

Virginity 48

Chapter 48

Serena understood everything.

She had no other choice in this condition.

But Serena became extremely sad, seeing that Giulia did not care about her.

Didn't care about her feelings at all?

Serena immediately lost her appetite.

"Dad, Mom, I already had dinner at home and I don't feel like anything anymore. I'm going to the room to get my things."

Saying this, without waiting for their reactions, she immediately got up and went up to her room.

Seeing all this, Giulia asked, "Is Serena angry with me?"

Andrea sighed and replied, "I don't think so. This girl understands everything."

"If she is not angry, it means she eats well at the Ferrari family, and despises the dishes at our house."

Andrea frowned, "What nonsense are you talking?"

"Nonsense? Didn't you see how she behaved?" Giulia became furious, and didn't want to have dinner either.

When Serena entered her room, she found her room messy and dirty. She frowned as she observed this chaos that was clearly caused by someone.

The situation was not like this when she left the house. Who came in and took her things?

She recalled something, took steps forward to open the closet drawer, and her face no longer had a good look. She discovered that the money she saved was no longer in here.

She became desperate.

It must have been Aurora for sure! Thinking of this, Serena immediately went to see Aurora, who was in the middle of a call with her boyfriend.

"No. I really have no appetite. I don't want to eat. Will you prepare some food and bring it to my house? Yeah okay, I'll wait for you."

When someone knocked on the door, Aurora was very impatient, "Honey, wait a minute. It must be my mother."

Saying this, Aurora opened the door. She said aloud without even confirming who it was that was knocking at the door, "Mom, I have told you many times that I don't want to eat. Don't bother me anymore..."

Aurora was stunned as she stared at the woman who appeared at the door of her room.

Serena looked at her coldly.

"Serena, why...did you suddenly come back?"

Serena looked toward her room. Very neat. But she caused all that chaos in her room.

Maybe because she did something wrong, she looked at Serena awkwardly, and answered her boyfriend, "My sister is looking for me. I'll call you later." With that, she quickly hung up.

Serena took advantage of the moment to enter the room, while Aurora reacted quickly by stopping her immediately.

"Serena, what happened?"

Serena showed her the box.

"Where are the things that were in here before?"

Seeing the box, Aurora looked very nervous without having the courage to look at it, "What is it? I don't know anything."

"You don't know anything?"

"No, I don't even know what was in this box. How do I know where it went?" Saying this, Aurora took her arm with a big smile, saying softly, "Serena, it's been a long time since you've not been home. And are the Ferraris treating you well?"

"If I say no, will you change for me?" Serena looked at her calmly.

Aurora could no longer remain sweet and smiling, and looked at her sister for a long time. She let go of her arm, turned around and said, "Serena, you know it's impossible. I already have a boyfriend."

"I know you have a boyfriend, and so you can do whatever you want? Have you really never touched the things in this box?"

Suddenly, Aurora turned to her, "Serena, I already said I haven't touched your money. Why are you still asking me?"

Serena: "...Did I ever tell you there was money in it?"

How stupid! Aurora thought.

"Serena, it's not what you think. I saw them by accident the last time I entered your room. But I swear I didn't take them. I know it's hard to earn money. I will never do such a thing." Saying these words, she began to throw a tantrum again. She took Serena's arm again, and said under her breath, "Serena, I'm your sister. How could I do that?"

"I know you are my sister, and I also know that it was definitely you." Serena raised her hands and said, "Give it back to me."

Aurora had a desperate face.

"Serena, I didn't take them."

"Give it back to me."

She had saved the money after so many years of work. She could not let Aurora spend that much money. She must get it back!

"What are you doing?" Gulia's voice appeared during their argument.

"Mom." Aurora looked at her mother as if looking at a shield to defend for herself. She hid behind her mother, "Mom, Serena says I stole her money, but I never did."

Hearing this, Gulia said seriously, "Serena, why do you blame your sister? Maybe you put them in another place?"

"I put them in my room, but someone made a mess inside. No one else will do that but her."