Chapter 1071: What could I possibly recommend as an insignificant person?

-Why are you thanking me? I know you would not go with me. If so, I'd better let you rest in the hospital. Besides, the atmosphere here is good, if you will be here, there will be no problem. As for Cristian's situation, I heard the doctor, don't worry too much.

Because Beatrice and Angelo were also there, Serena became more quiet. After lunch, she even felt like lying down for a while.

Beatrice was right, she had to trust the doctor.

At the same time, she also had to trust Cristian.

He would wake up from his comatose state as soon as possible.

After the observation period, Cristian would be transferred from the ICU to the general ward. He was scheduled to share the same ward with Serena.

Considering then that there would be someone to accompany him, a single room was prepared for him with additional beds for the resting companion.

Matthew arrived at 8 p.m. A little after chatting, Luca and Anna arrived.

Anna pushed open the door, accompanied by the cold air outside, as she said, "Serena, they say Cristian has passed the dangerous period, you...."

Realizing Matthew's existence, Anna stood with the door ajar.

Luca extended his hand, pushed the door wide open and said downward.

-Let's go in first.

Anna withdrew her hand and obediently entered, followed by Luca, who closed the door.

Because it was cold, Anna wore an Iris coat and had her hair pulled back into a ball. A soft, light scarf wrapped almost half of her face, only her nose and delicate eyes remained.

Luca wore a long black trench coat. They all entered from the cold air and were a tall man and a short woman, looking like a couple.

Matteo became unhappy but calmed down immediately.

-Mrs. Serena," Luca greeted.

-Serena smiled as she said to Anna, "Isn't Manuel coming? Let's see if he listens to you.

-Yes, Manuel is very reasonable, after the explanation, he agreed not to come.

Serena removed her worry: -Thank you, Anna.

Anna said, -It's okay.

If Matteo was not here, she would have told him to stop being funny if he was still family. But in front of Matteo, Anna could say no more.

The room was strangely silent.

A little later Matteo said in a clear, cold voice.

-I will take care of Manuel if you want.

Serena looked at Matteo with a surprised look.

-Really? Will you take him, your job?

-I don't have much business in the company, you are my sister, and as his uncle, I have to take care of him.

When he finished, Luke stood up and said with an attractive face, -Now I'm going to get him.

Suddenly, Serena did not know what to add, because she saw the seriousness in Matteo's eyes, which showed determination.

For her, Matteo and Anna were the people she could trust, so she was calm regardless of where

Manuel was,

Anna, however, was unhappy to hear this.

She said Serena was her sister and Manuel should have been cared for by him instead of her.

He was just an insignificant person. If he was not part of her family, she had no reason to take care of him.

She was not qualified at all.

Anna paled at the thought and immediately lowered her head, a long quiet time later, she raised her head.

-All right, please take care of him.

His uncle had already made up his mind, what could a person say that didn't matter?

Matthew passed by Anna, who unconsciously pushed him away to let him pass. Unexpectedly, he stood beside her.

-Could you guide me?

Anna cast a glance at Matteo, who was looking at her.

What did he want?

Had she said to guide him?

She was right. If Matteo was going to pick up Manuel who was at his house, he needed to show her the way.

Anna nodded, -Okay.

Luca looked at them wordlessly, his eyes curious and his lips tight.

Anna turned around .

-Serena, I'm going to pick up Manuel with him, see you later.

-Okay, be careful on the way.

Although Serena was not so sure about the current situation, it was better not to say much at that point.

Therefore, Anna went out with Matteo.

Because she wanted to keep her distance from Matteo, Anna walked slowly away from Matteo. When he entered the elevator, she still walked slowly to him.

Like a kitten, Anna walked in small steps toward the elevator, which was about to close.

Anna panicked, took a big step forward as she reached out her hand to stop him.

At the same time, Matthew also extended his hand with the same intention.

Their hands met unexpectedly.

With a clear sound, the elevator opened.

Anna pulled her hand back as if she had suffered an electric shock, looking at him in amazement.

-I'm sorry, I didn't mean to.

I just touched his hand!

He did not know what he was thinking, perhaps thinking that she was touching his hand with intention.

And maybe he hated her more, or thought she did it for attention.

Anna remained in her seat, feeling very bitter in her heart.

The cold voice from inside the elevator rang out.

-Won't you come in? Are you waiting for the door to close again?

Anna concentrated, quickly entered the elevator and hid in a corner with her eyes desperately closed.

She was really embarrassed.

She had been good before, why was she acting silly now?

Why was she trying to run away from him?

It was just the two of them in the elevator; everyone was speechless. Probably because of Matthew's strong aura, Anna felt as if she was surrounded by the fresh breath that belonged to Matthew.

This was suffocating her.

With a clear sound, the door opened. Several people entered, including one in a wheelchair.

Out of concern for the door closing, the wheelchair was pushed at high speed, even going to run over

Anna, who was between the wall and Matthew. Anna wanted to avoid it, but in the end she had to stay in her seat.

Just a collision!

However, she thought she would not die from it.

Unexpectedly, Anna was pulled into his arms.

Her face pressed tightly against Matthew's chest.

Chapter 1072: She was strong

Immediately, Anna felt a pain in her forehead; immediately, she felt dizzy.

A strong male breath suddenly surrounded her.

It was loud because there were many people in the elevator.

However, when Anna realized where she was, she felt that the noise had suddenly subsided.

She raised her head in amazement, looking incredibly at Matthew, who was holding her in his arms.

That was...

What was he doing?

Did Matteo know what he was doing?

When Anna looked at him doubtfully, Matteo pushed her away indifferently.

-He would have run you over, don't you know how to avoid it?

At those words, Anna was very embarrassed. When she curled her lips as she was about to answer, Matteo coldly said to the person pushing the wheelchair.

-No matter how fast you hurry, you have to pay attention in public, right? If she is injured, won't you just need a pardon?

He was a group president, strong and powerful.

Therefore, the noisy elevator was silent. The others did not want to be involved in this chaos; they did not dare to say anything.

The woman pushing the chair was middle-aged, fashionably dressed, and the man in the chair was very old. They looked like father and daughter.

At a glance, the woman knew that this man must not be a simple person.

She was very annoyed that he had made her look bad, so she replied.

-I don't think we've clashed before? Besides, when we came in, you young people, you didn't know where to go, and you didn't worry about the old man?

He was referring to the older man in the wheelchair.

Anna did not expect that Matthew could scold them, nor did she expect that they could scold him. In the elevator, the atmosphere suddenly became tense.

-You mean you can ignore the rules and crash as you please? Taking advantage of an old man sitting in a wheelchair? -Matthew said in a colder voice.

The temperature in the elevator suddenly changed.

The woman was speechless when she heard it. At that moment, the older man slowly said.

-I am very sorry, my daughter didn't do it on purpose, we rushed downstairs, I apologize.

The older man said sincerely.

Anna did not mind this at all. Really, the woman's attitude was worse. But when the elder apologized, Anna was suddenly moved.

-It's all right, Grandpa, anyway, we haven't clashed yet, there is no need for forgiveness.

The woman said sternly, -It's true, the girl already said we haven't clashed yet, as a man, do you really care? Really impersonal!

Hearing this, Anna frowned angrily.

-What nonsense are you saying? I'm saying there's nothing wrong, it's because of grandfather's good attitude, how could he have a granddaughter like you? You were about to run over others, and you are even triumphant, yes, it's the mistake of others, it's not your fault!

The woman did not think the girl would get into an argument, she incredibly opened her eye....

-What? Don't make fun of him because he's young, you say he's impersonal, don't you know what kind of person you are? I don't care that you are about to shock me, but you still won't excuse me, how disgusting!

The others in the elevator were very surprised that this girl was so strong, she just hid in the man's arms.

But at that moment, as if her territory had been invaded, she was furious and roared at the others with biting teeth to protect someone familiar.

When she finished, Anna suddenly calmed down and gave the elder a sweet smile, saying lightly.

-Grandfather, I don't want to make you angry, and you have nothing to do with it, you are a good grandfather.

The old man was speechless.

What had happened and where was he?

Matthew was also stunned, staring at Anna's head.

She was usually in a good mood, had she been angry even a moment before?

The people in the elevator were witnesses.

At that moment, the elevator reached one floor. Even the woman was speechless at Anna's retort. She let out a cold moan of anger, angrily pushed the wheelchair away as the elevator door opened.

At this scene, the others in the elevator laughed, "Girl, you are so strong.

-It's true, she's so mean! Ignoring everything just by pushing an old man, these kinds of people should be taught a lesson.

-Girl, well done! Besides, your boyfriend is very handsome.

Matteo was tall and handsome, while Anna was petite and pretty. Matteo had just pulled her into his arms to protect her from danger and to do her justice. To others, they were a happy couple.

So, no doubt, the girl had done it to protect her boyfriend.

At the jokes, Anna suddenly changed her face.

-No, that's not it, it's just that....

How could I explain? Anna's face frowned.

The woman said that Matthew was impersonal, so Anna became angry and broke out into an argument without thinking at all about what would come out of it.

Now...

Anna looked at Matteo.

He was very calm as before, looking at her with clear black eyes. As soon as their gazes met, Anna hurried to separate them.

In front of the crowd, Anna remained silent with much embarrassment.

With her head lowered, Anna felt a gaze fall on her head.

Thus Anna sank into thought.

Had she washed her hair last night, was she well groomed, did she have dandruff on her head, or did she smell bad?

As she thought, the elevator arrived on the second floor.

Anna stepped out, following Matthew.

She still kept her distance from Matteo. They were probably so close in the elevator that Anna could still hear Matteo's breathing.

Steady and fresh.

Anna curled her lips slightly, thinking about what had happened in the elevator.

Her arms were very warm.

Impossible!

Anna shook her head vigorously, what was she thinking?

She had already made up her mind, how could she be persuaded by one arm? No, it could not be like that!

Anna woke up and followed him into the parking lot.

At that moment, she remembered an issue.

Wasn't he the one who had sent Manuel to her house last time? He must have known where her house was! Why had he asked her for guidance?

Chapter 1073: Why so much noise at night?

Either the person who had brought Manuel to her house was not Matthew.

Who was he?

The more she thought, the more Anna did not understand. She was very confused.

With a loud noise, Anna felt an incredible pain in her forehead. Thinking too much, Anna did not notice that Matteo had stopped and bumped into him directly.

Anna covered her forehead as she took a step back, frowning.

Like last time, would Matteo have thought she was doing it on purpose?

To avoid misunderstanding, Anna said it first.

-What's the matter? Why did you stop suddenly?

Matteo did not expect that she could justifiably ask him this after accidentally bumping into him.

Matteo turned and gave her a cold look as he said in a clear voice.

-We have arrived.

With his words, Anna discovered that he was already next to the driver's seat. She was clearly distracted from following him on the road. As she was about to get into the car, Anna inadvertently squeezed him.

Not only had she collided with him, but she also asked him why he had stopped.

How embarrassing!

For God's sake!

Anna covered her face, "I'm so sorry.

And then she turned to get into the car.

When he saw her open the door and get into the car, Matthew imperceptibly squeezed his eyes shut.

Anna helped herself into the car, head down.

She was about to choose the front seat instead of the back seat. She was amused by the quick reaction.

Had it been earlier, she probably would have unconcernedly sat next to Matteo to keep a smaller distance. But now she wanted to keep her distance.

Only when Matteo was not dating Manuel could she be relieved. If she had the right timing and avoided their meeting at the hospital at the same time, she would never see him again.

They were speechless.

As Anna kept her head down, the person in front of her suddenly said.

-The address.

-What?

At the surprising question, Anna was unable to react: -What are you saying?

Matteo looked at her in the rearview mirror.

-Without a direction, where can I go? Do you think I am able to predict?

Anna concentrated and gave him the address.

Then they both remained silent until they reached their destination.

When the car stopped, Anna hurriedly said, "Mr. Matteo, please wait for me here, I'm going to get Manuel.

When she finished, she hurried to open the door and leave.

When he saw her hurry away, Matteo withdrew his deep gaze and closed his eyes against the seat.

What he had been doing lately seemed to be somewhat contrary to his original intention.

What was he doing?

Manuel was surprised by the news that his uncle was going to pick him up, not moving from the bed.

-Why did Uncle come to get me all of a sudden?

How strange! There was not a single symptom before, why did he come so suddenly?

-It's your uncle's idea, how can I guess? He has to come back to bring you, I have no idea either, so pack what you have.

Anna hurried him along. Seeing that he was still in his seat, Anna reached out her hand to pat his butt,

"Hurry up.

However, Manuel held her arm.

-No, I want to stay with you, I don't want to go back to my uncle.

Anna soon succumbed to the cuddling. But Anna still remembered Matteo's words in the hospital. Why was he taking care of Manuel as a little person?

-Obey, Manuel, your uncle wants to take care of you personally, make him happy.

Of course, Anna could not say what she was thinking. If she did, it would have been cruel to Manuel.

She had to persuade him in a soft voice.

However, Manuel did not listen to a word she said.

He did not want to part with Anna, so he finally shook her.

-I don't like going with him, I want to be with you! If not, I will go back to my house, Aunt Anna, you can only choose between the two of us, especially I don't want to be with uncle.

Uncle has done a lot of harm to Aunt Anna.

He is a bad guy!

Like his father, they were bad boys who only hurt women.

If in the future he had a girl he loved very much, he would never let her cry.

His uncle and father were not able to do that, they were all bad guys!

Manuel's stubbornness was a shock to Anna. For a moment Anna lost her mind, but thinking that Matteo was still waiting for him downstairs, she had to say lightly, -Manuel, did your uncle offend you?

Why don't I live with him? Now he is waiting for you downstairs, now let's go downstairs and you go back with your uncle, just for a few days, then I will come and get you, do you agree?

-Why so much noise at night? If he wants to stay here, let him stay, he's just a baby, I'm not able to take care of him with your father?

-Mom, it's not like that, it's just that his uncle is waiting for him downstairs.

-Is there anything to see? -said Amelia, who was not listening to him at all. If you don't want to go down and talk to him, I'll say that Manuel is already asleep and will come back another day.

That sounded like a great idea. If it had been earlier, Anna probably would have done it.

But now...

Anna half-closed her lips, looking at Manuel with difficulty.

-So, I'm going downstairs.

Hearing that Amelia was going downstairs, Anna was surprised and hurried to pull her by the hand.

-Mom, don't go!

Amelia choked with doubt, because it was the first time she had seen her so nervous, especially when she looked at her with narrowed eyes, Anna avoided her gaze.

He did not dare to look at her at all.

Amelia suddenly felt something special.

At first, she didn't care whether to go or not, but now, she had to go down and see.

Thinking about it, Amelia said.

-Manuel, since your uncle has come to pick you up, pack what you have.

At those words, Manuel was unhappy as if he was suffering an injustice.

Amelia was speechless.

She thought this boy was very intelligent.

-Well, fine,|| Amelia surrendered, -Since you don't want to go, stay here, Anna, keep him company, I'll go down and talk to him.

-Mom! No! I'm going.

After saying this, Anna left without thinking much.

Looking away from her, Amelia did not follow, but approached Manuel and smiled, -Manuel, come, I have some questions for you.

Chapter 1074: It was a bitter sweet feeling.

Anna returned downstairs, breathing heavily. Before she saw him, Anna found a place to calm down.

About half a minute later, Anna felt better.

Then she took short steps forward.

The car had already been turned off for a long time. Matthew was sitting in the driver's seat, with the window half down. In the shadows of the car under the streetlight, the handsome face was hidden.

From a distance, Anna saw this scene.

Matteo was very calm and sober, which made her uncomfortable. Anna had thought so before, but now she believed the man had no heart.

No, he had, but only for his sister.

It was impossible to get even a grain of it.

Anna approached him with difficulty.

Noticing the noise, Matteo cast a glance at her.

Looking into his eyes, Anna was a little afraid, but she had to go.

-Mr. Matteo.

Matteo scowled angrily.

Anna recoiled in fear. She thought he was angry because he was not bringing Manuel. She really wanted to take him together, after all, Matteo had already spoken so clearly.

If she hadn't brought him, they would look like shameless people.

-Well, no matter how hard I tried to convince him, he doesn't want to come down. -Or will I tell him again tomorrow, to go back?

Matteo did not answer her, he just looked at her in silence, no one could guess from his deep eyes what he was thinking.

After a while Matteo said, -During the day, is he with you at the restaurant?

Anna nodded her head.

-I will see him.

As Matteo was ready to leave, Anna's phone rang and she pulled out her cell phone to check. Anna was surprised that Luca was calling her.

She wanted to answer it, but Matteo was still here. Anna glanced at Matteo, who seemed not to be leaving at all.

At that moment, Luca was supposed to be at the hospital, so what if he called her now?

Finally, Anna answered him.

She said carefully, probably because of Matteo's existence.

-Have you come home? -Luke asked.

Anna nodded unconsciously, -Yes, I'm home.

-How will you get to the hospital later? -Luke asked directly.

Anna thought for a while and said, -Will I take a cab?

After all, she had not yet bought a car. She had to take a cab to the hospital, and besides, at that time, it was very easy to order a cab.

-You are a girl, it is inconvenient to take a cab at night, give me the address, I will come and pick you up.

Anna was speechless.

Because of the silence of the night, even though Anna did not turn on the speakerphone, Matteo could clearly hear Luca's words.

Matteo's gaze became colder.

Anna was nervous, -No, no need, you are in the hospital now, you will be in trouble going and coming back, I will come to the hospital by cab.

-All right, just give me the address.

After hanging up the phone, Anna saw him without leaving. She thought he would wait for Manuel, and also said she could see him.

He should leave in the car now.

Why was he still here?

She did not understand what he was thinking and did not even want to talk to him, so she turned around and was about to leave.

Suddenly Matthew said.

-Do you have to go to Serena again?

Anna choked up and nodded her head.

-Get in the car," Matteo said.

Anna was shocked; she thought she had made a mistake.

Matteo, had he told her to get in the car? Did he want to take her?

-Mr. Matteo? -Anna asked.

Matteo said indifferently, "Aren't you going to the hospital? I have something to do at the hospital, I'm just passing through.

Well, he took her on the road.

Now it did not surprise him. If not, how was it possible that he had specially sent her to the hospital? He would like to be able to stay farther away.

Finally Anna got into the car, called Amelia to help Manuel sleep tonight, and also told her that she would go to the hospital and come home tomorrow. Amelia agreed, and then asked her before the phone was hung up.

-Are you in your uncle's car now?

Anna glanced at Matthew, who was driving, and then nodded in a low voice as she covered her cell phone to keep the sound from leaking out.

However, this did not work at all, because it was so quiet in the car that Amelia's voice kept coming from the cell phone.

Then Anna had an idea, hurriedly rolling down the car window.

Suddenly, the cold wind blew into the car. Only after a while, Anna's hair was in disarray. Because it was cold, the wind blew into her face like knives.

-Anna, what are you doing, is the wind so noisy?

Anna said by the way, -Mom, it's inconvenient to answer you now, talk to you tomorrow, see you later.

Then Anna hung up the phone and put the cell phone in her bag.

Anna did not dare to close the window she had just opened, so the wind kept invading the car.

Matthew frowned, "Aren't you cold?"

Anna recoiled, how could she not be cold? She was about to freeze to death, but she had to shake her head.

-I am warm.

Matthew was speechless.

And he looked at her in the rearview mirror.

He remembered that cold day abroad. She, too, had been wearing little and about to freeze when she had gone out with him.

And then she had had a fever.

If she wanted to pretend, Matthew did not care much; at the same time, Matthew also knew that it was possible to have a fever. He had seen how much pain he had when he had a fever.

At that thought, Matteo directly closed the window.

Anna thought about holding on for three more minutes and then closing the window. Until then, everything would be explained if he calmly said he was better.

She did not think Matteo would close the window directly.

To be reasonable, Anna asked, "Why are you closing the window? It's still not enough for me.

Matteo was speechless.

Wasn't he really fed up with resignation and dignity?

Just as she stopped at the red light, Matteo turned to look at her.

-I am cold.

Anna fell silent.

Well, she was quite right.

Otherwise, he would have hesitated whether to close the window or not. As he said this, Anna echoed him.

-I'm sorry, without thinking of you, I won't open it.

-Okay.

Anna felt that the relationship between them had become much easier.

She lowered her gaze as she felt sweet bitterness.

Now it seemed that Matthew did not care for her as much as before, was it because she had finally stopped being fond of him?

Chapter 1075: We were made for each other.

Really, that was fine.

Let it be so from now on. She would hide her love for Matthew deep in her heart and not let it out in the open.

The cell phone rang again. Anna discovered that it was Luca's message.

-I got out of the hospital, where are you?

Anna was stunned. Because of her nerves, she had forgotten what he had said.

Anna hurriedly replied.

"I'm on my way, don't come for me specially, thank you very much."

Receiving Anna's message, Luca felt bitter.

Not even a chance to show himself?

Even so, Luca was still worried about Anna's safety, so he sent her the other message.

-Give me the badge number, be careful.

The badge number?

Anna frowned, he thought she had taken the cab and he asked her for the license plate number? Anna replied, No need, I'm in Mr. Matteo's car, he's going to the hospital to meet Serena.

Luca was very surprised by the message, he even checked it several times to make sure.

After a while he smiled looking at the message.

This is how it had gone.

When they arrived at the hospital, Anna saw someone she knew standing not far away after getting out of the car. At first she thought she had made a mistake, but when she paid attention, she discovered it was Luca.

Was it him?

Anna knew that he had left the hospital when he called her and thought she should go upstairs right away, but she did not know that he was still downstairs.

Seeing her, Luca gave a warm smile. By the light of the lamp, the scar on his face had softened a lot.

-How are you doing?

Facing Luca like that, Anna felt a little complicated.

She nodded, -Why don't you go upstairs?

-Why am I going upstairs? If you want to come, by the way, I'll wait here.

Someone could wait on your way, why couldn't he wait for you on purpose?

Anna was speechless.

She turned red at Luca's words, her ears were hot. If she had not been mistaken, she had told Luca not to disturb her before she adjusted her excitement.

Now he had done so...

Did he think she had already adjusted the emotion?

Really, a short time ago Anna had been very calm.

But after seeing Matteo, she was confused again.

-Mr. Matteo.

While Anna was thinking, Luca called Matteo from behind and said with a smile, -Mistress Serena is waiting for you.

Matteo nodded as he gave her a light glance and then immediately went upstairs.

As Matteo walked away, Anna unconsciously pressed her gaze to his back. Suddenly, Luke appeared in front of her and covered Matteo's back.

-Are you cold or hungry? Since the brothers have something to say, shall I take you to eat something? -

Although Luke asked, Anna felt that he had already made up his mind.

Of course, if Anna had refused, she would not have been forced to go with him.

But Anna was not a heavy person. If the brothers had something to say, why did she have to come in as a mean person?

So he nodded his head.

-Ok, I'm a little hungry.

Besides many people around the hospital, there were also many pharmacies, one by one, while there were several clothing stores. For people in the hospital, restaurants were also open.

The two had found one in which to eat.

Actually, Anna did not have much appetite, only because she did not want to go upstairs.

They ordered a plate of spaghetti each and sat down face to face.

Luca was probably hungry. After taking a sip of soup, he concentrated on eating.

Faced with Luca's serious attitude, Anna had to get something. So she took out her spoon to take several sips of soup, and then began to eat the noodles.

The owner was a kind and honest person.

Now it was very late, there were fewer customers in the restaurant, so the owner had served a lot of meat on the plate.

If she had eaten everything on the plate, could she have gone to bed tonight?

Anna ate the soup in silence.

-Don't you like it? -Luke asked when he saw Anna's full plate.

Anna reacted and shook her head, -No, if I drink too much now, I won't be able to sleep tonight.

At her explanation, Luca didn't say anything else, just gave her a slight smile.

Actually, he wanted to talk more with Anna, but he did not know what topic he could say, because he was afraid of upsetting her if he said too much.

When she felt satisfied, Anna put the spoon down. Luca got up to pay.

Anna joined him.

-Let me pay.

At the same time, Luca finished paying and left the restaurant. He called Anna to leave. Anna was stunned and then caught up with him, -Are we paying split? I'll give you the money for the spaghetti.

When he heard her, Luca stopped and turned his head to look at her.

-Just one plate, you don't have to be mentally burdened.

Thinking about what he had said to her, Anna remained silent.

-Even though I love you, don't think I'm inviting you to eat because of that? It's just that I'm hungry and I don't want to eat alone, so I'm inviting you.

Is that how it was? Anna blinked slightly.

-So, no need to stress, I remember what you told me, don't worry.

Hearing this, Anna felt relieved for no reason.

She clearly knew that Luca had loved her for a long time.

Because she had fallen in love with someone, she fully understood the sadness. She did not want to hurt Luca if she could not give him anything. She was very confused.

The two of them arrived at the hospital and entered the elevator, where it was so quiet that you could hear their breaths.

-Luca.

Suddenly, Anna called out to him.

Luca turned around, -What's wrong?

-Don't take too long with me, I'm not worth it," Anna looked up, two eyes met, she chose a more euphemistic way to reject him. You know I have someone in my heart. You will only waste your time if you wait for me. I have known you for many years, I know what kind of person you are, you are really very good, you must be able to find....

Before Anna could finish, Luca interrupted her.

-Anna, if you think I am really a good person, why don't you give me a chance?

Anna felt choked up.

She just wanted to reject him politely, not knowing that he would say so.

Luke took a few steps closer to Anna and his existence became stronger, -Maybe, we can really try,

maybe we were made for each other.

Chapter 1076: I would have a son and a daughter.

The atmosphere became strange.

In the small space, Anna was forced to retreat all the way back against the cold wall.

She could not help but reach out her hands to stop Luke's advance.

-You, stop coming closer.

Small soft hands were against his chest. Seeing those clean, white ones, Luca felt himself trembling steadily, as if his heart was struck by something.

The girl in front of him was so honest and pretty. If he hadn't checked himself properly, he really would have wanted to bow his head right now....

Thinking about it, Luke closed his eyes and tried to stop the terrible thoughts.

-I just want to tell you that I don't force you, at the same time, you can't control my mind. I really love you and want to be with you, but I am losing a chance that you give me.

Anna didn't expect him to take the initiative and be very close to her, so she couldn't possibly escape.

Anna looked at Luca, who was quite close, with amazement, -Wait....

-If you don't want to give me a chance for the time being, don't move away from me now, okay?

Luca bowed his head, as he said this, with a humble attitude, Anna was surprised.

Anna was surprised: was he begging for himself?

How had this happened?

She simply did not want Luca to waste time soliciting her. After all, when she noticed only one person, she ignored the others.

What he didn't think was that Luca....

The elevator rang.

Just when Anna did not know how to answer him, the elevator door opened. As if rescued, Anna pushed Luca hard and then ran out.

On the way out, however, she stopped because she saw Matteo.

He was waiting quietly outside the elevator. Anna's face suddenly changed, wondering whether or not Matteo had seen her.

She was shockingly frightened, her lips trembling, unable to say a word.

As she sank into her thoughts, Matteo entered the elevator with a cold face.

He didn't care at all.

And why was he lingering here?

Anna stopped hesitating and set off at a brisk pace.

Whatever it was, he still didn't care. Even if the truth was that the two of them did nothing, even if they hugged, she didn't even feel it.

Back in the living room, Serena was sitting inside. When Anna walked in, Serena smiled and greeted her.

-Anna, how are you?

Anna felt sick, but she didn't want others to know, especially Serena, so she smiled awkwardly.

-Well, how are you? Did Luca say Aunt Beatrice took you to see the doctor for the last business?

-No.

Serena shook her head, -Just for a body check, so I can take the worry away, the baby is fine, don't worry.

-Good,|| Anna breathed a sigh of relief and approached.

-Manuel is not here tonight, I will sleep with you.

Serena choked. They had not slept together for a long time. Before they did not have Manuel, they often slept in the same bed. Sometimes it took a long time to talk at night, always endless words.

-How nice!

With so many years gone by, even Serena missed this feeling.

So the two took off their coats and hugged each other. Because of the winter, they were very warm, even warming each other.

Because Serena was pregnant, Anna moved gently, not even daring to hold her tightly. She did not want to hurt Serena.

In a moment, the temperature of the comforter began to rise.

Anna let out a sigh.

-I remember we stayed together like this when we had just gone abroad and you were pregnant at the time.

Serena's mind went back to images from several years ago. When she had left Cristian, and had gone abroad with Anna.

Since then, he had been living with her.

During many midnight nightmares, Anna had comforted her countless times, which is why the relationship between the two of them was so good.

During all these years, this relationship had not deteriorated.

-Yes, back then you were worried about hurting the baby, so you slept very obediently.

Anna mumbled, -Yes, as a child, my mother said I was not able to sleep in the same place but everywhere. But at that time, I don't know if I was facing a psychological burden or something, I didn't even change a posture when I slept in the bed with you.

Serena looked at her and smiled.

-You were tortured, weren't you?

-No," Anna retorted and whispered, "I was not tortured at all by having a friend like you.

Friendship, love and family have been very important all my life.

When she suffered some nagging and torture for the best friend, Anna did not feel sorrow at all, and now, when she remembered, she was left with only the good and the pitiful.

After all, it did not take long. Subsequently, Serena had a bigger belly every day, so Anna did not even dare to do everything she wanted to do. Every time she got into bed, Anna had to be very careful, even imposing a quiet gait on her steps when she went to the bathroom so as not to wake Serena up.

However, she had forgotten one detail. Serena was pregnant and very sleepy at the time. When she remembered this, Anna thought that Serena could fall asleep even if she turned on the music around midnight.

Anna laughed heartily.

-Why are you laughing?

Anna then informed her of what she was thinking.

After listening to it, Serena also found it funny. Then she said, -In fact, I didn't know why I could sleep so much at that time, even now, both babies sleep well.

-Would this baby also be a boy?

Baby boy? Serena blinked, not quite clear how she was feeling now.

In fact, she preferred this child to be a daughter.

That way she would have a son and a daughter.

However, if it had really been a boy, it would not have mattered, they were all fine anyway, they were her and Cristian's children.

At that thought, Serena gently stroked her belly with her hands. The fetus was now almost four months old and the belly was very evident.

She smiled slightly, "I don't know, however I don't care if it is a boy or a girl, as long as it can be born safely. For me, this is God's gift. If it is a girl, I will let Manuel cuddle her more, if it is a boy, then Manuel will have a partner to fight together.

Anna whispered: -In fact, I think girls become better, girls are more intimate, and besides, you can have a son and a daughter. Serena, if this child is a boy, will you be pregnant again? You will give birth to a girl, so you can let two brothers take care of their sister.

Chapter 1077: A person who loves you very much

Serena found Anna's advice very funny.

-How could she have so many children?

-Why not? -Anna was closer. Even though there were only the two of them in the room, they tended to lower their voices when they told their secrets to prevent others from hearing.

-Cristian is very strong, you can have as many as you want.

Serena shook her head.

-No, two is enough for me. Otherwise I wouldn't be able to take care of so many.

-Well, that's good! If I were you, I'd have a bunch of sons, and then I'd have a daughter, and finally I'd have the older brothers take care of the younger sister, so that she would be the only little princess in the family.

-Then you must make many efforts to get married as soon as possible to fulfill your wish.

In the darkness, suddenly there was silence.

The atmosphere seemed to become a bit heavy.

Serena still maintained a smile, but noticing the strangeness, she suddenly reacted to what he said.

With her lips slightly parted, Serena glanced at Anna and said with great difficulty.

-I am very sorry...

Hearing her apologize, Anna quickly interrupted her.

-Why are you apologizing? I think you are absolutely right, since my wish is this, then I will do my best to fulfill it. Marry soon, have children soon, strive to have sons and daughters, and then spend a happy life.

Anna said it in a relaxed and pleasant way, as if there was no problem, but Serena felt bad.

Anna had forced smiles-how could Serena not see it?

Anna's beloved was also inextricably linked to Serena.

Anna probably could not bear to see Serena every day, but she still accompanied her every day.

Thinking of this, Serena reached out her hand into the darkness and placed it on Anna's back, gently caressing her.

-Anna, you can find a person who will love you very much in the future, and then you will have a lot of boys and a girl, life will be very happy.

Her voice was full of emotion. It should be a life full of desire, but at this moment, Anna's heart ached so much.

She really wanted to have a group of boys and a girl, and then she would let the older brothers take care of the younger sister.

But there were still more unspoken words in her heart.

She wanted the children's father to be her love.

-Yes.

In the darkness, Anna said in a nasal tone. Serena soon assumed she should have cried, but at this point she really did not know what to say to comfort her; she could only pat her back.

The two held each other tightly, thinking about their own things.

Eventually, they could not keep their sleep and gradually fell asleep.

The next day, Cristian had still not recovered from his fainting spell.

The doctor said it was possible for this situation to happen and let them wait patiently.

Although she was anxious, Serena continued to comfort herself. After all, this was only the beginning; perhaps tomorrow she would regain consciousness.

However, as another day passed, Cristian still had no sign of waking up, remaining quietly in bed.

Serena personally took a towel to clean his body. She did so very carefully so as not to hurt him.

Beatrice stood beside him and watched him, finally she could not help but groan with her hands clasped in her arms.

-Does he really not know that his wife and children are waiting for him? So many days have passed and he still hasn't recovered, will he let us die of anxiety?

Serena paused for a while, and then said with a light smile, -He may have been too tired a while ago, so he takes this opportunity to rest well. If he gets a good rest, he will wake up naturally.

At the reassurance, Beatrice was speechless.

Too tired? So he was taking the opportunity to rest well? Beatrice wished she had told Serena not to tease her. If Serena had not been here, Beatrice would have really wanted to slap Cristian several times and then scold him.

She had hurt Serena a lot before, and now she didn't even want to come back from the blackout. Was she still going to let Serena suffer again, to feel safe?

At the same time, Beatrice thought that Cristian was really so lucky to have Serena's good treatment.

Of course, Beatrice only dared to mumble internally instead of saying it to his face.

She was afraid of making Serena anxious with her words. After all, she was a pregnant woman.

She hoped Cristian would be able to wake up soon and restore all memories, and not have any accidents in the future.

Beatrice asked God for a favor. She had never asked for anything on the inside, even when her sister had the accident. But now she begged Him to stop torturing the two she was in love with.

Beatrice closed her eyes, after a long time of devout prayer, opened her eyes, and then looked at the Serena beside her. She could not help but sigh.

Serena cleaned Cristian's body every day. Although Beatrice advised her to find a caregiver for Cristian, Serena disagreed. She wanted to take care of him personally, and no one could stop her.

One day, two days, three days?

A week passed while Cristian was still unconscious.

Even the doctor frowned when he saw him, but he was still supportive and encouraged the patient's relatives.

-It was reasonable to have a symptom like that, you had to trust the patient, maybe now he was struggling to wake up, the more familiar people can talk to him more, if the patient can listen, he will be able to increase the recovery of consciousness .

Since then, except for sleeping and eating, Serena accompanied him. If she did not clean his body, she had to talk to him or sometimes lie down holding him by the palm of her hand.

Beatrice was very worried about Serena, while she could not help but complain to Angelo.

-Where can you find a granddaughter like Serena? You were planning to destroy them!

Angelo reached out his hand to touch his nose when he was reprimanded, it was so embarrassing. He did not think the two loved each other so much.

Gradually after accepting Serena, he had discovered the good things about this niece, along with the recent period, Serena had given him a pretty good impression.

Now he didn't think of tearing them apart instead of defending them if someone wanted to divide them.

Angelo had not been the first to disagree.

Unfortunately, his grandson was not yet awake.

Angelo thought, and then said to his daughter Beatrice, "Cristian is still like that. Shall we go to church to pray?

Hearing this, Beatrice could only roll her eyes.

My old father, you are also a well-known businessman, is it okay for you to be so superstitious? Will you wake him only for worship?

Chapter 1078: Seeking peace of mind.

At Beatrice's rebuke, Angelo had to keep silent. Although he was a well-known businessman, he had no idea about this kind of thing.

As good a doctor as he was, if he found himself in this situation like Cristian, it would still be up to the patient's conscience to see if he was strong enough or not.

If he wanted to wake up, he would.

He had already invited all the good doctors, so what else could he do?

Apart from lighting candles and worshipping Our Lady, Angelo could not have a better idea.

Even if Beatrice retorted, Angelo did not listen to her at all.

When she was with Serena, she also joked with Angelo. However, she was surprised that Serena agreed after hearing this with a straight face.

Beatrice was suddenly petrified.

What?

She thought Angelo was superstitious because he was her age.

In this age, superstitious consciences were not fashionable, as Serena thought?

At that thought, Beatrice could not help but ask, "Serena, you are so young, how can you be as superstitious as the old man?"

At the question, Serena smiled sweetly and explained, "Aunt Beatrice, this is not superstition, it is just to seek peace of mind."

She hadn't thought about it before, but if Grandpa had already talked about it, she didn't mind the worship.

Although she was not superstitious, she still respected the gods very much.

-To seek peace of mind? -Beatrice thought he was right. She thought for a while touching her chin and then said, -All right, they say the shrine in the neighboring town works great, or shall we go to this church?"

The neighboring town? Wouldn't it take too long to go there?"

Beatrice calculated the time.

-It will take two days to get there and back, aren't you worried about Cristian?

Serena cast a deep look at Cristian, who was sinking into dreams. Really, she would not have been able to leave him alone.

But.

-Well, I am his aunt, I will stay and take care of him personally for the next two days. You can go to the shrine. Although I don't believe in religion, if you decide to go, then don't put it off, remember to be honest.

Beatrice personally promised to stay and take care of Cristian, so Serena stopped refusing. Talking to Anna about it, Anna immediately said that she too had something to worship and wanted to go with Serena .

If Anna and Serena wanted to go, Luca would no doubt worry about them, so he asked to go with them.

At first Anna disagreed, but then she took into account that the two girls were not so sure and Serena was pregnant. If something accidental happened, Anna would not be able to take care of it alone.

If Luca was there, they could take care of each other.

Thinking and rethinking, Anna finally agreed.

Before leaving, Serena returned to the hospital to see Cristian, sitting at his bedside and saying many words to him.

Beatrice and Angelo left the room to make room for the two of them.

Beatrice waited for a long time without seeing Serena leave, but was hurriedly let in by Anna.

-Aunt Beatrice, is Serena ready? We have to leave at this time.

-I will take care of it.

Beatrice got up and went to the living room, through the glass, she could see Serena bending down to kiss Cristian's lips. Beatrice clicked and then turned around: -She moved away quickly, wait a little longer.

In truth, Serena loved Cristian very much.

Anna and Luca did not know what Beatrice had seen, looking at each other's faces. They had to wait a moment longer.

Sure enough, within a minute the living room door opened and Serena was out.

-I'm sorry you waited so long for me, so let's get ready to go now. Auntie and grandpa, thank you so much for taking care of him these two days.

Angelo touched his old face and greeted Serena, -Take care of yourself, always remember she is a pregnant woman, don't hurt yourself.

Serena nodded.

Beatrice joked with him, "Old man, are you worried about your grandson's wife or the baby in her belly?"

At the joke, Angelo suddenly turned red and coughed heavily, then said, -Beatrice, what nonsense are you talking? I'm worried about my great-grandson and Serena, aren't I? Look what you are saying...

Serena, pay attention to the road.

Beatrice rolled her eyes at her and stopped complaining.

When she finished saying goodbye, it was time to leave.

On the way to the neighboring town, Anna had some expectations, although it seemed unlikely.

After all, she had not seen him for several days.

There was no telling where he was lately, was he busy with the company?

She had not seen Matteo since that night. It was not that Matteo had not gone to the hospital, it was that they had arrived at different times.

At that thought, Anna scoffed inwardly.

How? Wasn't that what she wanted? Was she the one who was staggering through time, because now she felt sad?

At that moment, Anna put on her mask and glasses. Seeing her like that, Serena, who stood beside her, asked.

-What's wrong?

Anna answered weakly.

-No, I just want to sleep. If I don't wear glasses and mask, my position will be seen, it bothers me.

Actually, the reason was not that at all, but that she felt very sad. She was worried about being discovered by them. If so, it would have been embarrassing for her.

Looking at her lying down, Luke said, "It took us two hours on the road, lie down for a while, I'll call you when I get there.

-Well, thank you.

Looking at them, Serena thought of her brother.

If her brother had accepted Anna, the person who would accompany them to the neighboring town today would have been Matthew.

At that moment, Serena remembered that she had forgotten to inform Matteo about this trip.

Serena pulled out her cell phone to text Matteo.

In an effort to shorten the time, they would leave in the evening. If she texted him now, perhaps Matteo would see him tomorrow.

And he was very busy lately; there was a lot of business in the company.

Still, she would let him know. Serena put the phone away, not thinking about anything else.

Anna was sleeping, suddenly she leaned over to Serena and pulled out a mask, -Do you want it?

Serena picked it up, -Thank you.

It also bothered her to fall asleep right away, so she finally put on the mask and the two fell asleep together in the back seat.

Besides Luca, there was also another driver from the Ferrari family.

Since it was the neighboring town, they would arrive by car first. Serena thought she would have slept with Anna if she had not driven herself.

Luca glanced at the rearview mirror and found that they were both asleep, so he quietly turned up the heat a little.

Chapter 1079: You're not breathing right

The next day.

As soon as he woke up, Matteo received a message from Serena.

After seeing it, Matteo was stunned and then relieved. She had replied.

"Be careful, if something happens, call me."

Then he put his cell phone away and, as usual, washed and dressed for breakfast.

His life had always been very regular and had not changed for many years, nor had he allowed women to approach him.

During the years of his sister's search, Matthew often flew abroad, but he only used his free time without leaving his job at all.

***

At the same time, they arrived in the neighboring town. They had driven all evening, so they checked into the hotel for the night. Before going to worship The Shrine of Our Lady they all stopped to rest.

Serena and Anna stayed in the car for two hours, and their backs and waists were very sore from poor posture. When they found the bed, they both lay down on the bed,

The next day everyone was up at ten o'clock to meet.

While they were having breakfast, Luke explained to them.

-I've heard that The Shrine has been very effective for vows, so many people come from all over the country, they say there are many people who come back to give thanks for having their wish granted.

Anna was about to believe it.

-Are you saying that many people come back mainly because the wish is fulfilled?

Luke nodded: -It's true.

Anna looked at him surprised, -Really? I thought everyone came here for peace of mind.

Luca smiled slightly. Indeed, who can be sure of the truth? After making the wish, perhaps he was particularly eager to get, so he would make more and more efforts.

After all, in this world, one cannot get something without doing anything.

It is difficult to get everything you wish for.

Luca said nothing more, but Anna sank into thought.

If it were true, would he be able to achieve his wish?

Thinking about this, Anna quickly lowered her head to eat.

Mrs. Serena, after we eat, we will take a cab from the entrance, they say that there is a newly built road on the mountain, which makes it possible to get halfway up the mountain by car. But I also heard that if we start climbing from the first staircase to the end, this will show sincerity, so there will be more chances to fulfill the wish.

Without waiting for Serena to respond, Anna immediately raised her head to advise.

-Then we climb from the first step!

Luca was speechless.

He reminded her with a glance, -Mrs. Serena is pregnant.

Realizing this, Anna lost her courage: -You're right, if we walk from the beginning, Serena's body may not be able to handle it.

-I'm sorry, Serena, I didn't even think about it.

However, Serena also took Luca's words to heart, looking out the window.

She did not care about the outcome of the worship. The most important thing was that she was sincere.

She did not have to respect Our Lady or be superstitious, but she also understood the reason for doing what the locals did.

When they entered a small village that had its own unique customs, they had to obey their rules. If they broke the old customs or did not obey etiquette, it was easy to arouse the displeasure of others.

Worship was just like that. It had to be sincere. If the attitude had been incredulous or dismissive, it would have been better not to come.

Thinking about it, Serena said.

-Let's start with the first one.

-Serena?

Anna was a little surprised, -You just said....

-Well, if we're honest, let's show it. Besides, these steps are not long, I'll be able to go up.

-But...

-That's all, I'm not worried, so you don't need to worry about me, I'll tell you if I feel bad.

-All right, if you don't feel well, you need to stop to rest.

-Okay.

After breakfast, the three went directly to the shrine.

There were many people there, including foreign travelers.

Anna could not help but whisper, "Do those foreigners speak English when they make a wish? If they speak English, do you think our saints can understand them?"

-Well, maybe they know Italian?

-Let's go.

Serena didn't care about the others, so she took a step forward.

From outside the shrine, one could see many trees all around. They said the mountain was famous in ancient times, it was so steep that people had a hard time climbing it, without being careful, it was easy to fall into the abyss.

Later, as time went on, more and more stone steps were built on the shrine. This project took a long time to complete. Later, a Church was built on the top of the mountain. Because it functioned perfectly, it became more and more famous. Gradually many people came because of the fame.

All this had attracted many peddlers who took advantage of the business opportunities. Many stores selling incense and drinks had been opened for pilgrims.

At first, people came for worship, gradually the shrine became a picturesque place, so many visitors also came. The different route was chosen for different purposes.

For example, at first, there was only a stairway path.

Gradually, different paths were built.

They could reach the top of the mountain from any road.

They chose one at random.

After all, the big path had been divided into several small roads with the intention of separating the crowd.

Further on, there would be fewer people on the steps.

When Serena breathed only a little, Anna said panting heavily, -Did I get less exercise? Why do I feel so tired after only a few steps?

Luca saw her panting heavily, so he stopped to show her.

- You are not breathing well, you must....

Then Luca personally gave her a demonstration as Serena slowed her pace.

Under Luca's guidance, Anna was breathing much better. But she still had some doubts, "I walk every day, why don't I feel tired?"

Serena looked around and explained.

-Normally you walk flat, but now you are climbing the stairs step by step, you have to push yourself for every step. Can you make it to the top like this?

Serena reasonably said yes, as if she was not tired. Anna couldn't help but complain.

-That's not fair! Serena, we used to be together, how can you not be tired at all? If I can't climb the mountain, shouldn't it be harder for you?

Listening to her, Serena smiled slightly.

She was different from Anna, who at first ran in short strides to have enough energy, even in long strides. Although she stopped from time to time to wait for them, she quickly used up her energy as she slowly recovered.

Chapter 1080: Determination of one

What about her?

With the energy saved, she took a right step upward. This helped her use the energy wisely so that she could reach the top of the mountain.

Seeing her smiling and silent, Anna murmured.

-This is not right!

Luca was by her side, and she could not stand it, so he explained it again.

After hearing Luca's explanation, Anna reacted and became angry with Luca with much embarrassment.

-Why didn't you remind me at first, and watch me consume the energy? This is the last straw!

Anna's words were not enough; at the same time, she was fighting him with her hands and feet.

Luca was helpless, but he was still smiling and very satisfied.

He told Anna with a cuddled look.

-I didn't remind you, because I knew you would soon get tired like this, but don't worry, you won't run out of energy yet, as long as you do as I say, you will go on recovering your strength, it's no big deal.

As he finished saying this, Luke looked up.

-But at this point, we will probably have to rest several times.

If he had been alone, he would have made it to the top about once without resting.

But now there were two women on the team.

Anna was in poor physical condition. And even though Ms. Serena knew how to save energy, that did not mean it was enough to reach the top. No matter how much she knew how to save her energy and recover, she would become exhausted, especially being pregnant.

Then Luke would have to make them stop and rest before their strength was exhausted.

Up ahead, there were fewer people around. There was a young couple walking behind them. The two were happily supporting each other.

Anna turned around several times, her eyes filled with envy.

She too wanted such a love, what happiness!

-envious?

Luca's voice from the side caught Anna's attention. Before she realized it, Luca was already very close to her.

-If you want, we can do that.

As he said this, he moved closer and deliberately lowered his voice.

Unconsciously Anna cast a glance at Serena, who walked calmly forward, seeming not to notice what Luca was saying.

Anna felt inexplicably shy, bit her lower lip, and looked at Luca.

-Who wants to do it with you?

Luca blinked, -What are you saying?

Anna was speechless.

The sentence had indeed confused Luca.

Anna explained, I am indicating to do it as a couple, not what you are imagining!

Because of too much walking, Anna had turned red, especially when she got angry from embarrassment, she looked particularly delicate and childlike.

Luca was an honest man, but at that moment, seeing her like that, he could not refrain from teasing her. So Luca added.

-Why, what am I imagining? Do you know what I am imagining?

Anna said, "Of course I know what you are imagining, how can I not know what you are imagining, but the truth is not at all what you think, I....

Suddenly Anna choked up and then said angrily, "Oh, what nonsense I'm talking! It's a figure of speech,

I'm not talking to you.

After that, Anna went to Serena's side, keeping her distance from Luca.

Luca gave a mimic smile.

Seeing her angry, Serena asked, "What's wrong?"

Anna complained.

-Luca is super mean, he looks like he's a gentleman, actually he's not like that at all!

-What?

-He... Well, you don't care.

Serena gave Luca a look through Anna.

Over the years, Serena had come to know his moral quality well. Lately she had taken Anna seriously.

This was clearly to be seen. If Anna could not be with her brother, it would be a good choice for her to be with Luca.

At that thought, Serena lowered her voice.

-Have you considered it?

-What? What are you saying? -Anna suddenly became nervous. Serena, you mean.

-Yes,|| Serena nodded, her eyes and face calm. You can't waste your whole life on one person, you are so young, there is no need to waste your time with my brother. When you are young, you can do whatever you want. If you block your heart and accept no one else, youth will leave you and go away.

Anna remained silent.

-I know I shouldn't persuade you, I am also a stubborn person. If I choose one, I will never change him in my life. I don't care if he is alive or not. But I have to persuade you as your friend, if you can listen to me.

-Don't say that," Anna interrupted her, "Although I can't be as smart as you, nor be an excellent designer like you, I also have my persistence and pride. The truth is that I love only him and no one else. Luca is a good man, but I don't like him. Also, I am not fixated on only one person, since I came back from abroad, I decided to let your brother go.

Serena thought for a while and said, "But you show that you haven't left him.

-Yes, I didn't leave him completely, I'm better than before. You see, I am no longer attached to him,

Serena, I am getting better.

At those words, Serena had to be silent.

Anna, holding her hand, said in a calmer voice.

-Stop talking about this subject, if she hears it, it will be embarrassing.

She was referring to Luca.

Although Luca had recently proposed to Anna, of course, she could feel shy as a girl, who was not in love.

Anna knew what she wanted and what she could not accept.

If she was really with Luca, she would hurt him .

Serena let an inward sigh escape, looking her way.

In this world, loving each other was indeed a rare thing. Even if they had fallen in love, it would have been easy to make a mistake. Love in general was like Luke's, who had fallen in love with someone without receiving the answer.

However, they still had expectations that existed deep in their hearts.

They hoped for some different development.

Perhaps one day it would be realized?

Serena lowered her gaze and decided to stop asking Anna about love. She could do whatever she wanted.
