Chapter 781: Empress Huang Yu's life, completely becomes the will of heaven and earth

The Empress Huang Yus rebirth was a momentous occasion for the entire Big Dipper Star Field and, indeed, in the Kun Ji Universe.

In this universe, having Dao-building experts preside over it was a cause for supreme joy. Despite facing an immense and boundless terror of armies, the presence of a leader in this vast cosmos was a beacon of unimaginable hope for all the spirits of the Big Dipper Star Field.

In the Divine Ruin, Gu Changge regained his senses and looked towards Empress Huang Yu outside. He nodded slightly.

For him, having one more Empress, Huang Yu, didnt matter much, and having one less wouldnt make a difference either. In the event of a major war in the Kun Ji Universe, she, as a Dao-building expert, wouldnt be able to do much. However, with her presence, there were some things Gu Changge could inform her about in advance.

Afterward, with a flick of his sleeves, a golden Dao road reaching the heavens unfolded with a resounding roar. It extended from this place, accompanied by glistening petals and a cascade of light.

With his guidance, Dao-building experts would be able to approach the location of the Divine Ruins. The restrictions outside werent just about deadly traps; they also included an ancient array of lost traces.

For countless years, no one had been able to discover the trace and location of the Divine Ruin, all for this reason.

Senior has finally agreed to see me.

The Empress Huang Yu looked at the directly connected golden Dao road with undisguised joy and quickly descended. Amidst the awestruck gazes of onlookers, she arrived at the Divine Ruins.

Beneath the Epoch Tree, Gu Changge sat in meditation, resembling the way Empress Huang Yu had seen him in her youth clad in snowy white, exuding an unmatched elegance, unchanged, except this time, she could see Gu Changges true face clearly.

His features were immortal and pure, incredibly young as if all the Heavenly essence in the world had gathered in him.

Phoenix has met Senior.

She wasnt surprised at this, as Empress Huang Yu also understood that Gu Changge, appearing in the Divine Ruins, was not of this era or the current world.

After the era of the Great Extinction, she left the Divine Ruins, and that was her last encounter with Gu Changge.

In the following days, she immersed herself in cultivation, following the teachings and ancient methods guided by Gu Changge. Eventually, she attained the throne, becoming the first Dao-building expert after the era of the Great Extinction.

In the subsequent days, she sought the existence of the Divine Ruins. Using her memory, she arrived outside the Divine Ruins, seeking an audience with Gu Changge, but for thousands of years, there was no response.

She had always thought that Gu Changge's lifespan had ended, or perhaps he had already transcended.

After all, no matter how terrible his cultivation was, living for such extended periods in that kind of heavenly environment was impossible.

As a result, the Empress Huang Yu established the Yuhua Immortal Dynasty. She took on her first disciple and began preaching teachings to sentient beings, sharing her insights into cultivation and fulfilling her duty.

Later, she ventured once again beyond the Divine Ruins, still unwilling to give up the hope of encountering the senior.

She believed that someone with such transcendent cultivation must possess a method of prolonging life. However, despite waiting for thousands of years, there has yet to be a response from Divine Ruins.

The Empress Huang Yu speculated whether the senior had not transcended but had left this universe long ago, heading to another place. So, she attempted to trace his footsteps and even left the Kun Ji Universe.

However, amidst the broken universes, she encountered significant difficulties shattered heavenly environments, fragmented Dao rules, pervasive chaos mists, and immortal scarce life essence.

Despite her cultivation, she couldn't traverse these depleted universes to reach distant places. The only outcome was either dying on the way or succumbing to life exhaustion, torn apart by formidable beasts in those depleted universes, becoming their prey.

Empress Huang Yu had to return to solitude, unable to find another way. Before her lifespan depleted, she gazed in the direction of the Divine Ruins one last time.

Ultimately, she chose to quietly transcend in the depths of the Yuhua Immortal Dynasty, leaving behind endless regrets and melancholy.

In the final moments of her transcendence, the peak of all her spiritual strength seemed to bring her into a peculiar state or situation.

She saw an incredibly spacious and mysterious river in that realm, shimmering with waves as if converging from the corners of the heavens, flowing through every world and every cosmic realm.

Though she had never seen it before, at that moment, she knew it was the legendary River of Time, accessible only in the realm of immortals.

In the River of Time, she saw the remnants she had left behind and glimpsed the white-robed figure she had spent her entire life searching for.

So, you're not a person of this era.

In her final moments of transcendence, she left behind this lousy remark. With her residual spirit, countless ages did not erase it, becoming her greatest obsession.

As her thoughts returned, Empress Huang Yu never imagined that in the future, she would revive and reappear in the mortal realm in such a way.

Long time no see, little Huang Yu.

Gu Changge smiled faintly. Although, given his age, it seemed awkward to speak to Empress Huang Yu in such a manner, she felt incredibly familiar and natural, as if she had returned to the beginning of the era of Great Extinction.

Back then, she was just a girl wearing phoenix feathers, naive about cultivation, relying on the guidance of her seniors for almost everything.

There were even occasions when he repeated things several times, and she couldn't remember them. She thought the senior would be angry or scold her, but he remained as patient and gentle as ever.

For Empress Huang Yu, this was not just the grace of guidance; it meant much more.

Even though she didn't know why Gu Changge returned to that era to plant the mysterious Epoch tree. Now, all she wanted to do was to be by the seniors side.

Finally, I've met the Senior again

Empress Huang Yu approached, her voice unexpectedly choked with emotion as if she had returned to that young girl from the past.

After realizing it, she thought she wouldn't be so sentimental, but she was wrong. Her persistence in getting completion was only to honor the guidance of her senior.

Tao Yao watched this scene quietly, sensing a resemblance to the figure of Chan Hongyi in the Empress Huang Yu.

Was Gu Changge trying to compensate for his past debts to Chan Hongyi through Empress Huang Yu?

He casually mentioned resurrecting her to settle past karmic debts, but did he still need to worry about such things at his current stage? Perhaps he just wanted to give himself a reason to do so.

With these thoughts, Tao Yaos expression became even more complex. She couldn't understand why the Demon Lord treated Chan Hongyi that way whether it was capriciousness, hidden intentions, or some other reason. Those memories were too distant, and now they might not be so important.

The present Gu Changge differed from the past Demon Lord; it was still the same, but not entirely.

In fact, I want to tell you something about the Kun Ji Universe.

Gu Changge smiled. He didn't intend to reminisce with Empress Huang Yu because there wasn't much to say.

When he went back through the Space-Time Monument and the Fateful Immortal Boat, he didn't plan to change much just to leave behind legends about the Epoch Tree and the Divine Ruins, making the story more authentic and attracting larger prey.

In a way, Empress Huang Yu's appearance resulted from him altering the past, leading to causal consequences in the present.

Senior, please go ahead.

The Empress Huang Yu responded, her beautiful face becoming solemn. Although she had just been resurrected, she knew what the Kun Ji Universe was facing.

Take all the living beings in this universe with you.

Gu Changge whispered, not because he suddenly became merciful or believed that using the entire universe as bait would have terrifying consequences.

Instead, after refining the Divine Kingdom in his palm, he intended to connect this universe with his inner universe, ensuring the utmost certainty.

If there were living beings in this universe, it would only affect the efficiency and speed of his inner universe and its borders.

Essentially, it meant bringing the actual existence of cultivators and beings into his inner universe. However, his inner universe needed to be fully evolved and couldn't accommodate countless cultivators and beings like these ancient universes.

This universe is about to witness a massive war beyond your imagination. Any cultivators and beings remaining here will only become cannon fodder and ants.

But they are all innocent.

After a moment of consideration, Gu Changge continued, trying to maintain the image of a senior.

Empress Huang Yu was momentarily surprised, then quickly understood Gu Changges intention. Her expression turned solemn.

I understand. I will arrange for the evacuation of cultivators and beings from the Kun Ji Universe promptly.

As the current empress of the Kunji Universe, her words naturally carried unimaginable authority.

She swiftly left the Divine Ruins, her imposing empress aura sweeping across the entire Big Dipper Star Field, causing shock even among beings in various life-restricted zones.

When Empress Huang Yu entered the Divine Ruins just now, many were speculating about what would happen. The mysterious and powerful master of the Divine Ruins what would he say to Empress Huang Yu? Numerous doubts lingered in their minds.

All cultivators and beings, evacuated from the Big Dipper Star Field, leave the Kunji Universe.

Her voice was calm but carried an undeniable tone, echoing across the sky of the Big Dipper Star Field. Simultaneously, her voice resonated in many surrounding star regions.

Many quasi-emperor existences felt a chill, then decisively began using powerful divine techniques to move their clans and followers far away.

They understood their insignificance in this universe at this moment, having witnessed the spectacle beyond the Big Dipper Star Field. Staying in this universe would only mean waiting for death.

The Empress Huang Yu stood tall in the vast sky, emanating a terrifying pressure that seemed to overwhelm the entire universe.

At this moment, almost all cultivators and beings felt an urgent sense of crisis. Those who previously thought the mysterious being in the Divine Ruins might intervene to preserve this universe now realized that staying would only lead to their demise.

However, judging from the words of the Empress Huang Yu, this seemed impossible.

Immediately, ancient warships soared in various life-star fields and old life planets, carrying cultivators and beings, all trying to find a way to evacuate.

The Empress Huang Yu sighed lightly, watching these scenes. In reality, she felt powerless. She could only sweep her divine consciousness, aiding those remaining cultivators and beings by helping them onto the ancient warships and flying boats. Apart from this, she honestly had no other means.

Currently, she couldn't sense the existence of the will of heaven in this universe. It was as if the choice had fallen into silence and death. If the universes will still existed, it could suppress the powerful beings from other galaxies.

Inside the Divine Ruins, Gu Changge observed the unfolding events outside with deep and calm eyes. He began to focus on his own matters.

The will of the universe had long been erased by him. Moreover, he had incorporated the essence of the Absolute Heavenly Extinction into it. This universe itself existed like a prison, devoid of any will. Seeing the scenes outside, Gu Changge acted to fulfill his plans.

Empress Huang Yu, who was dealing with the evacuation, seemed aware of her limitations. She could only help those she encountered, sending them to ancient warships and flying Boats. She had no other means to assist everyone.

In the inner universe, Gu Changge's divine consciousness sank into his chaotic inner universe, surging like the undivided chaos before the creation.

From emptiness to substance

Gu Changge directly incorporated the source of epochs from the Epoch Tree into his inner universe.

The chaotic energy surged, tumultuous on the borderlands, reminiscent of the undivided chaos in mythical tales.

Rumble!

Along with the earth-shaking sound, the embryonic form of an Epoch tree began to rapidly grow in Gu Changges inner universe. The branches and leaves were immensely vast, capable of supporting myriad worlds.

In the sky, one after another, great Dao rules manifested, solidifying and condensing into tangible forms, floating in the vast and unpredictable space.

This sapling, rapidly growing in Gu Changges inner universe, swayed with unparalleled grandeur, covering the sky and blocking out the sun as if it could envelop the entire firmament, emanating a profound world intent.

Each leaf sparkled with the radiance of stars as if countless galaxies were descending, evolving into endless wonders. The next moment, this sapling, transformed from the source of epochs, began to unfold.

Countless Dao runes converged, shining brightly, extending branches and leaves into the invisible universe. In those realms of nothingness, many chaotic energies boiled, giving rise to a sea of chaos.

In the sea of chaos, branches conveyed the intent of the world. New worlds were born on each leaf, each much smaller than even the most miniature realms. Within these microcosmic worlds, new life began to gestate.

With a thought from Gu Changge, time crazily flowed within, passing tens of millions of years in the blink of an eye, giving rise to civilizations in succession. Each world took a different path, evolving distinct changes. These transformations were reflected in Gu Changges divine sense.

These newly born worlds, though incomparable to the countless lower realms in the upper domains, already have their forms. This is the true intent of the world, belonging to the part of the rules that is lacking in the Epoch Dao Fruit

Gu Changge realized that this was his universe. The collision of the real and the illusory, the day when the inner universe descended into the present world.

With a thunderous roar, the Kun Ji Universe trembled. Ripples of many fluctuations appeared at the edges of the universe as if a force was penetrating and undergoing a transformation from emptiness to substance.

Countless rules of the great Dao emerged, extraordinarily complete and comparable to those in the upper realms.

At the center of the inner universe, the sapling of the immense tree continued to thrive, extending into the vastness of nothingness.

At this moment, Gu Changge observed everything happening with a calm or perhaps indifferent expression. The Dao was merciless; all things were mere fodder. Maybe, at this point, he was in such a state.

Impartial and just, without leaning in any direction. Gu Changge will become the heavens will in this universe.

Chapter 785: The big black hand who lives in seclusion behind the scenes of the Epoch Tree, it's naturally no different from a big fish

This is a grand gift I've prepared for you for a long time.

Gu Changge looked at the background figures approaching from the Big Dipper Starfield, a smile finally gracing his lips.

With a single thought, the entire immortal force of the universe descended below. All the star fields were undulated like waves under the command of Gu Changge.

The manifestation of the dark cage was tangible, appearing as a prison. Still, from an external perspective, it seemed more like a Dark Temple refined by the dark immortal gold, hovering in the universe.

Glistening black lights surrounded by dense gray mist flowed like surging waves. Around these ancient temples, Dao dark runes circulated, embodying the most profound Dao spells of heaven, exuding an overwhelming suppressive force.

The entire Kun Ji Universe trembled as chains of heaven laws condensed into mighty Dao Great chains, extended from all directions, binding and dragging them toward those enclosures.

Boom!

The sky quaked as the four pillars rising from the ends of the earth emitted tremors.

Ancient sin characters were ignited and flew out, their radiance too dazzling, causing their spiritual seas and souls to tremble and corrode.

Who are you, and how are you connected with Absolute Heavenly Extinction?

The Emperor and the others expressions changed drastically, feeling that these dark prisons were set up specifically for them, waiting for them to reveal themselves.

What was the intention? To trap them in these dark cells?

Moreover, these sinful characters melded into their blood and spiritual seas carried the aura of Absolute Heavenly Extinction, incredibly rich, as if they were the essence of Absolute Heavenly Extinction.

But wasn't the problem of Absolute Heavenly Extinction troubling the entire Upper Realm already resolved by the intervention of the Reincarnated Heaven Lord?

At least for now, it was stable, and no unexpected events should occur. Yet, where did this aura of Absolute Heavenly Extinction come from?

Because of this Absolute Heavenly Extinction aura, they even felt that their fundamental Dao fruits, their cultivation that had remained unchanged for so many years, were being corroded, engulfed, and on the verge of assimilation.

They were even somewhat horrified, fearing that their consciousness would be corroded by the aura of Absolute Heavenly Extinction, turning them into Absolute Heavenly creatures, no longer themselves but rather another being.

Such methods indeed left them feeling horrified and uneasy.

Could it be that you are the Reincarnated Heaven Lord? The true Lord of the Divine Ruins? Is it that the Reincarnated Heaven Lord has never died, so hes plotting against us, manipulating the entire Upper Realm?

A background figure roared in frustration as they observed the great Dao chains piercing towards them. Regardless of the means at their disposal, resisting seemed futile, and their discontent was palpable.

Undoubtedly not the Reincarnated Heaven Lord, but certainly a presence from the Upper Realm, a shadow that had lingered since ancient times, Gu Changge replied, gazing at the shrouded Divine Ruins, his expression resolute.

The Epoch Tree was stolen by him in the first place, and he blamed the Eight Desolations and Ten Regions for it, leading us to countless years of warfare in that realm, another profound figure growled, their eyes ablaze like torches, intensely bright, fixed on the mist-shrouded Divine Ruins.

Though unaware of the complete truth, this figure felt they had touched a part of it. Due to the Forbidden era, the subsequent theft of the Epoch Tree and its unknown whereabouts left the rules of the Upper Realm fractured over countless ages.

In the present day, no one could achieve such mastery. Therefore, the Lord of the Divine Rules, connected to the Forbidden era, must be a figure from after the Reincarnated Heaven Lord, perhaps even more ancient.

Despite being a figure of profound origin who had battled across the world since birth, stepping on countless peer corpses and possessing an incredibly robust Dao heart, at this moment, a shiver of unease crept over them.

How intriguing, Gu Changges voice echoed upon hearing this, a faint smile on his lips.

He hadn't expected these profound figures to make such connections. However, for him, it held little significance. The big fish had yet to be caught.

He had no intention of revealing his proper form; everything was still premature.

Who are you, then? The origin ancestor behind Absolute Heavenly Extinction?

The Emperor spoke again, activating artifacts to suppress the primordial essence of Absolute Heavenly Extinction within them.

His gaze remained fixed on the depths of the Divine Ruins, seeking to unveil Gu Changge's origins.

However, the primordial essence of Absolute Heavenly Extinction had already entwined itself like maggots into the depths of their souls. Even with their cultivation, they couldn't expel it; it required a powerful immortal force to suppress it.

This left them unable to unleash their peak strength. Since entering this cosmic realm, the essence of Absolute Heavenly Extinction had silently permeated and stained them, catching them completely off guard at the outset.

Now, only seething anger remained in their hearts.

Who I am is not important. What matters is that the Epoch Tree is not something you are entitled to covet, Gu Changge said with a faint smile.

Once again, he extended a horrifying, pitch-black palm from the Divine Ruins, resembling the hand of an era with the power to crush everything.

The darkness immediately shattered. The Dao chains of cosmic laws ahead, like long whips, lashed directly at the background figures, causing their physical forms to disintegrate, their vitality rapidly withering.

The entire universe pressed down on them, and even they felt a deep sense of anxiety and unease.

Boom!

The radiance of heavenly artifacts bloomed as the Emperor roared and attempted to break the cosmic chains before him.

However, a terrifying will manifested in the sky, an eye akin to the look of the heavenly Dao, cold and unfeeling.

Instantly, it suppressed the radiance of the immortal artifacts. Even though the artifacts attempted to burst forth, they were swiftly quelled.

In the next moment, more heavenly chains hissed, extending toward the Emperor. In his shocked voice, he was dragged into the well-prepared dark prison.

The other background beings, witnessing the alarming turn of events, had their expressions change dramatically.

They had thought that jointly resisting several individuals was the limit for the Lord of the Divine Ruins.

Yet, he had long merged with this heaven and earth, or more precisely, he had already taken control of this entire universe. From the moment they entered, their fate had been sealed.

Boom!

The darkness shattered, and a haze of gray enveloped them, obscuring the dark prison.

Their voices of fear and unease gradually disappeared.

Gu Changge had prepared these dark prisons forged with the power of this vast universe.

Their strength and solidity rivaled that of Dao Immortal Gold, and only those outside the realm of immortality could break them.

Moreover, due to the influence of the primordial aura of Absolute Heavenly Extinction, they had to divert their power to resist, making it difficult for them to unleash their peak strength. Even as Background beings, their power had weakened significantly, unlike those who had achieved Dao-building expertise.

In Gu Changge's eyes, they were no different from the big fish he aimed to catch.

Chapter 786: It's not enough to be promoted to the immortal realm, and all living beings in the world are regarded as ants

Despite their best efforts, the four background figures found themselves powerless against the primordial aura of Absolute Heavenly Extinction.

Gradually, they faded into the gray mist, ensnared by the cosmic chains and imprisoned within the dark cage.

After settling everything, Gu Changge turned towards the distant universe, where a massive army still loomed.

This army had not yet entered the distant universe alongside the four background figures.

Among them were those who had achieved Dao-building expertise, quasi-emperors, and numerous other compelling individuals. However, with the suppression of the supreme beings, they were now as insignificant as ants, and Gu Changge didn't bother giving them much attention.

The main army hasn't arrived yet. Only four background figures are far from enough for my ascension to the realm of immortality. Gu Changge muttered.

He was still waiting for the opportune moment. The individuals from the Upper Realm who had come for the chance to become immortals were his actual targets, not the four present before him.

While Gu Changge intended to spare the massive army outside the Kun Ji Universe, they seemed ignorant of their insignificance. Intent on charging in to rescue the four background figures, they perceived these individuals as if cursed, unable to unleash their true deep powers.

The gray mist swept in from an unknown origin, enveloping the entire universe and dragging them into its depths without a sound.

Beyond the Kun Ji Universe, the onlookers were utterly stunned, having witnessed none of the battle's progression. They had no idea what had happened, and to them, the four background figures seemed to vanish completely, like mud cows sinking into the sea.

Boom!

Another rift tore open outside the Kun Ji Universe, and with a deafening roar, the vast army surged in.

At the forefront, Dao-building expert achievers unleashed dazzling radiance, an overwhelming imperial aura shaking the foundations of the cosmic rules.

Never before had so many emperor-level figures erupted in a single era, acting with such combined might, shocking the cosmos and exerting pressure across the ages.

At the forefront of the rift, intertwining laws could crush quasi-emperors and resist emperors.

They rushed in, not directly targeting the Big Dipper Starfield as the initial four background figures did, but heading towards a dim starfield shrouded in vast gray mist.

Four towering pillars held the heavens aloft, endless chains hanging down. The descent of these chains, accompanied by a cascading sound, seemed to freeze even their souls.

Watching from the Divine Ruins, Gu Changge observed this scene with an unwavering expression.

Subsequently, Gu Changge extended his hand, unleashing a terrifying wave that seemed apocalyptic, threatening to obliterate the targeted area.

This overwhelming force wiped out Countless beings and cultivators, vanishing without a trace. Celestial bodies fell, and ten thousand domains trembled as if about to collapse, but ultimately, they ruptured apart.

At this moment, even Dao-building experts resembled ants, unable to endure for long. They exploded under the pressure, casting a blood rain that dyed the entire universe crimson.

Why choose to meet death at a time like this?

Gu Changge's expression remained indifferent. He sighed, and his voice echoed from the Divine Ruins throughout Kun Ji Universe.

All the armies and living beings heard his words, experiencing a bone-chilling sensation as if a god from ancient times was coldly overlooking them, regarding them like insignificant ants.

Who are you?

A Dao-building expert roared, exerting all their strength to try and shatter the heavenly expanse, dispersing the surrounding gray mist.

However, they ended up depleted, and despite burning their essence and employing forbidden techniques, they found no way out.

Despair overwhelmed theman enemy beyond resistance.

Gu Changge remained silent, observing them calmly. Then, his gaze turned toward the distant universe, sensing the approach of more background figures from the Upper Realm, their numbers more significant than before. More and more big fish were rushing into the net.

A subtle smile appeared on his lips. The Epoch Tree behind him suddenly radiated an incomparable brilliance, as if a beam of light from this era pierced through time, illuminating both the ancient and future. A phantom image of an immortal path manifested above the sky behind him as if in a trance.

This path became increasingly solid, with the figures of gods and demons appearing along itone after another, standing there clad in armor, terrifying and mythic, akin to the heavenly soldiers guarding the immortal path in myths.

As this immortal path emerged, a wave spread throughout the entire Kun Ji Universe, filling it with an aura of becoming to immortality. The scene imbued with this radiant light seemed to transmit beyond this universe, informing the ten thousand domains that the path to immortality had truly arrived.

The radiant light of immortality was so brilliant that it bathed the entire universe. Even a blurry River of Time started to manifest.

Of course, all this was fabricated by Gu Changge using his manipulation of universe laws, not a genuine path to immortality. His intention was to drive the background figures even more insane.

More and more background figures are coming

Tao Yao also spoke, standing in the Divine Ruins and gazing into the distant depths of the universe.

Only Empress Huang Yu felt a shiver; even with her mentality, she found it challenging to remain calm. Everything seemed too terrifying. Dao-building experts were nothing compared to dogs; only background figures were qualified to fight to be considered big fish.

This senior, what kind of earth-shattering scheme was he orchestrating?

She never expected to witness such a scene herself. The atmosphere was too frightening; Dao-building experts were like dogs, and only background figures had the qualifications to fight. This was a revelation of their true nature.

In her eyes, Gu Changge was a figure who seemed aloof and transcendent, but she never anticipated him to be so ruthless and indifferent, viewing all beings as mere ants.

Boom!

The Kun Ji Universe was once again blasted open, and a terrifying crack spread across the sky, making the heavens and earth seem tattered.

A world-shaking force emanated from the fractured universe, overwhelming and unmatched.

Eight awe-inspiring and transcendent figures stood like demon mountains, towering in that direction, their eyes flashing like lightning.

There's something strange about this universe. All the beings who rushed here earlier were annihilated, and there are even remnants of immortal artifacts. Something extraordinary has happened.

But what can be confirmed is that the opportunity for immortality is here

Now, the eight background figures stood together, creating a scene that defied the heavens. The conflicting Dao forces crowded together, erupting into a violent explosion between them.

Each of them stood amidst a vast expanse of stars, surrounded by swirling galaxies like the rulers of the universe.

Chaos surged between them despite their efforts to keep a distance from each other. Explosions reverberated as they utilized unparalleled techniques, sending shockwaves throughout the Kun Ji Universe.

Before them, the spatial barrier shattered at the first instance. The overwhelming fluctuations surged like a breached river, rushing forth.

Could that really be the Immortal Domain, or is it just a phantom, not truly descending into the world?

Countless soldiers and horses galloped forward. They gazed at a shining, seemingly immortal world floating in the distance in the vast crack in space. They rapidly approached.

At this moment, thousands of immortal figures appeared, transforming as if ascending to immortality. They congregated within that illusory world, creating a dazzling rain of light that turned into eternity, annihilating everything.

If quasi-emperors were here, millions would instantly turn into pus and blood upon contact with the deluge of light. It was a law specifically created to resist background figures.

They exerted all their strength, intending to shatter the Kun Ji Universe, eagerly desiring to make contact with the shining world ahead. However, they were wary of the mysterious aspects within and dared not venture too deep.

Do you refuse to come in? Let me help you then.

Gu Changge sat in the Divine Ruins, giving a light command, and the rules of the sword Dao condensed before his eyes. He emitted a radiant glow, and multicolored immortal energy overflowed from his body.

The chaotic aura shrouding him was shaken off, revealing a handsome, otherworldly face. Yet, his expression remained indifferent, devoid of emotional fluctuations.

The void before him exploded open, and the rules of the Dao sword associate into a bronze immortal sword, excellent.

With a buzzing sound, the sword flew up, and as it was unsheathed, it overshadowed the universe, cleaving through the heavens and earth.

With a puff, the immortal sword swept across, light and shadows scattered, shattering all the fluctuations ahead turning into regular fragments and dust all over the sky.

How terrifying is this existence? Did he kill the other background figures?

All eight background figures jointly attacked, attempting to pierce through the Kun Ji Universe. However, they all spat out blood at this moment, their figures trembling and their faces filled with horror and shock.

The horrifying sword intent descended from the heavens, boundless and limitless, causing the world to lose its color, capable of shattering everything.

They felt a spine-chilling fear. If they were outside the universe, there would be no way to contact each other, let alone break through this universe and get closer to the shining ancient world.

The next moment, they exchanged glances and decided to join forces. Each path emanated terrifying momentum, pressing forward, colliding individually, and directly entering the Kun Ji Universe.

Another terrifying battle erupted here, sweeping across endless star fields and countless universes. Even the distant realms sensed it, shivering with awe.

No matter how many of you there are, you're useless in front of me.

Gu Changge spoke indifferently, watching the eight approaching background figures, his eyes as profound as an ancient, unchanging sea.

Undoubtedly, this battle ended soon. The Dark Cage reappeared, accompanied by the sound of dragging chains. The eight background figures were once again pulled into it, their presence disappearing without a trace.

The Kun Ji Universe plunged into darkness. Apart from the radiant heavenly light over the Divine Ruins, a terrifying mist obscured everything, turning this place into a desolate and silent expanse.

The later arrivals of those background figures trembled with horror as they halted outside the universe. However, they couldn't resist the temptation of becoming immortals and directly rushed in.

Without exception, they followed in the footsteps of the previous background figures, adding several more figures to the Dark Cage.

Chapter 787: Why are you the mastermind behind the scenes? Decided to refine and get promoted

The terrifying gray mist, sweeping from an unknown origin, instantly shrouded the entire Kun Ji Universe.

All-star domains dimmed, devoid of any glimmer. It felt as if this place had plunged into immortal cold and silence.

The multitude of cultivators and beings on the ancient warships left outside the Kun Ji Universe was filled with horror.

Unbeknownst to them, those background figures had all been engulfed by the Kun Ji Universe, disappearing without a trace, like mud oxen sinking into the sea.

This was too horrifying. In their eyes, it seemed this place concealed unspeakable monstrous demons. It was not merely an opportunity to become immortal; it was something much more profound.

Such an event had never been recorded in ancient history. Even if the Kun Ji Universe was mysterious, how could it withstand the combined power of so many background figures without being destroyed?

All the armies halted outside the Kun Ji Universe, not daring to approach even a step further.

Even the Immortal Realm cultivators felt their bodies chill with fear. The rest of the cultivators and beings were even more horrified.

We paid such a heavy price for the chance to become immortal, using our entire clans foundation. In the end, we were stopped here.

How tragic. Inside the Kun Ji Universe, there is undoubtedly a chance for immortality right in front of us, but why is it like this? What happened?

Our ancestral true gods have waited for countless ages, all for this moment

Many cultivators and beings wailed. They hoped their ancestors would achieve immortality in this universe, leading them to glory and brilliance.

However, they never expected even their ancestors to be engulfed, swallowed by the dark-shrouded universe, sending shivers down their spines.

For them, this moment was one of despair. All the radiance before their eyes, like the universe ahead, had fallen into absolute darkness, devoid of color.

Gu Changge sat in the Divine Ruins, observing everything from a distance, shaking his head gently.

He felt no compassion for these beings. In their pursuit of immortality, entire clans were willing to sacrifice everything, even preparing to bloodily conquer this universe.

No living beings or cultivators were innocent in this grand event of achieving immortality. To become immortal, one had to be prepared to pay the price.

The fluctuations of the Epoch Dao Fruits are becoming more assertive. The rules of heaven and earth are gradually becoming complete. The world will return to its former prosperity in a few hundred years.

Tao Yao gazed at the sky, calmly closing her eyes and sensing the fluctuations of the rules of heaven and earth. It was as if the incomplete parts were gradually filling and complementing a certain aura.

She even felt her cultivation slowly recovering or rather, not healing but the amount of aura she could wield increased, strengthening her strength. This wasn't a recovery; it was an enhancement.

Because her own realm surpassed the ordinary Immortal Realm, her original strength couldnt be fully exerted due to the limitations of the heavenly environment. Now that these restrictions were lifted, the power she could employ naturally became more terrible.

Yes, because the heavenly environment is changing, the Great Era of Immortality is approaching. Thats why theyre all so anxious, eager to seize the opportunity for immortality, willing to risk everything, even disregarding their clans.

Gu Changge gave a faint smile. His own cultivation was undergoing slow changes as well.

His current stage was only at the late stage of a Dao-building expert, equivalent to the late stage of the emperors realm. It was far from the so-called background figures who were at the pinnacle of Emperor Realm and on the verge of stepping into the realm of Immortality.

However, for him, his cultivation level only represented a little. His combat power had already reached the peak limit that this universe could accommodate.

Just as the power this universe could contain was at the Emperor Realm, the power Gu Changge could currently exert was the power of a Dao-building expert or a remnant immortal.

As the rules of this universe became complete, expanding its capacity, his ability to exert power naturally grew stronger.

When he faced the Reincarnated Heaven Lord before, Gu Changge used the Eight Desolate Demon Halberd to shatter the Reincarnated Heaven Lords divine soul with a single strike, reaching the extreme limit of this universe.

These so-called background figures thought they stood at the pinnacle of this universe, but in reality, even Tao Yao, with ease, could suppress them, let alone Gu Changge.

The true Immortal Domain is about to descend. I also need to seize the time. These background figures have become clever; they are all hiding in distant universes and haven't approached yet.

Gu Changge gazed into the distance, observing the scene beyond the Kun Ji Universe.

Many arriving background figures stood at a distance, their expressions uncertain. They didn't follow the reckless actions of those before and chose to wait and see.

After all, having lived for so long, they wouldn't act recklessly when they sensed danger.

Just a while ago, eight background figures appeared and entered the universe. However, like mud oxen sinking into the sea, they disappeared without a trace, swallowed by the darkness.

They are not foolish; even if they crave ascension, they understand the immense dangers within the Kun Ji Universe. Naturally, I don't expect them to be as reckless as those background figures who rushed in, ignorant of their impending doom.

With the essence of a dozen background figures, it should be enough for me to break through the pinnacle of the Emperor Realm.

Gu Changge with a slight shake of his head. His figure disappeared from the original spot and reappeared in the star field shrouded by the gray mist.

Four towering pillars seemed to connect heaven and earth, stretching into the vast distance, ancient and full of vicissitudes. They emitted a terrifying aura that sent shivers down one's spine.

Countless chains extended from these four pillars, connecting to the ends of the dark cage where the background figures were now confined.

Some tried to break free by attacking the chains, attempting to escape. Others sat cross-legged, radiating a luminous glow, with signs of transcending into immortality appearing on their cheekbones as they sought to burn their souls and communicate with the immortal Qi of the heavens and the earth.

Having sensed the aura of ascension in this place, thick and rich, they wanted to take a desperate gamble.

Yet, some roared in madness, their eyes turned crimson, seemingly ensnared by inner demons. This wasn't due to their mental instability but the influence of the aura of the Divine Ruins, penetrating their very souls.

Even the background figures of the Absolute Heavenly Extinction Ancient Ancestors were helpless against this influence.

Although these background figures possessed profound cultivation, their expertise in the emperor realm needed to be improved even to be considered on par with the Absolute Heavenly Extinction Ancient Ancestors.

Who are you, really?

Why do this? What is your ultimate goal?

As Gu Changge appeared in this place, many among them immediately erupted in angry shouts, fixing their gaze on him as the mastermind behind the scenes. They wanted to uncover his identity and unravel his intentions.

After seizing the Epoch Tree post-Forbidden Epoch and framing and blaming the Eight Desolation and Ten Regions, which led to countless years of strife between the upper realms.

In this current era, he enticed them to this place, with the Epoch Tree manifesting itself as a significant medicine for him. Describing his schemes as malicious and ruthless would be an understatement.

This plot was against the entire upper realm, a calculated move against all the immortal forces. What made it even more terrifying was that for countless years, no one had any inkling of this persons existence.

He was like a shadow blended into the darkness, always hidden behind the Era, observing the world indifferently. He witnessed the shifts of the Era, the chaos that ensued in the upper realm due to the search for the Epoch Tree, and the entire universe plunged into turmoil.

Such a mastermind was definitely only an ordinary individual with a name. He must have been terrible before the Forbidden Epoch, perhaps even more ancient than the Reincarnated Heaven Lord.

Who am I?

Gu Changge shook his head, giving a light chuckle. He made no effort to conceal his appearance as he walked from the voids darkness. His handsome face remained cold and indifferent, devoid of any emotional fluctuations.

Is it you?

This how is this possible?

Suddenly, like a bucket of cold water poured from an overturned heavenly lid, those background figures who recognized Gu Changge stared wide-eyed, terrified, and trembling, their voices incomplete.

Before this revelation, they had speculated and deduced many possibilities, with the high likelihood of the Reincarnated Heaven Lord. However, never in their wildest dreams did they imagine Gu Changge, the invincible junior of the current era, to be the mastermind.

It was as unbelievable as a fairy tale, utterly inconceivable. Upon awakening earlier, many of them had learned about Gu Changge from the mouths of their juniors, understanding his terrifying talents and remarkable nature. However, they never regarded him equally, considering him a child.

Only during Gu Changge's marriage, when the Red-Clothed Demoness mentioned his identity as the reincarnation of a supreme being from the Forbidden Epoch, did some among them pay closer attention.

Some even discussed with the One-Eyed Daoist from the Heavenly Emperor Mountain the possibility of preemptively dealing with Gu Changge to prevent him from becoming uncontrollable.

However, with the appearance of the Epoch Tree and the opportunity for ascension, they had to set this matter aside, focusing on the journey to the Kun Ji Universe. Little did they expect that the mastermind behind the scenes in the Kun Ji Universe would turn out to be Gu Changge.

At this moment, their minds were buzzing, their scalps tingling. Even as background figures who had reached a state of emotional tranquility, they felt profound fear.

How could it be you? How did you achieve this? Or is Gu Changge just your incarnation, and you're the true mastermind

One of the background figures trembled as he spoke, not realizing the deep fear within himself. Everything felt like a surreal nightmare.

Gu Changge's expression remained unchanged as dark runes emerged behind him. An abyssal radiance descended as if a black hole suddenly condensed within the darkness, enveloping the few individuals, ready to refine them.

Chapter 788: The actual forbidden existence, manifestation of chaotic flying immortal pool

Gu Changge maintained his icy demeanor, ignoring the words of the crowd. The heavens and earth quivered with a flick of his sleeves as a terrifying ripple covered the entire universe.

The Grand Dao treasure bottle descended, and a vast darkness engulfed the entire starry expanse.

Even the approaching gray fog trembled, on the verge of collapse. Surrounding star field shattered, turning into countless fragments.

This immortal force was terrifying, threatening to engulf the souls of cultivators and the foundational aura of those background beings imprisoned in the dark cages.

They felt their origin of their cultivation base was leaving their bodies, about to be swallowed by the descending treasure bottle.

How could such a forbidden thing appear to you

Turns out you are the inheritor of the demonic art, manipulating the entire Upper Realm in your palm.

Someones eyes widened with terror and disbelief, recognizing the Grand Dao treasure bottle from the forbidden legends. They instantly understood Gu Changges true identity, their faces turning pale.

He wasnt just the reincarnation of a supreme being from the Forbidden era. He appeared to be responsible for the collapse of the epochs and the severance of the river of time. His very existence became a taboo, unspoken and shrouded in fear.

Even ancient records dared not document this, as it risked ominous consequences and divine retribution. Such a being had reappeared in this era, becoming the successor of the Ancient Immortal Gu family and a prominent figure in the Upper Realm.

No one had ever suspected his actual role or questioned whether he was the mastermind behind the scenes, orchestrating the chaos in the Upper Realm.

Previously, when powers like the Heavenly Emperor Mountain and the Endless Fire Nation tried to pin the label of demonic art inheritor on Gu Changge, they faced widespread condemnation.

However, the truth unfolded in a way no one anticipated. The natural inheritor of the demonic art was indeed Gu Changge.

At this moment, the background figures who had uncovered the truth displayed faces of shock, anger, fear, regret, and unwillingness.

At this stage, they couldn't comprehend how Gu Changge orchestrated everything and manipulated the entire Upper Realm from behind the scenes.

At this point, even if you understand everything, what use is it?

The vast Upper Realm will become the nourishment for my ascension.

Gu Changge's voice echoed indifferently, his deep and emotionless eyes fixed on the unfolding events.

Chains of the Grand Dao quivered and descended from all directions, finally enveloping these background figures like restraints, rendering them immobile.

At this moment, a brilliant black burst of light erupted before him, resembling a radiant black sun. It exploded, and the ensuing darkness descended like a chaotic black hole, hovering above Gu Changge's head.

The final scene unfolded with a pervasive air of blood and divine radiance, surrounded by misty chaos. Countless laws interwoven, transforming into a pool of chaotic essence a Flying Immortal Chaos Pool.

The next moment, the Flying Immortal Chaos Pool suddenly expanded, engulfing the terrified background figures before him. Amidst their horrified expressions, it gradually swallowed them until no sound was left.

A pervasive blood-red hue diffused like a thick mist, covering all the starfields.

Gu Changge stood silently with closed eyes, his perfectly handsome face devoid of emotion. At this moment, he seemed to embody the true Heavenly Dao, emotionless and ancient, viewing all the realms as mere ants.

Far away in the Divine Ruins, Tao Yao silently observed the scene. She felt that Gu Changge was gradually merging with the figure from ancient times, but this subtle fluctuation quickly dissipated.

Hum!!!

Multi Colored immortal aura emanated from Gu Changges body. He opened his eyes, reflecting countless scenes from the distant past, including the rolling river of time, the collapse of star rivers, and the rise and fall of the sun and moon.

Just standing here exuded a terrifying aura that made all realms bow and tremble. It seemed as if this universe couldnt contain his figure.

Indeed, its still far from that threshold. I truly need to summon the true Dao Immortal Path, to ascend on the path of immortality

Gu Changge shook his head, feeling that although he had reached the pinnacle of the Emperor Realm, he was still far from the true Immortal Realm.

Without the baptism of Immortal Light and the immersion in Immortal Dao rules, his spiritual energy couldnt cultivate true Immortal Radiance, and his physical body couldnt indeed ascend to the realm of Immortality.

For the physical body to ascend to the Immortal realm, it needed the tempering of Immortal Dao rules, inviting the arrival of Immortal Tribulation.

Although the world was undergoing dramatic changes and the laws of the world were becoming complete, experiencing Immortal Tribulation would likely take a few hundred years in the future.

The only current possibility was to step onto the Dao Immortal Path and undergo the tempering of Immortal Tribulation along the way.

Gu Changge, with control over the Epoch Dao Fruit, could easily allow his divine senses to cultivate Immortal Radiance. However, he needed to stand on the authentic Dao Immortal Path to truly break into the complete Immortal Realm.

Now, the true Dao Immortal Path hasnt appeared yet. I need to return to the Upper Realm and summon the Immortal Path

Gu Changge had a different plan in mind.

In the following days, beyond the Kun Ji Universe, more and more background figures from the Upper Realm arrived.

The massive army stretched endlessly, with no visible end. Terrifying fluctuations clashed, and different Dao intertwined, tearing open dreadful rifts in the sky.

However, they were cautious, sensing that the aura in front had already disappeared into the universe ahead. They chose not to venture in.

They stayed outside the universe, engaged in calculations or other methods, awaiting the most opportune moment to enter the Kun Ji Universe.

In their direction, they could sense the rich fluctuations of the Epoch Tree, permeating from deep within the Kun Ji Universe, carrying an invigorating breath as if it was ushering in the path to immortality.

The only shining place was the Big Dipper Star Field, illuminating the sky with dazzling brilliance. Everyone could see an ancient and lush towering giant tree standing at the center of the universe. Around it, chaotic energy floated, stars suspended in the sky, creating an incredible scene.

In this universe, there is an incredibly ancient existence, surpassing the Immortal Realm. He stole the Epoch Tree, planned for countless ages, and now that we have come, he intends to use us as nourishment.

The Epoch Tree is within, and so is the opportunity for immortality. How will we choose now, and what are your plans, fellow?

Outside the Kun Ji Universe, these background figures appeared one after another, numbering in the terrifying tens of thousands, involving at least dozens of immortal sects and supreme forces.

The One-Eyed Daoist from the Heaven Emperor Mountain had arrived, his expression changing constantly as he conversed with several old friends.

They had captured beings from other universes, gaining insights into the many origins of the Kunji Universe from their memories, including the head of the Godly Nucleus Realm.

Background figures like Chana Ancient Buddha, Golden Sun Goddess, and others also appeared, following the guidance of the One-Eyed Daoist from the Heaven Emperor Mountain, frowning as they observed the scene within the Kun Ji Universe.

This place is highly risky, with a great crisis. This old monk has decided to leave. The Buddha warned me of the danger of death.

Chana Ancient Buddha clasped his hands together, his white brows hanging down to his cheeks, his face gentle. However, it couldn't hide the seriousness in his expression.

His eyes, which were usually closed, suddenly opened as if he wanted to see through the scene within the Kun Ji Universe.

Hearing his words, many of the background figures in this place showed slight changes in their expressions, sensing a growing unease.

Without reservation, currently, outside the Kun Ji Universe, most of the immortal forces from the Upper Realm had gathered, with many sects even risking their entire foundations.

Before our arrival, at least more than ten background figures rushed here, but they disappeared without a trace, along with those vast armies, evaporating like mist.

To be aware, someone must have used immortal artifacts, and the residual aura has not completely dissipated

The Golden Sun Goddess from the Supreme God Clan spoke up. She had already restored her original appearance, with shining golden hair and unparalleled beauty, no longer resembling the white-haired figure from before.

In preparation for this chance at immortality, she had done everything to restore her body to its peak state.

However, now she hesitated, contemplating a retreat. Compared to achieving immortality, she had a stronger aversion to dying here under unclear circumstances.

Just as all background figures felt uneasy and hesitant due to the eerie darkness of the Kun Ji Universe, refraining from stepping forward again.

The Kun Ji Universe ahead suddenly trembled, and strands of immortal energy overflowed in this heaven and earth mysterious and inexplicable, causing a shiver in the hearts of everyone.

Chapter 789: The immortal tribulation descends? Opportunity at hand

Suddenly, an inexplicable aura emerged, like beams of immortal light overflowing from the Kun Ji Universe, instantly illuminating the universes profound darkness.

A magnificent and radiant gateway, permeated with the light of ascending to immortality, abruptly appeared in the dark Kun Ji Universe, resembling the legendary immortal gate.

In that place, even immortal soldiers and generals began to materialize, immortal thunderbolts struck, and the sky was filled with rosy clouds, seemingly inviting people to ascend.

What is that Is it an illusion? Or is it a real immortal gate?

One background figure widened their eyes suddenly, their voice trembling. It seemed like the immortal wait was for this moment.

Even though they were well aware of the risks concealed within the Kun Ji Universe, with background figures quickly perishing and dangers lurking, they no longer cared.

Dont believe it, thats definitely a trap deliberately set by the figure within the Divine Ruin, luring us in as the main ingredient for his breakthrough. Its an illusionary trap, not a real immortal gate. Behind that gate, there is nothing but danger.

Another background figure spoke their gaze like two blazing suns, capable of annihilation, staring at the scene of immortality appearing in the Kun Ji Universe, unwilling to believe.

The other background figure were equally skeptical, using various means to deduce the truth.

After experiencing the demise of more than ten background figures, they became much more cautious, knowing the origin and methods of the figure within Divine Ruin were extraordinary.

The sudden appearance of the scene of immortality was too dreamlike, lacking credibility.

The Golden Sun Goddess made a resolute decision.

After witnessing the scene, she gritted her teeth and said, Regardless of whether immortality was real or not, Im leaving. Staying here will only result in death. The predecessors ahead were the best warning.

She didnt allow herself to be deceived by the allure of immortality. After sensing the appearance of the Epoch Tree, she began to hesitate.

Now, witnessing more than ten background figures perish, she became more determined in her choice. Following that, she swept her sleeves and led many Supreme God Clan members, retracing the path back.

Then, the Chana Ancient Buddha also showed a hint of hesitation but soon uttered a Buddhist chant, following behind the Golden Sun Goddess. With the people of the Buddhist Mountain, he departed, not getting involved in this matter.

Compared to other sects and immortal forces, the Buddhist Mountain apparently didnt have such a strong desire for the chance at immortality.

They cultivated the fruit position of Buddhism; although similar in some respects to the path of immortality, there were still considerable differences.

Accumulating the Dao faith and offerings, relying less on the path to immortality, many background figures in this place chose to depart after the Golden Sun Goddess and the Instant Buddha left. Unwilling to take on such immense risks, they were criticized by the One-Eyed Daoist.

Despite the opportunity for immortality right before them, these individuals are so timid and weak. We, as fellow cultivators, are ashamed to be associated with them, the One-Eyed Daoist remarked, placing blame squarely on the Golden Sun Goddess and others.

Initially intending to let others explore the Kun Ji Universe first to ascertain the truth, the One-Eyed Daoists plans were disrupted by the emergence of the aura of immortality, scaring away the others.

In the face of the opportunity for immortality, they are not willing to make an effort and instead fear life and death. Their lives have come to an end; they cannot take that step again.

Another figure from Heavenly Emperor Mountain also opened his mouth. He was an old man of medium build. His face was blurred and shrouded in chaotic mist. Now as he spoke, his dark bronze face was revealed. His eyes were deep and his aura was terrifying.

Having decided to prioritize preserving their lives in case of unexpected situations, these two background figures were now faced with the irresistible opportunity for immortality. They had to let others pave the way.

You two are right. Immortality is right in front of us. To be so timid and hesitant, we are truly unworthy of being fellow cultivators. The One-Eyed Daoist rebuked.

Their shared sentiment triggered a resonance among the remaining background figures. Having traversed endless battles facing the scrutiny of their peers, they had reached a point where they couldnt afford to be timid.

How can we fear such schemes when we, in our youth, were a force to be reckoned with? Dozens of us are here, capable of shattering any universe. We cannot be afraid of such schemes. proclaimed another background figure.

Ill break through any scheme with my own strength.

Another background figure declared, exuding a golden aura and possessing a unique physique, aspiring to conquer like an actual dragon.

With countless eons since the birth of the Upper Realm, each era had seen the birth of the strongest beings, and now they were all gathered here to break through the barrier to immortality.

Ready to charge into the Kun Ji Universe, they exhibited their most terrifying and powerful states, prepared to break through any schemes, regardless of their nature.

Seeing this, the One-eyed Daoist and the background figures from the Heavenly Emperor Mountain exchanged glances, expressing satisfaction.

Rumbling echoes reverberated as the Kun Ji Universe once again emitted a thunderous sound. The resplendent heavenly light intensified, and strands of immortal energy overflowed, spreading through the void in this space.

A pervasive aura enveloped them, seemingly capable of slowing the deep-seated decay within their bodies, providing an extension to their lives.

For cultivators of their caliber, only one thing remained associated with it something related to immortality! Once again, joy lit up the faces of everyone, their desire for immortality no longer concealed.

Rumble!

At this moment, within the Kun Ji Universe, the heavenly light continued to radiate, the majestic portal standing tall with endless divine spirits emerging.

Azure dragons soared, phoenixes spread their wings, and simultaneously, a vague Immortal Path appeared, seemingly connecting to the immortal realm beyond.

In the dark and profound universe, thunderbolts became visible, initially blurry but solidifying into a cascade of strikes, crackling and resonating. The shockwaves produced were so intense that they made the entire universe tremble.

Immortal Tribulation

This is the legendary Immortal Tribulation, the tribulation one must face on the path to immortality. How long has it been since the Upper Realm experienced the calamity of heavenly thunder?

Trembling voices of background figures fixated on the unfolding scene, their excitement beyond containment.

Since the Forbidden era, there had been no heavenly tribulations in the Upper Realm, causing cultivators to lack the crucial refinement of problems in their cultivation journey.

Now, within the Kun Ji Universe, they were witnessing the return of heavenly tribulations.

No, it wasn't just thunderstorms but the tribulation of ascending to immortality! Someone was about to climb right at this moment!

Could it be that the Lord of the Divine Ruins is going to ascend to immortality?

The One-Eyed Daoists gaze burned with passion as he focused on the scene, his voice filled with excitement.

While numerous background figures were overwhelmed with emotions, unable to regain their composure, the Kun Ji Universe suddenly burst forth with boundless light.

A slender and blurry figure emerged from the Big Dipper StarField, charging straight into the sea of thunder.

The Lord of the Divine Ruins is transcending the Immortal Tribulation. This is our chance. He can't scheme against us anymore, and he's too preoccupied to bother with us. This is our opportunity.

Attack!!!

At this moment, the eyes of many background figures turned red, like gamblers seizing their chance. Their overwhelming auras erupted as they charged into the Kun Ji Universe, no longer hesitating, eager to take this opportunity before someone else could.

The opportunity to ascend to immortality is right before us.

The ones who left, I wonder if they regret missing out on all of this.

The One-Eyed Daoist was so excited that his voice trembled. Tearing through the void with his large hand, he strode boldly through the cosmos, heading towards the region saturated with heavenly light.

Chapter 790: Can't wait to get in? The extremely brilliant battle of flying immortals

The light of flying immortals was incomparably bright, like a piece of immortal mist emerging over the Big Dipper Starfield, covering and spreading to the surroundings, this was a shocking scene.

In that place where the thunder tribulation appeared, streaks of thunder fell from the sky and fell directly, containing the ultimate laws of destruction.

The fluctuations were created like big waves, crackling and splashing everywhere, and soon formed a sea of thunder, which was too spectacular and blazing.

The heavenly light was shining, accompanied by the kind of fluctuations that make the body of the enlightened person explode, and it came from there, wanting to destroy this universe.

Indistinctly, a vague and hazy immortal tower was floating up and down, and there seemed to be a towering ancient city gate behind it.

From the slit that comes out, one could see the vast world in it.

There were tall ancient mountains, towering ancient trees, cranes passing by, and an auspicious aura, just like the immortal palace in ancient myths.

And at this moment, in the Big Dipper Starfield, a magnificent figure in white clothes appeared. He was bathing in the sea of thunder as if he wanted to open that door, walk on that road, and go away to become immortal.

Dont miss this opportunity, attack.

Looking at this scene, all the background figures outside the Kun Ji universe couldnt sit still, they shouted angrily, their eyes turned red, the light of the Dao was sprayed all over their bodies, and the chaotic mist spread.

At this moment, they were extremely strong, showing their peak terror, tearing everything apart, and rushing away.

This was to prop up the terrifying fluctuations of the Kun Ji universe. Various Daos collide in it, and the burst of fluctuations caused the starfields outside the domain to explode and turn into dust.

Such a scene was enough to be recorded in ancient history, and it was too shocking. Dozens of background figures of this world worked together to interpret their own Doism.

They were honored in a certain era, invincible in their peers, and after becoming background figures, they had never shown their former edge, but now they had lived together for a lifetime, and they wanted to kill in that piece of flying immortal light.

All living beings outside the Kun Ji universe were shocked by this scene, and their mood became turbulent as these background figures entered.

They feel that they were about to witness the grand occasion of becoming immortals, and they had been waiting for eternity to witness all of this.

When the world of immortality appears, will all the background figures become immortals?

The Lord of the Divine Ruins is going to become immortal. For us, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

All the background figures who entered the Kun Ji universe roared in unison.

Although when they stepped into this universe, they felt a strange and weird fluctuation spreading, which was completely different from the outside world.

Compared with other universes, the environment of heaven and earth here was very different, but it did not hinder their determination to become immortals.

All kinds of terrifying laws exploded there, directly bombarding the Big Dipper Starfield, and the surrounding areas collapsed almost immediately.

More than a dozen background figures made a move, which was unprecedented, and no existence in the same situation could resist it.

Some people even sacrificed the immortal weapon, burning the origin of their own lifespan, urging the immortal weapon with all their strength, and blasting into the area shrouded by the sea of thunder.

The world seemed to be reopened, the chaotic aura here was extremely chaotic, the chaotic aura was flying, and even time and space were becoming turbulent.

In the Divine Ruins, Empress Huang Yu stood beside Taoyao. Unlike the calm expression on Taoyao's face, Empress Huang Yu looked at this terrifying scene, but her heart was trembling, extremely uneasy, and worried.

This was too scary. According to her previous cognition, the enlightened person was already the most powerful force in this universe.

Only one person could be born in one life, and the Dao that was born would affect other enlightened beings, resulting in no more enlightened beings being born in the next tens of thousands of years.

Therefore, the number of enlightened people in the Kun Ji universe was very limited, but each of them was the strongest person in an era since the era of mass extinction, and no one could match it.

However, with the arrival of this life, all this had been changed.

The enlightened beings from other universes came with a large army, and the number was terrifying, making people tremble with fear.

Afterward, these background characters reappeared in the world, and each one of them could easily kill her. Now there were more than a dozen of these characters in front of her, and they all came to the Kun Ji universe, which was too shocking and creepy.

Dont worry, these people are just fishes, they have already been caught in the net.

Taoyao spoke at this time, seeming to see Empress Huang Yus worry, a smile appeared on her calm face.

She saw the shadow of Chan Hongyi on Empress Huang Yu, and she inevitably felt a little close to her.

Theyve all been tricked? Senior isnt he going to become immortal now? How were they tricked?

Empress Huang Yu was still puzzled, it was difficult to understand these things, even from her perspective, she couldnt see that the catastrophic thunder tribulation would be a trap.

She felt that with her strength, as long as she stepped there, she would be turned into powder in an instant.

Wasnt such a thunder tribulation an immortal tribulation?

Tao Yao shook her head lightly, she was not talking, in fact, she couldn't see Gu Changge's plan and next actions, but she could guess his intention.

This was a kind of blind confidence.

After all, he would never do anything he was not sure of, and almost every step was thought and planned with all kinds of considerations, so it was guaranteed to be foolproof.

Can't even wait to get in?

Gu Changge, who was bathed in the thunder all over his body, looked at those extreme attacks on him, and there was no worry on his face, but a faint smile on his face.

The hazy and blurred immortal gate reappeared above his head, and he could even clearly see some patterns of the ancestors on it, which was extremely real.

Against the sea of thunder that filled the sky, he disregarded the terrifying thunderbolts that fell on him, and walked forward in a steady and regular manner, without the slightest ups and downs on his spotless white clothes.

Rumble!!!

The entire universe echoed the momentum of this thunder disaster, almost piercing through heaven and earth, reflecting the past and present, and shattering everything.

Dont let him get close to that portal. When he pushes open the portal and enters it, thats when he becomes a fairy.

Seeing this scene, the murdered background figures roared angrily, wanting to stop Gu Changge from stepping into it.

At this time, all the extreme attacks were blasted into the sea of thunder, and some of them fell directly on Gu Changges body, but ripples swayed behind him as if he was invulnerable to everything, immune to everything.

However, the fluctuation of the immortal artifacts recovery was still too terrifying, like a beam of light that directly shook the thunder away, making Gu Changge stagger, almost unsteady, and a smear of blood spilled from the corner of his mouth.

He got hurt

This scene immediately excited all background figures, feeling that this battle was hopeful, this mysterious Lord of the Divine Ruins was not so powerful that it was completely invincible.

The one-eyed Daoist was even more excited. He felt that the aura of flying immortals in this place was extremely strong, and even made him feel that his soul had become brighter, his cheekbones were bright, and his spiritual power was unprecedentedly strong.

Buzz!!!

At this time, over the Big Dipper Starfield, the phantom of the immortal tower solidified again, and even the ancient portal became real.

There was an eternal immortal light, and many laws began to condense.

Thousands of troops and horses were galloping, suddenly appearing around the portal.

At the same time, at this time, hundreds of thousands of mysterious figures appeared, as if they were becoming immortals, and they came overwhelmingly, becoming heavenly soldiers and generals, blocking Gu Changges footsteps.

Slash!!!

He yelled softly, and a bronze immortal sword emerged in his hand, which shattered the thunder and slashed forward. The terrifying sword light immediately chopped those immortal shadows into pieces, and even a gap appeared in the closed door. A corner of the vast world was revealed.

But the consequence of this was that heavenly tribulation became more and more terrifying and accompanied by the crimson humanoid heavenly tribulation, and he rushed toward Gu Changge.

Among those human-shaped tribulation thunders, even ancient Daoist priests and sword immortals appeared to fight him.

Seeing this, many background figures naturally did not want to let go of such an excellent opportunity and made another move. Regardless of the backlash, they were not afraid of triggering the punishment of heaven and were implicated by the thunder tribulation, piercing Gu Changges to wipe him out.

It's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. He wants to seek death himself, and chooses this time to become a fairy.

He has no choice. If he misses this opportunity, he will be hopeless.

Everyone couldn't hide their excitement, feeling that as long as Gu Changge was killed, his efforts and plans could even be replaced, and they would directly enter the immortal gate and become immortal on the way there.

This was an extremely tragic fight. In their eyes, the Lord of the Divine Ruins had to fight against the solid laws from the immortal gate, and at the same time, bathe in the sea of thunder, fight against this tribulation, and resist their attack at the same time.

Even if he was so strong that he was against the sky, it was still difficult to support him, and there would be a moment of exhaustion after all.

Everyone was red-eyed and used their most powerful techniques of all time.

In the end, it was no longer what they had expected, and with the revival of several immortal artifacts, the unrivaled aura was revealed, rumbling and crushing past, turning into several beams of light that could tear apart the universe, piercing Gu Changge's figure and tearing it apart.

Then the rays of light from these immortal artifacts even tore through the sea of thunder and landed on the portal, blasting away many cracks that were originally not that big.

There was a strong light of flying immortals in it, which made all the background figures excited, rushing over without thinking about their own safety, intending to blast the gate open, kill through the immortal gate, and enter the immortal road.
