

Virginity 601

Chapter 601: Jealousy

Cristian was interested in Serena, not her past.

But Cristian's heart went crazy with jealousy when he thought that Francis, that cursed man, had once had Serena and that Serena had even given him a son.

But Cristian still loved Serena deeply.

He had waited five years and this time, one way or another, he wanted Serena, his better half, to stay with him.

-Mr. Cristian, Mr. Cristian?

Cristian heard Luca's voice calling his name in his headphones, bringing his thoughts back to reality, and it was at that moment that his mind lingered on something.

-Mr. Cristian, I am going to investigate what Miss Serena has been going through these past five years..." Luca interjected.

-No,|| Cristian interrupted and distracted Luca in time, -Don't be hasty, go and do what I ordered you to do."

With that said, Cristian ended the phone conversation.

Staring at the screen of his turned-off phone, Cristian thought about the shoes he had seen earlier in the shoe rack.

He had never seen Serena's son.

He wondered what Serena's child would be like, he who had been made with another man.

Would Serena have a son just like her ex-husband?

Cristian clenched his fists at the thought of that child appearing to him in the future with a face like Serena's ex-husband.

Damn it!

He was still going crazy with jealousy.

Why couldn't Serena be his in every way?

Cristian calmed down for a moment and clenched his fist.

It was better to wait for the two of them to work things out face to face.

Serena was hiding the baby well now, probably because she was worried that Cristian would not be able to accept it.

***

It was the next day when Serena woke up again. The room was quiet and she blinked as she lay on the bed, waiting a while, but no one came in.

Had Cristian gone to work?

It was possible, Serena got out of bed. Although the organ between her legs hurt when she walked, it was already much better than yesterday.

She went to her bedroom door and silently opened it, peeking through a crack outside she saw that all was quiet.

Serena opened the door and went outside to look around, finding no one downstairs.

Had Cristian returned?

A superficial sense of loss hit her, but that feeling was soon filled with another wave of emotion. Serena re-entered the room, knelt down, and began looking for yesterday's birth control pills.

She had been looking for several minutes, but still had not seen the bottle with the pill.

Strange, had Cristian taken the pill in his sleep?

Then Serena picked up her phone and made a call to Anna.

Anna was joking with her when she answered the phone.

-Serena, why haven't you been in the office the last two days?" said Anna, giggling.

Serena resisted the urge to roll her eyes and asked calmly, -Are you in the office right now? Are you free?

-Yes, in the office, I'm free now, what's up?

-I want you to buy me something, okay?

Anna answered in a very innocent tone, -Yes, what do you want to buy? I'll buy it after work and bring it to you.

-No," Serena shook her head, "I need you to go and buy it for me now, I can't go out now."

One reason was the risk of Serena being followed after leaving the house, and another was that she could not leave the house at all.

Her legs ached from taking a few steps, and even more so if she went out to buy medicine.

-Well, does it bother you right now? Are you menstruating? Then I'll go buy it right now and send it to you at home.

-Serena shook her head, it was a little difficult for her to say these things to Anna, but now she had no one else to turn to but Anna.

Finally, Serena confessed, -I need birth control pills.

-Yes, no problem, I'll take them right away.... Wait a minute? -Serena, what did you say you wanted me to buy for you?

On the other end of the phone, Serena covered her face, she felt so embarrassed.

-Contraceptive pills.

Finally she repeated it.

-Contraceptive pills? Why are you asking me to buy birth control pills? Did you have sex with Cristian?

-Yes.

As Anna had asked, Serena confessed and told Anna everything that had happened in the last two days.

-This is all I can tell you for now. It's rather urgent at the moment, so I'd like you to go and get them now if you can.

The two were good friends, so how could Anna not help her?

-Then I'll go get them now, wait for me at home.

-Okay.

Serena nodded, but suddenly she thought of something and barked at Anna again.

-By the way, if you meet Cristian while you're here, don't tell him why you're here, just pretend you're here to give me the papers.

-All right, I'll keep that in mind.

After hanging up, Serena took her cell phone and lay back down on the bed.

After about ten minutes, the room was still silent, and Serena could not help but begin to wonder.

Why had Cristian suddenly disappeared? He had said he would watch Serena 24 hours a day, so why had he suddenly disappeared?

This doubt lasted until Anna returned.

Because Anna had entered Serena's room, but Cristian had not yet appeared.

-Serena,|| Anna cautiously entered Serena's room, and her next action was to close the bedroom door behind her, -I'm coming.

Seeing Anna gave Serena a surreal feeling. She had not expected things to be so easy, so much so that she felt extraordinarily surprised.

Serena stood up and sat down nervously, looking behind Anna.

-Did you see Cristian when you arrived?

- Mr. Cristian," Anna looked a little surprised as she hurriedly shook her head, -No, I didn't see him.

-No? Serena thought it was all too strange. Cristian had sworn yesterday, how could he have been absent today?

Cristian could not be this kind of person.

Serena felt that something was wrong.

She looked at Anna and noticed that her face was a little abnormally pale and her lips had little color.

-What is wrong with you?

-Anna winced like a rabbit at his question, -What happened?

-Why are you so pale, are you sick?" asked Serena with concern.

Anna shook her head hastily, "No no no, I'm fine.

-Where are the things I asked you to buy?

Anna opened her bag and handed Serena a small bottle.

Serena was very happy to see the pill and hurried to take it, but she dared not take it now, so she quickly hid the bottle under her pillow.

Anna looked at the scene with a complicated expression.

- Will it be all right?

-It's okay, I don't want to get pregnant with your child.

-But Manuel...

At the mention of Manuel, Serena suddenly stiffened: -Don't mention Manuel, don't forget what you promised me.

-Don't worry, I will surely hide him for you until the grave.

Chapter 602: The conflict within.

-By the way, did you see Cristian when you came here earlier, was he downstairs? Serena couldn't help but ask again, because she still felt strange.

Anna's eyes became a little shifty as she bit her lip and said cautiously, -Is he downstairs?

-Is he downstairs?

Serena frowned, -Didn't you just say he wasn't there?

-I was stunned too, so I was wrong," Anna was a little incoherent.

However, Serena suddenly looked at Anna with sharp eyes.

-What is wrong with you? Stuttering in your speech, did she find you out?

Anna hastily shook her head.

-No, he didn't find out about me, if he had, how would I have delivered the pill to you? I met him and he asked me what I wanted from you, I told him I was coming to deliver the papers and he let me in. Only his face was very unpleasant and his tone was aggressive, so I was a little afraid of him.

Saying these words, Anna did not even dare to look Serena in the eyes. Because once Serena saw his eyes, she would know that Anna was lying.

Anna lowered her gaze and looked uneasily at her toes.

In fact, when Anna had walked in just now, she thought no one was home, so she had run to Serena's room to give her the pill.

But Anna had not expected to be stopped by an emotionless male voice just as she reached the stairs.

Anna, of course, knew who the caller was, and precisely because she knew who it was, she was too frightened to look the other person in the eye as she shivered and slowly turned around.

-Mr. Cristian...

Cristian's icy gaze, which resembled the creed of a snake, lingered for a moment on Anna's face before lowering his gaze to the bag he held in his hand.

Anna broke out in a cold sweat at the sharp look and almost fainted.

-Are you here to see Serena?" asked Cristian.

Anna nodded repeatedly; it felt like her head was on a vibrator.

It was clear that Anna had lived here not so long ago, but in Cristian's presence, she felt as if she were an intruder in this room.

-What do you want from her?" asked Cristian again.

Anna remembered the excuses Serena had made earlier and explained in a whisper, -There is a document in the company that needs Serena's approval, so I brought it to Serena for her to sign."

Anna was ready, so after saying this, she quickly took the document from her bag and handed it to Cristian, -Look, this is the document.- Cristian did not go to get the document.

Cristian did not take the document from Anna's hands.

Seeing that Cristian did not seem interested in the authenticity of the document, Anna put it away and said, -Since there is nothing special about it, I will go to Serena first.||

With that, Anna turned and prepared to run up the stairs.

-Wait," Cristian stopped her once again. Anna froze with her back to Cristian with a pained expression.

She began to remember exactly that she had come to deliver the pill to Serena. It was as if she could not hide anything from this Cristian, and if the man continued to question her, Anna did not think she would be able to keep her composure much longer.

- Mr. Cristian," Anna turned and looked intently at Cristian with a questioning expression.

Cristian raised his hand and opened his palm.

-Give it to me.

At that moment, Anna's breathing stopped and she felt the blood rushing through her body to her brain, making it difficult for her to think. Anna pretended not to understand and handed Cristian the document in her hand, -Mr. Cristian, would you like to see the document? Yes, here it is.

-Not this one,|| Cristian still looked at her, -You know what I want.

Anna remembered the promise she had made to Serena and decided to continue playing dumb and gave a silly smile.

-Mr. Cristian, I really don't know what you're talking about.

-The pills.

The next moment, Cristian said it bluntly.

Anna froze in place.

-I'm not going to let Serena take the birth control pill,|| Cristian held out his hand to Anna again, his expression turned serious, -Don't make me repeat this a second time.

So Anna relented and, with a trembling hand, pulled out the pill she had just bought at the pharmacy.

Anna had prepared well and kept the pills on her person in case Cristian searched her bag. But to her surprise, Cristian said only one word and she obediently pulled out the pill.

How could this have happened?

If she gave Cristian the pill, what had Serena taken?

However, after Cristian had taken the pill, he handed her another small bottle.

-Give this to Serena, or she won't stop.

A woman like Serena would probably have calmed down only after taking her medication. If Serena had not received the pill, a situation like today's would surely have been repeated many times in the future.

-What is this?" Anna hesitated for a few seconds, without taking the bottle in her hand.

Cristian thought for a moment and said, "Vitamin pills."

Anna was surprised when it turned out that Cristian wanted her to exchange birth control pills for vitamins for Serena to take.

-But in this case, Serena she..." Cristian looked at her with a serious expression.

Cristian looked at her for the first time with a serious expression and said, "Do you want me to take the pill?"

-I..." After all, Anna did not want Serena to take the pill-after all, she had been Serena's friend for many years and knew what Serena was thinking deep down.

Although Serena would not admit it, she actually still loved Cristian deeply.

If Serena got pregnant again, maybe she would follow her heart, stay with Cristian, and stop feeling pain.

Once Anna had had that thought, her actions were affected. Anna looked at the bottle, still hesitating,

"But I don't want to lie to her."

-You didn't know,|| Cristian's words seemed to have magic, -I changed the pill while you weren't looking, you didn't know anything.

Anna raised her head to look at Cristian.

-How could I pretend I didn't know? You gave me the pill, I ...

-Do you think I would give you the chance to take the pill?

Anna was visibly agitated, knowing that Cristian would do what he wanted. If Cristian had said he would not allow Serena to take the pill, then Serena would not be able to take it, or even see her for a second.

At the thought, Anna's hand had unconsciously reached out and slowly took the bottle of vitamins

Cristian was holding.

The bottle with the vitamins was exactly the same as the one with the pills, but the pills inside were definitely not contraceptive pills.

Anna made up her mind, took the bottle of pills and went upstairs.

Cristian's eyes followed her closely until Anna disappeared down the stairs.

Anna stopped and hid in a corner to look at the tall figure below.

She considered this a favor to Cristian and also to Serena.

After all, after all these years, it was time for their inner conflict to be resolved.

Chapter 603: Changing Pills

Thinking about what happened earlier, Anna looked at Serena.

Serena looked at her with a worried look.

-I'm sorry to put you through all this, it didn't bother you, did it?

Serena's watchful gaze made Anna even more afraid to face her, Anna always had the feeling that she had done something particularly wrong.

-No, no, I'm just a little scared.

-It's okay," Serena reassured her.

-Actually..." Anna raised her head, wanting to say something.

Serena was puzzled, "What? What's wrong?"

-Anna lowered her head again, not daring to look Serena in the eye.

It didn't matter, since she had already given Serena the fake medicine, Anna thought it was better to stop telling the truth.

Just then...

Suddenly there was a knock at the door of the room, and the two women who had been thinking about different things instantly stiffened, their faces pale at the same time.

It was Cristian!

Serena looked at Anna with pleading eyes, but Anna was too nervous to speak, so she had to nod to Serena to reassure her.

-Serena,|| she heard Cristian's deep voice from outside. Serena heard his voice and her hands unconsciously squeezed the sheets, but she did not respond.

- May I," Cristian asked before opening the door and entering the room without waiting for an answer from inside.

Serena got goosebumps when she saw the tall Cristian enter the room, and felt his hair rise all over her body.

Serena's body also moved unconsciously to the side of the pillow. Because the bottle of medicine Anna had just given her was placed under the pillow, and if Cristian had wanted to look for it, he could have found it easily.

If Cristian had found the pills, knowing his temper, he would have been angry again.

Serena dared not imagine whether he would be able to resist her anger.

She bit her lip, hard enough to break it, and a trace of blood appeared on her lips as Anna awkwardly said, "Mr. Cristian, I came to deliver the papers to Serena.

After saying this, she hurriedly took the document out of her bag and handed it to Serena, "Serena, take a look at this information, and if there are no problems you can sign," Cristian looked at Anna, "I've come to deliver Serena's information.

Cristian looked at Anna, and there was some mockery in her eyes.

The woman was faking it well enough.

But Cristian kept his eyes on them, and Serena could not even read the contents of the contract. But the procedure had to be followed, and Serena took the document and pretended to look at it for a moment, taking the pen that Anna handed her signed with her name at the bottom.

- All right, here it is. - Anna put the papers and pen away, looked at Cristian, then Serena, and said shyly, "If there's nothing else, I'll go back to the office.

Serena knew Anna was a little uncomfortable here, and Serena herself was terrified of Cristian's current temperament, let alone Anna, who must be even more so.

So Serena nodded and agreed to let Anna go back to the office first.

After obtaining Serena's consent, Anna hurried to the door of the room. When she passed Cristian, Serena even felt that he was walking a little faster.

Thus Serena and Cristian were once again the only two people left in the room.

Serena did not even dare to look Cristian in the eyes, perhaps for fear of getting caught up in Cristian's thoughts. When Anna left, Serena pulled the covers over her head and lay down again.

As Serena's head rested on the pillow, she could feel a small lump under it, where the bottle of pills she had just hidden had been.

Then Serena adjusted the position of her head.

She heard footsteps approaching behind her, followed by Cristian's voice echoing behind her.

-Get up and eat when you are awake.

Serena did not want to pay attention to him, but said anyway, -I'm not hungry and I don't want to eat.

-Do you want me to come and get you?

But Cristian's words immediately irritated Serena. she lifted the covers and sat up, looking at Cristian with displeasure.

-Why do you make me do these things every day?

-How can you have stamina if you don't eat?

I will give you two options, one is for me to take you out to dinner and the other is for you to get up and go eat by yourself.

Serena thought both options were too much fun, would she choose the first one? Serena especially hated Cristian's attitude now, but she was more worried that Cristian would find out that she had hidden the pills.

Then Serena, in the same bad tone of voice, said coldly to Cristian: -No, I have feet and legs to walk alone.

So Serena stood up in her shoes and headed for the door, Serena felt the need to lure Cristian out of the room because it contained something she wanted to hide.

Seeing Serena coming down the stairs, Cristian looked toward the bed. Still a little uncomfortable, he reached over and pulled the bottle out from under the pillow and looked at it. When he saw that it was the bottle he had just given Anna, he put it back and followed Serena downstairs.

The table was already set with a sumptuous meal, and Cristian had hired a personal chef to make the dishes specially, so they were all very nutritious.

Had it been earlier, Serena might have had an appetite. But she didn't really feel like eating now; she just wanted to find an opportunity to take her birth control pills.

So Serena ate quickly, and just as she put down her knife and fork and was about to return to her room, Cristian's hand suddenly reached out and swept the crumbs from the corner of her lips.

-I've heard that only people who starved to death in their last life can eat so badly in this one," Cristian said unkindly.

Serena nodded angrily, -Yes, I starved to death in my last life. Now that I'm done eating, can I go to my room or do I have to wait here until you finish eating?

Cristian, of course, knew why he was going back to his room. But since the pills had been changed, it didn't matter what it was. Then Cristian smiled and said softly, "No, go back and rest."

After receiving Cristian's permission, Serena immediately left the knife and fork in her hand and got up to go back to her room. As she walked up the stairs, Serena still felt strange as to why Cristian had accepted so easily today.

Perhaps it was because Anna had managed to trick him so Cristian thought Serena was off birth control and that was why he had let her come back.

Serena thought about this as she hurried back to her room. She was so nervous that she closed the door behind her as soon as she reached her room. She went to her bed and pulled out the bottle of birth control pills she had under her pillow, poured the pills into her hand and swallowed them immediately.

Because she had not been drinking water, the pill got stuck in her throat and Serena had some difficulty swallowing with some effort, which she managed to do. The pill had to be taken continuously, one pill 72 hours after having sex without a condom and another after, so she had to hide the bottle.

But with Cristian's personality, he would still want to have sex with her at night, so Serena had to hide the pills. She couldn't leave them on the bed, but there were few places in the room where she could hide things, and she didn't know where she could hide it.

Serena thought for a moment, opened her closet, and hid the pill in a pocket of one of her coats. She thought to herself that Cristian would never go through the pockets of her clothes one by one.

After doing so, Serena could not help but insinuate a small smile on her lips; Serena felt that this moment was the happiest she had had in the last few days; she had been imprisoned by Cristian for too long.

Serena decided to continue taking the pill slowly so that Cristian could not facilitate her pregnancy.

After a while, Cristian would surely lower her attention, at which point she would distance herself from him.

Chapter 604: Ways to subdue a man

In the dining room

Cristian had used his fork to pour the dishes into her bowl. His movements were graceful and charming, and he looked like a well-behaved nobleman. As he ate, he kept a slight smile on his lips, because it reassured him to think that Serena, his woman, was now taking vitamins.

If Serena had lowered her focus, stopped buying more birth control pills, and taken only that bottle of vitamins, she could soon be pregnant with Cristian's child.

No matter that she already had children, Cristian vowed that he would make sure that all of Serena's next children would bear the name Ferrari, and that they would all be children of the two of them.

The thought that in the future he and Serena would have a beautiful daughter and an adorable son brightened Cristian's spirits a little.

It was about to monopolize the rest of Serena's life.

In the afternoon, Cristian offered to take Serena to the mall for shopping, and Serena wanted to refuse, but she had spent the last two days in bed. So she thought she should go out with Cristian for a walk, otherwise she feared that her spirits would be lowered if she continued like this.

A handsome man and a handsome woman walking together always attracted attention, not to mention

Serena and Cristian had had people watching them on the street ever since they had left the house, and when they had both arrived at the supermarket, they had met the elevator boy from earlier.

Today, however, there was another person next to the fat man, a thin, delicate-looking woman.

Although this woman was beautiful, she was already middle-aged. She was standing next to the fat man, and the two seemed quite compatible.

-Beautiful, did you come to the supermarket with your husband?

This fat man always acted enthusiastic when he saw Serena. After saying hello to Serena, he turned to Cristian and smiled at him, but Cristian did not want to pay attention to him.

The woman standing next to her fat uncle gently tugged his arm, "What are you doing, who are you greeting?"

- Dear, this is the couple I told you about earlier that I met in the elevator.

The woman looked at Serena with a puzzled look.

-Are they the couple you were talking about? Do they live in our same neighborhood and use the same elevator?

-That's right, this is the beautiful woman in the same elevator in our neighborhood, and this is my wife.

When he talked about his wife, the fat man's face reddened a little and he looked at the woman next to him, feeling a little shy. The woman looked at him fiercely, "Why are you stuttering, didn't you have lunch today?"

The fat man's face reddened even more as he rubbed his hands together, a little nervous but afraid to answer.

Serena did not know what to say as she watched the scene, unconsciously glanced at Cristian beside her and thought to herself that this way of getting along between the fat man and his wife would probably never happen to her and Cristian.

-Don't listen to him, my dear, he is a man who does not know the art of talking. When I first met him, what he said bothered me, and if he hadn't been so nice to me, I wouldn't be with a guy like that.

The guy's wife was also excited, because she took Serena's hand and excitedly asked, "What do you want to buy? Why don't we shop together? We just got here, too."

Serena had been in her room for the past two days with no one else to talk to, and it was comforting to hear someone invite her like this. But she could not help but look at Cristian beside her, sensing that she should not say yes. Because the stalking incident that had happened earlier had scared them all, what if something terrible had happened in the supermarket as well?

Once she thought about it, Serena realized that she had forgotten to ask Cristian who exactly it was that was trying to harass her.

It had been a long time, had Cristian not investigated anything? It was possible that Cristian had found out, but had not told her. It seemed that Serena had to make time to ask for information.

Perhaps Cristian had heard Serena's inner thoughts, and Cristian gently said, "Then let's go to the supermarket together.

The fat man looked happy, thought Cristian's cold personality would refuse, but actually agreed.

Serena, happy but a little skeptical, stared at Cristian, "Do you really agree?"

Cristian was about to speak when the fat man's wife suddenly grabbed Serena's hand, pulled her to her side and began to scold her, "Girl, why do you ask his opinion about everything? You can do whatever you want, and if he doesn't approve of your moves, then you can break up.

As soon as the words came out of her mouth, Cristian looked at her with hostility, instead of getting scared, the fat man's wife laughed, -Aia, look at your boyfriend, he's quite possessive, I just said it casually and he got mad. If you left him, he would probably go crazy.

Serena did not know if Cristian would go crazy, but she knew that if she broke up with Cristian, he would probably continue to annoy her and even resort to some extreme methods to keep her close.

-Girl, let me tell you something I learned, a woman cannot be too submissive to a man or he will get worse after marriage. You have to submit your husband in some way so that he learns to be submissive to you.

-You have to be strong and use your strength to overcome them. Let's go ahead and I'll show you some ways.

Serena was a little reluctant, this aunt was too eager to take her hand and keep walking forward, she had to follow.

The fat uncle smiled and approached Cristian, "Let's go together too!"

Cristian looked at him coldly, "Is this your daily life?"

The fat uncle froze for a moment before reacting to what Cristian was referring to. He raised his hand and scratched his head, his expression a little hesitant but quickly replaced by a bright smile.

-What if this? We have been married for so many years that it no longer matters who wins and who loses. It doesn't matter, I'm her husband, so I'll tolerate her.

Cristian agreed with the last sentence he had said, he felt he could please Serena, but he could not accept that Serena did not want to bear his child, nor could he accept that she had affairs with other men.

-I know, you'll think I'm a loser, but I'm happy with myself and that's enough," he said.

The fat uncle continued talking, but Cristian did not want to listen to him anymore and commented, -

You talk too much!

Fat Uncle caught up with him and stared, "Seeing how you and your girlfriend get along, you should be in trouble lately, shouldn't you?"

Cristian frowned and replied with dismay, -It's none of your business!

-How can it be none of my business? We are neighbors and live in the same building. God has brought us together again and sent me to solve the relationship problems between you and your wife, should I reveal some secrets to you?

Secrets... Cristian scoffed, "What is it?"

Did she need that?

Chapter 605: A different performance.

Fat Uncle felt that Cristian, the man, was too boring to listen to his experience. So he changed his mind, "Young man, don't be so arrogant, if you always have this attitude, you won't get things done.

-Since you don't want to listen, I won't say anything.

The fat uncle went to find his wife. Cristian looked behind him and followed him with an expressionless face.

-Let me tell you that if you are too submissive with men, you will have no place in the family later on, men should be treated with enthusiasm one moment and indifference the next, so that they can feel that you are important. Also, in that situation now, you should make your own decisions, if he doesn't want to be with you, then you don't have to ask him, he will come to you himself after a while.

Serena was speechless, she didn't think she needed those tricks at all. Because to her, Cristian was not her husband at all, and what was the point of learning those tricks?

But this aunt was overzealous, and if Serena had said at that moment that Cristian was not her husband, it might have hurt her feelings.

So Serena would have been a talking machine.

-Thanks, I got it.

- I got it. Your boyfriend is handsome and of good stature, but he has a rather distant attitude, is he like that even when you make love in bed?

The question caught Serena off guard and she watched in disbelief as her aunt approached, wondering why she would ask such a question.

-I'm sorry, I know it's more personal, but it's so good that I'm more curious.

Serena thought about what had happened earlier.

Had Cristian been so cold in bed?

The answer was certainly not.

The way Cristian behaved when having sex was nothing like how he behaved in reality.

Yes Cristian with his clothes on is calm, restrained, and cold.

Then without clothes, Cristian is sexy, greedy and possessive.

Especially when they came to the end, Cristian's look, and the expression on his face, could only be described with one word.

Lust.

So whenever Serena dared not look at Cristian's expression, she always felt that moment when Cristian wanted to rub her on his body.

-This aunt suddenly asked again, and Serena was brought back to her senses.

-What did you say?

Auntie gave a smile that only girls can understand, -Won't you tell me? So do you want to hear mine?

Seeing her mouth open, Serena blushed with fear and hurried away.

-Hey, I haven't finished my sentence yet, why are you running away?

Seeing Serena run away, Cristian stiffened and chased after her. Serena slowed down once she was away from her aunt, just in time for Cristian to grab her hand.

-What's wrong?

Serena looked up before realizing that it was Cristian who had caught up with her. As soon as she saw

Cristian's expressionless face, Serena thought of the image she had just remembered and his face looked like a red apple.

She didn't think Cristian had heard what her neighbor aunt had just told her, did she?

Serena shook her head, "Not at all.

Cristian's gaze went down her flushed face and up to just above her flushed ears.

Why was she so shy?

-What did Auntie tell you," Cristian asked.

Serena's face became even redder and she shook her head one at a time, -We didn't say anything, why are you holding my hand, let me ....-

Coincidentally the couple was getting closer now, and Auntie couldn't help but laugh at the scene, -

Look at you, now you're holding hands again. Let's all go to the mall together, handsome, let's keep chatting," she said.

After saying this, Auntie snatched Serena's hand directly from Cristian's hand and pulled it away.

Cristian looked at the duo's back and thought about it.

What exactly had the two talked about?

The older man continued with a smile on his face, and Cristian could not comment except to continue following them.

The aunt had talked to Serena a lot and they had even ended up exchanging contact information.

Auntie was surprised when she found out that Serena was a fashion designer, because she also knew some people who worked in fashion design, and she said she would introduce them to her someday.

Being neighbors, Serena accepted with a smile.

But today Serena had learned a lot, for example how to buy fresh vegetables and meat, which her aunt had told her about one by one.

Just as they were about to go to the household goods section, they ran into a person in the corner.

This person had dark hair, gold-rimmed glasses, a shirt and a spring smile.

When she saw Leonardo, Serena froze for a moment, because she did not expect to meet him here.

But then Serena thought that perhaps Leonardo was waiting for her to show up here on purpose-after all, he had said earlier that he would come here to wait for her.

Could it have been today as well?

-What a coincidence," Leonardo looked at Serena's surprised face and smiled weakly, laughing in her direction.

Suddenly another handsome, slender-looking man appeared, and Auntie standing next to Serena appraised the two men before stealthily approaching Serena and asking, -Your previous lover?

This almost made Serena choke on her own saliva as she sighed helplessly and looked at her aunt standing beside her.

Her husband was a simple, honest man-how had he ended up with such a lively wife? And he had an OPEN personality, didn't he? Why didn't he lower his voice when he said things like old lovers?

Serena, embarrassed, replied, -No.

After saying this, she suddenly thought of something and looked back.

Only to find an empty space behind her, with no Cristian in sight.

Where had Cristian gone?

-He and my husband will be somewhere else right now,|| explained the neighboring aunt, -Did you just find out? You are somewhat indifferent to your husband.

Having listened to her aunt earlier, she had gradually forgotten that Cristian was still following her.

Not expecting to suddenly encounter Leonardo, she had turned around to see Cristian's reaction.

After all, the two brothers were incompatible and might fight if they met now.

The thought made Serena feel very bad, and it was good that Cristian was not here.

-Have you come to buy something?" asked Leonardo again, just as Serena fell silent.

Before Serena could answer, the aunt next to her answered first.

-Yes, you too?

Chapter 606: Very rude

Listening to the two talk, Serena felt a little strange as to why they could talk even though they did not know each other.

-The neighboring aunt stared at Leonardo curiously because Leonardo was handsome and kept looking at Serena, and just then her curiosity exploded. Because Serena's attitude toward Cristian was different from that of an average person, Auntie suspected that Serena, a woman, could be in a relationship with two men at the same time, or was undecided between the two men, not knowing which one to choose.

But then the aunt thought that from the conversation they had just had, Serena was not frivolous. So Auntie discarded the idea and looked back and forth at Leonardo and Serena.

-What are you doing here,|| Serena asked Leonardo, taking advantage of Cristian's current absence.

Leonardo gave her a small smile: -We met by chance.

-It was obvious that Serena did not believe him. The two times they had met before, including the things Leonardo had done in the office. Meeting Leonardo here today, Serena had only one feeling: that Leonardo was purposely waiting for her here.

Just because Serena had cleared up with Leonardo earlier, it did not mean that Serena could endure his provocations again and again.

Because there were strangers beside her, Serena spoke in a very polite tone, but Auntie was a very intelligent person and easily saw that there was an unusual relationship between the two of them.

Auntie laughed but did not leave.

Serena complained in her mind that this neighbor was too sweet, and that if Auntie left at that time, she would leave Leonardo and Serena alone. When Cristian returned and saw that only Leonardo and Serena were there, he would be especially angry.

Serena cast a grateful glance at her aunt and whispered.

-Auntie, do you need to buy anything else?

-No, I have almost everything I need, I'm still missing some tissues, we can come back when we're done.

Serena nodded: -Okay, then I'll go with you.

Then Serena looked at Leonardo: -Mr. Leonardo, I have to accompany my neighbor to do some shopping, so excuse me for now- After saying this, Serena smiled slightly and took her neighbor aunt's arm, and together they pushed the shopping cart and went out.

After taking a few steps, the neighboring aunt looked back and then spoke to Serena, "She's following us!

At this, Serena frowned-why was Leonardo still following her when she had clearly explained it to him earlier?

-The neighboring aunt suddenly asked in her ear, startling Serena. Serena shook her head, "Absolutely not.

Although Leonardo had made his feelings known to Serena then. But that had been five years ago, and Serena was still Cristian's wife at the time. Leonardo's decision to confess it to Serena despite that situation always made Serena think that he had other intentions, otherwise how could he, such a kind man, have declared himself to his sister-in-law?

But when the car accident had happened, Leonardo had protected Serena, and this accident had made Serena think that Leonardo liked her.

But that was five years ago.

Even though Leonardo really liked Serena five years ago, he had probably already forgotten that feeling. So Serena had never thought of it that way.

-Why not, did you see the way he looked at you?

Serena shook her head, -No.

-You are really insensitive. That man was looking at you with love in his eyes, similar to the way your husband looks at you, and you didn't notice?

Cristian's eyes.

Serena was a little confused and could not help but ask, "You just said my husband, what kind of look was he giving me?" Serena was not entirely comfortable saying that Cristian was her husband, so she paused for a moment as she said the word and brought it up.

The anxious aunt thought Serena was just shy, so she didn't think enough about what she said and explained with a smile, "When you like someone, you look at them and they look at you with bright eyes.

-What does that mean?

-It's a hard feeling to describe, it's when he looks at you with stars in his eyes, yes, have you ever bothered to notice the expressions and eyes when he looks at you?

-No.

Serena hadn't bothered at all to notice the way Cristian looked at her, and she didn't think there was anything special about the way Cristian looked at her as before.

-You are such an ungrateful person, your husband is so handsome, aren't you afraid that he will be taken away from you?

Afraid that Cristian would be taken away from her? Serena even wished that Elsa would stay with Cristian so that he would stop bothering her.

The neighboring aunt turned and spoke softly when she realized that Leonardo was still following them.

-What if he follows us and your husband sees him?

Serena's whole body faded at that comment, her delicate features distorted by the bad mood she was in at that moment. After a few moments, she seemed to worry about the matter again and said, "How can I stop him if he wants to follow us? I am not a judge, I cannot restrict his personal freedom.

-You are right, so shall we let him follow us like this?

Serena looked back and realized that Leonardo had indeed followed them. Seeing Serena turn back, Leonardo curved his lips and smiled sweetly. Even though he wore glasses, his sweet look was palpable.

Perhaps Leonardo had no ill intentions and it was Serena who thought too badly of him?

But Leonardo's presence here now was a time bomb for Cristian.

It was because Cristian knew that she had left earlier to see Leonardo and, angry and jealous, had forcibly had sex against Serena's will.

Thinking about the last two days of her life, Serena became sleepless; it was not supposed to go on like this. Then she stopped and said to her neighboring aunt, "Aunt, wait a moment, I need to talk to him.

Aunt thought for a moment and nodded, "Yes, but you have to hurry, I think your husband will be back soon.

-All right, I know.

With that, Serena turned to Leonardo.

-Leonardo saw her approaching and gave her a questioning look, -Don't you have anyone else to keep you company?

Serena simply did not know what to answer.

Seeing that Serena stood still and said nothing, Leonardo pulled up his glasses and smiled again, -

What, do you think he's stalking you?

Wasn't he doing that?

Serena was tempted to ask him to come back. But she restrained herself, looked only at Leonardo and said nothing.

Leonardo added, "Please don't worry, since you don't feel comfortable talking to me, I won't keep bothering you. It's just that I happened to go out to do some shopping and go in the same direction as you.

Leonardo was very friendly, which made Serena feel that it would be rude of her to question him further.

Thinking about it, Serena asked him directly, -What do you want to buy?

-Are you trying to get away from me?

Chapter 607: He is my ex-husband.

It was true.

Serena just wanted to avoid Leonardo and not take the same path as him.

Otherwise, if Cristian saw him, it would be Serena who would suffer.

Leonardo's smile had a bit of bitterness: "The other day we told each other clearly that from now on we could only be friends. Today was a chance meeting between us at the supermarket, and you don't have to avoid me like the plague, am I that terrible?

He didn't know how to explain it.

-I was going to go in another direction, but as you said, I thought it best to accompany you so that you could adapt to being in front of me.

With this last statement, the smile reappeared on Leonardo's face, and there was more determination in his eyes.

-Serena, I am not a bad person. I wasn't five years ago, I'm not now, and I won't be in the future. I can still be your brother if you want, no matter what your relationship with Cristian is now, but I would never do anything to hurt you.

However, for Serena, whether Leonardo had done anything to hurt her or not, the mere fact that Cristian had seen them together was likely to hurt.

Feeling helpless at the thought, Serena spoke up, "Do you have to follow me like this? You said it was a chance meeting, so the other two were chance meetings too? There are not many coincidences in this world, I haven't been to the supermarket for a long time, but every time I come here I run into you, so you must have come here looking for me.

Leonardo's mood seemed to change a bit.

-Serena, if you come to the supermarket every day, then you should run into me every day. Because my family lives in this neighborhood and I live in the apartment next door.

Serena felt she had heard wrong.

-What did you say?

-I know it's hard for you to believe. If you don't believe me, you can ask someone to investigate. I moved here before you, and the cashier at the supermarket and the owners of the nearby stores know me. Because I live alone, I come to the supermarket every day to buy fresh food. Now that I have told you all this, do you still think I came here to approach you on purpose?

Serena felt her breathing slow down; she found she had misunderstood Leonardo.

-I tried to get in touch with you, but I certainly didn't do all this on purpose.

-Well, you need to stop saying that," Serena interrupted, "I misunderstood you, so we'd better go separately later. You go and get your things, I'll go first.

Having said that, Serena returned to her neighbor's aunt, who looked at her and asked, 'Ready?

Serena did not answer and pushed her shopping cart forward.

Seeing this, her neighbor aunt hurried after her: -What's going on? When you were talking just now, it seemed to me that neither of you seemed very happy, did you say something wrong?

-No,|| Serena shook her head, -She said that she didn't follow us on purpose, but that it was an accident.

Hearing this, the neighboring aunt understood.

-That's it. But I think he did it on purpose. By the way, does he know that you have a husband?

Serena paused at the question and then asked, -Do you really want to know?

Aunt nodded curiously, "For the sake of being neighbors, tell me," Serena thought about it.

Serena thought about it and thought it wouldn't matter if she told the truth after all she had been through. Thinking about it, she finally confessed, "Actually, that cold Cristian is not my husband."

This kind neighbor, at first, did not even understand the meaning of this sentence, and when she replied she said with surprise: -You said he is not your husband, so why did you just...?

-I just wanted to agree with you.

The neighboring aunt fell silent.

A minute later, she took Serena's hand, -It's nice of you to accept that he is your husband just to agree with me, let's connect later. Even if he's not your husband, you should be a couple, right?

-Serena shook her head.

-The neighbor was even more surprised, "And what is your relationship now? I see he's treating you very well.

-He is my ex-husband.

That statement contained so much information that the neighbor's aunt was surprised. The aunt was still trying to think about Serena and their relationship, but Serena's lips had taken on more than a self-deprecating smile.

-It's all a joke, I'm no longer married to him and he's still tying me down.

At the end of the sentence, Serena lowered her head, apparently sad.

-The neighboring aunt looked again at Leonardo as he tugged at Serena: -If Cristian was your ex-husband, things would work better.

-What?" Serena did not catch his meaning: -Why do you say that?

-If Cristian is your ex-husband, that means he's after you now and trying to get back with you, right?

Serena froze for a moment and then nodded, -It seems so:.....-

Everything Cristian did was, effectively, to get back with Serena.

-Why are you so unsure of yourself? If I were as beautiful as you, I would be the most confident woman in the world. Since Cristian is now your ex-husband, that means others have the same chance as him, like, for example, the one behind us.

The one behind them?

Serena frowned and looked back to see that Leonardo was following them.

-Two handsome men chasing you at the same time, which one do you prefer?

-If you don't even like them, it doesn't matter. You are very pretty and you have plenty of time to take your time to choose them, you can try them. I think the cold Cristian is really very nice, and looking at him, he must have a good career, but it's not good for a man to be too cold. When you have sex, for example, if he still has that cold attitude and always lets you take the initiative, your sex life will not be harmonious.

Serena was a little shy and whispered, "Can we change the subject?"

-Why should we change the subject? We are all adults here and I am very curious about the reason for your divorce, is he sexually frigid?

Was Cristian sexually frigid?

How could that be possible? But why did everyone think so? Before, when Cristian was in a wheelchair, everyone thought he didn't have the ability to do business, only you knew Cristian's business ambitions.

Now that Cristian's legs had recovered, did anyone think he was frigid?

Perhaps they had been fooled by Cristian's cold attitude, who is so fierce in bed, like a beast in heat, that it is impossible for him to be frigid.

But why had Serena divorced Cristian?

This thought made Serena even sadder that no one in the world had any idea that her marriage to Cristian had ever existed. Serena, five years ago, was just a fake bride going to get married instead of Aurora Gallo.

Chapter 608: You don't choose a sexually frigid man.

The day the engagement ended, it would be time for her to leave this comedy show.

Serena knew this all along. In the end, things had not changed and she had left the country.

The memory had filled Serena's heart with sadness.

There were even tears in her eyes.

But when the neighboring aunt saw Serena like this, she thought that Serena's default reason for her divorce was that Cristian was sexually indifferent.

After a moment's thought, the neighboring aunt said, "I think you'd better choose the bespectacled man behind us.

Serena was stunned and hastened to ask, -Why are you saying this all of a sudden?

-I'm serious, you don't choose a sexually frigid man!

-You'd better leave him. Let's get out of here.

Seeing Leonardo and the girls approaching, Serena hurried to push the shopping cart in the other direction, Leonardo was still trying to follow them, so Serena simply changed direction and went back.

In this way, Leonardo had no reason to keep following them.

-You...

After walking for a while, Serena turned around again and saw that Leonardo was no longer behind her.

-No need to look, we lost him. But since you're single, wouldn't a man be a better option?

-No way am I staying with him.

Serena had said a long time ago that she would only think of Leonardo as her older brother and would have nothing more to do with Leonardo.

-You are both single, why is it impossible for you to be together?

-The impossible is impossible.

Serena resumed her stride and moved forward, her neighbor aunt was still enthusiastically explaining to her, Serena wondered why this aunt was so enthusiastic when it was obvious that they had just met today.

Suddenly, Serena understood why her fat uncle had married such a lively wife.

Auntie was about to say something else when suddenly she saw two men walking toward her, who turned out to be Cristian and Fat Uncle.

Cristian had a bag in his hand and his face was indifferent. Fat Uncle also had a bag, but it contained many more things than Cristian's bag.

-Did you buy everything?

-I bought everything.

Serena met Cristian's gaze, and suddenly thought about what the aunt next door had just told her and felt that she still could not face Cristian right now.

So Serena pushed the shopping cart as if she did not see Cristian and walked away. Cristian, who had remained in his seat.

Cristian frowned and was about to chase after her and ask Serena why she had done that. Suddenly, someone tapped him on the shoulder, and Cristian turned to find that it was his aunt next door, frowned, and took a few steps back.

-The aunt next door looked at Cristian that way and said with disgust, "You have a very cold attitude.

Cristian looked at her with dismay.

-Is there something wrong with you?

-Nothing, I just feel sorry for her.

Cristian, -?

-The neighboring aunt looked at Cristian with some pity in her eyes, -Actually, there is a solution, I know a hospital with very advanced equipment, may I introduce you to it?

Cristian was not sure why this aunt suddenly wanted to introduce him to a hospital, was it because of what Serena had just told him?

But Cristian felt that his body was already normal.

-If you still want to pursue Serena, take my advice.

Pursue Serena?

Cristian raised an eyebrow.

I know you are her ex-husband, are you pursuing her now? But she never accepted you, and do you know why?

-Why?

Cristian also wondered why.

Lately, Cristian had devoted a lot of time and energy to Serena, but instead of accepting Cristian, Serena resisted him more and more.

The two had been sleeping together for a few days, but each had his own thoughts.

Their relationship did not seem to have progressed.

Then Cristian wondered why; he could not seem to really understand what women were thinking. In fact, he had already hurt Serena, but he had done his best to make up for what he had done, hoping that Serena would see his sincerity.

But it seemed that no effort on his part was working now, and he was even making things worse.

Cristian did not know what had gone wrong.

Was it possible that Serena did not love him?

The thought of that possibility pained Cristian.

Cristian's expression had also become sad.

-The neighboring aunt smiled as she looked at Serena, who was choosing something in front of her, and Cristian followed her gaze.

Serena took the products from the shelf and, after removing them, looked carefully at the instructions on the package and the date on it. The side of her face was delicate and pretty, and her eyes seemed to have stars twinkling in them.

- She's pretty, isn't she?" asked the neighboring aunt.

The fat uncle turned and agreed with his wife, "Very pretty, but it is my wife who looks prettier.

Cristian looked at the old man and nodded.

Serena was certainly beautiful.

Cristian had chosen only one woman in his life, so Serena had to be the prettiest.

Moreover, Serena was not even a standard beauty, and if those present were told she was single, she would have had plenty of suitors.

Only Serena's ex-husband had bad taste.

When Cristian cursed Serena's ex-husband in his mind, he was completely unaware that he had already been treated as Serena's ex-husband.

Therefore, according to the count of time, Francis should be Serena's ex-husband.

-Your ex-wife is very pretty, you have to work on that or she will be pursued by another man.

Hearing this, Cristian frowned.

-I know things are a bit difficult to talk about, but if you stay positive and get treatment, one day you will be healthy again.

Cristian heard those words and found them a little strange, what was difficult for him to talk about?

-I'm sorry, what is it exactly?

-You don't want to confess even now? I tell you, if you go on like this, it is impossible for you to go back to your ex-wife.

-That hospital is very good, my husband's friend was treated there. I can give you the number of his family doctor if you need it.

The aunt next door took out her cell phone and looked up the number in her diary, her husband was listening and thought it was strange and went to look at it.

-Once you are cured of the physical ailment and then get some sleep, I am sure he will soon reconcile with you.

At the end of the conversation, Cristian realized something and squinted dangerously at Serena, who was still picking out her wares.

-What did she say?

The neighbor's aunt, annoyed by him, quickly noticed: -He said the reason for your divorce was that you were sexually frigid!

Chapter 609: Do you deserve to be my big brother?

Sexually frigid?

Cristian found this word simply inexplicable, the neighboring aunt thought she was right, so she hurried to comfort him again, -Don't be sad, as long as you actively cooperate with the doctor's examination and receive treatment, you will soon be cured.

At that moment, Cristian was looking at Serena not far away with a deep look and a smile on his face.

Was he sexually frigid?

It seemed that he had not yet been able to satisfy the woman, and that was why he had slandered himself like that in front of passersby.

-The neighbor's aunt looked at Cristian with concern, still worried about his condition.

Cristian looked at her and did not want to answer. But then the older man began to ask again, -Are you really sexually impotent?

In fact, they were both questioning his sexual capacity, and Cristian immediately felt a little annoyed because he felt that his dignity as a man was being provoked.

-I am a normal man," he said aloud.

The fat man added, -I know you are a normal man, that's what our sexually frigid friend said earlier, but you are not normal in the eyes of others.

The fat uncle's wife agreed with her husband, "That's right, you must continue to receive active treatment, take note of the doctor's cell phone number.

Cristian said coldly, "Thank you, no need.

-The neighboring aunt rigidly forced Cristian to take out his cell phone and then stared at him to enter the number before being satisfied, "That's right, if you are sick, you need to be actively treated. Don't worry, Serena and I have added each other on Facebook and will always put in a good word for you in the future.

Despite Cristian's many remonstrances, his aunt's last words satisfied him, "Thank you, then.

-You're welcome.

Cristian grimaced as he walked toward Serena.

The fat uncle and his wife were still standing in the same place, and the uncle asked his wife, "Honey, is it okay if we do this?

-How can there be a problem, since we are neighbors, we should help each other.

Uncle Fat, -Maybe the girl doesn't want to go back to him?

-What the hell do you know, can't you see the feelings between them? I'm a woman, I know more about women's thoughts than you do.

-All right.

Serena tried to reach something on the shelf, which was a bit difficult because the shelves were high and she was not wearing heels today.

She struggled to stand up on tiptoe and straighten her arms, but still she could not touch the goods she wanted. Then a large hand reached out, easily grabbed what she wanted and handed it to her.

Serena looked up and discovered that it was Cristian.

-You want to buy this," Cristian asked.

Serena nodded, -Yes.

Cristian looked at the top of his round head, followed by his pale neck, and further down he could see some of the marks he had left on Serena the night before.

It was clear that Serena had so much evidence on her body to justify Cristian, yet Serena was calling him a sexual frigid?

Cristian scoffed inwardly and suddenly asked, "What did you just talk to the aunt next door about?"

Serena felt a twinge of panic in her heart; she had just seen her aunt next door whispering something to Cristian, but she was some distance away and had not heard their conversation. And Serena was already shy, let alone deliberately listening to their chatter.

But now that Cristian was asking her, Serena felt a little guilty again.

She did not even have the courage to look at Cristian and simply shook her head.

-We haven't talked about anything.

-Then,|| Cristian smiled, leaning forward slightly and bringing his lips close to her ear, -Why are you so nervous?

Cristian's breath brushed Serena's ear and she could not help a shudder, stammering, -Am I nervous?

-No," Cristian asked rhetorically, then blew into her ear.

Serena winced, covered her ears and took a step back, looking at Cristian just in time to see Cristian's smile.

Serena quickly realized that her neighbor aunt had probably told Cristian everything they had been chatting about, because that aunt was a very direct person, not capable of hiding secrets.

Thinking about it, Serena began to despair a little.

She should have known better than to tell her neighbor aunt so much.

Serena bit her lip and pretended to be strong, "No!" Then she turned and walked away.

So the four of them headed to the cashier together, Cristian following behind Serena, thinking in his mind that he would have to develop other new ways to play in bed with Serena when he got home, just so Serena would not think he was sexually frigid.

The cashier finished scanning the bar codes of his items and Cristian's thoughts returned to reality, he pulled out his wallet and was about to hand the cashier his credit card when suddenly a man handed him another credit card.

Serena was still digging in her own pockets, ready to make change to pay the bill, when both credit cards were handed to her at the same time.

Serena froze for a moment and then looked up.

Cristian also looked at the owner of the other card, but when he could get a good look, his pupils narrowed nervously.

The person handing over the credit card was his brother, Leonardo.

A faint smile spread across Leonardo's face as he smiled sweetly at Cristian, "Cristian, long time no see," he said.

Serena thought she had left Leonardo, but to her surprise he was waiting for her here.

Had Leonardo given her his credit card at the same time as Cristian? The situation was too awkward.

The neighbor couple following Cristian and Serena arrived at this scene and found it too exciting, -This is going to be a direct provocation, huh?

The older one had already been with Cristian, so he didn't know about Leonardo and didn't know

Leonardo, so he asked curiously, -What's going on?

-What do you think? He met their rival in love.

The rival in love...

The fat uncle watched carefully.

Not only the couple watched, but also the people around watched the scene with curiosity. After all, all three were handsome and charming, and they were two men fighting over a woman.

What the audience liked to read was gossip and entertainment news, and when they saw two men grabbing two credit cards for a woman to pay her bill, everyone was especially curious, so they watched the scene with rapt attention, even the cashier.

The smile was gone from Cristian's face and his eyes were cold. He grabbed Serena's hand and slid his credit card into hers, whispering, "Honey, swipe your card and pay, then we'll go home."

She acted as if she had not seen Leonardo.

Leonardo's fingers squeezed the credit card a little tighter, his fingertips a little white. After a moment, he put the credit card away, "Don't you even say hello when you see your brother?"

Cristian took Serena's hand and finished the checkout. When the cashier had pocketed everything, Cristian took Serena's hand and gave Leonardo a beastly, fierce look and spoke with contempt.

-Big brother? Do you deserve to be my elder brother?

Chapter 610: Who said I was tired?

Cristian and Leonardo's relationship had long since begun to deteriorate, before they lived in the Ferrari family and could nod to each other when they met.

In fact, after Cristian's words, the expressions of the people around them changed.

Was there a deep hatred between these two people?

Hearing these words, the neighboring aunt immediately widened her eyes in admiration, "I never thought that this man Cristian had such a strong side, he is really impressive, but are these two really brothers?

Suddenly, neighbor aunt looked at Leonardo with some curiosity, being humiliated like this in public, how would he respond later?

Leonardo also finished paying his bill, took his card and left the cash register. There was no anger on his face at Cristian's teasing, no embarrassment, just calm.

Leonardo spoke without panic, "Are you still angry with me about that incident? That wasn't my intention and I didn't intend to do that.

-Haha," Cristian grimaced, without making a face at Leonardo, and seeing that Leonardo kept looking down at his hand clasped with Serena's, Cristian then squeezed Serena's soft hand a little more, even compulsively intertwining his fingers with hers.

-This was not your first intention, you were forced to do these things," he said.

Leonardo looked back at him. The eyes of the two men met in the air as if they might collide with sparks, and here a smokeless war broke out.

Serena knew that the two were not on good terms, but she did not expect the situation to have escalated to this point, with Cristian urgently wanting to show his extreme possessiveness toward Serena in front of Leonardo, just as he was, with Serena's hand clasped in Cristian's.

And the moment Leonardo appeared, Serena seemed to sense an emotion from Cristian's body.

That emotion seemed to be fear.

But again, Serena felt that it was her illusion, because Cristian hid his emotions well. Moreover, it seemed impossible for Cristian to have such emotions; it was as if Cristian had never been afraid since he was born.

After all, the brilliant Cristian, why should he fear the ever-smiling Leonardo?

Even if Leonardo had registered a separate company, there was no way that the strength of his company could reach the Ferrari Group.

So how could Cristian be afraid of his older brother?

Before Leonardo could say anything, Cristian was already taking Serena by the hand and walking out.

Cristian was walking in the front and Serena in the back, so from Serena's angle, she could only see Cristian pivoting to a position far enough away. Cristian was holding her with one hand and carrying the things he had just bought at the supermarket with the other, just like a husband taking his wife to the supermarket.

But...

Serena lowered her head, with a certain sadness in her heart.

Leonardo watched the scene, gathered the negative emotions in his heart, and left the supermarket with his things.

The neighbor who had witnessed this sighed, -I feel sorry for his older brother, he is actually doing well, ugh...-

-That's why you men have shallow eyes. His older brother was obviously backing down with this answer, and do you really think that's polite?

-The fat man rubbed his head, "Backing off for fake?"

-You don't get it, do you? If he argues with the other party in front of the woman he loves at that moment, he loses his manners? Despite his brother's kind attitude, he is also a very intelligent man.

-Is he smart? How do you know that? Can you tell by his appearance?

-You definitely can't tell just by his looks, and it's only the first time we've met, so I can't be sure. So I'm just guessing, I dare not conclude!

After saying this, the neighboring aunt, hit her husband on the head.

The fat uncle rubbed his head, -Okay, I understand.

-But...,|| the neighbor aunt looked at Leonardo's distant back and slowly narrowed her eyes, -This man is not an ordinary man even though he doesn't have much skill in the field. -

-I can't understand him.

-Come on, let's go home.

The fat uncle hurried to follow him.

Serena was dragged back by Cristian, and she had been good enough not to say anything the whole way, because she knew Cristian was in a bad mood. Perhaps she was worried about Cristian, too, so she had continued to accommodate him.

But Cristian was walking too fast, and Serena was so tired that she finally could not contain herself and said, "Can you walk slower?"

Cristian sniffed again, saw Serena panting, and realized he had done a bad job.

Cristian thought for a moment and stopped.

-Are you tired?

-Serena gave him a grumpy look.

The two had been walking around the supermarket for a long time now, and Serena had done it with Cristian the night before, and now her legs were sore. Now Cristian kept walking so fast that it was torture for Serena.

Serena could not speak; she was holding on and panting.

Cristian looked around and found nowhere to rest, so he leaned over to Serena and said, "Get on.

-What?

Serena watched Cristian's movements with some surprise. If she understood correctly, was Cristian trying to carry her?

But they were both so old that it seemed only young people did this kind of thing.

And she.

-Why are you loitering,|| Cristian saw her motionless and amused, so he pulled her straight onto his back.

Before Serena had time to react, she was on Cristian's broad, upright back. As Cristian carried the bag with one hand, he had to hold her buttocks with the other and admonished her, "Hold me tight if you don't want to fall.

Then Cristian stood up.

Everything happened so fast that Serena, almost by reflex, stood up and put her arms around Cristian's neck.

They were so close that Cristian laughed softly where Serena could not see him, and then he pulled her forward.

It was not far from where they lived, but Serena felt a lot of pressure on Cristian. As Cristian carried her on his shoulders and carried the goods, she could not help but say, "I'd better go alone.

Cristian taunted her, "Who just said she was tired?"

So Serena had to shut up, she looked at the bruises on the back of Cristian's head, she should have known he would not say anything. Was it her fault?

They walked some more. Although Serena did not hear Cristian's panting, she always sensed that he was tired and adjusted her position to try to relieve herself.

After she squirmed for a moment, Cristian's breathing became noticeably heavier and his voice became uncertain as he scolded, -Don't move!
