

Virginity 371

Chapter 371: Toward the new company.

The next day.

Because she had to go to see the new company, Serena got up early in the morning.

It was mainly because Matthew had to go to work and Manuel had to follow him to the company, so

Manuel also woke up very early, but after he woke up, Serena couldn't sleep anymore, so she got up with him.

After the two of them freshened up, Serena sent Manuel downstairs, and they all had breakfast together, then Manuel and Matteo left together.

Before leaving, Matteo said to Serena, "It's still early, you can go back to catch up, and Chiara will come back to you later."

Hearing this, Serena's eyes straightened, "Can I make it up again? Wouldn't Chiara come to see me as soon as I fell asleep? "

Seeing her like this, Matteo could not help but smile weakly, "No, she still has things to do in the morning, don't worry."

Hearing what he said, Serena understood, and it seemed that Clare was very busy in the morning.

She could go back to sleep with peace of mind.

"Good."

Serena went back upstairs and was about to go back to sleep. As she passed a door, the door suddenly opened and a hand reached out to grab her.

Serena was surprised at first, but after seeing that the other person was Anna, she was a little surprised, "Anna?"

"You still know me, you seem to have forgotten me these two days, huh!"

Anna hugged her and complained angrily, her hair was messy and her whole appearance looked terrible.

"What's going on? Didn't you say that if you're sick you have to hide in your room to recover? Why am I ashamed to bother you? "

"You! You know it's an excuse and you deliberately said it out of sarcasm! "

Serena raised her eyebrows and smiled, "Don't worry, why should I forget you? I'm going to the company today to take a look, you run and freshen up and then come down for breakfast. "

"I'll come down for breakfast? Then...."

"My brother has gone to work, so you can take it easy."

Anna was moved and instantly hugged Serena's arm, "Serena, you are so kind to me! Then I'll change my clothes right away! "

"Don't worry, let's have breakfast first, after you wash up. We'll go to the company later. I want to go to bed earlier."

After speaking, Serena stretched out her hand to cover her mouth, then yawned and left the room.

When she woke up it was almost noon, she looked at the phone and wondered why Chiara had not come at that time.

So I went downstairs to see if she was there, but as soon as she came down she saw Chiara and Anna talking animatedly on the couch downstairs. When they heard footsteps, they raised their heads.

"Secretary Gatti, when did you arrive? How...She didn't wake me up? "

Chiara smiled slightly and said softly, "Miss Serena, it's only ten minutes before I sit up."

"Is that so? "Serena looked at Anna, and Anna nodded, "Almost, but even if you sleep for another half an hour or an hour, she won't blame you."

Serena: "...

She coughed awkwardly, then looked at the time, "It's late now. Why don't we all have lunch together, and then visit the new company?"

"I meant the same thing. "Chiara smiled and nodded, and of course Anna nodded.

After the group got into the car, Anna took her bag and asked, "By the way, which new company are we going to?"

"What? Miss Serena didn't tell you, is she going to own her own company? "

Hearing this, Anna's eyes instantly widened, staring stunned at Serena.

"Serena, do you want to start your own company?"

Serena smiled helplessly and shrugged her shoulders, "It's not that I wanted to."

Anna: "..."

Well, she understood that it was Matteo who arranged everything for her.

She wanted to tell her that Matteo's treatment of Serena was really not idyllic. He was taking care of everything well. He was doing his sister good, but...Serena was no longer a child.

She was an adult with her own thoughts, everything was arranged well, she always felt that she was...being treated like a giant child.

The point was that although at times Serena was helpless, she still accepted it.

Because that was the kindness of an older brother who had been looking for his sister for more than 20 years.

How could she afford to refuse.

Fortunately, Matteo understood her, so even though she could not do many things, she did not feel speechless, but she felt that she was raised in captivity and wants to do something with her own strength.

Clare could not help but say something for Matthew.

"I have to say something for Mr. Giordano. After Ms. Serena is back in Italy, he can build a company with a team to stabilize his position in Italy. After all, the situation in foreign and domestic markets is different. Besides, Mr. Giordano probably thinks that Ms. Serena is no longer young and should settle down."

Hearing this, Serena shot her a look and could not help but want to tease her.

"Secretary Gatti, you are really my brother's right-hand man and have been speaking for him so far."

"Miss Serena, I am telling the truth."

Serena smiled and did not answer again.

"By the way, has Miss Serena read the information of the team members?"

"The team members' information?" Serena raised her eyebrows, and confusion flashed in her cold eyes. The day before, Matteo had only given him the company's information, and she did not seem to have gone back.

Thinking about this, Serena pulled the document out of Anna's bag, and Chiara said when she saw it,

"Miss Serena, take a look at it."

So Serena turned back and looked a couple of times, and discovered that the members of her team were actually five or six people.

"These are all creative designers hired by Mr. Giordano for you at a high price. Some have won awards and some have designed products. They are all outstanding designers."

Matteo flipped through their resumes, and after a while he looked up again, "With such qualifications in my new company, are you sure they can sit down?"

"Mr. Giordano spent so much money to hire them, how could he not believe it? I'm just afraid to sit down."

Serena: "...

Anna also approached and took a look, "If they were paid well, you will lose out."

"Mr. Giordano believes that with Ms. Serena's skill, he will soon be able to make a fortune in the domestic market. At that point, as long as there are customers, why not worry about losing money?

Besides, starting a business is not an easy task and everything is difficult in the beginning. "

Anna nodded as if she did not understand, and then stared at Chiara, "Secretary Gatti is so extraordinary."

Chiara: "..."

She did not know what she said to make Anna admire her like that.

Serena closed the document and sighed, "Forget it, anyway, the company has already been opened, it will be what it will be. However...I have a hunch."

"What hunch? "Anna immediately went to her.

Serena curled her lips slightly, "We could not have fun in the future."

Chapter 372: Lonely Boy

When she arrived at the company, Serena was still shocked at the sight in front of her.

Initially, she thought the company must be small and did not expect it to be so large.

Usually a newly established company could not be called a company, even if it was a company, it could be very small, similar to that of a firm to start small.

It was just that Serena did not expect that Matthew had actually prepared a building for her.

Although it was not comparable to the Giordano Group building, it was similar to the neighboring buildings. When Serena entered, she thought it was a certain floor, but Chiara told her directly.

"Mr. Giordano prepared the whole building for her."

Anna could not help but catch her breath, took Serena's arm and sighed, "Your brother is really too rich and thoughtful!!!"

True, he had a lot of money, but he also had a heart.

It was just that...This was really too touching.

"It will be too ostentatious, after all, it is a new society."

"Miss Serena, don't forget that you are now the daughter of the Giordano family, behind the entire Giordano family. Not to mention the fact that this is just a building, even if the whole Giordano family was handed over to you, I don't think Mr. Giordano would object."

Serena: "Come on, let's go up and see what the environment is like."

"On the second floor is the reception area. You can find a reception desk and a security guard alone right now."

As Clare made a general introduction to Serena, she walked to the elevator in front and pressed the button.

After the elevator door opened, the three of them entered together.

When they reached the second floor, Chiara started talking again.

"On the second floor is the kitchen. Here Miss Serena can also find the cook and the cleaning lady she likes."

"Yes." Serena nodded.

Unexpectedly, her older brother was quite considerate; he had only given her one team and relied on her for the rest, which was not bad.

"On the third floor are the employees' offices today...They're all here and they want to wait to see their new boss."

Hearing that the team members were on the third floor and about to go to the third floor, Serena did not respond and Anna became nervous.

"Are you going to see them? I'm so nervous, what if they don't like me?"

Hearing this, Chiara looked at her and smiled, "Anna, don't be nervous. It's obvious that you are Serena's assistant and you should be part of the team."

Serena nodded, "Well, when I arrange a position for you, you don't have to be nervous or scared."

When Anna heard what she had been told, she felt special for a moment-she had been promoted so suddenly? Wow!

She knew that pretending to be afraid would lead to her promotion, she should have pretended more before!

Serena was not so nervous, because she had probably imagined what she would face next.

After reaching the third floor, Chiara led them to the office.

A group of people were waiting for the new boss to arrive, they all wanted to know how generous it was for Mr. Giordano to pay them so much, so there was a lot of discussion before she arrived.

Maria: "You said whether our new boss is a man or a woman. For the first time in the industry, Mr.

Giordano has supported a person so generously. I don't know how generous he is."

Maria seemed to be an ordinary person and spoke peacefully.

"Is it really necessary to know? She is definitely a woman! If she were a man, how could Matteo Giordano have put so much effort into it? "After she finished speaking, she lifted her lips and smiled, that smile probably understood by few people.

This person's name was Vito Gentile, he was a sloppy stylist, and he had always been very rude.

Eva Zagaria: "I too think he might be a woman. "After speaking, she smiled faintly, and then continued reading the book in front of her.

Arianna, who was holding lipstick to put on makeup, took the time to say something.

"It doesn't matter if it's a man or a woman, as long as he or she is qualified to be a leader. If I find out that this person is not qualified, I will never accept him as a leader, after all we are an elite team."

Mirco who was on the side stared at Arianna with a smile and nodded, "Arianna is right. This is what I like most about you."

Hearing this, Arianna stared at Mirco disgustedly, "It's up to you."

Mirco continued to look at her with a smile.

When Lisa saw this, she did not speak, looked instead at the young man who was sitting behind him and asked in a low voice, "Diego, what do you think?"

The young man was wearing a white T-shirt and the flowing sea hit him in the eyes. He lowered his head and did not know what he was thinking. The sunlight from the window came in and dazzled the boy, making him look extraordinarily handsome.

Lisa was already infatuated with him.

"Diego?"

The young man finally raised his head, his eyes fell indifferently on Lisa's face, and soon closed his eyes again.

"Don't think about it."

His voice was so cold that she could not hear any emotion.

As soon as he spoke, the people who were talking in front of him looked at him.

The girls looked at him with kind eyes, after all Diego was a nice guy, but his breath was too cold and he was too reserved, so they rarely wanted to approach him.

When Lisa heard him say this, the expression on his face was a little uncontrollable, she bit her lower lip and did not speak.

The group of people were talking, when suddenly there was a sound of high-heeled shoes from outside.

"I think I hear someone." Maria stood up first, then went to the door to look over.

Everyone knew Chiara. She was the one who talked to everyone at first. Suddenly there were two other people next to her. Maria was taken aback at first, but after a while, she got to thinking.

Who were those two?

"Maria. Chiara saw her and called out to her.

"Secretary Gatti." Maria said, Chiara asked the others to stand up.

"Is secretary Gatti here? Did you bring our new boss? "

Everyone followed suit, except for the expressionless young Diego in the corner.

The sound of high heels gradually approached and Chiara brought Serena and Anna into everyone's view.

Serena wore no sunglasses that day, and dressed more casual, just a white vest and jeans, and then wore a thin blue jacket for sun protection outside.

She had long, upright, straight hair in a low ponytail tied behind her ear with a headband, and she wore no makeup, so her face looked a little soft, with a faint smile on her face, which seemed particularly kind.

At the same time...there were three words written on it: obey!

"You really hit the nail on the head, Vito. It seems that our new boss is really a woman, and...She seems to be quite good. "

Arianna closed her makeup case with a snap, fixing Serena with a slightly hostile look in her eyes.

She hated women more beautiful than she was!

It seemed she was even better at it.

Chapter 373: Countermeasures

"Everyone seems to be here. "Clare looked around, saw everyone at the scene, looked inside, saw a cold boy sitting there and said, "Let me introduce you, this is Miss Serena, your new future boss."

Not everyone heard this last sentence, they only heard Chiara say who Miss Serena was.

For so many years, Chiara had always been Matteo's effective secretary, she was a simple assistant and enjoyed a good reputation in the business world. Designers like them all knew her.

But now Chiara was introducing Serena, and her eyes were full of smiles, without the mockery they had imagined.

Several people had seen Serena's looks slightly differently, but some people were still dissatisfied.

"Is she still such a young leader? Is she really good, or is she...has she taken a wrong turn?" said

Arianna, who was wearing a red dress and a big red lipstick, had eyes that were particularly attractive, but she had a cold and charming disposition.

Hearing this, the expression on Serena's face was weak, and this did not turn into anger because of her words, her eyes fell on her face.

But Anna listened right and left and felt that this sentence was not right.

After thinking about it for a long time, she reacted, and was so angry that she cursed, "What kind of wrong way? What do you mean by that? "

Arianna narrowed her eyes and looked at Anna, "Oh, who is this? If you come here, you come to bet. Is it possible that you are our new leader? "

Anna squinted when she saw her, and bit her lower lip, "Do you care who I am, it's just that I don't let you talk to Serena like that. Is the professional team great?"

Anna had a bad temper.

Serena had always known that.

She just didn't expect Anna to be able to stand firm with a word this time. Seeing that she was so angry that the top of her head was about to catch fire, and the girl in front was still quiet, she sighed and then lifted him up, pulled Anna's sleeves and dragged her behind her.

"Serena, don't pull me, let me reason with her, what a crooked way it is! Are you..."

"Good." Serena said under her breath, "Don't talk."

Anna was too angry, but she still listened to Serena's words, told herself not to speak, cast a glance at Serena and finally stepped aside and gave her space.

And Chiara, she had no intention of helping Serena when she arrived.

This was what Matteo specifically confessed: since the team had been handed over to her, she must rely on her own ability to win them over.

As for Matteo, he naturally believed in his sister.

If Clare had intervened again, he would have appeared to be too ignorant.

Serena advanced a few steps, her gaze fell on Arianna's body, although she had a smile on her face, her aura was very strong and Arianna's body. Her arrogance was suppressed.

It was only a momentary matter, and Arianna thought she was beaten by Serena.

"You. "Arianna actually took a small step back unconsciously, and then said, "What do you want to do?

Is it possible that I was right and got angry? "

Hearing this, Serena still smiled weakly and said softly, "What are you so afraid of? It's not like I'm going to eat you. "

When everyone heard her, they were a little frightened.

This Serena's attitude was completely different from when they had first seen her, she was dressed like this, they thought she was a bully, but they did not expect her to be so powerful when she had released her aura.

What else to say, I won't eat you anymore.

This look is scarier than eating you, okay?

Seeing that they were silent, Serena looked around, her pink lips lifted slightly.

"I saw your information before I came here. You are all excellent and outstanding designers. It is an honor for me to be able to invite such excellent people to this company as soon as it was founded."

Honor? Everyone couldn't help but think about it; they hadn't really seen his honor.

But Anna, who was standing behind, wanted to step forward angrily, but she was pulled by Clare beside her and dragged to a farther place.

"What are you doing, secretary Gatti? Let me go quickly, I'm so angry, what did that woman say, but Serena actually said it was her honor to invite them? When did she become so sottana?"

Chiara gave Anna a helpless look, "Then what about you? When did you become so reckless? What did Miss Serena tell you when you came here? She expects that the days to come will be no better. "

Hearing this, Anna nodded, "Yes, I understand only now that she was talking about these people, but what is she doing?"

"He would say that, it means he expected this scene a long time ago."

"....."

"Since he expected these things to happen, do you think he wouldn't have a way to deal with them?"

Hearing Clare's words, Anna realized that she had been impulsive, so she turned and looked at Serena again.

She did not know where to begin, Serena had changed, she was no longer the only one who had used her mind and emotions. She was intelligent, with her sharp aura, but the previous days had allowed her to limit this.

Afterward...The light slowly bloomed.

Anna realized that Serena was much more powerful than she had imagined.

And she found herself moving further and further away from her.

Thinking about this, Anna lowered her eyes to look at the tip of her shoe, did not speak again, and did not step forward.

"You are all exceptional talents, and I have a weakness for talent. But I also have another characteristic, I don't want to force others. Although you are all good partners, if any of you don't want to stay in the company, you can leave now. "

Hearing that, the expressions of the few people changed, and Lisa was suddenly pained, accusing her,

"What do you mean by that? Are you going to send us away? "

"No. "Serena gently shook her head, "I'm here to let you come and go freely. If you feel you've wasted yourself here, you can leave on your own. I will pay you this month's salary."

"You, you are an insult!!!"

"I hope you can understand the truth, even if you are an excellent team Mr. Giordano has found. But I am the one who will pay you in the future. From today on I will be your boss. If you can accept it, you can stay, and if you cannot accept it, you can leave directly. As I said just now, I will calculate your salary for this month. "

Said Serena solemnly, her face was calm as if she was not worried that they would really leave there.

She did not care about their team at all.

The group of people had been very upset when they were first subjected to this insult.

Mary said angrily, "How can there be a leader like you, who do you think you are, so you don't pay attention!"

Chapter 374: Reverse Psychology

"Am I not giving you attention? "Hearing this, Serena smiled weakly, "I think you misunderstand. Isn't it that it is you who are not paying attention to each other? Besides, I have already said that it is an honor for you to work in my company. But I don't like to force others, whether it's work or a relationship, you have to be willing, otherwise...Even if you stay in the company, you won't be able to do good."

Serena could be said to have used a kind of aggressive method.

These people were all arrogant, and using ordinary methods would probably make her look down on them and distrust them even more.

"What the hell is this, we are all outstanding designers, how can we not design good works because of you? Oh, I really want to stay and see if you, the new boss, can bring our team together. "Arianna was arrogant and of course she was the most insensitive.

Maria blinked, "I think the same as Arianna."

Vito put his hands to his chest and looked at Serena with a smile, "This boss is very beautiful, I like her even more."

"Since Arianna stayed, then I have to stay here, too." Mirco approached Arianna and began to stand up.

And Eva Zagaria had a very sweet disposition, and she liked the salary, so she didn't say much.

Instead, Lisa turned quickly to look at the cold boy sitting behind her.

"Diego, do you want to stay?"

So the group of people turned to look at him.

It was also at that moment that Serena noticed the young man sitting behind, the young man finally raised his head, his thin face was cold, his eyes fell without any warmth, and then he huffed coldly.

Then he got up and went to another room.

All: "..."

Chiara saw him and approached Serena and said, "His name is Diego Lombardi. He is the best member, but his behavior is very strange."

"Strange?" Serena arched her eyebrows, thinking about the boy's cold eyebrows seemed full of stubbornness, "In what way strange?"

Anna also leaned closer in curiosity to listen.

"It is better to say that he is cold, it is better to say that he is closed. He never associates with others.

Before I found him, he was always alone. I thought he would accept Matteo's invitation in a meaningful way, but who knows he actually accepted after hearing the salary. "

Hearing this, Serena nodded clearly.

"Understood."

Anna grabbed her cheeks and said, "Although he has a strange behavior, he looks very handsome."

Lisa from the side heard this and immediately said, "I warn you, Diego is mine, you are not allowed to snatch him from me!"

After she finished speaking, she turned and ran toward the direction where Diego had just disappeared, and as she ran she shouted, "Diego, wait for me!"

"This is Lisa Rallo. You saw the information. She came to me alone. Because Diego wanted to join this company, so...She also wants to join. "

"Um... "Anna found this inexplicable and it became clear when Chiara said: "He turns out to be a suitor, so infatuated. They are all caught up in the company. "After that, Anna inexplicably looked at Lisa's back with envy.

Why were people so brave to follow their angels?

But when she saw that angel, it had been like a mouse seeing a cat, and she had run away without a trace. And then...Her angel might not have known why she had run away, everything was the same as she directed and acted.

Thinking about this, Anna was again very upset.

She thought, if she had been half Lisa's age, oh no...she would have had a little more courage!

"All right, let's get back to work first. The company has just been established. The first few days might be relatively quiet, so you can take advantage of your time to find inspiration."

Chiara smiled slightly, "Miss Serena, I'll give you a tour of the fourth floor."

"Yes." Serena nodded, and then left the office with Chiara.

On the fourth floor was a meeting room, a reception area, and a specially set up area.

"On the fifth floor is your office."

After arriving on the fifth floor, Serena noticed that the decor there was different from other places, there was a cool and elegant atmosphere everywhere, and even the color of the carpet was very distinctive.

"This floor was designed by Mr. Giordano himself to give Miss Serena a relaxing environment. Mr.

Giordano said that whether in company or at home, Miss Serena does not need to feel too much pressure. "

Hearing this, Serena probably knew something.

"So how long was it before this company was built?"

Hearing this, Clare was stunned for a moment and realized she had said too much, so she shook her head and did not answer her.

In fact, even though she said nothing, Serena could tell by looking at the project there. It must have taken a long time, a building could be completed in no time. Wanting to open a company, Matteo had prepared for this matter at least two years in advance.

Unexpectedly, Matteo had already done so much for her.

This big brother was really serious.

"I'm going to look inside."

"I'm coming too!"

Anna followed Serena.

Chiara pondered for a while, and then said, "I have almost visited everything today, and Miss Serena has met everyone, too. There are still things to do at the company, so I'll be back early."

Hearing this, Serena nodded, "Thank you for today, take care along the way."

"Good."

"Also, call me Serena from now on, don't call me Miss anymore, it embarrasses me."

Chiara was stunned, "Isn't it so nice?"

"Ah, what's wrong? Serena is not the kind of person you think, she is not so snobbish, after all we have known each other for so many years, don't you think I always call her by her first name? "

Serena smiled and nodded, "Anna is right."

"All right, Miss Serena."

"Wow, you still call her Miss Serena!"

Chiara was silent for a while, and then burst out laughing after a while, "Serena!"

Chiara: "..."

Then the three of them looked at each other and laughed together.

After Chiara left, Serena and Anna were left to walk inside.

The sofa was made of leather. Not only could it feel to the touch, but it was also more comfortable to sit on. So Anna took off her shoes and jumped on it and rolled around on it, rolling around and saying,

"Serena, sometimes I am very envious of you. People's lives are really different. You actually have a brother who treats you so well, who is even more caring than your boyfriend! Hey, I'm so envious! "

Serena smiled, did not answer, simply sat down on the chair in front of the desk.

"By the way, Serena, why did you tell them those things? Aren't you afraid they'll really leave? At that time, the salary will have been paid in vain. "

Chapter 375: Getting busy

Serena raised her head and watched Anna roll around on the sofa.

"Anna, it's not that I want to talk about you. It's just this, have you found that you have become less and less inclined to use your mind over the years? "

Anna: "...Without making such a personal attack on you, are you trying to say that I have no mind? "

After speaking, he curled his lips again, "You thought I didn't want to use my brain. I could analyze some things first, but then I found that my brain could not keep up with you. You said how can this person change so much? You don't even need to be smart, but how do I feel that I have become stupid? "

Serena: "...

"However, you should treat me as brainless. Anyway, I don't want to use my brain. Now I eat and die like this every day, I think it's good enough. Hey, tell me what you were thinking at that time. The people in that team were hired with high salaries. What if they really left? "

"No. "Serena said.

"Why?"

"They are not normal people. "Serena looked at her and explained in a whisper, "They are all good designers, but I have seen their qualifications. Although they have high grades, they have been in the industry for a short time and are more arrogant. As long as I make the words a little bad, it's easy to arouse their anger. Even if they really want to leave the company, they still cannot accept the mentality of not working with a fixed salary. And they look down on me. "

When Anna heard her say this, she suddenly turned from the sofa and sat down, then stared at Serena fiercely, as if she was about to take her alive.

"What are you going to do? "Serena looked at her huffing.

However, Anna stared at her seriously and solemnly, "Serena, I found that you have changed now, you are completely different from before, you were..."

"The previous things are over. "Before Anna could say the rest, Serena seemed to know what she was going to say, so she interrupted the rest aloud, "Don't say it again."

Hearing this, Anna realized that she had almost said something that should not have been said, and then she nodded.

The two of them moved back to the company before leaving.

Since she had just started the company, she still had to choose a date for a grand opening and also think about the name.

After Serena and Anna drove away, Maria came back through the window.

"The car they drive is so, I thought she was so rich, she actually drives a Volkswagen."

"A Volkswagen. "Arianna arched her eyebrows when she heard the words, "How much is that car worth? You have the money to start a company, but you don't even have the money to buy a car?"

"Matteo used to drive the business for you. I guess I can't afford the car. I can only buy a Volkswagen pretending to be a force. "Maria seemed very kind, but her words were extremely inconsistent with her appearance.

Eva Zagaria lifted her glasses to her face without speaking.

Vito squeezed his cheeks, "But this woman is really ruthless. She knows how to handle our weaknesses. She actually made us all stay. Before I came here, I thought about leaving several times today."

After she finished speaking, Vito smiled and looked at the others.

"Heck. "Arianna sneered, "Why did you want to leave? Didn't you make us despise you when you left?"

We don't know what people in the industry will say when we get a high salary but leave without a job. "

When Eva heard this, she nodded her head, "I also think we signed the contract and the salary was paid in advance. It would be too rude if we left directly at this time."

Mirco on the side said, "Whether you are honest or not, let's do it for a few months at least after we get the money. That woman seems fine, it will only take a few months to observe and see the depth of her skills. "

Vito replied aggressively, "Why these words?"

As soon as Arianna heard this, she gave Vito a fierce look-he was a wretch!

Seeing Arianna's anger, Mirco scolded Vito, "Can you stop talking?"

"How? As a man, what happened to me when I said something bad? Everyone is an adult and can't even listen? "

After speaking, Vito looked at the charming and fiery Arianna: "Arianna, I invite you to dinner tonight, do you agree?"

Arianna gulped, "Just you? Look in the mirror and see if you are worthy."

Vito did not change his expression and continued to smile.

"That's right!" Mirco was the only one eagerly waiting for Arianna's answer, because Arianna was the person he was pursuing, so Vito asked Arianna in front of him. He was naturally unhappy and said angrily, "Only your face, Arianna looks down on you."

"Oh, look what this said, is it possible that she is interested in you? "Vito replied, making Mirco angry.

"All right, stop fighting. "Eva reluctantly persuaded them, "There's nothing to do today."

"Why don't we all go out to dinner together?"

"All right, all right, Diego, come with us. "Lisa nodded quickly and agreed, and then happily went to find Diego.

Diego had not even reacted.

"Lisa, aren't you tired of chasing people like this? Look at his introverted look and stop talking to him. "

"If it were up to you, I could do it myself."

"Ah, I think you are so cute, so I want to help you."

.....

There was still much to be done.

Although Serena had never thought of starting a company before, once it was open and owned by her,

she would work hard to do everything right.

First of all, it was a matter of finding the company's staff; Matteo prepared only the elite team for her,

but she still had to leave other chores to her.

As Serena's assistant, Anna had naturally volunteered.

"What we want to recruit is probably one or two receptionists who can change shifts, and then there are security guards, chefs and cleaners. These can be sought from our applications. There are many to choose from."

"Yes." Serena nodded, "I'll leave them to you."

"No problem, it's up to me."

After that, Anna was directly entrusted with this matter, and Serena had other things to take care of, so everyone was busy with each other.

Seeing that three days had passed, Anna had finally recruited people, and Serena was also busy with the things she had on her hands.

She was actually very careful, personally observing all the people Anna was looking for, after which she felt there was no problem and everyone signed the contract for the probationary period.

So another day had passed and it was already very late. Serena was still writing the plan in front of the computer and Manuel was looking from behind, "Mom, it's late, I'm going to bed."

Hearing this, Serena did not turn her head, "Well, Manuel go to sleep, Mommy will stay with you."

Chapter 376: Forced Appointment

Manuel was a little disappointed and did not go to sleep, he got out of bed, slipped on his shoes and went downstairs to pour a glass of milk for Serena.

"Mom."

When Serena smelled milk, she realized that Manuel had given her a glass of milk.

It seemed to tell her that Mom would take care of him, he was so lonely.

The last few days she had been busy with work. She was busy until midnight every night. After getting up, she was back to busy, as if...she had ignored Manuel's emotions.

Thinking about this, Serena suddenly felt that it was really inappropriate for her to do so.

Instead of picking up the cup of milk, she hurriedly saved the data on the computer, then closed the laptop and looked at Manuel. Then she slowly reached out her hand and took the milk in her hand, "I'm sorry, Manuel, mom has been busy with work for two days she forgot to take care of you. I'm really sorry."

As she spoke, Serena hugged Manuel and took his little body in her arms.

After Manuel moved closer to her, he reached out to hug Serena's neck whispering, "It's okay for mom.

I know Mom is busy, so I don't mind."

"You don't mind. I should have thought about it before, Mom will stop working at night and be with you more. "

Although Manuel had said he didn't mind, when Serena said she should accompany him more, his eyes were much brighter than before: after all, he is a child and always needed his parents' company.

He had lost his father's love, so he could not even have his mother's love.

Serena handed him the milk, "Mother does not need to drink milk. This cup of milk was poured by you, so can you drink it?"

Manuel blinked, "But Mom, I poured it especially for you."

Hearing that he said it was poured especially for her, Serena felt embarrassed if she didn't drink it, so she nodded, "Okay, I'll drink it."

After that, Serena drank the milk and went back to bed with Manuel, "Mother will not work tonight. I will stay with you. Do you want to hear the bedtime story?"

Manuel nodded, "Okay mom, what story do you want to tell tonight?"

"Well, think about it, Mom, I'll tell you something later..."

"Once upon a time..."

*

The next day.

In the hospital

When Beatrice brought the porridge to the hospital, she saw that the room was almost completely clean and Cristian was bent over as he put on his shoes.

"What's going on?" Beatrice's expression suddenly changed, she stepped forward and placed the porridge on the table.

Cristian looked up and looked at her, "Can't you see them all?"

"Are you leaving the hospital?" Beatrice asked, "Have you completed the discharge procedures?"

As soon as he finished speaking, Luke, who had completed the discharge procedures, came back and when he saw Beatrice after entering the room, he respectfully shouted, "Mrs. Beatrice."

Beatrice looked at him again, "Are you going to follow the discharge procedures?"

Luca was stunned for a moment, then nodded, "Cristian said he's fine, so..."

"Who said he's fine? "Beatrice quickly went to grab the bill in her hand two steps away, then stared at Cristian, "Who allowed you to make claims? You were discharged from the hospital so soon, do you know that you were in a car accident? The car accident was not a normal injury! "

Hearing this, Cristian frowned a little displeased and said coldly, "Even if it's a car accident, how about it, I'm not seriously injured, it's a normal injury."

Beatrice: "..."

"Well, you have to be stubborn with me, right? Sure. I'll arrange a blind date for you today. I told you last time that I would look for you when you leave the hospital. As a result, you are so anxious to leave the hospital. In fact, you are in a hurry to leave me, aren't you? "

Cristian squinted his eyes, revealing an unpleasant aura about his body.

"Who said I agree?"

"Ah "Beatrice sneered, then took out her cell phone and began to make a call Cristian watched this scene in silence, but finally said nothing.

She had gone to talk about her, and he wasn't going there anyway, let alone what kind of person she would find for him.

Cristian stood up, buttoned his suit jacket, and said coldly, "Let's go back to the company."

Luca nodded, and then followed him.

As soon as they started toward the door of the department, Beatrice's body directly blocked their path,

"Where are you going?" Without my order, you are not allowed to go anywhere today! "

Cristian tightened his thin lips deeply and the breath on his body was cold.

"Cristian, it's okay if you don't want to listen to the admission, it doesn't matter if it doesn't persuade you, but if you don't agree to go on a blind date, then...I went through hell to look for your mother!"

Cristian: "....."

Luca: "..."

He swallowed surprised and stammered, "That...Mrs. Beatrice, don't be so serious, right? Cristian's physical fitness is quite good, even if he is discharged soon there shouldn't be any major problems, right? "

"It's because of you. "Beatrice looked at Luca, "He's in good physical shape, is he a robot? Don't you need to rest? Have you ever heard of a patient who just went to work without taking a break? Do you really think his body is made of iron? "

Luca: "Mrs. Beatrice, I..."

"All right, shut up, this matter has nothing to do with you, you have a day off today, go back and rest."

When Luca heard this, his face immediately flecked with joy, "Really?"

As a result, the joy did not last long before Luca felt a sharp look on his face, making him shiver and straighten up in a hurry.

"Goodbye, if I don't go to work today, I won't get a year-end bonus."

"Is that so? "Beatrice squinted her eyes and gave Cristian a deep look, "If you don't get a year-end bonus, I will give you three times the amount of your year-end bonus."

Hearing this, Luca immediately opened his eyes wide: "Mrs. Beatrice, this..."

"So you can go on vacation with peace of mind."

Before Luca spoke again, Beatrice grabbed him directly by the arm and pulled him out.

Cristian and Beatrice remained in the ward.

Beatrice blocked the door, not letting him go.

The two faced each other for a long time, Cristian returned to the bed and said coldly.

"Let me stay for a week, don't arrange blind dates for me."

"Eheh, even if you've been living for a month now, I won't accept you."

Beatrice sneered, walked in and directly closed the bedroom door.

"I already told her, and she said they can arrange a meeting with you in the afternoon. Cristian, you don't think I'm joking? I'm telling you it's impossible, either you go on a blind date for me today, or...You'll send me to hell! "

Cristian: ".....Do you have to force me like this? "

"Who is forcing who? Do you know how old you are now? What have you been doing all these years? I am older than you, what is wrong with looking for someone to take care of you? "

Chapter 377: Why are you so arrogant?

Cristian had never been an easy person.

But the other side was his aunt, a relative of his.

And this was a relative after all, Cristian's head hurt.

"Wait here, though, I don't think there's anything wrong with you. She will come by right away to see you in the afternoon."

Cristian was deeply unhappy and said in a deep voice, "When did it start?"

"What? "Beatrice was stunned by these words, "What do you mean?"

"You have become so unkempt."

Cristian raised his head, his gaze fell straight on Beatrice's face, his eyes were black and white and his emotions were also very obvious, making it clear that he did not like Beatrice's arrangement.

Beatrice was stunned for a moment. She probably did not expect Cristian to tell her, so she did not react.

When she did react, she could not help but sneer.

"Now that you really have hardened wings, did you really say I'm scruffy?" Now that you've grown up, even I can't control you anymore? "

Having said that, the expression on Beatrice's face she could not tell what emotion it was, but she looked very depressed.

Cristian had suddenly become gloomy, indeed, he had not improved in the last few days, the only relative next to him was Beatrice.

Thinking about this, Cristian closed his eyes deeply, took a deep breath and did not respond.

"Okay, just kidding, you have to come to me anyway today!"

Cristian spoke no more and resisted her.

Beatrice knew she had agreed and was finally relieved.

Although Cristian felt that Beatrice was heavy and unreasonable tonight, he let her take care of it.

*

"This, this goes with this, um, must be added to the soup."

The chef invited by the Giordano group wrote a series of nutritious meals for a week, and Anna brought it to Serena.

After reading it, Serena nodded and thought it was okay, so she made a small change and then handed it to Anna.

"The soup is different every week, Serena, how do you think the price is set?"

"This chef should be more experienced than us, let him take care of it."

"Yes." Anna nodded, almost turning around and walking out.

Serena gathered the information and said before she was about to leave, "When you come down, by the way, inform the team on the third floor and let them come to the fourth floor for a meeting."

Hearing this, Anna let out a cry and looked back at her in puzzlement.

"A meeting?"

Serena arched her eyebrows, "Is there a problem?"

"Ah, no."

Anna tightened her neck and then walked out to ask them to come to a meeting, which was so strange.

When there was no company before, she and Serena were so free. Now that they had company, they had to take care of others and hold meetings. Besides, she had been so busy in those days.

It was already like that, they were hurrying and working hard.

In the meeting room.

The few who had come were very reluctant when they were called, but since Serena was a leader after all, they came.

However...Only a few people had come.

When Serena entered, she saw that there were only a few people in the meeting room. She stared at them and did not say much. She walked to the main seat, Anna followed behind her, holding a bundle of documents in her hand. .

Anna took a look and found that only Vito, Eva, Diego, and Lisa had come.

Three other people had not come.

The three people in the conference room were obviously divided into several groups.

Vito smiled slightly, his eyes lingering on Serena's body.

Serena was very formal, wearing a blue-and-white striped shirt and a sheath dress, her long, charming hair tied in a ponytail at the back of her head, looking somewhat clean and refreshingly capable.

This woman...Her beauty and figure were attractive.

She had light makeup and a unique style.

Eva Zagaria sat there peacefully with a smile on her face.

Diego was on the other side, the lonely and cold boy was sitting there, unbuttoning some white shirts, which made him look undisciplined. Lisa sat beside him like a child, looking at him eagerly.

And the lonely boy did not seem to feel her existence.

Lisa knew that Diego didn't like others being too close to him, so he could only sit a short distance away, but as long as he didn't move away, it would be very happy for Lisa to be able to sit with him.

"What about the others? Didn't you inform them of the meeting? Why didn't they come? " Anna asked aloud.

Vito arched his eyebrows without answering.

But Eva explained under her breath, "They probably still have things to do."

"Something to do? What?

Eva smiled slightly, "I don't know, why don't you go and see?"

When Anna heard her, she stepped forward and wanted to see them.

Accordingly, Serena stopped after taking two steps, "Anna, sit down."

Anna turned her head and looked at Serena incredulously, "But...They didn't come here, I went to see them for a meeting. "

"It's not necessary. "The expression on Serena's face was frighteningly cold and her voice was surprisingly calm, "I said a few days ago that I can't do a good job if they are reluctant. Since they don't want to come, we will make them have a meeting."

After speaking, Serena curled her red lips, then looked at the folder in Anna's hand, "Send the information first."

Although Anna was angry, she still listened to Serena's words and reluctantly sent the information to different people.

Serena pulled the chair away and sat down. The meeting room was well prepared. She inserted the USB flash drive she had prepared in advance into the laptop, and then said as she operated, "Please take the time to read the information you have . . ."

Eva did not say a word and calmly examined the documents. Vito relaxed as the cold and lonely boy analyzed the documents like a robot, but Lisa huffed as she looked at the documents. She said,

"Diego, what's so interesting about these materials? The company has just started now and there is no customer to place an order, what will be easy to open? "

Diego turned a deaf ear and glanced at each line of data with a cold stare.

Vito had not even touched the documents, and Serena had not paid attention if he was looking at them.

Still, she kept talking. Vito suddenly became a little curious about this woman.

She looked like a soft persimmon, anyone could pinch him.

But if he wanted to upset her, just hit her. If he wanted to attack her, he could get hurt. On the contrary, she herself was not hurt.

Probably because her eyes were too focused, Serena suddenly raised her head and stared at him with cold eyes, "What's your problem?"

When Vito heard her, he could not help but contract his lips, "It's okay, I'm just thinking, what's the point of the meeting now?" No customers came to the door. "

Chapter 378: Principles

"If there are no customers now, that doesn't mean there won't be any in the future. "Serena retracted her gaze, the black pen twirled between her fingers, and Vito stared again.

Her hands were thin, her ten fingers were white and small, cute and round, and unlike those women he knew who wore colored nail polish, her fingers were extremely clean and her nails were shaped like a crescent moon.

"Letting you come to the meeting, besides letting you look at these materials, but also to see how many people want to stay here. "Having said that, Serena put down her pen.

"No matter what the reason you entered the meeting room, you are willing to come, I am very happy, thank you."

"Alright, let's have a meeting."

*

"Do you know what is going on right now?" At first she said there would be a meeting, did she really think she could be our leader? Looking at her like this, I always feel that this company won't last long.

Otherwise..."

The few people who had not gone to the meeting had gathered, among them were Maria, Arianna and Mirco.

Hearing this, Arianna sneered and looked at her impatiently, "Maria, I didn't go to the meeting room because my stomach hurts and I don't want to go. What does it have to do with you? Mirco doesn't make decisions for himself, do you know that too? "

His face was a little pale, and there was a cold sweat on his forehead, he seemed to be really uncomfortable.

At that moment, Mirco quickly brought a glass of hot water to Arianna, "Arianna, first drink a glass of hot water."

Seeing the glass of hot water, Arianna suddenly raised her hand and dropped it.

"Are you out of your mind?" I have a stomach ache, will you let me drink hot water? "

The water spilled off the table and immediately soaked the keyboard next to him. Mary's gaze changed slightly, thinking that Arianna was really as irritable as they said, and she got angry every time.

Mirco was taken aback by her actions, but he quickly took out a handkerchief to wipe off the water on the keyboard and table, and said carefully, "Arianna, don't be angry. I will clean the water first. Take care of your sleeves, they are wet."

Seeing that the water was about to spread to the side of Arianna's sleeves, Mirco pulled more tissues to wipe the water from her hand. Arianna felt annoyed when he approached, so she raised her hand directly and waved.

"Can you come out? It's annoying to see you! "

Arianna had pulled out her claws, with small diamonds set on her nails, they had scratched Mirco's face and made a small cut in his left cheek. Maria on the side saw this and stood up anxiously. .

"Mirco, your face is hurt. "After speaking, she looked at Arianna incredulously, "Are you okay? Mirco only cares about you, you pour it well and even if you turn the water upside down, you hurt people. "

Arianna felt so bad that she couldn't take it anymore. After hearing these words, she raised her head again and looked at Maria, "What's wrong with you? Mirco himself is willing, if I let him go, he won't let him go, he has to hold me, he won't let it happen like this? "How? Is Mirco?"

Maria blushed at what she said, and gritted her teeth, "Ariadne, you are really unreasonable."

"Why are you so unreasonable? I have a stomach ache and I want to rest here. I don't want to go to the meeting room. You are ashamed to say you want to stay and take care of me. Shit, I really don't know anything about you."

Speaking of which, a look of disgust flashed across Arianna's face, she had endured the pain in her stomach and got up, and then walked out.

But she stumbled, Mirco supported her, "Arianna, are you hurt? Shall I take you to the hospital? "

"Go away, don't disturb me. "Arianna scolded him and did not want to disturb him at all.

Maria stood on the spot, clenching her fingers angrily and said loudly, "Mirco, since she doesn't want to bother you, don't bother her. Why are you such a big man?"

This sentence probably irritated Mirco. He stopped and looked at Maria, "I do what I want and you don't have to meddle. Besides, I'm chasing Arianna. I know what she looks like!"

Bar----

Arianna finally could not restrain herself and fell down.

"Arianna?"

Mirco's expression changed, he rushed forward and caught her in his arms from the side, and then let go of her directly.

"Where are you going!?"

Mirco did not respond to her words and disappeared holding Arianna in his arms. For a moment, Maria was the only one left in the office. He stood there thinking for a long time, and then suddenly followed her outside.

In the meeting room

"Have you read the briefing, do you have any suggestions?"

Serena's eyes fell on the people with indifference and she asked coldly.

As a result, the door to the conference room was slammed at that moment, and Maria rushed in with a tearful face, "It's no good..."

The meeting was suddenly interrupted and Serena's eyebrows arched unconsciously. Looking at Maria who was running, Anna also stood up with a sigh of relief, "Don't you want to come and participate?

Why do you suddenly appear here?"

"Arianna, she..."

"Get out."

A serious voice interrupted Maria, Anna looked back to find that it was Serena who had spoken, and her eyes fell on Maria's face with indifference.

Maria was taken aback, "You, what did you say."

"The meeting is in progress and no one can interrupt it until the end."

Only then did Maria react; she had said she was an intruder and told her to get out. Maria's expression suddenly changed, she gritted her teeth and said, "I didn't mean to break in on purpose, I just have something to say."

"Then go out and wait until the meeting is over."

"You have a conscience, I said there is something urgent to tell you."

Serena huffed coldly, "Maria, please get out."

Anna nodded and approached Maria, "You didn't come when you were called just now, but now, it's a pity it's not your turn now. Come out."

Maria bit her lower lip and stopped and refused to leave.

"If you don't leave again, don't blame me for using harsh methods." Anna said, clenching her fists.

She was joking; she was not a weak woman. Not only was she Serena's assistant, but she could also serve as Serena's bodyguard. After all, she was a very strong woman and no one could beat her.

Maria looked at her as if she wanted to be true to herself, and turned away angrily.

Bang!

The door to the meeting room closed again.

Lisa looked at this scene with some astonishment, "Is it really okay? I think she...There really seems to be something to say. "

Eva smiled sweetly, "Who cares? Eva was right, she was told to come first and she didn't come, how could she have come if she had wanted to? "

Vito also lifted the corners of his lips, "Yes, there are principles."

Next, he added a sentence, "I like it."

Lisa stared at him fiercely, "You are shameless!"

Chapter 379: Heartless people

"The meeting continues."

Said Serena indifferently, and then went back to looking at the file.

The meeting had not even gotten halfway through, so Maria waited outside the door for almost an hour.

After the door to the meeting room opened, Maria looked in nervously.

As a result, as soon as she raised her head, she saw Diego come out with a cold face and walk past her without squinting.

Maria's lips moved, and she wanted to ask what he wanted, but she had to resist the impulse when she saw his defiant look.

"Diego, wait for me." Lisa quickly followed Diego to join him.

Eva Zagaria, who came out from behind, watched the two leaving and followed them forward, but the two collided.

"Eva, what is the situation inside? What are you talking about? Does a new company meeting have to take so long? "

Eva was a very talkative person, she seemed very nice, so Maria thought of asking her.

Surely Eva did not dislike her, but she just whispered, "It is because of the new company that it is necessary to have a meeting to talk about some precautions at work and discuss them. The new society needs to develop, Maria, I think we all need to give some time to the new boss so that we are not too strict. "

Hearing this, Maria said dissatisfied, "I'm so harsh and I didn't do anything. You can see that it blew me away as soon as I came in. Is that what a leader is supposed to do?"

"What about you? "Eva sighed and asked, "The boss informed us about the meeting. As a subordinate, why didn't you come?"

"I... "Maria was suddenly speechless.

Eva patted her on the shoulder and said softly, "This is your fault. You felt it that day. If you don't want to stay here, you can leave the company. I think she's right. People shouldn't go against their instincts.

"

After speaking, Eva smiled and then took a step forward.

After hearing her words, Maria suddenly thought of something, turned around and stared at her back and said coldly, "You couldn't wait to tell me, do you want to get rid of the people around you? You're hoping everyone will be gone, and then you'll be left to enslave us, right?"

Hearing that, Eva paused slightly, and then turned her head back and looked at Mary helplessly.

"If you think so, take it as it is. I have something to do."

After Eva left, Maria felt very upset, as if she had been hit. But she felt that even though Eva had a kind smile and seemed to speak for others, she looked really disgusting with this hypocritical look.

After the people in the meeting room left one after another, Serena was still sitting in the main chair and arranging the meeting materials, when she suddenly realized that a rueful look was falling on her face.

Serena pursed her lips and raised her eyes to look at the person.

"What is it?"

Her voice was too cold, like a block of ice.

His tone was icy.

Vito unconsciously tightened his arms and squeezed his shoulders, "What a beauty of ice and snow, why is it so cold? Beauty, do you want to have dinner together tonight? "

Serena frowned and stared at him displeased.

She was a woman, but her aura was quite strong. Vito felt that it was actually too much to hold her back. He pulled his lips together helplessly and said, "It's just me asking the boss. It's just dinner."

"No, thank you." Serena lowered her head again, her gaze fell on the documents and then she turned the page, Anna came closer and said something to her, Serena nodded again.

Looking at Serena in this way, Vito was moved.

Later, he thought it was a pity that such beauty was held in captivity by Matteo, eh.

However, someone who could be treated so differently from Matteo could not be despised by Vito.

Thinking of this, Vito did not want to bother her anymore, got up, packed his things, and left.

After he left, Anna could not help but shout, "This Vito will never change. Does he want to hit on his boss? What a shame! I heard he chased girls in all kinds before, as long as they are beautiful, he won't let them go. I didn't expect you either..."

"Well, don't worry about him." said Serena weakly.

"Your brother is also true, among so many excellent people, why choose this kind of person?"

"My brother..." Serena paused, then her eyes deepened, "The person he chooses should have his own ideas. Even if he is not right here, there are still others...No matter what kind of person he is, we all have to adapt to get through this moment. You have worked hard today, Anna, get out of work early and go to rest. "

Hearing, Anna shook her head vigorously, "Forget it, everyone's work schedule is like this. If I come back early, I might tell them what they will say nonsense behind their backs."

The two discussed for a while in the meeting room, then got up and left the meeting room together after a while.

When they left the meeting room, they found that Maria was still waiting for them.

Seeing them leave, Maria hesitated for a long time.

Anna said, "What else do you want?"

"I..." Maria looked at Serena and found that her face was completely indifferent, so she had to explain,

"Actually, I broke into the conference room just now, but something really happened. And I didn't deliberately attend the meeting, but Arianna suddenly felt sick, so Mirco and I stayed in the office to take care of her. "

Anna: "..."

Serena: "Yes."

Yes? Maria was slightly stunned, what did she mean?

"What I said is true. Arianna fainted just now and Mirco took her to the hospital."

Anna said impatiently, "We already know, you can go back."

Maria was puzzled, "Is that so?"

Serena and Anna did not speak, Maria almost laughed, "You really are a heartless woman. You don't even care about this situation. Don't you care about something wrong with Arianna?"

Facing Maria's strong accusation, Serena's pink lips finally moved at that moment, and then softly said,

"If it's really so serious, why are you still here?"

"Yes, didn't you take care of her with Mirco? If you don't take care of her, what are you foolishly doing at the door of this conference room? "

Maria: "...I..."

She bit her lower lip. In fact, she had not stayed to take care of her because Arianna was sick. She really looked down on Serena and had not wanted to go to her meeting.

But Arianna was sick, and Mirco had stayed, so she could stay too.

But after Mirco had left with Arianna, Maria thought that...It was not good to be there alone and wanted to explain the situation.

Chapter 380: To please her.

But these two women were really so indifferent.

Maria immediately felt like an idiot, waiting stupidly for more than an hour.

-Now we know, you can come back first,|| said Serena.

Maria was so angry that she huffed and left.

When Maria left, Anna looked at Serena. - There is a sick employee, should we go to the hospital to check on her?

-Serena did not answer immediately, but said, "Go check Mirko's profile.

-Anna immediately understood what Serena meant and nodded: -I will do that right away. -

After work, Serena and Anna went to the hospital together.

On the way to the hospital, Anna was carrying a basket of fruit and a bouquet of flowers in her hand and said to Serena, -Arianna is a very arrogant woman and treats you badly, why are you going to visit her at the hospital?

-Serena smiled and said nothing.

Anna,-Serena!

-Because we will accommodate her. - Serena replied, -If she was not a member of our corporate team, what happens to her is none of our business. But now she is an employee of our company.

Now she is sick and has been hospitalized.

As her boss, I should express my concern to her. What is the problem?"

-Anna did not entirely agree with Serena's point of view and replied, "Although it is right, not all bosses have to do this. If the boss has to visit the hospital once for every subordinate who is sick, the CEO of a multinational corporation will be too busy to do it every day.

-But I am the CEO of a small company, our company has only a limited number of employees.

Although before we were alone is free, but now that we have created a company, we have to take the corresponding responsibility. -

-You are right, it is very difficult to create a company. - Anna grumbled, leaning on Serena's shoulder in disappointment.

Serena was used to this, she had worked in other companies before, and could really do without such things.

But, she thought, it was better to be nice to one's employees.

This was more important than anything else.

Suddenly a phone rang with very lovely ringing, and Serena's expression changed when she heard it, -

This is... -This is... -This is nice, isn't it?

-This is beautiful, isn't it? - Anna smiled and took out her phone, -I asked Manuel to record my ringtone, it's unique in the world.

Serena thought it was funny.

These two, Anna and Manuel, were really like a pair of siblings in terms of personality.

-I've never seen this phone number? - Anna asked suspiciously and Serena went to look: -It's a national number, could it be one of your friends? -

-I don't think so, I haven't told my friends that I'm back in the country.

-Anna thought about it and suddenly had a flash of light: "Could it be one of our new customers? -

After saying this, Anna picked up the phone, -

Hello this is Anna. -

Serena did not hear what Anna had just said as she looked out the window. While Anna had to talk on the phone, Serena put on her headphones and turned on her phone to listen to a piece of music to relax.

The soft music made her feel like she was walking on clouds, slowly calming her body and mind.

These days, Serena was really exhausted.

Gradually, Serena almost fell asleep listening to this music.

Just as she was about to fall asleep, her shoulder was pushed hard and Serena's whole body came back to reality.

Before Serena could react, her headphones were ripped off. Her ears were immediately filled with an excited voice as Anna tugged at her sleeve: -Serena, I'm right, he was our client! -

Serena had been on the verge of falling asleep earlier, only to be suddenly awakened and now her heart was pounding.

-What client? -

-Remember the assistant we met last time at the South City film and television base?

Serena thought for a moment and then nodded.

-Then she asked us for a business card. -

Serena did not answer, signaling for him to continue.

-That assistant director just called me and wanted to talk to us about a collaboration. She told me that there is an actress who will be attending the presentation and that she has seen your previous work and really liked it, so she wants to ask you to set up a time to talk about a collaboration. -

Serena thought it was strange that she had just lost an actress and now had a new one who wanted to work with her.

When she was still hesitating, Anna already said, "I already agreed and left your contact information.

And this actress can also help us advertise, at the presentation event, she will wear clothes designed by our company. -

Hearing this, Serena was also happy.

Now that the company was in full swing, if this actress signed a contract with the company, it would really be a chance to win.

Thinking about this, Serena nodded.

-Then I will definitely try to make the partnership work! -

-Thank you, Anna. -

After arriving at the hospital, Serena and Anna went to Arianna's room together. When they both entered, Mirko was sitting beside the hospital bed, while Arianna was lying on the bed, her face pale.

Arianna looked particularly weak, but nevertheless, she expressed her impatience and scolded Mirko, who was accompanying her, "Do you want to get out of here? I'm tired of seeing your face. People in a bad mood recover very slowly. - Mirko did not get angry and said cheerfully, "Sure, I'll do whatever you want. Then I'll go now, have a good rest. -

Having said that, Mirko got up and saw Serena and Anna standing in the doorway of the room, smiled and went to greet them, "Hello girls. -

Serena smiled at him and entered the room with Anna.

Arianna heard the sound and turned around, only to see them both and was immediately annoyed.

-What are you doing here? -

Mirko hastened to explain: -Arianna, they heard you fainted and came to see you. -

Anna gave Mirko the basket of fruit and flowers she was holding.

Who would have thought that Arianna would suddenly scream like a madwoman: -Tell them to go away,

I don't need their worries! -

-Arianna, I'm really here to visit you, don't be like this....

-You're leaving too! My business has nothing to do with you, you keep bothering me, and now you have also brought these two unpleasant women to my ward. -

-Who are you to say that about us? - Anna couldn't stand it any longer and replied, -We came to see you because we were worried and brought you some fruit and flowers in the hope that you will get well soon, we didn't mean any harm, you don't have to be like this. You are really a woman without qualities.

-

-Haha. - Arianna cast a mocking glance at Anna before looking at Serena, "Even if you show me kindness, I won't put in a good word for you."