your brother doesn't." Lilith followed along with her joke.

"Blegh, who would want to be loved by you. Mind your own business, old lady." Lucy said in a discontented tone.

Lilith chuckled and got up from her seat. She went to Lucy and pulled her up from her chair and hugged her. She then snapped her finger and the chairs and table disappeared and a mat was spread on the ground out of nowhere. She sat on it and put Lucy in her lap with her back facing her and wrapped her arms around Lucy's belly and held her tight in her embrace. She then whispered seductively in Lucy's ear

"But this old lady doesn't want to mind her own business. She wants to love you, caress you, touch you and..."

Lucy started turning a little red. 'Mom is simply too much! She takes a joke too far! Ugh! So shameless!' Lucy said inwardly. She hated to be embarrassed like this. Her face flushed and she didn't dare to move or say anything as it would only provoke her mother in doing more things to her.

Lilith went more closer to Lucy's ear and let out a hot breath and whispered slowly

"...and eat you."

Lucy's face was now as red as a tomato. She wanted to dig a hole and hide in it forever. This was simply very embarrassing. She turned around and covered herself in her mother's big bosoms and hid in there, not wanting to be seen.

Lilith chuckled at her daughter's cute reaction. This was exactly what she wanted to see. Teasing her daughter was so much fun. She gently caressed her hair and then looked at the big screen once again.

.....

Lith was walking through a corridor. It was very long and only after five minutes did he find a familiar door like the other test rooms. He entered inside and found the room to be like a classic traditional Japanese type of room. There was a lady sitting on the mat below and in front of her was a small table. She was wearing a kimono and had her hair tied up in a bun. She smiled at Lith and gestured for him to sit down opposite to her. Lith obliged and did as he was told. She then said in a sweet voice

"How many odd things did you find while entering this room. Starting all the way from the black metallic door."

"24." Lith replied without hesitation.

"How many tiles were there in the corridor before this room?"

"1175."

"What seemed out of place?"

"The 327th tile at the bottom starting from the last test room's exit door had itself tilted for around an angle not so similar to the other tiles."

The lady looked at him with a smile. She said in her sweet voice again

"Congratulations. You have passed this test. You may enter the door on your left."

"T-thankyou miss." Lith said in an embarrassed tone, trying to maintain his image of a gullible child.

He answered the questions all very seriously and flatly without any hesitation because he wanted other people who were watching him right now, to know that he was a smart and serious type of kid when it came down to work and a gullible and innocent kid normally.

This was his second step of the plans he made beforehand.

He went to the door he was asked to and walked through a small corridor and arrived in a well lit room once again. Here, a muscular old man was sitting on a chair behind the table and the table had many things on it. The old man looked at Lith and said with a gentle but deep voice

"Come, sit."

Lith did as he was told. Once he sat down he started fidgeting his legs and he looked down nervously. Not wanting to meet the old man's eyes. He was showing the image of a child afraid to socialize with a stranger.

The old man looked at the nervous Lith and said in the same tone as before

"Don't be afraid, child. We mean you no harm. Take the cards in front of you and shuffle it and spread it on the deck."

He said straight to the point after consoling Lith a little.

Lith did as he was told and shuffled the cards and spread it on the desk. The old man said

"Now pick three cards randomly."

Lith did as he was told.

"Tell me what these combinations mean."

Lith looked at the picture of a tiger on a dark background on one card, a blue sky on the other card and a still lake on another. He looked at the old man and said

"Work hard no matter the time. Be calm at all times and reach for the skies."

The old man smiled at Lith's response. He said in the same gentle and deep voice

"Congratulations. You have passed. You may move to the door on your right."

Lith stood up happily. He didn't say anything to the old man and left quickly in a happy and cheerful way.

What Lith had told the old man, it was what any good student would say. He didn't tell him the even deeper meaning behind those cards which he knew. This was a comprehension ability test and Lith knew about it. Lucy had trained him a lot to increase his comprehension ability to the fullest. This ability was one of the basic things which everyone in the world needed to have. The higher the degree, the more the person had the chance to increase his rank easily. People with poor comprehension abilities do not go a long way in their magical ranks and so this test was a must to ensure good seedlings.

This little test with cards was nothing but a child's play to Lith. He had trained in a much more difficult things with Lucy. The hardest test he had gotten from Lucy was "Two kingdoms are at war. Kingdom A has many troops aligned in a format given below. Kingdom B has lost 80% of it's troops but it is still on the winning side and their format are given below. What would you do to ensure that Kingdom B wins the war but still has 90% of it's troops."

At first Lith cursed in his mind stating what a bullshit question this was. He hated such stupid riddles and puzzles. What was there to even comprehend from such a stupid question, he thought at that time. He wanted to get up and leave but Lucy had pinned him to the ground and she was torturing him little by little as time passed. Lith had to answer or this would continue. Lith had no choice but to rack his brains to the fullest and sometimes later, he came up with a decent answer. It was not the best, but okay enough to have him be free.

Lith remembered this nightmare of his while walking through the corridor and trembled a little in fear. His big sister was even worse than a demon when it came to teaching him. He hated it but he didn't blame or hate her. He knew it was for his betterment but still, it was too much. He shoved those thoughts to the side and continued his act of walking in a cheerful manner.

He soon arrived in a room where there was a blue dimensional gate in present at the wall of the room. Beside the gate sat a man behind a desk wearing glasses. He looked at Lith and gestured him to come closer. Lith followed the instructions. The man said in a gentle tone

"Child, this is a dimensional gate which will lead you to another dimension. You will have to survive in whatever place you are randomly teleported to from this gate for many days. To pass, you need to survive for a minimum of 35 days. The more number of days you survive in there, the more is your score. You will be teleported out directly after 100 days as that is the highest you can score.

The more your score, the better your chances are to get admitted into the academy. You can have this slip with you. Just tear the slip when you feel that you cannot take it anymore. Also, 100 days in the other dimension is only equal to an hour and 40 minutes here. This means each min over here equals to a day over there. So you do not need to worry about the time too much. Do your best. Goodluck."

He gave a short explanation and a slip to Lith and asked him to go to the portal. Lith nodded and did as he was told. He went into the portal and vanished from the room.

Chapter 77: Entrance Test (2)

Lith felt a white brilliance in front of his eyes. He close his eyes and then opened it again after a few seconds but he did it slowly. He looked around and found himself in a forest. He thought

'It seems, I need to survive here. What a bad place to be in. Sigh, should I continue with my act or should I try to fight it out for survival?'

He fell in a dilemma. If he was to act innocent and pure, he would die here. He knew resurrection was possible but if he died here, his mom and big sister would be sad and also angry at the academy and his mom may even burn it down. He didn't want to take his chances. He then had an idea. He thought

'I wouldn't fight nor would I try to get in contact with any strong creature. I would simply hide and wait it out for 100 days or maybe sleep? Idk but I definitely should not come into contact with strong creatures and fight them and reveal my abilities. Hmm, I'll probably fight some low rank beasts and eat them and survive for 100 days.

Got it! I'll act gullible and innocent in front of people or intelligent creatures and I would act tough and strong in front of beasts or creatures who merely live on their instincts. Yes, it may work. I can hopefully create an image which would state me as a person who can definitely survive in the wild but a person who cannot live properly and needs training to survive in this scheming and treacherous world.

This definitely would ensure that my innocent act stays and would also show how strong I am to others. Fuck, I am a genius, ain't I?'

Lith after his little talk with himself in his mind, started moving into the forest. He was on lookout and was observing every possible sign of life here. His observation skills were top notch and it wasn't too difficult for him to avoid beasts. These beasts in this forests were all low rank or rather, they have to be low rank or the children might die without even having a chance to fight back. There was no point on having super strong beasts present here as it would only result in either the children tearing their slip and going out or dying.

Lith knew this fact and also, such low rank beasts who ran on nothing but their instincts were easy to observe. He could see claw marks, fur, footprints, faeces and many other such things of these low rank beasts easily. He could therefore very easily predict where they would be present and so, could hide well. There was no need for him to be in trouble and surviving 100 days seemed very easy to him.

Lith while moving through the dense forest, found many edible plants and low rank beasts. He hunted them and stored them in his pouch. He then went near a cave which was located below a big cliff. This place seemed safe to Lith and he went near a big tree in front of the cave and carved it's insides to have a little space to stay.

He wasn't foolish enough to use the cave as any beast could come there anytime. A tree was a good choice as it would not attract any attention to anyone. The tree was pretty big. It's girth was big enough for Lith to carve a small room in it. He could sleep, sit and could even cook inside.

Lith casted a basic spell called 'Move'. It was a spell which could move Earth, fire, water or wind to anywhere he wanted at a limited radius and the size of the radius would increase as his own magical rank increases. This spell was very easy to use. One only needed to feel the Element in the surrounding that they wanted to move and the spell would do it for them.

Lith casted the spell and felt the Earth element and with it's help, he removed a little bit of soil from the ground and shifted it to the tree bark. He then shaped the soil into a furnace and used water and fire to make it rigid and sturdy enough to hold utensils and not break by excess heat from the fire.

This was a simple stove that he made to cook food. He casted many wind move spell on the area near the stove so that the aroma of the food was not spread in the surroundings, thereby alerting the beasts.

He cooked food and drank water by casting a water spell and then slept.

He had drawn many magic circles near the tree and they acted as surveillance to him. He would be alerted as long as there was some creature who wanted to harm him in a radius of 100m around the tree. He was very cautious.

The days passed just like that. No mishaps occurred in this low level forest and Lith was basically doing nothing but hunting, eating and sleeping. He would choose a different tree after a few days and would always avoid the beasts. Because of Lucy's training, he was very tough and he could even survive in high level forests, not to mention this low level one. This difficulty to survive in this forest could be considered as E rank.

It was not too high for rank 1s nor too low. Lith was a rank 2 and he could even fight a rank 5 easily. This test was nothing but wasting his precious time for him. He nevertheless, did the monotonous routine everyday. Hunt, eat and sleep. That was it for him.

Days passed just like that and there weren't any problems that occurred to Lith. He, due to his superior observational skills, didn't even meet one strong beast. He didn't even need to unleash too much of his abilities to hunt either. He was proficient in spear and he would directly kill a small beast with it and hunt it for food everyday.

100 days went without a hitch and Lith was teleported to the test room from where he entered the dimensional gate. He saw the same man and the man looked at him with a happy smile and said in a gentle tone

"Congratulations. You have passed this test. The examination is almost done. You would now need to wait until the Combat Examination begins after all the examinees have taken these four initial tests like you. That would be done in 15 days and you would then fight with other candidates and ensure your final standing in this year's entrance test.

The combat examination is more of a tournament than an exam. There would be many rounds and you only need to be in the top 10,000 to finally ensure your admittance in the academy. But, the higher your rank in it, the more benefits you would get in the academy as well as it would decide in what class you will be in.

Please wait until further notice. You may exit through the door on your right and you'll be teleported to the place you were previously teleported from. Goodluck for your tournament and have a nice day."

The examiner explained to Lith and Lith nodded his head. Lith listened intently to everything and nodded from time to time. Finally after the examiner finished, he ran to the exit but before going there, he turned back and said shyly

"T-thankyou, s-sir."

And then ran back into the exit. The examiner chuckled at his behaviour and got back to work.

.....

Inside the Principal's office.

"I didn't expect him to perform so well in all his tests. Looking at his innocent nature, I thought he would panick and instantly tear the slip and end the survival exam but who would've thought he was so observational. He merely hid from all the beasts and stayed there for 100 days. His perseverance is very good. To do nothing but a monotonous routine of hunting, eating and sleeping, this is not easy.

Well, he seems a nice kid. Everything about him is good except for his innocent nature. Well, can't blame him or anyone else. He is only thirteen. He is very small and his maturity matches his age. Nobody should be blaming him for it either.

I hope he does well in the Combat Examination. His admittance in the academy is confirmed but I'll decide about his protection once the combat examination is over. I hope you do well, dear Lith."

Emilia sat behind the desk and said to herself. She was watching Lith all this time.

She found Lith to not only be cute and pure but also intelligent and tough. The only flaw she found in him was that he was very green. Though it was a flaw, it only made a much more better impression of him in Emilia's eyes. Though this could be improved. The academy was a place meant to shape the children and no one was without flaws that got admission in it.

She had some plans regarding his protection but then she delayed it once again. She would wait and see his combat ability in the tournament first.

She shut the screen off and slumped on the table and slept. It was an exhausting day for her and she now wanted to relax.

.....

Inside a hotel in Lenz City.

A black haired, blue eyed boy was sitting on a bed and opposite to him was a man who looked very domineering but looked the same. They were both sitting silently and looking at the badge on the boy's chest. This had been going on for an hour and half.

After the previous conversation between the father-son duo, the place fell silent. They both didn't talk and only waited quietly. A few seconds later, The boy vanished from the spot. The man looked at the empty spot in front of him and muttered

"Let's see what surprise you were talking about, Liam."

.....

Liam felt a white brilliance and he had to close his eyes due to that. He soon opened it again a few seconds later and found himself in front of a metallic door. He looked around and found many kids. He didn't know the number of kids there were as anywhere he looked, he found nothing but kids of different races.

Suddenly, everyone heard a monotonous voice

"Examinee number 1, enter the metallic door."

Liam heard it and walked forward to the metallic door. After he entered, the monotonous voice rang outside again

"Examinee number 2, enter the metallic door."

The kid with registration number as 2 went inside.

The students who were standing all felt a ticking noise coming from their badges as it started ticking non stop.

It was not only them, the students all over the Lenz city felt the ticking noise. The number 0 examinee was taking the exam for an hour and a half and their badges were silent the whole time but now it had started ticking a lot.

Although everyone in Lenz city and also in front of the metallic door was surprised by this ticking, they knew the reason for it.

It was a rule in the academy as the examination process would officially only start for everyone when the first examinee has completed his examination process. Only the first examinee was called on the academy grounds alone and had to go through the exams. After he was done, a whole batch of students would be teleported at once. The number may go in thousands.

So the badges would tick nonstop until all the candidates outside the metallic gate have went inside to start their examination.

Why was this the case every year? It was merely a simple ritual done by the academy to make the students ready to take the exam.

If a group of kids were directly teleported without any notice, it would create a little bit of panick among them. So, each year, one student takes the exam first and by this, the other students would know that the examination has started and it could be their turn anytime, so they ready themselves.

It was a simple and effective ritual by the academy. This was the reason why everyone wanted to be first as they would get a bit of fame even before they did anything in the academy.

Chapter 78: Entrance Test (3)

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Lith teleported back to his bedroom. He looked at his badge once again and it showed the number zero at the top written in red and 1000 written below it indicating that it was the number of the examinee currently taking the exam. He was also amused by the fact that his badge could teleport him all the way to another continent by crossing such a vast sea in just a few seconds.

He read online on some forums that the badge has a teleportation spell. If one was in the Neutral Continent, they would be teleported directly to the academy but if one was not in the Neutral Continent, they would be teleported to their nearest teleportation circle and from there they would arrive at the Neutral Continent.

After arriving they needed to show their badge to the person in charge of teleporting people and he would set the coordinates to the academy's official teleportation circle located in Lenz City. From Lenz city, after verifying the validity of the badge, the candidate would then be sent directly to the academy. All in all, Lith knew he had to teleport many times to reach the Testing grounds but who knew he would directly be sent there and then sent back.

The academy had many centers in all the major countries of all the continents. The children could register themselves there without having the need to go to Neutral Continent and this would ensure that even a peasant would have an opportunity to get education in the best place in the world. The academy sought for talented and genius individuals from all across the world. It didn't matter if they were poor, rich, angels, demons, humans or of any race, status or religion. All that mattered to the academy was talent.

The only bad point about the academy was that it had a little corruption. Some authorities would take heavy sums from people and give them an early registration number. That was basically it. It actually didn't matter if one took the examination early on or at later stages as everyone who has been registered would be given a fair chance but people still thought, the earlier, the better and so the authorities only took advantage of the foolishness of people and thus, those found being corrupt weren't really punished too heavily.

Lith didn't know that his badge was personally made by the Principal and naturally had a 'Continental Jump' inscribed on it by the Principal. This was what made him teleport directly to the academy and back to his bedroom. In any case, he let go of the matter and was happy that he didn't need to perform a series of teleportation to go the testing facility.

He had only just arrived and was going to sit on the bed when he found himself being sucked into some vortex. He felt it just for a second and then he was back to normal again. Although, he looked around and found that it wasn't his mother's well lit bedroom but outside. The sky was dark, everything around was dark and the only light came from the Silver-crimson moon.

He then saw two silver haired, purple eyes beauties looking at him with a smile. He too smiled at them and went to them and sat on the ground alongside them.

"How was it, dear?" Lucy asked Lith. Even though she knew how he did, she still asked him.

"Why ask something that you already know, big sis." Lith said with a smile and stretched a bit and slept on his mother's thigh.

"I just wanted to hear it from you though." Lucy said pouting.

Lith chuckled and said while getting his hair caressed by his mother

"It was okay. I was bored to death in those 100 days in the other dimension. It felt so long and tiring."

"Ah yes, you really did spend a 100 days there. That's such a long time. You were never really away from us for so long. How did it feel being away from your big sis and mom?" Lucy asked with a smile.

Lith didn't answer her straight away. He looked at his mom and she too looked at him. He smiled at her and then hugged her and hid his face in her embrace. He then said while staying in that position

"It felt boring like I said. Every night while sleeping I felt empty. I felt a certain part of me missing. Every night I wanted to sleep but I wouldn't able to as I had lucid dreams about being together with you and mom. It was very brutal on my mental health and I felt I might go crazy at some point by being so lonely. But then, I knew you two were watching me and looking at my performance and that it wasn't too long of a time in the outside world.

With such thoughts, I preserved and kept telling myself, it is okay. I can endure this. It was all thanks to your training, big sis, that I had such a strong willpower to preserve. I might have really gone crazy in those 100 days had it not been for the training. Anyway, not everything was bad.

I have been with you and mom for all my life since I was born and in those 100 days that I was alone, I have had many thoughts. These thoughts wouldn't have taken place had I not been away from you. I've come to many conclusions, made many decisions for myself and also decided to test out and try many things in the upcoming future.

All in all, it wasn't the best experience but it wasn't too bad either. So to sum up my whole 100 days in one word, it would be nothing but boring."

Lilith and Lucy listened to whatever Lith was saying calmly. Lilith was caressing his hair while he laid in her lap, hugging her. They were going through many emotions as they listened to him. They felt pain, pride, happy and had mixed emotions when they were listening to him. Though his explanation was short and like a little summary of the whole 100 days, it still felt like a rollercoaster ride to them.

Lilith and Lucy looked at him with mixed emotions, not knowing what to say or how to answer to him.

After a while, Lilith made Lith turn over and look at her while he laid in her lap. Her amethyst eyes met with his and she said with a loving smile to him

"It has been hard on you. You do not need to push so far, baby. You can always let go of these things and come back to mama. Mama wants nothing but you to be happy."

Lith smiled and then shook his head. He said to his mom

"Mama, I really wish to be in your embrace forever but you know, it'll ruin it's meaning for me. I feel happy, protected, loved and warm when I am in your embrace but if I don't really experience hardship in life, these emotions wouldn't occur much and I wouldn't really feel them either.

If I don't understand pain, I wouldn't understand joy. If I don't experience sadness, happiness would have no meaning for me. It'll all be worthless. I would simply become a person detached from the world and an emotionless machine which is running on for who knows what. I need to experience all sorts of emotions or without them, everything that I have with me right now, wouldn't have any meaning in it.

Being born with a silver spoon, it is both a blessing and a curse."

Lilith and Lucy both had a surprised expression. They weren't shocked, just surprised. They knew that a day would come when Lith would mature and go out and explore the world. Nobody in their right minds would stay cooped at just one place. They just didn't think that the day would come so early. They thought that Lith would probably have such thoughts after he graduated from the academy but who knew that only staying away from them for 100 days, he would mature so much.

They both have gone through such ordeals and knew full well how much importance such experiences held in one's life. Lucy looked at Lith and said with a smile

"I am happy to hear such thoughts from you but dear you are too young. You shouldn't get so philosophical at such a small age. It is bad for your health. It is still very early for you to think about so many stuff. Graduate from the academy first and let's have this talk again, okay?"

"Your big sis is right, baby. First experience your academy life, we'll talk about this later, okay?" Lilith agreed with her daughter's words and said her own thoughts to Lith.

"Alright, big sis and mom. Anyway, it has been a 100 days and you know.."

Lith looked at Lucy and said with a smirk. Lucy got a little red but didn't show any exaggerated reaction. She could handle her little brother's shameless to a little extent as he was not as hardcore as their mom. She looked back at him and said

"Let us enjoy this peaceful time together here on the rooftop. We can talk about other things later."

Lith nodded his head. His naughty thoughts gone. He too wanted to enjoy this peaceful time as he too was exhausted due to those 100 days with such a monotonous routine.

He got up and pulled his big sister closer towards his mother and laid his head on his mother's lap and his legs on his big sister's. Lilith caressed his hair and Lucy gently massaged his legs. It was a simple gesture of their familial love to him which Lith wanted very much. They chatted and talked while being that position and started having a peaceful and happy time together.

.....

Abalax World Academy, Espat.

"Place your hands on the ball and try to feel the Elements in the surrounding."

A lady said in a gentle tone to a black haired, blue eyed boy. The boy nodded and did as he was told. Soon, the crystal started glowing red, blue, brown, green, black and silver. The lady was surprised by such a scene. She thought to herself

'what a surprise, two candidates and both have the same elemental affinities.' She was a professional and she didn't show any exaggerated reaction and maintained her calm face. She said to the boy

"Congratulations. You have passed. Go to the door on your left."

The boy nodded and went to the door and left the room. The lady subconsciously compared him and the silver haired boy who had taken the test before. She didn't know the silver haired boy's name or origins but by his behaviour itself, she could tell that he was far better than this black haired boy who had the same affinity as him.

The lady didn't hate the black haired boy, nor did she have a bad impression of him. She just thought the silver haired boy to be better than the two when she compared them. It was, but a mere passing thought of her's. She then looked at the entrance door open and waited for the next examinee to come, her previous thoughts all gone.

.....

"Put one drop of your blood in the liquid." A slim and tall man with a stubble on his chin and a moustache said in a gentle tone.

The black haired boy nodded and did as he was told. Soon, the water became a golden colour. The man had a surprised expression like the lady before but he didn't show it on his face. He thought to himself

'It seems the academy this year is going to have good talents.'

He then looked at the boy and said with the same gentle tone

"Congratulations. You have passed the test. Proceed towards your left door."

The boy nodded and left.

The man looked at him with a surprised look again. He had many thoughts and he too like the lady before compared him to the silver haired boy from before.

It couldn't be helped. This happened every year. The first candidate was a person who created a benchmark and was a source of comparison to the other examinees. The examiners although had a testing criteria available, the overall quality of the whole batch of children that have registered themselves each year was considered by comparing them with the year's first examinee.

Each year the first examinee would always be a certain special someone or from a very influential family. This naturally meant they had a very good potential and so they have unknowingly become a benchmark that the examiners used each year to compare with other examinees.

.....

The boy walked through the corridor and he looked at the long corridor. He felt something was wrong and from the folktales of his previous life that he had heard, if something felt wrong, then something was surely wrong. He knew this and so he observed the surrounding carefully. Soon, he found a weird tile and made a mental note of it.

He observed each and everything and every nook and cranny to not miss out anything. After confirming that he knew pretty much everything about the corridor and nothing else was wrong, he moved to the next testing facility.

He entered the next test room and found himself in front of a lady in a kimono sitting on a mat in front of a small table inside a traditional Japanese looking room. The lady gestured him to sit and he did so. He sat cross legged opposite to her. The lady asked in a gentle tone

"How many odd things did you find while entering this room, starting all the way from the black metallic door."

The boy panicked a little. He thought

'Oi, what the fuck? I was supposed to be so observant? Fuck!'

He very soon composed himself and looked at the lady dead in the eye. His blue pupils started rotating as he looked into the eyes of the lady. Soon, he smiled and answered

"26."

The lady was shocked by his spot on answer. The answer he gave was correct and there were only 26 odd things all throughout. The silver haired boy previously had given almost a correct answer to her and she had considered him a genius but now the black haired boy in front of her seemed even better than that.

She also noticed the change of his pupils while he looked at her. She made a mental note of it and she remembered that there were individuals in this world with certain unique abilities. The boy in front of her must be having the same, she thought and calmed down. Soon she said to him in a neutral tone

"How many tiles were there in the corridor before you entered this room?"

"1203."

"What seemed out of place?"

"The 327th tile at the bottom starting from the last test room's exit was tilted at a 15° to the left as compared to the other tiles."

The lady was very surprised. She didn't know if he was really a genius or it was because of his ability but in any case, he was a rare talent to find.

The boy in front of her gave all correct answers and they were even better than the silver haired boy from before, she thought. Though, the silver haired boy seemed much better to her in overall terms as she could tell that he was giving all those answers due to his superior observational skills and not due to some special ability like the black haired boy in front of her. In any case, it was none of her business to judge the boy sitting in front of her's character or pry into his secrets. She was an examiner, she only needed answers to her questions. She said to him gently

"Congratulations. You have passed. You may enter to the door on your left."

The boy nodded and left. The lady looked at him again and she subconsciously thought of the silver haired boy to be a little better as he was polite enough to thank her and also seemed very cheery and easy to get along with unlike the black haired one in front of her who looked very serious, unlike his young age. She shook her head and waited for the next examinee to come.

.....

"...now pick three cards and tell me what they mean."

The black haired boy picked up the cards and then looked at the old man's eyes. His pupils rotated once again and he said with a smile

"The carnal fire is hard to extinguish, the river of blood is flowing uncontrollably, reaching the heavens and stopping it is the only option left."

The old man was shocked. What the boy said was he was thinking a second ago! Did that mean the boy could look in the future? The old man made a mental note. He then said with a neutral tone

"Go to the door on your left."

Chapter 79: Entrance Test (4)

"Go to the door on your left."

The boy nodded and left. The old man then thought

'It seems I need to bring this to the Principal's notice. We have had many cases of such individuals who had innate special abilities, some became great figures and some even massacred a whole bunch of people. It is a double edged sword and we need to be careful about it. If we nurture the children well at the early age, it will benefit not only the child but also the rest of the world. A child with such potential is surely special.'

Though he thought that, he had subconsciously, like all the other examiners compared this boy to the silver haired boy from before. He actually thought highly of the silver haired boy as he didn't use any special ability and it was his own comprehension ability which made him pass the test. The silver haired boy's comprehension ability was on par with that of an elite and he was sure to reach greater heights but,

This black haired boy used some ability and got the correct answer in a test which was for the measurement of one's comprehension ability. He didn't comprehend one single thing. He had actually failed this test. Thus he was asked to go to the door on his left instead of right. Though that was the case, him failing this test was a special case and that needed to be brought to light. The exams were fair.

.....

"Enter the dimensional gate. You'll need to survive there for 35 days to pass. Though the more you stay, the more is your score. The highest you can score is 100 which means you'll be there for a 100 days. After a 100 days you'll be directly teleported outside. If you feel it is unbearable for you to survive, tear the slip and you'll be teleported out and the number of days you survive would be your score."

The black haired boy nodded and entered the gate.

After his eyes faced an intense flash of light, he found himself in the middle of a desert with high temperature.

After choosing a direction to go in, he started walking in the direction warily. Not even a few seconds passed and he heard a faint sound.

HISSSSSS!

Before even realising what happened, his body maneuvered itself into performing a quick and effective dodge and landed a few metres away from his previous position. He realised that his unique ability [Danger Detection] had been activated and he thus quickly used another of his unique ability [10s Super Reflex] to dodge the attack of what seemed to be a snake like beast.

After dodging it, he quickly cast a wind spell and ran away from where he was as soon as possible. He used the rank 1 spell 'Move' and he moved the air surrounding him and made it carry himself along with it quickly. It cost him a little bit of spiritual power but not too much as he was a rank 2 and using a rank 1 spell was easy.

After getting away from the snake and to a certain distance, he looked at the place he ran away from. He could see a silhouette of a giant snake. It seemed to be coming closer but the speed was not too high. He breathed a sigh of relief and went around looking for shelter. He had to survive 100 days here and it definitely wasn't easy.

.....

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Lith was talking to his mother and big sister while sleeping on their laps. While keeping the talk going on, he started fondling his mother's big breasts. Lilith looked at him with a smile but didn't say anything and let him do as he pleased. Lucy didn't mind it either and their talk continued.

After fondling Lilith's tits for a while, Lith removed her boobs out of her dress and as he did that, they started jiggling as they no longer had a bra supporting them. Lith looked at the scene with a smile and then started sucking on one of Lilith's nipple and played with the other.

Lith sucked milk out of Lilith's big breasts and also was listening to the conversation. Lilith caressed Lith's hair while breastfeeding him. Lucy continued to talk with Lilith. Lith started getting a boner after a while and he looked at his big sister and said with a smile

"Big sis, I haven't had a release in 100 days, you know? wink "

Lucy looked at him with a neutral face and saw his smile. She didn't reply to him and started removing his pants. After his pants were down, she pulled his underwear down and his shaft stood in front of her eyes, high and mighty. It was twitching and also seemed to be very hard, indicating he really didn't have any release.

Lucy got on her knees and bent down and took Lith's cock in her mouth. She started lubricating it fully. She licked his shaft from the tip all the way to the bottom. After getting everything coated in her saliva and making it well lubricated, she started bobbing her head up and down.

Lilith looked at this scene with an amused expression.

'Ara, seems like my teasing has made sweetie bolder...fufufu'

Lilith looked at Lucy and said with a teasing look

"Sweetie, share some with mama too, okay? I also want to taste the 100 days old thick semen of my baby."

Lucy's face flushed a little but she didn't reply to her and continued with her work. Lilith chuckled at it and said

"Dear, make sure to relax your throat and don't try to hurt yourself by deepthroating him okay? It's a very big size for your small mouth."

'Hey! Why are you giving me instructions about it like this is nothing but a trivial matter. how are you not embarrassed even a little, mama?' Lucy thought to herself and looked at Lilith. She didn't reply to her again but followed her instructions.

Lilith chuckled at her behaviour and continued ruffling Lith's hair while he sucked her milk.

"Mhm, big sis, I am almost there. Are you sure you'll be okay?"

Lith said after getting himself a blowjob for around ten minutes. Lucy after hearing it was starting to have second thoughts.

'Will I really be able to swallow it all?'

Lucy thought to herself and she was now chickening out a little. She looked at her mother to get a little confidence but Lilith only gave her a smirk and made her feel even more nervous. Lucy made up her mind. She took Lith's shaft out of her mouth and wiped her mouth with her sleeves.

She then got up and pushed her mother aside from where she was sitting and put Lith's head on her lap and took out her tits for him to suck milk from. She still had milk coming out from them.

Lilith chuckled looking at her daughter chickening out. She didn't call her out for it as it was only natural that she would be a little afraid to do so. Lucy wasn't experienced like her and she knew this. She went over towards Lith's crotch area and got down to giving him a blowjob and continuing from where Lucy left off.

Lith didn't mind much about anything. He sucked milk from his sister's big breasts and let his mother do her thing. He too knew Lucy was inexperienced and he didn't tease her for that.

Lilith, with her skillful tongue, started twirling it around Lith's tip and bobbed her head up and down quickly. She made a suction force act on Lith's dick via her mouth and Lith felt so much pleasure that he almost climaxed.

Lith looked at his mother and said

"Hey, mama. Slow down a bit will you."

Lilith looked at Lith with her eyes while continuing the blowjob. She didn't reply to him and only smirked while sucking him off.

She then took his shaft all the way in her mouth and deepthroated him. She also made sure to keep using her tongue and making a suction force to make him feel more pleasure.

Lith couldn't handle it anymore. He held his big sister's waist tightly and thrust his hips upwards and hid his face in her big sister's embrace and released a muffled groan.

"Mhffm"

Lith shot his seeds in his mother's mouth and Lilith expertly swallowed it. He came much longer than he has ever before and waves of semen kept gushing out of his dick in Lilith's mouth.

Lilith, like an expert, first took the semen in her mouth and her cheeks puffed up. She then swallowed it as more semen kept coming in her mouth and maintained that puffed up cheeks look. She finally, swallowed almost enough to not have her cheeks look puffy. She removed her mouth from his shaft and went towards her daughter.

Lucy looked at her mother swallowing like an expert. She didn't know whether she should be proud or embarrassed about it. She looked at her mother coming towards her and she knew why she was coming here. Her face flushed hard. She wanted to run away to not feel embarrassed but Lith was currently hugging her tightly and was panting heavily in her embrace. She sighed and accepted her fate.

Lilith came to Lucy and lifted her chin and gave her a kiss. She poured Lith's seeds in her mouth and let her have a taste of it. Lucy accepted it, albeit a bit shyly. She savoured the taste as it was a very good one for her. It tasted the same as her mother's love juices but it was much more stronger than her mother. Her mother's juices had a mild and sweet rosy flavour and her little brother had a strong and wild rosy flavour.

Lilith broke the kiss and savoured the taste of her own son while her daughter did that too. They both closed their eyes and felt the taste. After half a minute or so, they both gulped at the same time.

Lilith and Lucy both casted a cleaning spell in their mouth and Lilith casted one on her son's shaft too. They knew Lith wouldn't kiss them after they gave him a blowjob or had his seeds in their mouth. They didn't know why he hated to do that as he was okay to taste their juices but not his own self's seeds. Nevertheless, they didn't ask him but simply followed along with his wishes.

If he didn't like kissing them while they had his seeds, they would clean it. If he hated to have a taste of his own self, then so be it. They loved him and going along with his wishes like such wasn't too much for them. It was just a small thing for both.

Lith recovered from the heavenly feeling he just felt a few minutes ago. It was too good. He hadn't had anyone or anything touch his little brother in a 100 days and now it all erupted in one go and the expert techniques of his mother were too much for him to handle and so, he felt so much more pleasure than he had ever felt before during that one moment.

He got up and went towards his mother. He said with a smile

"Thankyou, mom. It felt amazing."

"Hey, it was me who did most of the job!" Lucy said from the side and pouted.

"Yes, yes, big sis, thanks to you too." He then went to her and kissed on her cheeks.

"My mouth is clean, don't worry." Lucy said. She didn't realise it but she had started to get bolder like her mother and little brother subconsciously.

Lith too was amused by what his big sister said. She never really was proactive but today she seemed a bit bolder. He nevertheless smiled and gave her a kiss on her lips.

He went to his mother and gave her a kiss too. He didn't do it before because he thought they still had some remnants of his seeds and he didn't want to taste it but now that Lucy said she was clean then his mother too would be clean, he guessed and did it.

"Let's go in the bedroom. I want to watch the new episodes of the anime that I left off."

"Fufufu....only an hour and a half had passed in the real world and not 100 days. There are not any new episodes, you know?" Lilith said while chuckling.

"Ah, right. I forgot about it. Anyway, let's go and sleep then."

Lith took their hands and walked with them downstairs. He didn't even wait for them to tuck their big breasts in their dress or pull up his own pants. He forgot about it too and walked in the castle like an exhibitionist.

Lilith of course knew that he forgot and she simply casted an invisibility spell on them while they walked so the maids and servants don't notice them.

They reached the bedroom and removed what last clothing they had on them and slept on the bed.

Lith was in the middle with his back facing his mother. He was holding his big sister who was facing him. Lucy too held Lith and Lilith from the side wrapped her long arms around both of them.

They slept in such a nice and warm position together happily.

.....

"FUCK! ISN'T THIS TOO MUCH! FUCKKK!"

A black haired boy cursed while running away from a group of big centipedes who were crawling towards him at a crazy speed.

The boy thought while running from them that these survival plains shouldn't be so difficult, should they? There were supposed to be low level creatures which could be dealt with by rank 1 or rank 2s. They shouldn't be so high level for such low ranks, should they? He had such thoughts while he cursed outwardly and ran with all his might.

It had only been 4 days and he had gotten attacked by many creatures. These centipedes were the highest ranks he had come across yet. He didn't know if his luck was shit or it was the academy that was unfair. Nevertheless, he couldn't give up as it would make him a laughing stock in front of his father and whole family to whom he said that he would surprise them with the exam results.

It had only been 4 days and he needed to preserve for 96 more days.

What the boy didn't know was that it was so challenging in this dimension because he had failed the comprehension test. Each test students fail, the next test would gradually get more difficult for them. It was a rule set by the academy.

The students would either preserve in these difficult tests and prove themselves or they would just keep on failing and give up. The academy needed high grade talents and not students who would give up in the face of difficulties. The difficult they set in a test wasn't too much for a 13 year old to handle but it wasn't too less either. If they passed in the difficult test, their upcoming tests would be much easier.

The examinees who failed in one test, got the next one as difficult, if they passed it, they would get normal tests from the next time onwards but if they failed, they would keep getting more and more difficult tests. This was the academy being fair in their testing and judging. The examinees just needed to redeem themselves in the difficult test and prove their worth to the academy.

The black haired boy had failed the comprehension test and he didn't know about it. This was the reason he was having so much trouble to survive over here.

"Huff...Huff...fucking finally! Ahhhh...I have finally shook them off my trail. What the fuck is the use of unique abilities when there is someone of such a high rank present.

It is nothing but a load of crap in front of absolute power! Ugh! I need to get stronger or I would die and I would die once again in this life without providing justice to everyone properly!

I need to be stronger and more powerful! Ah yes, I know how to do that. I'll think about it again after the test."

The black haired boy said to himself while panting. He later found for shelter and hid himself there.

A/N: To all who were asking about Yuri and other stuff in the novel. Let me tell you few things first. There would be Yuri among the ladies who are related to the mc but it isn't like lovers. It's just because they want to let themselves off and they haven't found a partner yet. They don't want just any male inside them, if it is not the right one, which in this novel, would be mc.

In short, yuri would be present but it isn't done like lovers. The ladies are all straight and not bisexual or lesbians who are related to the mc and they only do it to let themselves off as they haven't found the mc yet. Otherwise, this novel would've been in the LGBT+ category. I don't hate LGBT stuff but I don't like it either and so I'll only write about it when I feel like it.

Other times, ladies who are into anyone else except for mc wouldn't be given too much screen time. They would be given a little but not too much. I'll add warning beforehand.

There definitely would not be any form of yaoi, ntr, r*pe(though reverse r*pe and netori is a possibility) and that's pretty much it.

Chapter 80: Combat Test Tournament

Abalax World Academy, Espat.

Inside the test room.

A black haired teen appeared out of thin air in the well lit room. His clothes were tattered, his hair disheveled, there were blood stains everywhere on him and his whole body seemed pale. The examiner looked at him and said in a neutral tone

"Congratulations. You have passed. The last test would be the Combat Test Tournament. It'll be 15 days later. Goodluck."

After the examiner said that, the black haired boy vanished from the spot.

The examiner had been watching the boy and a few others. He was in charge of examining the students who had failed the comprehension test and out of all the students who had gone to the other dimension, only this black haired boy seemed extraordinary to him.

The examiner had noticed everything that the boy did, from the way he used his abilities, ran from strong creatures and whatever things he muttered in those 100 days.

The examiner wrote some things on a paper and folded and put it inside an envelope. He sealed it with a special seal and then moved towards a corner of the room. He put the letter in a letter box. The letter box seemed like an ordinary red box placed on a table in a corner.

After the letter was sent in the box, the box made a ding sound and went silent again. The examiner thought to himself

'I've recorded everything there was to it about the boy and sent it to the administrative office. Phew, such a hectic day. This boy was in so much trouble and why did he have to fight monsters for no reason. He ran from stronger ones and stupidly fought the weaker ones.

Because of him I had to watch his every fight and record every detail about him. Sigh, this was so tiring. Why couldn't he be like the other students who came here after failing the comprehension test. Why didn't he just give up after passing or hid for 100 days correctly.

The exam was only about surviving and not fighting. Ugh, whatever, there are more students that I need to check on now.'

The examiner then sat on his seat and waited for other examinees to come.

.....

15 days passed.

The examinations were done in full swing. Each day about a 750,000 candidates would be tested. The examiners would conduct their exams day and night all day for four days straight. Each examiner would do a 12 hour shift to ensure that candidates got the full attention of the examiner.

It was tiring on the examiners but thankfully there were many testing rooms and many examiners to conduct the exam. There were around a 1000 examiners who conducted one 12 hour shift. Each examiner had to go through around 700-800 students everyday in their shift. It was tiring on them but they managed it well as they were all high ranks and such work would only happen during these times of the year. They also got bonus for it, so all was good.

There was a break on the 5th, 10th and the 16th day. The administration of the academy along with the help of examiners, went over the list of candidates that were of a high potential. After 4 days around 3 million+ students were tested which was approximately one third of the total candidates that registered.

The academy went over the test results of these three million candidates on the rest day and sorted out the ones with the highest scores. These students were the ones that would be allowed to take part in the Combat Test Tournament.

The academy wanted students with an overall high potential in all fields and if some students failed in some tests, they wouldn't let those students take the combat test as even if they had high combat abilities, it wouldn't matter because their overall potential is low, thereby making them seem ordinary.

The academy also had to send the scores of the test result of those who failed, to the respective candidates. These candidates could take these test results and use it as a reference of their abilities while applying for other academies.

The other academies all considered Abalax's test scores are 100% valid and they didn't doubt it as they knew that their testing was very efficient and the best in the world. If the test scores are high, they would accept students without even testing them and if they are moderate or low, they would first test them for themselves and see if they are worthy to be taken in or not.

Some could also pay money and directly get into other elite academies apart from Abalax. There were many types of academies available to get into if Abalax didn't take them in. There were local, state, country and international level academies all over the world. The students had many doors open to them if Abalax didn't take them in and so nobody was left without any education.

The graduation criteria, academic years and number of semesters and all, varied from academy to academy. Abalax had one of the strictest criteria for graduation and examinations but it also had the most relaxed semesters and syllabus. The students are happy in their 5 years stay in the academy and give those strict exams and graduate with a high rank with no problems.

The academy also had the highest number of graduates each year even though it had the world's most strict criteria for graduating. To be a rank 6 in five years was not easy. On an average, in five years, a person in the world would only be around rank 3 or 4. Being a rank 6 was only done by geniuses and the most elite kids in the world.

Abalax took pride in this as even the children that get expelled from their academy for not meeting the criteria are around rank 4 at the lowest. If a student fails to be a rank 6 after 5 years, he would be given an extra year to make up for it and if he failed in that, he would be expelled. Thus, even the failures of Abalax were above average in the whole world and were respected by everyone.

Abalax World Academy was almost done with their examinations and only the final one was left. It was the Combat Test Tournament. After testing over 10 million students, only a million have been selected for the final round. Among these one million students, only 10,000 would get a chance to be in the academy.

These 10,000 students would get allotted to their classrooms depending upon their rank in the tournament and their treatment would also vary. The high ranking students would naturally be given more benefits and so, everyone in the tournament took the fights seriously.

.....

Royal Castle, Nightingale.

Lith was currently sitting and having his breakfast. He was having miso soup with tofu, salmon, rice and tamagoyaki with some pickles on the side. He was eating a traditional Japanese breakfast but here in this world it was from the cuisines of the beastkins. The beastkins were demi-humans since birth. They were half beast and half human all their lives.

They live majorly in Elven Continent. They used to live in Human Continent but the humans loathed these half beasts and half humans type creatures and killed them whenever they found them and so these beastkins were on a decline.

According to the tales of the beastkins, their ancestor called Yamamoto Sakaguchi united them and left with every possible demi-human out of the Human Continent and into the Elven Continent, which was just North of the Human Continent in the Eastern part of the world.

The Elves were a very tolerant race and they didn't mind the beastkins migrating in their continent. The beastkins found a place for themselves in the Elven Continent and lived there from then on.

From pictures of their cities that Lith found online, he guessed that one of the Earthling had reincarnated into the body of the demi-human and from there on, he lead them to such a prosperity. From his name alone, he guessed that he was from Japan back on Earth. In any case, Sakaguchi had done a great deed for an entire race. He was an Emperor rank and he looked after the beastkins. He still lived to this day.

The cities of beastkins had Japanese architecture and their whole race followed Japanese culture. Everything related to Japan in this world came from them.

Lith while eating the tamogoyaki with his chopsticks thought

'How did the beastkins adapt to the mild tastes of food? Shouldn't they be craving for foods with strong flavour and meat constantly? Japanese cuisine has a wide variety of foods and it is not focused too much on meat like the English cuisine. Whatever, it's their choice.

Oh right, thanks Sakaguchi for your hardwork. Without you, I wouldn't be able to eat ramen, hahaha.'

Lith had small talks with himself in his mind. He didn't miss Earth too much as everything from back there was present here and that too, it was more advanced or much better. He really liked eating food. It tastes good, it brought back memories and he would get to know about the various people and culture in this world by just having a taste of the food.

Just by having a traditional Japanese breakfast, he got to know about the whole Japanese and beastkin culture over here. Food was a good way of knowing the world more and also his fellow Earthlings.

He looked at his side while eating food and found his mother doing his big sister's hair in front of a dressing table. He smiled and continued to eat his food.

He had almost finished his food and was about to reach for the last piece of salmon when his registration badge which he wore on his chest started to tick and a monotonous voice started coming out of it

"Dear Candidates, the Combat Test Tournament would start in 3 hours. You would be teleported to the academy grounds and would have to stay there until the end of the tournament. Goodluck on your test."

Lilith and Lucy looked at the badge on Lith's chest and Lith too looked at it. Lucy shifted her gaze and said to Lith with a smile

"Goodluck, dear."

"I still have 3 hours. Stop saying it like I am leaving now, big sis." Lith said with a smile.

"Fufufu...3 hours aren't too big of a deal, baby. Anyway, let's get you ready." Lilith added.

Lith finished his last bite of salmon and got up and went to Lilith to get dressed.

.....

Abalax Sky Island, Lenz City.

On one corner of the big sky island, there was an arena which could fit around a 100,000 spectators easily. It was in an oval shape. In the middle of it, there was a flat ground and around the flat ground was a green translucent barrier. This was barrier to protect the spectators and also acted as a circle to trap the souls of the people who die during the fight and get resurrected by the officials later on.

The whole arena was pretty much empty. There were only around 2000 people who were sitting and waiting.

At a corner of the arena, a blonde lady with blue eyes wearing a majestic white and golden robe was sitting. Beside her sat an ordinary looking lady with light brown hair and eyes. The blonde lady said to the lady beside her

"Sel, it's time."

"Okay, madam." Sel said and did some things on a tablet screen she was holding.

Soon, on the training grounds, magical spatial fluctuations occurred and flashes of light were seen. Out of those lights, figures of thirteen year old childrens came into view. They were the selected candidates for the Combat Test Tournament. In only a few minutes, the arena ground was filled with 1,000,000 students.

The blonde lady looked at the sea of examinees and was in search of a particular candidate. She soon found the familiar silver haired boy with purple eyes.

She noticed that the cross earring he was wearing was still present. This cross gave her a feeling that she was standing before the Heavenly Emperor. It radiated his aura and she made a guess that it was made by him and gifted to the Vampire Queen for her son. Why he did that, she didn't understand and it wasn't her business to pry into it.

She smiled looking at him and she was hoping to see how he would perform in combat.

.....

A silver haired lady wearing black sunglasses walked near the blonde lady. She was wearing a sports bra, a jacket which was open and revealed her flat stomach which had signs of abs which didn't make her look too muscular but only fit and lean. She wore black leggings and black shoes. A little area above her ankle was shown and overall, she looked very hot in such an outfit.

Her hair was tied in a ponytail and she had two long slicks of hair at her sides which reached her collarbone and a few strands of hair at her forehead. Her hairstyle seemed a bit messy but it only made her look more hot.

She reached the blonde lady and sat beside her and wrapped one of her arm around the blonde lady's shoulder and said in her melodious and sweet tone

"Yo Emmy, who you looking at? Did you finally find a boy toy for yourself this year?
Hahahaha"