

Virginity 25

Chapter 25

Cristian raised his eyebrows and Luca immediately bent down. Serena saw that Cristian said something to Luca who had reactions of surprise.

Serena was slightly nervous because she had been Cristian's assistant for a short time but was causing him big problems.

Shortly after, Luca went away, leaving Cristian and Serena in the store.

Serena knew it was her problem and did not expect Cristian to help her. She approached the clerk and said, "Sorry, I didn't mean to ruin the dress. Please give me a bill and I'll pay it in installments."

"In installments?" The clerk was displeased, but did not dare to do anything because of Cristian's presence.

"Yes, in installments. Although I can't pay right now, I will finish paying everything in the future. Could you talk to your boss about it?"

"That would not be necessary." intervened by Ginevra mockingly, "This is a thirty-thousand dress. If you pay in installments, even if you put in all your salary, plus interest, you have to pay at least ten years' salaries."

Hearing this, the clerk said worriedly, "I called the police. Talk to the police later!"

Serena bit her lip with a pale face.

"Serena, the lame president? Why don't you ask him for help? Wasn't he pretending very well? Why don't you ask him to pay now? How ridiculous he is!"

"What's going on? Didn't the man say he was Cristian Ferrari? The Ferrari family can't even pay for a dress?"

"False?"

"It doesn't seem to be fake with such a powerful aura."

"Simple, let's look it up on the internet!"

"Yes, the information of the Ferrari family should be searched easily."

Just as people were looking for information about Cristian Ferrari, Luca returned with some men behind him.

Seeing one of them, the clerk immediately approached and said, "Boss, you're finally here. The lady ruined the dress, I..."

The store owner ignored her, walked over to Cristian and spoke to him humbly, "Mr. Cristian, you suddenly came to my store and I could not serve you well."

People sighed...

Geneva blinked in surprise. What was going on?

"Your store?" Cristian looked at him coldly.

The store owner was so startled by this look that her legs trembled as Luca handed a contract to Cristian, "Mr. Cristian, everything you ordered for me has been resolved."

Cristian lifted his chin, and Luca nodded and approached Serena handing her the contract.

"Mr. Cristian bought the whole mall in Miss Serena's name. From now on, it is her property."

Serena opened her mouth and was surprised.

Everyone was surprised!

"Buying a mall? This is the most luxurious place in the North City!"

"Who said it was fake? Accusing him of not being able to pay!"

"The pregnant woman is rude and I guess she is proud of having that little money."

"Also, she seems to be a mistress. How come this kind of person exists? Proud to be an interloper? Has the world changed or am I mistaken?"

The situation suddenly changed, and Geneva did not know how to react.

She thought it would ruin Serena, and she wanted to take the opportunity to tease her. But who knew that everything changed! The man in the wheelchair next to her was really the son of the Ferrari family!

"Miss Serena, take it." Luca saw that Serena was stunned and put the contract directly in her hands.

Serena was confused. If Cristian was a ruthless person, why would he give her the whole mall?

After Luca put the contract in her hands, she looked at Cristian unconsciously.

Cristian looked up and extended his hand toward her.

"Come here."

His voice sounded magical. Serena approached him without thinking, and when she reached his side, Cristian grabbed her hand with a bright and determined look.

"Serena, now this whole mall is yours. If you don't want to see these people, you can kick them out."

Cristian's voice was low and became even more attractive when he said her name.

Serena felt drawn to that pair of cold eyes and nodded dazedly.

"Yes."

Ginevra reacted suddenly and leaned closer, saying, "How is that possible? To buy the whole mall? Serena, are you kidding me?"

She thought Francesco was already very rich after winning the lottery and could afford to be proud in front of Serena. Who knew that her new man could directly buy her a mall?

Her arrogant attitude scared Serena. Cristian pulled her wrist and took it behind him. "Luca." said with a cold smile.

Luca blocked Ginevra's way.

"Look Auntie, if you come near me, I'll call the police to sue you for harassment, assault and defamation!"

"What did you call me?" Ginevra was hurt by the name and took a few steps back. Francesco hurried to hug her, "Darling, let's go."

"I'm not leaving. Did you hear what he called me? I'm so young and he calls me..."
