

Village Head 33

Chapter 33 A New Day

After taking a few minutes to compose herself and calm her body down, she arranged her clothing before joining her brother to indulge in the fruits.

"Are you enjoying it, brother?" Gina inquired, her eyes twinkling with joy as she watched him happily munching on the fruit that she had toiled hard to obtain.

Orion nodded, savouring the delectable taste of the fruit. He knew that in this world, these fruits were considered daily necessities, and acquiring them was no easy feat. After spending half a day with Aunt Greta, he had witnessed the laborious process involved in obtaining just one or two.

Gina's expression lit up at Orion's response. A sweet smile graced her lips as she replied, "I'm glad you like it, brother. Eat as much as you desire."

"All right," Orion responded with a contented sigh, relishing the delicious, tangy flavour of the fruit in his mouth.

A few moments later, Celeste returned to the hut, supporting her limping daughter, Reena. Upon noticing that Orion and Gina were still eating, she promptly put an end to the party. "Okay, that's enough for today. We've all had our fill. Orion, go take a bath, wash up, and change your clothes. Don't worry, they'll be ready for you. I'll help Gina clean up the room and prepare the mats."

Knowing that he would finally be getting some rest, Orion replied "Okay mom" Before he stood up and walked to the backyard where Celeste and Reena had just walked out from.

And because he was already familiar with this world's bathing process, he quickly sprang to his feet and headed to the backyard to clean himself up.

At first, I couldn't help but wonder how they were planning on tackling the chaotic mess in a room. So, after I luxuriated in a refreshing bath and strolled back into the hut, it came as a surprise to find the sand grains packed on one side of the floor and a heap of them stubbornly huddled in a corner.

'At least, they were able to care of this much' As I thought, my attention was drawn to the mat laid in the middle of the room, where Reena and Gina lay sound asleep, looking like two peaceful angels.

"They decided to hit the hay while you were washing up," my mother's gentle voice broke the silence. "Your tulga is hanging on the door, dear."

I turned my head towards her direction and stared at saw my mother seated on the floor, probably waiting for me to finish bathing so that we could retire for the night.

I nodded in understanding and turned to take my cloth-like skirt from the door and wore it, before I closed the door that led to the backyard shut.

After I was done, she stood up not minding the fact that the cloth tied around her waist was now showing half of her well-rounded fat buttocks, she walked forward and bent down to spread another mat that was laid close to my sisters, near them. Meanwhile, while all this was happening, I washed with keen eyes as the view gave me a glimpse of her pussy. And by the time she went down on the mat and called for me, it was already over her waist, giving me a clear view of her robust thighs and enticing legs.

"Come on, it's time for you to go to sleep and have some rest" my mother announced with a yawn.

Without a word, I made my way to the mat and positioned myself in the centre, sandwiched between my mother and Gina, while Reena sprawled out on the edge.

"Goodnight son" She kissed me on my cheeks before she rested her body in a comfortable position.

However, the cramped space and hard ground made finding a comfortable sleeping position a challenging task. Despite my efforts, I couldn't resist the urge to shift and fidget. And knowing full well that I couldn't keep my hands to myself in such a tight space. I did the first time I could think of by submerging my face in my mother's exaggerated breast and then sneaking my hands towards over fleshy thighs to grab her squishy ass.

'Perfect' I internally muttered. Although her eyes slowly opened when I grabbed her bare buttocks, she didn't do anything unusual and merely hugged me before she closed them back. Unsurprisingly, her actions added me to also drift into dreamland as I also feel my tent touching her thighs.

Tomorrow I will focus on gathering more information about this world first before any other thing.

"...."

Who am I kidding?

.....

Morning

"Orion.... Orion...Wake up!" Gina yelled urgently, shaking me from my slumber. I groggily fought off the heavy veil of sleep that cloaked my eyes, my vision gradually coming into focus. Suddenly, my hazy gaze was met with the sight of Gina straddling my waist in a daring cowgirl position, her urgent cries ringing out like a siren.

"Are you awake, brother?" Gina asked with a note of relief in her voice, her eyes meeting mine as she noticed that I was finally fully awake.

"Why wouldn't I be?... of course, I am awake" I replied, feeling her small curvy ass on top of my morning wood. And as though she felt my erect pulsing penis, she decided to rock her waist up and down.

Immediately, I stretched my hand and grabbed my junior sister's ass cheeks together with the fabric of her cloth. Because, we were still in our clothes, the warm sensation on my shaft as we dry-humped each other increased until she suddenly stood forcefully removing my grip from her waist and ass.

"Unfortunately brother, I can't have Kushi with you because I am not of age yet" She said, chuckling as though she had just said the most obvious statement. "Wait here, let me go and get sister Reena to have Kushi with you" She added before she suddenly ran off towards one of the two rooms in the hut.
