

Virginity 1161

Chapter 1161: Confession

Finally, he rubbed her head again and asked her to come upstairs. She turned and walked away with a flushed face.

When she got upstairs, she was still a little distracted.

After all, what happened was too strange and she seemed to have become so kind?

Although the tone was still the same, but it was no longer as cold as before, which made her feel unable to approach him.

"Is it because of that kiss?"

Thinking about this, his face seemed to start burning again.

Suddenly, the door opened, Amelia poked her head out.

-What are you doing, standing in the doorway laughing like crazy?

Hearing this, her smile disappeared, she huffed and entered the house

Atlantic Villa

On the seashore, Serena sat awkwardly touching her belly, trying to put her feet in the water to cool off, a voice echoed faintly behind her back.

-Mom, my father will find out.

Hearing this, she paused to get up and looked at Manuel who was following her, his expression a little stiff.

-Isn't he here now? I'm sneaking around so he doesn't find out.

She blinked innocently, -But Mom, my dad asked me to keep an eye on you.

-Love, I'm your mom, do you really want to help your dad?

Manuel went to her side, reached out and tugged at her sleeves, pouting.

-But mom, you're going to have a baby soon, the sea is so cold right now, it's not good for your health.

-It's getting warmer and warmer, so just for a while, okay?

The closer she got to giving birth, the more attention Cristian paid to her.

This left Serena with nothing to do.

Since he had not been with her when she got pregnant the first time, he felt he had not fulfilled his duties as a husband, so this time he wanted to accompany her as far as she wanted.

After seeing the prenatal manual, he became very strict.

Except that he had something urgent to do today and could not take her with him, I suspected he would stay home.

In the end, she promised that she would do nothing and obediently stay in the room to wait for his return, but before Cristian left, she instructed someone to keep an eye on her.

And Manuel was the one in charge.

-Love, your father has no experience in childbirth, but your mother does. In the past, I wasn't as careful as I am now when I was pregnant and walking to work. However, I did a lot of things during pregnancy, am I not doing so well now?

-This is different because I am a boy, but mom, you are pregnant with a younger sister, you have to take care of the girls.

What this child was saying was right and I had no way to refute it.

-Mom, get up quickly because my father will be back soon. If he sees you leave the room, he will look at you more.

These words reminded her that if he had known about this matter, or if it happened to her pregnancy, he would definitely have checked her more.

Nor would he have the opportunity to go around like he did today....

What she said was true, she looked at Manuel with deep eyes -You convinced me.

-Mom, let's go back, I'll walk with you today.

-Go.

She stood up with difficulty, her son stepped forward to help her, and then the two of them walked back into the room together holding hands.

Hector stayed in the hospital for a few days and was now able to move around a bit, and what he wanted to do was to get revenge on Anna but was afraid of Matthew.

He was miraculously saved in the hospital, and all he wanted now was to let the woman suffer anyway.

Actually, the police had already been here a few days ago, but the doctor had told them that his condition was delicate and they could not release him for the time being, but when he recovered a little,

they could take them away.

However, Hector was seriously injured and in a coma, so he did not even know.

Anna was at home these days because the Gauls feared her situation, so they refused to let her go out, or even to let her go to their restaurant, saying that she needed a good rest now and could not go anywhere.

In fact, how could she not know? They were both worried that she would run into Hector, who wanted revenge when she left the house.

-Mom Dad, don't keep me locked up. If I keep staying at home, I will become desperate, I want to go for a walk. At least let me go to the restaurant to help you, okay?

-Amelia refused his request.

She was frustrated.

-Mother, don't worry, won't she take revenge against me? In fact, he's so badly injured that he probably couldn't get up while lying in the hospital, so he wouldn't have a chance to attack me.

Amelia narrowed her eyes and said.

-How do you know he is seriously injured?

That night...

She nodded her head, -Yes.

-Did you hit him that hard?

She remembered how Matthew had hit this man, if she had not stopped him at that moment, she supposed he would have killed him.

She did not expect him, who always stood still and cold, to have such aggressive emotions.

-Mom, it's not that she hit him hard, it's just that I helped him do it that night.

As she continued to talk to him, her gaze became evasive and lacked self-confidence. Amelia understood that her daughter was defending him, thought a little, took her daughter's hand and asked,

"Are you sure, you want to marry that man?"

She blushed, "Mother, why are you asking me?"

Aren't we talking about you letting me out?"

-Answer me and I will see if I will let you out.

After thinking about it, she felt it would be better to tell him. However, in her heart the man she wanted to marry was Matthew.

-Yes,|| she nodded and said, -Mom, you know the feeling that you can't love anyone more than him?

Hearing this, she was surprised, and then she heard her daughter continue to speak.

-I didn't like him when I first met him, but when I started to like him, I never found the same feelings in other men.

She calmed down: -I understand, if you really think so, then I will support you, but--does he treat you well?

Chapter 1162: Groping

First of all, she was a mother.

And then she was a supporter of Anna when she was in love.

If her daughter liked this person, it didn't matter the social criticism or family status, as long as they were both happy.

But since Amelia knew this, how many times had Anna been sad? She knew everything, and currently....

-Mom, don't ask me now, I will tell you if I have a result.

Anna also sensed Matteo's change, but she still wasn't sure, after all, he didn't say it clearly and she didn't dare to ask him.

In the last few days, Matteo sent her messages every day in which he checked her status, which seemed like he cared about his girlfriend.

She was probably a coward. She still couldn't ask him what that kiss meant.

She was very upset, and the more she thought about it, the more upset she felt, so she decided to go out for some air. She could simply visit Serena, who was pregnant and staying at home. She had already made an appointment with Manuel, and it turned out that Cristian was not home tonight.

It might also please Serena, who was feeling bored at home.

-All right, you have your own thoughts and solutions. Follow your own will. Neither your father nor I are irrational people. Besides, after your father had a car accident, he just wants you to be happy. Even if you went happily into the quagmire, he would not stop you.

Anna didn't know what to say.

-Go, go find him and take care of yourself.

-I'm not going to...

He took the trouble not to explain further, since Amelia would not listen to him anyway.

Anna got ready and then left the house.

The two had not seen each other for a long time. The last time they had seen each other was when

Anna's new store was in operation, Serena had gone to visit her, but since Serena's belly was getting bigger and bigger, it was not convenient for her to go out.

Serena could not help but complain when she saw Anna.

-When she was pregnant abroad, she did not feel as much pain as now, even though Cristian was not by my side. I don't know what is happening now. I seem to be turning into a delicate person. Anna, am I delicate because I am pregnant with a girl?

Anna knew. Serena was pregnant with a daughter.

Everyone was happy after learning that this time it was a daughter. After all, they already had a son, and if there was a daughter, they would have everything.

Serena was also happy to have a daughter and had even given her a girl's name.

-They think girls should be more delicate, don't they? Don't worry. You are going to give birth anyway.

When you have a son and a daughter, life will be perfect.

Serena was initially upset about her business.

Hearing Anna's admiring tone, she could not help but look at her. Manuel was Serena's heart, so how was it possible that he had not told her what had happened with Anna?

She learned about the recent past between Matteo and Anna from Manuel.

Looking at Anna, Serena smiled unconsciously. Fate really was amazing, wasn't it?

She thought she had separated from the others, but, in fact, she did not know when they had been reunited again.

Anna and Matteo were like this.

-What about you? I had everything, and you also have to make efforts. Try to have good news for the day of my baby's birth, too.

Hearing this, Anna's face suddenly blushed and she mentioned Matteo unconsciously in front of Serena.

-The relationship between your brother and me is still unresolved. Don't talk about it.

Serena laughed tremblingly, -I didn't mention anyone, why did you confess everything without anyone talking about it?

-... Serena.

-Manuel told you, didn't he? -Anna kicked exasperatedly, her face and ears reddened, -I was talking nonsense.

This is what happened a while ago....

-Was it really nonsense? Don't you want to try again?

-I -Anna hesitated for a moment- -Yes.

-Then do it. I think my brother -is beginning to fall in love with you.

Hearing the word falling in love, Anna's heart suddenly skipped a beat.

She could not help but think, "Is he really falling in love with me? Isn't that wishful thinking on my part?"

Serena suddenly pulled her close and blinked.

-Has he ever kissed you of his own accord?

Anna was taken aback.

Anna could not say a word; her face was very red.

-Then did you kiss each other?

-No..." Anna was so nervous that she began to stutter. Her tongue did not work and she hesitated for a long time. Finally she lowered her head, and it seemed that she compromised.

-Well, Matteo kissed me, but that doesn't mean he loves me, maybe-he just wants to comfort me, right?

-To comfort you? -Serena could not understand.

Then Anna talked about what had happened that night, and Serena was speechless after listening.

-How careless you are, do you think my brother is the right person to comfort you in this way?

Consider this well. If it were you, would you kiss someone to console him? Love is never for begging. I know you both very well. If you are not sure, then try, or force him to admit his feelings.

"Do I force him? Do I force Matthew to admit that he is in love with me? How do I do that?"

"It's easy," Serena smiled, "When he asks you out, you can pretend to be indifferent to him to see how Matteo reacts. Or you can make it clear that you are tired and don't want to take any more action.

Anna could not understand what strange idea Serena had had? Was Matteo already an apathetic person and she was still treating him coldly?

However, after thinking about it, it seemed to her that this was also a way. A few days earlier, when

Anna had shown him disinterest, he had waited for her all day at the door of the store. Maybe he liked being mistreated like this?

While he was thinking about it, someone knocked on the door.

-Anna! -When Manuel saw it, he ran to hug Anna's thigh and said, -I invited my uncle for you.

What do you mean?

Would Matthew come here?

-You're not inviting him on my behalf, are you? -Anna stammered.

-In my mother's name,|| Manuel shook his head.

Anna, stay and have lunch with us.

As for Matteo and Anna's relationship, Serena and Manuel had reached an agreement that they would do everything possible to make them fall in love.

Since they had work to do, Matteo arrived at Serena's house on time. As soon as the dishes were served, he walked through the door.

Upon entering, Matteo saw a familiar figure sitting uncomfortably, paused for a while and then acted as usual.

-Uncle, welcome!

-I rushed over here after finishing work,|| Manuel rushed to ask for a hug, Matteo easily lifted him up, approaching the table and explaining in a cold tone.

-We just sat down,|| Serena sat down with a big belly and answered. We didn't wait long.

Anna stood beside her, paying no attention to them, pretending not to hear anything, lowering her head, saying nothing.

Serena looked at her with disappointment.

Seeing Anna's behavior, did she still expect that she could grope Matthew?

Chapter 1163: For what purpose?

Matteo immediately went to wash his hands while everyone sat down.

The people sitting at the table were acquaintances.

The atmosphere of this lunch should be relaxed, but because of Anna and Matteo's relationship, everyone felt uncomfortable.

Anna avoided Matteo since he entered, drinking only rice without talking to the man.

Matteo said nothing and remained calm as if nothing had happened.

Serena thought that the problem between Anna and her brother should be solved, even if she took extreme measures, right?

However, it was not convenient for her to say what she thought in front of Manuel, Serena cast a glance at her son to secretly mention it.

As her son, Manuel had never disappointed her.

-Mom, Uncle, Anna, I'm full,|| she immediately understood what her mother meant. She put down the bowl and chopsticks and said, -I'm going to the room.

-Are you full? -Serena asked him, pretending not to know anything, -How little food have you eaten, why don't you eat more?

-I can't eat anymore, Mom. -Manuel shook his head.

Matthew half-closed his lips, looking at Manuel with a complicated look. Manuel found out, smiled at Matteo and left.

After her son left, Serena smiled and raised her head to talk to Matteo, but unexpectedly discovered that Matteo was looking at her. Although nothing was expressed, it seemed that Matteo had no more remedies with his sister.

"You guessed what I'm about to do, how well does Matteo know me?" Serena thought.

-Matteo, is that...?

-I'm going to take a look at Manuel, since he hasn't eaten much. -As soon as he spoke, Anna, who was sitting next to her, stood up excitedly as if she were afraid.

After saying this, ignoring Serena's and Matteo's reactions, she quickly left them.

Serena was stunned.

What had happened? She had not yet had time to talk to Anna, and she was gone.

How long could she try to avoid everything?

Serena felt a little unhappy. She deliberately asked Manuel to leave, only to talk about things the children could not hear. In the end, Anna slipped away.

Serena's efforts were indeed in vain.

Serena sighed heavily, then looked at Matteo.

-Are you horrible? Anna is afraid of you again.

Matteo took a sip of soup calmly, with an ever-present expression, and looked at his sister when he heard the words.

-Didn't you scare her?

Serena huffed, -Why am I the one who scared her, would she be so shy if you weren't here?

Hearing this, Matteo did not respond, but frowned slightly.

Until now, the girl was still afraid of him.

After that night, the relationship between the two had always been lukewarm, without any development.

He did not treat her as coldly as before, but ... it was not much better than before. Anna was like a bird frightened by a bow. And he was the hunter who held the bow.

Even though he didn't have an arrow in his hand.

-Maybe because I look scary?

-Thinking of this, Matteo closed his lips and said slightly.

Serena was speechless.

What a stupid thing to say!

-Matteo, what are you thinking about?

Matteo looked at her.

-You said earlier that you weren't thinking about falling in love and that you just wanted to take care of me, right? I believed you, and now what? After kissing and provoking that girl, you can still sit here quietly, which is too irresponsible, right?

Although it seemed that the comments Serena had just said were meant to scold Matthew, her tone was not at all negative, and she also showed him a complicated expression.

Was his sister making fun of him?

-Did she tell you that?

-Yes, is there a problem?

Why can't she tell me if she has the courage? -Serena was stunned and then realized what Matteo was referring to, so she nodded without holding anything back.

Matteo said nothing more.

But Serena had no intention of ending the conversation.

-Matteo, I think I know you too well.

You should have fallen in love with her a long time ago, but due to certain factors, you have repressed your feelings and think you will not fall in love with anyone in your life, right? Seriously, there are only the two of us left in the Giordano family. Since I am your only family, I don't want you to be single for some reason when you are old. And the most important thing is that in many cases if you lose it, it won't give you a chance to get it again.

Matthew was silent.

-I know.

I already knew it since Anna started to have an indifferent attitude toward him.

But at that time his feelings for her were not so strong, until suddenly she hated him, and was not moved when he stood all day in front of the store door, and even when he had a blind date with others.

-I thought you didn't know. After you kissed her, you didn't do anything. To tell the truth, even though you are my brother, I don't want you to hurt Anna. If you don't like her, you will never see her again.

Matthew was surprised, narrowed his eyes and stared at her.

-She doesn't need someone who is always irresolute and hesitant about her feelings. What she needs is someone who is serious and responsible. If you continue like this, I think Luca will be a better half than you.

Although she felt sorry for Luca, Serena did not lie to him. She had always thought that Luca and Anna were better suited, but love was a private thing and no one had the right to decide for others who to fall in love with.

Anna liked Matteo, and Serena no longer had to intervene.

The two looked at each other for a long time, Matteo looked away first, lowered his head and slowly took a sip of soup. Then he put the bowl on the table and said nothing.

-Don't worry Serena. As for what you told me, I know what to do. You can look forward and give birth with peace of mind.

Listening to him, Serena was a little angry. She was so furious that she wanted to hit him with the plate.

-What are you thinking? -She said, -Is there anything you can't tell me? What does what you just said mean? Do you know what to do?

-I want to ask her to marry me first.

-Matteo thought about it and finally told her.

Serena was shocked.

How? Unbelievable.

She understood what Matteo meant after a few seconds of confusion. It turned out that... He was going to propose to her? His concern is superfluous, isn't it?

Serena looked at him with a complicated look on her face. She thought that she would not be the person Matteo loved most, but ... she was happy for Anna.

After all, soon Anna would get what she wanted.

The person who liked her also loved her, which was another blessed thing.

Anna followed Manuel into the room to dodge whatever was going on outside, but the happy moments would soon pass. After lunch, Serena called her and told her that her brother wanted to talk to her.

-You're not going to tell him what I told you, are you?

-Anna had goose bumps at the same time.

-No, since you're not here, what was the point? -Maybe Matthew wants to talk to you about something else.

Anyway, don't be afraid, tell him your love boldly.

Anna looked at her helplessly. She greatly regretted telling Serena the truth. Finally, she withdrew and went out to find Matteo.

Chapter 1164: Were you waiting for me here?

Matteo waited for her in the living room.

-What's wrong? -Anna walked out of the room, lowered her head and approached Matteo stammering.

"Are you nervous?"

-I'm going to the company now,|| Matteo curled his lips and told her, -I have a meeting at two o'clock and it will end around three-thirty.

Anna, who was feeling discouraged, was confused when she heard these words.

"Why are you suddenly telling me this, what does the meeting have to do with me?"

-After the meeting is over, I have no other employment .

At this moment, Anna was even more stunned and could not help but raise her head, looking at him doubtfully.

Anna's innocence made Matthew feel tired, but he thought it was not bad, so he smiled.

-Will you follow me into the company?

Anna looked surprised

"Matteo... Are you inviting me to your company?"

-To the company? -Anna asked again with uncertainty.

-Yes,|| Matteo nodded, but did not feel confident and asked her, -Will you come with me?

-Yes!" Anna nodded vigorously. After saying that, he felt so excited that he immediately explained.

Since I am free, let's go to your company together.

After explaining, he began to regret again: why did he always say so much?

It seemed that his explanation was a dissimulation. Anna also wanted to bite her tongue until she could not speak.

She got into the car with Matthew, fastened her seat belt, and they drove off together.

After the two left, a woman with a child standing by the glass windows on the second floor of the villa looked down.

-Mom, is Anna going to be my aunt? -Manuel looked at Serena.

Hearing her son call Anna aunt, Serena thought it sounded especially nice.

She smiled and reached out to stroke Manuel's head.

-Yes, it should be soon.

-Very well," Manuel nodded. Then I can go to aunt's house and ask for free treats.

Serena had no choice.

What happened to her son? All she could think of was free food every day.

In the company.

When Matteo and Anna entered the company together, the girl at the front desk immediately recognized the girl with Mr. Matteo, who was the one who had sent him the food. At first she thought she had made a mistake, but at that moment Anna looked at her as well. With one glance, the receptionist immediately looked away in embarrassment.

She still had not forgotten what had happened earlier. She and other employees of the company had caused problems for Anna.

If the food delivery girl were to avenge them right now, she would probably be the first to suffer the shock.

Thinking about this, the girl at the front desk regretted it very much. She should have kept her secrets earlier.

But Anna only gave her a glance and then quickly followed Matthew's steps, ignoring her.

While the reception was relieved, she rushed to talk about it in the Facebook group.

She wanted to break the news to her colleagues because they had already decided to go to Anna's store this weekend to make trouble for her. If she reminded them right away that she saw she was with

Matthew, it should not be too late.

So the front desk went back to tell the news in the group.

The others in the group were immediately shocked.

-What, that girl is coming to the company with Mr. Matteo? What does that mean? Can't it be that she really falls in love?

-What manner has this woman used? How little time has passed since she approached Matteo! Even seduction shouldn't be so quick, should it?

-Damn it! I'm uncomfortable thinking that we're losing out to a stoner from the tips of her hair to her toes!

-All right. Let's face it this week and ask her some questions: which job is better, cooking delicious spaghetti or serving a man?

Seeing these words, the reception remembered Clare's warning last time and told the others.

-Don't make trouble. Let's not do that this week. We will end badly if we offend her. Chiara told me that we can't cause trouble.

But others didn't care.

-Hey, you are a coward! Are you afraid just because of the words Chiara said to you? Don't forget that Chiara also loved Mr. Matteo before, okay? If this girl becomes Mr. Matteo's girlfriend, the person most angry about this should be Chiara. It should be Chiara who wants to kill the girl more than us.

-Although she warns you not to make trouble, but, really, it's to make you understand that you have to deal with it hard, right?

Seeing this comment, the reception desk was a little confused: how was that possible? Clare was very serious when she warned him that he shouldn't do it next time, and it didn't seem like a joke at all.

-It's not possible... She had a serious expression when she said that.

-It is normal for him to have a serious attitude when he talks to you. Don't you know what Chiara's background is? A graduate of a famous university, with a perfect physique and appearance, how long did it take her to pursue Mr. Matteo? Everyone recognizes her business skills, but it turns out she lost to a girl who sends food.

If you were her, wouldn't you be disappointed?

It seemed that what she had said was right, so the front desk hesitated.

-But now she is with Mr. Matteo, in case she is a spy?

-Don't worry. Since she is a vulgar woman, will Mr. Matteo want someone like her? At most, he only flirts with her for fun. He would dump her in a few days, and by then that girl would be crying about it.

Holding the cell phone, the girl at the front desk had no other remedy. She wanted to tell them that they had never seen Mr. Matteo with a woman, had they? He never hit on women, he didn't even have a girlfriend....

In the office on the top floor.

Matteo opened the door and let Anna go in first. Anna entered cautiously and Matteo closed the door.

They arrived on time, so as soon as they entered the office, Clare knocked on the door and entered.

Seeing a beautiful figure in the office, Chiara was surprised and then smiled as if she knew everything.

-Mr. Matteo, is it necessary to extend the meeting time?

-There is no need,|| Matteo looked at Clare and said coldly. Go and get ready. I will be there soon.

-No problem. -Before leaving, Chiara gave Anna a meaningful look. Anna was too embarrassed and quickly averted her eyes.

After she left, only the two of them remained in the office, and the coldness that Matteo was showing almost disappeared.

-I'll go back to the office after the meeting. Wait for me here, okay?

Matteo stared at her and asked her directly.

-Okay. -Anna nodded unconsciously.

After Matteo left and she was left alone, Anna blinked and looked around.

Everything seemed so unreal.

Why had she brought him into the company? As he was by her side before, Anna could not think carefully. Right now Matteo was on his way to the meeting, and Anna could calm down and think about everything that had just happened.

According to what Matteo told her, if he had no other employment after the meeting, he asked her to wait for him in his office, did he want to talk to her?

Chapter 1165: Why did she not keep to herself?

Thinking about this, Anna's heart was pounding and she was even so afraid that she wanted to run away.

But soon she suppressed her emotion and covered her heart.

-Be strong Anna. There is nothing to be afraid of.

Then Anna looked around and sat down on the sofa.

She had visited Matteo's office when she had sent her food, but she had not been here for a long time.

An hour and a half was neither short nor long, but Anna almost fell asleep while waiting for Matteo.

At first she wanted to shop online, but she could not focus on any item, but was always thinking about things that had nothing to do with shopping.

Finally she turned off her cell phone and let herself fall on the sofa, her eyes closed, sleepy.

When she discovered the sound of firm footsteps coming from outside the door, Anna quickly opened her eyes. There was no confusion in her eyes. She was fully awake, and sat up straight.

As soon as Matteo opened the door, he saw that Anna was sitting on the couch in earnest, acting like an elementary school student in front of the principal patrolling the classroom, still and straight.

A giggle appeared in Matteo's eyes that he himself had not noticed.

-Is the meeting over already? -At the sound, Anna looked at Matthew and tried to make her facial expression as natural as possible.

-Yes.

-Are you waiting for me here? -Matteo nodded his head slightly, moving closer to her.

-Your eyes are tired, do you need to sleep?

-Anna was stunned for a moment as Matteo told her.

-No need.

Who could sleep in such a situation?

-I'm not sleepy. -Anna felt that Matteo was always negligent in this regard and shook her head.

-Are you sure? -Matteo narrowed his eyes toward her.

-Yes, indeed. -Looking at him, Anna straightened up again and shook her head firmly.

-Well, since you're not sleepy, let's talk about our business.

As she finished her words, the tall figure in front of Anna suddenly sat down beside her. Although there was still a short distance from her, Anna became nervous as the couch suddenly sank and the man's hormone approached her, whose heart was pounding out of her control.

She was a real coward. After hearing his words, even her fingertips trembled, and her eyes looked silently at Matthew.

-Our business? What's going on?

She was too afraid, but she was also waiting for something.

Matteo stared at her with a burning gaze.

-Don't you know?

Anna was speechless.

She was stunned, watching Matteo ask her.

-Do you want to know why I kissed you?

The air was frozen.

Anna's heart almost stopped beating, and the trembling of her fingertips was more severe, and even her pupils suddenly dilated at that moment. She had not expected Matthew to ask the question directly.

Anna was taken aback, her cheeks flushed.

-If you want to know so badly, why don't you ask me yourself?

Anna was stunned.

She knew Serena had told her everything, even if she didn't want to admit it-she was a con artist!

And at this moment, when Matteo asked her so frankly? She was very embarrassed. She wanted to pretend to be calm, or serene and relaxed, but it turned out that Serena betrayed her, making it clear to Matteo that she was very concerned about this matter.

She was experiencing such a difficult situation, really!

Anna bit her lower lip and did not know how to answer Matteo's question.

Could Anna still answer him without shame? No!

Just when Anna was shouting like crazy in her heart, Matthew, who had not gotten her answer, suddenly took a few steps to approach her.

-What's wrong? Why aren't you telling me anything?

Anna was so nervous that she could not say a word, and because of his approach, her breathing became difficult and she unconsciously tilted her head back, trying to keep Matteo away.

-Don't hide. -The man half-closed his lips and told her. Matteo wanted to speak to her sincerely, but Anna thought of running away from him, which made Matteo feel dissatisfied.

He reached out and squeezed her arm, grabbing Anna, who tried to pull back, and then found she was shaking.

Did he startle her? Matthew frowned, his expression serious.

-Don't you want to talk to me clearly about this?

-I'm just a little nervous. Don't get so close to me. -Anna's lips twitched.

She wanted to talk to him about it, but she was too nervous,

I could hardly breathe from nervousness.

Was she nervous? Matthew's eyebrows were no longer furrowed, while a smile appeared in his eyes.

Not only did he not pull away, he advanced further, leaning toward her with a bearing of pure manhood.

-If I do not approach you, how can I tell you clearly?

Inexplicably, Anna heard Matthew's voice becoming sweeter and sweeter, like the red wine she had drunk earlier, sweet and rich.

His lean, handsome face was within reach, and the light above his head made Matteo's eyes dark, like the dense black fog in the night.

-You can tell me clearly, even if you don't come near me...."

Anna stammered, and her hands unconsciously stopped Matteo from advancing.

But no one knew what Matteo was going through at that moment. Unusually, the more she blocked him, the more Matteo bent toward her.

The man's hot breath almost burned her, and she dared not even raise her head.

-Since it doesn't matter if I come closer to you or if it cannot be clearly explained, I choose to come closer to you.

Her breath fell on Anna's neck and she felt goose bumps on her arms.

-The question that pains you, I will answer today.

How?

Anna suddenly raised her head and met Matteo's deep gaze.

Matthew's handsome face slowly approached her, and Anna froze in place as if she had been bound.

For a long time, Matthew's cheek brushed hers and then reached her ear, sighing without any other remedy.

-You have time and space for many days to consider well. After all, I am a person who does not understand tenderness and has never had an intimate relationship with others. If you are with me, you will definitely experience a difficult situation. Girls' illusions are difficult to realize with me. I am older, my parents are dead, and I have a younger sister for whom I worry a lot because I found her with great difficulty. If you don't mind.

Before she could finish speaking, Anna answered anxiously.

-I don't mind!

The whole office fell silent.

Anna blinked and then frantically closed her eyes.

It's over!

Anna thought in her heart. "It seemed that I had failed to successfully suppress his feelings! Why can't I keep myself to myself? Where is the calm and relaxation? What about self-esteem as a woman? Anna, you are stupid!"

Just as Anna was annoyed, she heard a laugh. Then Anna felt something soft on her cheeks, then slowly moved to the right and kissed Anna's lips.

Anna could not help but moan.

The man in front of her squeezed Anna's waist, hugged her tightly and kissed her.

Anna was shocked. "What happened, where am I, why don't I know anything?"

Chapter 1166: Were you sure you didn't kiss me?

Anyway, Anna was completely stunned.

She did not come to her senses until they kissed for a long time.

Matthew had no other job after the meeting, so it took him a long time to kiss Anna.

Up to the time of parting, Anna was still stunned, and because her body was sluggish, she could only curl up in Matteo's arms, with a pair of tender hands gripping Matteo's shirt tightly.

The dark shirt was crumpled by her, and one of the buttons was undone, revealing Matteo's baneful bones and Adam's apple.

At the sight of him, Anna swallowed uncontrollably.

-Do you like it? -Noticing what Anna was doing, Matthew's expression changed. He reached out to undo more buttons on his shirt.

-What are you going to do? -Anna's eyes suddenly fixed on him and she asked nervously.

-Don't you like it?

-I don't need to see it, even though I like it!

-Matthew's movements did not stop as Anna timidly pressed her hand to stop his next move and said urgently.

The hand holding the girl stopped and then did not continue moving. Matthew looked at Anna's flushed face in front of him, and his lips slowly curved.

-Ok, look at him when the time is right.

Anna did not know what to say.

Seeing the man with so much charm in front of her, Anna could not help but swallow again. Why did she feel that-this man seemed to become flirtatious? Was this an illusion?

Before, Matteo had always treated her coldly, and after he proposed to her, he showed incredible passion.

When Anna felt confused, someone knocked on the door outside the office.

-Mr. Matthew.

A male voice sounded from outside, completely breaking the atmosphere inside.

Anna was stunned for a while and stood up abruptly, walking away from Matteo.

When she was so anxious that she did not know where to hide, she saw an inner room next door, opened the door and entered without thinking.

Matteo ran out of remedies.

She saw everything Anna did, which was like a little hamster being caught stealing food.

-Come forward. -Coughing slightly in a rough voice, Matteo buttoned his shirt as he said.

He had already resumed his expression, expressionless and indifferent when he spoke.

The senior director waiting at the door finally opened the door and entered.

When the director arrived, he obviously noticed that something was wrong, because when he came to his office in normal times, Mr. Matthew always sat behind his desk, but right now he was sitting on the couch and his clothes looked a bit messy.

The director was dismayed.

He had recently heard some rumors about Matteo, but ignored them. After all, there were rumors that Mr. Matteo would probably be single for the rest of his life.

And now? He himself noticed that on the sofa next to Matteo was a white fringed bag of the one-shoulder type.

But only the bag was seen without its owner.

So the director returned his attention to the inner room.

It was obvious that she was here, but she hid.

Why would no one see her? Why? No doubt they did something...

-What are you looking at?

An angry voice interrupted all the senior director's thoughts.

-Nothing. Mr. Matthew, you have to sign this document. -He recovered and dared not look without restraint and smiled guiltily.

But Matthew had not received the document, and the director placed the document on the table in front of him with embarrassment.

-Leave it here. -Matthew said lightly.

The director understood what it meant and left the office after leaving the document.

Anna hid in the room, not daring to make any noise. She stood by the door surreptitiously listening to the conversation outside, and discovered that Matthew assumed a casual attitude when talking to the man who entered.

So would the flirtatious, soft-spoken man belong exclusively to her in the future?

At the thought of this, Anna felt happy as if her heart was filled with colorful bubbles.

Everything that happened was like a dream, even though it was reality.

Anna stayed at the office until evening, and when she left, it was Matthew who drove her home.

After the car stopped on the ground floor, Anna sat in the passenger seat in a daze.

When Matteo reached over to unbuckle Anna's seat belt, the man's breath quickened around her.

-What are you thinking? -After unbuckling it, he had no intention of leaving her side, but he looked up at her questioningly.

The male voice brought Anna back to her senses, and suddenly she saw a handsome face approaching her. She became frightened and began to stammer again.

-No, I don't think anything.

-Nothing? So do you know where you are now?

Where was I? Anna looked out the window and realized that she had already arrived home. -I didn't notice, only because I'm thinking something. -The girl's face suddenly turned red.

-Really? -Matteo narrowed his eyes slightly, -But you just said you weren't thinking anything, right?

Anna raised her head and met his dark eyes again. Although it was a quiet day, it had to be the most delirious day of her life.

She looked at Matthew, who was standing very close to her. Suddenly Anna stretched her hands around Matteo's neck and hugged him tightly.

She buried her face in his neck, breathing deeply and hugging him tighter.

Matteo was a little dazed.

Matteo was puzzled when Anna suddenly took the initiative, because she had been in a passive state since that night, but at this moment suddenly....

-What's the matter? -Seeing that something was wrong with Anna's emotions, Matthew gently grabbed her arm and pulled her away.

-You know? -Under his gaze, Anna's eyelashes trembled slightly, and she said in a soft voice, "Today is probably the most amazing day of my life. I don't know if this is real or not. I think even if this is what I make up, I hope I never wake up.

But I do know. If this was the illusion I made up, I would definitely wake up one day, so I want to hug you as long as I can....

He said everything he was thinking.

After speaking, Matteo smiled helplessly.

-Is that what you really think? -The man pulled Anna from his arms, stroking her chin with his hand.

-Do you want to kiss me more? -he said in a low, rough voice. The lights in the car were dim. The girl raised her head and nodded like a puppy.

Her rosy lips were inviting in the light. Matthew's fingers moved slowly to Anna's lips, which he longed to touch.

Anna looked surprised.

-No. I am not greedy. -She blinked many times and shook her head, -It's easy to satisfy me with just a hug.

I was afraid she would be so greedy that she would wake up from sleep!

She might not even have hugs by then!

Even though Anna was always saying stupid things, she was so adorable.

-Are you sure you don't want to kiss me?

-Thinking about it, a smile appeared in Matteo's eyes as she felt other inexpressible moods. Matteo slowly approached her.

Chapter 1167: My girlfriend can do whatever she wants.

Anna was stunned.

The man asked her the question as if trapping her.

"What, are you going to kiss me or not? If not, you won't have the chance next time. Are you sure you don't want to kiss me? Then I will kiss others."

I don't know what is going on, this dialogue popped up in Anna's mind. how can Matthew be such a person? Anna shook her head, looked carefully at the man's handsome face and suddenly took the initiative to approach him.

-I kiss you!

As when she threw herself on Matteo to kiss him hard, Matteo was not ready to pick her up, and her body hitting him staggered backward. Matteo tried to steady himself and hugged Anna's waist. He could not help but laugh in his tender heart.

She was indeed an emotional girl.

But Anna thought in her heart. "Why don't I kiss him when he is in front of me, since you ask me, I don't care if it is dream or reality."

Besides, Matthew kissed her for a long time this afternoon, and at this moment she had a chance to finally take the initiative, why didn't she?

A few minutes had passed.

Matteo's lips were bitten bloody by Anna, and his head was bruised several times, but Anna still hugged his neck and kissed her back and forth. With no other remedy, Matteo squeezed her arm and pulled her away.

-Do you know how to kiss?

-Of course I do. -Anna's face and ears were red. Hearing the question, she nodded awkwardly.

-Forget it... I will practice it when I return. -Seeing Matthew's lips broken by her, she felt even more embarrassed.

-Do you practice when you come back? -Matthew narrowed his eyes, looking at her sharply: -Who are you trying to practice on?

-No one. I will get some instructions. Don't worry. I will practice it carefully. -Anna said.

If she said that...

-Exactly. You need to practice more, and this is the right opportunity.

Come here. -Matthew's nut moved and said in a low voice.

Anna was surprised.

What did he want to say? Did he want her to practice with him?

-We can practice and discuss together.

Matteo approached the girl while she was stunned, Anna did not even realize what was happening.

I kissed him as soon as he closed his eyes.

In this way, the two practiced in the car for a long time.

When he was about to get out, Anna leaned against Matthew's shoulder, coughing embarrassedly, not daring to look him in the eye.

-Do you feel more real now?

How was it possible to feel real? Anna found herself heavy-headed. Her whole body was light as if she was about to fly like a fairy. She felt even more unreal.

However, she did not say it, but Matteo probably knew what she was thinking and pinched her arm.

-What?

-If you still feel unreal, will you come with me tonight?

-No! No! It's too fast! -Anna was surprised.

They confirmed the intimate relationship that afternoon, and she was going to spend the night with Matthew immediately? How was that possible!

Although Anna hoped in her heart, but.... But she couldn't possibly do that!

She had to be on her own!

Anna suddenly felt pain on her forehead, where she had been lightly struck by Matteo's fingers. After recovering, she saw Matteo looking at her with a smile.

-What are you thinking about? -Matteo asked.

"Let's go to the house where you were earlier. You can join Coco if you are free. Let's sleep separately.

Anna was speechless.

-Or do you want to...

-No, I don't want to! -Anna shook her head.

She leaned on Matteo's shoulder, without looking into his eyes.

They kept silent for a while. Anna realized that it was too late and that she had to go back. Besides, the car had been parked for a long time, but no one had gotten out, and she would surely murmur in the future. She could take no notice, but she still had to deal with her parents' thoughts.

-I have to go. -Thinking about this, Anna slowly stood up.

-Ok,|| Matteo replied, slowly arranging the girl's messy clothes and long hair gently. Finally, he released her after touching her lips with his thumb. Go away.

Anna blushed and got out of the car, moving forward like a turtle.

Suddenly something occurred to her, she turned and ran back to the car.

She looked at Matthew leaning against the window with shiny eyes.

-Well...

-What?

-Can I text you when I come in?

-Sure. -Matthew was stunned for a moment and laughed.

-You agree? What about the call? -Anna wanted to reach a foot after taking a thumb, and she also wanted to know how much Matteo could tolerate.

Unexpectedly, Matteo reached out his hand and pinched Anna's cheek, which made her feel like an ant.

Matteo said to her. -You are my girl, you can do whatever you want.

His tone was very light, but it struck Anna's heart hard.

Anna's heart was beating uncontrollably. She ran home after watching Matteo for a few seconds.

Seeing the girl running away from him in a hurry, Matteo's laughter became more evident, which did not fade away until the girl disappeared, and then returned indifferent and walked away.

As soon as Anna returned home, she was greeted by the questioning glances of her parents.

Although Matthew had fixed her up before leaving, Anna still looked unusual at the moment. Her lips were a little swollen and her eyes still showed her amorous senses.

-Cof, cof, cof! -Giancarlo coughed loudly and then stood up: -I'm going to the bathroom. You can talk.

Soon he hid in the bathroom.

-It's very hot today, I'm going to take a shower too. -Seeing this, Anna also said.

-Stop.

However, Anna was stopped by Amelia before she ran away.

Anna stood still and did not dare to move.

-Mom, why aren't you sleeping?

-After a while, she turned and looked at Amelia, smiling, -It's already late.

Did you have something to do in the store today?

I went to pick up Serena today. She has a big pregnant belly now. She is due to give birth next month.

-Don't talk about others. Talk about your own business first. -When she heard her daughter talking gibberish without talking about her business, Amelia could not help but interrupt her.

-What can I talk about? -Anna gave up.

-Are you in love?

Anna was taken aback.

-How do you know? -Anna's eyes widened in surprise.

She was alone with Matthew this afternoon, why did Amelia...?

-Do you think I'm really blind? I saw you just when I went downstairs to take out the trash. -Anna didn't know what to say.

She was a little stunned. "You saw me when you went downstairs to take out the garbage?

So...that was the moment you kissed Matthew in the car..."

-Mom, why...?

-How? -Amelia asked her, "Do you feel shy now? Aren't you even embarrassed when there are so many people coming and going downstairs!

Amelia teased her, but really, in her heart, she was happy for her. As long as her daughter was happy,

Amelia did not care what others thought.

Anna, who was blushing, did not know what to say to explain it to her. After all, the most embarrassing thing was for parents to see their children's intimate behaviors with others.

Even though they too had similar experiences, they could not help but feel ashamed.

Chapter 1168: Falling in love was also annoying

Finally, Anna ran to her room.

Anna pretended not to hear her when Amelia knocked on the door.

-Mom, don't come in, I'm going to take a shower.

-But Amelia knocked louder and louder.

After speaking, she took her clothes and hid in the bathroom, then turned on the faucet, hoping Amelia would hear the sound of water and leave.

Thinking of something, Anna hurried out of the bathroom again, took the cell phone she had left outside, and then closed the door.

Only the sound of splashing water remained in the bathroom, and everyone else was cut off.

Hearing the sound of splashing water, Anna turned on her cell phone and wanted to text Matteo.

But she thought about it for a while; it sounded like she had just come home. Matteo should be driving right now. If she texted or called him, it would definitely affect his driving.

Never mind, safety was the most important thing.

So Anna put her cell phone back on the vanity and started bathing. She did not know whether Matteo would return to Giordano's house or to the private villa? If he went back to Giordano's house, which was not far from Anna's house, he would probably arrive by the time she finished her shower.

If he went back to the private villa, he could not calculate the time. Because when she went there that night she was unconscious and asleep when she returned, so she did not even know where the place was.

Even if Matthew arrived home, it would take time to wash, and she did not know how long it would take.

Therefore, she was in no hurry. She could shower slowly.

She could text him later.

Originally, Anna had planned to take only one shower, because she had washed her hair yesterday and was not in the habit of washing her hair every day.

In addition, she was always busy in the store until late, so she did not wash her hair unless necessary.

But the situation was different. She and Matthew were engaged. It was possible that they would see each other every day in the future, wasn't it? Well, according to Matteo's temperament, it would be difficult to see each other every day, but just in case?

When she had a date with him, she couldn't stand the fact that he had shaggy hair and a dirty face.

As expected, the crush was also a bit annoying. Why didn't he pay more attention to his image earlier?

Thinking about this, Anna also thought that her body was getting dirty, so she vigorously cleaned it with the bath ball and shower gel. However, she noticed that the brand of shower gel was Johnson, which was normal, and it was also for children.

Anna decided to replace this bottle of shower gel!

After taking a shower, Anna put on her cartoon pajamas. When she was about to brush her teeth in front of the mirror, she saw in the mirror the ridiculous laughter of Donald Duck in her pajamas, which made her....

Anna could not stand it!

Would Matthew like her childish style of dressing? Before, he had never thought his style of dress was so immature, and he had even bought the cartoon pajamas because he thought they were so cute.

But at this moment? These pajamas were not nice for her.

So Anna decided to replace the pajamas as well!

After taking a shower and drying her hair, Anna started shopping online, and she looked for a new shower gel and pajamas for herself.

There were many kinds of shower gels for sale, with floral and fruity fragrances, packaged in transparent bottles with many petals, which looked colorful and beautiful.

Anna bought it in the past because of the appearance.

When she received the products, she admitted that they were beautiful, but the fragrance did not last long.

The scent almost vanished after showering.

So Anna bought nothing and went to select perfumes. When she saw a perfume called perfume after sex, she was surprised.

Unexpectedly there was such a perfume!

It had never existed in her world before!

After looking at the items, Anna still didn't buy anything, so she put her cell phone aside and lay on her back on the bed.

Well, it would be better if she went to the supermarket tomorrow, so she could try the smells for herself.

The time flew by. Looking at the time, Anna was not sure if Matthew had arrived home.

When she wanted to text him to ask, her cell phone suddenly vibrated.

It was a mobile message sent by Matteo, with only two words.

-I am home.

As usual, if Matteo was coming home at this time, he had to be in his private villa. After all, he hadn't been back to Giordano's house from here that long, had he?

Thinking about this, Anna immediately sent him the message.

-Have you returned home? Or to the mansion? -After composing it, Anna felt it was too direct, showing that she was particularly anxious.

So she erased the words she had written and went back to editing.

-Have you just arrived? I've already finished my shower.

It can't be. The shower seemed to imply something; Anna erased the text again and rewrote it.

-Are you at home? Is Coco also at home?

She considered it for a long time, felt that what she wrote was more appropriate, so she sent it to Matthew.

Then he waited anxiously for the reply.

During this time, besides waiting for Matteo's message, she did nothing.

At that moment the phone vibrated, and Anna immediately read the message.

-Add me on Facebook.

Will you add him on Facebook? Anna was stunned for a few seconds and then opened Facebook. As she was preparing to add Matteo as a friend, a friend request appeared. Was it Matteo?

She immediately approved the request.

Unexpectedly, Matteo sent her the request. They always communicated with messages, didn't they?

Why was she suddenly using Facebook?

When Anna was thinking about what she could talk about with Matteo, she received a video call request, which startled Anna, who almost threw her phone away. After looking carefully, it turned out that it was Matteo who sent her a video call.

What was going on?

How could she talk to Matteo via video when he was in bed? Anna refused the request without hesitation.

But she did not refuse on purpose. It was not a convenient time to appear on video when she was wearing cartoon pajamas with messy hair.

Thinking of this, Anna hastened to send him another message.

-It's not convenient for me right now, can we talk through a message?

-OK.

Matthew quickly replied and wrote another message.

-I wanted to show you Coco.

Coco? Was that the reason he sent you a video? It was. First he asked her in the message whether Coco was home or not.

Unexpectedly he sent her the video chat request for that. In fact, he did not want to see that cat, but Matteo. Although he also liked the cat, because it was the cat of his love.

Actually-it was not wrong for her to look at that cat, was it?

But she had already refused the request, so Anna could only reply.

-You didn't go back to Giordano's house or did you just arrive?

-I just arrived.

Matteo immediately sent her a voice message. After Anna clicked it, she heard the cat's purr.

Chapter 1169: He's not a pervert!

-Coco is so cute! -The kitten's purr thrilled Anna.

Anna suddenly missed one night a few days ago when she was in a bad mood and Coco rubbed her head against her arm from time to time, whispering to comfort her.

And now also.

But she also remembered the disgusted look on Coco's face afterwards.

With this in mind, Anna immediately typed.

-Coco doesn't seem to like me, the other morning I tried to pet him and he ran away as soon as he saw me. At the next opportunity, I will cuddle him all day.

A moment after sending the message, Anna realized that what she had said seemed too casual.

"Will Matteo find me annoying like this?"

-No need to wait, you will see Coco tomorrow," Matteo replied to her message just as she was thinking.

Anna looked at the message with some emotion. It still seemed so unreal.

"Did we just get together? When exactly did things start to change? Does he like me? And if so, when did he start loving me?"

Several questions in a row popped into his mind, making Anna's head explode.

Suddenly, the phone vibrated again.

-Shall I pick you up tomorrow?

-But you have to go to the office, don't you have to work tomorrow?

-It's the weekend.

"So it's the weekend. If you are a normal couple, you should have a date, right?" But her boyfriend was Matteo, so Anna dared not hope he would.

-You don't need to pick me up, just send me the location and I'll come to see you tomorrow when I finish my business.

Matteo did not think too much about it and sent her the location directly.

Anna was so happy that she decided to go to the supermarket after waking up and come to him in the afternoon.

Just as Anna was about to say good night to her boyfriend, she received a voice message from Matteo.

-Don't you talk to me on the phone anymore? -A deep male voice reached Anna's ears.

-It's late, one more time, go to bed early, good night.

Anna then also sent a cute goodnight emoji.

Contemplating the emoji, Matthew froze for a moment before smiling.

-See you tomorrow.

Seeing Matteo's words, Anna rolled over in bed with her phone excitedly, listening to the one voice

Matteo had sent over and over again, then curled her lips and giggled. It took her until the middle of the night to fall asleep.

Then Anna had a dream about Matthew, in which she was taken to his private villa, where they kissed and their clothes fell...

Just then, the dream was suddenly interrupted.

"Why did I wake up at such a crucial moment?" Anna became angry.

However, she immediately thought with some disgust, "How could I have dreamed Matthew like that?

He is not a pervert."

With this in mind, Anna stood up and vigorously rubbed her head before getting up and washing in the bathroom.

As she brushed her teeth, Anna almost fell over at the sight of dark circles under her eyes, luckily she grabbed the wall beside her and looked at herself in the mirror in disbelief.

She had no idea when she had fallen asleep last night, except that Matteo's sexy voice was like a lullaby, telling her "go to sleep."

Looking at her hair, Anna helplessly washed it again before leaving the bedroom for breakfast.

Amelia was a little surprised to see her long hair slightly wet.

-Didn't you wash your hair last night? Why are you washing it again today?

-Because my hair was too messy and I thought it was too ugly.

-You still know it's ugly, don't you? You didn't care?

-Giancarlo sat down next to her and also asked, -And how come you have dark circles under your eyes? Did you not sleep well last night?

Anna was speechless, feeling that it was a mistake to have breakfast with her parents.

-Mom and Dad, I will be busy for the next two days, so I won't be in the store, so I ask you to take care of the store for now, and if you need, I will hire more staff.

-You haven't finished your porridge yet,|| said Giancarlo.

-I no longer have an appetite.

The bedroom door closed.

-Are you not afraid of starving to death? -Giancarlo asked Amelia.

Amelia grimaced and sat down, then looked at her husband questioningly.

-We don't have to protect her anymore.

-What's going on?

Amelia did not want to explain and ate in silence without answering.

But she did not expect the relationship between Anna and Matthew to develop so quickly.

Having seen Anna's desperation for affection earlier, she had thought that her daughter would continue to suffer, but not so soon...

Chapter 1170: Seeing Matthew

Once Anna returned to her room, she hurried to open her closet to choose a dress, but found nothing suitable.

Finally, the dress Coco had brought her that day to Matteo's house caught her attention.

She pulled out the dress and stood in front of the mirror to look at it.

-Should I take it?

After thinking about it for a while, Anna decided to go straight to the mall and buy a new one. But then she remembered that she had asked Manuel to transfer the money to Matteo and was now broke.

Anna looked at her bank account balance and realized that she only had 20 euros left.

"Can I use a small advance from the store?"

Absolutely not! Money from the store has to be set aside to supply and pay staff, if I have to ask for an advance every time I run out of money, what will I have to supply and pay my staff with?"

With this in mind, Anna dismissed the idea.

After Amelia left the house, Anna ran silently to Giancarlo's side.

-Dad!

Giancarlo was reading the newspaper and looked up when he heard his daughter's voice.

-Anna? Are you looking for your mother? Your mother is outside.

-No, I'm looking for you.

-Me? -Giancarlo hurriedly pushed the newspaper aside on the coffee table with a rather serious expression.

Seeing Giancarlo like this, Anna found it a little difficult to talk about it. Although she had said she did not want her parents' money when she had opened the store, her parents had secretly contributed some of it for her. Anna knew, of course, that they had saved over the years, but now she was an adult and was too embarrassed to ask her parents for money.

-Anna?

Anna smiled and shook her head.

It's nothing, you seem to have gained a little more gray hair lately, so if you're tired, we'll cancel the take-out service in our store.

Hearing this, Giancarlo immediately refused her request.

-How come? Isn't the money you make from takeaway? Now I don't have to work, so if I don't help when I go to your store, what can I do? Don't say things like that, so I can retire in peace, if I stand still every day, eventually I will be paralyzed.

-But delivery man is a very tiring job....

-That's enough, if that's what you mean, go back to your room and let it go, I can't hear you.

Having said that, Giancarlo covered his face with a newspaper and refused to communicate with Anna.

-Dad!

Giancarlo continued to ignore her.

Anna had no choice but to return to her bedroom. Looking at the clothes in the room, she ended up putting on her usual clothes.

As she walked out the door, Anna thought, "Why change all of a sudden if she was normally like this?"

Matthew was willing to be with her, so that meant he could accept her as she normally was. Even though she was striving to be better in order to be worthy of him. But the gap between people was sometimes very wide.

With what Matthew had achieved in his career, she feared he would never achieve it in her life.

Thinking about it, Anna became a little sad again and ended up going directly to Matteo.

Matteo read Anna's message ten minutes after she sent it.

When he saw the message she sent, he immediately frowned and called her directly.

Anna squatted down, looking a little bewildered at the scene before her.

It was clear that the place was this way, but she could not find it. There were many villas, and she did not know which one it was. She wanted to call Matthew directly, but she realized that it was a little early and not what she had originally planned.

She was looking forward to seeing him, but was afraid to disturb him.

After thinking about it, Anna sent him a message.

After waiting for a few minutes without a response, Anna was glad she did not call him, otherwise he would have been woken up.

Then he simply found a place to squat and looked at the grass in front of him.

She doesn't know how long she waited, but the phone buzzed and it was Matthew calling.

Anna's heartbeat accelerated and she picked up the phone.

-Hello?

-Where are you?" called Matteo as he walked out the door, his eyes looking around.

-Are you awake? No need to look for me, since I didn't get your answer when I found out you were still asleep, so I stopped on the way so you could get up and get cleaned up first....

-Get your head up.

Anna froze and looked up to see Matthew not far away, dressed in casual clothes and bathed in the morning sun, his hair slightly disheveled because he had not had time to fix it.

He had his phone in his hand and his eyes fell on the girl's face.

-Wait for me.

Anna then watched in amazement as Matthew approached her.

It was only when the man approached her that she responded, standing up as she laughed awkwardly.

-How did you appear so quickly? I found out that I was so close that I didn't know exactly where your house was, so

Halfway there, Anna suddenly felt a little dizzy and her whole body fell forward uncontrollably.

Matthew came out in time to grab her arm and pull her into his arms.

Anna's head slammed against Matteo's chest.

-What's the matter, have you been squatting too long?

Anna closes her eyes and nods nonchalantly.
