

Village Head 58

Chapter 58 Lecture

Frankly, I was left feeling a bit confused about what I had just watched and what I was currently witnessing. Initially, I attributed the boy's hesitation to stage fright or simply feeling intimidated. However, as more partners stepped forward to attempt the same task Fiona and I had just completed, it became apparent that the men in this village struggled with getting an erection. Whether this was a widespread issue or not, I made a mental note to investigate further and confirm my suspicions.

Despite their efforts, the boys were still struggling to make their cocks stand, each taking up to one and a half minutes or more. It was then that I began to understand the importance of the Kushi teachings and the necessity of being sure they were able to properly impregnate a woman.

Fiona noticed a newcomer who had just walked onto the stage with his partner and had been struggling for over five minutes to get an erection. Sensing his frustration, she asked, "Is everything alright?"

The boy shook his head and let out a deep sigh, admitting, "I had Kushi this morning before coming here, maybe that's why... maybe that's why I can't get it up."

Fiona's frown deepened as she asked, "Weren't you advised to conserve your energy before the awakening ceremony?"

The boy hung his head in defeat and admitted, "Yes, I was advised to conserve my energy, but I wanted to practice a little this morning before the ceremony. I guess I didn't save enough to make it through."

Fiona appeared as though she had something to say, but instead, she closed her mouth and replied, "You both can return to your seats. We will continue when we return from the farm."

The girl who was already with her back bent down, and her tulga pulled up, quickly lowered it down and shot the boy an angry look before storming back to her seat.

A deep sigh escaped my lips as I finally began to comprehend the gravity of the situation. It was no wonder my mother had warned me to conserve my energy for this day, and why Grandma Celia and her other hut-mate had stressed the importance of my semen. With circumstances like this, it was no surprise why they treated it like one of the most valuable items in the world. But, luckily for me, I wasn't like them.

Internally, I made a mental note of what I had just learned about the boys and was determined to cross-check it with the grown men in the village. Were their experiences the same? Did they also struggle for an erection and require rest after intercourse? These were critical questions that needed answers.

Fiona cast a stern glance at the remaining partners who had yet to perform before asking, "Did anyone else have kushi before coming for the awakening ceremony?"

At this point, only two pairs of partners remained, and I was one of them. The other pair consisted of the boy who had taken the curvy girl.

To my surprise, the boy raised his hand, causing me to raise a brow in disbelief. 'If you knew you were unable to perform, why did you take two girls?' I thought to myself.

Unfortunately for him, it seemed that Fiona had the same thought and looked at the boy with an irritated expression on her face before letting out a sigh of defeat. "It seems like we're done for today's lecture. Let me wrap things up before we head to the farm," Fiona said as she pointed her finger at the two boys. "However, you two will not be receiving any points for today. And if you do not follow the instructions and advice given to you from now on, your points will be deducted. Is that clear?"

The two boys nodded their heads in understanding as Fiona had effectively conveyed her message. She went on to explain that it's natural for young boys to take some time before their penis becomes erect, and this issue reduces as they age. However, the concern is that as they grow older, their semen no longer possesses the same potency as it did when they were younger, which ultimately lowers the chances of women getting pregnant. This issue further affects the population of the village, as young hands are required to take over when the older ones pass away. Fiona's explanation shed light on the importance of maintaining a healthy reproductive cycle within the village and the need to ensure the continuity of the population.

As such, young men are often advised to father as many children as possible, with a minimum of one or two. However, due to difficulties in achieving and maintaining an erection, many young men are not always interested in pursuing this goal. Consequently, they settle for only having one or two children, falling far short of the maximum target. As a result, women of all ages now seek out young men, like ourselves, to bargain for the chance to become pregnant. We were informed that this presented a valuable opportunity for us to build our wealth, as such opportunities often diminish with age.

Once again, I couldn't help but let out a tired exhale as Fiona finished speaking. 'Well, I guess that answers all of my questions,' I thought to myself.

But Fiona wasn't done yet. She continued, "And don't forget, girls, that your fertility remains high from the moment you become of age and only begins to diminish the day you become an elder. However, when it comes to bargaining for kushi, you can only expect to negotiate with boys in your own generation. For younger generations, you may have to pay a higher price. It all depends on which generation you are trying to initiate kushi with."

As Fiona spoke, my mind prickled with understanding, keen to absorb every word she had to say. Suddenly, her words transported me back to the women whose pussies I had cummed inside since the day I came into this world.
