

Virginity 391

Chapter 391: Now they are strangers.

Serena was very quick, went down the stairs, passed the street corner and took a few steps to get to the restaurant.

When she entered, she saw Elsa sitting not far away.

She paused for a moment, and then suddenly remembered that when she had called her earlier, it was because it was close to the appointment time, because she was a little anxious to meet her.

But now she saw her sitting there and remembered that she was eating with a friend of hers. It might bother her if he came over now.

While she was thinking about it, the waiter suddenly approached.

-Hello miss, excuse me....

Hearing this, Serena stopped thinking and smiled slightly at the waiter, -I'm looking for a 'friend, thank you.

Then, she walked in Elsa's direction, and when she approached, Serena found that she was alone.

Didn't she say she was eating with a friend? Serena was a little puzzled.

-Mrs. Elsa, hello.

Elsa had waited, Cristian went to the bathroom and never came back. After all this time, he should have come back. Could it be that he didn't come back because he didn't want to be here with her at all? She sighed as she thought, and suddenly she heard Serena's voice.

Elsa stopped thinking and saw Serena standing in front of her.

-There was an inconceivable disappointment in her voice, and she did not seem very interested.

Serena noticed this, and her eyes sparkled, -Miss Elsa, I was a little anxious at the moment, so I forgot to ask if it was okay with you,|| she said.

After talking about it, Serena looked across the table, "If it's not convenient, I'll come back later?"

-All right, you can sit down," Elsa laughed bitterly, "He's probably already gone.

What Elsa thought now was that he had gone to the bathroom on a pretext, but in fact he was gone.

Looking at her, who was very depressed, Serena said nothing. Instead, he sat down across from her and then chuckled, -Would you like to come into my company and sit for a while?

Serena thought if she was depressed here, would it be better to go to her company?

Elsa blinked, would she go to her company?

Cristian did not go to the bathroom, he was in the hallway to smoke, then he saw that time was almost up before he squeezed out his cigarette and went back.

Cristian came out and saw Elsa with another person in her place.

His gaze passed over that person's face without paying much attention.

Suddenly, Cristian's footsteps stopped, and the handsome face still had that indifferent expression, but his gaze had already changed.

The huge waves of his heart took hold of him almost instantly.

Was this an illusion?

Was he hallucinating again?

The first two times he had seen this woman she had disappeared quickly and did not catch his face.

Cristian thought it would be the same this time.

So he unconsciously held his breath and dared not blink.

One second, two seconds...

Ten seconds passed, and the person in front of him still remained in his view, smiling.

So, this time, it was not an illusion?

Cristian walked toward her step by step.

-Well, then let's go to your company. I'll pay the bill first.

Serena thought that since she was his client, it was only fair that she pay the bill for her client.

Thinking about this, she took her purse, stood up and said, -I'll pay it, you sit a bit.

Serena stood up with her bag, was about to walk in the direction of the cashier, and the moment she stood up and raised her head, she saw a tall, straight figure standing in front of her.

Under the cold eyebrows were a pair of sharp, eagle-like eyes. With time, there was a deep settlement hidden in the depths, and the tops of the nose were as high as clouds. His lips were also as thin as a knife and cold.

This face...

Serena paused, feeling her heart beat, as if it would stop.

Was she... Was she mistaken?

How could this person appear in front of her?

And was he so close?

Serena's hand holding the bag clenched unconsciously, then clenched again.

The thin, white hands showed blue veins from such movements.

The two were very close for a while, and Serena could still smell his strong masculine scent, which wrapped around her like a harness, trapping her inside.

Cristian looked at her coldly.

It was really her!

She had once thought he was hallucinating!

-A delicate exclamation broke the silence.

Elsa, who was sitting on the side, looked up and saw Cristian; she stood up in surprise and called his name, "Is it really you? Didn't you leave?"

Her voice could not hide the joy, and there were almost tears floating in her eyes, -I thought you left me alone!

Elsa's voice brought Serena back to her senses. Suddenly the thought came back to her and she realized that she had almost collided with Cristian, so she quickly took a few steps back to keep her distance from him.

Then she lowered her gaze, her long lashes covering all the thoughts in her eyes.

It turned out that ... the person depressing Elsa was Cristian?

Elsa saw Cristian return, so she was already very happy at this point and had no other thoughts to pay attention to his movements and glances.

Cristian's gaze kept falling on Serena's body, as if he had taken root.

Serena took a deep breath and suppressed the small emotions in her heart. After a long time, she raised her head and smiled at Elsa, "It looks like you still have things to do, so I'll leave first.

Of course, Elsa appreciated the time the two of them spent alone and, naturally, she nodded shyly.

But just as Serena was about to take a step to leave, Cristian, who was standing still and staring at her, suddenly spoke.

His voice was cold, like a heavy snowfall in winter.

-Your friend?

Elsa was stunned for a while, and it took her a while to realize that Cristian was asking her. She nodded, then shook her head again, then politely introduced her.

-Mr. Ferrari, this is Shelly, a designer who has just returned from abroad. Shelly, this is Cristian Ferrari, the president of the Ferrari Group.

He is my--" When she said this, Elsa's white face could not help but blush.

How could she introduce him? Although she believed Cristian would definitely be with her if she said he was her boyfriend, it was not appropriate now and it was not good to say they were on a blind date.

Finally, Elsa changed the introduction again.

-He's my friend.

Of course Serena knew that he was the president of the Ferrari Group.

She had known for five years, but-she didn't want to know now.

Not to disturb her client, Serena said with a calm expression, -Hello, Mr. Ferrari.

Mr. Ferrari?

Hearing this treatment, Cristian's eyes narrowed and his state became dangerous and frightening.

After five years, had he learned to call him Mr. Ferrari?

Chapter 392: You are unconscious and absorbed.

Cristian took a step forward, his strong aura came a little closer.

Serena was already calm, she remained in the same place, her gaze and expression indifferent.

-What's wrong? -Elsa realized it was a little strange, so she asked.

Hearing this, Serena looked up at Elsa, and gave a smile.

-Mrs. Elsa, we will contact you later, I will not bother you for now. -

With that said, Serena nodded her head in Cristian's direction and walked around to the other side of the table to leave.

Elsa said with some embarrassment, ..Then stay for a drink before going. -

-This... -

-You came here on purpose, I feel embarrassed if you leave now, however...he's back too, no problem if you sit for a while. -

Serena clutched her bag tightly for a few minutes and then let go of it, smiled at her and said, -Okay.

Thank you!

Serena asked for a glass of juice.

The restaurant served her the juice quickly, Serena knew she had only sat down out of politeness, so she only took a sip.

Cristian, who had also thought about leaving, was also there, sitting elsewhere with a cold look on his face.

Cristian looked terrible, Elsa did not dare to say anything, everyone had their own thoughts.

However , Serena could feel that Cristian stared at her the whole time, and said nothing.

Serena felt uncomfortable.

After a few minutes, Serena stood up.

-Thank you very much for your hospitality. But I still have work to do, so I won't bother you anymore.

Having said that, she stood up with a smile: -I'm paying today. -

Then not caring about the reaction of the two, she turned and headed for the cashier's desk to pay the bill.

As Serena was about to hand the cashier the card, someone moved faster than she did.

-I'll pay . -

The cold voice carried no emotion.

To Serena this voice was very familiar, she did not need to raise her head, she already knew who it was.

-I'm not in the habit of letting women pay for me. -

Serena, -...-

She was silent for a while, put the paper in her bag in silence. She turned her head looking at Cristian and put on a polite smile, -So, thank you very much Mr. Ferrari. -

Elsa, who was following him, seeing this scene, was covertly happy.

The man she liked was different, the man had to be like Cristian, he was a gentleman.

As he approached the door, Elsa suddenly said, "Serena, we'll take you to the company, it's not far anyway. -

Hearing this, Serena paused for a while, the corners of her mouth could not bear to twitch once.

-No need, I can walk back. Thank you for your hospitality today. -

Serena didn't think it was necessary to carry him that far, she saw that Elsa said no more. She stepped forward and walked straight ahead. She ignored another line of sight.

Elsa looked at her back, then gave a furtive glance to Cristian who was standing at her side.

-When did I say I was taking you home? -

Cristian said without emotion behind her.

Although Elsa had guessed that Cristian would not drive her home, but his sudden words made her feel awkward.

Good thing Serena was gone.

At the thought, Elsa raised her head and smiled at Cristian, "I know you won't walk me home.

Thank you for coming today, so be careful on the way.

After she finished talking, Elsa did not bother him anymore and left.

But suddenly something happened to her, she looked at Cristian and said, "By the way, Mr. Cristian, may I add your Facebook? -

She defies fortune: thought Cristian.

This woman really asked for more than she deserved.

Cristian's dark eyes looked eager, only she wanted to reject him; something had happened to him.

He looked in the direction where Serena had just disappeared with half-closed eyes.

-You said... she was a designer?

Elsa did not react at first, she just nodded her head in astonishment, after a moment, she too thought of something.

She raised her lips and eyebrows, saying, "Yes, Mr. Cristian, she is a designer.

I commissioned her to design my dress this time in your company. If Mr. Cristian needs to design something, you can also commission her. -

At this moment, Elsa saw that Cristian was interested in her identity as a designer. She thought that

Cristian might also want to commission Serena's design, so she directly published Serena's identity without hiding it.

She also thought that if she could use this opportunity to advance her relationship with Cristian, it would be better.

Designer?

Cristian's eyes narrowed when he heard what Elsa had told him.

He had not expected that this woman had become a designer; he was very surprised by this point.

Elsa bit her lower lip playfully, -Mr. Cristian also wants to do clothing design? How about we add

Facebook and I send you his business card? -

When he asked this question, Elsa's heart pounded-this was the most important step on the road to her god!

If as before, Cristian would have to leave soon, he did not even add the Facebook. He would never listen to her.

But now it was different, Cristian thought a little and pulled out his cell phone.

-Send me the business card.

Cristian disappeared in front of Elsa after saying this sentence.

Elsa nodded enthusiastically, waving her hand, -I will, Mr. Cristian. Mr. Cristian, drive carefully. -

Her gaze followed the tall, cold figure until he disappeared around the corner of the street. Elsa dropped her gaze and lowered her head, looking at her cell phone. She hugged the phone to her chest outside as if she had received something precious.

Good, it was one step closer to her god.

It seemed that Aunt Beatrice was right, Cristian was indeed a person who presented a cold face on the outside but had a warm heart on the inside.

She could almost imagine the days of the two of them together in the future.

Elsa left, happily hugging her cell phone.

Serena returned to the company and entered the office, then sat in front of the desk in a daze.

Anna had doubts when she saw her return-didn't she say she was with the client?

Why had she come back so early? But he didn't even ask her, anyway Serena knew how to handle her things well.

But when Anna got up to refill her coffee, she felt a little strange when she found that Serena was still sitting in the same position she had when she arrived.

What had happened?

Anna narrowed her eyes, prepared a cup of coffee, and brought it to her.

Bump!

The sound of the cup colliding with the table brought Serena back to consciousness. She looked up and saw that Anna was standing in front of her and looking at her curiously.

She saw that she raised her head, Anna crossed her hands in front of her chest, "What's wrong with you? Are you losing consciousness? -

Hearing this, Serena paused a little.

Is she losing consciousness?

At this thought, she could not help but laugh to herself.

So far she had thought that she had lost all emotion for so many years, but today she realized....

There were some things that were not changed according to what you wanted.

Chapter 393: She had to be calm in her heart.

-Serena thought seriously, and then shook her head, looking at the data in front of her with lowered eyelids.

She did not have to think about him anymore.

She had to be calm in her heart-even if she found him now, she had to treat him as a stranger.

Serena closed her eyes, but realized that her heart and mind were very confused.

-Surely something had happened! Anna had lived with her for five years; she had known Serena on one level. Anna immediately understood what Serena's mood was.

She approached her with narrowed eyes, "Didn't you say you went to see Elsa? But why are you coming back so soon? Tell me if this Elsa hurts you? -

Hearing this, Serena raised her eyes and looked at Anna, she was fierce as if she was about to fight someone.

Serena made joy in the difficulties, she raised her lips, "If I say yes, what will you do?"

Anna pinched her fingers suddenly sounding, "If that Elsa hurts you, I will hit her hard. However, I am a woman and she does not accuse me of hitting another woman. "

-... Please, it is a society under the rule of law, you will be punished for hitting someone. -

Anna laughed, "What, you can't settle private grudges yourself?"

Besides, I'll only give him a few blows, I'm not going to beat him to death. -

-And just a joke, I'm really fine. I came back early is because our client Elsa has other things suddenly.

-But your face doesn't look like that. -Anna put her chin in one hand and thought, -Tell me quickly, besides this, what else happened? -

Hearing this, Serena took a deep breath and laughed helplessly, "Why are you so gossipy? What else can happen?"

-Why are you sitting here with your mouth open for so long? -

-Because I was thinking about what design Elsa wanted. -

Anna reluctantly believed him, -Okay, if something happens to you, you have to tell me. Don't hide it in your heart. -

-Okay.

After Anna left, Serena breathed a sigh of relief.

This girl had the sense-very sensitive.

But it was also her fault that she did not hide her mood well.

Even Anna had found her broken, losing her senses and getting involved. So Cristian would also notice? -

It couldn't be...

She had lost all dignity five years ago, had begged him once to see her face to face, had even given up all her pride to beg him. But in the end, the divorce agreement was still lying in front of her.

She could not lose all notion of decency and standards in front of him again.

She had to be calm in her heart.

The man had been a stranger to her long ago.

The cell phone had rung.

The cell phone vibrated and Elsa sent a Facebook message.

Elsa, -Excuse me, Shelly. Today was an unforeseen situation, I'm very sorry for wasting your time, can we make another appointment?

Same restaurant, my treat.

Tonight? Serena's purple eyes flashed, her white fingers quickly typed the words on the keyboard.

Serena, -Excuse me, Mrs. Elsa, I have to work overtime tonight, I don't have time possibly. -

Elsa, -Well, that's fine. We'll make an appointment when I'm free. -

Serena, -Except today, I have to work overtime, I can cooperate with Miss Elsa at other times. -I'm sorry. -

Elsa, -It's okay, the person who has to apologize is me. I didn't plan it, otherwise I wouldn't have made you come. By the way, designer Shelly, you just opened your company, right? -

Serena, -Yes. -

Elsa, -I recommended your business card to Cristian. He should contact you for design, I will also recommend you to my family and friends. -

Had she recommended your Facebook to Cristian?

At that moment, Serena's heart seemed to stop for a second, but quickly returned to consciousness.

Serena, -Thank you very much.

Then she put her cell phone down on the table, resting the back of it behind her. She pinched the center of her eyebrows wearily.

At five o'clock in the evening, Serena was going to the dining room for dinner. She had just gone out the door, but she saw Anna coming with a serious face and said, -Serena, something has happened-.

Seeing her very serious face, Serena raised her eyebrows slightly surprised,

-What happened?

-Lisa came running and told me that something had happened to Diego, and ran crying.

I don't know what happened either. But I saw that she was very worried, do we have to do this? -

"Had something happened to Diego?"

Serena thought a little about the cold boy's appearance, and said, -Go get the data, see Diego's address, and let's go take a look. -

-Anna nodded immediately, and went to get Diego's address.

She had the data in her hand when she arrived, -I found it, this is the address. -

-Let's go. -

Serena and Anna left the company together, at first Serena wanted to drive her car, but she did not know Diego's address, so they both had to take a cab.

She had just gotten into the car, the driver could not bear to turn around a couple of times and asked, -

What are you two doing in that poor area? -

-Poverty area? Anna asked hesitantly.

The driver looked at her and nodded, -Don't you know? This is the famous poverty zone.

Also, there are always vicious people coming in and out. If you are not from there, I advise you not to go there. It is too dangerous for two girls. -

Hearing this, Anna could not help but look at Serena.

Serena laughed slightly, -Driver, let's go there and look for someone, you shouldn't have any problems, right? -

-Em, it depends on luck. I don't know what will happen either. I just heard from the people who always drive around that the people there are very fierce. -

Anna became suddenly worried and bit her lip, -If ... we are looking for people to come with us? -

-Serena thought for a while with lowered eyelids and suddenly asked:

"Driver, the area you are talking about, is it being demolished? -

-The driver scratched his head, "There shouldn't be an area of poverty like that in our prosperous northern city. But that area is so far away and besides, the people there are fierce, they didn't want to leave any place to be demolished.

The two sides are stagnating, and it's not even easy to do that, because it has always been that way. -

Hearing this, Serena was already more or less familiar with the situation.

-I understand, thank you. -

At the same time she knew that she and Anna could go, she absolutely could not call other people.

If she called other people, of course-they would be kicked out.

Chapter 394: She was hurt.

When she arrived at that address, Serena and Anna got out of the car, the driver kept shouting at them,

"Are you serious, aren't you afraid? If not, I'll take you back for free. - Listening, Serena looked at the driver gratefully, "Thank you, but actually we are here to find someone.

It's a bit urgent, so we have to go inside. -

-Ok, okay, well, remember to be careful. Okay. -

-Thank you!" said Anna to the driver in a loud voice and waved her hand.

Then Anna wanted to get in, but was stopped by Serena.

-What's the matter? -

Serena began to take off her jacket on the side of the road.

Anna stared at him, -Serena, Serena, what do you want to do? -

Serena took off her jacket and suggested to Anna to take off her jacket as well. Then Serena ruffled her clothes a little.

-We ... what ... are we going to do? -

-Serena looked at Anna's bag as she said, -Did you bring makeup remover? -

Anna nodded, "Yes, I have it here. -

-Give it to me. -

Anna handed her the makeup remover, Serena took the cotton ball and removed the makeup directly from her face. Anna twisted the corners of her mouth when she saw this scene, -You're really taking a chance, she does it right away like this. -

Serena wore makeup discreetly, so it was not difficult to remove it. After removing the makeup, both were without makeup.

-That's pretty much it, let's go. -

Then the two entered together.

They could stay in a demolition zone for so long, people here must be very fierce. That's why they had to be careful when they entered.

But this place also had another disadvantage, it was hard to find.

After Serena and Anna entered, although she and Anna had taken off their makeup, but the temperament clearly did not match this building, that's why they had attracted many looks.

Their views on people are pretty terrible-we should be okay, right? -

-They're just watching you, they're not going to eat you. Don't be afraid. -

Compared to Anna, Serena was calmer, she opened the data, -There is no door number in the data, maybe we need to find someone to ask where she lives. -

Hearing this, Anna seemed stunned and immediately pondered.

-Didn't I hear wrong? Let's ask these people, the sight can't hurt, but if we get close to them, they can hurt us. -

Anna was still trembling, Serena had walked next to an old hunchbacked woman.

She came back to consciousness and immediately followed Serena's footsteps.

-Hello,|| Serena smiled kindly and asked the old woman in a tender tone, -Do you know Diego? -

The old woman's eyes were wide open, once she heard Diego's name, she took a step back, shook her head, -I don't know him, no. Don't ask me. -

Serena, -...-.

Anna said softly close to Serena's ear, -She knows him it is obvious. - Hearing this, Serena laughed calmly, - "Old woman, make no mistake. We mean no harm. We are Diego's workmates. They say something happened to him at home, everyone is worried, that's why they asked us to come here, to see what happened to him. -

He heard that Serena was his colleague, the guard in his eyes dropped a little. He began to look Serena and Anna up and down. Both of them looked innocent and calm; they should not be the ones to do harm.

At that thought, the old woman spoke.

-Are you really Diego's workmates? -

-Yes, we are, that's why we are very worried about him. -

-Well... I'll go with you to look for him. -

-Thank you. -Serena smiled gratefully.

And at that moment, a boy came running out of the house, "Grandma, don't be fooled by them. They are not Diego's companions, they want to harm brother Diego. -

The old woman heard him, her face changed, -Really? -

Serena and Anna's faces also changed.

That boy came right away and stood in front of the old woman shouting, -Come, those people are coming for Diego again. And they will also hurt grandma. -

The boy's voice was so loud that it had attracted all the attention of the people nearby.

The reason this place had stood until now had not been demolished was the strength of unity. That boy's shout had attracted everyone.

-What are you doing, isn't it shameless for the two young girls to mistreat an old woman? -

-Are you looking for Diego? He doesn't live here anymore. He should leave quickly, otherwise don't scold us for rudeness.

-How can you do things for those people? Do you like being a bitch so much? -

Serena saw the people in front of her, although they were plainly dressed, but she did not expect what they said to be so -hard. -

Her face was ugly, but she didn't explain anything.

On the contrary, Anna could not bear it after hearing what they said, she refuted aloud, -What do your words mean? We are not bad people, nor did we mistreat this old lady.

-That doesn't make sense! - The boy rushed forward and said directly in a loud voice, -I heard you shouting at my grandmother before!

He, with the bad attitude, reached out his hand and pushed Serena who was in front of him forcefully.

-Oh, Serena! -

-Ah. -

Someone shouted scared from the crowd.

Serena did not expect that a boy could have such great strength and she did not expect him to suddenly reach out his hand to push her. But she was wearing high heels, her whole body was not controlled, and she leaned back and fell to the ground.

Because of the environment here, there were woodworm and glass on the side. Her hand bumped on the woodworm and glass, blood came out immediately.

-She was bleeding! Anna saw her, looked astonished and immediately crouched down to pick up Serena: -Serena, are you okay?

The people around saw it, looked at each other suddenly.

Anna bit her lower lip angrily and looked at everyone: -There are too many of you, I know it's a demolition zone here, but hitting people without knowing what's right and wrong is unreasonable!

Serena, I'll get you up and we'll go to the hospital. -

Serena slowly stood up with her support, her palm was very sore, even her ass was numb from the fall.

-I'm fine,|| she bit her lower lip and held back the pain as she looked at everyone, -We are really

Diego's colleagues. We have no intention of hurting anyone.

If you don't believe us, we can leave right now. -

-Wait, you are looking for Diego, I can take you there. -Suddenly a young girl came out.

Chapter 395: Get out of here.

-Ludovica Gutierrez, what are you doing?" someone asked hesitantly.

-Zio, they get hurt like that, but they don't make us angry yet, they are not from the previous group of course. They are good people. -

Having said that, the girl called Ludovica approached Serena: -Just before I take you to look for Diego, your hand needs to be treated. If you don't mind, I can help you. -

Anna stopped for a moment, looked at Serena's horrible palm: "It's very serious, it's better to go to the hospital.

"Otherwise, she's afraid the wound will get worse, and then it will be bad." Serena thinking.

He didn't dare to say anything, he was just looking at Serena with sincere eyes. Serena thought a little, but said laughing with the corners of her mouth turned up, "So I'm disturbing you.

Hearing this, Anna's face changed, -Serena. -

But Serena had already followed that girl Ludovica walking ahead. There was no other choice, she could only follow her.

After their departure, a group of people remained in the same place.

-Antonio, how could you push her like that? Don't ever do that again, okay? -

The boy who pushed Serena earlier was named Antonio Ferri. Reprimanded by the adults, he raised his mouth, saying ruefully, -He's a bad person.|| -

-Ludovica said they were not bad people! Did you see them mistreating your grandmother for real?

-Antonio nodded his head.

The old woman did not want her grandson to be scolded by them, but she also did not want others to misunderstand the two girls. Finally she caught her breath and said, "They didn't mistreat me, they just talked to me, maybe this boy was wrong." -

-So... Did we misunderstand them? Are they really Diego's work colleagues? -

*

-We are Diego's colleagues. According to what Lisa said, something happened to him at home. That's why we came to check on the situation. -

Hearing Lisa's mom, Ludovica who was treating Serena's hand stopped suddenly, and then nodded her head saying, -I believe you, Lisa comes here often, she knows everyone, she... likes Diego a lot.

She comes to his house almost every day. -

Having said that, Ludovica cast a glance at Serena and asked in a low voice: - Doesn't it hurt?

Hearing this, Serena was a little scared, -What's wrong? -

-When I treat your wound, you don't complain,|| Ludovica looked at her hand doubtfully, -Your hand has been pricked by glass, and also by a woodworm, and they need to be removed with needles. -

Serena looked at her palm, saying nothing.

Anna, who was standing beside her, said wistfully, "How can it not hurt?

I feel it hurts like hell when I look at her. She is silent because she is a repressed person!

Over the years, Serena had hidden everything deep in her heart.

She remembered that once, having just arrived abroad, Serena was not yet a designer. She was mistreated when she first attended this kind of work, and she was badly hurt.

It turned out that she did not say anything until the job was over.

Anna still felt distressed for her at the thought of this.

Hearing this, Ludovica said nothing, lowered her head to tend to the wound for her.

She realized that the one in front of her might be a very repressed person.

From the moment she had started treatment until now she would not put up with it either, but she did not see Serena's eyebrows frown, with drops of sweat constantly dripping from her fair-skinned forehead.

After bandaging, Ludovica said quietly, -Don't touch the waters these days, if you have time, you'd better go to the hospital. Because what I gave you today is only emergency treatment. -

Serena looked at him with a smile, -Thank you. -

Ludovica's face was red, she looked very sincere and kind, -I'll go with you now to look for Diego. -

-Thank you very much. -Serena and Anna followed Ludovica, they walked together to Diego's house.

Because Ludovica believed in them, she told them many things about Diego on the way.

Then Serena and Anna had just found out that Diego's living conditions were not always good. His mother was a person who worked in nightclubs and married Diego's father.

Diego's father was a young man, hardworking and profitable, he was very handsome.

When he was young, he attracted many beautiful girls. But they did not know why Diego's father fell in love with a nightclub woman. They fell in love very quickly and then Diego was born.

At first the life of this couple was excellent and good, Diego also lived in a family that was always happy.

But after some years, Diego's mother did not change the characteristic, she went back to working in nightclubs. She wanted to go back to the life of luxury and dissipation as before. It seemed to her that Diego's father was useless, she could not give him the good life.

So the two began to quarrel and fight.

Later, Diego's father became addicted to alcohol. Once he got drunk again, he did stupid things because of alcohol. Diego's mother called him an alcoholic and he couldn't even earn money. So she left Diego and never returned.

Later, Diego's father drank alcohol all day long. Diego thus spent day by day worried about fears. What happened later was that Diego's father was also addicted to gambling and owed a great deal of usury.

Now usury was naturally applied to Diego.

Usury.

It was a horrible thing.

The more money they owed, the more interest they paid. Once you couldn't pay for a day, the interest would go up another day.

If you could not pay for a month, the interest was raised for another month.

Until the end, it was not possible to return this money.

They walked to an old house, Ludovica stopped her steps, -Although Diego was a little cold on normal days, but... it's not that he doesn't want to make friends with others, he just doesn't want to involve other people. Those people always stopped him to ask for the debt. If they see that he is affectionate with someone, he should look for trouble from that person. -

Hearing this, Serena paused for a while; she could not bear to look at Ludovica.

"So that was the reason why the boy was lonely?" she thought.

She thought that ... he was affected by the environment, she did not expect ...

-Wait a moment, I'll go see first. -

Ludovica stopped and then went in first.

Just as she had just taken the steps to enter, Lisa came out crying, running through them right face to face.

Lisa immediately approached Serena and said angrily, "What are you doing here? Don't think Diego will accept your flattery, just leave. -

Serena looked at her negligently and said nothing.

Anna said shocked, "We just came to see him, what relationship does he have with you? -

But Lisa huffed angrily, then turned her head and left.

After he left, Anna said he was incomprehensible.

Immediately, there was a loud noise in the room. It sounded as if something had been slammed on the floor with great force. Soon a skinny guy in a white shirt came out.

-Get lost. Get lost now. -

Chapter 396: The takes.

-Damn it. Diego is losing his temper again. -

Ludovica's face changed.

Serena paused a little, tilted her head as she looked at Anna, suddenly said, -First let's hide. -

-What?

Anna still did not react, she was pulled back by Serena to the hidden corner.

Ludovica saw the situation, reacted suddenly, followed them hiding together.

She looked at Serena with praise, "You are very strong, you can guess Diego's thoughts. -

-What thought? -Anna's face that had retreated to a corner was stunned, she had not yet reacted evidently.

When a person was embarrassed, he certainly did not like to be seen by others.

That boy named Diego, who was lonely and cold on ordinary days, looked like a person who had a haughty disposition.

Such a person, he did not want others to find his miserable situation.

The appearance of Anna and Serena only fueled to his embarrassment.

At that thought, Serena bit her lip and said, "Since nothing happened to her, let's go back to the company. -

Hearing this, Anna was speechless, -To the company? But we haven't seen him yet. -

Serena laughed, -We have to work tonight, we can't stay here long. Let's go. -

-Okay, as she says. -

When she heard the two leave, Ludovica did not stop them, but thanked Serena gratefully.

-Thank you, you are really good people. Be careful on your way back. You remember to go to the hospital to once again treat the wound on your hand. -

-Ok, I will. -

When the two left the poverty area, somewhat surprised, they saw a cab standing there unexpectedly.

Sending the sound of footsteps, so the person inside the cab poked his head out and peeked.

-Finally, you're finally out. -

Serena and Anna looked at each other.

This scene was very familiar.

It was true, the last time she and Anna had picked up Francesca, the same thing had happened.

Were all the drivers in the northern city good-hearted?

-are you all right? I think it's very dangerous here, it's really not safe for you two girls to go in, so I waited here for a while, I planned to call the police for you.-

Having said that, she touched her head and smiled sheepishly.

-But now it looks like I'm a little nosy. I-I just have a bad habit. Evidently nothing is wrong, but I suspect it anyway, I can't leave you in the bull's horns. -

Serena went ahead and thanked him sincerely.

-Sir, thank you very much. We're fine, can you take us back the way we came? -

-Ok, get in the car. -

The two arrive at the company in the taxi driver's car. Serena asked the boy for a business card when he was about to leave.

Then she entered the company.

-How good are the drivers we find when we go back to the country? Before I used to always see murder cases on the Internet, it used to scare me a lot. I'm worried, but it's not expected-there are good people in this world. -

Listening, Serena laughed slightly, "Luck and misfortune depend on each other, the place where there is darkness, there is also sunlight.

These things--in many cases depend on luck. -

It was late when the two entered, Serena went to the dining room to get something to eat.

But her hand was very sore, she couldn't even pick up her chopsticks, so she didn't eat anything.

-It's no good, you can't work with your hand, otherwise we won't work overtime tonight. -

-No, we'll go up first. -

Serena finally returned to her office, Anna bought her a sandwich nearby. She made her eat it while holding it in her hand. Serena could only eat a little bit like this.

Then, when Serena still wanted to work, the office door rang.

-Go inside. -

The office door was opened, came the sound of serene footsteps.

Then they stopped in front of his desk, Serena was stunned, it seemed a little strange to her. She raised her head, looked at him with a pair of hopeless eyes.

The person in front of her nothing else was Matteo wearing a suit.

His dark eyes fell on her face, and she lowered her gaze. She saw his gauzy hand, felt affection saying, "You are hurt like this, do you still have the strength to work?"

Serena, -...-

Why was Matthew here?

She thought for a while and looked at Anna beside her. Anna immediately covered her face with the data sheets and coughed slightly once.

She was the gossip, she had to be the one to tell Matteo that she was hurt.

Anna said quietly, -That's not true, I only told Manuel. -

She had been embarrassed in front of him, how she had dared to send him a message. She still felt very embarrassed to meet him now.

-Brother,|| Serena stood up and said with a laugh, -Why did you come?

Unfortunately I'm working overtime, I can't take care of you. -

-Do you think I come just to say hello? -Matteo walked around the table toward her.

She said nothing and took his pulse: -Let's go home. -

Serena's face changed a little, -No, I have business meetings tonight. -

-You're hurt like that, do you still want to work?

-The expression on Matthew's face turned grim, looking at her with displeasure, -I'm opening the company so that you can live permanently in North City, not so that you can be like that.

Unconcerned, not even caring about her wound. -

Serena, -Brother, I'm really fine. -

-Cancel the extra work tonight, follow me home or to the hospital. -

-I'm not going. -Serena also had her characteristic tough: -I'm just a little hurt in my fingers, it's not that bad I can't leave my job now. -

A second later, Matthew made some force with his hand, immediately withdrew it, Serena's face changed, -Brother, brother, let me go! -

But Matteo did not seem to hear what she said, he withdrew on his way out. Anna saw the situation, got up to get the bag and things on the table for Serena. Then she went out taking them with her.

Finally, carrying Serena to the car, Anna handed the things to Matteo with a smile, "Take care of Serena, Mr. Matteo! -

With that said, she walked up the stairs quickly, pretending not to see Serena's murderous look.

After going up, Anna noticed that people from the team were gathered at the window discussing.

-What happened, did Matteo come, why was he so angry?

If what this woman did made him angry, are we going to change the leader soon? Oh, I said this obtained by special means will not last long. -

Maria was jealous, she was making fun of her out loud.

Arianna, who was next to her, cast a glance at her and said with a cold laugh: -She wasn't the one who asked us to work overtime, how come she left first? -

-What nonsense are you talking?

Serena has injured fingers, she can't work. You keep working, I will check the work tonight. -

-You want to check our work? -Do you understand them?

-If you're not happy, you can pack up and leave right now. -

-You! You! -

Anna sunk her chin, alas, she was very happy to be able to command them--she could not retort because of her position at the company.

Chapter 397: Cristian, are you crazy?

It was very cold at night.

It was quiet in the Atlantic villa, and you could only hear the sound of the waves crashing on the shore.

The wind tonight was so strong that you could even hear a whiff of wet seawater in the air.

At this moment, Cristian, after taking a bath, was holding his cell phone resting on the sofa and staring at it.

The cell phone displayed the interface of Facebook.

Cristian looked at the message sent by Elsa, which was a Facebook number of a person.

After searching for her number, he took a long look at Serena's personal profile information, but did not add this person to his list.

He registered her English name, Shelly, profile picture was a delicate shell, and the hands holding that shell were beautiful and slender.

Cristian knew those hands.

The hands had been held in his palm countless times five years ago.

Cristian closed his eyes and finally could not help but add it.

After returning from the afternoon, he had been sitting here for a long time, and he still had not found the courage to add that woman, on the line.

As his aunt said, five years had passed, and now it was probably not the same as before.

Would she accept it when he added her?

Cristian did not know that there would be things he would not know how to do. He placed his cell phone on the table and huffed angrily.

Cristian, are you crazy?

This woman had left you five years ago. She was decisive when she left at that time. Five years later, everything would probably have changed.

Finally, Cristian picked up his phone, looked at the Facebook interface and squinted dangerously.

Just when he wanted to get out of that interface, he accidentally hit the add button, Cristian got nervous. His heart was like a falling spark, on the dry prairie, is suddenly fire flared up instantly.

One second, two seconds... Cristian waited for ten minutes.

He did not accept him as a friend.

Cristian's face changed slightly and then he cursed.

-Damn it!

This woman knew this profile was hers, so would she intentionally not accept it?

Thinking about it, Cristian, as if he were crazy, got up and grabbed the car keys . But after a few steps, he stopped and called Luca directly.

-Give me some Facebook accounts in five minutes.

What?

-Luca, faced with his unjustified demands, could not help but react.

-Don't you understand me,|| Cristian asked with dissatisfaction.

Luca immediately nodded, -I understand.

-Do it!

After Cristian hung up the phone, Luca was without remedy.

In the middle of the night, why did Cristian need so many Facebook accounts? Did the company develop this new business? Why didn't he know about it at all?

But Cristian looked like a firebomb, so he dared not say anything, but immediately did what Cristian said.

Five minutes later Cristian finally got some Facebook accounts from Luca and said, -You are too slow.

Then he hung up the phone.

After that, he opened the computer and logged into Facebook.

Luca helped him search for ten Facebook accounts. Although he did not know how he got them, Cristian did not care.

He logged into the first account and then searched for Serena's Facebook account to add her.

After ten minutes, she did not accept him, so he logged into another account.

This time he was smarter. He sent her a message to add her, -Are you a designer?

After another ten minutes, she still didn't respond.

Damn.

Cristian went crazy.

What was this woman doing?

Cristian picked up his cell phone and saw that it was already past ten o'clock.

Was she asleep? She couldn't have been. When he sent the message, it was less than ten o'clock.

Thinking about this, Cristian called Luca.

When Luca received Cristian's call, he was helpless: "Mr. Cristian, is there a problem?"

-I have a question," Cristian said coldly, "what can a person do at ten o'clock at night?"

Luca did not understand his question, -Mr. Cristian, what do you mean?

Cristian lit a cigarette, the smoke of which covered his handsome face.

-Just answer.

Luca was surprised and frightened. He said, -At ten o'clock he could sleep.

Really?-She seemed to have fallen asleep at that moment. So it seemed that she would wait until tomorrow morning.

But Cristian had a feeling that Serena would not go to sleep so early.

Luca suddenly said again, "If she doesn't sleep by ten o'clock, he or she can do a lot of things.

Hearing this, Cristian frowned, "What things?"

Sensing that Cristian was very curious about the topic, Luca told Cristian all the answers he could think of.

Mr. Cristian, I think now it's bedtime for self-disciplined people, but nowadays young people in big cities don't sleep so early. So now you have to go through the night life or work again. Or if you have a child, you are taking care of the child. Well, or it's making love...."

Luca said the last sentence unconsciously.

But Cristian frowned and narrowed his eyes dangerously:

"Making love?"

Inexplicably, Luca sensed that Cristian was angry.

What was going on? Cristian, although unhappy in recent years, was in a stable mood.

However, Cristian was very grumpy tonight.

-Mr. Cristian, what happened?

-Answer my question: is what you said true?

Luke said, -pretty much!

-So, this person is not responding to my message because he is making love?

-Mr. Cristian, I just said a lot of possibilities, why...?

He remembered only this...

Luke suddenly became aware of a more important problem.

-Who is the person who is not responding to your message?

Cristian raised his eyebrows, -Do you want to die?

-No, no...

Cristian immediately hung up the phone, but Luca felt strange.

Why did Cristian suddenly ask such a strange question?

Cristian did exactly the same thing he had done five years earlier when he liked Serena.

Gosh !

Did Cristian like someone now?

Thinking about this, Luca's face changed color and he stood up.

He wanted to know who the woman Cristian liked was.

Chapter 398: Your Facebook has exploded

In the Giordano family.

It was late at night, but Matteo called a doctor to treat the wound on Serena's hand.

-Well, Serena, these days you don't touch water, and it's better not to work with your hand. In a few days she will recover slowly.

Also, eat a light diet these days.

-Matteo asked Mario to accompany the doctor home.

-Did you hear the doctor's words?

Serena sat on the sofa and said without remedy, -I heard, but how will I take a bath tonight? Am I not going to take a shower these days?

Matteo thought for a while and said directly, "Let Anna come back to help you.

-It's not necessary. In fact, I think it's okay to put a bag in my hand.

Matteo looked silently at Serena, and Serena felt a little embarrassed, so she just laughed, "Well, then I won't shower today. I'm going to rest, because I'm a little tired.

-Well.

Serena returned to her room and found that Manuel was asleep.

She walked over to the bed and looked at Manuel's calm face, and face.... He really looked like that man.

For five years, Matthew had wanted her to come home, but had put off returning because he did not want to see that person again.

He thought that the Northern City was so big, so even if she came back, she would not meet him again, but he did not expect...

He clashed with him.

Face to face...

This was what Serena had not imagined anyway.

Cristian...

Thinking about it, Serena's eyes turned dark. She got up slowly and went to the bathroom, but suddenly there was a knock at the door.

Serena was stunned, then turned to open the door.

A maid stood outside the door and looked at her respectfully.

-Miss Serena, would you like to take a bath? I can help you.

Serena was stunned, then nodded, -So come in, but walk slowly, because Manuel is sleeping.

The maid thought and said in a low voice, -How about going to another room to take a shower and then come back?

-Well, I'll go get the clothes.

Serena returned to the room, took the clothes and went to another room with the maid.

The maid prepared water for her first, so Serena with her help, washed and dressed.

-What time is it now?

-Mrs. Serena, it's almost twelve o'clock.

Twelve o'clock? She did not know if Anna had returned. Serena returned to the room and pulled out her phone. But her fingers were wrapped in gauze, so she could not turn the phone on.

Finally Serena did not try to turn on her phone, but went into the study to find Matteo.

The lamp in the study was still lit.

-Brother.

-Why are you going out? Aren't you still resting? Matteo frowned and looked at her unhappily.

-Brother, Anna is working overtime today, but I'm not in the company, so it's probably not safe for Anna to go back alone, right? Can you...?

Hearing this, Matthew understood his meaning, so he nodded, -Okay, you go rest and I'll go get her.

-Thanks.

Serena was satisfied and went back to her room to sleep.

"Anna, I gave you a great opportunity," she thought.

The next day, when Serena woke up, she saw Manuel lying beside her looking at her with pity.

She was amazed and then asked softly, "Manuel?"

At her call, Manuel's eyes turned red and then he lowered his gaze to his hands, "Mom, you're hurt.

Hearing this, Serena remembered that her hands were wrapped in gauze, so she sighed helplessly.

-It's not serious.

-Mom, you're lying to me,|| growled Manuel and pointed angrily at her hands, -If it wasn't serious, you wouldn't use so much gauze, mum.....

Tell me and I'll help you get revenge!

Serena laughed slightly, -Nothing. I accidentally touched shards of glass yesterday. In two days she will be fine.

Manuel hugged her neck, -Mom, how about taking me with you when you go to work later?

-No," Serena's hand was wrapped in gauze, but she reached out and gently rubbed Manuel's head, "I don't have time to take care of you when I work, so you have to stay home.

And you should live here for a long time. I wanted you to study in South City, but since your uncle opened a company for us, I decided to buy a small house here.

When I find a good school, I will buy a house nearby.

Hearing about going to school, Manuel said, "Mother, I don't want to go to school. I want to be with you forever.

After saying this, Manuel hugged Serena's neck tightly.

-If you don't let go of my hands, I won't be able to breathe,|| Serena said, and Manuel let go of her hands a little.

-Do you have to go to school? If you are illiterate in the future, do you want me to do that they support you forever?

-No. I can support myself, and I can also support mom.

Serena couldn't help but laugh: -Well, then I'll count on Manuel when I'm older, so you'll have to go to school and study.

You want to be a policeman in the future, don't you?

-Yes,|| Manuel nodded, -I obey mom.

-All right.

-Serena.

-It's Anna's voice. I'm going to open the door.

-Aunt Anna.

-Manuel, good morning. Anna sneaked in. She rubbed Manuel's head, then approached Serena.

Serena got up and bent over the bed.

-Why did you come in here?

I want to see how you are now.

-Anna sat down on the bed. Manuel, seeing the scene, moved away and stayed there.

-My hands are fine. The doctor had treated the wounds last night. I recovered after a few days of rest.

-Don't go to work these days, and rest well at home.

-Serena shook her head, "I have to go to work. I have to personally see your newly painted drawings.

-I can send them to your house.

-No, I can't use my phone because of my injuries.

Will you help me get it to see if someone calls me or to see if the client has a new request.

Anna picked up her cell phone on the table. She knew her password and opened the phone.

-Wow, you have so many messages, so many people adding you!

Chapter 399: Message Rejected

Serena, -What's going on?

Anna sat next to her with her cell phone, -Serena, see, so many people are adding you.

Who are they? We have so many customers in one night?

That's impossible!

-Serena blinked, "Yesterday, before I got hurt, there weren't many people adding me.

"What about a joke?"

-Anna asked doubtfully, and then randomly selected an account to look at. She found that her circle of friends was empty.

-What was going on? These accounts looked new, was this really a joke?

Serena couldn't tell, so she went to look.

-I also found a key point. The identifiers of these accounts seem to be similar....

- Serena, -...

Serena, -...-

-Well, now I can be sure it's a joke.

After saying this, Anna added those numbers one by one to the blacklist, -Maybe they wanted to spy on our work....

This last account has a different identifier.

I wonder if it will be our client."

Let me see.

Anna handed the phone to Serena.

Serena looked and felt that the account looked a little familiar.

It looked like she had seen it before....

When she saw the last number on the account, Serena was stunned and looked at her information.

-He is recommended by Elsa, it seems he is a friend of Elsa's.

Accept it.

Anna's white fingers wanted to press the add button, but Serena suddenly said, -Don't accept it!

Her voice suddenly became very hard and loud, which frightened Anna, who accidentally pressed the button.

Serena changed color and gritted her teeth, "Add it to the blacklist quickly!

Anna was surprised by her words, so she did nothing.

-Serena, what are you saying? This is the customer recommended by Miss Elsa...."

-Add him to the blacklist!

-How? Anna was surprised, why do you want this?

-Serena's voice became low and her face did not look good, so Anna did not dare to say anything, but could only nod her head.

-Well, I understand.

Then she wiggled her fingers and sent the man to the blacklist.

Serena breathed a sigh of relief at this scene.

-She works in the company today, and I will look at the drawings this afternoon.

-Ok," Anna handed the phone back to her, "That's all there is to it. If anything happens, you'll have Manuel call me and I'll be back soon.

-OK.

After Anna left, Manuel approached and hesitantly asked.

-Mom, is someone harassing you?

-How? Why do you ask?

-Because Anna said someone added you on Facebook.

Serena laughed, -Nothing, she got the wrong number.

After saying this, her smile disappeared quickly and there was concern in her eyes.

He knew the last numbers on that account....

And it was added thanks to Elsa's recommendation.

Of course she knew who she had met yesterday....

Serena leaned back and closed her eyes.

Cristian, what were you going to do?

*

At the Ferrari Group.

In the meeting room.

The directors were discussing.

-I don't agree with what you said. This will only make small companies take advantage of it, and it doesn't make sense for our company.

It is not good to do that.

A 60-year-old man said to an old man of the same age.

-Old man, I think you are confused: will it make small businesses take advantage? We are the Ferrari Group in North City, and who dares to steal our profits? Even if you give them money and let them steal, they won't dare.

-Stop it . I have something to say, we have to have a longer vision in this matter.

Longer vision? You had something to say with that kind of people?

You should!

Luca was watching these people discuss, while Cristian, sitting in the main seat, was indifferent.

To be exact he was staring at his phone and lost in thought.

He did not know what had happened to Cristian. He had been looking at his cell phone from time to time since he had arrived at the company.

Luca looked at his cell phone once and it was the Facebook interface.

Luca was very curious. Last night Cristian called him to ask for some Facebook accounts, and as a result, today Cristian looked at the Facebook interface all the time. Again he was not focusing on the meeting, to which he always paid close attention.

Others were discussing, but he did not say anything.

While Luca was thinking, he looked at Cristian's phone again. He seemed to see Cristian's phone and Cristian's body shaking a little.

For a moment, he looked very happy.

Then he quickly opened a message.

Luca looked at the phone.

-Shelly has approved your friend request and it's time to start chatting.

Shelly?

Who was Shelly?

Luca had doubts: why had he never heard this name before?

Cristian looked at his phone, why was he waiting for this person?

Did it sound like a woman's name?

Luca approached stealthily to see what Cristian would say to the woman, but Cristian looked at him coldly, then Luca quickly turned away in fright.

Well, his life was more important.

Cristian wanted to send a message, but he didn't know what to say.

They had not seen each other in five years.

Suddenly he added her as a friend, and did she know it was him?

Or, did she not know?

So what was he going to say?

-What should I say?" Cristian suddenly looked at Luca and asked: Luca approached him, "Mr. Cristian what is the problem?

-The first sentence of the chat.

-Well, we can say hello."

Cristian tightened his lips and did not answer. He was obviously not satisfied.

Luca thought and then said, -Or can you call her by her name?

Cristian was still not satisfied, so Luca could only say, -Ask if she is there?

Cristian's eyes moved, and he seemed to be very satisfied with this sentence, so then his fingers moved, and he sent him that message.

Luca saw the two words and was very curious.

Cristian never chatted with others on Facebook, and he only talked about work stuff, so why did he ask her today if he was there?

But what surprised Luca most was that after Cristian sent the message, he immediately received a message.

-The message was sent but the other party refused to receive it.

Chapter 400: That means he added you to the blacklist.

Luca coughed and wanted to extend his hand to cover his eyes.

Cristian apparently did not understand the situation. He looked at the sentence and then looked at Luca.

-What does this mean?

-The message was sent but the other party refused to receive it.

Luca did not answer Cristian's question.

Luca." Cristian's tone was cold and his look was very frightening.

Luca smiled and then softly explained, " Mr. Cristian, that means he added you to the blacklist.

Cristian, -...

-has he added me to the blacklist?

-Yes,|| Luca nodded seriously, -That is, after accepting you as a friend, he sent you to the blacklist,|| he was afraid Cristian would not understand, so he explained in detail.

But Cristian's face was very ugly.

Luca realized he had said too much, so he stopped talking immediately and then turned away from him.

God, what he had just said was going to cost him his life, wasn't it?

But he thought Cristian didn't understand anything, so he explained in detail.

The fingers holding the cell phone slowly tightened. Then Cristian smiled coldly: -He added me to the blacklist, which means he knows who I am, right?

-Luca nodded: " Yes. Otherwise, there would be no point in doing it.

Cristian stopped talking and stared at the Facebook interface.

He waited so long, but once she accepted him, he added him to the blacklist.

-But why did she accept me as a friend at first? Cristian was not happy, so he asked.

Luca blinked and said, -Maybe? Did he press the button accidentally?

Cristian looked coldly at Luca.

-Mr. Cristian, you decide. That old man is shortsighted.

The two people who were arguing looked at Cristian and asked his opinion. It was Cristian who made the decision anyway.

But who knew Cristian looked up and looked at them coldly, "What?

They changed their faces and said, "Mr. Cristian?"

Luke said quietly, "It's about the development of that piece of land.

-Ok," Cristian smiled, "I haven't made a decision yet. I will think about it later. Let's finish the meeting today.

All were speechless ...

Cristian did not care about the actions of others. He picked up the phone and headed straight to the office.

That woman, that damn woman.

After accepting him as a friend, she added him to the blacklist.

It seemed that she already knew who he was.

Was that the way she treated her new client?

Very well!

After returning to the office, Cristian used other accounts to add her and found that none of them were accepted.

After thinking, Cristian knew why.

He had used many accounts to add her last night, so if the woman was smart enough, he had probably guessed it.

Cristian half-closed his lips, then put the phone on the desk.

He was very anxious.

"What would I do next?" he thought.

Asking for her Facebook number through Elsa was the answer to his heart. He did not expect to meet her there.

After that... Cristian closed his eyes.

Nothing seemed to be going right.

Serena had rested one morning at home. Matthew was worried about her hands, so he called the house doctor to change her dressing.

Serena found that her hand was not as sore as yesterday, and it seemed that the dressing had been very effective.

After changing the dressing, Serena wanted to go to the company, and Matthew stopped her.

-Stay home and rest these days.

Hearing this, Serena frowned, -Brother!

-I won't let you go anywhere until your hand is healed.

-Brother,|| Serena was a little angry, -You gave me this company. Now there are many employees in the company, and I have many clients to visit. What if my customers want to find me?

Matthew did not expect her to be angry, he was stunned, and after a moment he sighed helplessly.

-Serena, I also did it for your sake. I care about your injuries. And what can one do in the company with hands like that?

Hearing Matthew's sigh, Serena realized that she shouldn't get angry, so she said to her brother softly,

-Brother, I'm not going to work, I'm just going to check the drawings and guide them.

As you said, with my hands in this state, I can't do anything now. So I won't use my hands at all, okay?

-Matteo, please, I know you worry about me, but I'll just look at the drawings, okay?

Matteo had no more remedies and nodded.

-Ok, let Mario take you, and you'll have to come back in an hour.

One hour was enough.

Serena nodded with satisfaction, -Thank you, brother.

Then she hurried up the stairs. But as soon as Manuel heard that she was going to work, he immediately got up and hugged her legs.

-Mom, I want to go with you!

Serena was surprised, -You don't have to come. I'll be back in an hour.

-No," Manuel hugged her arm, -Mom, you are hurt and I have to protect you.

Serena said, "You are so small and what can you do? Do you want to make trouble for me?"

After saying this, Serena also leaned down to laugh at him.

Manuel half-closed his lips in dissatisfaction.

-Mom, you are mean. You are making fun of me.

Serena, seeing her son's expression, could not help but laugh heartily, -Stupid. Okay, come with me, but put on your sunglasses and hat.

-OK, mom, wait for me.

Manuel quickly returned to his room to change his clothes.

Serena turned to look at him, but thought of something else.

She could be unscrupulous when she was abroad, but not now.

Especially after meeting Cristian yesterday, as she looked at Manuel, a face similar to hers, she felt something in her mind.

But... he never dared to think.

It was too ridiculous, and too unbelievable.

Now it was better for Manuel not to show his face when he went out.

Otherwise he would go and cause a lot of gossip.

Of course, it would not be convenient for them to stay in the same town.
