

Villain 761

Chapter 761: Another timeline, gradually touching the truth

After Gu Changge had made all the necessary arrangements, he returned to the upper realm, just as the clan was preparing for his wedding ceremony. He followed to greet the army and arrived at the Peerless Immortal Dynasty earlier than planned. The marriage between the Ancient Immortal Gu family and the Peerless Immortal Dynasty was closely tied to this event.

Many clan elders were taking this matter very seriously. They had invited numerous ancestors from the depths of the clan to ensure the success of this wedding.

In addition, even many background figures from the power of the remnant immortal, who had been born to the Gu family, were concerned about Gu Changge's wedding. Tensions were running high in the upper realm, with various immortal forces regarding Gu Changge as a potential threat. No one could be certain if someone would disrupt the grand wedding.

Furthermore, the marriage of these two powerful clans had an impact on the hearts and minds of countless cultivators and creatures in the upper realm. It was like a fragile string, ready to snap if not handled with care.

For ordinary cultivators, Gu Changge had tirelessly fought against the scourge of Absolute Heavenly Extinction, confronting numerous forces, all in the name of seeking justice for the common people.

Naturally, they sincerely wished Gu Changge and Yue Mingkong happiness. The grievances between the various immortal forces in the upper realm had nothing to do with them. However, everyone understood that if the War of Immortality were to break out at this moment, it would likely sweep across the entire Upper Realm, sparing no one and turning countless mountains, rivers, and territories to dust.

"I've been waiting for this day for a long, long time," Yue Mingkong said, leaning against Gu Changge's arms in the depths of the Peerless Immortal Dynasty's palace. Her voice was soft, and a trace of nostalgia appeared on her beautiful face. She had yearned for this day before she was reborn, but in her previous life, she never thought that she would be attacked and betrayed by Gu Changge.

However, in this life, Gu Changge had changed so much that she suspected her past life was merely a dream.

“I won’t make you wait any longer,” Gu Changge reassured her with a smile. He gently tucked a strand of hair behind her ear. “I’m afraid this is all a dream, and that it will be in vain when I wake up.” He said in a romantic mood.

Yue Mingkong looked into his eyes with her crystal-clear gaze. She was filled with love but also a hint of uncertainty. The approaching wedding day was making her nervous.

In her previous life’s wedding with him, Gu Changge had been cold and distant, never showing any affection. The more the wedding approached, the more anxious she became. She couldn’t help but remember the time when Gu Changge had killed her in her previous life, just after their wedding.

In her daily life, she was the exalted Empress of the Peerless Immortal Dynasty, ruling over countless realms and capable of issuing orders that many cultivators and creatures could lose their lives. However, in front of Gu Changge, she was merely a loving wife, eager to share his burdens and soothe his worries.

Gu Changge knew her thoughts and sought to reassure her. “How could all this be a dream? Why speak of such things now?” He held her slender hand.

He understood that she was remembering her previous life when she was brutally killed after their wedding, a past she could not forget. All he could do was to reassure her.

Yue Mingkong nodded, feeling her tension ease as she nestled into his embrace. “Actually, Xian’er came to see me during this time...”

“Huh?” Gu Changge raised an eyebrow, knowing that if Yue Mingkong mentioned this, it must be significant.

“What did Xian’er want?” he inquired softly.

Yue Mingkong’s eyes focused on his face. “Xian’er asked me to keep a close watch on you. She’s worried that you won’t be able to control the darkness in your heart and might attack me on our wedding day. She mentioned that if I notice anything unusual in you, I should inform her, as she has a way to help you suppress the demonic nature within your demonic heart.”

In her previous life, his killing of her was merely a way to find a suitable excuse to clear himself of suspicion. Yue Mingkong had always been aware of this, that is why when she returned after her rebirth, she had been cautious with Gu Changge.

However, she soon noticed the many differences in his behavior and personality compared to their past life, especially in how he treated his loved ones, his beloved, and his followers. Last time, Gu Changge had come across as entirely self-serving and ruthless, caring only about his own interests, apart from anything else.

However, the current Gu Changge had an added touch of tenderness in his heart, and even that tiny bit was enough to satisfy her. After all, all she had ever wanted was a place in Gu Changge's heart.

"Why would she suddenly say that to you? The last time she saw me, I felt like she might be hiding something from me." Yue MingKong remarked.

Gu Changge's brow furrowed slightly at her words, not because he thought that Gu Xian'er was being overly concerned. It was more about being worried that the girl might do something foolish.

The last time she was in the Peach Village, Gu Xian'er had almost dug out her own Dao immortal bones, attempting to help Gu Changge suppress the demonic nature of his heart.

"It seems like we should find the right moment to talk to her openly to prevent her from acting rashly," Gu Changge said, shaking his head lightly.

Yue Mingkong agreed. "I believe Xian'er might have seen something, which is why she's so worried."

She had cultivated the art of reading the hearts of emperors and manipulating people in the Peerless Immortal Dynasty. Although she can't directly discern people's thoughts, she can deduce their psychological changes from subtle cues. When she talked to me about these matters, it was clear she was deeply concerned, as if she had foreknowledge of the events. This reminds me of when I was reborn."

"Are you saying that Xian'er has come into contact with something related to the future?," Gu Changge suddenly realized.

It made sense why Gu Xian'er had been hesitant when she met him the last time and seemed uninterested even after learning of his identity as a bearer of demonic art. She probably knew that more terrifying events awaited her in the future.

"In that case, the future that Xian'er encountered might coincide with the timeline where I was reborn," Gu Changge continued to ponder. "But why do I end up killing them in both of these timelines? Why do all these Children of Destiny, regardless of which timeline they are in, end up on the opposite side?"

Gu Changge's brows furrowed deeper as he felt he was getting closer to some profound truth.

If the system was related to him, then these children of luck, no matter in the original timeline or in other timelines, would eventually stand on the opposite side of him.

Was this a coincidence? Or was everything preordained?

Chapter 762: Gu Changge's true strength, killing the enlightened ones is like slaughtering dogs

The wedding procession, spanning millions of miles of red carpet, continued into the depths of the universe. A massive army followed behind, with Dao-building experts and background figures covertly guarding to ensure the smooth reception of this wedding.

The star field where the Peerless Immortal Dynasty and the Gu Family were located were quite far apart. Even with the use of large teleportation arrays, it would still take a long time to travel between them.

Therefore, several Dao-building experts had already ripped open the cosmic channels in advance and stabilized them with great spiritual power to ensure that the procession would not face any interference.

The entire universe was in turmoil, producing a resounding spectacle, with endless radiance swirling around the various star fields. Nearly all the Immortal forces in the Upper Realm were closely monitoring the event through various means.

They sent Dao-building experts to accompany the escort of guests returning to the Gu Family, while others had their spies keeping a watchful eye from a distance to relay information.

However, the real wedding between Gu Changge and Yue Mingkong would only commence after the wedding procession. The Gu Family had invited almost the entire Upper Realm, but all forces with some background tried their best to obtain an invitation. Participating in this grand event was a testament to one's own power, in a way.

This was a demonstration of their strength.

Rumble!!

In the various star fields, the heavens trembled with the approach of ancient warships, carriages, primordial fierce beasts, Dao temples, and divine mountains. They carried numerous cultivators, emanating a tremendous pressure as they traveled toward the star field of the Gu Family.

Of course, many of the guests were now setting out from different regions. Regardless of their intentions, whether they harbored ulterior motives or had genuine well-wishes, they all carried heavy and precious gifts.

Even some long-shrouded ancient forbidden areas, which had existed for periods surpassing certain immortal sects, were now showing signs of activity. Carriages made of Immortal gold, pulled by white jade unicorns, were used to transport a multitude of congratulatory gifts. These gifts were sent out to the Gu Family.

Although some of these forbidden areas had not received invitations, they dispatched envoys bearing precious gifts. They dared not risk offending the Gu Family during such a momentous occasion. When all the surrounding restricted zones were sending gifts, their failure to do so would be a clear affront?

Even though these restricted zones stood apart from the worldly affairs and were shrouded in mist, they were not exempt from disturbances from the outside world.

The background of many forbidden areas run much deeper than those ancient forces'.

"It seems that these forces are not entirely foolish; at this time, they have restrained themselves quite a bit."

In the cosmic passage returning to the Ancient Immortal Gu family.

Inside the cosmic passage leading back to the Gu family's residence, a Dao-building expert from the Gu family, was conversing with Gu Changge, his gaze sharp as it swept over the surrounding starry fields.

Although the marriage procession had started smoothly, there was no guarantee that some unforeseen issues wouldn't arise along the way. Gu Changge, seated atop a nearly imperial-level pure-blooded red dragon-horse, smiled faintly and said, "At this time, there's no need to be so cautious. At this moment, if several major traditions don't join forces, they wouldn't dare to make a move."

He wasn't worried about powerhouses emerging to disrupt the procession at this point; he was more concerned about the absence of interference. This indicated that greater disturbances were brewing, and these traditions were waiting for the most opportune moment. For example, if they couldn't deal with him, they might target Yue MingKong. In any case, they would stop at nothing to prevent this grand wedding.

Gu Changge deeply understood the intentions and goals of these forces. He had to find ways to anticipate and eliminate any potential destabilizing factors in advance. He had already grown to the point where there were hardly any opportunities to deal with him.

So, the most likely target was Yue Mingkong. After all, if anything happened to either of them, this union would undoubtedly be fruitless.

"Actually, Mingkong is in much greater danger right now..."

Gu Changge had a plan for this as well. He had turned the Reincarnated Heaven Lord into a puppet and placed him by Yue Mingkong's side to ensure her safety. In terms of cultivation, Yue Mingkong had gathered numerous opportunities over the years and was now just on the verge of becoming a quasi-supreme realm. While this far surpassed many young supremes, she was completely defenseless against those who had reached the level of Dao-building experts.

Unless she was in the capital of the Peerless Immortal Dynasty, utilizing its unique luck of the heavens and earth there, could she contend with Dao-building experts. In the following days, the wedding procession encountered no unexpected incidents, and the journey back was notably quiet, with the universe surroundings remaining peaceful.

They were just three days away from returning to the star field of the Gu family's residence. Various immortal forces closely monitoring these events felt deeply disappointed, as they didn't witness any attempts to disrupt the wedding procession.

"Is it finally time to press on and decide to make a move?"

"Since this is the case, we should let the entire Upper Realm know..."

Gu Changge, who had been sitting atop the dragon-horse all along, suddenly opened his eyes, his expression deep and profound. After devouring and assimilating the soul of the Reincarnated Heaven Lord, his spiritual power was vast and terrifying, far surpassing even the remnant immortals.

He immediately sensed faint fluctuations in a desolate starry region ahead, where someone had set up hidden arrays and traps, including an ambush by a Dao-building expert. "Halt the procession for now; there are traps and Dao-building expert lying in ambush up ahead."

Gu Changge gestured to the two Dao-building experts ahead without waiting for their response. He swiftly disappeared, leaving them behind. At the same time, a vast and majestic aura erupted, as if the floodgates of heaven and earth had suddenly opened, with surging waves of chaotic energy blanketing the area.

The sky trembled, and myriads of stars flickered, making the entire universe seem to twist and threaten to collapse at that moment. This was a world-shaking pressure, far beyond that of an ordinary Dao-building expert, almost on par with remnant immortals!

"Changge..."

The two Dao-building experts riding alongside Gu Changge had yet to react when they saw Gu Changge's figure already at the forefront of the procession. His expression was cold, resembling an invincible and peerless immortal king. Terrifying pressure emanated from his dark robe as he pushed his palm forward, like an endless continent descending from the depths of heaven and earth.

Rumble!!

The place instantly exploded, with boundless radiance shooting into the sky. The terrifying arrays etched into the void revealed themselves, only to be wiped out in large quantities as they collapsed like a surging river.

This location had long been set up with numerous ambushers from various star fields, each armed with different forbidden weapons, all waiting here to disrupt the wedding procession.

Even though they were destined to be unsuccessful, they found it worthwhile to cause some disturbance in this grand wedding, simply to irritate the Gu family and this union.

Rumble!!

The spine-chilling invincible aura swept over, like a deluge, and even the Gu family's Dao-building expert felt their hearts pounding. Prior to this, the entire Upper Realm, including the Gu family, had been guessing Gu Changge's strength, eager to know the extent of his power.

After the obliteration of Hell, many people speculated that Gu Changge might possess some kind of treasure that could unleash the power of a remnant immortal, allowing him to eradicate the notoriously difficult Fourth Hall of Hell.

But such speculations had no evidence to support them. Many believed that, no matter how extraordinary or unbelievable Gu Changge was, he couldn't possibly possess the kind of combat strength equivalent to a remnant immortal.

However, now, the aura displayed by Gu Changge was already on par with a remnant immortal. This sight left even many of the Gu family's elder Dao-building expert deeply shaken, their hearts in turmoil.

"Strength comparable to a figure of profound background, no wonder it has aroused fear in countless people, and it's only been a few years..."

"When the Immortal Path descends, becoming an immortal is an inevitable matter."

One of the Dao-building expert's ancestors responsible for protecting the Peerless Immortal Dynasty, which was escorting the procession, was also unable to recover from the sight for a long time.

In the star fields, countless cultivators and beings watched this scene with profound shock, finding it hard to regain their composure.

“All our speculations were wrong... Gu has the strength of a figure of profound background for a long time...”

“He had never revealed his true power in front of the world before. Today, he is doing so to make everyone aware of it.”

“He has already reached the highest peak of the Upper Realm, the same height as a figure of profound background.”

Many powerhouses who had been closely monitoring the wedding procession were now collectively gasping for air, filled with shock and disbelief. No one had expected that Gu Changge would suddenly display such overwhelming power at this moment without any reservations.

Information about this location and the scene was immediately transmitted back to the various forces behind them, causing ripples of unease throughout the entire Upper Realm.

Gu Changge had no words to say; his expression remained cold and profound. He had revealed his true power today to make the entire Upper Realm aware of it.

“Attack!!”

As the radiant light exploded and runes were erased, many hidden powerhouses in this location simultaneously launched various precious treasures were sacrificed. They came from many traition forces and were akin to fanatical soldiers, unafraid of life and death.

There were heavenly swords, ancient lamps, green tripods, and more... One by one, these treasures emerged, shining brilliantly and covering the star fields with astonishing power. Some of them were even three Dao-building experts wielding ancient-era prohibitive tools with terrifying power.

Just the faint ripple emanating from them caused the edges of the universe to blur and collapse.

Buzz!!

However, as Gu Changge lightly flicked his finger, the empty space and even the sky itself quaked. A faint golden sword aura burst forth from his hand. Radiance pressed down upon heaven and earth, causing the whole area to emit a terrifying, thunderous sound, as if the sky and earth were collapsing.

In just an instant, the group of powerhouses rushing toward him exploded, including the Dao-building experts who held the forbidden weapon. They were struck by the sword aura, turning into a mist of blood, obliterated body and soul.

In a distant place, everyone who witnessed this scene was filled with extreme fear, their souls trembling, unable to muster any resistance.

This was too terrifying. This was the level of power associated with figures of profound background.

Gu Changge's cultivation had long reached this level, making it easier for him to kill ordinary Dao-building expert than to crush ants.

“Attack! Let's fight him!”

The remaining two Dao-building experts, though momentarily frightened by the situation, roared in anger, and their bodies seemed to ignite. Like a world-shaking thunderbolt, their Qi and blood surged as they leaped from their heavenly seats, rushing at Gu Changge. As Dao-building experts, they were willing to burn their souls and essence.

Their aura was terrifying, akin to a volcanic eruption. This surge of power could easily turn stars millions of miles away into dust.

In another direction, another Dao-building expert transformed into a golden streak and rushed forward. Their speed was indescribable as they executed a supreme boxing method, resembling a war immortal descending, overwhelming everything and attacking Gu Changge.

At this moment, the entire universe was shrouded in a sea of shadows cast by their fists, with even the blurry imagery of the Six realms of reincarnation appearing, transforming into six ancient dry wells, trying to suppress Gu Changge.

Facing the joint siege of two enlightened men, Gu Changge's expression remained indifferent and profound.

After the punch fell, he raised his hand to reach forward, as if a piece of universe was condensing and emerging.

Facing the joint siege of two Dao-building experts, Gu Changge's expression remained cold and profound. When their fist descended, he reached out, and it was as if a universe was forming and materializing before him. The aura of the highest world manifested and emitted a rumbling and majestic momentum.

Among them, all the stars in the sky were cohesively rotating, directly crushing and obliterating the six dry wells.

Within this manifestation, countless stars and constellations gathered and directly crushed and erased the six dry wells.

“Chi!”

Immediately afterward, Gu Changge unleashed an all-encompassing sword aura, infused with the ultimate rules of destruction. In an instant, a dark light tore through the heavens and earth, transforming into a world-destroying true dragon that rushed forward.

“Puff!”

The sword light swept through the heavens and earth, as if it passed through countless living beings, overwhelming countless ancient realms, bringing an end to the world.

“What's this?”

The Dao-building expert who had been burning his soul looked horrified, his soul frozen, unable to move, all his treasures and defenses utterly powerless against the sword aura. He couldn't even close his eyes in death. The sword light, less than an inch in length, pierced his forehead, leaving behind a bloody hole.

Immediately, his body shot out hundreds and thousands of sword rays.

“Boom!”

In an instant, his body was riddled with sword holes, and he disintegrated in the void, leaving nothing behind. Even in his last moments, he couldn't muster the strength to unleash his terrifying forbidden weapon, and it seemed like his soul was buried in an unknown river.

The other Dao-building expert was slapped to death by Gu Changge with a single palm. His soul shattered and dispersed, not even managing to scream.

With that, the commotion in the area quickly subsided, and the remaining fanatical soldiers had exploded in the previous turmoil, all turned into dust.

“These are the methods of a figure of profound background, and they already involve the field of time rules...”

“Gu Changge is even more powerful than the average figure of profound background. Killing Dao-building experts is as easy for him as slaughtering dogs...”

“He is undoubtedly sending a clear message to the various immortal forces.”

From a distant location, those who witnessed the end of this battle couldn't help but shiver, their faces pale with fear that they couldn't conceal.

Many Dao-building experts felt a chill in their bodies, almost as if they had experienced the same fate. If they had been in the front just now, they probably couldn't have blocked even a single palm from Gu Changge and would have been turned into a mist of blood.

After all, the end of this battle happened incredibly quickly, almost as if it had occurred in the blink of an eye. Gu Changge appeared, erased everything, and only made three moves. Yet, in these three moves, three Dao-building experts had fallen!

Chapter 763: The dread of the Daoist ‘One-

Eyed', unyielding flow of time

Gu Changge showcased the power of a Remnant Immortal, swiftly resolving the three Dao-building experts and numerous Scared Realm assassins who had set an ambush in this location. This left everyone who witnessed the scene utterly stunned and unable to recover for quite some time. Their hearts were filled with awe.

Previously, many had doubted about Gu Changge's strength, wondering just how far he had progressed. However, now that they knew, they were left speechless, their eyes filled with fear and trepidation. Their minds were buzzing with disbelief.

Gu Changge was unquestionably using his own power to make a profound impact on the Upper Realm. The various events that transpired here were quickly relayed by the spies of different factions. It was believed that it wouldn't be long before the entire Upper Realm heard about it.

On their way back to the Gu family estate to celebrate the marriage, three Dao-building experts had set up a forbidden array, but Gu Changge effortlessly dispelled it with a wave of his hand in less than three breaths of time. Such a feat would likely be beyond the capabilities of most other individuals.

In the vast expanse of the star field, Gu Changge stood tall and indistinct. His figure was slender and ethereal, his black robe fluttered in the wind, and his ink-black hair gleamed, some strands even radiating a chaotic aura, blending with the cosmos. He appeared as a young immortal king, his eyes cold and profound.

He slowly surveyed his surroundings, his gaze flashing with a radiance that resembled the terrifying chaos thunderbolt streaking across the universe, shattering the order of Dao rules, sending shivers down the spine of those people who beheld it.

"Continue to move forward."

He instructed calmly, allowing the Gu family's welcoming army to press onward on their way back to the Gu family estate.

Normally, Gu Changge presented a humble and gentle image to the public, treating others with kindness and gentleness. He rarely displayed such cold indifference, with his eyes exuding an aura of impending catastrophe.

In the surrounding universe, there was silence. Even the many hidden powerhouses couldn't help but shudder, their very souls trembling.

But they could understand. After all, this happened on the path where Gu Changge and Yu Mingkong were about to be married, even during the wedding procession. The various immortal forces had sent Dao-building experts to cause disruptions, intending to spoil the joyous occasion for Gu Changge and the Gu family.

If they were in their shoes, they wouldn't be able to endure such a situation.

Three Dao-building experts made their move. It seems Gu Changge's suspicions were on point."

"In this way, at least three factions have taken action... There are definitely more of them in the dark."

"So, that means at least three major immortal forces have acted... and there are definitely more behind the scenes."

Among the welcoming procession, Yu Mingkong sat in the exquisite immortal jade carriage, her expression equally cold. She did not draw back the curtains to observe the outside scenery. To her, there was no reason to be concerned about Gu Changge's strength. In the current Upper Realm, there would be no danger unless background figures wielding immortal treasures attempted to besiege him.

Nevertheless, this situation acted as an indication that their grand wedding with Gu Changge would not proceed smoothly.

Buzz!!

Golden inscriptions flashed through the void, imprinting on a decree and then transmitting it, disappearing from sight. For years, Yu Mingkong had been secretly training the Shura Guards according to Gu Changge's instructions.

It was an extremely terrifying force, with each Shura Guard's strength rivaling that of the Sacred Realm. Due to their unique cultivation of secret techniques, they felt no fear, pain, or hesitation. They even mastered hundreds of combined attack methods. The leader of the Shura Guards was at the Supreme Realm, quasi-Emperor Realm, and they even had a Dao-building expert among them.

This terrifying force had remained hidden within various small realms, never truly revealing itself in the Upper Realm. Yu Mingkong planned to wait for the right moment to unleash this power, catching their attacker off guard.

Soon, the grand wedding procession continued its journey, shaking the universe, causing the stars to quiver. Several Dao-building experts from the Gu family flew ahead to clear the way, their gazes cold and filled with murderous intent as they scanned the surrounding star field, vigilant against a repeat of the previous incident.

News about this place quickly spread throughout the Upper Realm.

Prominent figures such as the Daoist 'One-Eyed', the Golden Sun Goddess, and the Chana Ancient Buddha, who had profound backgrounds, fell silent. Before, they could marvel at the young and formidable generation, but now they no longer had the privilege.

"To think he could suppress three Dao-building experts like that. This young one is truly well-hidden. This old Daoist initially believed he had barely entered the ranks of the Dao-building experts and relied on some precious treasure or technique to eradicate Hell..."

Deep within the Heavenly Emperor Mountain, the Daoist 'One-Eyed' wore an extremely grim expression. He directly slapped the mountain peak before him into ashes. One of the three Dao-building experts was his appointed follower, who had been sealed for many years and was already nearing the end of their life, without the opportunity to advance further. That's why the Daoist 'One-Eyed' sent them to both upset the Gu family and ascertain which powerful individuals were concealed in the wedding procession.

However, it was unexpected that with just a wave of Gu Changge's hand, he obliterated these individuals. This left the Daoist 'One-Eyed' state of mind in turmoil and instability. He felt that it wouldn't be long before he would truly face Gu Changge, and maybe... he wouldn't be a match for him.

Having reached the level of a Remnant Immortal, the Daoist 'One-Eyed' was no slouch. He had lost an eye due to his pursuit of divine knowledge. At this moment, the premonition he experienced was unprecedentedly strong.

Daoist 'One-Eyed' forehead throbbed in pain, even starting to split open, and fresh blood flowed, a horrifying sight. "I must eliminate Gu Changge, or I will truly die at his hands," he muttered, his face turning grim. His figure blurred, and the empty space in front of him ripped open, allowing him to step inside.

He emerged in a vast and grandiose palace that seemed as if it didn't exist in the world, and it

He emerged in a vast and grandiose palace that seemed as if it didn't exist in the world, and it

“If the three of you don't appear soon, the Heavenly Emperor Mountain's legacy might come to an end in this world.”

“The opportunity to become Immortals is right before you. I hope the three of you awaken quickly.”

After the Daoist 'One-Eyed' arrived, he let out a sigh of relief. Then, he addressed the three Dao-building experts sitting before him.

The Heavenly Emperor Mountain had a long history, once ruling over the ancient clans, and the leaders of their lineage came from different races with differing bloodlines. The three figures in front of him were the other three profound beings still present in the Heavenly Emperor Mountain's legacy. Their cultivation was no weaker than him.

Sensing the Daoist 'One-Eyed' aura, the three figures on the cushions slowly opened their eyes.

Seeing this, the Daoist 'One-Eyed' couldn't help but show a glimmer of hope. With the four profound beings of the Heavenly Emperor Mountain and their many ancient artifacts, could Gu Changge still pose a threat?

...

Several days passed in the blink of an eye, and the wedding procession responsible for welcoming the bride had finally traversed the lengthy cosmic tunnels, returning to the star field where the Gu family resided. Along the way, there were no more surprises.

All the stars were adorned in celebratory decorations, with the radiance of dawn intermingling, and auspicious scenes gracing the skies, illuminating the entire universe with a festive atmosphere.

In the vast and boundless expanse, countless star fields and ancient life-bearing stars were decked out for the Gu family's celebration. Almost every life-bearing star sparkled with lights, immortal cranes soaring across the sky.

In the star field near the central region, the ancient divine mountains stood tall and vast, stretching endlessly. They had been tamed by the most powerful members of the Gu family beforehand, becoming the residence for the guests.

This was because the wedding ceremony was truly monumental, with nearly all of the Upper Realm's oldest and most ancient immortal forces converging. Lesser forces didn't have the opportunity to enter the central area and had to temporarily stay in the outermost area. Even so, these peripheral regions were fully occupied and buzzing with activity, filled with the figures of cultivators and attentive beings.

Rumble!!

The universe resonated as the bridal army returned, marching along a silver-red galaxy interwoven with dawn's light, heading toward the main island of the Gu family.

"His big wedding..."

Within the divine island of the sacred mountains, many esteemed guests watched as the immortal carriage descended towards the heart of the Gu family. The Empress Xi Yao of the Demon world, adorned in phoenix-like attire, with her graceful and icy beauty, gazed at Gu Changge, who was riding off on a dragon horse.

For a moment, she stood still, and a bitter smile crept onto her lips. Although it had been only a few years since Gu Changge left the Demon world, it felt long to her. She knew that such days would only become longer, perhaps even eternal. After all, in the end, it's just like falling petals, while time flows on, indifferent, leaving no trace.

"Young Master Gu..."

In another direction of the island, several figures watched the scene from afar, their hearts filled with both bitterness and envy. Yan Ji, Lin Qiuhan, and others had once shared deep connections with Gu Changge. However, as Gu Changge's strength and status became more terrible, they gradually couldn't keep up and could no longer see his figure.

Occasionally, they would catch glimpses of him only through images on some scattered stone tablets circulating throughout the Upper Realm.

Chapter 764: The majestic and heavy terrifying background, surprises of all the guests

“The young master specially instructed me to take you to the inner island.”

A woman dressed in white with a strikingly beautiful and charming face, with her fluffy white fox tail being carried by four handmaidens. She addressed Lin Qiuhaohao, Yan Ji, and others with a smile.

“Are you Yin Mei Heavenly Maiden?”

Yan Ji, due to her past association with Gu Changge, was somewhat familiar with Yin Mei, the Goddess of the Nine-Tailed Heavenly Fox clan.

On the other hand, Lin Qiuhaohao was less acquainted with Yin Mei because she had been cultivating diligently at the Purple Pill Sect and had little contact with the outside world. Her proficiency in alchemy was extremely high, surpassing many elders within just a few years. However, her alchemical skills were not of much help to Gu Changge, so he rarely visited the Purple Pill Sect.

“This is the young master’s confidante, who has always handled the affairs of the Business Alliance for him and is also the one behind the scenes controlling the Wan Bao Business Alliance,” Yan Ji explained to Lin Qiuhan. Both Yan Ji and Lin Qiuhan had met Gu Changge when they were in the Lower realm, so when she was free, she would go to the Purple Pill Sect to talk to Lin Qiuhan hence they knew each other well.

“Greetings, Yin Mei Heavenly Maiden.” a bit nervous because she considered herself a small figure and felt she had little to say in front of Yin Meitian.

“You don’t need to be so formal; just follow me into the inner island,” Yin Mei said with a slight smile. She had a dignified and graceful manner, and despite her incredibly enchanting beauty, she didn’t seem otherworldly. Due to her special status, many people in the Gu family recognized her, and some even regarded her as a concubine designated by Gu Changge.

Following Yin Mei, Lin Qiuhan, Yan Ji, and others passed through numerous teleportation formations and entered the inner island area. Compared to the star field outside, the inner island could be aptly described as an immortal world.

The entire Gu family was adorned with festive decorations, and the small world that the ancestors had opened using their supreme divine powers was adorned with red ribbons and lanterns.

Here, even the power far exceeding the Immortal Realm couldn't cause any harm. The islands were scattered like a chessboard, with divine mountains, rivers, silver waterfalls, and enchanting mist enveloping the entire area.

Many guests who were entering the inner island of the Gu family for the first time were overwhelmed by this majestic and terrifying atmosphere, filled with amazement.

The profound and majestic aura engulfed them, an atmosphere beyond the reach of ordinary immortal sects.

At the edge of the sky, one could witness the heavenly bodies, sun, moon, and stars, spinning and galaxies descending with a sonorous whooshing sound, as if falling from the edge of the universe. Countless large stars radiated chaotic energy, gleaming brilliantly and dazzlingly to the extreme.

Between the islands, numerous ancient fierce beasts could be seen, each capable of devouring the sun and moon. Among them was a dragon turtle, seemingly drowsing at the edge of the earth. However, its wisp of aura sent chills down the spines of even the accomplished Dao-building experts.

To the east, there was a sky-blue dragon, which occupied a sacred mountain. Its body dominated the sky, its scales resembling lakes. Its eyes were cold and unfeeling, and a mere glance caused many guests to shudder.

In addition, a fiery-red divine bird soared through the chaotic mist. The moment it spread its wings, it disrupted the countless Dao rules of the world, its temperature soaring to frightening heights.

Vast and boundless forests extended into the depths of the Gu family's territory. There, diverse phenomena and radiant lights prevailed, with heavenly mists and divine fog shimmering. The scene appeared as if a true dragon soared through the sky, and a dark warrior shattered the earth. Dense chaotic mists enveloped the area, making it appear as a world that had existed since the dawn of time, a place of boundless mystery.

Such scenes left all the guests awestruck and unable to calm their hearts. An elder from the ancient immortal clan sighed, "This is the heritage of the Gu family..."

Beside him, siblings Ye Langtian and Ye Liu Li, who had a deep connection with Gu Changge, also followed in quiet awe, taking part in Gu Changge's wedding.

Although many younger generations from the upper realm had come, they all followed in silence and only displayed expressions of amazement and shock when they gazed at the numerous mystical places of the Gu family.

Inside the inner island of the Gu family, an enchanting mist enveloped the area, divine flowers bloomed, and radiant light filled the atmosphere. A seemingly narrow Dao pathway, which could only accommodate a few people at a time, but appeared exceptionally spacious, emerged. It stretched into the depths of the fog.

Palaces and halls covered both sides of the Dao path, appearing towering and grand. They seemed to be situated at the edge of the universe, where the sounds of the Milky Way descending and the rotation of stars and heavenly bodies were audible. Guardians riding fierce beasts were stationed on both sides, emanating a chilling and terrifying aura.

All the guests proceeded along this Dao path, entering the main hall where the wedding was to take place. This hall appeared to be a small world, and although it didn't look large, it was constructed using spatial techniques to house an immense ancient world, capable of accommodating countless people.

Inside the palace, figures abounded, and the mist lingered. Unless one was very close, they couldn't see each other's true appearances. Even accomplished immortals felt astonished, needing to use their divine senses to peer around. It felt as if they were in a vast world, with the sun, moon, and stars rotating overhead, radiating brilliant light.

"Of course, this is a terrifying forbidden weapon specially crafted by the Gu family, sealed within the palace. Before the wedding begins, it allows the guests to rest here, avoiding encounters with their enemies and unnecessary trouble."

"Greetings, young master Changge."

In the forefront of the palace, Gu Changge, with a group of family elders, welcomes the arriving guests

His remarkably handsome face carries a faint smile as he nods to the guests. In the distance, the ancient ancestors of the Divine Sect are also busy around, and his mother and father are also welcoming the guests to uphold the hospitality of the host. After all, the forces and sects that can enter this palace are the true overlords in the upper realms and have the power of reshaping destinies with ease.

“At the entrance of the palace, the a group of guests stepped inside, and many were astonished upon hearing the congratulatory gifts being presented—three pieces of Reincarnation Immortal Jade, three bottles of Boundless Holy Water, and one piece of Immortal Gold,”

The head of that group was a real background figure, with gray-white eyes and a profound, aged appearance. He has gray horns on his head, indicative of his terrifying strength.

The Dao lake of Reincarnation was a low-profile sect in the upper realm, yet it didn't diminish its aura of mystery and dread. Now, during Gu Chongge's grand wedding, they had sent a venerable figure to personally deliver such grand gifts.

“This is Senior Wu Ya. I didn't expect you to come here in person. The Eighteenth Patriarch often talks about you...”

An elder of the Gu family was surprised when he saw this, and then he smiled and came to receive the people of Reincarnation Dao lake in person.

“This is Senior Wu Ya, and I never expected you to come in person. The 18th ancestor has mentioned you quite often,” a Gu family elder expressed surprise upon seeing this and then greeted the delegation from the Dao Lake of Reincarnation.

Clearly, there was a certain connection between the Dao Lake of Reincarnation and the Gu family, and the gifts they brought were truly remarkable. The 18th Patriarch mentioned earlier was none other than Gu Lang, the one who had once emerged and annihilated the Purple Mansion's Grand Elder, reaching his cultivation to the realm of the Remnant Immortal.

When the Gu family later attacked the Eight Desolation and Ten Regions To open the gates of the Heavenly Lu City, the 18th Patriarch , Gu Lang, had also made a move and nearly shattered the city's defenses.

“Gu Lang, that guy, is actually thinking of me? It seems it’s been a while since we sparred; he must be itching for a fight,” the background figure, head from the Dao Lake of Reincarnation mused upon hearing the comment.

“Reincarnation Dao Lake...”

Many guests within the palace had peculiar expressions, and their hearts were filled with amazement. The Dao Lake of Reincarnation had long been absent from the upper realm, almost serving as a forbidden land. It had once even toppled an immortal sect, and this generation hadn’t heard of any successors. But now, the fact that they had a deep connection with the Gu family was evident in their grand gifts.

“Father, mother, I’ll take my leave for a while,” says Gu Changge, as he notices the presence of some familiar faces and, with a slight bow, leaves the palace entrance to meet them.

Chapter 765: Old acquaintance recalls the past, leaving no trace after the event

“My lord.”

Within the grand hall, Yin Mei, accompanied by Lin Qiuhuan, Yan Ji, and others, found their seats and noticed Gu Changge approaching with a smile.

With a sweet smile, she addressed Gu Changge, “I’ve brought them here as you instructed.”

“Thank you for your effort,” Gu Changge replied, nodding slightly, then turned his gaze to Lin Qiuhuan and Yan Ji.

It had been a while since he had seen them. On one hand, it was due to his lack of time, but on the other, he felt it wasn’t necessary and might put them in harm’s way. Although he wasn’t a good person, he did have a sense of nostalgia.

Many forces in the upper realms were keeping a close eye on him, ready to make a move at any time. People with close ties to him might be in danger.

While Gu Changge didn’t have deep feelings for the two women, he didn’t want them to get caught up in these dangerous situations and lose their lives for no reason. He wouldn’t go to great power to protect them like he did for Yue Mingkong.

“Greetings, Young Master.”

Yan Ji and Lin Qiuhan stood before Gu Changge with some restraint. They were pleasantly surprised that he had taken the initiative to meet them, but they were also aware of the stark difference in their statuses compared to when they first arrived in the upper realms.

“In my presence, there’s no need for excessive formality.” Gu Changge smiled slightly, his demeanor as graceful as ever.

In a moment of fantasy, Lin Qiuhan recalled the first time she had met Gu Changge. He had appeared in the Lin family’s hall like a young God, radiating a youthful and elegant charm. His appearance, speech, and knowledge had left her profoundly enchanted and fascinated, unable to free herself.

In the blink of an eye, Gu Changge had become the true ruler of the vast upper realms, holding the power of life and death over countless star fields with a single word.

“Congratulations on your wedding today, Master.”

Yan Ji also seemed lost in memories, and a surge of recollections washed over her. She then bowed slightly.

If Gu Changge hadn’t brought her to the upper realms in the first place, she might have already perished, even if she had reached the current quasi-supreme cultivation level.

She was more grateful to Gu Changge than she was in awe of him. Gu Changge smiled slightly and caught up with them, reminiscing about the past and inquiring about their recent circumstances. He also explained to Lin Qiuhan why he had not visited them earlier.

Before parting ways, he asked Lin Qiuhan to gather information on the refining method of the Purple Pill. He wanted to use this pill to help those around him elevate their cultivation.

Lin Qiuhan had previously informed him that she had only found some fragmented records and not the actual pill formula, so Gu Changge had given up on the idea.

However, to his surprise, there was a bit of good news today. “Not long ago, I found records of the Purple Pill elixir in the notes of a senior from the Purple Pill Sect. Perhaps in his cave dwelling, where he later ascended, there might be scrolls or jade slips that contain the formula for the Purple Pill elixir,” Lin Qiuhan explained with a smile.

Her eyes lit up when she mentioned the Purple Pill elixir. In her eyes, she had received Gu Changge’s care for so long, and now she finally had the opportunity to repay his kindness.

“The Purple Pill elixir? If that’s the case, I’d be interested in seeing just how extraordinary this rumored pill, capable of transcending into immortality, really is,” Gu Changge nodded.

Long before ancient times, in the vast expanse of the upper realms, there was a sect known for alchemy called the Pill Sect, which was situated in an ancient and powerful world known as the Pill World.

However, the Pill World faced divine retribution because it had successfully refined a pill that was never meant to exist in the mortal world. For thousands of years, it endured the strikes of the chaotic primordial actual thunder from the deepest parts of chaos.

The ancient world eventually collapsed, turning into ashes and disappearing into the river of history.

As far as Gu Changge knew, that forbidden pill was called the Purple Pole Immortal Pill.

The Purple Pill elixir that followed was a reduced version. However, it was still tainted with tremendous karmic consequences, causing many alchemy sects that possessed this formula to meet their downfall.

“In that case, I’ll trouble Qiuhan with the matter regarding the Purple Pill elixir,” Gu Changge smiled and said, “It’s not a problem at all. Being able to assist the Master was Lin Qiuhan’s honor.”

After chatting with Yan Ji, Lin Qiuhan, and the others, Gu Changge went his separate way, picking up a jug of wine from a nearby maid and a white jade wine cup.

“Be safe.”

The woman in the phoenix cloak had a plum blossom mark between her eyebrows, with a gorgeous appearance and a cold and solitary demeanor, which added a unique allure to her. She was none other than the Empress Xi Yao of the Demon Realm.

In fact, Gu Changge had yet to expect her to appear here and in her proper form rather than as an incarnation.

“Gu Changge...”

Empress Xi Yao, who had been raising her wine cup to drink, was momentarily taken aback. It seemed she hadn’t expected Gu Changge to notice and approach her willingly.

A self-deprecating smile curved on her lips briefly. Still, she quickly reverted to her cold, noble, and imposing demeanor, exuding an icy aura, much like the supreme Demon Empress she was.

The two of them had met at the True Immortal Academy. At the time, Gu Changge was merely the young leader of his generation, with terrifying power and unparalleled talent. However, in her eyes, she had regarded him as a junior.

It wasn’t until Gu Changge saw through her many worries and understood the sacrifices she had made for the Demon Realm, even considering her as a potential eternal emperor, that Empress Xi Yao changed her view of him.

She no longer saw him as a junior but as a rare confidant. She had even written personal letters to inform him about various matters concerning the Demon Realm.

She had even believed that Gu Changge saw her in the same way, but it was only after he arrived in the Demon Realm and a series of events that she suddenly realized his true nature. This disappointment was accompanied by a deep sense of loss.

However, it couldn’t be denied that Gu Changge was the only man who had entered her heart in her entire life.

Before Gu Changge left the Demon Realm, he also had sex with her.

But in Empress Xi Yao's view, those moments were like a passing spring breeze, leaving no trace afterward. Neither of them had attached much significance to it.

During the half-year when she heard about Gu Changge's upcoming wedding with Yue Ming Kong, Empress Xi Yao often found herself restless, with numerous thoughts and memories flooding her mind.

In reality, if it weren't for Gu Changge, her current fate would not have been so favorable. After all, if the five Demon Emperors had not disappeared suddenly, she wouldn't have had the great fortune of unifying the Demon Realm.

Chapter 766: The great wedding begins, the calm before the storm

Many memories flowed through her mind like a gentle stream, but Empress Xi Yao was no ordinary person. She quickly composed herself, her face showing no signs of emotion.

"It's been a while, Gu Changge," she whispered, raising her glass. "Congratulations. I never thought someone like you would genuinely care for others. I must admit, I envy Empress MingKong for that."

"She has something I can never attain."

During their time in the Demon realm, she had always believed that Gu Changge was solely motivated by self-interest, devoid of any warmth or genuine affection for others.

She certainly didn't expect to see him exhibit this attitude towards Empress Mingkong, which left Empress Xi Yao feeling a touch of bitterness and envy.

"I didn't expect you to come and talk about this after all this time," she remarked.

Gu Changge smiled slightly, and with a hint of surprise on his face, he took a seat beside her, pouring himself a drink. It felt like he was catching up with an old friend.

"Indeed, I was just taken aback by all of this," Empress Xi Yao chuckled self-deprecatingly.

"You've set your time aside to see me alone. Aren't you worried about causing a scandal on your wedding day? There are many guests watching, you know."

Gu Changge raised his glass and said, “Why should I worry about that? Coming to see an old friend, what’s wrong with that?”

Seeing his calm demeanor, Empress Xi Yao couldn’t help but sigh. She then spoke seriously, “You’ve come a long way, and your perspective now surpasses my imagination. However, I want to say that your wedding today might not be peaceful. Many forces have their own agendas, waiting for an opportunity.”

While the Demon realm was vast and boundless, it still paled in comparison to the truly immortal forces. Even if Empress Xi Yao wanted to assist Gu Changge, she had no means to do so, which was why she offered this advice.

“I’m well aware of that,” Gu Changge nodded. He raised his jade wine cup and clinked it with hers. “In the not-so-distant future, the Upper Realm won’t be too calm, and perhaps the Demon realm will be swept into the turmoil as well. You need to prepare in advance.”

At the moment, it was merely the calm before the storm.

“I understand,” Empress Xi Yao replied with a smile, lifting her exquisite, swan-like neck, and downing her drink in one gulp.

Afterward, Gu Changge bid his farewell and went in another direction, where he met some familiar faces and had a chance to meet with some of his peers.

Regardless of the numerous conflicts and calculations, he temporarily put them aside on this joyous day of his grand wedding. He presented himself as humble and affable before many seniors and those who had achieved the level of Dao-building expertise.

“The Lord of Heavenly Emperor Mountain has arrived!!”

“The Lord of the Endless Fire Kingdom has arrived!!”

“The owner of Violet Sky Valley has arrived!!”

“The suzerain of the Holy Sect has arrived!!”

“The head of the Jiu Li Family has arrived!!”

“...”

At that moment, numerous voices could be heard from outside the palace. Whether these leaders of various forces had prearranged their arrival or it was merely a fortunate coincidence, they all appeared at once.

One background figure after another arrived. While their cultivation might not have reached the level of becoming Dao-building experts, they represented the immortal forces behind them, and their presence could not be easily dismissed.

As these prominent figures arrived, many guests inside the hall displayed a peculiar expression on their faces. Some spectators seemed particularly interested.

What piqued their interest was the fact that these prominent figures did not arrive in person but sent Dao avatars instead, with no true Dao-building experts or background figures in tow.

Many people guessed the intentions of these immortal forces. After all, they dared not be reckless on the territory of the Gu Clan. They were concerned that if they sent their real selves, unexpected incidents might occur, potentially leading to their downfall.

Hence, they refrained from sending even Dao-building experts. As for background figures, they were the true invincible figures of the Upper Realm, and they would not easily venture into the territories of other factions. After all, they had to be cautious, as unforeseen accidents could result in unimaginable and devastating losses that were hard to bear.

“These fellows are cautious, but if they dare to come to my Gu Clan, they must be prepared,” some of the Gu Clan’s ancient ancestors said with a cold smile.

Gu Changge also showed a hint of surprise. He didn’t think these forces would dare to make a move within the territory of the Immortal Gu Clan. Even if an eruption of power exceeding the Immortal Realm occurred here, it could still be suppressed.

This was the confidence in the terrifying foundation of the Immortal Gu Clan.

Inside the grand hall, many prominent figures were coming and going, representing all the dominant forces that stood at the pinnacle of the Upper Realm.

Even some forbidden zones that existed independently outside of the worldly affairs sent generous gifts, though no dominant figures from those areas had arrived personally. However, they had sent substantial wedding gifts.

The wedding had yet to begin, but the grand hall was already filled with joy and excitement. Immortal mists enveloped the area, heavenly music accompanied the guests, and a variety of delicious dishes were elegantly presented. The divine wine, served by the barrel, wafted its fragrance for miles, making anyone who caught a whiff salivate.

All cultivators started toasting, exchanging cups and offering their congratulations. Regardless, today was an extraordinary day, a celebration of the union between the Ancient Immortal Gu Clan and the unique Peerless Immortal Dynasty.

If there was no conflict that could not be resolved, no one was willing to touch the bottom line of the Ancient Immortal Gu family at this moment.

So, even the immoral forces like the Heavenly Emperor Mountain were quietly toasting and conversing with the leaders of other sects. Many of the Gu Clan's ancient ancestors were moving from table to table, offering toasts.

Some ancient beings exuding profound auras were seen in conversation with old friends, like the ancient presence from the Dao Lake of Reincarnation who had a cheerful conversation with Gu Lang, one of the Gu Clan's eighteen ancestors, and a smile on his face.

In the vast territory of the Immortal Gu Clan, including the outer island regions, the atmosphere was vibrant.

Even those who didn't have the privilege to enter the main hall began to toast and engage in lively conversations. Countless streaks of light shot across the sky, and waitresses carried various drinks and delicacies, flitting around like butterflies.

Even in the outer island regions, the feasts and delicacies were rare treasures that were invaluable. Only the true immortal forces were willing to display such opulence. Even for ordinary cultivators, a single bite was a great blessing.

This grand wedding that had shaken the entire Upper Realm was finally about to begin. Gu Changge, along with the elders, toasted at various tables.

“Gu Changge, congratulations.”

A fairy-like, cold and immortal young girl approached, exuding an otherworldly charm with a hint of melancholy hidden in her deep eyes. Although today was supposed to be a day of celebration for Gu Changge and Yue Mingkong, she couldn’t find the joy within herself. She felt uneasy and low-spirited.

“Are you trying to play this with me too?” Gu Changge smiled, ruffling Gu Xian’er’s hair, but she quickly dodged his hand and gave him a glare.

“Yaoyao, congratulations, Master.”

By Gu Xian’er’s side was another exquisitely cute girl with snow-white skin, like a porcelain doll. She had a bright smile on her face, and she was none other than Yaoyao. Upon hearing about the Master’s upcoming wedding, she had asked Gu Xian’er to bring her along.

Gu Changge smiled gently, crouching down to pinch her cheeks. “Thank you, Yaoyao.”

“Congratulations.”

Another exceptionally beautiful woman in white, like a snow lotus atop an icy peak, approached. Her facial features were immaculate, her eyebrows like distant mountains, and her three thousand black strands of hair cascaded down, making her look otherworldly and unworldly, like a snow lotus blooming at the peak of extreme cold, untainted by worldly matters.

Jiang Chuchu pursed her lips, forcing a smile on her face, though her eyes couldn’t hide her sadness and envy.

While Gu Changge had promised to marry her, it wouldn't be as grand as it was now, and she had no idea when it would happen. That day... still seemed distant.

Of course, Jiang Chuchu was very understanding. Despite her heartache and envy, she didn't show any abnormal reactions on her face, fearing it might cause unnecessary conflicts and trouble for Gu Changge.

Gu Changge sighed softly in his heart, but his smile remained unchanged on his face as he expressed his gratitude.

Chapter 767: The immortal corpse falls, how can masters disciple miss a gift for master?

After Gu Xianer, Jiang Chuchu, Yaoyao, and others had offered their toasts, they left one by one.

Some old acquaintances also came forward, including Princess Jiang Luoshen of the Supreme God Clan. Even the reincarnation of the High Priest of Destiny, Xiao Ruoyin, appeared in the grand hall. She toasted Gu Changge with a calm expression, showing no signs of anything unusual.

The relationship between Xiao Ruoyin and Gu Changge was rather complex due to the matter of the Fateful Immortal Boat, which brought her from a distant star field to this world. Over time, she gradually regained her memories as the High Priest of Destiny and even sought refuge with Gu Changge.

Xiao Ruoyin was aware of Gu Changge's true identity, and after recovering her original memories, she noticed numerous threads of causality that seemed to entangle Gu Changge like a shroud. As a being with a void-like nature concerning fate, she had a remarkably clear perception of the nebulous concept of destiny and causality.

Many cultivators believed that delving into the secrets of fate would incur a perilous backlash of causality, putting their lives in danger. Even those with extraordinary cultivation feared suffering profound injuries to their Dao.

However, Xiao Ruoyin was unafraid of these causative forces, as she was detached from fate and causality itself. So, she occasionally dared to venture into danger, attempting to pierce through the veils of destiny and even glimpse into the future.

Congratulations, she said briefly during Gu Changge's wedding, as if she had come just to offer her well-wishes.

Good to see you again, Gu Changge nodded. He noticed that in the short time they hadn't met, Xiao Ruoyin's cultivation had broken through to the Sacred Realm. However, this was only her visible strength, and her true capabilities might be even more terrifying.

Previously, Gu Changge had kept Xiao Ruoyin around, planning to harvest her Origin when it matured. However, Xiao Ruoyin had likely already guessed his intentions and was prepared for it.

Nevertheless, Gu Changge didn't need her Origin anymore, given his possession of the Dao Fruits that had accumulated countless years from the Reincarnated Heaven Lord.

Upon meeting again, both had moved beyond their past and didn't harbor any ulterior motives.

The past is like smoke, so why care so much.

Xiao Ruoyin obviously knew this too, showing a gentle and non-contentious nature. After offering her congratulations, she transformed into a wisp of a phantom and left the grand hall without lingering.

However, as she was about to depart, she seemed to remember something, hesitating for a moment. Gu Changge, though, did not look back, turning instead to toast other old acquaintances. He had expected to see Wang Zij, but he only encountered many prominent figures from the Wang Clan and didn't see her.

This turn of events left Gu Changge somewhat surprised. Based on what he knew of Wang Zij, she wouldn't normally miss such an occasion.

Her physique is a bit special, could it be that she is already no longer in the upper realm?

Gu Changge could only speculate. Since their initial contact, he had sensed that there were many secrets hidden within her.

As for the Wang Clan, Gu Changge could see Wang Wushuang, the younger brother of Wang Zij. Still, he didn't have any plans to approach him with inquiries.

The wedding continued, and the grand hall was filled with joy and celebration. Fireworks lit up the sky, and various celestial music played, accompanied by graceful girls like Lingbo Fairy who danced through the air.

Auspicious birds like blue-green birds, phoenix birds, and immortal cranes soared, while auspicious beasts like spirit deer and unicorns frolicked. White clouds enveloped the scene, radiant with divine light. Rows of palaces seemed to hang in the high heavens, making it feel like an immortal realm.

The atmosphere was incredibly warm, filled with a sense of peace and harmony. People drank one glass after another, and many elders offered sincere blessings. The whole ceremony maintained a high level of enthusiasm throughout.

Then, outside the grand hall, a profusion of crimson glow appeared, and an expansive Milky Way materialized, shining brilliantly as if descending from the depths of the universe. It extended directly into the hall, where divine mists and colorful radiance interwoven, creating a breathtaking spectacle.

Many beautifully dressed young girls slowly approached, leading the bride, who looked like a Nine-Heavenly maiden from the heavens, descended to the mortal world. Nearly all the guests in the grand hall were stunned and filled with awe.

Gu Changge walked over with a smile and naturally held the bride's soft hand.

One bow to heaven and earth, two bows to parents, and the bow of the couple

A senior member of the Gu Clan, who held a high position, watched the two newcomers with a smiling face and shouted auspicious words, prompting them to perform the rituals of bowing to the two sets of parents on the dais, following the proper procedures.

Boom!

But just then, the world seemed to shake. An earth-shattering, soul-shivering sound rang out, causing many star fields to tremble, and countless stars were on the verge of falling.

Outside the Gu Clan, nearly half of the star fields were in turmoil. Radiant lights soared into the sky, shocking the universe. In that instant, all the cultivators were dumbfounded. Even the Dao-building experts put down their wine cups and frowned.

In the distant universe, a sudden burst of light tore through the heavens as if it would pierce through the nine heavens and ten earths, covering the eight desolate worlds, creating a terrifying and unparalleled presence.

The entire world seemed to undergo a drastic change, and there was a terrifying and chilling atmosphere emanating from that direction.

Boom!!

A deafening thud reverberated through the universe, and everyone heard the sound of something immensely heavy crashing from an unknown source, plummeting into this part of the universe and causing heaven and earth commotion.

The terrifying presence that seemed capable of collapsing the void continuously emanated from that direction, sending shivers down everyones spine as the entire star field dimmed and crumbled, unable to bear the pressure.

Could it be an immortals presence?

Could it be an immortals corpse falling?

In the grand hall of the Gu Clan, nearly all the background figures were shocked and stood up, their expressions varying, and they couldnt believe what they were witnessing.

Their gazes seemed to tear through the fabric of space and fixed on the source of the terrifying disturbance.

Theres really something falling

Not only the Gu Clan but also other major forces felt this terrifying disturbance in the first instance. Their expressions were filled with shock and awe. The overwhelming suppression of the Dao rules of this universe came from that star field, and even from a distance, the sense of oppression was palpable.

Even the faintest traces of this overwhelming presence caused the hearts of all cultivators and mortals to tremble with fear, making them almost kneel involuntarily.

Why is there a falling immortals corpse all of a sudden, and why here, so close to the Gu Clan?

Where did this immortals corpse come from?

In the grand hall, all the guests looked in that direction with extreme astonishment, their faces filled with incomprehension.

After all, this place was where the leaders of almost all the major forces in the Upper Realm gathered, and each of them had the power and status to change the course of the Upper Realm.

In their eyes, this was a very unlikely coincidence.

Changge

Yue Mingkong, with her red veil covering her head, suddenly grabbed Gu Changges hand, trembling with an emotion she couldnt quite explain.

She had a premonition that this sudden falling immortals corpse was related to Gu Changge.

Everything will be fine. What needs to happen will happen.

Gu Changge reassured her in a soft voice. His expression was remarkably calm, his eyes deep and unwavering. He had known all along about this, but he didnt know the exact circumstances.

Then, from the distant star field, accompanied by overwhelming Dao energy, came a voice that sent shivers down the spine with its chilling indifference. It sounded like immortal music but was bone-chillingly cold.

For the masters big wedding, how could this disciple come here without a big gift?

I wonder if this immortal corpse is enough?

Chapter 768: Solid identity, the reincarnation of the supreme figure of the forbidden era

Rumble!!

A monstrous wave of demonic energy surged as if the celestial river had burst its banks, causing all the stars to tremble.

The Dao laws and order of the universe roared like a vast sea, crashing and creating a deafening spectacle. The entire cosmos quivered under this terrifying aura.

Suddenly, an immortal corpse fell from a mysterious place, nearly shattering the world. The ancient and awe-inspiring aura emanated, threatening to rend flesh and bone, leaving even ordinary cultivators quaking in their souls, prostrating in that direction.

Master, I have come late to your grand wedding. I hope you wont blame me, a voice resounded.

Like a colossal wave, the overwhelming tide of demon energy blocked out the sky and came from the distant universe. Numerous demonic shadows with wings emitted a menacing and heart-throbbing aura within it.

A red-clothed figure stood unwavering amidst the surging demonic energy, her voice cold and emotionless, like an eternal glacier capable of freezing the surrounding air.

Upon hearing this, everyone was left bewildered, not knowing the meaning behind the voice.

Who was she addressing, and who was this Master she spoke of? Was it referring to Gu Changge?

This is the emergence of the Red-Clothed Demoness of the Demon Mountain

What does she mean by Master?

In the Great Hall of the Gu family, the expressions of many Dao-building experts and cultivators grew increasingly solemn, filled with doubts.

During Gu Changge's grand wedding, the Red-Clothed Demoness arrived with an immortal corpse, addressing Gu Changge as her Master. They naturally wouldn't assume that the Master mentioned by the Red-Clothed Demoness was Yue Mingkong.

At this moment, even the people of the Gu family had their expressions changed, their brows furrowing.

Gu Xianer, Jiang Chuchu, Jiang Luoshen, Empress Xi Yao, Heavenly Phoenix Maiden, Six-Crown King. So many familiar faces had similarly surprised expressions as they watched this unfold.

Many turned their gaze toward Gu Changge and saw that he remained composed as if he had expected this.

If what the Red-Clothed Demoness says is true

Then Gu Changge's true origins may be traced back to that forbidden era buried in the river of time history

The leaders of various sects and forces, including the Heavenly Emperor Mountain, Endless Fire Nation, and Violet Sky Valley, changed their expressions dramatically. They exchanged glances and began to speculate in amazement.

After all, there had been many rumors about Gu Changge from the Upper realms before this. His cultivation speed was beyond belief and couldn't be explained by conventional reasoning.

So, many people believed that Gu Changge had an extraordinary background, possibly a reincarnation of a supreme being with the Dao fruit, possessing the wisdom and Dao-building expertise of past lives.

Otherwise, it would be impossible for him to achieve near-invulnerability in the upper realm in just a few years.

The appearance of the Red-Clothed Demoness and her address of Gu Changge as her Master already hinted at this to some extent.

This thought wasn't limited to the leaders of various sects and immortal forces; many present guests also began to have similar suspicions.

However, the concept of reincarnation and rebirth was rare, only found in some ancient scriptures.

After all, it involved the cycle of life and death and often posed a real danger, risking actual demise, making it challenging to retain the spiritual roots and wisdom from past lives.

Shock and disbelief gripped everyone's hearts for a moment, making it impossible for them to remain calm.

If Gu Changge is truly the supreme being from that era and is addressed as Master by the Red-Clothed Demoness

Who is he really? It can't be

The faces of the Dao-building experts and cultivators in the hall changed, and they entertained numerous thoughts, some even feeling absurd and unbelievable, with a hint of tremor.

They dared not delve deeper into their thoughts, as the implications were too frightening to contemplate, something almost unbearable. If it were true, the entire upper realm would be terrified, and even the most prominent figures would likely find it hard to sleep peacefully.

Amitabha, could it be that the Red-Clothed Demoness escaping from the Demonic Abyss back then had something to do with Young Master Changge? an eminent cultivator from Buddha Mountain questioned, his face expressing a mix of sorrow and concern.

His words served as a wake-up call for many people. After all, when one considered the Red-Clothed Demoness escaping and subsequently wreaking havoc on various forces in the upper realm, causing severe losses and virtually no survivors during the siege of the Divine City, there were traces of Gu Changge's involvement in each of these incidents.

As such, it became apparent that there was an inexplicable connection between Gu Changge and the Red-Clothed Demoness, even today.

On his wedding day, the Red-Clothed Demoness arrived with an immortal corpse, which, despite sounding ominous, was an invaluable resource coveted by all sects and immortal forces. A complete immortal corpse held a value far surpassing that of immortal artifacts.

However, many still wondered why the Red-Clothed Demoness had brought an immortal corpse. Was there some ulterior motive behind it?

The escape of Chang Yi is indeed related to subordinates. If it weren't for my insufficient sealing power at the time, she wouldn't have appeared in the upper realm and wreaked disasters everywhere.

So, I have been trying to make amends afterward, attempting to seal her again, but unfortunately, she has managed to evade me at every turn.

At this time, seeing the eminent cultivator from Buddha Mountain talking to him, Gu Changge finally spoke to explain.

With his words, Gu Changge essentially admitted his identity as the Master of the Red-Clothed Demoness. Given the current situation, even if he hadn't admitted it, it was practically confirmed and undeniable.

However, the onlookers still remained uncertain about whether he was the reincarnation of the enigmatic figure from the forbidden era.

At that time, the world's natural order had not yet changed, and the Absolute Heavenly Ability had not become isolated. There were many individuals with cultivation levels far surpassing the Immortal Realm.

So, it seems the grudge between Young Master Changge and the Red-Clothed Demoness is far from simple.

Was Young Master Changge's decision to enter the Demonic Abyss back then intended to seal the Red-Clothed Demoness once again?

One of the Dao-building experts raised this question with a glint in his eyes. He wasn't entirely convinced by Gu Changge's explanation but considering the Red-Clothed Demoness's icy words, it was clear that there was deep-seated enmity between her and Gu Changge.

Being a figure from the forbidden era, having reached unimaginable heights in terms of cultivation in their prime, and then being sealed within the Demonic Abyss until this age, it raised questions about why they were sealed in the first place?

The events of the forbidden era were ancient and shrouded in mystery, buried deep in the river of time, and no one dared to delve into them or uncover their secrets. Thus, everything related to that era remained a closely guarded secret.

So, for the people of the present, it was all a profound enigma.

Rumble!!

At this moment, a torrent of demonic energy surged from the depths of the sky, shrouding everything.

The Red-Clothed Demoness, along with many monstrous beings from the Demon Mountain, descended with boldness, heading straight for the entrance of the Gu family.

All the cultivators and guests in the surrounding starry realms quivered under this overwhelming aura, their faces turning pale with fear and awe, a mixture of shock and dread.

Chapter 769: A part of the plan, the sense of revenge that Chan Hongyi wants

Boom!!

Chan Hongyi, dressed in crimson robes, descended with a group of powerful demons from the Demonic Mountain, showing no fear for the ancient and terrible enchantments inscribed in this land. They boldly stepped through the gates of the Gu family.

All the guests present were shaken by this unexpected arrival of the red-clothed demoness. They couldn't believe how audacious she was.

In the territory of the Gu family, even those with profound backgrounds who came bearing immortal treasures had to be cautious and discreet. Who dared to be so ostentatious?

At this moment, in the many star fields surrounding the Gu family, the overwhelming aura of magic shook the stars, making them tremble.

The immortal corpse landed there, emitting a terrifying aura that erased large sections of the established rules. Under this impact, the stars inscribed with formations began to glow as if ancient runes had been ignited.

Endless divine light soared, capable of tearing the heavens apart like a radiant blade, with interwoven Dao rules and orders, creating a profound and tumultuous wave.

This awe-inspiring scene sent shockwaves through the most powerful beings in various cosmic realms, making them shiver and feel a deep sense of agitation.

No one knew where this immortal corpse came from, but it was undeniable that Chan Hongyi's strength was terrifying, making even the most terrible individuals uneasy.

Bold, the red-clothed demoness dares to intrude upon the Gu family's gates.

Witnessing the scene from a long distance, one of the elders of the Gu family murmured.

Although the red-clothed demoness had just claimed that Gu Changge was her master, her current actions did not appear friendly. Today was supposed to be the day of Gu Changge and Yue Mingkong's grand wedding, so how could they allow her to cause trouble?

This is an invitation personally written by my master. Does the Gu family also intend to stop me?

Chan Hongyi's tall and slender figure, with her immaculate and radiant face, stood at the gate of the Gu family and spoke in a cold tone.

At the same time, she produced an invitation, and the writing materialized in the air. It was the invitation she had received from the Bull Demon King when many powerful beings went to visit the Divine City during the emergence of the Reincarnated Heaven Lord.

Seeing the invitation in Chan Hongyi's hand, many Gu family elders furrowed their brows. They hadn't expected that she had actually been invited.

Elders, let her in, Gu Changge said with a slight shake of his head. He didn't believe that Chan Hongyi would dare to cause trouble at the Gu family on his wedding day.

Although her physical prowess was terrifying, far exceeding the limits that the upper realms can bear, she cannot tap into power beyond the immortal realm. That is a fact. Today, she brought an immortal corpse with her, and her purpose is nothing more than to reveal her identity, causing trouble for herself.

Perhaps in her view, through such means, she can make many lineages in the upper realms more wary and fearful of her, encouraging them to unite and strike against her, making herself an enemy to the world. Or maybe, in her eyes, this can disrupt her own plans or reveal her resentment and dissatisfaction.

However, to Gu Changge, all of this seemed rather childish. His primary concern was whether Chan Hongyi would disregard everything and attack those around him like a madwoman. Apart from that, he paid little attention to Chan Hongyi's various abilities.

In fact, he saw an opportunity to use her to divert trouble away from himself. In terms of strength, the Reincarnated Heaven Lord was far beyond what Chan Hongyi could handle now.

When the world's conditions changed, and the opportunity to become an immortal arrived, even her physical strength alone would probably be enough to tear through true immortals. After all, at her peak, her cultivation far surpassed the immortal realm.

Gu Changge had no intention of dealing with Chan Hongyi at this moment, as it was related to many plans. Moreover, sealing her in the Demon Abyss in the past was part of the Demon Lords plan.

As these memories resurfaced, Gu Changge became increasingly aware of what he needed to do. The arrival of the Dao Path had been part of the calculations all along.

On the day of the masters grand wedding, your disciple has come to ask for a glass of wine. I hope the master doesnt mind, Chan Hongyis lips curved with a hint of chilling elegance as she walked through the immortal gate.

Surprisingly, the many powerful demons and monsters following her, with their swirling demonic auras and shimmering scales, halted in front of the Gu family gate and did not follow her inside.

All the guests watched this scene with trembling hearts as the red-clothed demoness made her way through various sacred mountains and islands towards the grand hall where the wedding was being held.

The terrifying demonic aura did not subside; instead, it surged like a vast sea, oppressing everyone present. Many cultivators with weaker cultivation felt their souls and physical bodies on the verge of breaking down.

The red-clothed demoness is truly audacious

The faces of powerful figures from various Dao lineages were unsightly. Even the Dao ancestors furrowed their brows, feeling deeply uneasy.

The leaders of the Heavenly Emperor Mountain, the Endless Fire Nation, and the Violet Sky Valley had particularly complex expressions, and their faces alternated between cloudy and sunny. Chan Hongyis incredible strength was undeniable, but the enmity between her and Gu Changge was a mystery to everyone.

She addressed Gu Changge as her master, and while there was certainly enmity between them, some of the guests couldnt help but wonder if there was a deeper reason for her actions. It was a mix of love and hate.

After all, despite knowing the extreme danger of her current venture, she chose to manifest her true form on the day of her masters grand wedding, causing a major upheaval. To claim they didnt care would be unrealistic. In fact, in their eyes, it seemed like the red-clothed demoness was intentionally seeking to gain Gu Changges attention.

But who could know if the grievances between the two would be resolved?

It was an undeniable fact that Gu Changge was a reincarnation of a supreme being from the Forbidden Era, and with the support of the Reincarnated Heaven Lord as his master, his strength was unfathomable. If he were to receive assistance from Chan Hongyi, it seemed that there would be no force in the upper realms daring to stand against them.

As the atmosphere in the grand hall became more tense, and various speculations swirled among the guests, Chan Hongyi suddenly appeared in the hall. Her gaze lingered on Yue Mingkong, who was dressed in resplendent bridal attire, for a long moment before turning her attention to Gu Changge.

She said, I wonder if your disciples gift was to your satisfaction, Master?

As she spoke, her lips curled with an intriguing expression. The gift she referred to was a immortal corpse she had put a lot of effort into finding, buried in some ancient and broken world within the chaos. It still retained at least seventy percent of its original essence.

When the Dao Path arrived, Gu Changge broke through the immortal realm and would undoubtedly seek to devour and refine the essence of the original source of immortal power.

Of course, at this moment, Chan Hongyi didnt reveal Gu Changges identity as the founder of the demonic arts.

She just wanted to see her master, who had always appeared calm and unruffled, show signs of panic. This would give her some satisfaction and a sense of revenge.

Gu Changge responded, You are quite thoughtful and kind.

However, Chan Hongyi was disappointed to see that Gu Changge seemed to have known her intentions all along. His demeanor remained unflustered, and his voice was as calm as ever, as if he didnt care about the revelation of his identity as the founder of the demonic arts.

Chapter 770: Absolutely the Young Immortal King, everything is said without saying Masters satisfaction is all that matters.

Chan Hongyis voice seemed to change slightly, but her gaze remained fixed on Gu Changge. It was as if she were trying to see through his true thoughts.

As far as she knew, Gu Changge did not consider other peoples or external matters for his own benefit.

In her understanding of Gu Changge, he wouldnt care at all about the exposure of his identity as the inheritor of the demonic arts for the sake of his interests.

In Chan Hongyis point of view, there were only two possibilities: either Gu Changge could deny the fact, or he was well-prepared and indifferent even if he had to oppose the entire upper realm.

However, regardless of which was true, it wouldnt impact Gu Changge.

At that moment, a sense of frustration welled up in her heart. It seemed that nothing in this world could truly affect Gu Changge. Even if he were to show anger or unease, it wouldnt matter.

Can someone without a heart truly have no weaknesses? Chan Hongyis eyes were tinged with a crimson hue, but it quickly returned to normal.

Since youve come for a drink, please take a seat. Gu Changge seemed to understand Chan Hongyis thoughts and gestures for her to sit.

As a guest, he naturally wouldnt make things difficult for Chan Hongyi, especially considering the setting in the center of the Gu Family.

In response to his words, Chan Hongyi looked deeply at him but remained silent. She walked towards a seat at the table. Despite the deep-seated enmity between her and Gu Changge, she wasnt foolish enough to engage in a confrontation at this moment, especially on the territory of the Gu Family.

Witnessing this, the other guests quickly made their way, showing great fear of Chan Hongyi and avoiding sitting with her.

Even the leaders of the Immortal Sects and Supreme Dao lineages frowned slightly, disappointed that they didnt witness a confrontation between Gu Changge and Chan Hongyi.

Guests are always welcome, but in the domain of the Gu Family, regardless of your identity or background, you must adhere to our Dao rules, remarked an elder of the Gu Family with a slightly furrowed brow. He felt that Chan Hongyi's arrival might bring trouble.

The immortal corpse that had fallen from an unknown place was still within the territory of the Gu Family, emitting a terrifying aura. If not handled properly, the changes in the immortal corpse or the dispersal of any ominous energy could lead to a significant disaster.

Upon hearing this, Chan Hongyi merely cast a casual glance at the elder of the Gu Family, paying him no mind. Her gaze frequently landed on figures like Yu Mingkong, Gu Xianer, and Jiang Chuchu.

Based on her understanding of Gu Changge, he was cold-blooded and ruthless, unlikely to waste time and energy on romantic entanglements.

Therefore, she had no intention of dealing with Yu Mingkong and the others, believing that Gu Changge wouldn't care about them. Even if she were to kill Yu Mingkong and Gu Xianer, Gu Changge probably wouldn't react strongly, at most seeking revenge to maintain his image.

Poor souls, thinking that she could earn his attention by loving him. Yet, they are nothing more than pawns, Chan Hongyi's gaze, tinged with a hint of pity, swept over Yu Mingkong.

Due to the arrival of the Red-clothed Demoness, the interrupted wedding resumed.

Gu Changge and Yu Mingkong had already performed the rites, and the subsequent formalities were quickly completed. The feast continued, with maidservants shuttling back and forth with wine and spiritual fruits, creating a lively atmosphere.

However, the thoughts of the guests in the palace were diverse. Many speculated about Gu Changge's true identity, eager to learn more about the forbidden era.

Before this, they had assumed Gu Changge might be the reincarnation of a supreme being, given his terrifying cultivation speed from possessing the Dao Fruits of a previous life.

This was truly admirable. It resembled the Human Ancestor of the Human Ancestor Hall, achieved through reincarnation. They quickly reached the pinnacle with each new life, making contemporaneous geniuses feel hopeless.

From various signs, it was clear that Gu Changge's background far exceeded their imagination. Even Human Ancestors couldn't compare with it.

Before the forbidden era, the upper realm and the immortal territory were once interconnected with complete rules of heaven and earth, and the immortal traces manifested. The immortal king frequently appeared and preached in various places.

Therefore, people speculated that Gu Changge was at least the reincarnation of an immortal king from the forbidden era.

The revelation of such news would cause a tremendous uproar, especially considering the possibility that Gu Changge might regain his original strength after the arrival of the immortal Dao path. At that time, he would truly be an immortal king, dominating the entire upper realm.

On the other hand, the strength of the Red-clothed Demoness, known as Chan Hongyi, should not be underestimated. She was, at the very least, an existence in the immortal realm.

In reality, many background figures already sensed a slow change in the heavenly environment at this time. Dao Rules that were once incomprehensible are emerging.

This thrilled them, making them feel that the true era of the immortal path was descending.

At the very least, he is a young immortal king. No wonder we can't compare ourselves to him.

On the other hand, many young supremes, such as the Heavenly Phoenix Maiden and the Six-Crowned King, who were peers of Gu Changge, sighed in understanding upon learning the truth. They now realized why they felt so stifled in his presence.

Their lifelong goal was to achieve Dao-building expertise in this life, followed by an immortal gate to achieve the immortal realm.

However, Gu Changge had reached a level they couldn't aspire to many ages ago. How could they compare? It only added to their despair.

As time passed, the feast came to an end. After toasting and congratulations, many guests began to consider taking their leave.

Chan Hongyi watched Gu Changge quietly, observing him smile to thank the guests. She seemed somewhat lost in thought, recalling a scene she had once fantasized about.

At that moment, she remembered the little girl in red at the foot of the mountain, timidly pulling at her masters robe and saying she would marry him when she grew up.

Everything is like a fleeting dream

Chan Hongyi looked deeply at Gu Changge, then gracefully walked out of the hall, quickly disappearing. Many strong background figures in the vicinity breathed a sigh of relief. Even powerful beings felt uneasy and anxious when facing Chan Hongyi, let alone ordinary cultivators.

The overwhelming demonic aura, like an expansive sea, was suffocating.

Gu Changge glanced at her, a hint of complexity in his eyes, but he said nothing. He may have misunderstood Chan Hongyi.

Did she come here just to participate in the wedding, or did she leave after realizing the disparity and choosing to depart discreetly?

However, he didnt want to dwell on these thoughts now.

The candlelight flickered as Gu Changge bid farewell to the guests, entering the bridal chamber. Outside, the night sky sparkled, with the Milky Way shining brightly, casting a soft glow.

Inside the room, it was filled with warmth. A stunningly beautiful woman sat there, adorned in a phoenix crown and rosy attire, her face veiled in red.

The wedding had unfolded without any hitches. Chan Hongyis unexpected arrival was manageable and inconsequential.

Husband, its getting late

A gentle voice reached him from the front. Yu Mingkong had been waiting for him for a long time. She didnt want to concern herself with the affairs outside. If it was something she needed to know, Gu Changge would inform her; if not, she would only inquire a little.

Sorry for the wait

Gu Changge smiled and approached, gently lifting the red veil, revealing an unparalleled visage. The two locked eyes and everything was understood without words.