Chapter 1471 Dimension Queen Heidi

Mo Fan was a Space Mage, too. He could sense the accelerating force between him and the woman. It had greatly sped up the rocks and stalactites being fired at him.

Even a rock the size of a fist was as destructive as a rocket at its current speed! Mo Fan knew his wall of Will had no chance of stopping the spray of crude missiles. He decisively cast Blink to escape from the area!

Mo Fan vanished into thin air as a trail of silver crystals fell to the ground, reappearing behind the woman.

The woman was very sensitive to the energy of the Space Element, and immediately turned around. Her ash-brown hair drifted about as her alluring figure floated in the air. Her sapphire blue eyes flickered once again. The cave began to shake as multiple stalactites began to fall from above. Cracks started crisscrossing the unique cave.

Mo Fan was utterly shocked. How could the woman's Will be so strong? He was afraid that he would be buried alive in the cave if he did not find his way out soon!

The water of the heavenly river poured deep into the lake below, reflecting a huge rainbow at the center of the waterfall under the sunlight.

Professor Li, Zhao Manyan, and the others on the bridge seemed extremely worried. Enough time had passed for Mo Fan to enter the cave and come out here, yet they had yet to see any movement. Did something go wrong for him?

"I think you might have to look around at the bottom of the lake. Maybe you can still save the guy in time!" Edith had a pleased face.

There was only one possibility if the guy did not show up after so long; the current must have pushed him down to the bottom of the lake! If the guy failed to break free from the current, he would most likely drown after he was worn out. There were times where they had to fish dead bodies out from the bottom of the lake!

A huge explosion suddenly blew the curtain of water apart. The water scattered over a hundred meters away.

Professor Li, Sheryl, and the others were around eighty meters away from the waterfall, so the explosion was very close to them. Over a hundred tons of water was pouring down at them, like a huge beast of the deep ocean tearing at them.

"Water Curtain!" Zhao Manyan reacted swiftly. He completed the Advanced Water Spell within a few seconds, forming an arc-shaped barrier above the group.

The water poured down with a deafening roar, churning up the lake. The bridge was swaying hard, and almost knocked them into the water.

“What’s going on?” Zhao Manyan looked up at the white curtain of the waterfall and noticed a huge hole in it. The water was avoiding the spot as it flowed by.

A long-haired woman wrapped by a silver rug floated out of the hole. White ripples were scattering within ten meters of her, splitting the waterfall in half to clear a path for the woman, an otherworldly sight. Her strong aura continued to stir up water pillars from the waterfall and the lake!

“This place is going to be your burial ground!” The woman’s voice was sharp, each of her words contained deadly force. When she uttered the last word, the magnificent waterfall exploded, while the water pouring down was intercepted and placed under the control of her Will...

The water was no longer falling down, but surging horizontally at a tiny figure on the surface of the lake!

The person was none other than Mo Fan. He had escaped from the cave, but to his surprise, the madwoman continued to chase after him. He immediately turned into a nimble shadow bird and fled from the place, sticking closely to the surface of the lake when he noticed the waterfall changing directions!

The water was blocking the sunlight. It split into different streams around thirty meters from the surface of the lake. The streams were lunging at the shadow bird that Mo Fan had transformed into, like several enormous white dragons!

Mo Fan quickly flew past the bridge, yelling at Zhao Manyan, “Old Zhao, lend me a hand!”

Zhao Manyan glanced at the dragons that the waterfall had turned into, before looking at the icy woman standing amid the raging tide. After hesitating slightly, he said, “I think it’s better for me to stay out of it!...”

“You son of a bch!” Mo Fan’s voice faded into the distance.

The waterfall dragons caught up to Mo Fan as the duration of the shadow bird came to an end. Four of the dragons slammed heavily into him. Shocking waves exploded across the lake, causing a huge downpour across a distance of a few kilometers...

The group gasped in disbelief after witnessing the outstanding sight. Zhao Manyan looked at the woman in fear. He was relieved that he had made the right choice of not lending Mo Fan a hand!

“Queen of Dimensions!”

Sheryl and Edith blurted out in shock.

“She’s the strongest student of the Alps Institute?” Professor Li asked with a hint of surprise.

“Yes, the shameless prick must have somehow offended Heidi. He’s definitely going to learn some manners!” Sheryl was overjoyed.

"It doesn't feel like she's trying to teach him a lesson. She's serious about killing him," Professor Zheng said seriously.

"He deserves it!" Sheryl was holding a strong grudge against Mo Fan.

"That woman is very strong..." Mu Bai observed.

"Strong? Are you blind? She was able to control such a huge waterfall with just her Will of the Space Element. She's an absolute monster; Mo Fan is clearly done for!" Zhao Manyan said.

"Such an insane cultivation!" Li Ximei and Shi Junsheng exclaimed.

The group was already suffocating from the pressure when they were standing close to the waterfall. The strength of the waterfall was clearly enough to blast a tiny mountain apart when it was being used as a weapon. They could not help but wonder how Mo Fan was feeling after taking the hit!

Blazing red flames rose from the water. They swiftly burned the surrounding water vapor into a white mist that rose continuously into the sky.

A figure slowly rose under the water. The blazing red flames spread over ten meters from Mo Fan, turning the water that was splashing at him into steam!

"Bch, don't you dare mess with me! Do you believe that I'm going to tear that rug off you and throw you onto the plaza in the middle of the city!?" Mo Fan cursed angrily, pointing at Heidi.

Mo Fan had already had enough. It was the woman's fault for being naked inside the cave, yet she still tried to kill him for stumbling into her. Mo Fan was going easy on her because she was a woman. He would not show any mercy if she dared to cross the line further!

"I was thinking of leaving your corpse intact... but that won't be necessary now!" Heidi spat back coldly.

"Do you believe that I'm going to kill you and rape you, then kill you and rape you again!?" Mo Fan yelled back. He was utterly enraged.

Professor Li and Professor Zheng coughed awkwardly upon hearing their words. Couldn't Mo Fan behave himself? Did he forget that he was currently at Alps Institute? How could he say something like that...

Sheryl and Edith immediately blushed. How was someone so perverted be the strongest participant in the World College Tournament? Heidi had appeared right on time. The guy was being too disrespectful to their school! He should be thrown into a pot of oil ten thousand times!

Heidi was trembling in anger after hearing his words. Her chest heaved when the thought of him seeing her naked body crossed her mind.

"Soul-Twisting Melody!"

Heidi lifted her gaze, revealing her pale, long neck. She opened her lips and started to sing, facing the blue sky.

The strange notes rose into the air and formed the dark strings of a harp above Mo Fan, looming over a huge area.

Mo Fan knew what kind of power this was. He immediately backed away from the strings, but the strange melody was being played. Deadly rays poured down at him, inflicting serious damage on his Spiritual World...

Mo Fan's mental strength had already reached the fifth stage, yet his mental defense crumbled within seconds against the woman's Soul-Twisting Melody. If his mental strength had not improved from the pressure of the waterfall previously, his defense might have collapsed even quicker!

The Pendant around Mo Fan's neck unleashed a blue ripple to protect his mind. He felt his thoughts clearing up a little, but the duration of the Soul-Twisting Melody was quite long. It would first penetrate the defense of a person's mind, place the person under prolonged torture, and finally, end their life and devour their soul!

"Lightning Explosion!"

Mo Fan quickly used his Lightning Magic while his mind was under the protection of the Focus Necklace. Lightning swarmed to Mo Fan's arms as he flung them into the air!

The Silent Deadly Bolt crossed paths and exploded where the strings were. The lightning arcs produced an enormous shockwave that shattered the notes of the Soul-Twisting Melody!

"Tone: Kill!"

Heidi continued attacking. She moved her fingers around rapidly, as if she was playing a harp.

Several invisible sonic waves over fifty meters long swept forward and whipped at the space around Mo Fan, churning the surface of the water...

Mo Fan nimbly dodged the attacks. He managed to dodge over ten of them, but to his surprise, the woman's Sound Element was incredibly powerful, and she was able to combine the sonic waves into a huge net. It was lunging at him with a terrifying wave of deadly notes, giving Mo Fan no chance of dodging it!

Chapter 1472: Minding Three Things At Once

1472 Minding Three Things At Once

"Hand of Silent Thunder!" Mo Fan knew he had no chance of evading the attack. He remained still as the powerful force of the Sound Element came at him.

A purple hand appeared in front of Mo Fan and absorbed the energy of the Sound Element. It transformed the energy into Lightning Magic of equivalent force as it struck him!

"Is that all you got? Are you giving me a scratch now?" Mo Fan mocked looking at Heidi.

Heidi did not know anything about the Hand of Silent Thunder. She only had the urge to not let the shameless prick live for another second! More notes were played at a higher frequency, forming an even stronger sonic wave in the air. The whole river under the waterfall was trembling!

Even though it was only the Intermediate Spell of the Sound Element, the combined force of the notes when they were stacked together was scarier than the Advanced Spell, Soul-Twisting Melody!

Mo Fan remained unmoving. If it was purely the Sound Element, Mo Fan would not be able to defend himself, due to the lack of defensive spells. However, since the Hand of Silent Thunder was transforming the attack into Lightning Magic, the Lightning Tyrant Domain granted Mo Fan the sturdiest flesh refined by lightning!

Apart from increasing Mo Fan's resistance, the Domain would also absorb the Lightning Magic. Mo Fan kept provoking her to obtain more power!

The fiercer Heidi's attacks were, the stronger Mo Fan's Lightning Magic became. The berserk Heidi finally stopped attacking and recovered her wits when she sensed a strong energy accumulating on Mo Fan's body.

"You are threatening to kill me, if that's all you got!? Have a taste of my lightning!" Mo Fan was covered in thick arcs of lightning, extending wildly over a hundred meters beyond him. "Sky Lightning Giant Claw!"

An eerie dark claw descended from the clear sky out of nowhere, tearing at the area that Queen of Dimensions Heidi was in. Terrifying cracks filled up the space. Heidi was initially planning to escape with Blink, but abruptly realized the lightning kept shattering her Star Constellation, not giving her any chance to cast the spell!

Upon realizing it was impossible to evade the lightning claw, Heidi immediately formed six walls surrounding her with her Will. However, the boosted lightning claw had a strong penetrating ability. Most defensive spells and magic equipment would have a hard time resisting it!

"Chaotic Vortex!" Heidi immediately changed her approach. She cast a dimensional vortex above her.

The dimensional vortex was able to absorb every kind of energy. When the fierce lightning claw came down from the sky, it immediately disappeared into the vortex without a trace!

"Chaos Element?" Mo Fan raised his brows.

The woman had the Space Element, Sound Element, and the Chaos Element. Every Element she had was Dimensional Magic, and each of her spells was powerful because of her outstanding cultivation. No wonder she was such a tough opponent!

"Back at you!" Heidi reversed the direction of the vortex. It was initially rotating clockwise, but its motion was now anti-clockwise. The formidable energy of the Sky Lightning Claw sprang right back at Mo Fan!

Surprisingly, Mo Fan grinned upon seeing it!

Mo Fan used to be utterly clueless about how to handle the Chaos Element, since the person could just absorb his spells and reflect them with greater strength. Zorro managed to defeat a group of people on his own by abusing the power of the Chaos Element.

However, the English genius had still lost to him in the end, and the reason was that he kept reflecting Mo Fan's Lightning Magic, thus allowing Mo Fan to keep strengthening it!

Mo Fan would even cast lightning on himself at times to strengthen his Lightning Magic. He was overjoyed when he saw Heidi reflecting his Sky Lightning Claw back at him!

Mo Fan opened his arms. He was prepared to receive the baptism of lightning, but an inharmonious voice came from the distance.

“Heidi, he’s able to absorb lightning, don’t reflect it back at him!” Sheryl yelled.

Heidi realized what was happening upon hearing the words. She quickly waved her hand, altering the angle of the Chaotic Vortex to unleash the lightning at a hillock nearby.

The hill popped like a bubble when the lightning landed on it. Pieces of rocks scattered and rolled down the mountain, leaving a scorched pit at the top.

Mo Fan clenched his teeth when he saw the abundant energy being wasted on an innocent mountain. He pointed at Sheryl and cursed, “Bch, shut the fk up!”

“Humph, serves you right!” Sheryl shouted back.

Mo Fan almost burst out swearing. Too many people had seen the move he used to defeat Zorro. Anyone that recognized him would most likely know about his ability to absorb lightning to strengthen his attacks.

He was going to take out the woman with a single blow. He had no idea how to deal with her now!

After diverting the lightning to a different spot, Heidi abused her powerful Telekinesis once again. This time, she was controlling the newly shattered pieces of rock. They floated in the air before being fired at Mo Fan like arrows.

“Bli...”

“Sound Disturbance!”

Mo Fan was about to Blink away, but Heidi reacted faster than him, decisively interrupting Mo Fan’s channeling.

Mo Fan was startled. The woman was supposed to be controlling the rocks with her Will. How was she using Sound Magic to disrupt his spell?

The use of magic was continuous; even Telekinesis of the Space Element required full concentration during the process. The spell would lose its effects if the Mage cast another spell in the process!

To Mo Fan’s disbelief, the madwoman was able to use the Sound Magic while she was controlling the rocks with her Will. Her Will showed no sign of being interrupted; the rocks continued to fly at him from different angles!

The observant Professor Li and Professor Zheng noticed the effect right away!

“Is she able to mind two things at once?” Professor Li asked curiously.

“That’s the Queen of Dimensions’ Innate Talent. Not only can she mind two things at once, she can even mind three things at once!” Edith said proudly.

“She can mind three things at once? How insane is her Innate Talent? Wouldn’t that make her unbeatable as long as her casting speed is fast enough!?” Zhao Manyan said.

“Even some of the mentors are no match for Heidi. Do you think you’re good just because you have come first in the World College Tournament? Even Zorro, whom Mo Fan beat by luck, has lost to Heidi!” Sheryl said.

“Mo Fan, that woman’s Innate Talent is the ability to mind three things at once. Be careful, that’s all the help I can provide you with!” Zhao Manyan generously reminded Mo Fan with a yell.

“I thank you so much!” If Mo Fan had the time, he would gladly have given Zhao Manyan a firm middle finger.

How unlucky was he? He ended up stumbling into a monstrous nun deep in the Alps when he was just being a little pretentious!

Chapter 1473: No Backing Out, Fight Like Your Life Is At Stake!

To think that someone had the Innate Ability to mind three things at once in the world; it was basically cheating. It explained why the woman’s Will was so powerful, as if she could easily control anything within sight. Her mental strength clearly outmatched most Mages!

Mo Fan had been constantly practicing his Will, too. He was able to do all sorts of things with it, but when compared to this woman’s, it was like the difference between a little stream and a huge river...

Mo Fan had no intention of displaying his slight skill before an expert. He was forced to use his full strength against the insanely strong woman.

“Little Flame Belle! Fiery Ring of Burning Embers!”

Mo Fan summoned Little Flame Belle. The Domains of the Calamity Fire and the Ardent Sunset immediately amplified Mo Fan’s control of the Fire Element, placing all the Fire Magic in the surroundings under his control!

The two flames formed several rings of flames around him. The fiery rings spread out rapidly, burning the rocks that were flying at Mo Fan to ashes...

The rings spread further. The rocks were having difficulty closing in on Mo Fan despite their numbers.

“An attachable Fire Spirit?” Heidi stared at the man now engulfed in flames in disbelief.

If an Elemental Mage could form a pact with certain unique Elemental Creatures, it could significantly improve their control and strength of that Element! If they were lucky enough to find an attachable Elemental Spirit, they could even grant the Elemental Mage extra abilities that were not part of ordinary spells, allowing them to fight demon creatures in close combat!

Heidi finally realized who the Asian man was when she saw him being Possessed by the Flame Belle.

The strongest participant in the World College Tournament, with unstoppable Fire and Lightning Elements, the Chinese Mage with Double Innate Elements!

That being said, Heidi had no intention to let Mo Fan go, regardless of who he was!

“Fire Crystal Candle!” Mo Fan swiftly gathered the flames and compressed them into a little candlelight.

Mo Fan could not afford to preserve his strength after learning how strong his opponent was. If he allowed his opponent to secure the upper hand, he was going to have a hard time casting a spell that could threaten her!

The Fire Crystal Candle formed from three Soul-grade Flames had three different colors: brown, rose, and scarlet. It did not stand out much, yet the energy it contained could easily destroy mountains and rivers!

Heidi did not care much about it. However, her expression shifted when she noticed the space around it being compressed countless times.

“Blink!” Heidi immediately vanished into thin air, leaving a trail of crystalline blue dust behind.

Mo Fan was quite surprised that the woman was able to Blink so far away.

However, it did not necessarily mean she was out of range!

“Detonate!”

The three Soul-grade Flames exploded above the wide river. A shocking mushroom cloud roared into the sky. The waves of flames completely devoured the area within a few hundred meters!

The flames rapidly approached Heidi. Her sapphire blue eyes glowed brilliantly. Her figure was encapsulated by the same light.

It was possible to do a lot of things with Will. The waterfall less than fifty meters behind her behaved unusually once again. The white curtain turned into a pair of hands and wrapped around her, blocking the fierce waves of flames lunging at her. A white mist rose into the air as the flames crashed into the waterfall!

The flames surged at the bridge under the waterfall. Both Sheryl and Edith gasped. They knew Mo Fan was strong since he had come in first in the World College Tournament, but they did not expect him to be able to last for so long in the battle against Heidi, the Queen of Dimensions! The students of Alps Institute had been bothered by a thought for a long time; could the students of the same grade possibly defeat Heidi, even if they teamed up?

“I’ve really underestimated you!” Heidi slowly appeared from the disarranged water. Her skin was still as pale as snow. Mo Fan’s three Soul-grade Flames did not harm her at all.

“Likewise!” Mo Fan took a deep breath. It was surprising to find such a brilliant Maga hidden deep in the mountains. For over half a year, Mo Fan had thought he would not find any Advanced Mage that could fight him for more than five minutes, other than a Turtle Shell Mage like Zhao Manyan!

“I was only minding two Elements at once. You are still no match for me. If you drop to your knees and apologize, I will consider sparing your life,” Heidi said coldly.

“My mind was full of your naked body just then, so I wasn’t able to pay attention, either. If you willingly climb up to my bed tonight and serve me well, I will consider not destroying such a beautiful flower like you,” Mo Fan replied disdainfully.

“You asked for it!” Heidi utterly regretted her decision to converse with a man whose mind was full of such dirty thoughts. She was thinking of giving him a chance, since she was quite impressed by his strength, yet the guy did not show any hint of remorse!

“Don’t just use your mouth; if you don’t show me some true moves or alluring postures, I won’t feel anything!” Mo Fan shot back.

Heidi blushed in anger; every man she had ever met had either been very polite to her, or disregarded her aloofly. She had never seen anyone so shameless and perverted... normally, she would destroy someone like him with a single glance! She would treat him just like a wild, barking dog... but the problem was, she was having trouble taking him out! She could only listen to the filthy words that were polluting her ears.

“I’ll tear your mouth apart first!” Heidi hissed.

Her blue eyes flickered; this time, she did not grab the things around her with her Will. She was fixing her eyes on Mo Fan, attacking him directly with her Will!

The ability to mind three things meant that not only she was able to split her Will into three to cast three different spells simultaneously, but it also meant her mental strength was several times stronger when she was fully focused!

The Will was invisible. It was a strong mental force as quick as a glimpse and as powerful as a godly weapon!

Mo Fan was a Space Mage, too. There was no way he would miss such a deadly force coming at him. To his surprise, not only was the woman’s Will slashing at him like an axe, it was binding him to the spot! His body was trembling under the enormous pressure, and he could not even budge!

It was meaningless for a person to run away on foot when a huge mountain was collapsing onto them. It was the scariest thing about being bound to the ground under pressure. Mo Fan had experienced it when he was facing the Dreadful Curse Cerberus and the Scorpion Lord Medusa!

“So it’s possible to seal off a target’s movement when one’s Will is strong enough,” Mo Fan murmured.

Either way, the woman’s mental strength and cultivation of Dimensional Magic were significantly stronger than his own. He was able to learn a few things from her Mind Lock and Will Slash attack...

That being said, Mo Fan was not completely helpless against it. He had prepared something in advance and injected it into her alluring body when he realized how outstanding the woman's mental strength was. It was none other than the evil Dark Material!

"Rebelling Shadow!" Mo Fan didn't move, not even trying to dodge the Axe of Will.

He would like to see if his Rebelling Shadow was quicker at slicing her throat than her Will was in hitting him. He did not even bother to defend himself, since he did not have any defensive spells that would come in handy!

The Dark Material silently flew out of Heidi's back. It was as faint as a mist, but as more of the Seeds of Darkness sprouted, the Dark Material grew thick enough to form a demon shadow resembling her!

The black shadow attached to Heidi's back. Its slim hand curled around Heidi's long, pale neck, while it placed a dagger on her skin.

Despite having Heidi's noble and elegant silhouette, the demon shadow suddenly sprouted an eerie grin!

If the demon shadow successfully slit its target's throat, it would return the Commander-level Soul Remnant to Mo Fan. Mo Fan stood there waiting, the same eerie grin on his face.

Heidi never thought her own shadow would threaten her life. She shivered in fear when she felt the cold touch on her neck.

-That's right, the guy has Double Innate Elements. The Fire, Lightning, and Space Elements aren't the only Elements he has...-

If Heidi withdrew her attack right away, she could easily defend herself, and get rid of the Rebelling Shadow with the speed and strength of her Will. It was why Mo Fan was being so fearless; he firmly believed Heidi would withdraw her attack to defend herself!

"Let's see who's quicker, then!" Heidi's eyes glittered as she uttered the words firmly.

Heidi did not withdraw her Will. The Rebelling Shadow needed some time to slit her throat open, and also needed time for her throat to bleed. Meanwhile, her Will would reach Mo Fan, who was controlling the Rebelling Shadow, in the next second, and tear him into pieces!

Heidi could take a defensive approach and let the battle continue, but she chose not to!

She decided to push both Mo Fan and herself to the edge of the cliff, forcing Mo Fan to withdraw the Rebelling Shadow and defend himself instead. Either way, she would not forgive the jerk for staining her innocence!

"Fk! Are you out of your mind!?" Mo Fan was shocked when he noticed Heidi was not withdrawing her attack.

-Crazy, the woman is absolutely nuts!- She was going to die if he did not withdraw his attack. The Rebelling Shadow would not just cause her to bleed when it slit her throat, it would also inject the Dark Material into the wound! If the Dark Material entered her body through the arteries of her neck, no Healing Magic could match the rate her life would drain away!

Chapter 1474: I'm A Well-Behaved Student

-It was not even anything serious. Does she really have to go this far!?-

Mo Fan would not slit a person's throat for no reason. Even if the woman was being unreasonable, it was unnecessary to fight her to death.

However, if he withdrew the Rebellious Shadow, the woman's Will was most likely going to leave him full of holes. He was getting a huge headache!

"Consider yourself lucky!" Mo Fan clenched his teeth and withdrew the Rebellious Shadow. He knew he had to behave since he was still at a foreign school.

On the other hand, Heidi smiled in victory. Her blue eyes shifted slightly, and her Will swept past Mo Fan at an insane speed...

Mo Fan did not defend himself. He could not do anything but watch the Will Daggers flying past him. Heidi was not serious about tearing him to pieces, and they only left a few cuts on him. It was nothing serious.

Mo Fan felt the wounds burning. He grinned as he watched his blood pouring out from the cuts and dripping into the river.

"Are you pleased now?" Mo Fan lifted his gaze and harrumphed coldly.

"I'm the one that spared your life!" Heidi said sternly. She was displeased by Mo Fan's tone.

"I wouldn't have gone easy on you if you were my enemy!" Mo Fan sniffed back at her.

"Aren't you going to apologize at all!?" Heidi grunted.

"I'll say sorry twice, and you will let me see your body again to make it even!" Mo Fan replied.

"You're unbelievable!" Heidi was about to explode. Her Will hummed in the air, as if she was going to raze the whole place to the ground!

Mo Fan did not back down, either. The flames engulfing him soared into the clouds and set the sky ablaze.

"Alright, that's enough! Stop it, will you..." a middle-aged woman in a peach gold magic robe standing on the waterfall shouted out.

Mo Fan looked at the waterfall and saw a gorgeous woman descending from the top of the waterfall, white wings on her back. The water splashing into the air from the fierce waterfall was kept half a meter away from her...

She glided down onto the river, landing softly on a boulder sticking out from the water right between Mo Fan and Heidi. She first looked at Mo Fan with a gentle smile. Her crow's feet were quite obvious.

"I believe this is a misunderstanding," the woman in the peach gold robe began.

“You were up there for so long. I thought you were going to say something more practical,” Mo Fan said in displeasure.

He had sensed her presence long ago. She was obviously a mentor of the Alps Institute. Even the unreasonable Heidi brought her hands together and bowed slightly to the woman.

“The duels between young students are the most spectacular shows for us. Why would I interfere with it?” the mentor answered him.

“Miss Ceylan, why would a person like him show up our in Alps Institute?” Heidi demanded to know.

“We invited him here; Pearl Institute demonstrated extraordinary talents during the World College Tournament. We are hoping to learn a thing or two from the ancient civilization from the east. In return, we invited their mentors and students here for an exchange. They are our guests. Heidi, let’s not make things difficult for them,” Ceylan replied.

“I won’t trouble the others. As for him...” Heidi insisted on fighting Mo Fan to the death!

“There’s something wrong with you. The waterfall is obviously a trial that anyone can challenge. You assumed that the cave was safer than your room, so when I went into the cave, I saw you...”

“One more word and I’ll swear you’re going to disappear from this world right away!” Heidi snarled coldly.

How could she possibly let the others know the scum had seen her naked body? She would not allow him to tell anyone about it!

“You’ve said the same thing half a dozen times, but I’m still very much alive,” Mo Fan scoffed back.

“Miss Ceylan, why don’t we let them have a showdown here? I bet it’s going to take them some time to decide the winner. Let’s head to the bridge and enjoy some tea there.” Professor Li came walking over. His shoes were touching the water, yet he was not sinking at all.

“I agree,” Ceylan smiled.

“I’ve had enough; Li Ximei, hurry up and treat my injuries!” Mo Fan jumped to the bridge.

Edith and Sheryl felt like they had finally gotten their revenge after seeing Mo Fan’s bleeding wounds.

Mo Fan could not care less about what the women were thinking. He could not even tell if they had purposely set him up. He had paid such a huge price just to take a few glances at a woman’s naked body!

“I’m not a Healer,” Li Ximei replied with raised eyebrows.

“Really? Why did we even bring you here?” Mo Fan said.

“...No one knew you were going to start a fight right away!” Li Ximei protested.

“I’ll treat your injuries. It’s just a few minor wounds. My disciple didn’t really mean it,” Ceylan came up to Mo Fan. A white Healing Spirit appeared on her palm.

The Healing Spirit flew toward Mo Fan and circled about him. His wounds started healing rapidly. The injuries were not serious, but his clothes were ragged and covered in blood now. He felt extremely uncomfortable!

"If every student in your school is a gangster like her, I think it's better for me to go back to the city," Mo Fan said.

"It's almost dark; you will have to consume a lot of energy to reach the city in time. Come, I can tell how meddlesome you are. I believe Alps Institute is perfect for you," Ceylan smiled.

"Miss, it's very weird for you to say so. I've always been a well-behaved student. I was almost qualified for the school's scholarship. If you don't trust me, feel free to ask Professor Li and Professor Zheng, they know about my achievements at Pearl Institute..." Mo Fan said piously.

"Mo Fan, I'm afraid it's difficult to testify to that," Professor Li responded.

Mo Fan was well-behaved?

He was the Pearl Institute's Demon King, who would beat the crap of anyone that he felt to be an eyesore! He had taught almost every student at the top of the rankings a lesson! He even challenged every new student during the opening ceremony, and challenged an entire faculty branch! Did he really have the guts to describe himself as well-behaved? The younger a person was, the more shameless he would be!

"Forget it, I won't be fussed about a crazy woman. Let's go inside, I'm starving," Mo Fan sighed.

"I've already prepared some delicacies. I believe it will change your impression of the Alps Institute," Ceylan said with an inviting gesture.

Heidi did not dare misbehave in front of Ceylan. She could only glare at the back of Mo Fan's neck!

Chapter 1475: The Vegetarian School

Mo Fan seriously thought he had been set up by Miss Ceylan!

She clearly mentioned that his impression of their school was going to change after dinner. She was absolutely right; Mo Fan's impression of Alps Institute could not be any worse after dinner!

"These vegetables, bread, and vegetable soups... fk me, give me some meat!" Mo Fan was about to lose his mind.

Since he was injured, he was looking forward to eating some meat to replenish his blood and aid his recovery. To his surprise, Alps Institute turned out to be a vegetarian school. Apart from the female students with their pale, tender, and juicy skin, there was no sign of meat at all!

The Alps had a lot of readily-available ingredients to prepare some exotic delicacies, but there was a huge sign on the canteen's door stating that every little creature on the mountain was the most adorable little elf. They would be blessed with good luck if they stumbled into the creatures, but if they brought any harm to the creatures, they would find themselves in misfortune!

"I'm utterly impressed by you guys. You don't eat any meat, so why are your students as tough as nails?" Mo Fan said to Ceylan.

Ceylan was a typical cunning old fox. She would reply gently regardless of the sarcastic comments Mo Fan was throwing at her. It felt like his words did not mean anything, like he was punching some cotton.

"We just put all our attention on cultivating. Seeing how hot-tempered you are, you should actually consider staying here and cultivate for a few months. I believe your demeanor would change significantly after a few months. Why do you think people always think of our students as sacred as a snow lotus herb on Tianshan Mountain? It's because of our unique management and our determination to eat vegetarian as a way to respect nature. We are friendly, but we aren't timid," Ceylan said seriously. The wrinkles on her face stood out when she smiled, but she did not seem to be bothered by them at all.

"Ceylan is right. Our Pearl Institute is located in a busy city. The KTVs, food stalls, and bars are within reach, and are distractions to the students. Those that do not have a firm heart are going to lose their way. We should really be learning from you guys by establishing a new school on Beiyu Mountain. We'll let the new students spend some time among the verdant hills and limpid water to train their hearts before they set foot in society," Professor Zheng nodded. He actually admired Alps Institute's approach!

"Wow, Professor Zheng, do you seriously mean that? I don't think it's a bad thing for the school to be located amid feasting and pleasure-seeking places. Didn't they use to call me the Little Prince of Nightlife, who was extravagant and dissipated? Well, I still made it to the national team after I decided to take my cultivation seriously. Meanwhile, this school's approach is forcing its students to undergo ascetic practice like a monk. It's going to cause a backlash soon," Zhao Manyan said disapprovingly.

"There are different ways of doing it, but being vegetarian is a little overdoing it..." Professor Li loved eating meat and drinking alcohol, too. The reason why he was reluctant to come here was because he knew the school was vegetarian.

It was truly a struggle!

"Not only are they vegetarian, they didn't even use any oil in their cooking. Ceylan, I've indeed learned a lot today. Can you please send two students that are slightly normal to escort us down the mountain tomorrow morning?" Mo Fan had enough of this.

Who said the place was a paradise for men? Paradise my ass!

It was true that most of the students were fair-skinned and beautiful, and possessed of a sacred temperament, yet they were all proud as peacocks. They assumed all men in the world were vile and filthy. He wondered which brainless leader of the school had brainwashed them that way. What year was it? Even the monasteries had Wi-Fi nowadays, yet this place did not even have mobile signal coverage. He could not help but wonder if he had gone back to the Middle Ages!

"Mo Fan, stop complaining so much, we still have to stay here for the exchange program that lasts for a month. We can't just leave tomorrow," Professor Zheng sighed.

"A month?" Mo Fan and Zhao Manyan blurted out.

Didn't they say they were going to pay a quick visit as a part of the official procedures? How did it suddenly become a month now? What kind of joke was this? Not eating meat for a month was worse than being banned from having sex for a month!

"Mo Fan, one of the Magistrates is from Alps Institute. She was the one that planned the exchange program, so we can't leave yet. If you do well in the program, you might leave the Magistrate with a good impression. It's going to help you with the trial, too!" Professor Zheng encouraged him.

"A straight foot is not afraid of a crooked shoe," Mo Fan replied.

"Very well, if you are leaving tomorrow, we'll be going back to our country, too. Whatever happens here is none of our concern," Professor Zheng said.

"...Professor Zheng, I thought you were different from Professor Li, the kind that cares a lot about their face," Mo Fan said.

"What did you say!?" Professor Li immediately cried out. He pointed at Professor Zheng and said, "How dare you compare him with me?"

"Old Li, what do you mean by that? Wasn't I just following the instructions from the school!?" Professor Zheng grunted.

"Alright, calm down, let's not argue any further. We've already agreed that the exchange is going to last for a month, so no one is going to leave any time soon. Mo Fan, don't be so stubborn. I know about the situation between you and the Holy Judgment Court. We are willing to lend you a hand. We don't believe you would murder an innocent Golden Sun Knight," Ceylan said.

"I believe that too; there's no way he is strong enough to murder a Golden Sun Knight of the Parthenon Temple," Heidi said. She had an unusual demeanor. She did not necessarily place herself above the common populace, nor was she incompatible with the rest of the students.

"How did you manage to peel the potatoes until they are so smooth and tender? The chefs here must be very skilled." Mo Fan picked up a cooked, unseasoned potato slyly.

Heidi did not understand what Mo Fan was alluding to at first, but she eventually remembered Mo Fan had seen her naked after a second thought. She immediately blushed in anger. The silver plates on the table started trembling and rattling...

"Heidi, mind your temper. The loud rumble of the waterfall couldn't disturb your mind, yet you have failed to stay calm after a few words from Mo Fan. I have now decided that you will accompany our guests at all times during the exchange, and you are not allowed to use any offensive spells without my permission," Ceylan said to Heidi sternly, frowning.

Ceylan had a rule; no presence of magic was allowed when they were eating. They must be respectful to the food, it was an inviolable gift from nature. Heidi had lost her calm after being provoked by Mo Fan, making her lose control of her Will for a moment.

"Yes, Miss Ceylan..." Heidi immediately lowered her head, knowing that she had broken Ceylan's taboo.

"Very well, it's a kind of training for you, too. You are now strong enough, those below the Super Level don't stand a chance against you, but don't forget, not all enemies are going to fight you head-on. Some of them might say things or use dirty tricks that are ten times or a hundred times worse than Mo Fan's words. If you can't stay calm, your Dimensional Magic will be broken through easily," Ceylan chided her.

Ceylan was quite friendly, gentle, and controlled to others, but she was a strict mentor when it came to Heidi!

"I will keep it in mind, teacher," Heidi nodded. Her anger slowly dissipated. She did not say a further word. She enjoyed the vegetable soup, regaining her elegant demeanor.

Mo Fan remained smiling, but Heidi insisted on not looking at his annoying face. Otherwise, she might lose her calm again!

"Miss Ceylan, you are strict on your student's department, too! It is true that a student's behavior could reflect the inner qualities and teachings of a school. Regarding this, Mo Fan and Zhao Manyan have indeed smudged Pearl Institute's reputation. We should be ashamed," Professor Li said.

Li Ximei and Mu Bai chuckled after hearing those words. Professor Zheng was pretty amusing!

"In my opinion, Pearl Institute emphasizes more freedom, and allows the students to cultivate in a relaxing environment. That way, the students are able to display their talents as they please. It is expected to have a few students that are like untameable wild horses, but they also provide the school with a lot of energy," Ceylan replied courteously.

"Are you done fawning upon one another?" Mo Fan grunted.

"We are actually speaking the truth," Ceylan replied easily.

"Indeed," Professor Zheng nodded.

"...Professor Zheng, I seriously think that even though you are not frivolous when talking and joking, you are really the same kind of person as Professor Li. I now understand why you two are the most famous 'couple' at our school!" Mo Fan huffed.

"Mo Fan, do you really think I don't dare to beat you up?" Professor Li glared at Mo Fan.

"Forget what I said. Here, let's enjoy some vegetables..." Mo Fan shoved a small broccoli into his mouth.

As he thought, the broccoli was only cooked in water! They did not even put any salt on it. The taste was so strange that it felt like he was eating grass. Mo Fan was on the verge of losing his mind, especially when he realized that he would be staying here for a month... why did he bother to believe in Zhao Manyan's nonsense that they had come here to treat the students with love and tenderness!?

The female students went to bed very early at night. Even though the buildings, built in the style of structures from the Middle Ages, were brightly lit, there was no sign of any students in their sexy uniforms in the corridors, the halls, and the leaf-covered paths outside the buildings.

Alps Institute did not accept only Swiss students. As a matter of fact, there were not many Swiss in the school. It recruited its students from all over the world, regardless of their nationality and race. They were a family as soon as they joined Alps Institute. The school was like their country, and the Alps was their religion...

Chapter 1476 Eating Wild Game

A long howl echoed on the snowy mountain under the starry sky. The icy blue-furred Flying Creek Snow Wolf sprinted along the edges of the mountain. He howled like an emperor declaring his dominance over the night and the snow after he reached the top!

Mo Fan hopped down from the Flying Creek Snow Wolf. He took out a small knife to clean the hare he just hunted while setting up a fire with his other hand.

The snow melted quickly under the heat of the fire. However, Mo Fan could not care less about it. He took out some seasonings and quickly sprinkled them on the hare. Its flesh soon emitted a pleasant aroma. The golden-yellow oil dripped into the fire from the half-cooked meat, whetting Mo Fan's appetite.

"Old wolf, go catch a few more," Mo Fan told the Flying Creek Snow Wolf.

The Flying Creek Snow Wolf enjoyed staying on the mountain. Three thousand meters of altitude served as a boundary line. Most areas above that height were completely covered in snow, and a huge portion of the Alps was above it. The Flying Creek Snow Wolf immediately turned into a joyful husky as he sprinted freely along the beautiful white valleys, snowy hills, and spectacular peaks.

"Mu Bai, I have to say that I'm impressed; you actually brought your own seasonings!" Zhao Manyan took out a huge bottle of Sprite that he had bought before coming to the mountain. He also took out a few cups that he swiped from the school and filled them with the soft drink.

"I've spent a lot of time in the wild. I normally bring them along in my bag. I didn't think they would come in handy this time..." Mu Bai explained calmly.

Mu Bai had been in the wild frequently over the years. He could not afford to eat dried jerky all the time. He would occasionally hunt some wild game and put some seasonings on them to make them more edible.

"The Alps Institute is seriously the most fking impressive school I've ever been to. No mobile coverage, no Wi-Fi, no little grocery stores, there is nothing but mountain springs and vegetable soup. I'm about to starve to death!" Zhao Manyan cursed.

"I seriously don't know why they are so proud of themselves, like they are living in a sacred land. It's no different than staying in prison," Mo Fan grumbled in agreement.

"I'm seriously going to lose my mind if I stay here for a month. By the way, we must teach those two bches a lesson. They seriously think they can just bully us as they please!" Zhao Manyan said.

"I find them to be an eyesore, too. By the way, why did you end up in a fight with Heidi after going into the cave?" Mu Bai snapped the hare's leg off and munched it.

"She wasn't wearing any clothes. I saw it all. Speaking of which, her body is really hot. I thought she was a statue at first..." Mo Fan said.

“Holy crap, why do you always get to enjoy the good things? If I knew there would be such an open-minded woman in there, I would have gone too! I don’t think the waterfall is going to stop me,” Zhao Manyan was anxious. He regretted not taking the challenge.

Heidi was very attractive; she had a tall nose, sapphire-blue eyes, small and fleshy lips, and with her curly ash-brown hair, it was not exaggerating to call her an angel. Zhao Manyan was already drooling when he heard Mo Fan had seen the girl naked...

“Let’s discuss the other two first,” Mu Bai said.

“Right, Sheryl and Edith, those cunning bches... I swear I’m going to make them kneel down and sing ‘Conquer’! Did you see the food they gave us? It’s no different than pig feed! Only Shi Junsheng kept saying it was delicious. I don’t understand, is that guy a dog? Why is he still fawning upon them after how they treated us? He would surely be a traitor if he was born in the ancient times!” Zhao Manyan swore.

Sheryl and Edith clearly knew Heidi always trained in the cave, yet they did not say a single word about it. Mo Fan was injured because of it, and his wounds were still hurting.

Mo Fan was a vengeful person. He would not forgive them, even if they were women!

Trying to set him up? Hmph, the last person that tried to do so was a Red Cardinal called the Cold Prince, but he was now counting down the days he could live in the VIP room of the Holy Judgment Court prepared for the criminals that were sentenced to death. How dare those two girls whose hair was not fully grown yet get them into trouble!?

“Mu Bai, I know you’ve brought a lot of things; did you bring any knockout drops?” Zhao Manyan asked.

Mu Bai’s eyes widened. He said angrily, “Who do you think I am? Why would I have something like that!?”

“I saw a pharmacy when I was taking a stroll back then. I don’t know how to mix the drug. Do any of you know how to do that?” Mo Fan asked.

“I know how to do it... but isn’t that a little excessive?” Mu Bai whispered.

“What excessive? They were treating us like dogs from the countryside the moment we set foot into their school! The look in their eyes and their tones, as if they are the only clean and sacred people in the world, and everyone else is nothing but trash... I will not tolerate it, even if you can,” Zhao Manyan said angrily.

Zhao Manyan loved women, especially the pretty ones with alluring figures, but it did not necessarily mean he liked these self-important bches who kept looking down at them!

They were going to be here for a month. If they did not teach those two girls a lesson, the girls might bully them again!

“Knockout drops are crossing the line. Let’s wait for another chance, we must teach them a lesson,” Mo Fan shook his head. He agreed that it was a little immoral.

"I didn't say we were going to do anything to them. We just need to put some fake blood on their bedsheets to scare the shit out of them," Zhao Manyan said.

"Forget it, we shouldn't be that fussed with those two women," Mu Bai said.

Zhao Manyan did not know how to mix drugs. Meanwhile, there was not even a grocery store within a few dozen kilometers, let alone a drug store. He had no choice but to give up on the thought and focus on enjoying the delicious meat of a wild hare.

A long and piercing siren suddenly went off on the snowy mountain. Mo Fan, Zhao Manyan, and Mu Bai were munching the delicious meat to cleanse away the disgusting food they had for dinner when they noticed a dozen pairs of milky-white wings surrounding them.

A bunch of Magas in white uniforms landed before them. One of them with thick brows came forward and frowned when she saw the grilled wild hare.

"We received a report that someone is endangering little creatures on the mountain. I believe you were told not to harm any living creatures on the Alps when you set foot in here. You three will come with me; the disciplinary teachers will punish you accordingly," the Maga ordered, very displeased.

Zhao Manyan exploded in rage. He pointed at the Maga and grunted, "Fk me, we're just hunting some wild game for food; are you being serious now? Do you really think the whole mountain is yours!? It's not like we are eating in the school!"

"Take your hand back. Otherwise, I'm going to assume you're resisting arrest. We won't be going easy on you!" the Maga said coldly.

"Just bring it on! If any of you can touch a single strand of my hair, I'm willing to be called your grandson!" Zhao Manyan yelled. He had had enough of this.

"Old Zhao, Old Zhao, let's calm down..." Mo Fan quickly advised. He smiled at the Maga and said, "We'll go back ourselves. There's no need to complicate things further."

"We won't make things difficult for you if you're willing to cooperate," the Maga said.

Chapter 1477 Revenge Plan

The Disciplinary Office was located in a faint blue castle-like structure at the mountain's waist. It was where the patrolling Magas had come from. They were responsible for the safety of Alps Institute, including punishing the students that broke the rules.

It was already late at night. Mo Fan, Mu Bai, and Zhao Manyan stood outside the wall of the building, which was built pebbles. The Maga with thick brows had wrapped the half-eaten roasted wild hare with a piece of cloth. The culprits had been caught red-handed!

They had met the teacher in charge of the Disciplinary Office during dinner, a gorgeous beauty whose age was around Heidi's. She was quite charming, but she had an icy and strict demeanor, like the Killer Nun.

She was wearing a short hemp robe, her limbs covered tightly with different kinds of fabric. Her neck was covered by the collar of the hemp robe. She was wearing gloves and long boots, and her face was covered by a faint veil. Her attractive eyes projected an icy stare.

It was impossible to see any of her skin, apart from her forehead. Mo Fan and Zhao Manyan had already discussed this woman called Brianca. She must have been hurt deeply before to wrap her body so tightly. None of them thought they would fall into her hands so soon. They were the ones that were going to be hurt instead!

“We rarely have guests that don’t respect our rules at all.” Brianca’s voice clearly displayed her grudge against the three.

“We were outside the school’s territory,” Zhao Manyan said.

“The rule says you are not allowed to hurt any little creatures in the Alps!” Brianca said in an aggravated tone.

“The Alps extend throughout several countries. Don’t you tell me they have to follow your rules, too?”

“I thought you would be repenting by now. I didn’t expect you to be finding an excuse for your offense instead!” Brianca stepped forward, her heels tapping rhythmically on the slabs.

The other patrolling Magas quickly backed away. Mo Fan, Mu Bai, and Zhao Manyan were utterly speechless; why did she condemn them like they had murdered someone, when they were just eating a roasted wild hare? Was this place really the Alps Institute, instead of a mental hospital with a bunch of madwomen?

“Miss Brianca, I’m really sorry for troubling you again.” Professor Li and Professor Zheng had quickly come over.

Li Ximei and Shi Junsheng were with them, too. Li Ximei looked at the three being surrounded, while Shi Junsheng was gloating over their situation.

A while later, Heidi, Edith, and Sheryl, who had been asked to stay with Mo Fan and the others, arrived too. Mo Fan noticed Edith and Sheryl exchange glances with one another, with a hint of gloating. It was very likely that they were the ones that had reported the three. Mo Fan was seriously disgusted by their behavior!

They did not explain the rules clearly to Mo Fan and the others, most likely because they were looking forward to seeing them get in some sort of trouble.

Mo Fan had already tried to withhold his anger toward the two women after the encounter with Heidi. To his surprise, the two were not yet done. If he did not teach them a lesson, his surname would no longer be Fan!

“Miss Brianca, I believe they aren’t familiar with the rules yet. They thought the rules only applied to the school’s territory instead of the entire Alps, so I believe we won’t have to punish them this time,” Ceylan came over and advised them.

“Rules are meant to be obeyed. It doesn’t matter if they are students of this school or other schools...” Brianca said.

“What would the punishment be?” Mo Fan asked.

“Forced into confinement for half a month!” Brianca replied.

“It doesn’t matter if we are under confinement, your school is like a prison on a mountain with a graceful environment anyway. By the way, will you serve us meat during confinement?” Mo Fan asked.

“Are you provoking me now?” Brianca retorted, her gaze sharp.

“Mo Fan, forget it, and just apologize to them. They won’t be fussy about it,” Professor Zheng said.

“Yeah, they have their rules here, we just need to obey them while we are here...”

The hassle continued until the latter half of the night. Mo Fan, Mu Bai, and Zhao Manyan were finally released back to their rooms, but their sleepiness was long gone.

They sat in the library coffee bar. Zhao Manyan angrily paced up and down by the window and cursed, “I’ve never felt so humiliated in my life before. They fking asked me to apologize to a hare. Apologize my ass!”

“It can’t just end like this. We must teach those two bches a lesson!” Mo Fan was infuriated whenever he thought of Sheryl and Edith’s cunning smirks.

“I told you to drug them, but you two kept saying it’s inappropriate!” Zhao Manyan was extremely mad.

“That’s going too far. Besides, if they reported us to that Killer Nun again, they could easily find us guilty. It won’t be as easy as apologizing to them if we are caught again. They are surely going to punish us severely. After all, they are a bunch of women’s-rights activists. Mu Bai, do you know how to make an aphrodisiac instead?” Mo Fan whispered.

Mu Bai was startled. He blurted out, “What are you thinking?”

“Don’t get me wrong, just a minor amount will do. We’ll put it into their vegetable soup at lunch. Aren’t they supposed to accompany us during the afternoon? We’ll let them follow us around while their bodies are heating up. Wouldn’t it be a pleasant sight to see them rubbing their legs while they are walking?” Mo Fan said.

“HAHAHA, that’s brilliant!” Zhao Manyan immediately burst out laughing. “Mo Fan, you’re truly the shameless one. That way, they won’t catch us red-handed, and they will have to bear the torture themselves.”

“HAHAHAHA...”

Their evil laughter echoed throughout the coffee bar. Although Mu Bai did not burst out laughing, he had agreed to mix the aphrodisiac. He could control the amount of the drug to prevent anything from going wrong. They were just teaching those two women a lesson, just so they would leave them alone!

In the morning, they attended a lecture given by a reputable teacher in the school. The spacious hall was seated with energetic young women, and due to their good living and dietary habits, their skin was as fair as snow and lustrous as jade. As a result, almost every student at Alps Institute was a gorgeous beauty.

They had to keep a strict bearing at all times. They all had an elegant and noble temperament. Apart from the unreasonable rules of the school, the place was indeed like a paradise to watch, particularly for men...

The same people were there around lunchtime. Mu Bai started to feel a little nervous while he was in his seat.

As a matter of fact, it was his first time committing such a despicable act, so he was feeling a little guilty still.

As the saying went, those that laid down with dogs would rise up with fleas. If he kept hanging around with people like Mo Fan, he would eventually turn into a rascal too!

"We are serving tomato soup today, enjoy!" A student wearing a white apron carried a tray over and gave everyone a bowl of tomato soup in order.

Alps Institute had to do everything in order, including the distribution of food. Therefore, it was very easy to put the drug into certain people's servings. Sheryl and Edith sat in the eighth and the ninth seats. It was impossible for Mo Fan to poison the food on the table, as a few Super Mages were seated at the table. They could easily see through his tricks, so he decided to carry out his plan before the soup was served.

"Mo Fan, there's a vacant seat in the middle, you sure you got it right?" Zhao Manyan whispered.

"Don't worry, I've counted it," Mo Fan said.

"That's good to know."

The soup was served one by one. Mu Bai was getting even more nervous. He felt more nervous than when he killed a Commander-level creature for the first time. Meanwhile, Mo Fan and Zhao Manyan were calmly enjoying their soup. They seemed very experienced with things like this.

"Miss Brianca, you're here, I thought you were busy dealing with some matters," the female kitchen helper said to Brianca with a charming smile.

"Mm, I was able to settle them quicker than I thought," Brianca sat down on the vacant seat.

"We have your favorite tomato soup for today," the kitchen helper placed the eighth bowl of tomato soup in front of Brianca.

Mo Fan, Mu Bai, and Zhao Manyan's eyes widened simultaneously. They all stared at the bowl of soup.

My Heavens, that soup was loaded with something extra!

"Give me two portions," Brianca told the kitchen helper.

"Sure, right away, we've prepared extra servings today. Take this bowl too, I'll go get some more later. Senior sisters, please bear with me for a second," the kitchen helper said.

“It’s fine, Miss Bianca stayed up late last night because of some people who aren’t willing to obey the rules. She definitely needs the extra bowl of soup,” Sheryl said.

The two bowls of soup were placed in front of Brianca. She did not seem to notice anything unusual. She took off her gloves, revealing her fair, lustrous skin and slowly enjoyed the soup...

Oh mama!

Mo Fan, Zhao Manyan, and Mu Bai felt like they were about to explode.

They were told that Brianca was the most talented Mage in Alps Institute had seen for the past thirty years. Her cultivation might even surpass some of the old professors. She was truly an expert living in seclusion in a sacred land. The only person that was comparable to her was Heidi, but Heidi was still a student, so her cultivation was clearly weaker!

“Mo Fan, what is it? Why is your face so pale? Ceylan asked in concern. She was seated opposite Mo Fan.

“Ah, nothing, the soup tastes as bad as I thought,” Mo Fan blurted out.

Brianca slowly lifted her gaze and looked at Mo Fan with a frown.

The soup was her favorite dish, but Mo Fan just described it as horrible. Was he intentionally stirring up trouble with her?

After lunch, the first thought that crossed Mo Fan, Zhao Manyan, and Mu Bai’s mind was to pack their stuff and run as far away as possible.

Once the drug’s effects were done, Brianca was surely going to skin them alive. Even Professor Li and Professor Zheng would have trouble stopping her!

Chapter 1478 Remains on the Icy Mountain

“Mu Bai, will the effects double if she eats both bowls of soup?” Zhao Manyan asked softly.

“What did you say?!” Mu Bai was having a headache too.

The drug would go into effect in about an hour. Hopefully, Brianca was alone in her room when the time came. That way, she could just take a rest, assuming she was feeling a little sick, but if she was outside... it was difficult to imagine what was going to happen!

“Mu Bai, hurry up and get some antidote, we’ll find a way to have Brianca drink it. The woman is clearly the unreasonable kind. She wasted half our night over a roasted hare. If she knew we were trying to drug her, wouldn’t she skin us alive!?” Mo Fan said.

Ceylan was Heidi’s mentor, so obviously she was very strong. Brianca’s position was on par with Ceylan’s, indicating that she also possessed great strength. The three of them had no chance of surviving against her!

“Since when is there an antidote for an aphrodisiac? It’s just a kind of catalytic hormone, it’s not poison...” Mu Bai said.

“We are screwed! Goodness gracious me!” Zhao Manyan felt his scalp turning numb when he thought of Brianca.

“Pack your stuff, it’s time to leave!” Mo Fan said.

They did not dare to stay any further. They quickly went back to their room to pack their belongings.

“Let’s split up so we won’t arouse any suspicion,” Zhao Manyan suggested.

It would be very obvious if they left together. If they were on their own, they could still claim they were just taking a stroll.

Mo Fan went for the gate in the north. It was the same path they had taken to hunt some wild game on the mountain. Once he crossed the mountain and a huge icebound valley, he could quickly make his way back to Lake Geneva. He would apologize to Professor Li and Professor Zheng once it was over and tell them he could not stand the rules of the school, and had decided to go back to the city. He believed Brianca would not bother to chase him down, since it was not something she would want to mention, either!

Mo Fan was just about to step beyond the North Mountain Gate when he heard a commanding voice from behind.

“Hold it right there!” Brianca stood on a bridge above an icy lake and stared coldly down at Mo Fan, who was trying to run away.

Mo Fan almost broke out in cold sweat. He turned around and looked at the woman’s veiled face.

Mo Fan had finally seen her face at lunchtime. She was just as pretty as Heidi, her face as perfect as a statue, but in Mo Fan’s eyes, she was currently scarier than the Scorpion Lord Medusa!

Crap, he was caught in the act!

No way, he would never admit it, even if he was beaten to death!

It must have been some nutrients that had caused her hormones to go out of balance. They were not going to cause any harm to her. It had to be some other ingredients that had caused the reaction instead. It had nothing to do with him!

“Ah, Miss Brianca, what a coincidence to see you here... After hearing your words of wisdom last night, I do realize that I’ve overdone it. I shouldn’t harm the little creatures that are the incarnations of the deities on the mountain. I’m going to the mountain to repent,” Mo Fan came up with a perfect excuse.

Brianca started walking toward Mo Fan. Every step she took caused Mo Fan’s heart to beat even harder. His heart had never pounded so heavily, even when he was facing his beloved Mu Ningxue.

“I was looking for you; your bracelet told me where to find you,” Brianca said. She was holding a little box.

“Ah, you’re looking for me? Is there anything I can help you with? We’ve really reflected on the matter last night, and I was really thinking of repenting,” Mo Fan nodded continuously.

“It’s good to see that you’re repenting. I thought you were too stubborn to admit your wrongdoing. Here are the remains of the hare last night. I’ve burned its remains into ashes. I was planning to bury it on the mountain to cast aside its hatred. You should come with me.” Brianca was holding the wooden box carefully.

Mo Fan’s expression turned extremely complicated.

The bracelet!

Damn it, they were still wearing the bracelets! These people would know their whereabouts all the time, which meant it was impossible for them to run away!

“Al...alright,” Mo Fan let out a relieved sigh. It seemed like Mu Bai’s unprofessional drug was not effective at all. Brianca looked perfectly fine on the surface, and a long time had passed since she drank the soup.

It was a huge relief that she was fine. The drug might have failed because of Brianca’s outstanding cultivation, or maybe her body composition was special.

Either way, he had clearly dodged a bullet there. He just needed to put on an act and repent on the mountain to get it over with!

It seemed like luck was not on his side lately. He should avoid stirring up trouble and cultivate at the waterfall diligently to improve his mental strength instead...

Mo Fan followed behind Brianca as they traveled on the thick white snow. He was greatly relieved when Brianca seemed perfectly fine to him.

“Our Alps Institute was once an orphanage. An old Forbidden Mage went into seclusion here. She was hoping that the children of the orphanage could protect ourselves, so she taught the kids magic, but she passed away not long afterward. The orphans had yet to learn how to protect themselves and how to survive in society. To make things worse, a deadly snowfall happened that year. The young children were buried under the snow on the mountain, waiting to die of starvation or frost. When they fell into deep slumber under the snow, the hares, snow foxes, and many other little creatures dug into the snow...” Brianca was not as haughty and unapproachable as Mo Fan first thought. She told Mo Fan the origin of Alps Institute and why they cared so much about the little creatures on the mountain.

“I must admit that the founders did the same cruel things as you did. They ate the little creatures and used their fur to keep them warm in order to survive. They barely made it to Spring, and realized the mountain goddess of the Alps had shown them mercy. She was not willing to watch the kids die such a miserable death, so she turned into little creatures to save them. The Goddess of the Alps was that kind, she rather sacrificed herself... since then, we don’t want to hurt them, and chose to eat the same diet as them,” Brianca said.

Mo Fan was a little touched by the story.

It seemed like he had indeed broken their taboo. Alps Institute would not be around today if it weren’t for these little creatures!

“I can promise you that I will eat vegetarian for a month,” Mo Fan said.

“We’ve already asked the students to buy some meat when they go to the town to restock our supply. I’m afraid we don’t know how to cook meat, so you will have to cook it yourself. It’s true that it’s our choice to be vegetarian, so we won’t force you to eat the same diet as us. You have your own way of living too,” Brianca said.

“You have my thanks. I apologize for being ruthless and impolite before,” Mo Fan said.

It seemed like Alps Institute was not as terrible as he thought. Not everyone here was unreasonable!

“It’s fine, I do wonder if our semi-closed approach and rules that forcibly suppress a person’s nature is the right...” Brianca turned the corner at a wall while she was talking. She suddenly came to a stop and swallowed her words after witnessing something ahead.

Mo Fan was a little confused. When he caught up to Brianca, he saw she was trembling.

Mo Fan took a step forward, and was shocked to see the gentle snowy slope ahead covered in dead bodies.

The snow was white, but the color of blood was garish against it. There were countless carcasses of little creatures, stacked up into an utterly shocking sight under the bright afternoon sunlight!

Chapter 1479 A Prank? Revenge or Hatred?

A dark blue wind howled across the valley, as sharp as an enormous saber between the Heavens and Earth slashing at the snowy mountain. The wind slashed the top of a few peaks nearby in half. Huge chunks of ice began to collapse.

The same wind left bizarre marks across the white slope. Mo Fan stood within the Wind Domain with wide eyes. He could feel Brianca’s rage!

The spacious mountain, including the highest peak, the steep icy cliffs, the gentle snowy slope, and the clear blue sky were filled with the terrifying dark blue wind. It was blowing so fiercely merely because of Brianca’s huge surge of emotion!

Mo Fan was terrified. The woman did not even use any magic. Her Domain and aura alone had resulted in such incredible damage when she slightly lost control of her emotions. How incredible was this Brianca’s cultivation?

“The blood hasn’t permeated into the snow yet. The culprit must be nearby still,” Mo Fan said to distract Brianca a little.

He realized how important these little creatures on the mountain were to the Alps Institute after hearing the story. She clearly did not expect to witness such an astonishing sight when they had come to bury the ashes of the wild hare!

More than a thousand little creatures had been killed, their carcasses left on the mountain to the north of Alps Institute. It was obviously a provocation to the Alps Institute, an insane action of revenge!

Brianca took a deep breath to calm herself down.

She almost assumed Mo Fan and his friends had done it to get their revenge at the school when she saw the carcasses. However, she realized that they had been attending lectures at the school for the whole day. They would not have had the time to hunt so many little creatures...

Who could possibly do such a thing? It was clearly a blasphemous act to the Alps Institute, a blatant provocation!

"The culprit has already left," Brianca said.

"Did you guys offend some maniac lately?" Mo Fan asked.

It was obviously an act of vengeance. If it was just a prank, the person would most likely only kill a few dozen of the creatures and left their carcasses outside the school's gate. The culprit must have had some strong hatred toward the Alps Institute to kill so many little creatures and stack their dead bodies in the same place!

"We mostly interact with other schools, we rarely communicate with other factions. Besides, our school is right below the Holy Judgment Court. Even if someone was annoyed by our proud demeanor, they wouldn't dare to do something like this!" Brianca approached the slope.

Mo Fan went up to the dead bodies and said, "I'll cremate these bodies. It's unlikely that we'll find any clues from them. I should just burn them. Otherwise, some students might be terrified when they see it...oh, I'll take a few photos first."

"Alright."

Mo Fan took out his phone and took a few up close photos. He went to a higher spot and took a photo of the entire place.

After he was done, he summoned the Meteor Scarlet.

Mo Fan's control of the Fire Element was quite normal before unleashing his Domain. As he completed the Advanced Spell, a meteorite came down from the sky!

As the Meteor Scarlet flew across the sky under Mo Fan's control, its flames continued to grow from the friction in the air, increasing the spell's area!

Mo Fan's Sky-Flame Funeral would only cover an area of around two hundred square meters in the past. If he cast it with the Meteor Scarlet, the area would expand to around three hundred meters square!

If there was more time available, Mo Fan could cast the Sky-Flame Funeral much higher in the sky. That way, the area of the flames might rise to more than five hundred square meters when the meteorite landed. An enemy would have no chance of moving out of its area of effect!

Mo Fan cast the Sky-Flame Funeral. He summoned the meteorite high up in the sky, so the flames would cover a bigger area.

The Meteor Scarlet landed, melting the snow across the valley immediately. The snow turned into streams flowing to a lower altitude.

There was a ravine at the bottom of the slope. After Mo Fan cast the Sky-Flame Funeral a few times, the water from the melted snow poured into the ravine and turned into a river in the creek. It would eventually reach Lake Geneva.

The sturdy layer of rocks under the snow was revealed as the flames continued to burn. Mo Fan realized how thick the snow was. The ground was around six meters under the snow!

“Did you notice something yesterday?” Brianca asked.

Last night, Mo Fan, Mu Bai, and Zhao Manyan were secretly hunting wild game on the mountain. The patrolling Magas had found them around midnight. It would take the culprit some time to kill so many little creatures and leave their dead bodies at the same place. It was very likely that the culprit was already doing it last night!

“I didn’t see anyone... but I remember the hare’s back leg was already injured when my Flying Creek Snow Wolf was chasing after it. There was an obvious frozen wound on it,” Mo Fan said.

“There is no way the Snowy Mountain Woolen Hare would freeze its own leg. It must have escaped from the culprit, who must be an Ice Mage,” Brianca said.

“I think we should let the others know,” Mo Fan said.

Mo Fan and Brianca went back to the school, heading to a castle on the waist of a smaller mountain.

Below the mountain was Faerun River, and another three kilometers further was Faerun Waterfall. Faerun Castle was mainly used for administration and meeting purposes. Since the Alps were in good order most of the time, Faerun Castle was usually vacant. Headmistress Perry, who was around Ceylan’s age, was seated in the sky garden in the castle. She was facing Faerun Waterfall while enjoying her tea.

“Why would something like this happen!?” Headmistress Perry flew out of her seat and stared at the photos on Mo Fan’s phone.

“We’ve taken care of the dead bodies. We didn’t want the students to see them,” Brianca reported.

“That’s good to know, you’ve made the right call,” Headmaster Perry frowned. She was struggling to think of anyone who would do such a thing.

“Headmistress, the culprit clearly has a strong hatred toward us. I believe we should seal off the school first to guarantee the students’ safety, since they are completely unaware of the danger,” Brianca said seriously.

“Seal off the school? That won’t be necessary, it might just be a prank, or a natural phenomenon that we have never seen before. After all, it’s unlikely that anyone would come and stir up troubles with us,” Headmistress Perry said.

“But...”

Headmistress Perry stopped Brianca before she could speak. The headmistress said, “The young Duke of the Casas and the people of the Rhines will be here next week. If we seal the school now, we might lose our best chance to reach a deal with them. You do know that the Casas are our biggest investor in Europe. From what I know, the Casas prefer to invest in the European schools instead... we need sufficient funding to help the new students every year. We have to feed them and provide them with shelter and education. If we do not receive the Casas when they are here, or leave them with a bad impression, we'll have to postpone our plans for years. The rise of the sea level has led to a war against the sea monsters. Many of the students have lost their homes..."

Brianca was left speechless after hearing Headmistress Perry's order.

Alps Institute had no trouble supporting itself. Every student was incredibly talented; they did not have to rely on the renowned clans and factions. However, that was not the reason why the school was established. They were hoping to contribute to society, to show the world what women could do, to distribute the message to other women that they could strive unremittingly, too!

At first, Alps Institute was only an orphanage for girls. Before now, they were still helping the female orphans across the world so they could grow healthily. They would also bring the talented ones to Alps Institute and teach them knowledge and magic.

However, they clearly needed huge funds for that. They had to protect the little girls who would otherwise struggle to survive in society. They would be bullied, scolded, picked on, and forced into labor without any way to make their voices heard!

"Headmistress Perry, I believe we should guarantee our students' safety, even if we are going to take good care of the representatives of the Casas. I have a feeling that the culprit is very powerful. The person must be hiding nearby. If the person can be so cruel to the little creatures, I doubt he or she will go easy on the students..." Brianca said seriously.

"Which is why, I hope that you, as the person-in-charge of the Disciplinary Office, will settle the matter as soon as possible. It would be best if you can find the culprit before the Casas are here. Miss Brianca, the school's safety is in your hands. You should know that many of our teachers and students have left to visit other schools. The only people I can rely on are you, Ceylan, Miya, and the others. I hope you will deal with the culprit as soon as possible," Headmistress Perry said.

Brianca wanted to say something, but Headmistress Perry stopped her once again.

Brianca knew Headmistress Perry was determined not to seal off the school. She was the one that came up with the suggestion to request funding from the Casas, so how could she possibly give up now? If she successfully reached a deal with the Casas, her status in Alps Institute was going to rise significantly.

"Mo Fan, Miss Brianca, please keep it a secret. I will allocate more patrols. I hope you will keep the poor kids that need our help in mind," Perry reminded them.

Brianca nodded stiffly.

Chapter 1480 Searching For the Culpri

Mo Fan and Brianca left Faerun Castle. He could see Brianca was not in a great mood, but unfortunately, she was not the headmistress. She did not have the power to seal off the school.

"I have seen a lot of bad people. I can barely consider myself a criminal profiler. It's obviously not just a prank. No one would go so far and kill so many little creatures so brutally just for a prank. The wounds on the creatures and the way the culprit placed their bodies clearly showed the strong hatred the person has. We shouldn't rule out the possibility that the person will target the students," Mo Fan said seriously.

"Do you really think that?" Bianca looked Mo Fan in the eyes.

"Mm, a person with such a strong murderous intent is not the same as us, who were hunting a wild hare to feed ourselves. The person's goal is very obvious; they are basically saying that he or she is willing to go as far as killing the little creatures that your school worships. The culprit is declaring war against your school in a confident and ruthless manner, since the person isn't afraid that you will find out what he or she is up to," Mo Fan replied.

Mo Fan could guess what the bad people were thinking after spending so much time around them.

Revenge!

Mo Fan could smell the rotten scent of the mad culprit. The person was clearly not going to be satisfied with just killing the little creatures. The female students of the Alps Institute would be in danger if they stumbled into that person!

Mo Fan believed sealing the school was the right approach. The Alps Institute was incredibly huge. Even flying from the north gate to the south gate would take a long time. On top of that, the school was split into four main areas. Faerun School was located in the middle, where the terrain was level. Lanxue School was located in the west, separated by a huge mountain. Weitian School was in the east, where the terrain was the highest, consisting of a few mountains joined by bridges. Holy Judgement School was in the north. They were the closest to Faerun School, but also the closest to the scene where the little creatures were massacred.

The culprit possessed remarkably high cultivation. Otherwise, it would be impossible to kill so many little creatures and gather them in the area before the blood even permeated the snow. Bianca tried using her Wind Domain to scan the mountain, but she found no trace of the culprit. It was clear that the culprit was no ordinary Mage!

Sealing off the school was the best approach. They also had to gather all the students in the same school. They could not afford to let them split up, nor could they let them train alone and be on their own!

"You seem to be quite experienced in dealing with these kind of people?" Bianca asked when she realized how plausible Mo Fan's analysis was.

"More or less. The scum that I've sent to Hell could form two soccer teams by now," Mo Fan said with a smile.

"I'm only a teacher that punishes students that break the rules. We do have some bad-behaving students, but they are innocent and kind compared to this kind of maniac that slaughtered so many creatures just to provoke us. I'm afraid I will have trouble finding the culprit within a short period of time on my own. Can you lend me a hand?" Bianca asked.

"I can see that you aren't really familiar with the outside world... as an apology for killing the hare, I'll help you find the culprit," Mo Fan said.

Brianca's face had been extremely pale when she first beheld the gory sight. She had been holding back the urge to throw up.

It was obvious that she had never seen such a brutal sight. She was the kind of Mage that cleansed her heart and limited her desires to pursue higher cultivation. She might be in danger if she had to deal with the cunning and cruel culprit herself.

Having a high cultivation was not necessarily enough at times. If the culprit kept killing the little creatures or targeted the more vulnerable students, even a Forbidden Mage could not do anything to stop them if they could not find who the culprit was!

It grew dark soon; the day was slightly shorter in the Alps. Mo Fan and Brianca made their way to the dining hall.

Brianca did not even have the appetite to eat. She was clearly lost in thought. She could not understand why anyone would kill the little creatures they worshiped in such a brutal manner.

On the other hand, Mo Fan was starving. He had been through a lot of situations where brains, blood, and organs were scattered across the place. The recent discovery was nowhere enough to affect his appetite.

"Miss Brianca, are you feeling not well?" Mo Fan pretended to sound indifferent as he asked the question.

He still remembered the two bowls of soup that were mixed with the aphrodisiac. He was scared that the effects had arrived late.

"I'm fine, I'm just struggling to believe it," Brianca said. She noticed the strange look in Mo Fan's eyes. She touched her face and said, "Do I look like I'm sick to you?"

"Oh, nothing, it's nothing. You should go take a rest. I don't think the person is going to do anything soon..." Mo Fan replied.

"Alright, thanks for your help."

"My pleasure."

Mo Fan went back to his room and immediately went to look for Mu Bai.

Mu Bai and Zhao Manyan were caught while they were trying to run away, too. They were also wearing the magic bracelet, so Ceylan knew exactly where they were. They were not dumb enough to say they were trying to run away. They told Ceylan they were planning to go to the city to enjoy a nice meal, since they could not stand the meals that were served in the school.

"Is Brianca fine?" Mu Bai asked Mo Fan curiously.

"Mmm, she wasn't behaving strangely," Mo Fan nodded.

“Wow, Mo Fan, how shameless are you? You knew she was going to be aroused by the aphrodisiac. Did you follow her to wait for the chance to... tsk tsk tsk, that Bianca is indeed a beauty if she isn't such an unreasonable person. Most importantly, her cultivation is so insane at such a young age. Mo Fan, you won't have to worry about your future anymore if you can settle her!” Zhao Manyan leered.

“Assh, I was just worried that she might learn what we had done, so I tried my best to leave a good impression in front of her. Otherwise, she would suspect us right away if she was feeling unwell! We are wearing the magic bracelets, there's no way we can run away!” Mo Fan snarled.

“I see, you're trying to earn her trust. How did it go?” Zhao Manyan asked.

“Something happened in the school.” Mo Fan told them about their discovery in the afternoon.

Mu Bai and Zhao Manyan were dumbfounded.

Mu Bai finally spoke after a while, “That's impossible, we were there last night. We didn't see anything at all. How is it possible that the place was full of dead animals the next day?”

“Someone must have done it during the latter half of the night, after we were caught. Everyone was at school in the morning; no one saw it since no one was patrolling,” Mo Fan answered.

“The culprit's cultivation must be very high. It took us great effort just to catch the hare, and the little creatures are sparsely spread across the mountain. The culprit most likely traveled a few dozen, or even up to a hundred kilometers, just to kill a thousand little creatures,” Zhao Manyan said.

“I believe the person is going to target the students,” Mo Fan said.

It was possible to predict a person's behavior from what they had done before. The culprit completely disregarded the value of the little creatures' lives, meaning that the person would not hesitate to murder humans, either!
