Chapter 24

Serena jumped up and shouted the sentence, startling everyone.

No one expected that the weak Serena would defend Cristian!

"How can you judge him like that?"

After the conversation between her and Alessandro in the studio, Serena understood that no one in the Ferrari family treated Cristian sincerely. Moreover, Cristian did not really force her to have an abortion, so her attitude toward him changed.

She knew that sense of inferiority. It was already his trauma to be in a wheelchair. How much would it hurt when he was insulted as handicapped?

"Why can't I say that? I was just trying to explain the situation. Do you know how much the dress you ruined is worth? Do you want this cripple to pay for you?" Ginevra finished speaking with a sigh as if she was very distressed, "Actually, after you have taken care of Francesco for so many years, if you kneel down and beg me, maybe I can ask Francesco to help you."

Serena became furious.

"Don't be so angry. It's only thirty thousand euros. If I ask for you, Francesco will give the money to me. Anyway, he has always loved me and you cannot compare yourself to me."

She was only his mistress. Although she was already married to Francesco, Serena was extremely furious, because she could not stand that woman who showed off in front of her and wanted to slap her.

"My God!" cried Geneva as Serena's hand still did not touch her, "I thought I was helping you and you want to hit me. Honey, how can such a person exist!"

Francesco rushed to grab her and Geneva wailed as she grabbed Francesco's arm, "Honey, she hit me! You have to beat her back for me!"

Francesco was slightly embarrassed. After all, everyone saw that Serena did not touch her, if he would hit her now....

"Honey, my tummy hurts. Do it now."

Francesco became embarrassed and whispered, "Honey, she didn't really hit you. Let's go now."

Hearing this, Geneva's face blushed, "Francesco, don't you love me anymore? She hurt me and our child."

Francesco had no other choice and approached Serena.

Serena stood on the spot looking at him as Francesco said, "Sorry, Serena."

Serena said with an ironic smile, "So you want to beat me up for her?"

"I'm so sorry, but...I have to!"

Finished the words, Francesco slowly raised his hand and Serena bit her lip with tears in her eyes, "What did I do wrong? We've been together two years and you treat me like this."

Seeing her tears, Francesco felt slightly guilty, but the woman behind him continued to insist and Francesco had no choice but to slap Serena.

Serena stared incredulously at the approaching palm, closed her eyes desperately, and the tears slipped away.

She thought Francesco's slap would make her face swell, but closing her eyes, she felt no pain.

"How dare you hit my wife? Did you ask the Ferrari family's permission?"

Serena immediately opened her eyes!

"Cristian."

Cristian came to her side and stopped Francesco's hand.

Since Cristian was always seated, his height was unknown. But when he raised his hand to stop Francesco, Serena saw that Cristian was actually very tall even though he was sitting in a wheelchair. Nothing appeared weak in front of Cristian!

He would even surpass him!

"Cristian Ferrari? Wouldn't I have heard it wrong?"

"The second son of the Ferrari family! The president of the Ferrari family group? My God!"

"I heard he's in a wheelchair. Mamma mia, why didn't we think of that? Only Cristian Ferrari would have such a powerful aura!"

"How handsome he is! I already wanted to ask who this man is. I didn't think he is the president of the Ferrari group! Who is the woman he defended?"

"I don't know. I've never seen her...She should be a very important person to him, since he protects her in this way?"

The comments reached Serena's ear, and Serena's heart was moved when she heard the last words.

Francesco was stunned as he looked at Cristian. Luca reached out and took Francesco's hand with a cold smile, saying, "Can't the Ferrari family afford a thirty-thousand-euro dress? Even if it were three hundred million or three billion, it would be nothing for the Ferrari group!"

Francesco took steps back and Ginevra reached out to grab him, "Honey, are you okay?"

"I'm fine." Francesco was stunned by Cristian's dark eyes and did not react until Ginevra spoke to him.

Ginevra saw that he was not very well and went to argue with Luca by pointing out her belly, "Who are you? How dare you hit my husband. I'm calling the police!"

Luca would like to argue with her. Because in his opinion, there was no difference between men and women, but still he hesitated after seeing that she was pregnant.
