

VILLAGE HEAD'S DEBAUCHERY

Chapter 18: Arriving home

Orion looked at the two women facing him and couldn't help but steel his nerves for a moment. He never knew that his mother was so emotional, as such, after listening to their words and having watched every bit of their actions, he kind of found the whole situation wholesome.

"Is she..?" Celeste felt her voice croak as she tried to speak,

Orion sighed before he shook her head "No, she is not lying mother Just recently, I found out that I have some kind of magic hands that can make a bathing experience more enable, and so, I decided to barter them for some of my remaining debts, to which Greta agreed to".

As much as he knew he should have given a straightforward response, Orion couldn't help but want to improve his image in front of his new mother and clear up any misunderstandings she may have had about him

His thinking went like this, if the previous Orion has some nasty character, then he was sure that this was the best thing to do, if he wanted his imagination about fucking his mother's fat ass to come to reality. However, if the previous Orion was indeed a good boy, then it would be even better as that would make some of his advances much easier.

After a moment of hesitation, Orion spoke up. "I'm sorry if I upset you, Mom. I did what I did to avoid adding more debt and stress..".

But Orion never finished his sentence as Celeste suddenly crashed into him and hug him tightly. This hug was even tighter than the last.

Before he could say more, Celeste enveloped him in an even tighter hug than before. "It's alright, mummy believes you. I believe you, and I'm sorry for doubting you," she said, a beautiful smile spreading across her face. "Please forgive me for thinking you were deceiving me".

"It's okay, Mom. I understand," Orion said, reaching out to wipe away her tears. He couldn't help but hope that his actions had worked and earned him some points with his new mother, but only time would tell.

Greta gazed at the mother and son with a loving smile before she walked forward and joined in on the warm embrace "I know that you guys are bonding, but I really need to get to work, so now that we are done with the treatment, you guys can go home".

"Are you chasing us out of your house?" Celeste snorted at her friend's statement.

"Yes, I am" Greta retracted her hands and folded them under her huge melons. Her straight response stunned Celeste, but she quickly recovered knowing that Greta was just trying to give her some only time with her son by quickly sending them home.

Celeste recognized that she was being playful, and decided to go along with it, letting out a small giggle.

"Alright then, we'll be on our way," she said, releasing her hold on Orion.

"Let's head home, Orion."

Nodding in agreement, Orion followed closely behind as Celeste took his hand and led him forward.

As they reached the front door, they nodded politely to Greta before stepping out of her hut, the door closing behind them with a soft thud.

Feeling a sense of longing, Greta sneaked her hands and held her bare ass. She sighed heavily, looking down at her body. "If only I had a child of my own" she murmured, shaking her head with a tired sigh.

As we strolled down the dusty street, my eyes roamed curiously over the varied types of huts that surrounded us. I was fascinated by the unique characteristics of each one - some were tiny and compact, with several other huts clustered around them, while others stood out as grand structures with their own spacious compounds, much like Aunt Greta's home.

As we continued walking for several minutes, I quickly began to notice the disparity between the wealthier and poorer huts. It was apparent from the varying sizes, designs, and levels of maintenance that some were more affluent than others.

I sighed at this. Even if there was no currency in this primitive world, there was still a wall separating the rich from the poor. Regardless, I immediately shook that thought out of my head, since it wasn't as worst as my former world.

"You better recognise the paths incase you get lost, Orion" My mother turned and spoke to me with a smile on her face, ignoring the fact that my hands had sneaked under the fabric of her clothes and were smoothly massaging her frail protruding ass.

Although, I did my best to avoid her pussy as that would surely cause her to react, but even without doing that, the thrill of enjoyment that came from fondling her ass as we walked down the road, passing through several people who paid no heed to us, even after they had seen my actions was exhilarating.

Like seriously, I felt like I could fuck her in the middle of the street, and no one would give a damn.

Suddenly she halted her steps, causing me to do the same.

"We have arrived home, Orion," Celeste announced as she pulled me close to her, her hand gently resting on my shoulders.

As I looked up, I saw four huts all enclosed within a fenced compound. I couldn't help but feel a tinge of disappointment as I realized that my suspicions about our family's financial situation were confirmed.

Suddenly, Celeste linked her arm with mine and pulled me towards the small gate without warning. "Come on! Even your sisters have been worried about your health, and I am sure that they would be happy to know that you are feeling better," she explained.

However, her words made my brain rattle in confusion.

From what I heard, I thought that I only had one sister, so where did the other one come from?

I shook my head and instantly dispersed the thought the moment it entered my mind. Instead of worrying about such trivial things, I should be looking at it from the bright side. At least, now I have two other women or girls, to try and see how long it would take me to cum in their pussy.
