

VILLAGE HEAD'S DEBAUCHERY

Chapter 11: Fiona the neighbour (2)

Meanwhile, Orion watched their conversation with an open mind. He was no longer surprised by the things they said or did and was even looking for a chance to take advantage of the situation in front of him.

"What are you looking at?" Greta said in annoyance as she walked forward and slapped Fiona's humongous buttocks through the fence.

Orion watched as they rippled, and dragged a little of her garment up, further exposing her protruding ass as her dress was now showing half of the meaty flesh and her full fine thighs.

Still, Orion was sure that the next woman that would have a bigger ass than Fiona would have to be a BBW, as those things looked unreal with her pearly-shaped body and small boobs.

"Yeah, but at least, mine is balanced and the men don't feel like they're wasting their Kalna when we do Kushi" Fiona countered back as she pressed Greta's breasts before letting it fall back on her chest. "Anyway, since you're not in danger, I'll see you later. I have to prepare and get some sleep for the upcoming village awakening ceremony."

'Awakening ceremony' Orion's face scrunched up in confusion before he shook his head and disperse such thoughts away from his mind. There was still time for him to understand the kind of world he was in, so there no was reason to rush it.

"Oh! I forgot that the Village chief chose you to be one of the teachers for this year's gifted students" Greta responded, nodding her head in remembrance as she remembered when Fiona had come to tell her of the good news.

"Yeah" Fiona nodded with a sweet smile on her face. "It also means I won't have to worry about Kalna for a while, and when the caravan comes, I should be able to buy what I want this time." Her thoughts drifted to the traders who pass through their village twice a year, marking the beginning and end of a year.

"Well, don't forget to get me something too. A small gift for being your neighbour would be nice" Greta mused. She would have participated in the sales when the caravan arrives, but because of her inability to gather enough Kalna, she would have to wait until the end of the year.

Fiona immediately nodded. "Of course. If I see anything I think you'll love, I'll definitely get it for you," she responded. After all, Greta was the village healer, so getting on her good side wasn't something Fiona would pass up without trying. So, she truly meant her words.

"Thank you" Greta responded as she bowed gracefully with a smile on her face. Her huge breast faced the ground horizontally, while her large buttocks faced Orion, and gave him an incredible view of the ass that he had just fuck.

Luckily for Orion, his cock which had previously turned flaccid suddenly stood straight with veins all around it.

Fiona immediately noticed this but thought nothing of it because a reaction was normal, even in young and old men. Though there's one thing that left her fascinated, and that was the fact that the young boy's Penis had grown after getting a view of Greta's ass and her butthole.

'What kind of boy is into large buttocks?' She thought to herself as her face scrunched up in confusion. 'Does he have some kind of fetish or was it just a mistake?'

The thoughts kept on coming until she unknowingly stretched her hand backwards and tightly gripped the other half of her fleshy exposed ass.

It would only take one look for someone to examine both their buttocks and come to the conclusion that she had the bigger ass between her and Greta -a truth about her body that made it so unattractive.

However, thanks to her small breast that looked like two tiny cups, she was able to get over this unattractiveness in the eyes of the men in the village and beat Greta who had an equally huge ass and breasts with no other redeemable features other than being the village's healer.

'Would he like mine too?' And although she was satisfied with her small breast, her larger buttocks were still a part of her body, so she won't be lying if she said that finding a man who loved her large ass was one of her teenage dreams.

She inwardly sighed. However, at her age, she had not yet found a partner who appreciated her protruding buttocks and preferred to focus on her breasts instead of paying attention to her behind.

'A shame' She shook her head as she knew that the young man was only cleaning Greta's butthole and might be repulsed by her own if she offers it because hers was bigger. Though, she could fix that by providing more Kalna to barter with.

Still, despite her mature age, the thought of providing a significant amount of Kalna for Kushi, which she was slightly confident that he would accept, was not worth it for her. However, she took solace in the fact that she still held onto her dignity and self-respect.

"Are you okay, Fiona?" Greta asked, noticing her dazed expression.

"Tes, I am fine" Fiona tried her hardest to cover up the feelings in her heart and said amusingly. "But it seems like that young's man's Penis is ready to go, so you should better get your whole bath session worth of Kalna before it goes to waste" She then turned around and started to walk back home. "I will see you later Greta".

Greta immediately responded, "Yes, see you soon". She then turned her head back to Orion before turning her attention back to his throbbing penis.

She couldn't help but laugh at the sight. It was rare to see someone so enthusiastic about cleaning a butthole. Despite the humour, she was grateful for the care and attention he was giving to her buttocks. And, if it wasn't for the fact that he was her best friend's son, she might have considered taking advantage of this strange yet endearing habit.
